This issue of the Prairie Pointer comes to you with two temporary changes of staff—Bernice Eklund as editor and Lorna Rogers, associate editor.

Pictorial Next Week

The pictorial issue has expanded to ten pages, making it necessary to postpone its publication until June 27. So next week, the long-awaited special edition with ten pages of pictures of the business firms in the South End will be off the press.

Heads Coming Up

Ray Hupp and Bill Addington, who just opened Pacific Auto Service on Pacific Avenue, claim they have three shrunken heads of natives from Ecuador which they will put on display when they get their station all painted up and ready for a crowd of thrill seekers. They keep the heads which are four or five inches in diameter—two men's and one woman's—in a box and they say the hair on the woman's head is 18 inches long. It was while Ray and Bill were in the Panama Canal Zone that they got together with Ray's dad who was then working for the government at Cristobal, and made their post-war plans for the opening of a service station and garage.

"Crabby"

Late Tuesday night when the Prairie Pointer crew was about to quit work, Joe, the linotype operator, discovered a tiny land crab scuttling in through the door. If "birds of a feather flock together," we wonder whose companionship he was seeking.

Can't Keep A Good Man Down O. E. French, owner of French's Garage on Pacific Avenue, is up in the air every once in a while. Recently he flew his own plane to Portland twice in one week on business trips. He was accompanied by Capt. Harold Larson of Collins Road. The plane is a Taylorcraft and is enjoyed very much by Mr. and Mrs. French and family.

Ivy Redford Walking

Little Ivy Marie Redford, whose picture appeared in the Prairie Pointer last winter in connection with her illness caused by severe burns, is now walking, reports Ivy's sister-in-law, Mrs. K. I. Redford of Parkland. Ivy Marie has had a long and slow convalescence which was eased somewhat by the many remembrances and kindnesses showered on her by friends.

Givan, Given, Givins, Givens That you can't always believe in signs is proved along Golden Givens Road in Midland. Some of the signs say Golden Given and some read Golden Givan. To clarify the point, a map was consulted with the revelation of a third possible spelling—Golden Givins (Metsker's Rural Route Map of Tacoma and Vicinity, 1943). A call to the county highway department produced a fourth spelling—Golden Givens—which was claimed to be the correct one. Since we have our misgivings about Givens, perhaps someone knows the history of the origin of the name and can throw some light on the matter.

One Big Week

Our friend Brother Marsh, Parkland's good barber and head man about the fire fighting bizz, enjoyed all of last week away from his work. George Knudtson took over tonsorial duties while Marsh and the missus made a trip to Ocean Lake, Ore., to visit with relatives.

Enterprising

A very enterprising young woman is Lauretta Willis, who owns and operates the College Cleaners on Park Avenue, having recently sold her former establishment, the Vogue Cleaners on Sixth Avenue. She plans to make Parkland her home as soon as an apartment is built for her adjoining her present location which is next door to her parents' place, Violet Meadows. Lauretta plans to offer delivery service in the very near future but is having difficulty obtaining membership in the proper union which, according to Lauretta does not recognize that women are as capable as men, despite the fact that she served her country during the war by joining the WAC and after a medical discharge, worked at the motor base on two-ton trucks, tearing them apart and putting them together again. As we always say, "the road to success is not paved with roses." Good luck, Lauretta.

GAMMONS RETURN FROM UTAH TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gammon, route 3, box 703, returned home last Friday from a visit with their son, Wm. G. Gammon, and family, at Hillfield, Utah. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Horton of Tacoma.

BIG AIR SHOW HERE SUNDAY

SPANAWAY AIRFIELD TO BE DEDICATED WITH DEMONSTRATION

The South End will be host to thousands of thrill seekers Sunday, June 23, at 2:30 p.m., as they come from miles around to witness the dedication program of Spanaway Airfield. Word comes from McChord Field that a formal request has been sent to Washington, D. C., for permission from the president and the war department to have a plane-load of paratroopers from Fort Benning, Georgia, fly to Tacoma to participate in the events by making a mass jump over the Spanaway Airport.

It is also expected that Governor Wallgren will appear on the program to conduct the official exercises making Tacoma a base for recruiting for the Army Air Corps.

Many Planes

At least one airplane from every field in western Washington will participate in the opening event of this big free air circus and jubilee preview. The spectator can be sure of a thrill a minute as he watches the parachute jumping, aero acrobatics, rodeo events, midget racers, and motorcycle daredevils. Highlighted on the program will be Sheriff "Lee" Croft and his flying "Paracoppers" which, by the way, is a new expression coined especially by the sheriff for this modern innovation in police work. Many will be watching the work of this group, including a reporter from Skyways Magazine.

"Paracoppers"

The "paracoppers" will show how planes can be used in searching for lost and injured persons, how parachutists can be dropped to aid injured persons in remote and inaccessible places, and how stretchers to bring the wounded persons out may be dropped at the same time.

The airmen are also scheduled Sunday to chase an automobile which will be designated for demonstration purposes as the get-away car of bandits. They will, of course, overtake the machine easily and when some distance ahead "paracoppers," most of whom have recently been of the army paratroopers, will be dropped to throw up road blocks, cover the road with machine guns, or otherwise halt the robbers' flight. The deputized pilots also show how they wave low flying, "buzzing" planes to the ground and how they will drop supplies to lost mountaineers.

Free Admission

In addition to all of this many planes of different types will be on display and the Wild West Post drum and bugle corps will play. The program will also include a preview of a number of Tacoma Jubilee events scheduled for the succeeding days, June 25 to July 4. No admission will be charged and everyone is urged to attend this big air show.

Ev. Lutheran Bible School 24th

The Parkland Ev. Lutheran Church again offers its facilities and program of Christian training for children in the community. The classrooms of the Concordia Lutheran school are used to good advantage in teaching the varied and interesting subjects.

The success of the church's Vacation Bible School is attested by the large enrollments in former years and by the comments of parents as a school where the children "learn something." A professionally prepared course of study with work sheets for each department is used in the study of the Bible.

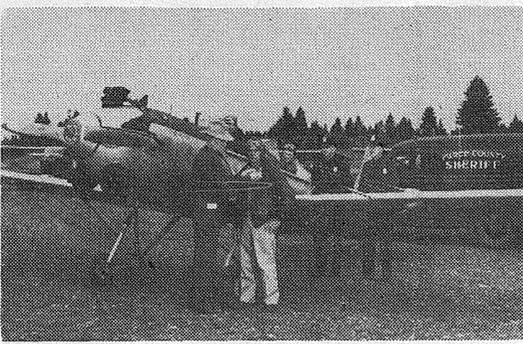

A summary of the principle teachings in the Bible, as found in the Ten Commandments, the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Sacraments, is taught by professionally trained teachers.

Handiwork, art, singing and supervised recreation are some additional features of the Parkland Lutheran Vacation Bible School. Sound movies and film strips on Biblical subjects add to the effectiveness of teaching. Free bus transportation is provided for children of Midland, Parkland and Spanaway.

To enroll your child simply call Granite 7377, give your name and address, and the age and grade of your child.

The Vacation Bible School opens Monday, June 24, at 9 a.m. and will continue to July 12, except for July 4 and 5. The hours are from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.

PARACOPPER BEING DEPUTIZED

Sheriff Croft pinning badge on Marlin Moore, deputy commander of the newly organized Pierce County Police and "Paracoppers," as flying deputies Wall and Wavrek stand by. Roy Wuellner and Albert Lape, both deputies in the sheriff's new unit, are in the plane.

CREEKERS SEEK FIRE PROTECT'N

RESIDENTS OF SOUTH CLOVER CREEK DISTRICT PETITION SPANAWAY

That residents of the Clover Creek area are becoming conscious of the need for organized fire protection was indicated this week when 31 property owners petitioned to be included in the Spanaway-Elk Plain fire district. These people live in the south end of the Clover Creek area adjoining the Elk Plain section, and 100 per cent of the property owners involved signed the petition.

Spanaway-Elk Plain fire commissioners received the petition at their meeting Monday night and immediately granted the request for admission. The matter is now before the Pierce county commissioners for final approval. Originally the entire Clover Creek area was included in the fire protection setup, but a number of those residents indicated they did not desire membership so that section was dropped and Spanaway and Elk Plain proceeded with the organization.

Mrs. Emma Reedy Passes at Spanaway

Mrs. Emma C. Reedy of Rt. 1, Box 478-A, Spanaway, passed away last Tuesday, June 11. She is survived by three sons, Carl Corp, Lee Corp and Enos P. Reedy, and the following brothers and sisters: Enon Coatney of Aberdeen, Idaho; Olla Cloud of Wichita, Kansas; Eva Johnson of Washington, Iowa; and Lee Cloud of Wichita, Kansas.

The funeral was held on Monday, June 17, 1946, at the Lakewood Mortuary. The body will be shipped to Caldwell, Kansas, for interment near her mother and father. It will be accompanied by Lee and Carl Corp, sons of the deceased.

Mrs. Reedy comes from a long line of Scotch and Dutch ancestors, traced back to the stormy times of King Robert Bruce of Scotland. The daughter of King Bruce married a Welch nobleman and journeyed to the more serene land of the quiet Dutch, and after two generations came to America, and so with the death of Mrs. Reedy another great leaf in the book of history is turned.

Spanaway Defeats So. Tacoma Pines

In a hard fought game at Spanaway, the South Tacoma Pines gave in to Spanaway with a score of 3 to 2. Elmer Thiel limited the Pines to six hits, keeping the visitors away from the plate until the eighth inning.

This Sunday, Spanaway will play Midland on the Spanaway school diamond.

Cecilia Niesen and Ray Bagglely Wed

Cecilia Niesen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Niesen, and Ray Bagglely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bagglely of Parkland, were united in holy matrimony at the home of the Rev. J. U. Xavier last Saturday, June 15, at 8 p.m. Guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bagglely, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Niesen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Netzel. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klusman.

The wedding party later gathered at The Firs for a reception which was attended by many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bagglely are now on their honeymoon, but they plan to make their home in Spanaway.

A family picnic for the group has been planned to take place Friday, June 21, at Little Spanaway Lake with A. C. Olafson and L. E. Abbott in charge. A pot luck supper, with coffee and pop furnished, will be served at 6 o'clock. If cubs go our earlier for swimming, they must be accompanied by an adult. Besides swimming, activities include various races and ball games.

Let's have a good turnout "fellas." Get your parents out.

Parklandite Back From Hawaii Post

Alice Ford, who has been teaching for the past year in Hawaii, was met by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Ford, when her ship the Lurline docked in San Francisco Wednesday morning, June 12th.

Many nationalities were represented as more than eight hundred people streamed from the ship, a panorama of sight and sound, according to Mrs. Ford who enjoyed particularly the leis of exotic flowers which many of the passengers had kept on ice for their arrival in the states. Especially outstanding was an armful of luscious red anthurium, the flowers of which resemble calla lilies with long spikes and are reputed to cost $75 a dozen in this country.

The Fords returned to Parkland on Friday. Alice's plans for the summer are as yet indefinite but she expects to enter the University of Washington this fall.

BUY BONDS TO LICK INFLATION

U. S. Officials Urge Citizens To Put Surplus in Savings And Cut Consumer Demand

"Inflation is our number one domestic problem." That statement was made by Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson on the eve of his nomination to be chief justice of the U. S. supreme court.

"The people of America," Mr. Vinson continued, "have developed a tremendous demand for consumer goods, backed up by many billions of dollars in savings. Although we are well on our way into peacetime production, we cannot produce enough tomorrow or the next day to meet this accumulated demand. Here lies the danger of spiraling prices or inflation."

Inflation Dangerous "A bad case of inflation would be a national catastrophe, affecting each and every one of us. It would distort every economic value, private and public. And so I say to you: One of the best ways to combat inflation is to take as few of our dollars as possible to market until production shall match demand."

"If you desire to help your country and yourself to win the economic phase of World War II, you will not only hold every war bond that you have, but you will continue to buy as many U. S. Savings Bonds as you can. Thus (Continued on Page 4)

PLAYGROUND AT DAWSON OPENS

TACOMA PARK BOARD SUPPLIES DIRECTOR FOR SUMMER SEASON

Operating as a supervised playground for the first time since the war began, Dawson Field at Midland was opened Monday, June 17, by the Metropolitan Park Board with Stan Williamson in charge. Mr. Williamson is a Tacoma resident who is studying physical education at the University of Oregon after a period spent with the United States marine corps, and has plans for the organization of a number of activities at the field during the coming eleven weeks.

If there is sufficient turnout there will be softball and volleyball for teen-agers and handcraft and games for the small fry. In addition, the playground is well equipped with slides, teeter-totters and sand boxes. There is also a possibility of holding a rodeo at Dawson Field June 28 to interest teen-age horse lovers.

Swimming Lessons Announcement has been made that the learn to swim campaign begins at the Lincoln high school pool and also at the Spanaway and Titlow beaches June 17 with instructors from the Metropolitan Park Board.

Parents are invited to come to the field also for the activities which were carried on in the gym during the winter will be carried on now from the hours of 1 to 9 p.m. each week day. Those who attended will recall that the program was operated jointly by the park board and the Midland school board under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Burke.

The history of Dawson Field is an interesting one for it had its beginning as a piece of property bought with money subscribed throughout the Midland-Harvard area in 1935. Much of the clearing of the land was done by the Work Project Administration and the field house was built of lumber sawed by Basket Lumber Company from trees on the property. By popular vote the district joined with the Metropolitan Park Board and the field was named after the late Bill Dawson who had been such an active participant in community affairs.

Sales Grange Plans Political Forum

The night chosen by the group for this interesting meeting is next Tuesday evening, June 25, at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that a large number of the voters in this area will appear in order to hear the various candidates present their qualifications.

Mrs. Ed. Antonsen Visiting in Norway

An interesting account of the arrival of Mrs. Edward Antonsen in Oslo was received by Mrs. Paul Preus from her daughter, Mary Lou. Mrs. Antonsen left Parkland last April 19 and sailed for Norway from New York on the Marine Perch. She had a nice trip, enjoying good weather and untroubled by seasickness.

Mrs. Antonsen arrived in Oslo a day late on account of mines, according to Mary Lou, who writes "I couldn't get inside the ropes so I strained my big toes trying to get a glimpse of Mrs. Antonsen. After half an hour, there stood 'herself' right in front of me and I shrieked 'Mrs. Antonsen!' so loud that all the little welcoming committees stopped staring and welcoming and gazed at me in wonder and amazement. I climbed gracefully over the ropes and flew into her outstretched arms!"

See Sights While in Oslo, Mrs. Antonsen was taken by the Bruusegaards to see Frogner Park, Wigeland Fountain, the Monolith and statues, the palace and of course the sights on the main street. Mary Lou tells of their visit to Tryvannstarnet on a lovely clear day. They could see Gausta and all the other mountains around the horizon. "Mrs. Antonsen was a good scout about walking on the pebbles and thought the view was worth the climb into the tower."

When Mrs. Antonsen boarded the northbound train in the evening, she had a traveling companion from Poulsbo—Arne Strand's mother who was also going to Trondhjem. The Bruusegaards expressed a wish that Mrs. Antonsen stop in Oslo on her return for a longer time when they promised a real sight-seeing tour of "Beautiful Oslo."

Our Parkland lady is now a long way from home at Mo near Skonseng, near her birthplace, visiting friends and relatives. She plans to leave Oslo for home on the 27th of July.

OIL MAT ROADS FOR PARKLAND

COUNTY CREWS WILL RESURFACE STREETS THIS SUMMER

Many of you have doubtless noticed the road crews at work around Parkland during the past few days and according to County Commissioner Harvey Scofield there are many more improvements due to come.

The work which is being done at the present time consists mainly of sealcoating which is a process of laying a layer of oil and gravel or crushed rock which is then smoothed by a grader and allowed to pack down by traffic.

The commissioner also tells of another type of surfacing which is called an oil mat or pavement, and will also be used. This calls for grading the road and coating it with penetrating oil, laying crushed rock, smoothing it by road grader, another layer of oil and gravel which makes a good pavement.

To Pave Garfield Street The main street of Parkland which runs from Pacific Avenue down to the college will be paved in this manner and plans are being made to cut down the hill which is a continuation of Park Avenue and goes past the remains of the college gym. Part of the dirt will be pushed down toward the bridge thus filling up the low place which has been filled with water during the recent winters.

This project will take longer to accomplish and includes the construction of a concrete bridge over Clover creek. Commissioner Scofield outlined plans for many road improvements in the Parkland, Clover Creek, Spanaway district which will be worked upon during the coming year with particular emphasis upon paving of roads and the building of good concrete bridges.

Good Crowd Attends Annual Event of Monte Vista Garden Club Last Friday Monte Vista Garden Club held a very successful flower show at Sunshine Community Club last Friday evening, June 14. The show, under the direction of Mrs. Harry Hitch, attracted a large number of spectators to the hall whose four walls were lined with flowers.

FLOWER SHOW DRAWS MANY

Winner of the sweepstakes for the best flower arrangement of the entire show was Mrs. Otto Danker while Mrs. Johnny Kelson won the first prize in the horticulture division for showing the best rose.

Tea was served to the public who also enjoyed a juvenile program presented by children of members of Monte Vista Garden Club. Those participating were Gracia Louise Siburg who played the piano, Rosemary Traill who gave a reading, and Judy Johnson and Kathleen Willis each sang a song.

2350 LONG MILES ON TWO WHEELS

Stan Arlton Pedals Across Many of States

Two thousand three hundred and fifty miles in five weeks on a bicycle is the record of Stan Arlton, son of Dr. A. V. Arlton, Parkland. Stan is now resting in Dodgeville, Wisconsin, after his transcontinental trip.

Stan was discharged from the army in March, too late to enroll in college, so he decided to fulfill a lifelong ambition of his, seeing America from a bicycle. He left Parkland on his birthday, May 16, aboard a sport tourist cycle, loaded with 40 pounds of baggage, including a sleeping bag.

Pedals Over Mountain His bike carried him over Snoqualmie Pass, through Washington, across a corner of Oregon, and through Idaho and into Utah. After a short stop at Salt Lake City, Stan continued cycling through Wyoming and South Dakota, where he stopped eight days at his home town, Mitchell.

The last lap of the journey was across a corner of Minnesota, through Iowa and into Wisconsin. Stan's best traveling day was in Minnesota and Iowa, when he rode 126 miles. His daily average was about 90 miles, despite rain, snow, sleet and a steady wind from the east throughout much of his trip. Stan usually rode about 7 hours a day, averaging 13.2 miles per hour.

According to letters to his father and his brother Paul in Parkland, he said he enjoyed mountain riding more than his trip across the plains. "Time goes pretty slow," Arlton wrote, "when you pedal over long stretches of straight and level highway."

According to the last word received, he is continuing his trip by going on to Chicago. Stan plans to return to Parkland this summer, though probably not by bicycle. Previous to going into the signal corps, Stan attended PLC for one year.

Summer Playground

Taking for granted that all parents are interested foremost in the welfare of their children, it is surprising how few of them realize the benefits a child can derive from training in sports.

Since physical education is required in school, the child who is backward in sports finds himself in a very undesirable position. He feels inferior and inadequate and sometimes develops self-consciousness and timidity. On the other hand, if he can excel in some activity or at least participate with self-assurance, his confidence in himself increases. In today's world of competition, a lack of confidence can handicap a person and keep him from rising to a position worthy of his capabilities. Perhaps in tomorrow's world this may be even more true.

Of no little importance to the welfare of the child is the pleasure gained from athletic participation, the lessons learned in cooperation, the strengthening of the body muscles and the development of varied interests and a many-sided personality.

In the promotion of the general welfare of the people, the government has provided a free summer playground for the children of Parkland. Here is an opportunity for youngsters to receive special attention and extra training in sports plus companionship and the immeasurable benefits derived from fresh air and outdoor exercise.

Let us take advantage of Parkland's playground this summer so that it will become a permanent asset to this community.

June

"What is so rare as a day in June?" was the query of James Russell Lowell, but we of this locality are almost beginning to doubt that there is such a thing as a June day. Regardless of the weather, however, we are all happy that June is here. For the children it means that school is out, for the bride it means a wedding is in the offing, for many it means a holiday, and for the rest of us it means a time for getting out of doors to work in gardens, enjoy summer sports, or just loaf. Yes, June is a good month for it means that summer has come.

Washington State Historical Society

Those who are familiar with the Pacific Northwest Quarterly published at the University of Washington are doubtless well informed on the workings of our Washington State Historical Society. Together with the British Columbia Historical Society the latest undertaking was the celebration of the Boundary Centennial which was held at Blaine, Washington, Saturday, June 15.

Ordinarily merely a Northwest event, this year the affair was raised to international importance by virtue of the fact that the session in Seattle of the World Maritime Labor Conference brought representatives of 46 nations who were special visitors at the ceremonies.

Incidentally, Washington history is now being featured in a new radio program on Sunday evenings at 7:30 over station KVI in Tacoma. The stories will be based particularly on items found in the Historical Society Building and should be worth hearing.

Planning Can Avert Paucity

The Department of Agriculture's offer to lend to flour mills some of its wheat reserve should ease the critical shortage brought about by the government's procurement, through bonus payments, of nearly all the United States wheat offered for purchase during May. But a tight situation will prevail till the new crop is harvested.

Americans as a whole can be expected to accept this deprivation with good grace, knowing that it means sustenance to starving neighbors abroad. But realizing, too, that the present acute shortage might have been avoided by earlier, longer-range planning and pricing policies, they should insist that such policies be followed now to avert a similar crisis next winter and spring.

Sixty per cent of the nation's housewives are said to be in favor of a return to rationing, including wheat products, in preference to the present inequitable, systemless distribution. And government officials admit this step may have to be taken. Yet despite the fact that it will require three months to restore the system, no definite plans appear to have been laid.

Great Britain, however, despite recent United States refusal to take joint action, is readying its ration plans for bread—just in case. With its people still severely rationed after six years of war, it naturally is reluctant to add to the numerous other restricted products. But it already has figured the basic daily and weekly amounts which would be allowed, with special allotments for particular needs.

Rationing may not prove necessary in the long run for either country. But there can be no doubt about the necessity for more efficient and coordinated planning on both national and international scales to prevent such peaks of plenty and sudden scarcities as the United States has been experiencing.

Let's Read

A new feature added to our paper this week is a book review column. Our two reviewers, Lorna Rogers and Bernice Eklund, will attempt to acquaint you with some of the books in the Pierce County Public Library, a branch of which is located in the Parkland school.

"Let's Make Something"
"Rain, rain! Go to Spain," is sometimes the melancholy cry of a child in the summer-time when he is kept indoors and there just isn't anything to do. For that child, we recommend the book, "Let's Make Something," by Harry Zarchy, published by Alfred A. Knopf, New York. It is an exceptionally well-written book chock-full of practical ideas for making things.

Old and young alike may find valuable information in this book which has instructions for making paste, papier mache, plaster of Paris, a metal chasing tool, a carving tool from an umbrella rib and countless articles. There is advice on using metal lacquer, modeling clay, the coping saw and a hand loom for weaving.

If you haven't ever made name pins with alphabet soup or a paper bead necklace, you're missing out on some fun. Or perhaps you will turn shoemaker and make some sandals. Clear instructions and measurements are given for making a hanging book shelf or what-not shelf or a canape holder or initial stamp.

This book contains so much that is worth knowing and worth learning that you just can't afford to miss it!

"Rickshaw Boy"
RICKSHAW BOY—By Lu Shaw and translated from the Chinese by Even King. New York: Reynal & Hitchcock, '45.

The story is one of the life of a country lad, Happy Boy, who came to the city of Peking to become a rickshaw boy. Strong and hopeful of reaching for a better life, Happy Boy doggedly works boundlessly only to be ruined again and again. At last, when he has nearly given up thought of being able to emerge from the hopeless circle in which he moves, he arrives at a conclusion which causes him to take the right step for the realization of his modest ambitions.

Since the book is a translation from one of China's important modern authors its atmosphere is authentic and its characters realistic. Evan King, who has lived in China for years, has done a marvelous job of putting the book into English.

Science Scratches Poison Ivy Off List

Science has happy tidings this summer for American vacationists allergic to that "Dracula" of summer vegetation known as poison ivy. The good news comes in the form of a new war-born chemical called 2,4-D (Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid), now available to operators of vacation playgrounds and owners of summer homes and camps.

When sprayed on poison ivy plants, this new running mate of the other new chemical wonder, DDT, will render the obnoxious weed totally harmless. The nasty stuff collapses soon after spraying, as the chemical penetrates to the very roots of the plant and actually strangles it to death. Experiments conducted by Sherwin Williams scientists show that 1600 square feet of a weed-infested area can be covered with approximately $1.00 worth of the chemical 2,4-D, or Weed-No-More.

Each year additional thousands who have never contracted ivy poisoning before find themselves no longer immune; therefore cutting or pulling the plants and roots out by hand is a chance not worth risking. It has also been proved that ivy poisoning may be contracted merely by contact with smoke from fires in which the plants are being burned. Killing them by spraying not only is much simpler and more effective but eliminates any danger of a person's becoming sensitized.

Once the ivy poisoning enters the blood stream the victim is usually faced with six more years of summer misery before it "burns" itself out. Merely being near the plant growth, even without actual contact, often causes a recurrence, according to published case histories.

It is indicated that in summers to come, vacationing nomads can wander through sprayed woodland areas in most sections of the country without fear of this vacation-spoiler, proving that science has marched on ahead.

Each time a fat is heated, its smoking temperature is lowered. Thus often-used fat may not give as satisfactory results for deep-fried foods, since it may reach the smoking point before it is hot enough to cook the product without fat-soaking it. Smoking fat, on the other hand, gives off fumes which are absorbed by the food and give it an unpleasant flavor, and which may irritate the digestive tract.

YOUR BIG BELLY FOR OVERSEAS

State Health Director Says That Most People Can Spare Fat Around Midriff

Cutting down on foods containing wheat and fats, in cooperation with the famine emergency drive, is not only perfectly safe for most adults, but an excellent chance to get rid of your "spare tire" if you happen to have acquired one, Dr. Arthur L. Ringle, state director of health, said yesterday.

"Most adults, by cutting down on bread, pastries, hotcakes, wheat cereals and other similar foods, will not only be doing a good turn to citizens of starvation countries—they will also be doing themselves a favor," Doctor Ringle said. "Most of us eat too many of these starchy foods for our nutritional requirements. Extra flesh around the waistline is the best proof of this."

Doctor Ringle urged that rigid reducing diets, as opposed to a general reduction of foods high in starches and fats, be prescribed only by the family physician. Children and teen-agers should substitute other foods for those eliminated by the conservation program, since their growing bodies have great nutritional needs.

In addition to home conservation measures, Doctor Ringle urged that money donations be made to the local office of the Famine Emergency Collection Committee or to churches participating in the United Church Relief Drive. These organizations are able to buy canned goods by the case, and ship them to famine areas most economically, he pointed out.

'Black Leaf 40' Helps Control Plant Lice

Aphids—better known as plant lice—are one of the most common and most annoying insects that attack numerous garden plants. If they get much of a start, aphids are difficult to control, because in feeding they cause the leaves to curl and roll back so that it is often difficult to reach the aphids with a dust or spray.

"Probably the best aphid spray or dust is our old friend nicotine sulfate—"black leaf 40," says Dave Brannon—Extension Entomologist at the State College of Washington. Most feed, hardware and five-and-ten-cent stores carry this insecticide, although the supply is short this year.

Important Things
Three things are important in using nicotine: Applying it on a hot, still day; using an alkaline soap or spreader with it; and spraying or dusting early.

Nicotine is of little value as an insect control measure unless the temperature is above 75 degrees. For an alkaline spreader, laundry soap is satisfactory. About a cubic inch of bar soap can be dissolved before putting it in with a gallon of spray. With soap flakes, chips or powder, a rounded tablespoon per gallon of spray is sufficient. Laundry soap helps make the nicotine spray spread and wet better, gives better contact with the insects, and by alkalinizing the spray, makes the nicotine more active.

Aphid control should be started early—just as soon as little aphid colonies begin to develop on the leaves. For those who prefer dusting to spraying, there are directions for mixing an excellent nicotine lime dust in the Extension Victory Garden Bulletin—free at the county agent's office.

Inez Yeager Weds Byron Ellingson

At a ceremony performed before three hundred and fifty guests Miss Inez Yeager, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Benson, and Byron Kenneth Ellingson, son of Mrs. Anna Ellingson of Parkland, were united in marriage at 8:30 Saturday evening, June 15, in Central Lutheran Church. The Rev. P. B. Hoff officiated at an altar banked with white peonies.

Miss Yeager was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Mr. Arthur Benson, and she was attended by her sister, Mrs. Paul MacWilliam. Bridesmaids were Miss Janet Langlow and Mrs. Martin Stockwell and the candles were lighted by Miss Marjorie Landberg and Mrs. Leonard Berglund. The bride's niece, Kristine Wray, was flower girl and the groom's nephew, Paul Streng, was ring bearer. Mr. Ellingson had his brother, Norbert Ellingson, as best man and ushers were Gordon Brunswick and Edward Bemis.

Assisting at the reception in the church parlors were Mesdames Robert Courtwright, Alton Ellingson, Herbert Benson, P. B. Hoff, Edward Bemis, Arnold Ellingson, Ivan Wray, Bert Streng and Miss Sharon Ellingson and Miss Evala Cleverger. The young couple will make their home in Tacoma following a motor trip to Canada.

2ND DISTRICT

Vigorous action is needed to protect our farmers and other county residents from broken up and dusty roads and clogged drainage ditches.

Other projects necessary to the health and well being of our citizens should be started NOW. Excuses and endless delays prevent progress. This is the result of men serving too long in public office.

As your County Commissioner I would start immediate action to promote improved County roads. The Army Surplus Goods depots have thousands of gas shovels, graders, trucks and bulldozers. Labor is available. Funds are on hand. Let us have aggressive and progressive action in County government.

E. J. Cowan as your County Commissioner will give aggressive and progressive action on vitally important problems of County government.

Music was provided by Ewald Basch singing "The Holy City" and a hymn was sung by Milton Linhart, Jesse, Merle and William Pflueger and Mr. Basch.

Friends and relatives of the family gathered at a reception in the Pflueger home and garden in the afternoon from 3 to 6 p.m. About 135 guests were served refreshments from a table centered with red roses and white carnations. In addition to local visitors a number of persons came from Tacoma and Seattle to honor the new Rev. Pflueger.

CAMPAIGN STATEMENT OF E. J. COWAN
Candidate for County Commissioner—2nd District

My reason for filing for the office of County Commissioner in the Second District is because I know that I am qualified to give real and improved service to the citizens of that district and the entire county. I have long been an advocate of road improvements, not only in Pierce county, but our state as well. I fathered and worked for the Mine-to-Market Road bill which successfully passed the state legislature. This bill empowered the state to construct roads into isolated mineral areas so that this natural resource of our state could be developed. Improvement of Pierce county roads would be of great benefit to the entire county and would assist in its future progress. Aggressive and decisive action must be taken in county districts to clean out and properly construct drainage ditches. Roads must be properly graded, gravelled and oiled. There is plenty of county-owned gravel and crushed rock, with much of it in stock piles waiting to be used. Last winter certain county roads were broken up by frosts and rain. Drainage ditches overflowed and flooded roads and farms. Had these ditches been properly constructed or cleaned out in the summertime the overflowing of them would not have occurred. Let us have new blood, aggressive action and a progressive viewpoint on the things that are needed for the welfare of the citizens and the county. As your Commissioner, E. J. COWAN will see that immediate action is taken to bring needed reforms. I have been a resident of Tacoma for 20 years, am married and have four children. I have long been active in civic affairs and belong to many groups interested in developing the county and the state.

you will help yourself and help to control inflation."

William C. H. Lewis, state director for the U. S. Savings Bond division of the treasury, points out that in 1946 American consumers will have at least $20 billions of income over and above what they can spend at legitimate prices on all the consumer goods and services available this year.

Buy Bonds
 "Spending money recklessly, buying scarce goods at inflated prices," Mr. Lewis concluded, "is like cutting down the tree to get at a few green apples. The thing to do is wait until the apples are ripe before you eat them. Leave the tree to bear fruit in years to come. Any child can see the sense of that, yet a lot of grown folks don't apply it to their money."

Sales of all U. S. Savings Bonds in the first five months of 1946 in the nation totaled almost $37.1 billions; in Washington state $53,126,000. Nationally, sales exceeded redemptions by $629,000,000.

CALIFORNIA BOUND

They will visit friends and relatives in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego. They left at 2:15 a.m. last Wednesday morning, June 12.
