The moderator of last week's Town Hall Forum may be wondering whether he chose the right man to replace Richard Yost to talk in favor of price controls. E. Clark Overlies presented some interesting points on why we should return OPA but at the conclusion of the forum he admitted, "I'm really against price controls."

Good Name

Pacific Lutheran college students might be interested in knowing that they're making a good name for themselves. Mrs. E. Verdier was in the Prairie Pointer office the other day and remarked of them, "I've been around the world three times and been around many colleges, but I've never seen any nicer group of students come out of any institution of learning."

Ray of Sunshine

The brightest ray of sunshine at this month's meeting of the Sunshine Club was 5-year-old Kathie Willis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Willis. Kathie, accompanied by "Mama" Willis, sang several songs for the club.

Local Talent

The crowd went over big for little Marlene Berger and her partner, Jimmy Hartly, in a tap dance number, "While Strolling Through the Park." Betty Grable and John Payne had nothing on the kids. Other home talent demonstrated at the Booster night at the James Sales Grange was Bert Bullard on an electric guitar, two solos by Grace Gawley, and a duet by Ada Frohman and Minnie Notter, and a piano solo by Jourdan Sullivan.

Bloomin' Lily

Passers-by may have noticed a lily blooming in the yard of Mrs. Selma Peck and her daughter, Miss Anna Laura Peck, of Hendricks Park in Parkland. The lily has six nice blooms on it.

Work Progressing On New Church

Work has begun on the foundation under the Chapel moved from Fort Lewis to the new church site of the Parkland Evangelical Lutheran church in Parkland.

The disruption of utility services and the blocking of roadways occasioned by the moving of the chapel was ended last Sunday morning, when Mr. A. S. Nystedt, moving contractor, signaled to his crew that the 14-mile journey was ended. According to Mr. Nystedt, the transporting of the 37x81 foot structure intact for such a long distance is the largest moving job completed in the Pacific Northwest. The building is 30 feet high and weighs approximately 125 tons. Forty-eight wheels were used to support the tremendous load without damage to roads or bridges. About 150 utility wires were cut, involving arrangements with nine different companies. The delay and moving on Sunday was necessitated by request of the City of Tacoma Light and Power Co.

Mel Pedersen, architect and contractor, received the contract to build the foundation and to erect a 24x37 addition.

Mock and Morrison, architects of Tacoma, have prepared plans for redesigning the Army Chapel and for the addition which will be a two-story structure housing a meeting room on the second floor, a pastor's study, boiler room and rest rooms on the first floor. The final plans have been adopted by the congregation.

Mr. Sherman Ingles, landscape architect, was retained to plot the 200x300 foot site for the chapel, a future attached parish hall and parsonage. The heating and plumbing contract has been awarded to Mr. L. B. Barton of Parkland. It calls for a hot water heating plant, oil automatic.

The building committee of the congregation includes W. Daniels, F. Danielson, W. C. Gullixson, I. Johnson, A. A. Molden, M. Pedersen, H. Schmidtke and O. B. Harstad, president of the congregation.

Olai Hageness Returns From Education Meet

Educator Says School Superintendents in Favor Of Federal Aid

County superintendents over the United States have gone on record as favoring federal aid to education without federal control, County Superintendent T. O. Hageness said.

Hageness recently returned from the second annual National Convention of County Superintendents held in Indianapolis under the auspices of the rural division of the National Education Association.

He was the Washington state representative as president of the state's county superintendents organization for the past year.

Bills in Congress

"There are several bills that have been considered by Congress which would provide federal aid to help equalize the financial support of the schools throughout the nation," he said, and added that the main argument against federal aid is that with it would come more federal control.

The theme of the convention this year was on the county superintendent's role in comprehensive school programs. Hageness said that it stressed improvement of supervisory work.

Uneconomical Units

"We still have uneconomical organizations," he said. "One of the main problems of the schools is getting large enough units without getting away from local aspects."

Hageness said he came away from the convention feeling there had been an added interest in education over the country and that there had been some discussion on adding a 13th and 14th year.

The convention will be held in Milwaukee next year.

TACOMA CHEST SHORT OF GOAL

Community Fund Lacks 55% of Quota. Shortage Of Workers Is Reason

Unless pledges and cash contributions make a quick upsurge during the next few days, the 33 participating agencies of the Community Chest campaign may face another year of serious cut-backs, it was disclosed at the third report luncheon at the U.S.O. Tuesday. Only $155,897 or 45.9% of the quota of $340,000 has been raised by the hard working, but understaffed corps of volunteer workers.

However, there were some bright spots sprinkled throughout the various divisions. Nearly every section that has gone over its quota has done so with a high percentage; percentages badly needed because the $340,000 goal is the very minimum needed by the Red Feather services.

Lack of Volunteers

In the residential area, Mrs. Leon Titus reported that the biggest problem there is lack of volunteers to cover the area. There are only 600 workers to cover an area that should have at least 1500, and it is virtually impossible to expect them to finish by Friday. All the solicitors are doing more than their share, those who have made their quota pitching in and helping others. Despite the difficulties, the Division reported in $17,718 or 50% on their $35,000 quota. At the luncheon Mrs. Robert Knight, heading district 81, was presented with a corsage by the California Florists for the first to go over in the larger quotas. She raised $3,805 on a $3,800 goal. Another who went over was Mrs. J. U. Xavier, who pushed Parkland 14% over the top. Mrs. Frank Stratton had previously reported 245% over her goal, as did Mrs. H. E. McGoun to the tune of 130%.

PARKLAND BEATS DUPONT

The Parkland Jr. High school varsity and midget teams won both of their games played at the Dupont field Monday afternoon by the score of 19-0 and 18-0. They were scheduled to play Friday but were rained out.

They played Eatonville in a non-league game Wednesday and won both games again.

Parkland will play Midland at Midland on Friday.

PERMITS DISCONTINUED

The use of Fire Permits will be discontinued after Oct. 15 in the Parkland Fire Protection District No. 6, according to Fire Commissioner C. R. Marsh.

SOJOURNERS RETURN HOME

Couple Celebrates Silver Wedding Anniversary With European Trip

Mr. and Mrs. M. Stauffacher of Parkland had to travel all the way from Europe to the United States to meet, fall in love, and eventually marry.

Several months ago they returned to Europe for a visit and celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary there.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stauffacher came to this country in 1919 from Switzerland and Norway respectively. They met at night school in Tacoma where they were both taking a course in the English language.

Wedding Trip

We didn't have much of a wedding trip then, Mr. Stauffacher said, so this trip was both a wedding and silver anniversary trip.

The Stauffachers left for Europe about six months ago and returned last week.

They traveled in France, Switzerland, Norway and England, spending most of their time in Norway and Switzerland with relatives. Mr. Stauffacher had not seen his mother since he came to this country 28 years ago. His wife also was seeing her native country for the first time in 28 years.

Black Market

"Almost anything can be bought on the black market," Mr. Stauffacher stated when asked to comment on the economical situation.

"You can eat very well and accommodations are usually good, though the price is rather high."

"In some cases you can get items which are unobtainable in the United States," he added.

Mr. Stauffacher was in the real estate business prior to his trip to Europe.

GARDEN CLUB WILL MEET

The Monta Vista Garden Club will have its regular luncheon and meeting at 12:30 p.m. Oct. 16 at the home of Mrs. Ray Renwick. Mrs. William Chambers will be assistant hostess. The club will have a plant exchange.

Each member is requested to bring a friend.

PARKLAND OVER TOP IN DRIVE

MIDLAND, SPANAWAY, REST OF TACOMA STILL LAG IN CHEST GOALS

Parkland is way over the top in the annual Community Chest Drive, according to Mrs. J. U. Xavier, colonel for this district.

The goal set for Parkland was $700. So far $855 or 114 per cent of the goal has been collected, and more is coming in.

"We have had some good workers this year," Mrs. Xavier commented. She had organized helpers consisting of 10 majors and 37 captains.

Goals for the Spanaway and Midland area were $200. Spanaway has achieved 78 per cent of her goal, or $157.50, while Midland has collected only 17 per cent or $33.75.

Tacoma as a whole has only achieved 45.85 per cent of its goal or $155,897.85. Lack of volunteer workers was given as the cause for the lag in the Chest Drive.

The drive started Oct. 6 and is officially scheduled to close Oct. 17. However, volunteers may still be collecting after the official close to make up for the lack of workers.

Mrs. Bee Brittain heads the Midland district for the fund while Mrs. William Ghan, with the assistance of Mrs. Velma Rhone, is chairman for the Spanaway district.

Tacoma Men Debate Control of Prices

Controversial Subject Is Topic of Town Hall Forum at Community Club

The controversial question, "Should Price Control Be Restored by the Federal Government?" was tossed around by four prominent Tacoma business men at a Town Meeting Forum at the Parkland Community Club meeting last Thursday.

"I don't love OPA any more than you do," E. Clark Overlies, retired lumberman from Nebraska, remarked, but added that he believed a little federal control was necessary.

"Prices and wages have been rising like a spiral staircase," he said. "We must have a landing somewhere."

John Stone, salesman for the H. D. Baker Co., also spoke on the affirmative side.

"The President has challenged industries to reduce prices and they have failed to do so," Stone stated.

"We are in an era of price rises that we cannot control." He added that he thought proper price adjustments could be made by controlling only the prices on basic commodities such as wheat.

Criticizing what he termed the American attitude of saying "let's pass a law" every time we see a difficulty, Charles Bryant of station KVI maintained that black marketers would make price controls inadvisable.

He stated that if we want price control we must also be ready to lower wages and place a ceiling on them.

"In addition," he argued, "you cannot have just a little control. You have to take the whole thing or nothing."

"The answer to high prices is production and more production," he said.

Also speaking on the negative side was George Slater, sales manager of the Model Bakery. He said that price control would lead to rationing, which, in turn, would lead to black markets.

"Do we wait that?" he asked.

"We must do a selling job on food conservation," he said, expressing the belief that the American people could be sold on such a measure.

Moderator for the forum was Chapin Bowen of the Associated Photographic Service. The discussion was sponsored by the Toastmaster's Club of Tacoma.

Permits Are Now Required for Septic Tank Installations

Dr. C. E. Reddick, Pierce county health officer, has announced that for the month of July 138 permits have been issued for the installation of septic tank and drainfields.

Since the adoption of a new policy in granting permits, this represents a considerable increase over preceding months.

Dr. Reddick stated that he was gratified to find the splendid cooperation that the public and contractors are given in making applications for sewerage permits and in getting their systems installed properly.

It is very important for a permit to be obtained from the Pierce County Health Officer on all new or repair work done on sewage systems. This permit should be obtained before work is started, as the sanitation staff makes a preliminary survey of the premises to determine soil conditions, distances from house, slope of the ground, distances from wells, etc.

In accordance with Resolution No. 2091 any person, firm or corporation who refuses or fails to obtain a permit from the Pierce County Health Officer is guilty of a misdemeanor, Dr. Reddick said.

Benefit Dance Success

The benefit dance given by the women's auxiliary and firemen of the Harvard-Midland-Larchmont fire department for the Skeltons was reported a big success.

Jim Calvert's orchestra furnished the music for the dancers, the ladies' auxiliary took over the kitchen with Bill Foster and Clarence Johann, two of the firemen, frying the hamburgers.

Lois Johann was in charge of the advance ticket sale and the crew of workers that worked the dance and she wishes to thank them so very much.

First Community Chest

The Community Chest is not a newly created organization. The first one was founded by Martin Luther over 400 years ago. By-laws as set up in Luther's chest read as follows:

The Regulation of a "Common Chest"

Begging is to be rigidly prohibited: All who are not old and weak shall work; no beggars are to be permitted to stay who do not belong to the parish. Poor householders who have honorably labored at their craft or in agriculture, shall, if they can find no other support, be given loans, without interest from the Common Chest; and this aid shall be given to them without return if they are really unable to restore it. The income of the chest shall be composed of the revenues of ecclesiastical estates, a free contribution if necessary, of an assessment upon resident citizens, and a small pole tax upon servants and journeymen. The administration shall be in the hands of elected citizens.

MARTIN LUTHER, (1483-1546)

So even in Luther's time provisions were made to help those persons deserving and needing help. It was another example of "Everybody gives, everybody benefits."

Opportunity's Knock Unanswered

Parkland's citizens had the opportunity to hear four interesting speakers on a worthwhile topic at the Community Club meeting last week.

It is too bad more of them did not take advantage of this opportunity.

Executives of the Community Club went to a lot of trouble to work up a good program. Not only was a current topic thoroughly discussed by competent men, but a Girl Scout troop came all the way from Fort Lewis to put on a puppet show publicizing the Community Chest. In addition an interesting demonstration was given on how to work the Parkland Fire Department's new rescuator.

It must have been rather disappointing to both the program chairman and to the participants in the program when only a handful of people showed up for the meeting.

It is said that opportunity knocks but once, but in this case opportunity will knock again, but not without your help.

The Community Club is your organization used to better your community. It cannot exist without your support.

Let's all get behind it and come out to the next meeting.

Reserve Still Closed

Announcement of the opening of the game reserve in this area had the South End in an uproar last week.

Pressure from various groups, however, reversed the original decision, and a resolution was passed prohibiting the discharge or firing of guns in the entire Lakes district and the thickly populated area of University Place.

The Parkland Business Club and the Community Club are to be thanked for their part in putting pressure on the county commissioners to pass this protective measure to protect the lives and property of county residents.

KNOW YOUR TACOMA CITY LIGHT

No. 10 in a Series of Informative Advertisements

DISTRIBUTION substations — strategically located throughout the city — provide power for the various residential and industrial areas. Your Tacoma City Light now has twenty-five of these substations; another thirteen will be required in the near future, because present stations are becoming overloaded as the city and its power requirements grow. Correct power distribution requires that these substations be spaced within about a mile of each other, so that they form a network by which power can be supplied from neighboring stations in the event any one is out of service. From the substations, distribution lines radiate to all parts of the adjacent area; for it is the substation which provides the point of supply for each individual residence or industry — all of which, because of Tacoma City Light's municipal ownership, enjoy the benefits of America's lowest electric rates.
