

AUXILIARY NOTES
 Friday, the 13th! Yes, ma'am, that's the date! No mistake, and no bad luck either, if you turn out, in force, to the regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Clover Creek Post 118, American Legion. We'll be seen' all you good ladies at the home of our president, Mrs. Irma Long. There'll be interesting refreshments, too, after the meeting, when the Post comrades join with us for a pleasant hour. So come on out and bring a prospective member. Everyone will be happy.

The sick of Clover Creek Post are bravely facing up, and looking forward to the dates of their discharge. We often meet Comrade "Scotty" Young going cheerfully among the patients, bringing with him a wholesome outlook for each man grounded in Madigan. On Sunday last, your reporter met Adjutant Stimson and Mrs. Stimson, also spreading cheer among the Madiganites.

This Friday is our final date for Poppy plans! Our poppies are here and ready for sale as soon as Poppy days arrive. There is no need to remind the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary that it is your privilege and duty to assist in this annual poppy drive, since the funds from the poppy sales make up the largest part of our capital for our rehabilitation and child welfare programs. "Plan to come to this meeting, so we can be ready for May 27 and 28," urges Mrs. Cooley, poppy chairman. She adds, "all mothers, wives, widows, sisters, daughters of veterans of World Wars I and II are indeed needed this year, when every day is a struggle for our hospitalized veterans and their families."

Let's memorialize our noble dead as we aid our hospitalized living—and wear a poppy!

Parkland Fire Group Marks 5th Anniversary

OPEN HOUSE AT FIRE HALL HERE, SUNDAY

Five years of development, from a group of men with a length of garden hose and a few hand pump cans into one of the best equipped and most efficient rural fire departments in the state, will be celebrated here Sunday afternoon when the Parkland Volunteer Fire department holds a fifth anniversary open house at its fire hall, just off Pacific avenue at 114th street.

Open house hours will be from 2 o'clock until 6 o'clock. Any person who wishes is invited to visit the fire hall, view the equipment and ask questions about the department. Refreshments will be served. Every available one of the 30 active members of the department will be on hand to show visitors around, according to Chief Lewis E. Duffey.

The department was organized in May 1944, as a volunteer unit with 25 charter members and no equipment. The department now has 30 members and three modern trucks. Soon afterwards, the Parkland area voted itself a county fire district with a voluntary assessment of 4 mills annually, by the overwhelming vote of 395 to 5.

Previously, the department had operated on funds donated by interested parties and from activities of its own, such as dances, games, etc. An old truck and tank trailer was purchased from the Tacoma Civilian Defense unit. Although the truck did yeoman service, it was soon realized that the community was fast outgrowing the fire department.

Accordingly, the three district fire commissioners, E. W. (Fritz) Beitz, Fred Danielson and Clarence Marsh, and volunteers ventured purchase of a modern fire fighting truck. At the same time the volunteers gave up their evenings and Sundays to clear ground on 114th street for a fire hall. With the exception of the walls and roof and a recently added hose drying tower, the entire interior and landscaping was done by the firemen on their own time.

Parkland continued to grow, and, realizing the important work of the volunteers, voted 666 to 6 to assess an additional 20 mill levy for one year for more equipment. In June, 1948, the biggest and finest of the new fire trucks was added, and the old civilian defense truck was rebuilt to keep up with the modernizing trend.

Each truck carries 500 gallons of water for outlying fires, but more was needed. So the Parkland Light & Water company, working closely with the department, has been installing hydrants in the more settled areas as fast as they become available.

With each successive addition to the fire department and more hydrants, insurance rates have dropped, compensating for the additional millage.

Plans for the immediate future call for installation of two-way radios in the department's three trucks.

FULL SLATE FOR LAST CO MEET HERE TONIGHT

QUARTET BATTLE IS LONG-WAITED EVENT

When Parkland Community club is called to order this evening (May 12) at 8 o'clock in Parkland school auditorium by President W. W. Cline it will face a full agenda of pressing business. Tonight's meeting will be the last before recess is taken through the summer months, Cline said.

At a meeting of his advisory board of directors, called last week by President Cline, these matters were brought up for submission to the membership:

Adoption of the Parkland Recreation council as a committee of the club;

Approval of a program for community playfield development to be proposed by the council members; Consideration of plans for a community potluck picnic during the summer;

Adoption of a program for completion of landscaping of the Parkland War Memorial;

Election of an institutional representative for Cub Scout Pack 33, which is sponsored by the club. William H. Chambers is proposed for the post by the local scout committee.

Three representatives of the Mt. Rainier council of Boy Scouts were in attendance at the board meeting to inform the group on its responsibilities as sponsor of the cub pack. Introduced by local Committeeman Robert Olson were Assistant Scout Executive Ken Davies, Southeast District Commissioner L. L. Ames and Council Commissioner Rae C. Nichols.

The treasurer reported that $592 remains in the War Memorial fund, available for completing the landscaping, with the aid of local garden clubs it is suggested.

Program feature will be culmination of short-standing rivalry between male quartets of the Parkland Volunteer Fire department and American Legion Post 228. An illustrated talk on garbage disposal by County Sanitation Supervisor E. D. Parsons is also slated.

TRINITY CIRCLE 3

Circle Three of Trinity Lutheran guild is to meet Tuesday evening, May 17, 8 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Clifford O. Olson.

PARKLAND AREA KIWANIS GROUP BEING FORMED

Formation of a Kiwanis club for the South End district nears realization following a meeting of approximately 30 prospective charter members held Tuesday evening, May 10, at the Alnor cafe. Twenty men of the group signed applications for membership in the international service organization and joined in a petition for a Kiwanis club charter.

Three members of the South Tacoma Kiwanis club, which is the sponsor of the local group, conducted the meeting and outlined principles of the organization for the benefit of those attending. The three Kiwanians had met a week earlier with 11 local men interested in forming a club here. Contacts made by that group during the week resulted in assembly of the petitioning body this Tuesday.

Although a nucleus of 25 men desiring membership is required to secure a charter, it was held certain at Tuesday's session that more than the required number will wish to join immediately. With that view, organization of the club proceeded to election of temporary officers and selection of a nominating committee and a committee to select a meeting place. The committees are to report at the next meeting of the group, called for Thursday night, May 19, at the Alnor.

Morris E. Ford of Parkland was elected temporary chairman and Clay Roley of Midland was chosen temporary secretary. It was also determined that weekly meetings of the proposed club will be held Thursdays at noon.

The official name "Kiwanis Club of the Parkland Area" was selected for the budding organization, which is to draw membership from Midland, Summit, Woodland, Spanaway, Brookdale, Collins, Clover Creek and Elk Plain as well as Parkland and the section south from 84th street, Tacoma.

Silver Tea Planned By Sylvia Storaasli Orthopedic Group

Members of the Sylvia Storaasli Orthopedic guild are planning a silver tea for Tuesday, May 17, at 2 p.m. in the new club rooms at Schoenfelds. Guest speaker will be Mrs. C. S. Fynboe, who spent last summer visiting with her husband's people in Denmark. She brings a vivid and entertaining picture of the warm welcome accorded travelers arriving at Copenhagen by boat, of the thrilling Fourth of July celebration where thousands of Danish people honor our national holiday, and of the sincere hospitality found everywhere in Denmark.

Mrs. H. L. J. Dahl, guild president, has announced that all benefits from the tea will be presented to the Tacoma Orthopedic association to further the work being done towards a children's hospital. Mrs. Thomas Fleming is general chairman, with Mrs. H. L. Anderson and Mrs. Stanley Rosso assisting her.

In tune with the season, the tea table will be lovely with spring flowers and each member will have a table with a miniature centerpiece. Pouring will be Mrs. Clifford Langhorne, president, and Mrs. A. W. Taylor, past president of the Tacoma Orthopedic association.

The following members, with their guests, are planning to attend: Mesdames W. T. Storaasli, Virgil Bergh, Byron Bryson, C. A. Carlson, O. F. Dahl, S. E. Dahl, T. M. Daniels, W. F. Daniels, Arthur Egdved, E. T. Ellingson, T. O. Hageness, H. Lind, A. J. Monsen, Louis Peterson, L. Rasmussen and S. O. Storaasli. About 125 reservations have been made, with guests expected from Seattle, Tacoma, Puyallup and Parkland.

Progressive Approach

The Parkland Business club is to be complimented on its determination to lay squarely before the people of Parkland the actual facts as to what may be expected to be gained and what may be lost through incorporation of this community into a city of the third class.

So far, there has been much in the way of rumor, glowing prophecies and dire predictions, heard on the subject. Showing of well-founded facts has been practically nil. It is all important that real facts now be developed and set before the people. That is the aim of the course set by the club in directing its committee to proceed with the gathering of specific data on population, property values, anticipated revenues and predictable expenditures for a Parkland town area of defined boundaries.

Until these things and numerous other pertinent facts are known all talk about incorporation is mere shouting in the dark.

The Business club decided its course after preliminary consideration had shown that a proposal to incorporate Parkland well merits close examination, and in realization that no unnecessary time should be let pass before bringing the issue to head. Prospect of annexation of Parkland by the city of Tacoma had been very generally discounted but is now shown to be not at all idle or absurd. Two members of the group cited that the city council of Tacoma has engaged in serious discussion of proposals to submit the question of annexation to Tacoma to the voters of this area. One of those so reporting had himself been present at Tacoma council sessions when the matter was discussed, even to the point of proposing inclusion of an annexation proposition on the next general election ballot.

It is true that annexation of Parkland to Tacoma cannot take place unless residents of this area, by their votes, give prior approval. But, though most Parkland residents view with distaste any suggestion of entering Tacoma's toils and becoming just another stepchild suburb, that distaste is not necessarily shared by residents of areas immediately south of Tacoma's present city limits. They do not consider themselves a part of Parkland and they have no well developed community organization of their own. They, too, are faced with the inability of county government to solve their problems.

Boundaries of an area proposed for annexation to Tacoma can, therefore, be so drawn that, though immediate residents of this community mark their ballots overwhelmingly against annexation, Parkland could be outvoted and voted into Tacoma.

If this community is to make its own free choice, it must do so while it is still free to choose. The findings of the Business club's committee will offer a basis for a properly considered choice.

Sign It Now

Some weeks ago this newspaper announced that a petition would be circulated here to request establishment of a mounted carrier mail route which would work out of the Parkland post office to serve a sector of this community which is now without mail delivery service available to incoming residents. This unserved area is in the very middle of Parkland, lying between Harrison (116th) street and Pine street (Tule Lake road).

Now, after unexpected delay, the petition is out. Forms are located in most places of business in Parkland—and, they need your signatures. The supreme postal administrators in Washington, D. C., are, we are told, readily impressed by petitions bearing quantities of signatures. Let's give them what they apparently want and in so doing, maybe give our new residents what they need—improved mail service.

The unserved area in Parkland resulted from recent reorganization of rural mail routes put into effect by the Tacoma post office. The area concerned had, together with a much larger area to its north, been receiving its mail from rural mail carriers dispatched from Tacoma's Fern Hill station. These rural carriers were re-routed so that they now avoid most of Parkland, travelling Pacific avenue and more easterly streets until they are south of this community.

In their place, a mounted (auto) carrier city route was established from Fern Hill station, to serve the area generally west of Pacific avenue south from Tacoma. But, this mounted carrier route was drawn to go no farther south than Harrison (116th) street, except to continue to carry the mail to boxes then established north of Harrison. People moving into the section south of Harrison were left to receive their mail from boxes in the Parkland post office (if they might find one to rent) or from general delivery at Parkland.

In effect, Tacoma left it up to Parkland post office to serve the central section of this community. The best way in which Parkland post office can serve the now orphaned area is through establishment of a mounted carrier route to cover this and possibly other sections of Parkland.

Tacoma's reorganization of its routes was a step backward in mail service here. Establishment of a Parkland carrier will be a big step forward. That is what the petition now out is seeking.

Recipe of the Week

BAKED FISH WITH SHRIMP STUFFING

We've all read and heard of the wonders of southern cooking—the exquisite cuisine of the old plantations where treasured family recipes are handed down generation after generation.

Consider Baked Fish with Shrimp Stuffing, for example. It makes a handsome treat on a silver platter, garnished with bright green watercress and the yellow of buttered carrots—with pink shrimp stuffing tumbling out when the fish is cut. Here's the mouth-watering recipe:

- 1 4-pound fish
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 4 tablespoons bacon drippings
- 4 tablespoons tomato catsup
- 1 cup shrimp, finely cut
- 2 cups broken bread or crumbs
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 1/2 tablespoons flour
- 6 slices of bacon

Have fish prepared for baking. Saute onion and celery slowly in bacon drippings. Add catsup, shrimp and bread or crumbs. Mix well and stuff fish. Skewer together and dredge with salt, pepper and flour. Place slices of bacon on fish and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) for about 45 minutes, or until done. Cover the last 30 minutes of baking.

PRAIRIE FLOWER CLUB ADVISED ON TROPICALS

Mrs. Margo Wilde was the guest speaker at a recent regular meeting of the Prairie Flower Garden club, at the Tacoma home of Mrs. Park Shaw.

Following a delicious luncheon, Mrs. Wilde urged the club's members to give thought to growing certain tropical plants which she had seen successfully raised in three or four areas in Oregon, ranging from Medford to Portland. Mrs. Wilde has lived in Colombo. Her appearance before the club was a repeat performance, as about a year previously she had told the club of her life in South America. The club found her talk then so interesting that she was asked to return.

Present at the meeting were the hosts, Mrs. Shaw, the Mesdames George Shessum, C. C. Modahl, Loren Buck, Merle Prettyman, Frances Snyder, Mason, W. C. Fowler, Miss Alice Randall and two guests, Mrs. Wilde and Mrs. Nimman.

the state, stated the Legion commander. Approximately four delegates and alternates will represent the Parkland post at the convention. Total registration will amount to $4.00, with an additional $5.00 to reserve a hotel room in the name of the Legionnaire, Kittelson said.

Parkland Unit 228, American Legion Auxiliary, is proud to announce Miss Ann Stovner as its girl representative to Girls' state this year. Ann was picked for this honor by the faculty of Parkland school and Lincoln high school. She has proved herself to be outstanding in good sportsmanship, leadership, citizenship, and to be of high moral character. The American Legion Auxiliary of Parkland is proud to be Ann's sponsor to Girls' state. This program of the Auxiliary is one of its finest and reaps a harvest of good government training for all girls who attend. Its purpose is to teach the youth of today constructive attitudes toward the American form of government. In Girls' state, the girls have their own city, county and state governments. They elect their own city, county and state officials. They learn the duties of various public offices. They pass their own legislation, introduce and argue their own bills, have their own police force and court of law. In short the girl has a chance to learn for herself that her government is just what she makes it.

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Ann and sincerely hope she enjoys her 10-day stay at Evergreen Girls' State.

WHILE THE COAST SLEEPS

Hundreds of telephone people in the West keep night patrol to help meet emergencies and keep service reliable

1. Darkness can't stop these telephone men as they begin an important emergency cable repair at night. Fortunately, these emergencies are not common . . . usually can be repaired in daylight. But, up and down the Coast, other telephone people burn midnight oil regularly . . . so your telephone will work for you when you want it.

2. One important night-time job is done by this electronic tester. It checks lines to make sure they're in good shape. At the same time, other telephone men are vacuum cleaning and inspecting sensitive switching equipment . . . you might say it's stopping trouble before it starts. And night is the best time to do it, while most telephone users are sleeping.

3. In the quiet hours of the night operators handle relatively few calls . . . but many of them are vitally important. Repairs are on call for service on important lines . . . doctors, hospitals and the like. Garagemen check and equip trucks for the next day's installation rounds. Building service workers make offices spic and span . . . all a part of providing reliable service to you.

4. You can help yourself get the most from your telephone . . . a servant that is constantly growing in value. You can do it by using the telephone in the most efficient way: being sure of the right number before you call . . . giving the called person plenty of time to get to the telephone . . . spacing your calls so others may get a call through to you.

Clover Cr. Legion Auxiliary Receives Poppy Day Flowers

The annual shipment of memorial poppies to be sold on May 27 and 28 are now awaiting their final step toward aiding hospitalized veterans and their comrades, Clover Creek Post 118 Auxiliary, American Legion, reports.

These poppies, made of crepe paper and wire, are exact replicas of the wild poppies of Flanders' fields, which grew over the battle-scarred areas and between "the crosses, row on row" in the battle cemeteries of France and Belgium.

"As nature provided a floral tribute to those heroes who gave their all on the fields of battle, so the American Legion and Auxiliary are today using the little paper memorial poppy as a token of remembrance of the shed blood of American heroes," stated Mrs. Fay Cooley, Poppy Day chairman for the local unit.

"The poppies received here are the work of disabled, hospitalized veterans. From the sale of these poppies, the veterans and their families get some vastly needed financial aid. Further than that, the making of the little memorial poppies affords a most valuable occupational therapy," Mrs. Cooley explained.

"On these Poppy Days we invite the public to help us carry out our work. Our volunteer workers from the American Legion Auxiliary will be on the streets, from early until late, soliciting your cooperation in the sale of these poppies. The money received will be used entirely in veteran rehabilitation work and in child welfare during the coming year. We hope to see a memorial poppy over every heart on Poppy Days—that we may aid and comfort the living by memorializing the honored dead."

State's Tree Growth— Can It Be Doubled?

This map shows that Washington is more than half forestland. Of 43,000,000 acres, 20,000,000 acres are classified as best suited for tree production—commercial forestland.

Under sponsorship of the Washington State Forestry Conference, a More Trees for Washington program is being launched this month, to continue indefinitely.

The primary objective of the project, according to Knut Lunum, Extension Forester, who is also director of the cooperative program, is to increase woodland production, resulting in greater profits to woods owners and an increased flow of raw materials for forest industries.

"Timber is one of our top agricultural products today," said Lunum. "Over 700 wood-using plants directly employ more than 70,000 of our citizens. One-third of our people directly or indirectly get their living from the forests.

Diane McPherson, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David McPherson, was the lucky winner of a beautiful doll in a contest held at the Midland Food Center. Diane and Al E. Meddaugh of Midland tied for the award, but Meddaugh dropped out in favor of Diane.

A meeting will be held next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Dawson fieldhouse to organize an athletic club for the immediate purpose of supporting the Midland entry in the Tacoma Junior City baseball league.

Mrs. Charlotte McClatchey, first vice-president elect of Harvard-Midland P-TA and delegate to the State convention in Yakima, returned home Friday. She will make a full report on the convention at the regular meeting at Midland school, May 18, at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Lillie Campbell and Mrs. Richard Campbell were hostesses for a "stork shower," May 6, honoring Mrs. Walter Balmer. The party was given at the home of Mrs. Campbell and the guest list included the Mesdames Carl Taylor, Aaron Balmer, Alfred Balmer, Floyd Balmer, Noye Balmer, Harold Johnson, John Diterhus, William Zongas, William Hart, Rudy Olson, Richard Hietz, Evelyn Philes, Charles Baldwin, Owen Tjven, Lenard Imhof, Albert Imhof and the honor guest.

Altar Society of St. John of the Woods church met at the home of Mrs. Fred Siehl, May 5, for lunch, with 25 members present. Mrs. Walter Corrigan presided at the business meeting which laid plans for a card party and social, to be given May 27 at Midland hall. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Siehl were the Mesdames H. J. Portz, Edward Sonne- man, Frank Redding, Walter Stumpf and L. E. Sawtelle.

Later in the day, they also visited the Garden show sponsored by Ophelia Garden club at Hod Carriers' hall in Tacoma.

More Trees for Washington is distributing thousands of booklets "Cash Crops from Washington Woodlands" throughout the state. Additional copies may be obtained from county agents, soil conservation district supervisors, local foresters and others. Filmstrips and motion picture shorts are also carrying the message that forest management pays dividends. Co-operating in this project is the American Forest Products Industries of Washington, D. C., a national association of leading lumber, pulp and paper and plywood manufacturers.

Firemen, Parents Hurt When House Totally Destroyed

Minor burns were suffered by Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Walston early last Thursday morning when their home at Pipeline and Collins roads was totally destroyed by fire. They were roused from sleep just in time to narrowly escape the flames with their two small children, a boy, 4, and a girl, 2. The parents received first aid at Pierce County hospital.

Injuries were suffered also by two members of the Parkland Volunteer Fire department, which answered the call. Morris E. Ford sustained a sprained ankle and O. H. Ellingson a cut hand. The firemen were handicapped in fighting the fire because no fire hydrant was available closer than about one mile, and because of a delay in sending in the alarm due to a disruption of phone service, according to Parkland Chief Lewis E. Duffey. The fire had a big start when the three trucks arrived.

The six-room residence was reported partially insured.

Six Win Awards in First Annual PLC Festival of Music

Pacific Lutheran college's first annual Music Festival and Competition for Scholarships was successfully completed on the campus here last Saturday with award of scholarships to six high school seniors from the states of Washington and Oregon.

First place winners included Marilyn Hanich of Everett in piano, Herbert Neve of Everett in singing, and Carolyn Kjelstad of Eatonville in instrumental. Neve is a baritone, while Miss Kjelstad played the flute. Second prize winners were Luella Lee Krum of Clover Park and Lois Schmidt of Tillamook, Ore., while Joyce Borell of Buckley was a third place winner.

The contest was open only to high school seniors. Judges included Mrs. Mabel Dilts, Mrs. Gudrun Ness Ronning, Karl Weiss, Harlem Moen and Gunnar J. Malmin, all members of the Pacific Lutheran college music faculty.

Rehearsals by band and choral groups were held Saturday afternoon in the PLC gym, with the entire festival closing with a concert Saturday evening. Massed bands and choral groups appeared, including representatives from Lincoln, Clover Park, Yelm and Pacific Lutheran. Harlem Moen was in overall charge of the festival.

Parkland Mothers Show Superiority

Members of the Parkland mothers gym classes sponsored by Parkland P-TA set down touted volleyball teams of Stewart junior high mothers in three straight games played at Parkland school last week, May 4. Mrs. Edna Simmons, calisthenics instructor at Stewart, conducted calisthenics for both teams before the games. Parkland mothers served coffee and cake in the lunch room afterwards.

The frequently quoted saying, "Go West, young man," usually attributed to Horace Greeley, actually was originated by an editor of a Terre Haute (Ind.) newspaper.
