Parkland Sewer District Wins, Millage Loses

Parkland voters were apparently a mite confused as to the issues at hand, but they voted "yes" on the right one, to make a sewer district not such a remote possibility last Thursday.

Confusion caused by the information available was blamed for defeat of the millage required to finance the preliminary survey, but sewer district proponents were confident this week that such a vote would be forthcoming.

Mrs. Jennie Grodvg, president of the Parkland Community Club said the sewer district is now a legal entity, and will become a municipal corporation owned by the people.

"They will elect their own officials," she continued. "And now, it is possible to hire an engineering firm to investigate the costs for such a sewer, providing the firm is willing to wait for their fee."

Areas not now included in the district, and which want the service provided by such a move, may annex themselves to the district by petition, she said.

Also elected in the polling were two commissioners, Floyd V. Hicks, two years and Lawrence Armstrong, six years. Due to a very close vote, the election of the commissioner for the four-year term cannot be announced until after the official count Friday.

The commissioners will serve without salary.

"The community club is gratified," Mrs. Grodvg concluded, "that so many voters turned out for the election, and showed an interest in this project which will benefit the whole community."

Thrift-Pays Food Center in Grand Opening

The grand opening of the new Thrift-Pays Food Center at Willows Corner, Airport road and Meridian, will be an event of interest this weekend, with special attractions Thursday, Friday and Saturday, according to Carl Sacco and M. E. Letourneau, co-owners.

Complete in every detail, with a large stock of nationally advertised foods, the new shopping center will feature also only the finest fresh fruits and vegetables, plus a wide variety of top quality meats.

Both Sacco and Letourneau have had many years' experience in the grocery business, as evidenced throughout the store by the arrangement of the merchandise and the unique placement of the fixtures. Wide aisles, reach-in refrigerated cases and speedy check-out stands are just a few of the many fine features which have been incorporated to assure complete ease in shopping, so essential in modern day food merchandising.

A special snack bar features kipped herring, Roquefort French dressing, enchiladas, garlic croutons, Lawry's garlic spread, barbecue flavored fried bacon rinds and many other unusual foods and accessory items. A complete line of fancy and bulk cheese will also be offered.

The Food Center building, modern in every detail, is owned by Al Delano, owner of most of the real property at Willows Corner. He has been of great assistance in planning the remodeling of the former structure on the site and erecting the large addition, seeing almost every block and nail go into place.

Letourneau and Sacco are well known throughout grocery circles. Gene Letourneau, who will be personally in charge of the meat department, started his career over 26 years ago. He has made his home in Puyallup for the past 16 years and has managed some of Tacoma's largest retail food outlets. He will have as his chief assistant Angelo Bartoy, who has spent five years in the Crystal Palace Market, Tacoma, and has a wide knowledge of food products.

Marcella Letourneau, wife of Gene Letourneau, is presently employed at the J. C. Penney store in Puyallup where she has worked for the past five years. Dick Letourneau, son of Gene and Marcella, is a sophomore at the Puyallup high school.

Sacco, like his partner, has served as manager of several stores and has taken an active part in the steady growth of the Tacoma Retail Grocers' association of which he has been a member for many years.

Coffee, cake and ice cream will be served throughout the three-day celebration. Gifts and boxes of groceries will be awarded. There will also be plug hats as special favors. The management extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the grand opening Thursday (today), Friday and Saturday.

New Officers Installed for Fire District

The Summit-Woodland-Collins Firemen and Auxiliary installed new officers for the coming year Monday, Jan. 4. The evening was started with a supper at the fire hall on Airport and Canyon roads, with accordion and violin music by Bonny Jean and Danny Phillips of Sumner during the meal.

After supper Mrs. Ray Gogan installed the Auxiliary officers: Mrs. George Purdue of Collins, president; Mrs. Sid Waring of North Summit, vice president; Mrs. David John of North Summit, secretary-treasurer.

The outgoing officers of the Firemen installed their successors as follows: Frank Kaiser installed Sid Waring Sr. of North Summit as president; Burt Parrott installed Kenneth Hoff of Collins as vice president; George Purdue installed Larry Kerwin of Woodland as secretary-treasurer.

Fire chief Ashley Butler thanked the firemen and the Auxiliary for their co-operation for the past year. And Fire Commissioner Ray Gogan thanked the firemen, auxiliary, and the people of the community for their co-operation for the past year.

Those people who wished to enjoy the TV programs the remainder of the evening.

Members of the fire department will, in the future, drive cars equipped with blue signal lights which will be turned on only when the driver is on his way to a reported fire. Anyone seeing a car flashing a blue light and traveling at high speed should give the right-of-way—the driver is a fireman on his way to help save a home or other building in the community.

about a mile and a half south of Roy.

A. D. Wilson, of Box 1216, Selah, was driving toward Tacoma with his bride-to-be, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williams and Miss Mickey Williams for the Saturday night wedding. Suddenly out of nowhere, a car appeared and sideswiped the Wilson vehicle.

The erratically driven car was turned completely around by the force of the impact, but kept on without stopping. Driver of the car was Harry Bennett, 763 So. 72nd St.

Patrolman Gil Paulson, investigating officer from the State Patrol apprehended Bennett about 45 minutes later in Roy, asleep in his car, which he had driven just off the highway.

Aside from the black eye and the head gash sustained by Mrs. Williams, no other injuries were reported.

PARKLAND BUSINESS CLUB PLANS INSTALLATION DINNER

The first meeting of the Parkland Business Club in 1954 will be Wednesday, Jan. 20, at which the first order of business will be installation of the new slate of officers headed by President Howie Snowden of the National Bank of Washington, Parkland Branch. Other officers to be installed are: Vice-president, Morrie Anderson of Anderson Lumber Co.; recording secretary, Mrs. Wes McKewen of McKewen Studios; corresponding secretary, Mrs. James Loring of the Blessed Event Shop; treasurer, Edward B. Stevens of Castleman Insurance; director, Kenneth Jacobs of Stella's Flowers.

Famous Organist Coming to PLC

E. Power Biggs, nationally known organist who is largely responsible for the revival of interest in the organ as a concert instrument, will appear at Pacific Lutheran College on Friday, January 22nd. The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the chapel auditorium. Tickets for the event are now on sale at Ted Brown Music Co. in Tacoma and at the college. Admission will be $1.00 and there will be no reserved seats.

Mr. Biggs was born in England and attended the Royal Academy of Music in London, from which he graduated with the highest honors. After touring England, appearing in many of the historic cathedrals and in Queen Hall, London, he came to the United States (he is now an American citizen, settling in Boston). Acclaimed as the creator of a modern renaissance of the organ, Mr. Biggs has personally built up a wide audience of organ enthusiasts in this country through appearances in the concert hall, with symphony orchestras and on the air.

E. Power Biggs

For a number of years Mr. Biggs has performed over the CBS radio network on Sunday morning, playing the classic organ in the Busch-Reisinger Museum of Harvard University. During 1945 he played the complete organ works of Bach on these broadcasts, duplicating a series of Bach concerts given in 1938—a feat which won him nationwide admiration—and repeated this complete performance for the Bach Anniversary of 1950.

Mr. Biggs' concert program at Pacific Lutheran College will include selections by Vivaldi, William Selby, Caesar Franck, Louis Daquin, Bach, Robert Schuman, Jehan Alain, and Marcel Dupre. He will also play four chorale preludes of Bach based on hymns by Martin Luther.

Plans for a greatly enlarged Parkland Roundup are being formulated, headed this year by Chairman Wes McKewen with the assistance of Vice-chairman Malcolm Soine. Other events, such as the 4th of July celebration, community Christmas decorations and the annual community Christmas party for the children are already being discussed. President-elect Snowden is expected to outline the general scope of these activities at this meeting Wednesday, January 20.

The 26K Republican club will hold its regular monthly meeting Jan. 19 at 8 p.m. in the Spanaway fire hall. A. B. (Kim) Comfort will be the speaker. Newly elected officers will be installed, Harold Crisman as president; Harry Randal, vice president; Miss Jane O'Leary, secretary; Walter Webster, treasurer. The program chairman, George M. Brewer states that a good time is assured. Refreshments will be served.

Police News About The County

reported by C. K. "Red" Haney

Lightning struck not once, not twice, but three times in the same place for James Abraham, Rt. 7, Box 559, who reported to Deputy Helen Wick on Jan. 9, that someone had siphoned approximately $9 worth of gasoline from the tank of an auto parked in his front yard.

A screwdriver was used by prowlers to open a window at Baldy's Tavern at Edgewood, Jan. 9, according to Deputy Dittman, but nothing was found to be missing.

New Year's day proved unlucky for Mrs. Johnnie Clark, of the Dun Roven Inn, Graham, as she reported thieves entered the residence sometime after 2 p.m., and took checks valued at $500 and $80 in cash, all contained in a bank bag.

A 22 cal. automatic pistol was missing Jan. 9, following a spill taken by William J. Philes, of Olympia reported Sgt. Olson. Philes reported he took the fall at Brookdale road and Pacific Ave., and in the confusion the pistol was taken.

Automotive equipment valued at $110 was removed from the Graham Garage Jan. 9, after thieves removed a cover from a disused entryway to gain entrance. Garage owner Fred Erickson, who summoned officers James Philes and Lyle Lathrop reported the same thing had happened before.

Thrift Square Dance

Sponsored by the Thrift 4-H club, a square dance will be held at the Thrift Community hall Saturday evening, Jan. 16, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, according to David Parchen, 4-H club reporter. The party is planned for both young people and their elders and will last for two hours. The 4-H girls will have charge of the kitchen.

Today's the Day—

SAME SONG - SECOND VERSE

At the risk of sounding repetitious, again we call attention to traffic safety in this issue of the Times-Journal.

On the front page of the magazine section are three pictures showing various processes of traffic violator must go through before he is cleared of his crime.

This graphic illustration should serve as a reminder and a warning to all of us—but it probably won't.

One of the greatest faults of the human being, it would seem, is his inability to grasp the significance of any event unless he is tangibly effected by it.

The probable reaction to the pictures and story will run something like this:

"Hm—State Patrol caught another poor guy—glad it wasn't me. Kind of mean to arrest the guy—he only went through a little stop sign."

Consider, please, what would be the tune if "the poor guy" hit another car and caused the death of one or two, possibly more people. He would then become in the eyes of those who knew or were related to the injured or dead a "murderer", "not fit to hold a driver's license".

But still to thousands—no, millions—of citizens who travel the highways each day, he wouldn't even have an identity—merely another statistic to boost the yearly total of fatalities on the highway.

Unidentified - unknown, until one day a relative or a friend is hurt or someone you know is caught speeding in a restricted zone—then like a movie being shown again and again, the tableau is re-enacted, and a few more average citizens become aware that it's the little violations—done just one too often—that cause the big heartbreaks.

It seems a shame that people have to be shown by this grim and cruel means that traffic safety is a prime necessity in modern-day life; but, until examples such as these have the desired effect, the ghoulish story must travel relentlessly on and the screaming headlines must record its shocking epic.

Orchids from the Times-Journal

Our sincere thanks to Lewis Hankinson, the driver shown in the above mentioned pictures, for letting us make an example of his experience.

Without his cooperation we would have had a much less revealing story.

Next Week in the Times

In the next issue of the Times-Journal, we will attempt to present an accurate picture of the traffic problem during the year just past.

State Patrol officials kept a map-record of all traffic incidents during 1953, and the Times will present this map along with other pictures and a story.

Until next week . . . drive safely — don't become a headline statistic.

their section to go around. As a result, several senators gave their chairs to ambassadors and others who were guests of the Congress. These senators, who stood throughout the speech, included Senator Warren G. Magnuson of the State of Washington and at least half a dozen others.

Later, on the Senate floor, William Knowland, the Senate majority leader, took official notice of the situation, directing the Senate's sergeant-at-arms and secretary to see that seating arrangements are handled more efficiently next time.

Senator Knowland suggested for one thing, that former members of Congress, who have the courtesy of the floor, should not be seated in preference to present members of Congress.

None of the senators who had given up their seats joined in the discussion, but several of their colleagues endorsed Senator Knowland's remarks.

New Stop Signs Due On State, County Roads . . Says Highway Head

New stop signs on state highways, county roads and city streets are on the way, according to William A. Bugge, director of highways for the Washington State Highway Commission.

The new stop sign will have a red background with the word STOP in white. Both the word STOP and the red background will be fully reflectorized so that the new sign will stand out when headlights strike it at night.

Because of the heavy cost of replacing all existing yellow signs, replacement by the new red signs will be done only as the yellow ones wear out or are broken.

Congressman Magnuson Attends President's State of Union Speech

By Don Magnuson
Congressman at Large

Sidelights on President Eisenhower's State-of-the-Union address to the Congress last week:

Space in the House, where the President speaks, always is at a premium on this great state occasion, of course. Attending are members of Congress, the Supreme Court, the Cabinet, the foreign diplomatic corps and a few other high officials of government. Former members of Congress are admitted, too.

The historic House chamber really is not large enough to accommodate such numbers comfortably, and there were some raised eyebrows in evidence after several senators observed standing throughout the hour-long ceremony last Thursday.

A block of choice seats at the front of the chamber is reserved for the senators, diplomatic corps, Supreme Court and cabinet. This time, someone slipped, and there were not enough seats in

Woodland News

Mrs. Karl Cordes Meet Your Neighbor
Nellie Harlan was born in Spring Valley, Minn., which is located in the southern part of the state, while Wesley Williams was born in Eagle Bend, Minn., in the northern part of the state. It took a blind date some years later to bring these two together and to our community here at Woodland. Nellie was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan but she was fortunate to have four brothers. The family moved west to the Yakima valley and later here on the coast. Wes, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, had a brother and four sisters. The Williams family also decided to move to the west and ended up in Sumner and then Puyallup. Through the blind date, arranged by Nellie's girl friend, what began with a movie ended up a full time date. About two years later the young couple were married and rented a home here near the school and they bought the family home they now live in. Julie, their oldest child, graduated from Woodland and Puyallup high and also the Central Washington College of Education at Ellensburg, and is now teaching 8th and 9th grade.

at East Wenatchee. Lynn, the oldest son, graduated from Woodland, Puyallup and is now attending Central Washington College as an art major. So far he has done remarkably well and won numerous awards on his art; he is also a member of Kappa Phi. Bob, the youngest son, graduated from Woodland and is now attending Puyallup Hi. His interests lie in F.F.A. and helping his partner, Pop, with their mutual investment of beef and dairy cattle. Wesley Williams served two terms on the Woodland school board and on the county re-organization board. He has been Assistant Scout Master, Master of the Fruitland Grange, an active member of the P-TA and the Youth Council. Photography is his hobby and he is employed at the General Hardware in Tacoma. Mrs. Williams is past president of Woodland P-TA and Homecraft club and an active member of P-TA and Grange and is assistant cook at the school. It is easy to see why Woodland grows with neighbors like these.
Candidates Should Register
Any registered voter interested in filing for director of the Woodland school board should file at the county court house from Jan. 8th to 23. The office is open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. week days and closed on Saturdays. Election will be on the 9th of March. Watch later news for propositions on ballot.

the home of Mrs. Cole's brother and family, Albert Hughes.
An Oversight
Neglect was made to call attention to the windows at the Woodland school over the holidays. The cleverly attired windows, done in Ole' St. Nick, Candles, and Christmas scenes, were done by the art department and were admired by all the community.

District Survey
Members of the P-TA and Preschool are assisting the school in a Preschool survey of the entire district. Information regarding the number of preschool children in the district is needed to complete this, if you have a pre-school child and have not been contacted, will you please call Mrs. Minchou, 5-8128 or Mrs. Cordes, 5-2511, or the school, 5-7422.

Daughter Returns
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jupiter were happy to welcome their daughter, Delores, home Tuesday (Jan. 12) from Valdosta, Ga., where she has been since September. Her brother, Roy Snover, with whom she made her home there, has recently transferred to an Air Force base in Alabama where he will serve as an instructor.

Neighborhood Club
The January meeting of the Neighborhood club was held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Mullins. Following a dessert luncheon games and Bingo were played. Present were Mesdames Walter Waller, Frank Wiggins, Bill Westman, Bill Henn, Karl Cordes and the hostess, Mrs. Mullins. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Heil.
Visiting
Mr. and Mrs. George Cole Sr. and Grandpa Cole spent New Year's day in Seattle at

Kindergarten
The loss of a kindergarten at Kapowsin grade school, felt keenly this past term because of millage voting, was solved to everyone's satisfaction. Through the combined efforts of the community and the Preschool and P-TA, funds were raised to procure the teaching services of Mrs. Frank Steele, a teacher with a fine background of handling young children. The first Monday of February will see many new names added to the enrollment, including several from Elk Plain. A happy sense of achievement may be felt by those who have made the step possible. A small tuition fee for each pupil will be asked, to defray expenses.
4-H Meets in New Home
The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shannon was the meeting place of the Girls' 4-H club last Monday. Their daughter, Sharon, was hostess to 16 of her club members and leader, Mrs. William McSwain, and served refreshments after work was done on their year's project books. Girls who attended the 4-H Leaders' Council at the meeting held in Graham last Wednesday night reported on hearing the interesting Exchange student, a former 4-H girl, who told of five months in Scotland where she lived in 12 different homes, and showed slides of life there.
Weds in California
The Matthew Fergusons are telling friends delightedly of the recent marriage of their son, Robert McConnell Ferguson, to Sondra Lou Ann Eckman, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Eckman of Glendale, California. The wedding took place in the lovely Chapel of Roses and was the culmination of a childhood romance. The tall, well-known son of the Ferguson's is with the 6th Army, stationed at the Presidio and is being trained with a picked crew of military police. When his tour of duty is completed, "Bob" hopes to continue his pre-medical course and go on with medicine. He expects to eventually hang his shingle and make a home in Los Angeles.

Addition to Family
Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wright welcomed another daughter to their family in time for Christmas. Born December 22, Barbara Ellen joins an older sister Georgann, and brother, Ronald Jr. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wright of Elk Plain, and Mr. and Mrs. George McCool.
Son Returns to Seminary
Walter McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McGee, concluding a three week's visit at home over the holidays, returned to St. Edward's seminary at Kenmore, Washington, where he resumes his studies.
Committees Appointed
Officers of the Elk Plain Grange are now ready to present a successful program for the coming year. Ground work was laid at a meeting of the officers at the home of Mrs. Thorn Tibbitts, master, last Thursday and committees were appointed and approved. The first regular meeting at the Grange will take place tonight.
Birthday Club
Mrs. Clifford McGee was honored Jan. 6 by the Birthday club, which gathered at her home for a pot-luck luncheon.

Letter to the Editor

THE ELK PLAIN SCHOOL

In defense of the many fine people of the Elk Plain school area, who have so generously played their part in providing a better school system; it is both a disgrace and a sin that the article presented by Lee and Marie Nelson should have such utter disregard for the truth.

Homer T. Anderson
Superintendent,
Bethel Schools

Spanaway, Wash.
Jan. 11th, 1954

Dear Editor:
As a subscriber to the new Times-Journal, I think it is an asset to our community, I notice something new added to its columns, "The Letter Box", which I think is a fine addition, and being comparatively a newcomer to the west coast, I hate to disagree with its first letter writers. But there are several things I do not agree with the writers on.

We have had three boys in Elk Plain grade school, and two of them are now students at Bethel high school. All three of them have been under the supervision of the present officers, and all of them have the highest respect for the teachers and the principal.

I have gone to P-TA meetings and most of the school activities and I think we have an excellent teaching staff and school officers in both the grade and high school.

As for people leaving our community because of existing conditions, that is hard to believe.

If I had the opportunity to better my lot in life as some of those who have left our community, I think I would try and start anew in my present surroundings, rather than go back and dig up the ghost of my past.

And last but not least, on or about the last of December, I was talking to the party that is supposed to have deserted his farm because of so-called school conditions, and he told me that the reason he wanted to sell his property was because he was sick and tired of the unfavorable weather on the coast and he was going East of the mountains on a farm.

John J. Warren
Rt. 1, Box 277

Editor, Times-Journal

As president of the Parkland Community Club, I want to thank you sincerely for all the space allowed in this column, as well as the news items which you printed to help inform the public of the steps being taken for the formation of the sewer district.

We now have a sewer district, which becomes a municipal corporation owned by the people and the area, and a set of three commissioners. This is the first step, and the others will gradually follow.

Yours very sincerely,
(Mrs.) Jennie L. Grodvig,
President.

The Pierce County Leaders and the Senior 4-H'ers met Wednesday evening, Jan. 6, at the Graham Grange hall. Officer's training sessions were in order for the Senior 4-H'ers with George Purcell in charge of the presidents and vice-presidents and Ernie Hopp taking over the class in secretaries and reporters. Mrs. Ellis Anderson presided over the Leader's Council meeting and announced her committees for the 4-H year. Mrs. Myers Wheeler reported on the Millersylvania camp meeting. Otto Moebius and Thorne Tibbitts told of their interesting trip to the tractor maintenance conference at Washington State college recently. Short talks were given by Miss Sullivan of the Dairy Foods Council and a representative of the Children's Welfare department.

The highlight of the evening for all those present was the wonderful talk and showing of colored slides by Miss Jennie MacRae of Shelton who just recently returned from a five-months trip to Scotland as a Youth Exchange Student. Miss MacRae has been a very active 4-H'er in her district and the state for seven years. She urged other 4-H members to seriously think about just such a trip for themselves in the future and that it was something she would never forget as long as she lived. While in Scotland, Jennie visited with 12 different farm families and her interesting comments and pictures made one feel like you were going right along with her as she made friends with so many kinds of people. Running a tractor, haying, and baking were just a few of the things Jennie joined in to make herself one of the family where she stayed. She called each family her mom and dad and sisters and brothers and is carrying on correspondence with each of them since. Most of the homes were made of stone, many with stone fences around them. Meat and cheese products are still rationed there. They raise many sheep, some chickens and Black Angus, Ayershire and Highland cattle. Miss MacRae has a wonderful talent of being able to relate her experiences interestingly and everyone thoroughly enjoyed her.

Harvard-Midland P-TA
The Harvard-Midland P-TA will meet Jan. 20, Wednesday evening, at 8:00 in the auditorium. Frank Hansler will show a movie, "Cougar Hunt," and will talk on his experiences on the same subject. Mothers of the 3rd graders will be hostesses, with room mothers, Mrs. R. Christensen, Mrs. Frank Ladwig, Mrs. Gus Lovstrom, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Robert Irving, in charge.

Visitors
During the Christmas season, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cleary had visitors from Alaska, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Knutson. Also from Canada were a niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. Meek. Mrs. Meek is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kominski of McKenna.

Guests for Christmas dinner at the Cleary home were Mr. and Mrs. J. Jarmoski and Eva Nixon.

Moving Day
A week ago Saturday was moving day for the Donald Hicks family which includes Charles, Michael, John and Kay besides Mr. and Mrs. Hicks. They exchanged places with Mr. and Mrs. George Nixon of Rt. 1, Box 13, Roy. Their former home and the Nixon's new one is 2318 East 104th.

4-H Clover Club
The Midland 4-H Clover club met Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 6, at the home of Valeria Bombardier. The hostess and her mother served lovely refreshments. Plans were discussed to try and have another teen-age dance near Valentine's Day. Valeria gave an interesting demonstration on "Making Waffles." They will meet next at the home of Marlene Corrigan Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 20.

Orthopedic Guild
Meeting Tuesday noon at the Midland Community club hall were the members of the Midland Orthopedic Guild. Mrs. Albert Asplund presided. Plans were made for the clothes hamper and boxed gifts of linens to be awarded in the near future. Members are busy making articles for this project. Anyone wishing to purchase a bottle of vanilla to aid the Guild in obtaining a coffee-maker may contact Mrs. Lois Johann. Hostesses for the meeting were Mesdames Doug Morris, George Lind and Ruth Schilling. Mesdames Don Kemp, Peter Tefire and Walter Corrigan will serve at the February meeting.

Altar Society
The Altar society of St. John of the Woods parish met at the home of Mrs. John Koval Thursday afternoon, Jan. 7. Mrs. Mel Morrill presided and plans were made for a home-made bake sale to be held after both Masses Sunday, Jan. 24. Mrs. Larry Cleary volunteered to take charge of the annual St. Patrick's talent show and social which is always a big affair for the parish. It was also decided to hold their monthly meetings at the Midland Community club hall as there are

Joe Citizen Has Tangle With Law; Learns Lesson

Ever wonder just how the processes of the law work on an ordinary citizen—just a run-of-the-mill guy—say a traffic violator?

Nothing spectacular — no bizarre events, just a simple thing like going through a stop sign onto an arterial highway without hesitating. A thing almost anybody does at least once a week—only this time Joe citizen got caught.

It was about 9:45 p.m., on Dec. 30, a clear night, after a day of rain and wind.

Patrolman Al Stewart of the Washington State Patrol is cruising along Pacific avenue, maybe thinking of the big night on New Year's Eve, and hoping nothing serious happens to mar the safety record.

Suddenly at the intersection of Pacific Ave. and Military road, a car pulls onto the highway without stopping for the sign. Of such little things as these, safety records are shattered.

Patrolman Stewart sounds the siren, and the '37 model car pulls to the side of the road. The patrol car pulls up behind, and the case history of Joe Citizen, Traffic Violator, records its first entry.

The driver's name is Lewis C. Hankinson, home address 8234 So. Tacoma Ave.

Next question: does he know he just went through an intersection onto a busy highway without even a pause? Any excuse for his action?

Hankinson replies that he isn't feeling too well, and certainly isn't thinking clearly—no other excuse, he admits he was wrong.

The citation is written, and Hankinson is ordered to appear in Justice of the Peace Delbert Bresemann's court at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 2.

Chapter two! Hankinson enters a plea of guilty and the wheels of justice ponderously turn.

Patrolman Stewart appears as the state's witness, and Judge Bresemann gives the verdict.

Court Clerk Luther C. Shelton receives Hankinson's $12,—$10 fine and $2 court costs, after he has been duly tried and sentenced.

And Hankinson's $10—how is it spent?

As set down by the state law, one-half, in this case $5, goes to the county road district. One-fourth ($2.50) to the state parks and parkways fund, and the remaining quarter ($2.50) to the highway safety fund.

Thus Joe Citizen—alias Lewis Hankinson—finds the law is meant for little people as well as big—and for small breaks as well as large chasms in the wall of justice.

He Said He Was Sick

and wasn't quite aware of what he was doing, but Washington State Patrolman Al Stewart was, and as a result these pictures were taken—showing just how the process of the law works, once it is set in motion—in this case, the experience of Lewis Hankinson, 8234 So. Tacoma Ave.

The first photo shows Officer Stewart writing out the citation at the junction of Military Road and Pacific Ave., after the '37 DeSoto, minus a front bumper and other essentials, had pulled onto Pacific without the required arterial stop. This was at 8:45 p.m., Dec. 30.

Hankinson appears before Justice of the Peace Delbert Bresemann of Spanaway, in the second photo, Jan. 2. He entered a plea of guilty, was duly tried, and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and court costs of $2.

Clerk of the court, Luther C. Shelton accepts Hankinson's money in the third photo, and Hankinson's brush with the law is over. All sides are satisfied, and he'll think twice before he goes through another stop sign.

guilty? This question puzzles many people and causes them to doubt the integrity of a lawyer.

The defense lawyer is not the judge or the jury. It would be presumptive of him to convict his client in his own mind before trial. Such practice might in some instances result in an innocent person suffering.

According to the Canons of Ethics of the American Bar Association, which established the standard of conduct for lawyers, "It is the right of the lawyer to undertake the defense of a person accused of a crime regardless of his personal opinion as to the guilt of

Winter Driving Full Of Hazards Says State Patrol Chief Pryde

"Winter weather can be deadly — to the unwary —," Chief James A. Pryde, of the Washington State Patrol, warned Washington motorists this week.

"In winter, streets and highways often are wet or covered with snow and ice," he said, "and car control is difficult. Also, visibility—or lack of it—can be a dangerous, even fatal problem," he added.

In many of the accidents occurring in Washington during last winter, it was found that roads were wet, muddy, snowy, or icy, he pointed out. Coupled with this condition, it was found that in many of these same accidents, the driver's vision was obscured.

"You have to see danger to avoid it," Pryde stated, "and you have to have your car under control at all times if you are to stop in time to prevent an accident."

Six basic rules for winter driving to help counteract the dangers that exist or have the possibility of existing are: Althe accused; otherwise innocent persons, victims only of suspicious circumstances, might be denied proper defense.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY'S DUTY

"Having undertaken such defense, the lawyer is bound by all fair and honorable means to present every defense that the law of the land permits to the end that no person may be deprived of life or liberty, but by due process of law.

"The primary duty of a lawyer engaged in public prosecution is not to convict, but to see that justice is done. The suppression of facts or the secreting of witnesses capable of establishing the innocence of the accused is highly reprehensible."

Unless a defendant pleads guilty, and unless his guilt is plain, sound public policy and morals dictate that the prosecution be put to the test of proving guilt and that defendant have a proper defense.

FARM NEWS

County Agents' Corner

By C. R. Doran

Farmers need good records of business. This was clear to the 60 farmers and wives attending the farm account meeting held last Monday. Art Peterson, Extension management specialist, explained the need of records for proper analysis of farm business.

S. J. Kalivas representing the Internal Revenue office explained that good farm account book was acceptable as evidence of expenses. In this case expense receipts would not be necessary.

Questions about reporting illustrated how necessary it is for farmers to get dependable information. Mr. Kalivas cited the case of a valley farmer who had paid tax on several thousands of dollars in excess of his true income. A case of poor records that resulted in a welcome refund for the farmer. Different financial arrangement for the same operation affects reporting the farm income.

One farmer reported spending $1200 for bull dozing. While trees were being uprooted he sawed and trucked the marketable timber affected. For this he received $900. He was advised to report the $900 as income; the $1200 expense is regarded as farm improvement.

Another farmer in a similar operation received $100 from the dozer operator who took the timber affected in payment for his work. He was advised to report the $100 as income. This advice seemed a little confusing but it emphasized the importance of being properly informed before income reporting.

Drop a card to the county agents' office 501 Court House, Tacoma, for a new bulletin "1953 Farmers Income Tax". For 40c you can also obtain "The Washington Farm Record Book."

We have just received a supply of interesting pamphlets entitled "Supplementing Roughages with Purdue Cattle Supplement A" which I would be glad to send any cattleman free of charge. This supplement was developed to improve the use of low quality roughages and it has been effective in supplying the nutrients required for a well balanced, practical ration with a large variety of feed conditions. It is not practical however if you already have fairly high quality, high protein roughage. It will bear investigation I believe for many of our cattlemen without good pea silage or clover roughage. Send me your name and address if you are interested.

Have recently received word about a fairly large flock of sheep for sale; if you are interested I will furnish more detailed information. These happen to be Hampshires, Columbia and Southdowns and range from $25 to $50 for ewes, bred and not bred, grades and purebreds.

The New Year always makes us more aware of making changes in our way of living. At least most of us make resolutions to do better. Many times these aren't fulfilled but at least an attempt is made to improve one's self.

This thinking should be carried to the poultry operation. We've all talked to some poultrymen who complete their chores in much less time than others. Sometimes we've almost been tempted to doubt them. Maybe we would be accomplishing more by analyzing our own work routes to see where time can be saved. Have you ever stopped to realize how many unnecessary steps you travel during the day? Changing the location of nests, waterers, feeders, feed room or egg room may be well worth the time spent. A few minutes time spent thinking about your chore routes may pay dividends.

The first of the new year also brings a few headaches such as income tax reports. This is one of those "necessary evils" that we have to live with. We might just as well make it as easy as possible on ourselves. This is simpler if accurate, up to date come tax reporting is much Mason county girl who was one of the International Farm

Minister Builds Scale Model Of Tabernacle. Ark of Covenant

"And the Lord spake unto Moses saying: 'On the first day of the first month shalt thou set up the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation.

"And thou shalt put therein the ark of the testimony and cover the ark with the veil." —Exodus 40:1-3.

Taking these words to heart, and becoming somewhat of a modern-day Moses, the Rev. C. C. Wilcox, of the Spanaway Full Gospel Church, has created a scale model of the original tabernacle and convant.

Three years in the building, the model is about one inch to the foot, and contains over a thousand pieces.

The model is composed of an outer court containing the sacrificial altar and surrounding the entire tabernacle, and the tabernacle itself, in the second square.

Used originally to illustrate lessons for Sunday school teacher training courses, the tabernacle is now used in a series of messages by the Rev. Mr. Wilcox, to carry out his theme.

Measuring 45 inches long, 15 inches wide and 15 inches high, the covenant is covered with a black cloth representing the badger skins used in the original. Layers of white linen and a woven fabric of purple, scarlet, blue and white form the remainder of the coverings.

Each of the implements in the covenant and on the altar in the outer court were hand carved from brass and covered with a layer of gold, by the Rev. Mr. Wilcox.

"It still isn't as complete as it will be," he commented, "I am completing the lamps for the inside of the covenant and other details to make it more authentic."

The outer court, which surrounds the covenant with a wall of white linen measures 100 inches long by 50 inches wide, and contains the sacrificial altar.

The altar is made of wood, covered with a layer of brass, four horns, one on each corner point to the north, east, west and south, spelling out the word "news".

"The word gospel means 'good news,' Wilcox said, "so we find significance in this bit of information."

A pit of sand is centered in the altar, surrounded by the implements used in a sacrificial ceremony—the flesh hook, blood pan, ash pan, tongs and shovels.

The Rev. Wilcox will speak Thursday evening on "The Door", entering the tabernacle. Friday's topic will be "Entering the Sheltered Place".

He has toured with the model for two years, and used it as a visual aid in his sermons.

American Legion Takes Stand On Admission of Red China To UN

Unalterable opposition to the seating of Red China in the United Nations has been indicated by members of Parkland Post No. 228, The American Legion, Post Commander Al Seaman, Parkland, announced this week.

"The opposition includes a petition to the President of the United States signed by local Legionnaires and other local citizens which has been distributed at the request of State Legion Commander, Jasper A. Reynolds, Walla Walla," Commander Seaman said.

In making his appeal in support of the petition, Commander Reynolds urged Legion Posts in the state of Washington to "marshall all their resources and facilities in opposition to seating of Red China by the UN", Commander Seaman added.

Commander Reynolds also stated: "During the past several months, there has been increased activity on the part of those interested in the admission of Communist China to the United Nations to enlist public opinion against the regularly constituted government of China."

"Communists have been carrying on a well organized propaganda for the United States to abandon the regularly constituted government of China and admit another satellite government of Soviet Russia to the United Nations.

To do so would betray the provisions, betray the letter and violate the spirit of the United Nations.

We wish to inform him that we are wholeheartedly opposed to the admission of the so-called Chinese People's Republic to the United Nations."

Opposition to seating Red China is in accordance with mandates of The American Legion's 1953 National Convention held in St. Louis, Commander Seaman pointed out.

Franklin Pierce Band Concert Friday Evening

The band of Franklin Pierce high school will present a concert Friday evening, Jan. 15, in the cafeteria-auditorium of the school, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. Robert Winters, band director for Franklin Pierce, will be in charge.

One of the novelty numbers to be played is "Nightbeat." This bit of musical mastery will take the audience on a tour of New York city, visiting Times Square, Chinatown, Harlem, Latin Quarter, Broadway and the waterfront. In mysterious mood, the music will provide an eerie background for a "murder."

Other special features of the program will be a trombone solo by John Cox; saxophone solo, Kearney Frantzen; French horn solo, Elizabeth Jones; vocal numbers, "Were You There," and "September in the Rain," by five students from the department of LeRoy Spitzer, vocal director. Singing will be Carol Morris, Jo Ann Hanson, Marilyn Krumm, David Sannerud and Rich Raden.

The band now includes 39 enthusiastic young musicians and the program will be a general one, perhaps favoring popular numbers of the day. The concert is sure to please and a large attendance is expected. Admission is 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for students.

Business Leaders To Examine School Finance Problems

Appointment of a statewide committee of business men to explore all phases of the school financing problem was announced by Moritz Milburn, president of the Washington State Taxpayers Association.

Stuart C. Frazier, executive vice president of the Washington Mutual Savings Bank, Seattle, is chairman of the study group.

"School financing is the most serious tax problem now facing the people of this state," Milburn declared.

"There is an urgent need for developing an equitable, sensible program which will take care of the emergencies facing some school districts. It is a matter of real concern to every citizen, and should be considered on a factual, rather than an emotional, basis.

"The Taxpayers Association has called together an outstanding group of men and asked them to examine the elements of this fiscal problem objectively.

They are to apply sound judgment to the basic issues, just as they would an emergency confronting their own business operations.

"The committee hopes to meet with principal public officials concerned with school financing and with spokesmen for other interested groups, during its deliberations in coming months," Milburn said.

Wapato Float Fund Drive Sponsors Ask Aid

With spring "just around the corner," interest in the proposed fishing float for children at Wapato lake runs high, those in charge planning an active campaign for funds. The project is sponsored by the Tacoma Sportsman's club auxiliary and has been approved by the Metropolitan Park board.

The float will be for children up to 16 years of age. Since the old bridge at the lake was torn down, children wishing to fish have had to fish from the swimming floats and shore line. The float will be built into the main channel of the lake and will be extended 120 feet from the shore line in form of the letter "T". The fishing area will be 100 feet by 10 feet, the float to be built in sections so if at any time more sections are needed they could be easily added.

The improvement will cost $3,000 and will be built by paid union labor, to be financed by donations from the public. This is considered an especially worthy cause by sportsmen.

At this time the committee is placing posters with a picture of the float and cans for donations in many of the business houses, sport shops, etc., in the area. Donations, no matter how small, will be greatly appreciated. Those contributors can be sure that their gifts are for a worthy cause and will make many small fishermen happy.

Donations may be made by dropping coins in the cans provided or by sending money direct to the Wapato Float Fund, Puget Sound National Bank, c/o James St. John, Tacoma 1.

For further information, call the co-chairmen, Mrs. Lloyd T. Nyman, GR 7579, or Mrs. Les Newton, BR 3006. Mrs. Hazel Boyer, publicity chairman for the Tacoma Sportsman's auxiliary, may be reached at MA 8527.

SANDY SADDLER BACK ON TV FRIDAY NIGHT

Sandy Saddler, world featherweight champion, meets Bill Bossio in a top flight ten-rounder to be nationally televised and broadcast from the famous St. Nick's Arena Friday night (January 15) on the Cavalcade of Sports by the Gillette Safety Razor Company.

The fight, marking the return of the champion to the ring after two year's service in the Army, will start at 7:00 p.m. and may be seen over the NBC television network.

Boxing fans have the opportunity to determine the effects a two-year absence from the ring may have upon the titleholder. Saddler has expressed a willingness to defend his title within sixty days of his discharge from the Armed Forces, and considers Friday's bout a most important tune-up. His record shows a total of 142 appearances, gaining 129 wins—90 of KO—and 11 losses.

Bill Bossio is now ranked tenth in his class and features a slam-gang body style of attack. He has appeared in 55 bouts, and scored 40 wins—14 by KO—with 13 losses.

Muzz Patrick Signs With Rangers

Muzz Patrick, former Tacoma hockey coach, recently signed a contract to coach the New York Rangers in the National Hockey League.

Oh, what a beautiful day for trail riding last Sunday! We saw a number of horsemen taking advantage of the grand weather. Just a promise of more to come.

Maybe the good weather was responsible, too, for the good turn-out for the zone judging school held at Woodbrook Sunday, January 9th. There were lots of horses there for the classes, lots of judges and a number of people just looking on. There will be a night session.

Ruehle Chalks High Game; Hits 298 Mark

Bill Ruehle, one of Tacoma's fastest rising bowling stars, slammed the pins hard a few nights ago and set a new season's single game record with a near perfect 298.

Bowling in the Elks annual mid-season doubles tournament, Bill poured eleven straight strike balls down the alley and on his last ball left the 6 and 10 pins standing. A strike on the twelfth ball would have given Ruehle the first perfect game of his bowling career and it would also have been the first 300 game of the 1953-54 season. He added a 224 second game to his record breaking first game and slipped to a 159 count in the third game to wind up with a very respectable 681 series for the evening.

Incidentally, Bill is employed by the Times-Journal here in Parkland, and is one of the better boosters for sports in this area. For the past several years he was active in softball playing with several top notch teams in the area.

PLC Tops Eastern; Drops Whitworth

The Pacific Lutheran College basketball forces met with partial success during the past week as they returned home with a win after losing the first game of their cross state journey.

The Gladiators and the Eastern Washington Savages tangled in a real thriller Saturday night and after the smoke cleared the local five had managed to eke out a well deserved 62 to 60 victory.

Bouts Set Jan. 27, 28

Entries for the 1954 Golden Gloves Tournament were pouring in at the latest report and from all indications this year's tournament will be best ever held in this area.

The tournament is scheduled for January 27 and 28 in the Tacoma Armory.

Fort Lewis, last years team champions, will be back again this year in force along with the strong McChord field team and several other service teams in the area. Tickets for the bouts are on sale at the present time at the Turf, Clark's and Steves.

This win gave the Lutes their first conference victory and they now hold a one win one loss record in conference play. The P.L.C. five lost their first game to the strong Whitworth team Friday night 71 to 47.

In the Eastern game, four of the Lute regulars hit the double figures. Al Gubrud led the Parkland team with 15 points, followed closely by Garnet Lund with 14. Bob Ross and Jack Sinderson had 10 each.

It was Sindersons two-point-er with 18 seconds remaining to play that cinched the victory. The score was tied 60 to 60 and it looked like the game would be decided in an overtime period until Sinderson let fly with his jump shot from the corner.

The Gladiators face a busy week of basketball again this week. They meet their cross town neighbors, the College of Puget Sound Loggers Thursday night (tonight) and then taken on the Central Washington Wildcats Friday night. Both games will be played at the P.L.C. gym. Game time for both contests, 8:00 p.m.

THE GREAT PEPPER

Great baseball players have come and gone for many years and their names like Ruth, Gehrig, Alexander, DiMaggio Feller will be remembered for years to come, but in the city of St. Louis one name stands out above all others. This famous person was a member of the St. Louis Cardinals better known about that time as the "Gas House Gang". This loveable bundle of muscle was none other than John Leonard Martin, better known as "The Pepper."

Now, Pepper Martin was not the best baseball player of his day by a long shot, but he was the hero of the fans whether he was on or off the field. This Oklahoma born tobacco chewing gentleman roamed the streets of St. Louis dressed in full cowboy garb during his off hours just to see people and strike up a conversation about anything and everything. He loved a good gag and often played jokes on his teammates and even on people who were complete strangers to him, yes, he was what some people would call, a real character.

Pepper's heart was really in the game of baseball and while on the baseball diamond he played for everything that was in it. Being a member of the Gas House Gang, which included the two Dean boys, Dizzy and Daffy, Ducky Medwick and Leo "The Lip" Durocher, many people thought Pepper was a rough and roudy fellow who would go out of his way to dig a spike into an opposing player. This of course was not true although when the going was tough Martin always rose to the occasion. As a matter of fact, there wasn't a player in the National league who cared to stand up and cross swords with the rugged Martin. They all preferred to be his friend.

The fans of St. Louis will always remember Martin for his famous head-first slides into the bases. When on base he was a wild man of the first degree and would drive a nervous pitcher crazy. For his wild antics and furious head-first slides, the fans labeled him the "Wild Hoss of the Osage."

Many stories have been told about "The Pepper" but the one that stands out foremost in minds of most of us is the one that occurred when he was playing third base for the Cardinals this one afternoon. It seems that Martin just couldn't do anything right unless he had a big chew of chewing tobacco tucked in the side of his mouth. Well, anyway this day he discovered his chaw was not quite as large as he would like so in the middle of the inning with an opposing batter in the box, "The Pepper", took off his glove, tucked it under his arm and dug deep into his hind pocket for his plug.

Just as he stuck the tobacco in his mouth to bite off a piece, the batter drove a vicious ground ball right at him. Now, most ball players would have either dicked, or tried to field the ball with their glove but not Pepper Martin. With the plub still held firmly in one hand and in his mouth he threw out his chest and let the ball hit him squarely. Then calmly he picked up the ball with his free hand and threw to first base for the putout.

Frank Frisch, the dynamic manager of the Gas House Gang stormed out to the smiling third baseman and began reading the riot act, and what do you suppose happened, yes, Frisch was ordered to the clubhouse by the umpires for using improper language on the field. Martin, yes, he took another chew and continued play at third base.

sion to talk over judging problems at the Olympia Riding Club Friday night, January 22, beginning at 8:00. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

The Pierce County Sheriff's Posse held installation of officers last Thursday night with the following being installed in office. Captain, Dee Parham; 1st lieutenant, D. Fincham; Lieutenant of membership, Dean Vosburg; Lieutenant of mounts, E. K. Dorwin; board members, Ted McMaken, Kent Erickson.

The Parkland Junior Riding Club elected the following to hold office during 1954: President, Bob Seeney; vice president, Pam Selden; secretary-treasurer, Lynn Dillin. Mrs. B. F. Fluty has been appointed as advisor to the juniors for this year. Looks like everything is all set for an enjoyable and busy year.

The Parkland Riding Club (seniors) elected the following to serve for the year: President, B. F. Fluty; secretary-treasurer, Rodrick Van Dyke; board members, Helen Ober, Jim Sales, G. Haakenson, Mrs. Lou Fisch, Casey Berger, Marie Fluty. The big question of the moment is the color scheme for painting the newly acquired club house.

Along the trail we saw the Graham bunch making plans for a big dance to be held January 23rd . . . Jean Wood wearing her new fringed leather jacket . . . a present from Santa . . . a group of Lariettes making plans for a trip to Bellingham to meet with the Evergreen State drill teams.

Bethel Five Down Peninsula, 65-53

The Bethel Braves exploded in the final two minutes of the game and scored 14 points to down the inspired Peninsula five 65 to 53 Friday evening in the Peninsula gym.

This hard fought win gives the Braves a record of 6 wins on no losses to take the commanding lead in the West Central Basketball League. Going into the game Peninsula was tied for second place with Eatonville but this loss dropped them into third spot.

Leading the Braves scorers was Gene Ketter with 19 points. He had plenty of help from the rest of the squad as Felix Brodigan, Walter Leigh and Dave Rich all hit the net for double figures.

west after spending the last few years in this area coaching first at Tacoma, until hockey folded up, and then this year at Seattle.

Muzz was a great booster for this grand country of ours and will probably return here if things don't work out as planned in the east. His wife and family will remain in Tacoma until school is out and will then join him in New York.

He will take over as head man of the Rangers immediately and will try to bring the team back as a contender from their present fifth place position.

More Than 200 Attend Ski School

More than 200 high school students turned up last Saturday for the free ski instruction at Snoqualmie Summit. The school, sponsored by the Park District and the Tacoma News Tribune, will continue during the ski season with school being held each Saturday. It is expected that the group will be much larger this week-end because of the fine time had by the students attending the first meeting.

The students will be split up into many small groups according to how far advanced they are in the use of the tricky boards. They will be given instructions by some of the best ski instructors in this part of the country.

Youngsters wishing to take advantage of this school should get in touch with the Park District office at 210 City Hall Annex and sign up for the course. Joe LaPorte is the chief instructor for the course.
