

Knockin' on Doors

By Don Eastvold

(Ed. Note: Eastvold (Rep.) relates his experiences as he knocks on doors and conducts his campaign.)

Many people ask me what area is included in the 29th district. I am sure that many of you have wondered the same. It is the largest legislative district both in number of precincts and in population in Pierce County. It includes 13 county precincts, eight of which are in the Parkland area, the other five are known as University Place, Day Island, Fircrest, Hunts Prairie and Lakewood.

In a general way the boundaries of the 93 city precincts are as follows: Beginning at 96th and A, going down A street to 64th, then across 64th to Park then down Park avenue until it joins Tacoma avenue to the Court House. Then roughly from the Court House out to the Sound with North 19th street as the extreme most boundary line. The latest reports are that there are over 40,000 registered voters in this district.

As I approached a home in the K street district, one morning last week, a little boy asked, "What do you want mister?" I replied, "I would like to see your mother or dad if they are at home." "Mom's out in back," he said, as he headed for the back yard. I followed him only to find she wasn't there. "She must be down in the basement," he said, as he started down the steps, indicating that I should follow him, but she wasn't in the basement either. The little fellow said, "Come on upstairs." So up the basement stairs we went.

As we landed in the kitchen, I heard a child's voice outside shout, "Hey Jim, come on out and play." My little friend took off like a flash, leaving me in the middle of the kitchen floor all alone in a stranger's house. Just then his mother walked in and as might be expected, said, "Well! Who are you and what are you doing here?" To explain my presence in the kitchen took more than political talk.

Later in the day, it became very hot and in almost every yard I could see a sprinkler throwing out the water on the baking grass. One of the homes that sat about a hundred feet back from the street had one of its sprinklers just a few feet from the sidewalk that approached the house, and it looked as if it weren't working properly or the pressure was low.

I called it to the attention of the lady who was sitting on the porch as I approached her home. No sooner were the words out of my mouth than the water spurted out with excellent force and two little boys peeking around the corner giggled, "Boy, did we get him wet." The good mother lectured her boys—and promised to make things right by voting for me—what a price to pay for a vote.

Yesterday I met an elderly gentleman, who somehow had gotten the impression that it was my father who was a candidate for the State Senate. I had to talk rather loud, as he was hard of hearing, but I tried to explain that it was I who was running for office. "Ya," he said "your dad is sure a fine fellow." I, of course, agreed with him and tried to get the subject of the conversation shifted away from my father, but it was to no avail. As I left, he said, "You tell Dr. Eastvold, I sure will vote for him. We need men like him in office."

Although this column is intended to portray the lighter side of politics, I can not resist ending this week's column on a more serious note. We are living in a time of reoccurring crisis. Most of us have already had close friends or relatives leave for active duty with the armed forces. A war is being waged which may very well continue and spread. It is a war in which the freedom and dignity of man are at stake. It is a war which will require aggressive and able leadership on all levels of government.

It is a time when every citizen must realize his obligations to his government and his government's obligations to him. It is a time when we must all exercise the rights and duties of good citizenship.

KERR, SAUERS TAKE KIWANIS MEET SPOTLIGHT

Highlighting tonight's meeting of the Parkland Area Kiwanis club will be an address by Public Safety Commissioner James T. Kerr, of Tacoma.

Herb Socolofsky, chairman of the program committee, informed the Parkland Times late Monday evening that they felt fortunate in obtaining Kerr. Commissioner Kerr is said to be a forceful, dynamic personality.

Prior to the address of the evening the group will hear the locally famous "Sauer Kiddies," Nanette, Susan, Joan and Bonny, who have just completed a week's engagement at the Palamar theater in Seattle.

This highly talented group of youngsters will perform tonight largely through the efforts of Socolofsky. They were discovered by Roy Rogers' "Stars of Tomorrow" show in Tacoma recently. The youngsters will be accompanied by their mother.

Spanaway Fire Drill Draws Huge Crowd To 2nd and Pacific

By Mrs. Oliver Omat
GR 6466

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Beckman, the executive board of the Spanaway Pre-School will meet to discuss the school year. Mrs. Kenneth Reeves, president of the group for her second term, will call the meeting to order.

Mrs. George Hamblet and daughter Ione of Regina, Sask., Canada, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kirby. Mrs. Hamblet is Mr. Kirby's sister.

The executive board of the Spanaway P.T.A. will meet tonight to begin planning for the coming school year. Mrs. John Newell, in her second term as president, will preside at the meeting.

We wish to express our deepest sympathies to Mrs. Mary Hendrickson whose mother, Mrs. Martha Rand, passed away last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tarpenning moved last Sunday to their new home on 9th and Pacific St.

A practice drill really brought crowds when the Spanaway volunteer firemen set fire to the grass on a lot at 2nd and Pacific St. Sunday night.

Lee N. Withrow, 66, of 227 East 96th St., who was seriously injured last Tuesday in a two-car crash at Golden Given and 96th St. was still in a coma early this week in St. Joseph hospital. He suffered a severe skull fracture.

MIKE AND IKE (left and right, respectively) watched the photographer's "birdie" like good little girls last week. This is their baby picture, their first. They weigh about the same now, but Rufus Parker of the Avenue Feed Store says that in about three months, Mike, with the nationally advertised feed, Parker says, will grossly outweigh Ike. The pigs will be "sold" at the conclusion of this demonstration. Parkland area Kiwanians are helping the Avenue Feed Store which will turn over the proceeds for a Kids Day celebration, scheduled for Sept. 3 on the PLC field.

Two Little Girls Growing Up

DIRTY MIKE AND EMBARRASSING IKE

A crowd had gathered at the Avenue Feed Store to see a couple of curvacious cuties named Ike and Mike.

A little girl, her name presumably "Sandy," edged up cautiously to peek into the duplex pig pen. Spying Mike sprawled comfortably in her boudoir, she (the human, not Mike) muttered: "I wish I were a pig!"

"You are—most of the time!" her mother smiled.

Blind G. I. Presented Home In Parkland

A house at So. 121st and East F St. was presented to Allen E. Thomas, blind war veteran, last weekend.

At an impressive ceremony, the Sam Brough Post No. 6855, VFW, presented Thomas with the deed to his new home, built almost entirely by members of the VFW post who worked on it evenings and weekends.

Thomas had been living in a trailer in Seattle while completing a basket-weaving course in Seattle. He lost the sight of one eye when he was 12 years old.

After serving three years in the Army during the last war, he went to work with B. E. Rouse. But in 1948 while chipping concrete, a piece of it grazed his good eye and left him totally blind.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Rouse donated the land, adjacent to their home, for the site of Thomas' new home.

Regarding This Issue

Dear Reader:

Due to the unexpected volume of advertising that flooded us this week, many worthy news items and interesting feature articles had to be left out.

However, we have attempted to sort-out the more timely topics for presentation in this issue. If a news item submitted does not appear here-with, it was due to limitations in space, please understand.

Watch next week's issue for the following features:

1. Another interesting account of our publisher's news comments.
2. An analytical discussion, prepared by the University of Washington, on why your child fights.
3. An open letter to Parkland, written by Frank Berry, manager of the local junior American Legion baseball team.
4. Mrs. W. L. Sargent's letter pointing up an analogy between our story on Kenneth Willard, Bob Feller Youth Award winner, and our publisher's comments on vandalism.

These and many more features, along with more local news, will appear next week. Keep in tune with The Times.

The Editor.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nordyke left this week for their vacation to California and Mexico. They will return Sept. 6.

Graham Fire Losers Need House to Rent

"Bonnie Mae, my freckle-faced heroine . . ." said Mrs. Lee Hunter of Graham, as the mother hugged her 8-month-old son. Mike goo-gooed playfully, too small to realize that he had been saved from flaming death.

All the principals of last Friday night's fire in Graham were gathered around Bonnie Mae Brown, 15, in cabin 3 at the Bungalow cabins, 10702 Pacific Ave., Monday night.

Steilacoom 7, Spanaway 4.
Parkland 11, Fircrest 10.

Parkland's "hot as fire" volunteer firemen edged the Fircrest firehouse boys, 11 to 10 last Sunday at the Athletic park to win a final spot in the Firemen's League playoffs. The localities meet Steilacoom at 8 p. m. tomorrow on the Athletic park for the championship.

Trailing 9 to 10 in the last half of the 7th inning Sunday, the Parklanders came to life and pushed across two runs on successive singles by Carl Ellingson, Gay Kagler, Ernie Skance and Fritz Beitz to nose-out powerful Fircrest.

Another in a series of teenage dances was held in the Grange hall last Friday night. Chaperones for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reardon. The next dance is scheduled for Sept. 1.

Mrs. William G. Brown was given a surprise birthday party at the teachers' training class last Friday. The hostess, Mrs. Anderson, brought a birthday cake and gifts were presented by the other members to Mrs. Brown.

Elk Plain Sunday school has started a new attendance contest. An imaginary trip to Nome, Alaska, is being made by the two teams, captained by Joyce Loveland and Dale Tibbitts.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Rich had as their guests last week Mr. and Mrs. Amer and Mrs. Tibbitts of Seattle. Mrs. Tibbitts is Mrs. Rich's mother.

Shirley Schriver has been in a Tacoma hospital for the past two weeks recuperating an appendectomy.

In preparation for the opening of school, Elk Plain school has been undergoing quite a few changes. New lights have been installed in all the rooms, a new stove and tables and stools have been purchased for the lunchroom, and most of the room floors have been freshly painted.

What we truly and earnestly aspire to be, that in some sense we are.—Anna Jameson.

There were Burt Brown, the girl's father; Mrs. Bessie Kidd, her mother; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hunter whose home was destroyed; the five rescued Hunter children, Rachel, 9, Ethel Rae, 6, Johnnie, 5, Larry, 2, and Mike; Koalie, the Hunter cocker-spaniel who was also saved, and Joanne Patterson, a friend of the heroine.

While baby-sitting the five children, fire swept the Hunter home, but Bonnie Mae's quick thinking and bravery saved them. She first carried three children to safety from a downstairs bedroom, then dashed back into the burning house to an upstairs room and threw two other children to safety.

Said Mrs. Hunter: "We're awfully proud of Bonnie Mae and thank all the people who helped us out. . . . We're thankful that Bonnie Mae kept her head. . . . We're thankful we have the children. . . ."

Mrs. Hunter was away shopping and her husband was in Kelso at the time of the fire. The house was completely destroyed, and the Hunters are now staying with the Browns.

Hunter, a roofer by trade, rushed home from Kelso and learned that Brown had taken the children to a movie. Hunter smiled a bit as he quoted 5-year-old Johnnie who upon seeing his father complained, "Daddy, Bonnie pulled my hair and threw me out of the window!"

The Hunters are now looking for a house to rent. They found a house for $65, said Mrs. Hunter, but can afford to pay only about $25.

Born in Duncan, Ariz., Bonnie Mae was brought to Spanaway when she was 3 months old. She attended Parkland school for her first and second grades, then to Fern Hill for her third to fifth, and was graduated last June from Spanaway school. She plans to enter Parkland in September for her 9th year, then to Roy high school.

She is said to be quite an athlete, having starred at Spanaway in softball, basketball and volleyball. Bonnie Mae says she wants to be a professional athlete. Mrs. Hunter and her father chimed-in that she was also a good artist, and that she loves comic books.

Tuesday the Tacoma Elks lodge presented Bonnie Mae with a $100 gift certificate in recognition and reward for her outstanding feat.

"Bonnie Mae is going to get a nice little reward from us, too, when we're able. . . ." Mrs. Hunter said.

More Can Enroll In Parkland Concordia School, Says Pastor

Fifty pupils have already enrolled in the Parkland Concordia Lutheran school, but more can be taken, the Rev. Walther Gullixson, pastor of the sponsoring church, announced this week.

"The renovated Parkland Lutheran school offers Christian education to any and all who want to make use of it," he said.

Reverend Gullixson added that new books have been purchased for their September opening and that instruction will be under Mrs. Iver Johnson (grades 1-4) and Vicor Richard Hawley (grades 5-8).

Mrs. Johnson is known for "teaching by doing" and is said to be an outstanding teacher. Hawley is here for his vicar year, having received his B. A. last June from the Concordia Lutheran seminary in St. Louis.

Mrs. Kleve, 69, Dies Preparing to Rush To Daughter's Side

While preparing to leave for Havre, Mont., where she had been called by the illness of a daughter, Mrs. Louise Kleve, 69, 558 So. 113th St., was stricken with a heart attack last Wednesday morning and died in her home.

Mrs. Kleve had planned to drive to Havre with a son, Lester, of Tacoma, to see Mrs. Lillian Hegdal of Bismarck, N. D. Mrs. Hegdal was injured in an auto accident in Havre and then developed pneumonia. She was returning to North Dakota after driving her mother, Mrs. Kleve, back to Parkland.

Born in Toronto, Canada, Mrs. Kleve came to the United States 63 years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Hegdal of Bismarck, and Mrs. Sophia Lawler of Parkland; two sons, Lester of Tacoma and Clifford of Steele, N. D.; a brother, John Davis of Tacoma; three sisters, Mrs. Edna Kunigrud of Hermiston, Ore., Mrs. Esther Neustal of La Grande, Ore., and Mrs. Abbie Moore of Boston, and seven grandchildren.

Services were held last Friday at the Piper chapel and the body was sent to Robinson, N. D., for burial.

Paul M. Boyle of Spanaway was one of six new lawyers who last week took the oath of admission to the bar. Judge W. A. Richmond administered the oath.

Roley, Smidt Attend Kiwanis Convention

President Clay Roley and John Smidt represented the Kiwanis club of the Parkland area Aug. 20-22 in Spokane at the annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Kiwanis district, it was learned this week.

Delegates from 190 clubs in the district, comprising a membership of almost 11,000 business and professional leaders attended the various sessions. The presiding officer was Gilman O. Rolstad, Tacoma business college principal and governor of the Pacific Northwest Kiwanis district.

Herman Fuchs' new daughter has a name, but it's not Molly Ann. She is Mary Michelle. Said Herman: "Don't ask me how to spell it."

Official records of the 28 states that report pavement maintenance costs by type of surface show that:

1. Concrete costs an average of only $109.84 per mile per year to maintain.
2. Other types of pavement cost from 1-1/4 to more than 4 times as much to maintain.

That's important to you, Mr. Motorist, because your gasoline taxes and license fees pay for paving and for maintaining roads.

This is important too: Concrete, with the lowest average maintenance cost, generally carries the heaviest traffic. And it lasts the longest.

Pierce County Prosecutor Recalls
Sensational Murder Trial

TACOMA, WASH.—Jake Bird had been in and out of penitentiaries for twenty-five years. During this period he had committed nine confirmed murders. Yet, on the night of October 30, 1947, he was still free to commit other murders, and on that night he entered a Tacoma home and hacked two women to death. Why hadn't this terrible menace been removed from society years ago? Patrick M. Steele, the Pierce County Prosecutor who finally put an end to Bird's quarter-century of lawlessness, revealed some interesting side-lights on the Bird Case.

PATRICK M. STEELE

later apprehended. Despite the fact that three axe murders had been committed in nearby Omaha on the three previous years. A colored society raised funds to finance his defense by selling pencils. Witnesses testified falsely as to his whereabouts on the night of the crime. Bird got off with a thirty-year sentence, but was out again in twelve years.

"Although the press, through garbled and inaccurate versions, had the public believing that I was attempting to make a 'deal' to give this vile eleven-time murderer a life sentence, my object from start to finish was to see that Jake Bird paid the final penalty. It took only thirty minutes for the jury to reach the verdict of guilty, which demonstrates the effectiveness of the case I had prepared against him.

"Some people were of the opinion that I was trying to soften the penalty when Jake Bird was still alive eighteen months after the trial. As I mentioned before, Bird was a smart convict. Our system of law provides many safeguards to assure that only the guilty are punished. These safeguards were as available to Bird as to any other citizen, and Bird, through his exceptional knowledge of criminal law, was able to take advantage of every legal maneuver. The fact that every move of Bird's met with failure attested to the thoroughness which marked his prosecution. No lawyer, no prosecuting attorney in the country could have hurried the death penalty. Three execution dates were stayed — first by Governor Walgren, then by two appellate courts.

"When Judge Rosellini signed a death warrant for the third and last time he said, 'Many persons not familiar with the legal workings of this case have been critical of its long delay. This has been to enable you to have every recourse to law.'

"Jake Bird was hanged at Walla Walla on July 15th, 1949. For eighteen months I had fought against every repressive and every legal move that Bird had made. My object had been, from start to finish, to see that Jake Bird would never murder another innocent person. The object was accomplished."

Miss Reneau Honored By 200 at PLC Tea

Nearly 200 students, faculty members and friends last Wednesday noon attended a tea given in honor of Miss Georgia Reneau who is retiring after 17 years on the PLC faculty. The affair was held in the Student Union building.

In behalf of the summer session minority problems class, Mr. William Muse, a student, presented Miss Reneau with two crystal lamps. She also received a tafetta quilted study coat and a guest book containing the names of those who attended.

During the tea, incidental music was played by Miss Amy Knutson and Mrs. Helen Jensen.

A program followed the tea with Mr. Albert Gertsman as chairman. Dr. Philip E. Hauge, dean of the college, paid tribute to Miss Reneau's work at PLC. Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of the college, was warm in his appreciation of what she had contributed to the college and her fine influence on the students.

Miss Jean Hesla, accompanied by Miss Knutson, sang "Homing" and "The Unforeseen."

Pouring were the Mesdames Philip E. Hauge, Walter Young, L. B. Kriedler, S. C. Eastvold, A. W. Ramstad and J. U. Xavier. They were assisted by the Mesdames H. M. Anderson and J. Stanley Willis.

Summer students assisting in the general plans were the Mesdames Ruth Cummings, Mabel Galbraith, Marietta Grant, Maria Haynes, Maryon Holte, Charl Manson, Erma Miller, Jean Rabdon, Ellen Torango, Vella Van Arnam, Clarann Wilkins and the Misses Jean Derby and Genevieve Huschke.

Mrs. Marie Borders of Alta, Dena, Calif., is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Brandt of 604 So. Lafayette. Mrs. Borders and Mrs. Brandt are sisters. The guest arrived here Aug. 13 and will be leaving Sept. 4.

Spanaway Oat-raiser Challenges At Fair On White Oats Event

Chris Turner of Spanaway challenged all comers to submit a better sample of white oats in the Western Washington Fair at Puyallup then he, reported the Seattle Times last week-end.

The 80-year-old great-grandfather has won 14 blue ribbons for hay and grain exhibits at the Fair in the past 30 years. He first exhibited at the Puyallup event in 1917.

Said he to The Times: "I'm convinced that our land on the Spanaway prairie can raise better white oats than any farm in Washington, Oregon, Idaho or Canada."

"This year we'll get a chance to prove it. This is the year I've been practicing for during 30 years of fair-going," Turner added.

Bible school at the Immanuel Baptist church, 94th and Pacific, opened Aug. 21 and will continue until Aug. 27. The school is from 9 to 11:30 a. m.
