By Clarence La Crosse

This column has been sort of left out in the mad shuffle the past couple of weeks for various reasons. On one occasion it was my pleasure to allow Don Eastvoid the space because of his interesting column which we didn't have room for elsewhere. Then last week . . . well last week our paper looked like a shopper . . . but then we should be entitled to make ends meet once in a while.

Let it be known right now that it is not our policy to operate a shopper. We are endeavoring to give the residents of this area a first class newspaper with full coverage of all local news and news pertaining to local enterprise, clubs, etc. We sincerely believe that we are the only paper circulating in this area which can honestly make such a claim.

Our paper, The Parkland Times is printed right here in our own community of Parkland by local enterprise. We carry out the theme further by doing our mailing directly in the area which the paper serves. Every week our paper is mailed right here in Parkland thus creating more business for our own community. Last year we deposited the sum of nearly $2500 with the Parkland Post Office forming the Parkland Times. We not only advocate supporting local enterprise . . . we practice it.

School Patrol Busy

While driving to work the past few mornings it was gratifying to note the usual bustle and hurry of little tykes on their way to school. Sure they were riding their bikes all over the road . . . Playing tag with each other in the road but they weren't worried . . . We could say a lot about this . . . About them not supposed to be all over the road . . . That the road is for autos . . . But we won't.

All we will say is that it is better to take it easy for a few minutes . . . Keep that faith of theirs burning . . . Slow down in that school zone and along the streets . . . Take it easy, mister, with the auto . . . One of those little tykes might be yours . . . And you owe him everything.

Some Fish

At the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club of Parkland area Thursday it was our pleasure to have a share of the 65 pound salmon . . . yeah, that's right! . . . 65 pounds . . . and all on the same fish . . . which AlGroding sent from Alaska for the purpose . . . it was good . . . and a surprise . . . we still can't believe it . . . 65 pounds . . . thanks Al . . . drop in and tell us how you caught it when you get back and we will pass it on to our readers.

This and That

See Walt Young out doing a bit of painting on his home last week . . . Mary Harshman losing his voice over directions to the football team which is in the formation stage . . . at the same time noting Marv Tommervik trying to dodge any comments regarding the prospects for the year of the team . . . Stan Willis and Roy Rosted trying to outdo each other with fancy sport shirts . . . Morris Ford and Rufus Parker with one of those fancy Mike and Ike ties . . . two ties in one year . . . imagine that . . . looked like Jack Quill was trying to outdo himself Thursday at Kiwanis with all the guests he brought with him . . . and all the nice things he and Herb Socolofsky kept passing back and forth . . . almost expect to see Jack Quill turn out for college football this year.

Dr. Cowan so busy with patients that he hasn't had time to play golf lately . . . hear that Tom Troy has sold out The Little Diner . . . Getting ready for his grand opening soon . . . watch for the big congratulatory issue we are publishing for the event . . . we have been noting with considerable interest the progress of this aggressive firm . . . with the addition of the new extension of their building they will have a whopping big place and a whopping big selection . . . aggressive firms like Pochel's with able leaders such as Ray are putting the Parkland area on the map . . . Joe Chesquiere our top hand is busy moving this week and next . . . He is getting two weeks vacation . . . and very well deserved . . . Joe has been with Parkland Times and La-Crosse Printing Company way back when Elmer Beard owned and started the former Prairie Pointer . . . Joe just bought a new home so his vacation is going to be a busy one.

Midland Baseballers Cop Valley Crown

By Mrs. Lois Johann

The Midland boys are this week the undisputed champions of the Valley League. This goal was attained last Sunday when the Midland team went against Mineral in the final game of the play-off at Tiger Park. Midland showed their superiority in fielding, hitting and all around good baseball throughout the entire game.

Bob Fredericks, the pitcher, was never in trouble at any time and the only run scored by Mineral came across on a wild pitch. The manner in which Glen Couture fielded his shortstop position was baseball at its best. A couple of tricky catches in the outfield and two hits for four times at bat assured everyone that Ray Wing, the boy who was injured in the game with Flea Club the week before, was indeed fully recovered.

Congratulations are in order for these boys and while we have mentioned only a few in particular it is always all nine men on the team who play the game so none is more important than the other in the final analysis. Manager of the team this year who has turned in a fine job is Frank Turner. Bob Hansler has handled the business affairs for the club.

In the nightcap game Sunday, a team of all stars was picked at the rate of two from each of the Valley League teams. The two Midland players picked were Morry Taylor and Johnny Hansler. This game ended at 6 to 4 for the Tigers but at no time did the Big Boys look as if they had a walk-away with the youngsters.

The first hit in this game for the All Stars was a triple by Taylor who then scored the first run. The second run for the All Stars was scored by Johnny Hansler so the Midland boys gave good account of themselves.

PARKLAND GOES COLLEGIATE AS STUDENTS BACK

The college students are back for the fall term, and Parkland has taken on that collegiate look once more. Freshmen boys hobble around in heavy, thick-soled oxfords, and the girls sport new sweaters and skirts.

A week of orientation for the freshmen at Pacific Lutheran began Monday morning when Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of the college, welcomed the yearlings at the opening convocation.

Since Monday the newcomers have been subjected to a barrage of tests, lectures and receptions.

Monday and Tuesday, both morning and afternoon, tests were given in English, mathematics, scholastic aptitude, personality and psychology. The purpose of these examinations is to assist the administration in its student guidance program.

Members of the Lutheran Students Association gave a reception for the freshmen Tuesday night. Wednesday evening they were guests in the homes of faculty members. Friday night the faculty will give its annual formal reception for the new class at 8 in the Student Union. An all-school picnic on the campus Saturday evening will conclude the week of orientation.

PARKLANDERS HEAR LIBE TALK AND SEE SAUERS

Tonight, the Parkland Community club will hold its initial fall meeting in the Parkland school. A "short, snappy" meeting has been planned.

During the business phase of the get-together, the group will hear a progress report from the library committee. President Roy Kreger also has a few words to say on Parkland's "Little Theatre" movement.

Mrs. Grant Sauer and her five talented children will be the featured entertainers. This troupe has performed before large paid audiences in Seattle, Tacoma and Canada, and recently at the Parkland area Kiwanis meeting.

MIDLAND NEWS

By Mrs. Lois Johann

The Flower Box Garden Club met last evening at the home of Mrs. Orville Bombardier. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Vince Lucich and Mrs. Ranghill Peterson. Mrs. Robert Hanson and Mrs. Charles Thornton were in charge of the plant and seed sale that took place at the meeting. Plants and seeds were supplied by the members.

Mrs. Roy Christensen has made a request for containers for the Puyallup Fair. They must measure 12 inches or less, including contents, but not the handle, or 24 inches or less including basket and contents but not the handle. Containers for mantel and hall arrangements will also be needed and members were asked to be gathering materials for winter bouquets.

There was also installation of officers. Those installed were: The Mesdames Charles Thornton, president; Helen Mueller, vice-president; Orville Bombardier, secretary; James Weaver, historian, and Norman Nelson, secretary. Mrs. Henry Tefre was named program chairman.

At the joint Cub and Scout committee meeting which was held at the R. V. Simpson home last week it was decided the chicken dinner would be held Oct. 1 at the Midland hall.

Mrs. Paul Wilson is to be chairman, assisted by all of the Den Mothers. Clarence Skog will be in charge of the door prizes which will be given on the hour from noon until five o'clock. Anyone interested in the Cub and Scout work can help in this venture by donating a pic or chicken to the cause. If you wish to help, contact Mrs. Wilson at Granite 8687.

Anne McPherson was installed as president of the Harvard, Midland & Larchmont Ladies Auxiliary when they met last week at the fire station. Taking office with her were Fran Johnson, vice president; Viola Bombardier, secretary; Evelyn Jensen, treasurer, and Helen Robinson, marshal.

The out-going officers presented the new group with lovely corsages in an impressive ceremony. Helen Robinson, as out-going president, was honored with a special gift. Mrs. McPherson appointed the following committees to serve with her for the year: Harriet Bergmann, sunshine; Peggy Christensen, money-well; Alma Gemmell, birthdays; Caroline Deering, historian; Lois Johann, publicity; and Anne Kemp, Lil Hansler and Joyce Vance, adjustment.

Peggy Christensen, a new member, was welcomed into the group and presented with a pin. The birthday of Fran Johnson was observed and hostesses were Alma Gemmell and Lois Blauvelt.

At their first Fall meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. Katherine Logan, St. John of the Woods Altar Society made plans for their card party and social to be held Friday evening (Sept. 15) at 8:00 p.m., at the Midland hall. Pinochle, "500" and Canasta will be played. An interesting "Jackpot" has been arranged beside the other awards. Refreshments will be served, followed by a social hour including square dancing called by Don Whisler.

Mrs. Frank Couture, society president, appointed the following committees: Refreshments, Mesdames John Deuel, Edward Boyle, Frank Baker and David Dickson; Tickets, Mesdames Thomas Dole, Thomas Galivan and Larry Cleary; Cards, Mrs. Elvin Bombardier; Jackpot, Mrs. Walter Corrigan; other awards, Mesdames Erasmus, Al Edil and the Misses Mary Claire Dickson and Beverly Corrigan. The public is cordially invited to attend and a good time is promised everyone.

Don Eastvold Wins; Times Predict 36 Right of 38 Made

ENROLLMENT AT FRANK.-PIERCE SCHOOLS UP 442

Superintendent Morris Ford this week predicted that between 2800-2900 will be the final enrollment before the end of the school year. This figure includes all the schools comprising the Franklin Pierce District; namely, Parkland, Collins, Central Avenue and Midland. All four of the above-named schools are badly cramped. The entire district has employed 11 more teachers than the preceding year.

As of Monday the total enrollment of the Franklin Pierce school district was listed as 2504, which is a sharp increase of 442 over last year. As Mrs. Bob Lynd, secretary to Ford, explained to the Parkland Times, this is based on an average daily enrollment which was 2062 last year. In percentage figures this amounts to 21% increase over last year's attendance.

With this large increase in enrollment and the prospect of a still larger enrollment, the district is anxiously awaiting the outcome of the 40 million (Continued on page 4)

Don Eastvold has done it! Leading in a field and in a territory which has always been predominately Democrat, Don won an astonishing lead over even the incumbent fisherman. Undoubtedly many good democrats made an exception and voted for Don in spite of their party affiliation. Latest figures up to press time gave Don Eastvold a huge lead of 4745 votes against 3793 for his Democratic opponent, Jackson. Don easily nosed out all opposition from his own party.

Parkland area went all out for Eastvold. In the College precinct where Don lives, he received four times as many votes as all three of his opponents combined. Out of eight Parkland precincts Don received a total of 597 votes to 247 for Jackson; a very good indication that the public wants a change, also indicating that party comes second to a good candidate.

Last week the Parkland Times predicted the winners in most of the races. We are checking the predictions against the results with the following results: Of 38 of the predictions made, The Parkland Times missed only two. Those two were close races and are really not fully decided as yet but it looks as if we tabbed the wrong winner in the Democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney when we named Al Morrison over John O'Connell. The other error was the prediction of a win for Martin Easterday for the post of assessor. Schlarb is leading at the time of this writing but the vote is not yet final. Bob Gleason easily nosed out Doug Morris and other opponents in the 1st district race for county commissioner.

As it appears at press time the following will represent their parties in the November 7 election.

U.S. Senate: Warren G. Magnuson (D) and Walter Williams (R).

U.S. Representative to Congress: Thor Tollefson (R) and John Coffee (D).

State Senator, 29th District: DONALD EASTVOLD (R) and B. Jackson (D).

State Senator, 26th District: Russ Barlow (R) and John Sherman (D).

State Representative, 27th District: Neil J. Hoff and James Copeland (R), George Kuppka and Katherine Malmstrom (D).

State Representative, 26th District: A. B. Comfort and Hal D. Murland (R), Willard Holudn and Paul Wagley (D).

County Commissioner, 1st District: Frank Quinn (R) and Bob Gleason (D).

County Commissioner, 3rd District:

Totten & Loring Opens Realty Firm

Believing that the growth of Parkland will be rapid and desiring to grow with the community, as well as assisting in its growth, E. Odel Totten and J. R. Loring, both Parkland residents, have opened a realty company on Garfield St. last week.

Totten was formerly associated with Forrester & Lee, Tacoma real estate firm. Loring is a retired marine engineer, having sailed on the Great Lakes and ocean-going vessels for many years. They say that Parkland is a "coming community."

What the Public Should Know . . .

WHAT is Dry Cleaning? What does your cleaner do with your garments while in his care?

THE Dry Cleaning Industry came into existence about a century ago. A Frenchman by the name of Jolly Belin spilled turpentine by accident from a lamp on a linen table cloth. He was astonished to find it had left a clean spot, removing the soil from the cloth. This was the beginning to the Dry Cleaning Industry; so the story goes.

GASOLINE was used in the industry for many years. But very dangerous. There were many explosions and fires causing millions of dollars damage. Many lost their lives. This was caused by lack of knowledge.

THE fumes of gasoline is mostly hydrogen, carbon and some sulphur, commonly known as hydrocarbon. This hydrocarbon and oxygen was subject to explode from most any spark from an electric motor, any open flame, cigarette, static electricity, etc.

STATIC electricity caused most of the fires and explosions. Any wool or silk garments rubbing together will cause it. Most of you have combed your hair out after washing and drying. Have you noticed it to crackle and follow the comb? That is it.

DUE to the danger of fire and explosion, cities and towns throughout the country put rigid instructions on Dry Cleaners. Their cleaning rooms had to be from 20 to 30 feet from any building, and had to have eight-inch concrete walls, vapor-proof lights, sealed motors, all vents from cleaning machines and dry tumblers had to be not less than eight feet above the building so the vapors could escape into the open air. Heavy fireproof doors had to be installed on ports of entry, to insure the fire to stay in the confines of the room. Insurance? Oh, no, not then . . .

SO the Dry Cleaning Industry has its history of hazards and dangers of the use of gasoline. It makes one shudder when he looks back through the years. But no one has yet to find the explosive power of the hydrocarbon and oxygen.

LET us follow this article next week with: SOLVENTS IN RELATION TO FABRICS.

Altering Dress Waistlines . . . ONE INCH LARGER THAN PERSON

By the Staff of the SCHOOL OF HOME ECONOMICS University of Washington

The only woman who likes to feel that the waistline of her dress or skirt is too loose is the woman who is trying to reduce; she does not object to altering waistlines. Most women are annoyed, however, at the frequent stretching of the waistline of a dress which at first fit correctly. There are several ways to keep waistlines from stretching.

If a dress has a waistline seam, as most one piece dresses have, the quickest but least effective way is to stitch the seam twice, placing the second machine stitches right on top of the first.

A better way to prevent stretching is to stitch some material which will not stretch into the waistline seam. For cotton and linen dresses, a cotton twill tape is good. For light weight, light colored dresses, the straight tape which is used by tailors for taping crease lines and edges may be used on waistlines. If you have a piece of dress fabric which has a firm selvedge, cut a strip long enough for the waistline of your dress and 5/8 inch wide. This has the advantage of matching the color of your dress.

For wool dresses, grosgrain ribbon, which is about 1/2 inch wide is good. The ribbon may extend all the way around your waist so that the ends can be hooked together before you fasten the dress itself. This method of fastening the grosgrain is especially good for wool jersey waistlines. Another way is to cut off the ribbon when it reaches a zipper or other placket, or a facing.

If the dress has a lapped waistline seam, the straight fabric, tape or ribbon may be placed under the seam and stitched in one operation. It may be stitched with a plain seam, too, if all of the seam allowances can be pressed one way, either into the skirt or into the blouse of the dress. If the waistline seam is to be pressed open, the tape is usually sewn into the seam by secure hand sewing after the waistline seam is stitched and pressed open. Dresses which have set-in belt (two layers of straight fabric) do not need these preventive measures. The skirt of a two piece dress may have a piece of muslin or grosgrain ribbon inside the skirt belt. A dress which has no waistline seam may have straight tape or ribbon inside the dress fastened to the seams, darts and placket at the location of the waistline.

For ease of motion and comfort, the waistline of a dress should remain just one inch larger than the waistline of a person.

TRIANGLE FEEDS

Bring up to 90% LAY

Last year we raised 1500 chicks on Triangle feeds and have used it exclusively since with complete satisfaction, getting up to 90% lay through the winter months despite the severe winter and are still getting between 75-80% lay now with indication of increase with improved weather conditions. So far we have done no culling since birds were housed.

We started with poultry five years ago on Triangle feeds and have tried other kinds of feeds but always found we got better results and profits by using Triangle feeds.

Kin to radar, "Jump-Jump" hurls television from point to point on radio beams aimed like a searchlight.

WEST'S FIRST TELEVISION NETWORK

Relay system to operate between San Francisco and Los Angeles

1. Amplifying equipment like this is connected with the hornlike antennas above to relay television programs or long distance telephone calls from one part of the country to another. Engineers call it micro-wave . . . for it uses high-frequency radio waves, and it gets its nickname, "Jump-Jump," because the beams leap-frog between relay stations located on mountains 28 to 65 miles apart.

2. Television programs can be relayed from one point to another by micro-wave or by coaxial cable. The first leg of a Western television network will begin operating between San Francisco and Los Angeles September 15 over the newly-completed "Jump-Jump" system. And we're going ahead with surveys and experiments to extend the television network to other areas of the West.

3. The research which produced this micro-wave system was conducted in Bell Telephone Laboratories . . . originators of so many electronic developments. Hundreds of them have led to better telephone service at lower cost . . . and have played a major part in making your telephone the big value it is today. For in spite of rising prices, telephone rates have gone up much less than our costs of providing service. On the average, our prices have gone up less than half as much as the cost of living generally.

The Spanaway Post Office will reach its 60th milestone of its existence on Sept. 20. Established on that day in 1890, the then Lake Park community had Fred Hurd as its postmaster.

Following Hurd was Dan Lunkley who was appointed in May, 1893. Lunkley was in turn succeeded by a Mrs. Tullock, during whose term—on Sept. 17, 1897—the post office's name was changed to Lake Park.

Watson C. Shriner followed Mrs. Tullock and remained until April, 1915. The rural route was laid out during Shriner's term, with Don Whiteside as the first carrier.

All the earlier postmasters were appointed under the old political system whereby the postmaster remained in office only so long as his political party was in power. With the passing of the Civil Service Laws, this custom was changed.

Miss Clara G. Lindsly, in 1915, was the first postmaster to receive the appointment under this new law. However, she resigned in 1917 to marry Charles C. Phipps. Mrs. Phipps was not relieved until March of the following year by Kenneth A. McKenzie.

Frank Sherman followed Whiteside as carrier. Both of these men carried the then 20-mile route by horse and buggy, serving about 100 boxes. Sherman later used an automobile on the route and the resulting service was "something to talk about."

After Sherman's resignation, because of poor health, his brother, Ross, carried the mail by motorcycle and sidecar.

Kenneth McKenzie served until his death in 1935, when his niece, Mrs. Lelah King, was appointed Acting Postmaster. During McKenzie's term Ross Sherman resigned and was succeeded by Lorien Buck. Next came George Sweeney as carrier. He remained for 30 years and then retired.

About this time, the route was extended, taking over parts of the discontinued Lakeview rural route. The route then became about 54 miles and included about 260 boxes.

The route "length" was twice cut when "Camp Lewis" and later Fort Lewis took over vast tracts of land. After that, it was about 42 miles in length. But with the increase of population, the number of boxes in 42 miles was a small decrease in number of boxes.

Postmaster McKenzie's death necessitated the holding of another Civil Service examination. Again it was Mrs. Clara G. Lindsly Phipps who won the appointment, taking office March 3, 1937.

In 1938 the Spanaway Office was advanced to a third class post office, thus requiring another examination for the postmaster. However, Mrs. Phipps, because of her satisfactory record, easily passed the "non-competitive" test. She then received her third commission, one as Miss Lindsly and two as Mrs. Phipps.

Incidentally, her husband was Spanaway's first Civil Service post office clerk, serving until his death.

During the war years, with wages soaring in war industries, the rural route job was not too attractive and the personnel turnover after Sweeney's retirement was frequent.

Paul Maynard took over as rural carrier but arthritis forced him to quit the job and move to a warmer climate. Following Maynard was Lewis Falden. Although his status now is temporary carrier, he has qualified by examination and notice of his permanent appointment "may come any day."

With several revisions in the past few years, the present route is about 47 miles long, serving over 2000 patrons through 569 boxes.

The Post Office serves over 500 patrons with 204 boxes and a "heavy" volume of general delivery.

Laura McLellan served several years as temporary clerk, followed by Mrs. Helen Feddersen, a native daughter of Spanaway who now has her permanent appointment as sub clerk, after more than two years as temporary clerk. Mrs. Gladys Engebretson is the present temporary sub clerk, on duty when necessity arises.

Mrs. Phipps, as postmaster, has served six generations of the Merle Handy family, five generations of the Beulah Ballards, Chester Cresos and William Rohrs. The number of four generation service given by Mrs. Phipps is too large to mention in this writing.

Among the families named in the earliest list of box holders on record at the Spanaway Post Office include: the Ballards, Handys, Phipps, Weltons, Franciscos, Ockfens, Bresemanns, Rohrs, Lockes and Loddes.

Sixty years . . . the area's oldest post office — congratulations!

Knockin' on Doors

By Don Eastvold

The most interesting day in a political campaign, is the day that the voters go to the polls and cast their ballots. This being my first venture into politics, it was a new experience. I received many telephone calls during the day. Perhaps the most interesting was from a lady who called to tell me that there was something crooked going on at her polling place. She said that her husband, her son and she had made a special point to vote because they were interested in my campaign but that when they arrived at their polling place, my name wasn't even on the ballot. She had taken a dim view of the integrity of politicians in the past and this situation confirmed her belief. I asked her where she lived and after she had given me the street address, I informed her there was a good reason why my name wasn't on the ballot; the reason being that she lived in the 28th district.

On election night the auditor's office in the court house is the center of all political activity. All of the candidates and many of their most ardent supporters gather there to obtain first hand the results as they are tabulated and announced. A tension prevails that is difficult to describe.

I met Barney Jackson in the court house on election night and I was rather interested in one observation that he made to me when it appeared that I was running ahead of him. He said, "You know the fellows over in the railroad shops told me yesterday that they were going to vote for you instead of me because they are anxious that I should return to work in the shop with them." Rather jokingly I told Barney that I hoped there were a lot of men working in the railroad shops that liked him so well that they would rather have him working full time in the shops and allow someone else to represent them in Olympia.

The most encouraging and humbling results of this campaign to me has been the way that the people in the Parkland area have supported me in this election. The Parkland vote in my contest is as follows:

Eastvold: Parkland No. 1, 76; Parkland No. 2, 101; Meadow, 58; College, 100; Armour, 102; Sales, 42; Wildwood, 47; Crystal 71; total 597.

Jackson: Parkland No. 1, 35; Parkland No. 2, 23; Meadow, 33; College, 14; Armour, 23; Sales, 34; Wildwood, 38; Crystal, 47; total 247.

Nordlund: Parkland No. 1, 4; Parkland No. 2, 12; Meadow, 11; College, 8; Armour, 8; Sales, 8; Wildwood 12; Crystal, 28; total 71.

Buffon: Parkland No. 1, 2; Parkland No. 2, 1; Meadow, 3; College, 4; Armour, 4; Sales, 1; Wildwood, 0; Crystal, 12; total 27.

I want to personally thank the residents of the Parkland area for this overwhelming vote of confidence. I want to particularly thank the many staunch democratic voters who supported me in spite of their party affiliation. I also want to thank the members of organized labor who have done so much for me in my campaign.

I am going to take a vacation from politics for two weeks, but if my good friend Clarence LaCrosse, publisher of the Parkland Times, will be good enough to allow me to continue this column, I will be back with you then, relating more of the interesting experiences in the life of a young politician.

A special Rally Day program is scheduled for the attendance at the Harvard Covenant church this Sunday. All the Sunday school will participate in a gigantic program which will include special singing, recitations by the Sunday School Group.

PLC OPENS ACTIVITIES

begin Monday and will continue through the week. Freshmen will register Friday. College officials are unable to estimate what the enrollment will be because of the present world situation. The total for the first semester last year was 993.

Six persons have been added to the faculty and staff. In the music department there are two additions. Frederick Newnham will teach voice, and Harley Christopherson will have band, orchestra and teach public school music courses. Newnham is a well known baritone who has appeared in concert, oratorio, opera and radio in the United States, Great Britain and Canada. He comes now from Winnipeg where he has been connected with the University of Manitoba. Christopherson comes from Aberdeen, S.D., where he has been teaching in the public schools. In addition to eleven years of public school work in the Midwest, he has done graduate work at the universities of Michigan and South Dakota.

Vernon Utzinger will replace Mrs. Pauline Schaffer in the department of speech. He comes from the University of Southern California where he has been working toward his doctor's degree. He has taught speech and radio at Carroll College in Wisconsin and Whittier College in California.

dollar bond issue to be voted on in the November election. If this issue passes, relief in the way of money for elementary and high school building will be coming from the state.

Steps are also being taken to secure Federal money for building, maintenance and operation. If the present Congress should pass the two measures now before them, such money will be available to the district.

One of the main advances made in the system is the new department of speech and hearing headed by Orville Weeks, a specialist in speech and hearing problems and their corrections. In addition to working in the Franklin Pierce district, Weeks also acts as county coordinator for this new department.
