

PRINCESS CAROL PARCHETA

Carol Parcheta Named Princess For Daffodil Fete

Blond, blue-eyed Carol Parcheta was named Franklin Pierce Daffodil Princess early last week during the first evening program held at the school to select a Daffodil Festival queen candidate.

Previous selections were made during an afternoon tea, and attended by a small group of parents, faculty, and students.

An estimated 600-700 persons turned out to see vivacious Carol win the nod of the judges. Proceeds from ticket sales netted the Franklin Pierce Daffodil Committee $500 to start construction of the district's float, finance chairman Sam Harris stated.

The 1967 Franklin Pierce princess is the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Parcheta, 9920 Waller Road. She has a 3.2 grade point average and hopes to attend Western Washington State College next fall. Her ambition is to become an elementary school teacher or a child psychologist.

"I love to dance," the newly crowned princess told the Herald, and listed ballet and school activities as her primary interests. She was elected a cheer leader by fellow students, and serves on the fashion advisory board of a Tacoma department store.

The five princess finalists gave a 3 minute prepared speech on the subject "The Place of a Woman in Today's World," then answered two questions pertaining to school and family.

"Since the time of pioneering, it has been difficult for a woman to maintain her femininity," Carol told the audience. "But she always welcomed a masculine hand to help her into the buggy." Speaking of today's world of equal rights for women Carol said, "No matter what her ambitions, as long as she maintains her quality of femininity, she is always a woman."

"A woman is a human being and so much more," Becky Youngblood stated and quickly added, "Even if she seems unorganized." She emphasized the woman's role in helping with the family income by saying, "The old adage two can live as cheaply as one doesn't seem to work anymore."

Wendy Leavitt, 18, described today's woman as "Contemporary as an IBM computer and as traditional as apple pie." She outlined the duties of a modern wife at home, in Church, and in the community. Tracing the evolution of modern woman from pioneer days Wendy said, "Women are forever changing, yet forever the same."

Cindy Walkup, 17, saw a few disadvantages in being a woman, but pointed out women have the right to take emotional advantage. Despite emotions, women are as cool as a cucumber when going into the maternity ward, she stated.

Predicting men can expect keener competition from the fairer sex, 18 year old Pam Peterson said modern woman is no longer just a "kitchen slave". "The age of jet planes and modern freeways often puts mother in charge of the family while father is away. She is a household maintenance engineer, can be found carrying petitions for sewer annexations, or coaching a sandlot ball game," Pam stated.

Parkland Clean-Up Group Meets

The Parkland Clean-Up Committee met at the home of chairman Ray Manges February 2 to plan Clean-Up Day, the annual event in which the Parkland citizens band together in beautifying the community.

The fourth annual Clean-Up Day will be held May 6.

Recruiting chairman Hank Hetle, is appealing to local fraternal organizations, car clubs, churches, schools and university organizations, the Grange, the 4-H Club, businesses and the Boy and Girl Scouts to participate.

Last year one hundred tons of refuse were removed from the Parkland area.

This year a special effort will be made to remove abandoned automobiles from the roadways. There is a county ordinance concerned with the possession of stripped automobiles for the purposes of selling parts.

Area leaders are needed to help organize the event. Any citizen interested may contact Ray Manges at LE 1-0671 or Al McManis at LE 7-3953.

"The function of this program is to arouse a civic responsibility of every citizen in the Parkland area," said John K. Hartsell, last year's chairman. "Our community must have the entire support of both its adult and youth citizens to progress."

Four More Areas Approved

Signed Sections Large Enough For Sewer Dist.

PARKLAND - The five areas which have been accepted by South Suburban Sewer District commissioners include enough potential customers for an economically sound district operation, president Clayton B. Peterson said this week.

The Commissioners acted to annex four more areas at their meeting February 7. Petitions representing more than 60 per cent of the landownership of Areas II, III, IV and VI were received, accepted and forwarded to the County Commissioners.

These petitions include the land from 100th Street South along Pacific to 123rd Street and from Portland on the East to Sheridan on the West and from Yakima to Spanaway Loop Road from Tule Lake Road north.

In order to sell the revenue bonds needed to finance the interceptor and disposal system, a sewer district must prove to the bond buyers that sufficient revenue can be generated to pay off the bonds.

A group of land owners met Sunday to begin solicitation in Area VII which includes the land from the Freeway north to 96th along A Street. Two other groups are working to establish petitions in other areas contiguous to those already established.

Peterson spoke to a meeting of the Midland Community Club last week. Almost 100 people turned out to receive information and discuss problems of securing sewers in the Midland area.

At this meeting, Peterson pointed out that the South Suburban Sewer District's Comprehensive Plan was established to serve all areas in the southern part of Pierce County that need and want sewers.

"The sewer district is a legally constituted municipal entity. Therefore it must be prepared to serve the interests of all people in the area who desire service. The fact that only certain areas have been annexed thus far does not eliminate any area from annexation and sewer service. If 60 per cent or more of the land ownership in any area want to join the sewer district we will be happy to annex them."

The Commissioners will move ahead with further steps for achieving an operative sewer system as soon as the necessary legal hearings before the County Commissioners are completed.

By ROBERT C. CUMMINGS

OLYMPIA - The dispute over ocean beach jurisdiction between Land Commissioner Bert Cole and State Parks Director Charles Odegaard has been settled as far as Republican Governor Dan Evans and the Democratic Leadership in the Senate are concerned.

An executive request measure designed as a compromise has been introduced in the Senate under sponsorship of Robert Bailey, Senate majority caucus chairman; Gordon Sandison, another key Democrat, and Joe Chytil, Chehalis Republican. Neither side is getting all it wants, but even if neither side is satisfied, the measure probably will pass, with both the Governor and part of the Democratic leadership supporting it.

DIVIDED CONTROL

The measure would establish a Washington State Seashore Conservation Area under direction of the State Parks Commission below accreted lands. The Department of Natural Resources, under Cole, would retain management of the accreted lands. The Parks Department could negotiate with Natural Resources for limited upland property on which to build rest rooms, picnic tables, parking facilities and other basic necessities, but nothing that would compete with private resorts.

The Parks Commission could also establish reasonable traffic control on beach highways, but driving would still be permitted, subject to restrictions imposed by the Department of Fisheries for protection of clam beds. Normal jurisdiction, incidentally, would be retained by all departments, such as Fisheries, Game etc., for performance of current duties.

OUT IN THE COLD

Probably the most frustrated group around Legislative halls these days is composed of the counties. Forgotten stepchildren in the scramble for state financial aid, they have apparently been thwarted in their attempts to get a share of the 2-mill property tax which is collected by the state. This money is now earmarked for public assistance and even law-makers who recognize the counties' needs are wary of repercussions should they divert part of the millage to the counties.

Some Democrats have criticized Governor Evans' proposal to make $25 million in state money available to the cities because there aren't any provisions for county government.

GAS TAX ON BLOCK

If the gasoline tax is increased this session, it will require a lot of horse trading. There aren't enough legislators in either house who are inalterably opposed to a boost to block it. However, nearly every legislator who would be willing to vote for a hike has some strings tied to his vote. He would vote for a gas tax increase "if" the highway budget includes a certain project for his district and "if" that project is placed reasonably high on the priority list. It would take a pretty big tax hike to finance the projects needed to muster enough support to pass the bill. Discussion of the size of the increase ranges from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents a gallon. Representative Al Leland, chairman of the House Transportation Committee, is sponsoring a bill which would boost the tax 2 1/2 cents, which would raise the total state tax to 10 cents a gallon.

E. Whited, McKenna; Victor S. Williamson, Rt. 1, Box 29, Sumner; Theodore R. Withrow, 1033 E. Main, Puyallup; Clarence Wood, 126-15th St. S.E., Puyallup; Arthur J. Woodfeldt, 616-11th St. S.E., Puyallup; Don Yager, 359-A, Spanaway; Lorene York, 19302 193 Ave. E., Sumner.

BOND ISSUE SOUGHT

Leland's bill authorizes a $200 million bond issue, which would be retired over a 25-year period from one cent of the gas tax. One cent would go for construction of city and urban arterials and the half-cent now allocated to cities would be retained. Of the remaining 7 1/2 cents, a quarter would be earmarked for ferry subsidy, as at present, and the remaining 7 1/2 cents would be apportioned among state, counties and cities. The state's percentage of this money would be increased over the present allocation formula, however, while the counties' and cities' shares would be reduced, percentage-wise.

LIQUOR

A bill to refer a Sunday liquor prohibition bill to the people, introduced in the House, and one which would require the Liquor Control Board to ban liquor sales one day a week, which was introduced in the Senate, have become great conversation pieces, but that's as far as they will go. These are the things for which ten-foot poles are made. The majority of the legislators are just as reluctant to consider bills which would tighten our liquor laws as they were to liberalize them before repeal of the blue laws. When it's all over, the Liquor Control Board will have to settle the Sunday liquor issue without any help from the Legislature.

Narcotics Users Caught After Gas Station Stop

By Em Matson

Investigation of a report that a man was lying unconscious in a Parkland service station restroom led to the arrest of a pair of 24 year old narcotics users late last week, Sheriff's Detective Ward Archer reported.

One of the pair suddenly went into convulsions, then passed out after taking a "fix" in the service station restroom, Archer stated. His buddy asked the station attendant to call an ambulance, but when he heard the Sheriff's office had been notified, he loaded the limp man into his car and drove off.

As Deputy Sheriff Charles A. Klingenberg was inspecting blood-stained paper towels left by the men, the station attendant spotted the vehicle used by the pair heading north on Pacific Avenue. Deputy Klingenberg stopped the vehicle near 110th and Pacific and took the men into custody. A small bottle of narcotics was found in the car.

The stricken man was treated at Mt. View County Hospital. He admitted shooting a near lethal overdose into his system, Archer disclosed. The victim told officers he had lost track of how many "fixes" he had taken.

"I'm glad I was caught," one of the men confessed, "Now maybe I can get some help to shake this addiction."

Both suspects had numerous needle scars on their arms, Archer said. One of the men had been using drugs steadily the past 4 or 5 years.

Both were charged with illegal possession of narcotics. Bail was set at $2500 in Judge Filis Otto's court.

PUYALLUP - Burglars kicked in the rear door of Boyle Oil Company, 239 15th Street S.E., to steal $17 in cash, police reported Friday night.

The smashed door was discovered by a police patrol unit and officers at the scene reported the door jamb had been split from top to bottom. A cash register drawer was found on the floor near the rear door.

PUYALLUP - Burglars entered the Valley Market, 501 Valley Ave. N.E., Puyallup recently to steal $77.40 in merchandise, Sheriff's Deputies reported.

A dozen and one half cartons of cigarettes, 11 cases of beer plus eight 6-packs were listed as missing. Entry was gained by prying the hasp off the front door.

Tomhoff's Plan Grand Re-Opening

Tomhoff's Furniture will hold a grand reopening celebration Feb. 15 in their new $65,000 building at 12716 Pacific Avenue, owner Chris Thompson announced last week.

The celebration and sale will continue through Saturday, Feb. 18, he stated.

The new structure replaces the one destroyed during a four hour fire June 30. Although Tomhoff's have been doing business from the new store since last November, the grand opening was delayed until shipments of opening stock had been completed.

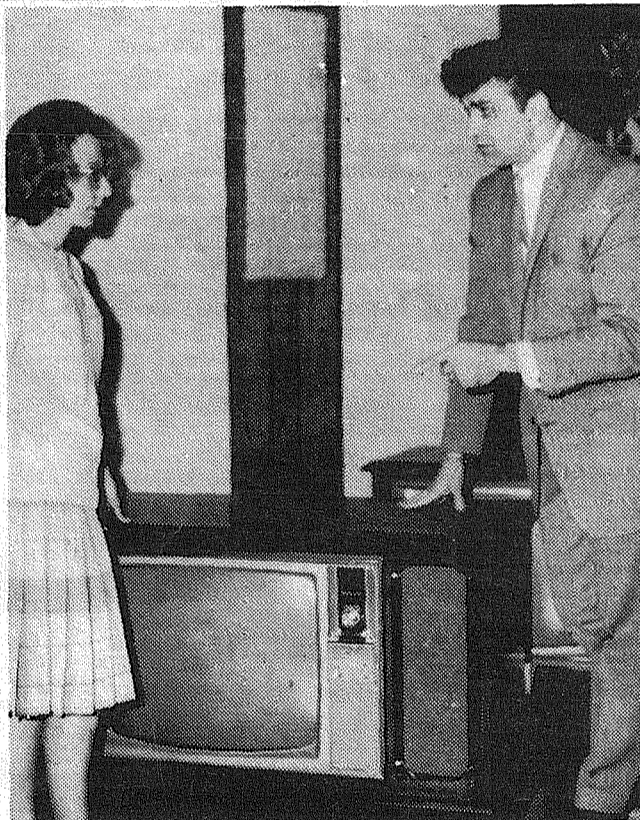

Featuring such famous furniture lines as Slyter, Fashion Craft, Yorktown, Madera, Leonetti, Nantucket, Englander, Flinridge, and many more, the store will carry an $80,000 inventory of furniture, appliances, and TV, Thompson stated. Customers will find RCA, Curtis Mathis, and Emerson television on display, as well as Norge and Maytag appliances. Carpet lines will include McGee, Downs, Monarch, Robbins, and Beacon.

On hand to greet customers will be sales manager Ted

Barker, operations manager Marshall Gilberg, salesman Jim Corp and Charles Larbins. Betty Stutheit will manage the office.

The 13,700 sq. ft. Parkland facility rejoins Tomhoff stores in Puyallup and Lacey.

OWNER CHRIS THOMPSON points out the features of the 295 sq. inch RCA Color TV he will offer during Tomhoff's Grand reopening sale to office manager Betty Stutheit. The sale will be held Feb. 15, 16, 17, and 18 at the new 13,700 sq. ft. Pacific Ave. store at 12716 Pacific Avenue.

Census Study Planned Here

A selected sample of households in this area will be asked questions about employment during 1966 as part of the February Current Population Survey conducted by the Bureau of the Census, according to the Bureau's regional office in Seattle.

The 1966 employment survey will supplement questions on employment and unemployment asked each month by Bureau enumerators for the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The annual survey questions will be aimed at finding out the number of weeks worked during the year, the amount of time lost because of unemployment and other reasons, and the principal job held during the year by each person in sample households.

All information given to Census interviewers will be kept confidential and may be used only for statistical purposes, Director Tharaldson said.

Census interviewers who will interview householders in this area are: Mrs. Dorothy A. Carden, 1912 East 91st Street, Tacoma, and Mrs. Ethel M. Hindery, 3123 N. 31st, Tacoma.

NEW MAYFAIR MARKET at 9660 Pacific Avenue is nearing completion according to manager John Keeler. The 25,375 sq. ft. structure will soon replace Park 'N Shop, adjacent to the above property but not pictured.

New Mayfair To Open In March

Mayfair Markets plan to open their new building at 9660 Pacific Avenue in early March, store manager John Keeler disclosed last week. The old Park 'N Shop building will be torn down and replaced by a chain drug store after Mayfair moves into the new facilities, Keeler stated.

The new structure will boast 25,375 sq. feet of floor space including a bakery capable of producing 3000 loaves of bread per shift. The bakery will supply other Mayfair Markets in the county, he said. Mayfair customers will find the new facilities greatly expanded over the present store. "We'll have over 52 running feet of dairy and delicatessen display, over 68 feet of fresh meat display, and over 60 feet of refrigerated produce," Keeler stated. "In addition, the new market will feature nearly 158 feet of frozen food space." Thirteen check stands will greet customers at the grand opening. The drug store will be built south of the new structure with the buildings joined by a common concourse. A restaurant will be on the market side of the concourse.

Obituaries

Services for Ervie H. Christilaw, 57, of Rt. 1, Box 1520-6, Spanaway Monday afternoon at Mountain View Garden Chapel.

Rev. Robert G. Hillstead officiated. Burial was in Mountain View Memorial Park.

Christilaw died last week in a hospital. He was born in Olalla and had lived in the Tacoma area all his life.

Christilaw was a mechanic employed by Nalley's. He had been a member of the Automotive Mechanics Union, Local 1152, for 25 years and was a member of Tacoma Trail Cruisers, the Centaurs of Washington and the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Er-dine; two daughters, Mrs. Carole Lindberg, of Aurora, Minn., and Mrs. Sandra Wildman, living in Okinawa; a brother, Harvey, of Seattle; and three sisters, Mrs. Sadie Cook, of Bell Gardens, Calif., Mrs. Sophia McCullough, of Spanaway, and Mrs. Doris Eaton, of Parkland.

Robert L. Martin

Services will be held at noon today in Mt. View Valley Chapel for Robert L. Martin, 59, of 2004 S. 138th St., Parkland.

Rev. Harold Long officiated. Burial was in Mt. View Cemetery.

Martin died this week at the wheel of his automobile. He was logging and forestry manager for St. Regis Paper Company's Tacoma area operations.

Born and educated at Toledo, Wash., he began his logging career as a teen-ager, and he had worked in the western forests from Canada to California.

In the 1930's, he was a contract logger for the old St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber Co. In 1943, he became logging foreman and then logging superintendent of the Ladd Logging Co., a Tacoma based firm of timber owners and liquidators.

When Ladd merged with St. Paul and Tacoma in 1952, Mr. Martin was named general logging superintendent. Shortly after the merger of St. Paul and Tacoma with St. Regis in 1958, he was named logging and forestry manager.

Martin served on the board of directors of the Industrial Forestry Association and the board of the Forest Industries Radio Communications. He founded Baseball Enterprises, Inc., a non-profit organization to develop and stimulate the interest of young folk in logging and forestry careers.

He was a member of Seattle's Rainier Club, a past master of Tenino Lodge No. 86, F&AM; a past patron of Alice Chapter No. 32, OES, a member of the York Rite and Scottish Rite bodies and a member of Affii Temple of the Shrine, and the Royal Order of Jesters.

He is survived by his wife, Blanche; a son, Norman L., a senior at the University of Puget Sound; a brother, Fred L., of Tenino; and three sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Carlson, of Bucoda, Mrs. Zona Seals, of Roseburg, Ore., and Miss Lillian Martin, of San Francisco. His nephew, Roger A. Martin, is logging manager for St. Regis at Tacoma.

MAYFAIR MARKET MANAGER John Keeler reviews plans for finishing new store at 9660 Pacific Avenue with builder Ted Varey.

BY JOHN VANDEVANTER

They don't FORECAST the weather any more, Fahrenheit . . . they just HANDICAP it.

"80% chance of rain" . . . your Aunt Fanny. You'd think we wanted to put $2 on a cloudburst or buy a combination ticket on a light drizzle. I don't want to be TOUTED on the weather, Fahrenheit . . . I want information, even if it's wrong.

Can't you remember as a kid . . . preparing a picnic in the glow of "high variable cloudiness and changeable light to moderate breezes?" Remember the excitement? Remember the beach and the bonfire? Remember the rain that washed the wienie right off your stick? THAT was living, Fahrenheit. Who wants to plan a picnic in the face of "30% chance of rain" when you're down to your 20% underwear until washday?

Sure, it's an improvement . . . for the WEATHER-MAN. He can't lose with a point spread like that. When it either rained or it didn't rain, he was wrong about half the time. Now, he can say "30% chance of rain" . . . if it doesn't, he's 70% right and if it does, he's 100% right. It figures out to an 85% batting average on the same kind of prophecy you can get with the Farmer's Almanac . . . ANY Farmer's Almanac.

Not bitter, Fahrenheit. Just irritated. This morning, driving to work, I hear this meteorological magician talking out of the bottom of a rain-barrel. While the radio goes "bleep . . . bleep . . . bleep" to show this is being recorded and my windshield swipes go "smick . . . smuck . . . smick . . . smuck", through the crown of his derby he tells me there is "80% chance of measurable precipitation today and 70% tonight."

What do I EXPECT? Well, Fahrenheit, if that's a joke they should dub in some laughter. If it's the bookies' morning line, then I want the short odds or a 21-point spread on the long-shot. Why, I'd like to offer 8 to 5 we'll be going home by canoe until mid-May.

Whattayamean I don't know what I'm talking about . . .

Now, look, Fahrenheit, you're getting . . . Wait a MINUTE, there. I'm not EITHER all wet. Not more'n "90% chance this evening, increasing to . . ."

Vikings Host Mat Tournament

What's the SCORE?
BY WALT TUPPER

Hello, Arnie?

"Hello, Operator? I'd like to place a person-to-person call to Arnie Palmer in Latrobe, Pennsylvania ... yes, I'll wait."

"Da da de dum de dum ... I lost my niblick, in sand trap city ... down by the pond, of Linden's shores ... when I return, to ... hello Arnie?"

"Say, Arnie ... just between you and me ... cancel my tournament commitments for about, oh, maybe five years or so. Now don't blow your stack ... I know I told you I was another Ben Hogan, but that was last week. You don't need a trick shot artist, do you? Man, I've got a collection of shots that throws the law of gravity right out the window."

"What's that, Arnie? What clubs am I havin' trouble with? Well, let's see ... my McCulloch chain saw is gettin' a little dull, just won't zip through the bigger coniferous any more. Then my trench shovel has a broken handle ... I tried to run a tunnel through an overhanging sand trap so's I could putt out. My Handy-Dandy compact lawnmower doesn't do the job it used to in the rough. I tell you, Arnie ... it's a combination of things that has ruined my game."

"Take last Saturday, for example. I'm slicing my woods and hooking my irons. I go up a fairway like an old fashioned sailing ship tacking into the wind. My pedometer indicated I walked 16 miles to play nine holes at Linden. No, I'm not exaggerating ... I could play 18 with a pool cue and a ping pong ball and take less strokes ... I'm using my putter in an open-air class ... it draws the most wiggly lines you ever saw."

"Discouraged? Not really ... disgusted is the word. Shucks, I wouldn't mind if my drive only sliced over to the adjoining fairway, but what do you do when it winds up behind you after boomeranging through a 200 yard circle?"

"What's my plans? Oh, I'll keep practicing ... get that ol' intestinal fortitude back to a high peak ... then when I get my game back in the 70's, I'll give you another call. Maybe you can help me with the back nine ... Arnie? Hello, Arnie? Operator, I think we've been cut off. What's that? My party hung up? Oh, well ... reverse the charges ... they should pay me just to keep this kind of a game off the circuit. It would set the game of golf back a hundred years."

Cruisers In Tourney

EATONVILLE - The Cruiser basketball team took a long winning streak to Winlock last night, already assured of a berth in this week end's Central League Tournament at Olympia.

The Cruiser five, which scrambled up from the second division to fourth place in the state's toughest Class A League, will be facing the toughest such competition in the state Saturday. Raymond and Elma, tied for the league lead and also virtually for the No. 1 poll position in the state, both will see action there.

Eatonville held Charles Wright to a single point in the second quarter to pile up a 38-15 halftime lead Friday night. The Cruisers continued to roll in the second half to a 68-39 victory.

Too Little, Too Late

It's Not In The Cards

PARKLAND - After last week's heartbreaking loss to Clover Park and a rough road trip to Auburn last night, the Franklin Pierce Cardinals hope to salvage one more victory in southern division PSL play when they travel to Lakes Friday.

Both clubs are suffering through dismal seasons, the Cards notching only 2 wins in league action and the Lancers yet to find their first victory. About the best Franklin Pierce can hope for will be a 4th place finish when the season ends next week with a home game against front runner Puyallup.

In last Friday's action, a last gasp tip in by Al Bulger that would have knotted the score in regulation play was declared to have come after the buzzer, giving Clover Park a slim 56-54 win. The Cards had come from far back late in the 3rd quarter and put on a blistering last period attack that almost nipped the faltering Warrior quintet.

Pierce's Dennis Satterlee garnered high point honors with 16, followed by team mate Jim Hadland's 14. Bulger contributed 9 counters. The Warriors came up with a balanced scoring attack that found four starters cashing in 47 points.

Boness To Promote ARI '67 Schedule

SPANAWAY - A court ruling in Pierce County Superior Court last week by Judge John Cochran gave Dick Boness and Auto Racing Incorporated the green light to promote all stock car races at Spanaway Speedway this year. Contracts have been signed and the popular stocks will kick off the '67 season on Easter Sunday, March 26th.

The 1966 ARI membership listed 325 drivers, with a weekly turnout at Spanaway averaging 40 to 50 cars. With a new addition of the "claimer" class this year, membership should reach an all-time high.

A general membership meeting has been set at Spanaway American Legion Hall, 160th and Park Avenue for Tuesday, February 21st. The meeting will get underway at 8:00 p.m. and will include movies of '66 ARI race action taken by Al Cavelti. All members are reminded that '67 cards must be obtained before entering the pits on opening day. Cards and rules can be obtained by writing ARI headquarters, 710 So. 132nd Street or calling LE 1-4964.

Staeheli also earned a 4-0 decision in his match Saturday night.

Outdoor TIPS AND TALES

WE STAND to lose a lot of our hunting and fishing spots in this state because a girl tripped over a sprinkler on the lawn of a Savings and Loan Company - unless we get busy and contact our legislators.

This Supreme Court decision, as wacky as it may sound, is still the decision. Like an umpire calling balls and strikes, it may have been called wrong from where we're sitting, but it still stands.

A Costly Trip For Sportsmen May Be Result

Sound crazy? It is, but it could happen. Here's why. The girl was on her way to one of the public meeting rooms banks make available for use by people in the community they serve. She fell, was hurt, sued, and when all the appeals were finished, the Supreme Court ruled she could collect damages!

So here's what we can do. A new law, limiting this liability of landowners in our state, is in the making in Olympia. It passed the House with a huge majority, but then wound up in the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, where some would like to see it buried.

And you better believe it, it could die right there. Some Olympia lobbyists, who make their living working in the world of politics, feel there's a good chance it might just do that.

We should let our legislators know right now that we want this bill, HB 258, passed. It's our hunting and fishing that will suffer, it's the cooperative landowner who lets us use his land who will suffer when someone sues and collects.

The bill is not a partisan one. It has Republican and Democratic backers, but needs our help now. This is a gut issue for us who enjoy hunting and fishing, for more game is killed on private land in this state than on government land.

Phone, wire or write your legislator. Now.

WHAT do you do when ice freezes in the guides of your steelhead or ice fishing rod? Some intrepid souls put the guide in their mouth and melt the ice that way. If it isn't too cold, you can dunk your entire rod in the river. The water, being above freezing, will take the ice away. Both of these methods mean your guides will ice up again soon and you have to do it all over again.

One of the better methods is to put a drop of glycerin in the eye of each guide. This will keep it free for some time. A small bottle of glycerin with an eye dropper built into the cap will take up little room in a tackle box or fishing vest and pay big dividends during freezing weather.

The Warriors of CP are not for their race horse brand of ball, especially in the spacious confines of their own gym. Many league coaches concede the fact a 10 point home advantage is more like 20 when the schedule takes them to Warrior country.

Weyerhaeuser Reports

Hunters Took 8,200 Elk, Deer From Company Land

Hunters harvested 5,422 deer and 2,779 elk on Weyerhaeuser Company's Washington forest lands during the 1966 season, according to compilations just completed by company game biologists and foresters.

Indications are that elk herds are increasing and deer population is holding fairly steady on the forest products company's Western Washington tree farms.

While deer tend to concentrate in recently logged areas, the average harvest was slightly more than two deer per square mile, based on an estimate of 1,687,293 acres of Weyerhaeuser land as deer range. Using the yardstick of "man - days" (one hunter a field for one day equals one man-day) the company was host to 56,900 man-days of deer hunting, and it took about 10-1/2 man-days of hunting to bag each deer.

The elk harvest exceeded three per square mile for the first time on an estimated 588,933 acres of elk range. Game biologists estimate the annual elk harvest at about 20 per cent of the herds. This would put the pre-season elk population at nearly 14,000 animals, up from an estimated 11,000 two years ago.

Besides big game, 255 bears and 4,418 grouse were reported taken on Weyerhaeuser land.

Virtually all of the firm's forest land in Washington and Oregon was open on weekends throughout the season, with much of it also open during the week. Weekday closures were necessary in areas of active logging operations.

Officials said public hunting access to company land last fall was, as usual, not without some problems, although in general, hunter conduct showed marked improvement over some previous years. Financial losses resulting from vandalism, theft and vehicle damage to wet roads totaled $7,478 in Washington and $3,760 in Oregon.

Washington nimrods racked up an excellent record of cooperation on fire prevention last fall with not a single blaze attributed to hunters reported on Weyerhaeuser land. In Oregon 10 hunter-caused fires burned over a total of five acres of company land.

Bethel Braves Face Trojans At Fife Friday

The Braves will be trying to hold on to their share of third place in the Seamount League Friday when they travel to Fife to meet the Trojans.

Bethel stayed in a three-way tie with Sumner and North Thursday this week after dumping Enumclaw 62-42 last Friday night.

Ketter with 18, Dolfin with 15 and Dukes with 14 sparked Bethel's attack, which rolled up a 34-20 halftime lead.

Spartan Five To Resume Cage Wars Fri

SUMNER - After a week's respite from Seamount League cage action, the Sumner Spartans will hit the boards and the road again Friday for a trip to North Thurston to help settle a three-way third-place tie.

Seemingly settled in the first division, the Spartans are tied with Bethel and North Thurston with a 6-3 record. But Foster and Curtis are only a half game behind them with a 6-4 record and Tumwater a single game behind with 5-4.

Matson's Memos

by Em Matson

Robin Hood never had it this good! That's what sporting goods dealer Darrel Deritis says about the new 18 foot archery range recently installed in his Pacific Avenue store. It seems modern bowmen like to try a bow for proper sighting before making a decision. If such sophistication in bow and arrow accuracy were available 100 years ago maybe one of Sitting Bull's relatives would be President today.

Sketches of the 1967 Franklin Pierce daffodil float are on display at Parkland Light and Water, 404 Garfield Street, along with the trophy for last year's entry. The float will feature a functional ferris wheel, and a merry-go-round.

Andy Egan recently opened Pierce County's newest Rambler agency at 8223 Pacific Avenue. He has been associated with Rambler sales the past 10 years and a resident of the area since 1954. His sales staff will be made up of sales manager Dick Larson and salesman Bob Huber, Earl Bauer, Bob Shelman and Wally Adams. Butch Sterbenz will be service manager. "Andy Egan Rambler will promote customer satisfaction by providing a basic policy fairness to all," the new owner states.

A hearty welcome to John Keeler, Mayfair's new manager for Park 'N Shop Market. He recently moved to the area from Eugene, Oregon, where he managed a Mayfair store. Good luck John in your new assignment.

Congratulations are in order for Armstrong Homes, which recently celebrated its first anniversary in the Parkland area. The Pierce County branch at 11319 Pacific Avenue is managed by Bob and Jim Person.

United Motors, 8818 Pacific Avenue, is a new addition to the Pacific Ave. used car lots. Al Torelli, top hand in the operation, will be assisted by Tom Carter.
