Bethel Boosters Plan Auction

Slavery may have ended a long time ago in the South, but it will begin soon in the Bethel Dist. when three of the Bethel District School officials, a Pierce County Commissioner and two local bankers are placed on the auction block. The occasion for their "sale" will be the annual Bethel Booster Club auction to be held on March 21 at the Junior High school.

Two of the "slaves", Principal Robert Minniti of the Junior High (standing) and Principal Earl Platt of the Senior High, get in a little "housework practice" just in case they are purchased by some lady in the Bethel District who desires her house cleaned. Joining Minniti and Platt in the "slave gang" for the annual auction will be Superintendent Dewane Lamka of the Bethel School District; Art Swind-

A nursery-school student at the Tacoma Crippled Children's school, Colleen was named by the board of the Pierce County Association for Crippled Children and Adults to symbolize their 1959 Easter Seal campaign. Easter Seals help children like Colleen. Mrs. Daniel Martin of Parkland, chairman of the 1959 campaign, says Easter Seals "take care of the unmet needs of crippled children." In the Tacoma area, Easter Seals have paid for such vital necessities as school busses; a diagnostic, speech and hearing clinic; a loan closet of wheelchairs and hospital beds; a play-yard shelter at the Crippled Children's school; provided therapists and consultants, and scholarships to give the most advanced training to help local children; helped with a dental clinic; assisted in the swimming program at the YMCA for crippled children; and sent children to Camp Easter Seal, the summer camp especially equipped to handle crippled children.

Some 73,000 Easter Seal envelopes went into the mails March 1, the opening of the Pierce County campaign. Each envelope contains a sheet of 40 stamps, a letter explaining the drive, and return envelope addressed to Joseph Hawthorn, Easter Seal Treasurer, K Street Branch of Puget Sound National Bank. Returns can also be mailed to local postoffices.

Letter to the Editor

I am Robert E. Hoover, owner of AAA Auto Sales at 12615 Pacific Avenue, Tacoma, Washington; am a married man and the father of five daughters, all of school age, which requires me to stay open seven days a week in order to feed and clothe them. But how am I going to take care of my family when I'm told I can not stay open on Sunday, which happens to be the day that most people shop?
The so-called Sunday Blue Laws were written years ago, and appropriate for that time but not this day and age. Many people work six days a week—when are they supposed to shop? Is the man of the family supposed to send his wife out to buy the family car, as she does the groceries?
An automobile is a purchase that is long and carefully thought out by both husband and wife. Therefore I feel that Sunday afternoon is a good time for people to be able to look at or buy an automobile, when they can both shop together.
Therefore I say let the new and used automobile dealers stay open so when people go out shopping on Sunday they can look at automobiles and maybe buy, the same as groceries, greenery for their yards or any other purchase they may want to make.
What is fair for one is surely fair for all. I would be glad to hear from anyone that feels the same.

Yours Truly
Robert E. Hoover

What?

I can borrow money simply by writing a check?

Yes,

that's right! It's the perfect way to budget larger expenses like taxes, medical and dental bills, insurance, clothing, appliances, fuel deliveries, auto repairs, vacations, etc. And when you don't use the service, it doesn't cost you a cent. Why not look into it today by returning the coupon below?

BANKCHECK CREDIT

How it works for you—BankCheck Credit is just what the name implies—credit extended to you by the bank, which you use by writing a check. Your checks are then charged to your account, and you repay the bank in monthly installments, plus a small service charge.

Set your own credit limit—Decide how much you can repay each month, multiply by twelve and that's your credit limit. (See chart at right.)

Credit that renews itself as you pay—The beauty of this plan is that you don't have to pay your account in full before you use your credit again. You can always use the difference between what you owe and your credit limit for those unexpected expenses which arise, without the trouble of arranging for an additional loan.

Monthly Statement—Each month you will receive a statement that shows how much you have borrowed, the amount due, and the credit you have currently available.

Name imprinted on each check—After your application has been approved, we will send you special checks imprinted with your name. Use these as you would your own money—up to the limit of your unused credit.

Open your account by mail—Clip, fill out and mail the coupon to the nearest office of National Bank of Washington. An application along with complete information will be promptly mailed to you. You don't even have to come in the bank. All details can be handled by mail. And remember, you don't have to be a customer of National Bank of Washington to use this wonderful service.

A Fool and His Life are Soon Parted

a-Wondering . . . and a-Wandering . . . With JACK BROWN

In Russia, communist leaders with confidence born of stubborn faith in their system force personal sacrifice and restraint on the people and channel their maximum energy toward achieving national goals in the race of armaments and ideas.

In this country, many leaders in business and industry, in politics and in the armed services are deeply concerned at our failure to appreciate the sort of individual dedication and citizenship responsibility which must guide this country if it is to checkmate the immense, single-minded Soviet assault on free civilization throughout the world.

A recent Life magazine editorial has put it this way: "The U.S. grew into a great and free society precisely because the nation could always count on a widespread instinct among its citizens for translating private moral conscience into public virtue, a virtue made operational by the citizens' action in the nation's life. At the moment this instinct is dangerously weak. The resultant gulf between private conscience and public virtue cannot be bridged by easeful living, spectatoritis or a let-George-do-it indifference. The wider this gulf becomes, the narrower grows our margin of national survival."

Complacency in our strength and preoccupation with our material advantages coupled with ignorance of the means by which we gained these things and can keep them, has made too many Americans swallow the promises of political opportunists and become hesitant or indecisive before the hard-driving assault of world Communism.

This country won a revolution against overwhelming odds and became a nation because a good percentage of its citizens felt an almost religious devotion to personal liberty and principles of government and private property ownership that makes it work. The system which evolved needs no apologies—it should be known by its deeds in every category of human judgment—spiritual, cultural and material.

As never before Americans need a thorough knowledge of how a free economy and private enterprise work and of the proper role of government. Pride in these things and devotion to the principles of freedom are not old-fashioned. We are in a time when we must meet the dedication of Communism with real convictions in the worth of our own institutions or go down in defeat regardless of the comparative strength of missiles, bombs and armies.

WEST BEND

2 H.P. "SHRIMP"

28 lbs., air-cooled

Handy? You bet! It's light enough, safe enough for even the youngsters to handle, but don't let the small size fool you! It can go in where other motors fear to tread. Because of its air-cooled motor, it can laugh at sandy water. Puffs along even on frosty, duck-hunting days. Doubles as auxiliary on sailboats or any boat. Has many uses for any member of the family!
