By Clarence La Crosse
Joe Is Back

Joe is back - - - thank goodness - - - by Joe I mean Joe Ghesquiere the person who keeps this paper ticking as far as production is concerned. For the past two weeks he has been trying to take it easy on a vacation - - - moving if that is any vacation, it never has been for me. Anyway this week we hope to be out on time again.

One never knows how much one person does till it is necessary to go without the services of that individual for a while. Sure, we had others to take the place but it never seems to be the same. Without further ado I'm glad to say Joe is back.

Parkland Sign

Last week we told you about what we did to get the Parkland city limits sign moved to its proper place on the highway - - well, it is moved - - - and we won't take the credit - - - but we tried hard is all we can say. Like we say it is moved.

Jack Quill

If you noted - - - and many of you must have from the comments we heard - - - Jack Quill had his picture in the Parkland Times last week - - - yes that picture on the front page was Jack Quill in spite of the similarity to other persons. Well, the story about that gruesome picture is something like this.

At one time last year The Parkland Times ran an article about different and various individuals in the Parkland Area who recommended the Times and its importance in the community. Our good friend Jack was one of those so we needed a picture to publish. Consequently a snap was taken which turned out to be one of the worst pictures ever taken in Parkland (especially of Jack Quill). As it turned out the photo was used due to lack of time, etc.

As I understand it the engraving was to have been destroyed right after that but it got left in the cut files of our paper, then again when the need came up last week for a picture of Jack it was used - - - and we might say much to the dissatisfaction of Mr. Jack Quill - - - our apologies, Jack. The engraving is no longer in existence - - - but we might suggest that you or anyone else who objects to their photo not being good to have one submitted that they do like - - - after all, to us a picture is a picture.

Legion Doings

If the plans underway for the American Legion develop there will be a full winter schedule of events in store for Legionnaires of this area. Since I wrote the above I attended an executive board meeting of the Legion Post 228 at the home of Walter Fritz, newly installed commander of that post. Plans for having the fall district conference in Parkland were discussed. It is almost certain as it now stands that this huge event will take place in Parkland Oct. 26.

Such a doing will do much to boost the name and community of Parkland. It is rapidly getting so that Parkland Area is getting its name in lots of doings and as a result the community is getting a good name and a lot of favorable publicity.

District Commander Sev. Kittelson is largely to thank for getting so many Legion events staged in this community. We need more community boosters like Sev to really place Parkland Area on the map. Our congratulations and wishes for good success. We appreciate your many fine efforts.

Children with Mom In Elk Plain Case

The three children "left" at a home in Elk Plain for three weeks are back with their mother this week. The Parkland Times last week carried the initial lead story written by Reporter Amy Brown. She wrote:

"On Sept. 10, a woman stopped at the Robert Schriver residence and pleaded with them to watch three children for the evening. Sunday passed, a week passed and still no word or sight of the woman . . .

"The Schriviers are still caring for the three children, about 2, 3, and 4 years old. The shoe-less, improperly clothed children will be referred to the Pierce county welfare department, according to Mrs. Schriver. The Schriviers have seven children of their own."

Upon investigation, The Times learned from the Schriviers that "a young, attractive" woman, accompanied by a friend of Mrs. Schriver asked to watch the children on Sunday, Sept. 10. The mother said that she was "going to a dance." She explained that she will be back for them later.

The children, Ronnie, Terry and Pamea, stayed with the Schriviers until Monday, Sept. 25, when the mother and a deputy sheriff came after the children. According to the sheriff's office, they received a call from the mother asking a deputy to meet her at Joe's Cafe in Spanaway. The sheriff's office said that the mother told them that the Schriviers refused to give back her children.

The Times learned that the mother is the wife of a serviceman overseas.

According to a Schriver spokesman: "It was pitiful . . . it wasn't like a mother to leave her children . . . The little girl (Pamea) was sickly . . . She went to sleep Sunday (Sept. 10) at 4 p.m. and didn't wake up till ten the next day. She ate and ate . . . Pamela gained 3 pounds while she was here . . . She wasn't fed properly . . . and none of them had shoes . . ."

Prior to Monday, the mother made two other visits to the Schriver home, once to get the two boys and the second time to "bring $13 of groceries and a sun suit for Pamela."

According to the Schriver spokesman, "they (the children) never asked about their mother . . . the only time they mentioned mother was when Terry said, 'My mother cooked wieners, too.'"

As a sidelight in this case, the Schriviers received a letter from Mrs. Lucille Flanagan which follows: "Upon picking up The Parkland Times this afternoon (Sept. 22), I read of your 'additional' family.

"If you still have the little youngsters, I am wondering if you'd consider letting us care for them. We would consider it such a divine privilege . . .

"These three youngsters seem like such an answer to our prayers.

"We are not rich people but do have our own 10-acre farm, lots of room to play, lots of god cow's milk and butte. We have three older children who are the picture of health, but of course, there is that empty spot our little Danny left. The homeless babies would get so much love here. And perhaps, God willing, we might in time be able to adopt them.

"I can give you money, fine references . . .

"We can clothe, feed and love these youngsters indefinitely and shall hope the privilege may be ours. We wish we'd known sooner . . .

"At any rate do write me about the youngsters, whether they be boys, girls or both, dark or light. Most sincerely, Lucille Flanagan."

According to the sheriff's deputy the mother promised to pay $25 to the Schriviers by this Saturday. The mother's explanation to the deputy was that she had to go to Madigan hospital for some treatment Sept. 10.

Further development in this case rests on the mother's payment of $25, the sheriff's office said.

By Mrs. Lois Johann

A consolidated Parent-Teacher meeting of the Franklin Pierce School District and the dedication of the new addition to the Midland school will be held at the Midland school gym this Friday evening (Sept. 29) at 8:00 p.m.

The purpose of calling the four groups together at this time is to discuss ways and means of purchasing an audiometer needed for special speech correction classes and for the school nurse. Mr. Weeks, teacher of speech in the Franklin Pierce district, will discuss the need for this equipment.

He is a widely recognized authority on speech and hearing problems.

Mrs. Raymond Ellison, president of Harvard-Midland P.T.A. will introduce the presidents of the other three groups: Mrs. Emil Ripoli of Central Avenue, Mrs. Clinton Riis of Collins, and Mrs. Neil Gaiser of Parkland and Mrs. William Schmechel nurse for the district.

Mrs. John Gorow, president of the Pierce County Council of Parents and Teachers, who is a resident of Franklin Pierce district has been invited to report on the activities of the County Council. During the dedication program which will be presented by Perry Keithley, principal of Harvard-Midland. George Barras, musical director will conduct the school orchestra.

Speaking on the program will be Mrs. Ruth Bethel, Superintendent of County schools and Morris E. Ford, superintendent of Franklin Pierce District. Also to be presented at this time will be the school board members and the principals of the four schools.

Robert Clinton will show films taken by school board members while in California last year when they inspected various types of school buildings in operation, in an effort to plan the most satisfactory type of building for the Franklin Pierce High School.

Following the program the present new addition will be open for inspection. Hostesses for the social hour will be mothers of the ninth grade under the direction of Room-mothers Mrs. Aage Frederiksen and Mrs. Lawrence Christensen.

Parkland Grill Opens Under New Head

Closed many months, but this week under the new management of Bill Black, the Parkland Grill opened its doors to Parkland trade.

Black, a former Carnation Dairy employee for ten years, will operate the popular college "hangout" with his wife, Myra.

According to Black, the Grill will serve complete dinners, merchant lunches and will feature home-made pies, made fresh daily. He added that fountain service and short orders will also be available. For the budget-wise, meal tickets will be sold.

The Grill will be open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m., but will be closed all day Sunday.

An ordinance appropriating $6,243 as Tacoma's share for repairing 96th St. was introduced before the city council this week.

The street is a city limits boundary and the cost of its upkeep is shared with the county. It will be repaired between Pacific Ave. and East D St. and in the vicinity of Sheridan Ave.

Mrs. Minnie Dahlquist, 84 of Rt. 4, Box 312, Midland, died Sept. 13 in a local hospital. Born in Sweden, she came to the United States 79 years ago and to Tacoma in 1900.

Editorial . . .

One of the most difficult tasks confronting the Legion or any other group wishing to stage an event of this type is the lack of facilities in Parkland. It gets more and more apparent each day that some sort of community meeting center is necessary for such events. In case the school is taken up for the evening it is difficult to have another meeting, since it is one of few buildings which is available, and large enough. It is very apparent that many activities should take place in Parkland, but are routed elsewhere due to lack of building and facilities.

Last Talent Tryout For "Harvest Moon" Set For Monday

Amateur talents were reminded this week by the Parkland Orthopedic Guild that their Harvest Moon Talent Show tryouts will be held at 7 p.m. next Monday for Midland, Collins and Central Avenue school students.

Those who missed Monday or Tuesday's tryouts may appear next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The Talent Show will be held next Friday evening in the Parkland grade school.

Participants in the show will be divided into four groups: (1) kindergarten through third grade, (2) fourth through sixth grade, (3) junior high, and (4) high school.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners in each of the above groups. For further details call Mrs. Lyle Greer (GR 6737 or Mrs. Stanley Willis (GR 5085).

Tots Club Invite Mothers to Meeting

By Mrs. Ray Gogon
GR. 3127

The regular Collins Tots club meeting will be held 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the Collins gym with Mrs. Harold Haase presiding. Teachers of kindergarten, first and second grades have been invited to attend.

Hostesses for the evening will be the Mesdames C. P. Blanchard Jr., John Derig and Ida Waller.

An invitation is extended to all mothers from infants to second grade. The membership committee asks that mothers, particularly those of infants, be present, because they have difficulty contacting them.

Reserve the date, Nov. 11, for the Tot's club annual fall dance.

After several months of inactivity, the Summit-Woodland-Collins firemen really put in plenty of time during the past week.

Last week we reported two fires. This week, we have three more:

A stump at the home of Russell Tucker was noted by neighbors to be burning. The neighbors, knowing the Tuckers were away, reported the fire which was extinguished before it spread to a nearby garage.

A brush fire was reported on the pipeline road between Airport and Collins. The third fire was Monday. The men were called to put out a blaze at the Willows Lumber Company. What could have been a bad fire was put out with little damage.

Men interested in becoming volunteer firemen are invited to attend the Monday evening sessions at the fire station.

For the information of the people in this area the S-W-C fire station is located on Malcolm-McLary road just south of Summit Iew.

To report a fire, call GR. 5511. Remember, prompt reporting avoids damage and may save lives.

Jury members to serve in Department No. 3 of Pierce county superior court during October and November include the following:

The Rev. John Dahle, Parkland; Ralph Loveland, Spanaway; Hilda Ostlund, Parkland; W. T. Storaasli, Parkland; Anna Marie Tiseh, Parkland, and L. R. Walters, 8804 So. Yakima Ave.

Paul Pendleton Chamberlain, 87, a retired wheat farmer who had lived in Parkland for the past five years died Sept. 12 in a local hospital. He is survived by his wife, Alverdia at 704 117th St., a daughter in Puyallup, a sister in Tacoma, a brother in Yakima, nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Metropolitan park at Spanaway had an attendance of 24,138 for the 1950 summer, it was announced this week. Wapato park proved to be the most popular swimming beach with 44,545 adults and children accommodated during the summer. Spanaway was third, following Point Defiance park's 27,016 attendance.

Parkland Gets Bid For Legion Confab

Parkland is on the map, and in a big way. It was announced this week exclusively to The Parkland Times by Legion Commander Walter Fritz of Parkland Post 228, and Severn Kittelson, 4th District Commander, that the annual Fall American Legion Conference of the 4th District will be held in Parkland.

The Parkland School will house the huge event on Oct. 26.

Some three to four hundred people are expected to attend. The Ladies Aid are staging the huge dinner planned for the district delegates.

Parkland was chosen because it is a progressive community whose fame has spread in the ranks of the Legion. This was enhanced by the Parkland American Legion baseball team last summer when they ended up third in the state.

The star-studded program includes many of the top state officials of the Legion. State Commander Watt Fallis is scheduled to speak as is State Adjutant Fred Fucker and West Side Vice Commander Wendell Brickert.

At an executive board meeting of the local Post 228 held Monday night at the home of Commander Walter Fritz plans were discussed as to program and entertainment. It was decided that the local Post would use as much local talent as would consent to appear on the program, thus promoting the community.

Asked to participate in the gigantic affair is the famed Choir of the West. It was thought that the Choir would advertise well the community of Parkland Area.

An interesting feature of the program will be the debate team from PLC. Headed by topnotch debater Lou Innerarity the collegians will debate on: "Universal Military Training." Don Eastvold will serve as moderator in this lively debate.

The Legion through the Parkland Times wishes to thank publicly those who are responsible for making the school available to the Legion.

WALTER FRITZ INSTALLED AS NEW LEGION COMMANDER
Before the approving eyes of State Commander Watt Fallis, Parkland's American Legion Post 228 officials for the year were installed last Friday at the Parkland school.

Officers installed at the ceremony were: Walter Fritz, commander; William Schmalenburg and Frank Berry, vice commanders; James St. John, adjutant; James Linder, sergeant at arms; Alton Olson, chaplain.

The ceremony, under the direction of Fourth District Commander Severn Kittelson, included talks by State Commander Fallis; President Roy Kreger of the Community club; President Don Eastvold of the Businessmen's club; and President Clay Roley of the Parkland Area Kiwanis.

The Ladies auxiliary officers were also installed. They were as follows: Mrs. Nelda Fritz, president; Mrs. Mary Kittelson, first vice president; Mrs. Helene Linder, second vice president; Mrs. Phyllis Blackstone, secretary; Mrs. Francis Berry, treasurer; Ms. Georgia Riem, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Doll Moonitz, historian, and Mrs. Helga Doering, chaplain.

What the Public Should Know . . .

MOTHS
There are several types of these pests. Where do they come from? No one knows. How do they get into your clothes closet? Through open windows, doors, etc.

They like dark, warm closets and SOILED GARMENTS. They lay their eggs there in the warmth and darkness. When the eggs hatch, they must have something to feed on.

Thorough cleaning and MOTHS PROOFING at a minimum cost to you is good insurance against costly damage.

Send your soiled garments for a thorough cleaning and pressing, then you may safely store them through the Winter.

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. It's high blood pressure and is most often due to hardening of the arteries. Old rules of thumb for determining whether your pressure is high, low or normal (for instance, that normal pressure should equal age plus 100) don't mean anything. Let your physician decide whether yours is normal or not.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. One set of twins is born in about every 87 births. If there is a history of twins in your family your chances go up slightly. About three-fourths of all twins are "fraternal." They may be boy and girl or of the same sex and may or may not resemble each other. "Identical" twins are nearly alike in appearance and are always of the same sex.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. Overweight of 25 per cent or more raises the death rate in every adult age group by 74 per cent. Doctors and nutritionists generally agree that overeating and eating the wrong foods, rather than heredity or glandular troubles are by far the most frequent causes of overweight. Consult your doctor about what to eat and what not to eat.

Liven Temporary Quarters . . .

RIGHT TEXTILES SPARK DWELLING

By the Staff of the SCHOOL OF HOME ECONOMICS University of Washington

When faced with temporary quarters, large or small, the so-called furnished house may be given the look of a home with a collection of well chosen textiles, easy to pack, unbreakable, and of little weight.

Those who have learned this secret know how to find those useful articles of artistic merit which give individuality to any dwelling.

It is surprising what one choice fabric on a table, a small rug, or embroidery or block print, with perhaps a lamp, a bit of pottery and some books, can do to make the undesirable features melt away.

When ugly upholstered furniture is encountered, there are ways of forgetting it. A quiet printed fabric, as an India or Persian cotton or even a natural gray linen may become arm rest covers. If the fabric is not conspicuous in color or design, it can be used in many places unobtrusively.

Curtains are the greatest bug-bear. Windows vary so in size and proportions.

Of course, large and long curtains from a previous dwelling can be cut down to fit. Then, what to do when the next temporary place has larger windows? The problem cannot always be solved by merely pulling something out of a trunk or chest.

For make-shift in living room or bedroom, there are attractive cellulose curtains on the market, and inexpensive, too. They are printed and made flame retardant and will last a year or so. In some cases they have lasted five years. Smart looking plastic ones in stripe design are suitable for some rooms. These also do not require laundering.

Still another treatment for windows is one that most people overlook. In case there is little need for privacy and especially if the room looks out on a pleasant scene, why not just keep the glass sparkling clean and use no curtains? There are ways of softening the window frame—a quick-growing vine may be induced to trail around part of the window, or a bit of ivy in a little pot serves to break the plainness.

Probably bedspreads and covers for couches do the most to furnish a room. These chosen for individual taste can make a room to belong. There is Grandmother's beautiful old quilt, a hand-woven coverlet, an India print, a light weight oriental rug of right proportions for a couch, or maybe a hand-woven blanket picked up during travel which has intrinsic art value and personal associations.

The happiest conversation is that of which nothing is distinctly remembered, but a general effect of pleasing impression. —Johnson

You'll be snug at the stadium, delirious on the boulevard in this free-swinging greatcoat that's lined with crimson crepe and interlined with lamb's wool. Tailored from Fort-mann's gray broad-loth, the coat wins Cosmopolitan magazine's fashion endorsement for its ruffled batwing sleeves and smooth, moulded shoulder line. Its high collar is rolled and notched and the pockets are slit into the side seams. The coat is made by M. J. Haberman Sons and sells for at $80.00.

Here's the word about shoes, and we're happy to pass it along to you. This fall and winter, the new trend will be softness and flexibility, which means comfort. We'll have extra comfort in everything from walking shoes to evening slippers. Some of the new shoes will have soles so flexible they can be bent, almost double. They'll also have soft toes and heel counters, elasticized sections again, for better fit and glove-soft leathers.

It's also time to think of fall coats. The stores have a wide variety and are featuring almost every style imaginable. The most popular silhouettes, however, seems to be what fashion people call the "pyramid" and the "column". The pyramid as you might guess flares out all around from narrowed shoulders, and reaches its greatest width or circumference at the hem. The "column" silhouette is just what its name implies, straight and narrow, following the line of most suits and dresses for fall.

Emergency hints or a woman's solution to the little problems that come up around the house each day are what you might call the following suggestions. When you have a bottle top to unscrew, but can't find a regular pair of pliers to help you do it. Don't give up, just reach for a nut-cracker from your utensil drawer. It works like a vise and gives you much the same leverage as pliers.

Here's another for times you want to tighten or loosen a screw and can't find the screwdriver. Try an old key instead. If the point is to sharp, you may have to file the end of it flat to give more leverage. Doesn't work as well as a screwdriver, we admit, but it does come thru in emergencies.

News for mothers on why children need as much freedom as possible from parents' supervision. They need time to dream, and explore and grow within themselves. It is impossible for them to do this if they are watched all the time. Still it's hard for any conscientious parent to let Johnny go off to play by himself with never a thought to what he's doing and where he's going. It's reasonable to expect some information on where Johnny's going to play during the morning, but from there on he should be on his own. He needs opportunities to meet and know children and adults away from his usual associations, to meet them away from adult supervision, and away from home. When he knows he's trusted to go out by himself occasionally, he'll be more likely to respect your rules and wishes when he is at home or going to and coming back from his travels.

There are plenty of beauty preparations on the market designed to help the fading-tan time, and a week or so after dark fall clothes come out of the wardrobe and onto the streets, there'll be a rush for them at cosmetic counter all over the country. Beware of bleach creams, the easy-does-it, good-for-you-skin system, experts say, is a consistent two-to-three-week treatment, with circulation creams and nourishing creams. The circulation creams bring the blood up to the surface of the skin, and as the brown fades, they produce a pink healthy glow. Also the nourishing creams help keep the skin soft and smooth.

Boy Scout Troops 160 and 161 sponsored by the P.T.A. will be presented their charters by the Rainier Boy Scout council executive Herb West. The troops were organized last spring. The boys will present several skits.

Refreshments will be served by Scout mothers. Mrs. T. Whiting will be in charge of the committee.

Midland 4-H Girls Leave For Yakima

Three Midland senior 4-H girls left today to vie for State honors at the Yakima state fair this week. Joan Arterburn, who represented Pierce County last year in the home economics illustrated talks, will give a talk this year on "How to Make a Flat Fell Seam." Joan also represented the county at the Puyallup Fair.

Barbara Madsen, who went to the State Fair last year in the demonstration division, has chosen the field of recreation leadership this year and will compete with other countries for state championship. Barbara was responsible for the square dance exhibition put on by 4-H-ers at the Midland Improvement club picnic this summer at Dawson field.

Beverly Corrigan will enter the dress revue for Pierce county, wearing the 4 piece outfit that won her first place at the 4-H county fair. The knitted cap and purse, done in Lincoln colors, are a result of the knitting classes attended by 4-H-ers this past year at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Lynn of Tacoma. Beverly placed blue in this field last year at state fair. In addition Beverly has assumed the responsibilities of Junior Leader for the club as an extra project.

The emergency service program, a training program for scout specialists in civil defense and disasters, was registered first in the S. E. district by the James Sales range.

It was also learned that Troop 30 patrols will raise and lower the colors at the Parkland school every day. The Ranger patrol has led the troop in this deed.

However Shirley easily was the top exhibitor in Pierce county with six blue ribbons. Other Graham winners, each with one blue ribbon, were: Arlene Letman, Vivienne Norman, Karen McGee, Marlene Banks, Carol Martin, Claudia Farnes and Kathleen O'Neill.

Puget Sound Nursery won a blue ribbon for the best display of hardy plants and evergreens as grown by nurseries. The well-known Pacific Ave. nursery also exhibited roses at the Fair.

Award presentations will be made by Cubmaster Joe Anderson.

AD-jetating

By Joe!

THIS week, we shall Ad-jetate some of the advantages of the NEWSpaper as an advertising medium for retail stores.

BECAUSE of the range of interests covered by the newspaper, it is accepted as reaching the widest audience of any medium . . . home economics for housewives, business news for the men, fashion for the younger women, sports for the younger men.

(WE at The Parkland Times have seen to it that the whole family will find something of interest in our pages. Our theory is: Readership in our editorial columns can bring better readership to our advertisers. And so it follows that a newspaper worth reading is a newspaper worth advertising in.)

THE newspaper offers the widest regular coverage of market over any advertising medium for retailers . . . But, of course, every newspaper has a certain amount of wasted circulation. To the retailer, the factor of importance is the proximity and accessibility of his store to the circulation.

(IN other words, circulation, for example, in Eatonville, Lakewood, Sumner, Puyallup, South Tacoma, Orting, etc., is wasted circulation for most merchants in Parkland, Spanaway and Midland. We at The Parkland Times reach the Parkland-Spanaway-Midland triangle primarily.)

(Since you have to PAY for larger circulation in the form of higher advertising rates, why dissipate your limited budget by PAYING for circulation out of your trading area?)

THE newspaper reaches the public at a lower cost per reader than any other medium. (THROUGH The Parkland Times, an advertiser reaches 15,000 at 85 cents per column inch.)

QUICK response and quick check are possible through the newspaper. Immediate buying can be induced—for this, the newspaper is the most satisfactory medium. In a few days, the pull of your ad can be found out. The newspaper message is fresh, too, and efficient retailers have often capitalized on so-called newsvertising, by linking news with their advertising copy.

REGULAR and frequent insertions are possible through the newspaper. As we had said: The function of retail advertising is to reach, regularly, all the people who are customers or potential customers within the trading area your store serves.

OTHER major advantages of the newspaper, in short, are: Its insertion flexibility, its general acceptance and flexibility of your ad size. THERE are limitations such as time of circulation, duplication, short life, reproduction limits, waste circulation, etc. But for the retailers, the newspaper's advantages far outweigh its disadvantages.

How to Make a Miter Box

A MITER box is easy to make. It is used in sawing pieces of molding, weather strips, bridging strips, or small lumber where diagonal cuts or true, square ends are essential. The ordinary miter box is shaped like a trough. Both ends are open and slits are cut through the sides to guide the saw.

The most frequent angle cut is 45 degrees. Slits also should be made for square-end cuts.

Material requirements: A piece of 2 x 6-inch finished lumber 2 1/2 feet long for the bottom; two pieces, the same length, of 1 by 8-inch wood, for the sides; eighteen 2-inch wood screws.

The two side pieces should be screwed to the edges of the bottom piece to form a channel. Make certain that the sides are flush with the bottom. Holes should be drilled and the screws inserted. Then square a line between B and E, across the top of the box near the middle, marking the line on top of side pieces 1 and 2. Next measure from point B along the outside edge of side 1, the distance G which should be the same as between the outside faces of the side pieces, and mark point A. Draw diagonal line AE, which will be on a 45-degree angle drawn from one outside face to another. Each end of the diagonal line should then be squared down the outside face of each side, to form a perpendicular. Proceed in the same manner to lay out a second diagonal line BD in the opposite direction, form an X cut with diagonal AE.
