Largest First Aid Class in Tacoma-Pierce County Civil Defense Program

Red Cross instructors furnished Parkland included Mrs. Agnes Kiehl, Dr. A. E. Smith, Frederick E. Gysin Jr., and James A. Norton. Civil defense officials were gratified to find that the Parkland group responded so actively. Mrs. Al Seaman, coordinator, last week announced the start of the advanced first aid class which began Monday, with nearly 100 signed.

Big Event of Year

The annual banquet of the Community club is perhaps the biggest event of the entire year for that organization and the people who are represented therein.

President for 1950, Roy Kreger, asked me to particularly emphasize the fact that the banquet is a COMMUNITY affair and not exclusively for the club . . . He feels that perhaps there are some people in the community who feel that they must be a member of the club in order to be able to attend . . . such is not the case . . . if you live in the Parkland area and are interested in your community, please attend by all means. All it will cost will be the small sum of $1.25 for the best meal you ever had for that price. The menu in its entirety is printed elsewhere in this issue.

While on the subject of the Community club, The Parkland Times would like to congratulate President Kreger and his entire staff for the fine manner in which they have worked for the interests of the entire community during the past year. A job of this type is without reward except in the expression of gratitude from various individuals and groups.

Dinners

It will be my pleasure this evening (Wednesday) to participate in an anniversary dinner in behalf of my mother and father, who celebrate their 33rd wedding anniversary. All my brothers and sisters . . . seven more, if you please . . . will attend with their wives—at least five will, because three haven't gotten that far yet. One of my brothers even insists he is going to be a bachelor . . . but, like my dad keeps telling him, he will have to change his ways and stay away from women if he plans on doing that.

Expressing my own opinion, of course I believe that I have the nicest parents there are.

Spiritual Emphasis Week at PLC Has Rev. N. L. Hammer

The Rev. Norman L. Hammer of North Hollywood, Calif., will be the main speaker for "Spiritual Emphasis" Week at PLC, Sunday through Friday, Feb. 11 to 16.

Rev. Hammer's chapel talk topics, in chronological order, are: "Inner Props," Monday; "The Great 'I'," Tuesday; "Good Medicine," Wednesday; "Thank God, I Belong," Thursday; and "Live Your Level Best," Friday.

He will open his evening series at 7 o'clock Monday evening in the Student Union auditorium, speaking on the subject, "Detour Ahead." His other topics are "The Drawn Sword," Tuesday; "Whence Shall We Buy Bread?" Wednesday; "Can God Help Me?" Thursday; "Is It Worth It?" Friday.

P. L. C. TANGLES B. C., WESTERN

Hoping to get back in the Evergreen conference race, the Pacific Lutheran basketball forces are gunning for victories against British Columbia and Western Washington tonight and Saturday night.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Lutes entertain the Thunderbirds from UBC on the Parkland court. A junior varsity preliminary tilt is carded for 6:10. The locals hold a 68 to 52 victory over the invaders in an early season game. But the Canadians have been improving and last Saturday dumped St. Martin's by three points.

Western will furnish Saturday evening's competition. Bill McDonald's rangy Vikings gave the Lutes a scare recently before succumbing by the narrow margin of two points, 51 to 49. A preliminary game is also scheduled for Saturday.

Gene Lundgaard continues to spark the Lutes in the scoring department. To date the classy center has tallied 380 points in 21 games for a neat 18 point average. In conference play he is one of the leaders with 143 tallies in eight games.

Nat. Red Cross Prexy Honors Tacoma Area With Only State Visit

E. Rowland Harriman, national president of the American Red Cross, has called all state chapters to meet in Tacoma on Thursday, Feb. 15.

This is the only stop Harriman will make in Washington, so all persons interested in Red Cross work are urged to attend this meeting.

Wayne Swinney will be at Trinity Lutheran church from 6 to 6:30 for the benefit of the Kiwanians who live outside the area who do not wish to attend the banquet. Also for the benefit of members who may visit and not know of the change in routing. By checking with Wayne it will be possible to obtain credit for attendance.

KIWANIS CLUB GOES TO COMM. BANQUET TONITE

Kiwanis club of Parkland Area are joining enmasse to attend the annual banquet to be held at the Parkland school this evening (Thursday) at 6:30. The Kiwanis club feels that it can best help the community by active participation in the annual affair inasmuch as there is a conflicting date with the regular night meeting of Kiwanis. All members of Kiwanis have been asked to attend. Participation is expected to run nearly 100%. President Herbert Socolofsky told the Times today.

Community Club Writes . . . NEWS TO SPANAWAY SERVICEMEN

Spanaway Community club has started a brand new and very worthwhile project. They have appointed a committee with Mrs. John Newell, chairman, to write at least once a month to each of the boys from their community who are in the armed services. They keep them up on the news at home and also send cards to each on their birthdays.

The list includes the following names at this time: Harley G. McCabe, Richard E. Cook, Wm. J. Evans, Myron B. Cooley, Claud H. Monta, Richard 9. Tarpinning, and Robert S. Bradshaw.

This list, however, has not been completed. Says Mrs. Newell: "There are many boys who we don't have on the list, but we are adding names as people contact us."

At present, Mrs. Newell is doing the job herself, but as she receives more names other women will be helping her.

"This is not only a worthwhile project, but a satisfying one," says Mrs. Newell. She received her first return letter from Robert S. Bradshaw, who is at the Navy basic training center in Great Lakes, Ill.

Wrote Bradshaw: "You don't know how happy I was to receive your letter this morning. My name is the last one on the list . . . and your letter was the only one for me . . . News from home! Did that letter ever look good . . ."

Mrs. Newell states that the people of Spanaway are really behind this project, that everyone is willing and eager to help and that the club is standing the expense.

Delbert Bresemann also volunteered his services to the boys. Any serviceman home on leave and wanting

MOUNTED POSSE IS ASSISTING IN COUNTY PATROL

The county area is receiving more police protection in the form of a volunteer mounted sheriff's posse, the sheriff's office reported this week. There are now 20 men working without pay over the weekends.

They are: Rudy Beitz, Al G. Bertolin, D. B. Carmel, E. K. Dorwin, Arthur Hannum, Bob Hiltz, Dwight Jordan, Rex Jordan, B. W. Leisure, A. J. McCarthy, Ted McMaken, Wesley R. Moak, Inar W. Nyholm, Roy Nystrom, H. Palmin, Charles Ribli, Carl A. Shanks, John K. Volk, James A. Vickary and V. E. Sells.

Two men serve each Friday night and two men each Saturday night in rotating order from the roster. Each is assigned to patrol car with a regular patrolman. They are "on" between the hours of 10 p.m. and 2 a.m.

American Legion Post And Auxiliary Notes

Al and Virginia Seaman were presented the Legion of Merit certificate at the annual Boy Scout dinner held last Monday at the Rhodes Post. Tomorrow, Feb. 9, will be the regular meeting night for the American Legion and its auxiliary of Post 228. The time is 8 p.m. at the Sunshine hall.

On Feb. 11 the auxiliary will be hostess at the Guest Hut, American Lake hospital for veterans and families . . . Dorothy Fletcher and Emma Gillispie celebrate Valentine birthdays.

The auxiliary received a letter from the mayor's office in Tacoma praising them for their part in the Christmas packages presented to servicemen patients at Madigan Army hospital and to veteran patients in six other nearby hospitals.

Only 13 more members are needed to meet the auxiliary's quota of 36 members for 1951 . . . The goose dinner on Jan. 26 was a honking success with nearly 100 enjoying the Linders' donation and some fine entertainment.

MONTA VISTA GARDEN club will meet at the home of Mrs. William Chambers, club president, on Feb. 15. A dessert luncheon will be served and all members are asked to bring a guest. Dr. John H. Hanley will be the guest speaker. His subject will be "Ornamental Trees for Small Gardens."

Your Interests Are Our Interests

By a unanimous resolution of the Congregation of Trinity Lutheran church, we were thanked recently for "the valuable publicity and notices given" them during 1950. While we are not out for praises, nevertheless the note was a heart-warming gesture, inasmuch as we have failed them at times. They kept their faith in and patience with us.

For the congregation, through its secretary, to drop us a note indicates that that group is interested in this paper and the community we are trying to serve—enough to take the time to write. They were one of several groups that thanked us.

However, the point of this writing is: This is your community newspaper—your cooperation contributes greatly to its goodness. We have no reporter in Parkland, and our reporters in Midland, Spanaway, Collins and Elk Plain cannot possibly cover all that happens. Understaffed as we are, your contributions are always appreciated.

And, as we have said in the past, and we repeat: Let's hear from you whether it be to bang us or to pat us on our heads. Only by knowing what you want, can we better serve you, our readers.

"Strengthen Liberty"

Boy Scout Week (Feb. 6-12) marks another milestone for one of America's largest youth organizations. In a month of many notable birthdays, the boys take a bow with the theme, "Strengthen Liberty," for which Lincoln and Washington will also be remembered.

For the Boy Scouts, it will be their 41st anniversary. Some of the activities the boys are now engaged in include: clothing collection for less-fortunates abroad, civil defense training and conservation of natural resources. Truly, these are activities that make dependable men.

Fortunate we are, indeed, in this community that Scouting flourishes. Fortunate we are, too, that these boys have the adult leaders who give generously of their time. Credit, too, the many thinking citizens who contribute to and support Scouting in this area.

Many more happy birthdays, boys!

ORTING ORACLE: The retail merchant has no more control over the price of his merchandise than the consumer. Inflationary pressures are felt in all directions, and the local hometown retailers have valiantly absorbed the higher costs in an effort to be of service to their customers. When it becomes no longer possible to operate a business without raising prices, the buying public should refrain from complaining at the local places of business. The merchant feels bad enough about the situation without depressing him still further.

TONGUE IN CHEEK: In our public schools today, the teachers are afraid of the principals, the principals are afraid of the superintendents, the superintendents are afraid of the board, the board members are afraid of the parents, the parents are afraid of the children, and the children are afraid of nobody.

Frustration

By Judith Lane of KIRO

Sending Dad to buy meats works out just dandy—He can pick out the best—He's certainly handy. Want pork chops? He'll buy 'em—three inches thick! A small piece of sirloin? Half the cow's what he'll pick! Hamburger? Sure—he brings back ground round! Liver? He gets calves—a dollar a pound! It's great while it lasts. We're all living high—The kids think of course that Dad's a great guy—While Mom thinks (the Budget's been blown all at once! What will I feed them the rest of the month?)

Office at Lafayette and Park GRANITE PHONES NOW OVER 4,500

At Lafayette Street and South Park Avenue is a creamish brick building. It's not a conspicuously fancy building, but the equipment inside it is worth millions of dollars to patrons who call in to and out of GRANite telephone numbers.

This office serves a district of about 31 square miles, including the communities of Spanaway, Parkland, Midland, Brookdale, Larchmont and Summit.

No one is in the building at night or weekends, but during the weekdays Richard M. Westholm, a switchman, is there to watch for troubles in the automatic setup. Westholm also runs routine tests to keep the dial equipment in working order.

A Navy veteran of 3 years' service, Westholm and G. Bahr, janitor, are the two assigned to the GRANite office.

What Happens

While Westholm's explanation of the operation is too technical for general presentation, simply, here's what happens when a number is dialed:

Two automatic number selectors go to work, followed by a connector which gets the last number and also makes the connection and rings the number dialed.

Often telephone "forcers" get wrong numbers. Impatiently forcing the dial back may cause one or two less "clicks" to register on the number selectors.

"The equipment is set for a certain speed," Westholm explained, "and by forcing back 9 you're liable to get 7 or 8."

No Sound Means Jam

Then, too, often one may get no sound when he picks up the receiver. This, Westholm said, is because "in any 200 lines going out, 10-30 persons can place a call." Because of the jam, there is no sound.

On incoming calls, for example: on GR. 7800, only eight persons can receive calls at the same time. If eight are already connected, other callers will hear a busy signal immediately after dialing G-R-7-8.

"Ordinarily the equipment runs itself," he went on. Various alarms are set up so troubles can be detected.

For example: a bong means too many on a switch; a bell means fuse trouble; white light, receiver off hook or trouble on line; red light, also fuse trouble; green light, equipment won't release after receiver is hung up.

Over the weekends, these alarms are switched downtown.

400 Phones in 1940

According to Don C. Franklin, district manager of Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, the growth of the GRANite telephone office serves as a benchmark of progress and development of southeast Tacoma. There are more than 4,500 GRANite telephones today, compared with 500 ten years ago. The whole Tacoma exchange now has 71,000 telephones, third in the state after Seattle and Spokane.

The original GRANite telephone building which served these 500 telephones was erected in May, 1940, at $5,000 for land and building and $32,000 for dial equipment.

Demand Grows

By September, 1947, a major building addition was completed at a cost of $26,500 and dial equipment totaling $136,000 was then installed.

Since 1947, there have been several additions of equipment to meet the continuing demand for telephone service in this area. At the present time Western Electric men—about 12 of them—are busy installing more dial equipment so still more telephones can be connected. The new installations now underway at the GRANite office will cost $24,000.

Prior to the erection of the GRANite telephone office, service for the southeast part of Tacoma was manual and was provided from the Garland office.

KOREA VETERANS GET BENEFITS

Veterans Administration this week issued regulations outlining conditions under which veterans, disabled after fighting started in Korea, may be entitled to Public Law 16 rehabilitation training.

The training, previously limited to World War II veterans, was extended to many veterans disabled on or after June 27, 1950, by Public Law 894, signed by the President late last year.

Most of the policies and procedures set up under Public Law 16 itself have been carried over to the new training program, the VA said. In fact, the newcomers apply for training on the same forms used by disabled World War II veterans.

Under Public Law 984, a veteran must have been disabled after the Korean conflict began and prior to a date yet to be fixed.

The new law requires that the disability be such that VA may pay compensation at full wartime rates. Such rates are paid for disabilities or injuries resulting from armed conflict, or during extra-hazardous service, or while the United States is engaged in war.

Under the new law, the July 25, 1946, deadline for Public Law 16 training will not apply to the newly-disabled veterans. Instead, they will have nine years from the end of the current emergency in which to train.

Public Law 894 states that veterans who already had G.I. Bill or Public Law 16 training, as a result of their World War II service, may be entitled to additional training, if found necessary because of new disabilities.

In determining whether such World War II veteran needs training, and what type he should get, VA will consider his previous records of advisement and training as well as his current medical record. The reason, VA said, is that previous training may be capitalized to the fullest extent practicable.

In the case of a veteran who interrupted Public Law 16 training to re-enter the armed forces, VA also will evaluate his past training record and present medical file, to determine whether he still is able to go ahead in the same employment objective.

Stella's Flowers and Rogers Appliance TWO SHOPS MOVE TO NEW PLACES

Mrs. Kenneth Jacobs—Stella's flower shop—officially opens tomorrow her flower shop in its new location at 415 Garfield Street.

Stella's Flowers now has a larger window, more color, more floor space, new lines and improved facilities with which to better serve their customers. To use her words, she "slid in over the last weekend." To be exact, on Jan. 29 the shop was ready for business at its Garfield street location.

Mrs. Jacobs specializes in wedding and funeral designs and arrangements. She carries cut flowers, potted plants, dish gardens, greeting cards, candles and pottery.

Her telephone number remains the same—GR. 7863—but the shop will be open one hour earlier—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Incidentally, Stella's Flowers is now a member of Florist Telegraphic Delivery. Flowers may be wired through her shop. And, of course, for the convenience of her customers, she will deliver orders anywhere in this area.

A PLC graduate, Mrs. Jacobs is equally at home in a classroom. She taught school in Montana, South Bend, Edgewood, Spanaway and Parkland. The last two positions were during W.W. II.

She opened her shop on May 1, 1948. Before that she worked out of her home, which has always been Parkland.

Being a business woman as well as a mother of 14-year-old Sandra occupies much of her time, still she finds time to supervise the Trinity Lutheran Sunday school and be active in the Mary-Martha society, Parkland Business and Community clubs. She also dabbles in ceramics, selling her better products in her shop.

The public is invited to inspect her new shop tomorrow, Feb. 9.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

On January 19 the Parkland Merchants, a hoop club composed of PLC students, copped the Evergreen loop title by dumping the Communications Workers of America, 50 to 30, to take the three-way playoff.

They were so good that they are now in the Municipal loop, a higher league. The Evergreen joust competition was not stiff enough for the boys.

The casaba team is sponsored by the following local merchants: East-vold & Hicks, Fletcher's Market, College Cleaners, Parkland Realty, McCay's Ice Creamery, Johnson's Drug, Alvstad's Market and the Golden Slipper Tavern.

Included on the roster are Ray Tobiasson, Harold Malnes, Hal Schrupp, Bob Nielsen, George Nowadnick, Jim Nokelberg, Earl Nordeng, and Milton Hefty.

Dribbling Learned this week that Floyd Hicks, the attorney, was a great basketball player in his high school days. His St. Johns club, which he coached, just missed winning the state prep championship not so many years ago. . . . Homer A. Anderson, Bethel school superintendent, was at Orting high school for six years of football, basketball and baseball coaching. Anderson formerly played football and basketball at Cheney Normal, and during his prep days he starred for Sprague (Wash.) high school . . .

Gene Lundgaard, "Mr. Basketball" at Luteville, is quite a ball player, we have seen. But we learned for our first that he played four (4) years of varsity high school ball at Anacortes and that in 1947 was chosen on the All-State team. And, for the past three seasons at PLC he has pushed in a total of 916 points—over 300 counters per.

Earl W. Platt, former PLC athlete and now principal and football coach in the Bethel school system, baked a cake the other week. Yes, baked a fluffy yellow cake trimmed in green. Platt subbed for a home ec teacher who was ill, took a ribbing from his faculty members, then showed them—the faculty ate it, the cake that is. It was good, they agreed . . .

Slim Stern of Parkland Lockers on Airport and Pacific rang up the highest score of the season last week in the Mount Rainier Rifle league competition. His 389 won him the individual high medal for the week. Stern fires for the Paul Bunyan Axes, one of three teams representing the Paul Bunyan Rifle and Sportsman's club.

Speaking of the Globe Trotters, it reminds us that back in 1939-40, Al McCay of the ice cream emporium played against the Trotters. He all-starred for Tacoma, twice checking Ted Strong, the big pawed wizard with the casaba. Also learned that Walter Young of the gift business was quite a football tackle for PLC not so many autumns ago.

County P-TA Council Honors Mrs. J. Gorow

Pierce County Council of Parents and Teachers met last week at the Edgemont school with Mrs. John Gorow presiding. The report of the nominating committee was read by Mrs. Carl Colton.

Mrs. George Wangelin conducted a Founders day program honoring past presidents, the Mesdames Carl Ostlund, W. S. Coleman, Byron Moye and A. W. Millard.

Mrs. Gorow was presented with the life membership pin and certificate which is given each year to an outstanding member.

During the afternoon a panel discussion of the Teacher-Parent Conferences was enjoyed with professional women, teachers and parents as members of the panel.

Movies at Library

Fern Hill Branch of the Tacoma Public library will show three films, "Begone Dull Care," "The River," and "Your Child Is a Genius," next Wednesday, Feb. 14, beginning at 8 p.m.

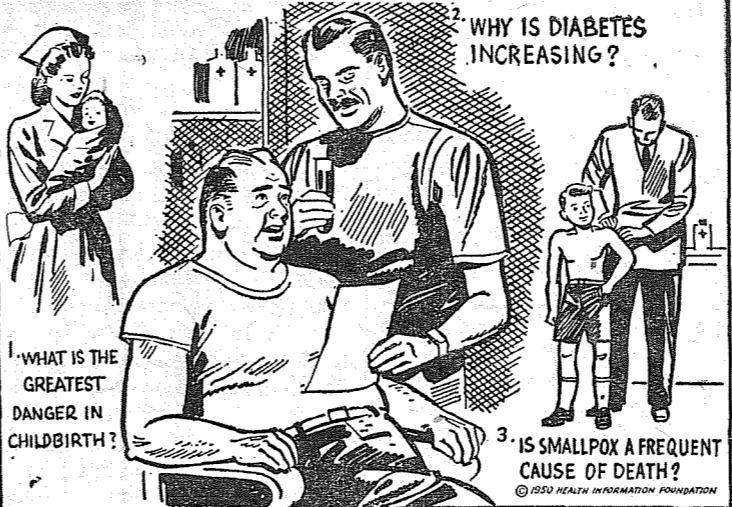

The first film is a gay visual expression of "boogie woogie" music done in fluid lines and colors; the second picture, the ruthless misuse of the land of the Mississippi river system, and the last films the value of painting as a means of creative expression important in the normal social and emotional development of the child. The public is invited.

LINDA LAMM, 14-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Lamm, Rt. 3, Box 569-G, died Feb. 4 in a local hospital. She is survived by two brothers, Larry and David; a sister, Susan, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lamm of Campbell, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reeser of Elbow Lake, Minn. Services were held Tuesday, Feb. 6, in the Dryer's Mortuary chapel with the Rev. Carl A. Johnson officiating. The body was sent to Elbow Lake for burial.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. Hemorrhage has been the outstanding cause of maternal death but it is being conquered. Many hospitals have adopted blood transfusion programs so that childbirth is now much safer. For instance, after the Woman's Clinic of New York Hospital put in such a program only one death from hemorrhage occurred in 14,000 deliveries.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. For the same reason that cancer and heart diseases are increasing—we now live long enough to develop such ailments. America has made astounding progress in recent years and, as one disease after another has been conquered and more and more health services are available to our people, medicine has been faced with the problem of attacking a new group of diseases. The attack on diabetes has triumphed—it can be detected early and often prevented, provided you follow your doctor's advice.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. Not any more. Smallpox has been all but eradicated as a cause of death in the United States and in some areas is so rare a disease that many young physicians have never encountered a case. Diphtheria, typhoid fever, and whooping cough are other diseases which have been reduced radically by preventive techniques which are a commonplace nowadays.

Spending Too Much on Food? FOUR KEYS TO LOWER FOOD COSTS

By the Staff of the SCHOOL OF HOME ECONOMICS University of Washington

"Am I spending too much on food for my family? I want them to be well fed, but there are so many other things we need too."

Many women in the past few years of high prices have asked such a question of home economists who work with food and prices.

At any time or price level, how much a family will need to spend on food to be sure of being well fed nutritionally—not just filled up—will depend on four things. These are (1) the size of the family, (2) the age and activity of the family members, (3) the family eating habits, and (4) how much of the food is purchased in the retail market.

Savings in Numbers

Family size is important—two cannot live as cheaply as one if they eat the same as when alone, but it may not cost them twice as much. In the same way a family of six may not cost quite three times as much to feed as a couple—there are some savings in buying and cooking for larger numbers.

Age and activity of the family members, aside from special diets, affect the costs too. A child of five eats and needs considerably less than a sixteen year old. Likewise a man or woman doing office work all day, with no strenuous activity, eats and needs less than a carpenter, a farmer, or a housewife with small children to run after.

Proportionate Costs

A rough guide to proportionate costs for the same food habits based on age and activity would be to consider the ordinary adult as one person, the very active adult, the adolescent, or the pregnant mother as about one and one-quarter persons, the grade school child as three-quarters of a person, and the pre-schooler as about one-half person.

Thus a family of four with two average adults and two teen-agers would represent four and one-half persons, while another family with two average adults and two pre-school-

VIOLET PRAIRIE Garden club will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Danielson, 308 So. 130th, tomorrow, Feb. 9. Mrs. J. C. Cope will assist the hostess. Mrs. Janet Judson Russell will speak on wild native flowers and will judge the members' Valentine exchanges of homemade flower pots with a plant. Members are advised that cards may be given.

THEODORE O. STORAASLI, 60, a resident of Tacoma for 49 years, died Jan. 5 in a local hospital. One of four sister survivors is Mrs. Marie Tuller of Parkland. Burial will be in the Parkland cemetery.

JACK DONALD PHILLIPS, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kelly Phillips of Yakima, former Tacomans, died Jan. 25 in Yakima after a short illness. He had lived in Tacoma most of his life, attending the Concordia Lutheran school at Parkland.

ers would represent three persons when computing costs.

At current Seattle prices, with all food purchased at retail and cooked at home, good nutrition can be readily obtained for a family with moderate eating habits for about $5 per person per week, while another family could run to $12 or more per person per week.

Buying and Cooking Skill

If the family grows some of its fruits and vegetables or meat, buys them cheaply and cans or freezes extensively, or has the time and skill to cook things at home instead of patronizing the bakery and delicatessen, it may bring the weekly costs quoted above down considerably.

Prices in other sections of the state may also change the costs. The skill of the homemaker in buying and cooking the food may be as important as the food habits in determining how much the family has to spend on food to be well and happily fed.

Brookdale, College Golfers Cop Major Prizes in Tourney

Local golfers representing Brookdale and College golf clubs walked off with a number of the prizes in the first of the Tacoma Golf association's tournaments for 1951, held this last weekend at the College golf course in Parkland.

Frank Gratas, College club member, took second place in the "hole-in-one" event, his drive on the sixth hole landing 6 feet, 11 inches from the cup.

Lawrence Johnson and Les Patterson from Brookdale, and Lyle Mumford and Bud Abraham from the same club, tied for first place with a low gross score of 68.

Chuck Emeott and Ed Stevens, also of Brookdale, won the second division with a net 60, and Don Isenberg-Ben Hall took third with a net 62.

Lyle Mumford, one of the winning team members, also took first in the "hole-in-one," his drive stopping 5 feet, 11 inches away.

Brookdale led the way with 14 contestants, while Meadow Park supplied 10, Allenmore 9, Fircrest 8, College 6 and Highland 5.

The next TGA tournament will be held at the Fircrest course on Feb. 24-25.
