BOXHOLDER OR OCCUPANT
RURAL ROUTE

By Clarence La Crosse

From the looks of things, Garfield Street in Parkland needs a street cleaner. It would at least be our suggestion that appropriately placed garbage cans be provided, marked for refuse. As it is, paper and debris lie scattered all over the thoroughfare . . . and it has been there a long time. We say this only in the form of constructive criticism and not to aggravate anyone or anyone's feelings.

Football King

As Saturdays approach around here, there is quite a scramble to see who is to attend the University of Washington games at Seattle, since there are but two tickets in the office. Last Saturday Joe and I won out, much to the displeasure of Bill Ruelle, our pressman. As it was, we saw Washington defeat the Gophers of Minnesota for the first time in some eight years if we have correct statistics.

Perfect weather and two good teams made a perfect game. The grandstands were crowded. This coming Saturday it will be UCLA and UW in what promises to be another good game. The old toss for the tickets will have to take place again, it appears.

Television Changes

Want to change your whole home life? Want to have new friends? Want to have people visit you every night and on Saturday afternoons? Yeh? Well, the whole secret is to get a television set . . . Believe me it happens. To add to the confusion, have a youngster in the family . . . Comes time for the Lone Ranger or Hopalong Cassidy and nothing can deter the determination of youth to see the event as it appears on the screen of the television set in your own living room. To make matters even worse, the youngster won't eat in the dining room or the breakfast nook. Noisier, it has to be near the set so it can be seen while eating.

Then, too, there is that little matter of getting meals completed right in the middle of an interesting program. Here is where the women folks seem to get detoured. Supper is always late . . . Darn the thing . . .

Deer Hunting

Looks like about half of our crew is going to disappear during hunting season. Seems like the call of the wild comes about this time every year for those individuals who can't resist it. On goes the red hat and red jacket, making a hunter of many . . . For a good many that is about the extent, but some few more hardy can't turn down that call and off for the wildest part of the country they go. Packs, heavy 30-06's or some equally heavy artillery, blankets, grub for a month and other items peculiar to hunters are gathered together and toted up the steepest peak in the mountains . . . in search of deer.

Some few are fortunate enough to be on the winning side and actually return with game . . . Some many more, however, are not quite that fortunate . . . but they, they have fun.

Noticed the fever starting to show up in some of the local red coat donors, among them Art Swindland, local bank head. Bill Cumby, here at the shop, has the fever bad. Hope he lives through it all. I won't say anything about myself, but if you don't see this darn column next week you will know why.

Remember Voters! Register By Oct. 7

Parkland area voters who didn't do their bit at the polls during the primary election are reminded that they can have their say in the November finals if they register by Saturday, Oct. 7.

The present estimated registration for the state is 1,185,000 persons, which means there are 300,000 persons in the state who must act quickly or miss their right to cast a ballot in November.

The qualifications for registration to vote are:

1. At the time of registration you must have lived in the state for 11 months and in the county for 60 days.
2. You must be a citizen of the United States by birth or naturalization.
3. You must be at least 20 years and 11 months of age. If you will be 21 years of age on the day of the election, you may register now.
4. You must be able to read and speak the English language. There is no literacy test, no charge for registration, and Washington is not a poll tax state.

The coming election is an "off-year" election, neither a President nor state officials being elected. However, state legislature members will be elected.

In addition, eight measures will be settled. The two initiatives, Nos. 176 and 178, both relating to social security and affecting the whole financial picture of the state government.

Three referendum bills on the ballot, Nos. 7, 8 and 9, propose an aggregate total of 80 million dollars in three bond issues, the proceeds of which would help the building program for public schools, state institutions and institutions of higher learning.

Then there is referendum measure No. 28 which would establish a system of disability compensation for certain employed persons.

Two proposed constitutional amendments are Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 and House Joint Resolution No. 10. The former would permit ownership of land in the state of Washington by Canadians if the province in which the Canadian lives permits residents of Washington like ownership in Canada.

HJR No. 10 would permit school districts to become indebted an additional five per cent of assessed valuation for capital outlays. School districts that want to do so, could by popular vote, bond up to a total of 10 per cent of their valuation for school construction.

The voters will elect one U. S. senator and pick U. S. representatives for their congressional districts. A full slate of county, public utility and port officials will also be elected.

Once again, The Parkland Times, with the cooperation of Supervisor of Elections Don Perry, present the following list of precincts, registrars, their addresses and the precinct boundaries:

Span. Full Gospel

If you wish to hear good Gospel music coupled with fine speaking ability come out to Spanaway Full Gospel Tabernacle, 6th Street, across from the school, this coming week. Meetings by the Rev. and Mrs. Archie Burch are scheduled for each night, Tuesday through Friday evenings.

Attendance has been good. You will enjoy the accordion music and singing, according to Stanley R. Weddle, pastor of the church, who extends a welcome to all.

The deepest truths are best read between the lines, and, for the most part, refuse to be written.

KIWANIS MEET HONORS MIDLAND BASEBALLERS

Baseball will get the spotlight at tonight's meeting of the Parkland area Kiwanis when the Midland baseball club, winners of the Valley league, and Coach Art McLarney of Bellarmine high school will be the guests in the parlors of the Trinity Lutheran church.

According to program chairman Herb Socolofsky of the Kiwanis, the "Harmony Vendors," a barber shop quartet, will also be on the program. The members of this singing group are Commissioner Paul Newman, tenor; Charlie Cheney, bass; Lewis Tebeau, baritone, and Fraser Chisholm, lead.

Marv Tommervik will present miniature footballs to members of the Midland club.

Requests Still Taken For Times Overseas

Our offer is still good. Beginning with this issue, the Parkland Times is being sent overseas, postpaid, to Parkland area soldiers and sailors.

Parents or wives of servicemen overseas must write The Times his overseas address. The requester's name and address must also be given.

Whether the serviceman is in Korea, Berlin, Alaska or India, we at the Parkland Times know that there's nothing like hometown news. In our small way, we'd like to help keep the boys informed on hometown happenings.

So far, the response has been gratifying. We'll be happy to send copies weekly, if you parents and wives will write us.

The Parkland Times Inquires . . . ABOUT SPEEDING AND STOP SIGNS

Considerable discussion and telephone calls have been received by The Parkland Times about the speeding and stop signs in this area. To find out just what the facts were, we called Commissioner Harry Sprinker, who is top wheel on the subject.

We told Sprinker that many people had been calling about the stop signs which have been removed or fallen down and not replaced. We also talked about the legal speed limits in his area. Our attention was called by the case of little Junior Hitch who was struck by a car that failed to stop at an intersection.

We are informed by Sprinker that the following streets are arterials, having been adopted by the various organizations of this area at a public hearing in October 1949:

102nd Street, Sales Road, Park Avenue, 116th Street, Garfield St., Tule Lake Road, C Street.

It is pointed out that no other street is legally accepted as being an arterial way, therefore there is only the caution of individual drivers as the guidance as to what happens at intersections.

In regards to the speed limit for this area everything within the boundaries as listed herewith are 25-mile speed zones with a penalty involved for failure to comply.

Boundaries for 25-mile zone are: All roads and streets bounded by Airport Road on the north, South A Street on the east, Tule Lake Road on the south and Sheridan Ave. on the west, with the exception of Garfield Street which has a 15-mile speed limit.

Pacific Avenue, of course, is as marked by the state.

Sprinker points out that it is humanly impossible to keep all the street signs and stop signs up at all times due to the heavy volume of vandalism in this area.

It is further pointed out that the law enforcement agency responsible for enforcement of these speed limits and regulations is the sheriff's office. The State Patrol may make arrests, but it is not their prime function, inasmuch as this is county territory.

Those are the facts . . . the rest is up to the proper agency, the sheriff's office. It would be the recommendation of the Parkland Times that each club jointly would adopt a resolution calling for proper patrol of this area by the sheriff's office. If each club would make this resolution and present it as a whole to the county commissioners it is the belief of The Times that something will have to be done.

A Proclamation by the Governor:

Informed and responsible exercise of his right of suffrage is the obligation of every American citizen who is truly loyal to the ideals upon which our Republic was founded. Our forefathers paid with their blood to establish the freedoms we now enjoy. We have since fought for those ideals and the right of free suffrage on battlefields in many parts of the world. Today Americans are dying in Korea that you and I may continue to enjoy our heritage of free and representative government.

On November 7, 1950 we will hold a state-wide election, which will decide many important issues, affecting the welfare of our schools, our Social Security program, and will have a vital bearing on the state's future financial stability.

To vote, our citizens must be registered by October 7, 1950 and at this time there are many who have not fulfilled this obligation of registration for varying reasons. The qualifications are simple:

Anyone may register who is a citizen of the United States, will be 21 years of age on November 7, 1950 and who has lived in this state for 11 months and in the county in which he resides for 60 days.

To vote as an informed and responsible citizen, mere registration is not enough. Careful study of the several issues and the facts underlying the several important problems that will be before us is a paramount obligation.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ARTHUR B. LANGLEIE, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of authority in me vested, do hereby designate and proclaim the period from October 2 to October 7, 1950 as in the State of Washington, and call upon all citizens to assume their civic obligation by being registered so that they may take part in the State General Election on November 7, 1950. I further call upon every citizen within this state to inform himself concerning the matters before him and the qualifications of candidates.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia this twenty-seventh day of September, A.D., nineteen hundred and fifty.

BY THE GOVERNOR:

Arthur B. Langlie
Governor of Washington

Spanaway Blood Bank Calls for Depositors

A blood bank service for the residents of the Spanaway voting district was announced this week by Mrs. Hayden Stewart, one of the "tellers."

Said she: "It is not generally known but the cost of a single transfusion is $32.50, but if we can build up a blood bank, there would be a credit of $25, leaving only a service charge of $7.50."

The three women who have offered their services as tellers are Mrs. Oscar Haugen (GR 8319), Mrs. Emmerson Tarpinning (GR 6536) and Mrs. Stewart (GR 8615).

"As any banker knows, it is necessary to have some deposit before there can be any withdrawals," said Mrs. Stewart. "So if you think you can spare some of your good blood to help, maybe save the life of one of your neighbors, please go down to the Pierce County Blood Bank, 728 1/2 St. Helens . . ."

Donors are requested not to eat for three hours before giving blood, with black coffee and fruit juice as exceptions. The bank is open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11 to 7, Mondays and Fridays from 9 to 5, and on Saturdays from 9:30 to 4:40 p.m.

For information either for donating or arranging for receipt, the above mentioned tellers will gladly supply.

THE ELK PLAIN P-TA last night heard Mrs. Harry Smith of Tacoma speak on toys for school children. Mrs. Smith was the featured speaker at the Wednesday meeting in the Elk Plain grade school's activity room.

With Mrs. Bertha Ingalls as acting chairman, the program also included Western music by Mrs. Jesse Thompson of Parkland.

CAROLYN FIX of Graham was high individual point winner in the 4-H club's home economics judging team contest held in Yakima last week.

AUDRY LINDBERG was elected president of the Graham Farmerettes. Darlene Laycock was chosen vice-president; Ruth Eisenberg, secretary; Eunice McGee, treasurer; Kay McGee, reporter, and Renne Erickson, historian.

Children, Parents Need Educating BLASTING CAPS ARE NOT TOYS

By the Staff of the SCHOOL OF HOME ECONOMICS University of Washington

Parents must constantly keep on the lookout to prevent youngsters from smashing or cutting their fingers or toes with dad's tools or guarding against their fondness for playing with fire. Tragedy may occur from playful use of tools or fire, and leave a permanently disfigured child.

There is another type of tragedy where both fire and hammers sometimes play a role which is seldom thought of by parents. Possibly the average parent may think that it is nothing to be worried over as it may not seem to be of immediate concern. However, every month ten or more youngsters are seriously injured in this way with loss of fingers, hands, arms, eyes or even their lives. This danger is the accidental discharge of blasting caps.

The manufacturers of blasting caps and other explosives are fully aware of the danger of such things and through their Institute of Makers of Explosives endeavor to carry on a campaign to educate the public in regard to them.

A blasting cap or dynamite cap is a small metal cylinder about as long as a match and as big around as an ordinary pencil. It contains a sensitive strong explosive and is used to "set off" powerful explosives such as are used in mines, quarries, removing stumps in clearing new ground, road building and many other purposes.

Blasting caps are relatively harmless when left alone but they are veritable powerhouses of explosiveness when they are detonated. They may be "set off" by fire, electricity or by shock.

In general, there are two types of caps in use. One has a place in the end for the insertion of a fuse which can be ignited; the other has two wires for connection with a source of electricity. This latter type contains a "hot wire" arrangement which sets off the explosive when current runs through it.

When blasting caps are used properly there is little danger of injury, but when a youngster gets hold of one of them and uses a hammer on it he may endanger his life or that of his playmates. He may try to make it explode by throwing it against a rock or on the pavement. He may innocently pick at it with a pocket knife with a resulting explosion.

With so many people using blasting caps to set off dynamite charges in clearing stumps from their property and for other purposes, it is important to emphasize that adults should remember how dangerous they are and keep them where they are out of reach.

Furthermore, children can help in preventing these tragedies by knowing and remembering what blasting caps are — small metal tubes about the length of an ordinary wooden match and as big around as an ordinary pencil. If they see one, leave it alone and report it to an adult.

They can do this only if they know about blasting caps. It is up to parents and teachers to make sure that their children and students are taught to recognize and avoid them.

TWO CONVICTED BY INNERARITY FOR NEGLIGENCE

Two youths, both of Spanaway, were convicted of negligent driving and sentenced to 30 days suspended last Wednesday night by Justice of the Peace Lou Innerarity in the Collegen precinct court held at the Lutheran Brotherhood Insurance office in Parkland. One youth had his driver's license suspended for 30 days.

The young men, both around 25 years, were arraigned at Justice Del Bresemann's court in Spanaway on Sept. 16, but an affidavit of prejudice from the defense moved the hearing to the Collegen precinct.

In two cars the youths were chased by State patrolmen on Pacific Avenue and arrested near Orchard Hill about 7 p.m. on Sept. 2.

At the hearing the officers testified that the youths had been "drinking" and "racing." The counsel for the defense rebutted that they were not drinking or racing, however admitted that they were exceeding the speed limit.

In handing down the decision, the court stated that the prosecution produced no evidence of the charged reckless driving.

MATHIAS WAHLUND, 78, a retired farmer who lived at Rt. 13, Box 805, died last Thursday in a local hospital. Mr. Wahlund is survived by his wife, Caroline; a son, Forest, and a daughter, Mrs. Wilma Brown, both of Tacoma; a brother, Eric, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Isaacson, both of Forman, N. ## P-TA Membership Drive Winds Up Sat.

With students competing for prizes, the Parkland P-TA membership drive will close this week. Three prizes have been put up by the P-TA, one each for elementary, intermediate and junior high. Prizes will go to the rooms bringing in the most members.

The P-TA states that one need not be a parent to belong to the group. Anyone interested in the Association's objectives is welcomed. These objectives are: to promote the individual welfare of the community's children, to secure adequate laws and to bring into closer relationship the home and the school.

Membership must be renewed each year and the dues are 50 cents. Interested persons, without contacts from students, may call Mr. Robert Olsen at GR. 6823 for membership particulars.

Ike and Mike Hog "Chow" Space Again In Parkland Times

After thousands of stares at the Puyallup Fair, Mike and Ike, the two battling pigs, are back home in their duplex at the Avenue Feed Store, and still attracting attention.

As predicted by Rufus Parker, the feed store proprietor, Mike, with the Purina feed, has passed Ike in the weight race.

From the same litter, the two grunts first went on exhibition Aug. 1 when they were eight weeks old. At that time Mike weighed 43 pounds, Ike, 44 pounds.

Last week, Mike weighed in at 125 pounds, and Ike, a puny 87 pounds, a difference of 38 pounds.

According to Parker, (commercial coming) "Mike has consumed 320 pounds of Purina Chowmix Hog Feed in that time (47 days) which makes his pork cost 17 cents per pound. Ike, on the other hand, weighs 87 pounds, a gain of 43 pounds, to Mike's 82. He has consumed 346 pounds of mixture of barley, oats and corn, thus making his pork cost 28 cents per pound."

Both of the snorty girls will be given away at 11 a.m., Oct. 21.

HOKON A. GANES, 60, a retired general manager of the Wheeler-Osgood company, who lived at Rt. 3, Box 526, died last Tuesday in a local hospital. Born in Minnesota, he came to Tacoma in 1911 and worked up to the general management. Surviving are his wife, Ella M.; three daughters, Mrs. Thelma Freiter and Mrs. Vivian Mikkelsen of Tacoma and Mrs. Florence Sand of Seattle; three brothers, Conrad of Tacoma and Chris and Norman of Saskatchewan, Canada, and eight grandchildren. A son, Lawrence, was killed in World War II. Services were held last Thursday.

V.A. OUTLINES LOAN RULES

The Veteran Administration this week outlined conditions under which World War II veterans who have used their G.I. loan rights may have their entitlement to VA-guaranteed loans restored under certain special circumstances.

The Housing Act of 1950 authorized the VA to restore the amount of loan guaranty entitlement used by a veteran to purchase property which subsequently is taken over for public use, destroyed by fire or other natural hazard, or is "disposed of because of other compelling reasons devoid of fault on the part of the veteran".

A further condition is that the VA must have been relieved of liability in connection with the government guaranty on the loan with no claim having been made against it.

In defining "other compelling reasons", the VA said it first must be shown that failure to restore the used entitlement would result in a "substantial hardship" to the veteran. Examples of conditions under which restoration may be made were outlined as follows:

1. Reasons of health, such as where a home is disposed of because the type of dwelling or climate of the locality is injurious to the veteran or a member of his family, as evidenced by a doctor's certificate;

2. Employment reasons, such as loss of employment which requires removal to another city or town, or where the veteran is transferred by his employer. In such cases the VA said the reason for moving must be one which could not have been anticipated at the time the property was purchased. Loss of temporary employment, or persons subject to an employer's rotation policy, as in the case of regular military personnel transferred periodically, do not qualify;

3. Such other reasons as the VA finds in individual cases to be "compelling", where disposal of the property became a practical necessity due to factors over which the veteran had no control.

The VA emphasized that entitlement cannot be restored where the veteran's mortgage indebtedness is assumed by a third party, with the VA remaining liable on the loan guarantee. Also, restoration will be made but once for every veteran, except in very unusual circumstances.

Prior to the G.I. loan amendments contained in the Housing Act of 1950, approved April 20, an eligible veteran was entitled to a VA guarantee of 50 percent of a real estate loan, up to a maximum guarantee of $4,000. For veterans who have used none of their loan guaranty entitlement, the Act raised the home loan guarantee to 60 percent of the loan, and a maximum of $7,500.00.

The VA said that where a veteran had used none of his loan guaranty entitlement other than which is restored under the new provision, he will be considered as having used none of his loan rights and, therefore, eligible for the higher guarantee.

No man can possibly improve in any company for which he has not respect enough to be under some degree of restraint.—Lord Chesterfield.

Housewives Inc.

By Judith Lane

We don't need to be told that fall house cleaning is with us again. Pity the poor housewife surrounded by brushes, brooms, and mops and places to use them everywhere. How's this for organization? (efficiency experts please note). Get all your equipment assembled before you start cleaning.

If you need to clean the mop, just do this. Put one tablespoon of furniture oil in enough clean hot water to cover the tool, then wring dry.

Consideration should be given to the poor vacuum cleaner before you put it to work, too. Shake the dust from the bag onto a wet newspaper. (That's a nice trick for emptying the bag any time because it helps keep the dust down). Then turn the bag wrong side out and brush the lining with a dampened whisk broom. Getting down to actual cleaning. Since clutter must go, it's a good idea to clean all closets and drawers first of all to get rid of what you don't want or need. More ideas for your fall house cleaning will be in the Home Planning Department next week.

Children's Department

With school here again, it might be well to consider mother, when you should talk to Johnny's teacher. Any time after the teacher can get her class organized you'll be more than welcome. The one important thing is that you make a point of talking to the teacher before she sends for you. Maybe your Johnny may be so well adjusted in his school work that his teacher may never have to send a note home to you. But if you can foresee difficulties and talk them over with the teacher before they occur, those notes from school may never be necessary. Children hate to bring those notes home, and you can't blame them. The teacher is concerned or else she wouldn't send the note.

Still a note of any kind has a bad psychological effect on a youngster. If he's really been "bad," the note makes him feel more belligerent. If he's tried hard and failed in spite of himself, the note makes him more of a "failure" than ever. It's best to avoid them entirely, and you can usually do that by seeing the teacher on your own occasionally throughout the year. First, your talks may save Beauty goes to our head to help us and give us hints about shampooing the hair, they say that the most important part of the job is the rinsing. Hair that isn't rinsed correctly or sufficiently is stubborn to handle and takes on a dull, mousy look.

Here's what the experts recommend for shiny-clean, well-behaved hair. First of all, two good soaps over every bit of scalp and every inch of hair. Then when you start to rinse they say to rinse until your arms ache. The best and easiest way to rinse the hair is to stick your head under the shower turning it this way and that so that the streams of water will reach every section. They advise using a spray and if you haven't a spray, either, then a cup to dip water over your head. As the water in the basin becomes cloudy, run a fresh basinfull and keep this up until the water is perfectly clear.

Other signs of well-rinsed hair, if you've done a good job of it the hair will repel water and drops of the water will stand on it. Hair will squeak under your fingers, and it will be very fluffy and easy to work with.

Goodwill Industries Help Handicapped

Observing National Employ-the-Physically-Handicapped Week, Oct. 1-7, Tacoma's Goodwill Industries this week appealed to the public that their program is "not charity, but a chance" for the handicapped.

The non-profit social service organization says that "your throw-aways will produce jobs" and asks that a call at MA 9131 will bring a truck to pick up discarded clothing, furniture, dishes, electrical goods, books, etc.

At the workshops located at 2356 So. Tacoma Ave. the collected articles become raw materials with which handicapped workers have an opportunity to be usefully and gainfully employed.

This reconditioned merchandise can be purchased at two Goodwill stores, 2356 So. Tacoma Ave. and 940 Market Street. Sales, of course, pay wages for the handicapped. Eighty-nine persons were given work during seven months of 1950.

Pack 33 Roundup Has Western Air

Cub Scout Pack 33, sponsored by the Parkland Community club, held its Fall Roundup Pack meeting last Friday evening in the Parkland school gymnasium. A Western atmosphere was emphasized as Cub Scouts sang home-made "songs," sang Western songs, and were roped and branded in initiation ceremonies.

Heading the Roundup was Joe Anderson, new Cubmaster of Pack 33. Dr. Burton T. Ostenson, chairman, and Dr. Robert Olsen, institutional representative, spoke to Cubs and parents about the fall program and plans for the coming year. Dr. Harold Ronning, treasurer, outlined the new thrift program.

Cubs receiving awards for selling 12 or more tickets to the Scout Circus were: Philip Boerner, Nelius Ronning, Harold Harvey, Ben Bassett, Eugene Gordon, James Allison, Harold Ostenson, Lee Graves, Kenneth Parker, David Anderson, Bill Cook, James Olsen, Bob Olsen, and Bob Sepich.

John Hominda, James Olsen and Larry Larson were given first, second and third place awards for the best looking miniature racers.

Gold arrow awards were presented to Don Tuccelli of Den 7, and George Hiblar of Den 8.

Griffith Thomas and David Reynolds were initiated at the Western campfire by Cubmaster Joe Anderson.

A number of applicants for membership were welcomed. An Indian theme will be presented at the October meeting, and plans are already under way for home-made Indian costumes and regalia.

Hostesses for the evening were the mothers of Den 1, headed by Mrs. Winona Graves. Refreshments for Cubs and parents were served in the basement of the school.

Plans for the Improvement club's part in the children's Halloween party to be held again this year at the hall will be discussed. Hostess for the meeting will be Mrs. James Hartley.

More than 500 attended the dedication of the new wing at Midland school last week. Among this group were alumni dating as far back as 1910 and as recent as 1950. One of the many highlights of the evening was the greeting of old students by Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Crippen. Mr. Crippen was principal at the Midland school from 1917 to 1927. Sam Crippen, a Tacoma attorney, was also an honored guest who spoke briefly. The three remaining schools in the Franklin Pierce District were also the honored guests of Midland. It was a fitting tribute paid to the advancements made by our district in our endeavor to gain more adequate housing for our school children.

Voting

This is a much preached on subject but it would seem that if enough people took enough interest in who is being elected to office these days they would get out and vote . . . Sure, we have some good candidates, but it never seems like the right ones get into office . . . The answer is simple—those that are out to win get enough supporters to back them and are therefore elected . . . Getting elected is actually a business to some of these veteran campaigners who hold office year after year and do nothing . . . Register . . . Get out and vote . . . If you don't vote don't gripe for the next two or four years about the lousy politicians in office . . . It's your own darn fault . . . VOTE.
