PARKLAND POST NO. 228 AMERICAN LEGION Meets every second and fourth Friday at 8:00 p.m. in the Sunshine Hall

Perhaps the most important part of the Legion program is its youth activities. Building boys, who are the men of tomorrow, through the junior baseball program and boys state, etc., is without a doubt our most effective investment in the future. Giving boys the opportunity to do the things that they like most to do while at the same time inculcating a sense of sportsmanship and character and fair play with their fellowmen is indicative of our democratic form of life. To do this most effectively the boys must have support and have behind them the enthusiasm of the people who claim to be behind them. We have been a little lax on this last count in that we have not been turning out as we should to games that have been played here at the home field. Consequently the boys may be asking themselves: "Is it worth it to win games and play our hearts out for individuals who are not interested enough to come out to see?"

Our boys play a good game of baseball, whether they win or lose, and it is a pleasure and a privilege to witness them. We have quite a few more home games and still have a lot of chance to root for the home team. We are rather proud of the fact that we are able to bring to Parkland a brand of baseball that is not always seen in a smaller community.

We also feel that the people of Parkland should come out and see some of the games and get an idea of what Parkland Legion is doing for the youth of our community. A lot of time and effort is going into the formation of the ball team and we all should appreciate that fact—especially the parents of the boys who are playing.

Members of Parkland Auxiliary Unit 228 are proud that Mrs. Ernest O. Smith of So. 115th street, has been elected their new president and pledge themselves to loyalty and service to the newly-elected president and to the principles of the American Legion.

Mrs. Smith has been a hard and faithful worker in Unit 228 ever since it was organized two years ago. She has been an auxiliary member for 22 years, during which time she has held about every office. We

RAIN DOESN'T DAMP SPIRITS AT CC PICNIC

PARKLANDITES LOOK TO ANNUAL AFFAIR

Spotty weather held down the crowd and kept all but a few of the younger folk out of the swimming water at the first Parkland Community club picnic last Sunday at Spanaway Metropolitan park.

However, there was a representative turnout and those who braved the weather found plenty to do and plenty to eat, which they totalled up to a grand time.

Games Chairman Robert Haner had planned a wide variety of contests with accent on fun. Particularly popular was the egg throw which pitted husbands against wives and a penny hunt for tiny tots. Lots of races were on the program for all ages.

President W. W. Cline reported those who attended found the picnic so much fun that it is hoped to make it an annual affair.

Others on Cline's picnic committee were: Arrangements, Mr. and Mrs. James St. John; hospitality chairman, Mrs. E. J. Perrault.

President Cline, who arranged for use of Spanaway Metropolitan park facilities, expressed the club's thanks to the Tacoma Metropolitan park board for its generosity in permitting Parkland's use of the park area and equipment.

TRAFFIC LAW CHANGES ARE POINTED OUT

James A. Pryde, chief of the Washington state patrol, reminds citizens of Washington that the traffic amendment and uniformity law, chapter 196, laws of 1949, became law on midnight, June 8.

Of particular note to the motorist are the sections relative to the "use of head lamps for passing at night," and the "use of intoxicants." A portion of section 76 clearly states that a motorist shall dim his lights when approaching and passing a vehicle at night from the rear for a distance of 300 feet and lights shall remain on dim until such time the vehicle has been maneuvered a distance of 300 feet beyond its objective on a straight section of the highway. Motorists are still required to dim their lights at a distance of 500 feet when meeting oncoming traffic at night.

A more rigid interpretation of the "use of intoxicants" has been placed on the motorist. The new law definitely establishes "persons under the influence of, or affected by, intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs, who are operating a vehicle or are in physical control of same shall be subject to punishment by law." Included in this law is a proviso allowing "chemical analysis" to be presented as evidence in a court of law.

"Pedestrians were given equal attention by our law makers," Pryde added. "Every pedestrian crossing the street or highway at any point other than within a marked crosswalk or within an unmarked crosswalk at an intersection shall yield the right of way to all vehicle upon the roadway." "Pedestrians shall be subject to traffic control signals at intersections and the directions of officers discharging the duty of directing traffic at intersections." The common practices of jay walking and crossing intersections which have traffic control signals on the amber caution light have been definitely defined as illegal.

Three Objectives of Summer Work Projects in Germany; Lutheran Students on Jobs

Seventeen Lutheran students from America will participate in study-work projects in Germany this summer under the Lutheran World Federation, with the National Lutheran Council Division of Student Service acting as American representative for the projects. They will join with German, French, Dutch, Scandinavian and DP students from Baltic states in the study-work projects. Students and adults will pay their own expenses, estimated at approximately $700, and will serve without pay, but will receive their maintenance while actually working on a project.

The projects consist of the restoration of the damaged Marienkirche, historic church at Luebeck in northern Germany, the construction of a rubble church at Herzogs Sagemuhle in Bavaria, and the building of a chapel and recreation room at a hostel for homeless and uprooted youth at Neckarzimern.

At the Marienkirche at Luebeck, work has proceeded far enough in its restoration to safeguard the church from further damage by rain and winter, but there is a need for materials and workers to continue the restoration. Students participating in the study-work project will be assigned to the relaying of grave plaques in the left nave, which will be cleaned and leveled when replaced. The restoration of this historic church is on the priority plans of the Lutheran church in Luebeck.

The Bavarian Lutheran church greatly needs a church in the Herzogs Sagemuhle community to implement its expanding work for homeless adolescents, old men and war invalids, and for the refugee families living in the surrounding Catholic area. The first of the new type churches for diaspora congregations will be built there this summer under the direct supervision of the designer of this type of church, architect Bartening.

The project at Neckarzimern, a hostel for homeless and uprooted youth in the Neckar valley, 35 miles southeast of Heidelberg, will consist

Health Dept. Urges Care with Poisons

Urging more precautions in handling poisons, Dr. Gordon M. Parrott, Pierce County Health Officer, said today that accidental poisoning killed 27 Washingtonians last year and 17 during the first six months of 1948. The deaths, occurring in homes and at work, were due to the taking of solids or liquids. This total does not include fatalities caused by gases.

Poisoning ranks third in the causes of accidental home deaths for children from one to 14.

Although it is best to know antidotes beforehand, time is wasted in trying to find a specific one, Dr. Parrott added. Instead, the poisons should be diluted in the stomach, and vomiting caused by drinking from four to seven glasses of warm water or warm water with soda. A physician should be called at once and the patient kept warm and quiet until he arrives.

Safeguards are needed against rat and ant poisons, "Paris green," lysol, iodine, strychnine, alkalies, cleaning substances, and sleep-inducing drugs. Other new highly-potent substances such as 1080, call for additional precautions.

SUMMER REC. TOURNAMENTS ON SCHEDULE

TENNIS, TABLE TENNIS COMPETITION FIRST UP

Parkland's summer recreation program is well warmed up now and the next few weeks will see a number of tournament competitions get under way, according to Paul Larson, recreation director.

First tournaments scheduled are in table tennis. Separate competitions for boys and girls in the fast paddle sport are to begin July 5, at Parkland school. Players planning to enter are asked to sign up immediately so that brackets may be drawn.

Trophy for Tennis

A tennis tournament for boys will begin on the War Memorial courts Monday, July 11, Larson has announced. The tennis tournament will be limited to boys who have not become 17 years old before July 1. The handsome trophy posted by the Parkland AMVETS post will be the principal tennis tournament award, although other awards are planned. If enough girls evince interest, a tennis tournament will be arranged for them, too, Larson said.

Swimming Popular

In spite of adverse weather, swimming instruction has proved a very popular part of the recreation program during the short time it has been under way. There has been a good turnout at Spanaway lake for each session. All boys and girls eight years and older are welcome to the swimming classes on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings, Larson stressed. Bus transportation is provided from Parkland school.

Golf Instruction

Several youngsters have been turning out at the College course Tuesday and Thursday forenoons for golf instruction and a links tournament is planned for later, according to Larson. He added that any young folks wanting golf instruction are welcome to join the group.

Jack Spence and Bride of 25 Years Mark Silver Anniversary of Wedding

By Inga St. Clair

Twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spence was marked here June 25. In the year 1924, Mr. Spence took Ella Norling as his bride in a ceremony performed at her home in Life. Many friends and relatives called Sunday, June 19, at their home here, to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Spence.

Mrs. Dorothy Garret, daughter of the honored couple, was dressed in her mother's wedding gown to greet the guests as they called between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock. Traditional orange blossoms with pink roses were used throughout the living and dining rooms of the Spence home and an unique floral piece graced the mantel. There, Mrs. Garret had placed her mother's wedding slippers with a very clever arrangement of painted daisies and pink roses inside them.

A table laid with a lace cloth covered with white net was centered on a silver-trimmed, three-tiered wedding cake. White tapers with silver bows were placed on each side of the cake. Mrs. Lena Lundgren of Seattle, Mrs. Everett Wadsworth and Mrs. Stanley Rosso poured. Mrs. Leo Bisnett cut the cake after the wedded couple had made the customary first cut.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Steven Proctor, accompanied by Mrs. Gary Poor, sang two favorite songs, "Because" and "When I Grow Too Old to Dream." "Voice In the Old Village Choir" was played on the violin by Herbert Gartner. Mrs. Perry Duncan gave two readings.

A mock marriage ceremony was performed, with Mrs. Louis Mettler, maid of honor of 25 years ago, also taking part.

Many appropriate gifts of silver were presented to the honored couple. Miss Rosalind Rosso had charge of the guest book.

A Safe Fourth

Fourth of July is mighty near, now, and it's a good idea to plan precautions that can prevent the holiday's being a time of tragedy.

The old saying about observing "a safe and sane Fourth" may seem trite from years of repetition. But it is as sound as it ever was. Every year, failure to follow it results in death and injury, and property destruction by fire.

Fireworks are the most obvious hazard. At best, they are dangerous. They should never be used in congested areas, or in woods and fields where a spark may cause a runaway fire. Children should not be permitted to handle them except under adult supervision.

Each Fourth of July, millions of people go into the country for picnics. The national parks and other beauty spots are filled to overflowing. The careless use of matches, smoking materials and campfires is responsible for a disgraceful and totally unnecessary toll of the woods and the wildlife in them. The simplest, most obvious precautions will save these resources.

Fire safety should be practiced on the Fourth—and on every other day in the year.

The Editor Clears His Desk

Some people seem to think that a dollar sent to Washington, D. C. has pups on the way. Exactly the opposite is true. The dollar sent to Washington shrinks on the way, loses weight while there and still more on the way back. It's lucky if benefits from Washington amount to half what they cost in taxes. That's why we should increase the share of our taxes going to local government, where we get most for our dollars—and why we should decrease the share to federal government, where we get the least for our dollars. In local government, the people who spend the money are neighbors and directly responsible to the people whose money is being spent.

Uncle Sam is the greatest user of paper in the world and actually publishes more arrant nonsense than all the American publishing houses combined. (There's quite a stack of it on the desk right now . . .). His printing bill could be cut in half without the slightest inconvenience to the men and women who pay the bills.

Why should so much effort be given to effecting government ownership and political control of power facilities? The reason is simple—as David Lilienthal once put it, "Whoever controls energy controls people."

Robert Kazmayer, lecturer and commentator, recently made a penetrating observation on our internal weakness. He said: "The real danger in the U. S. today lies not in Washington, but at the grassroots. Governments have always tended to usurp more and more power unto themselves. In every free organization there is the seed of tyranny. That's why eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. The real danger in the U. S. lies with the millions who are apathetic."

The St. Paul Dispatch says, "There is logic in the argument that the railroads should have greater freedom in adapting themselves to a completely changed situation." The underlying trouble with our whole transportation policy is that it is as obsolete as the ox-cart. In its fundamental principles, it was designed for the era when the railroads were the only form of land transportation of any consequence. Their only competition was water shipping, which was slow and uncertain, and was confined to a limited number of ports and a few canals. With the development of both commercial and private transportation by highway and air, the change has been revolutionary. The ideal is a modern transportation policy, based on the obvious realities of the present, which will allow every kind of carrier to perform maximum service under the same kind of conditions and laws.

The Atlantic Monthly observes that socialism has brought a good deal of disillusionment to Britain. The coal mines are an apt example. Nationalization, to the ordinary miner down in the pit, has always meant that the industry would become his own. Now the miners claim it is not nearly the same thing to discover it is the nation's industry.

The federal government is bleeding the states of so much revenue that local government is impoverished. The states are forced, under the circumstances, to run to Washington, D. C. for funds that already should belong to them and their citizens.

During the war the railroads paid the government three billion 700 million dollars in taxes on the earnings which the Department of Justice now seeks to take away from the carriers through reparation suits. Tax laws do not permit the carriers to recoup this tax money and if the government is successful in the suits, the carriers would be in the position of having paid high taxes on net income and then having the government take the net income away—amounting to double recovery to the extent of those taxes. These retroactive attacks upon the railroads' wartime revenue are of such magnitude as to threaten the solvency of the carriers generally.

Heartening reassurance that human ingenuity still carries boldly on came some weeks ago in a power producing idea offered by a Mexican engineer named Rodriguez Cobos, who would place under heavily travelled thoroughfares a ramp over which cars and trucks would pass. The ramp bounces up and down, generating current at no cost to anybody, as simple as that and with the greatest of ease. Senor Cobos says his invention is the 20th century equivalent of the philosopher's stone, and maybe it is.

MIDLAND NEWS

Mrs. Lois Johann, Reporter
GRanite 5738

(During the absence of Mrs. Clarence Johann, now on vacation, Midland news is being reported by Mrs. George M. Turner, Rt. 4, Box 181-B. News items may be reported to her at GRanite 5727.)

Midland and Harvard improvement clubs have together bought kindergarten swings and slides for Dawson field. This was done in co-operation with the Metropolitan Park board. A traveling leader will be at Dawson field every Friday from 9 a.m. to noon. The leader is Mrs. Gretchen Ernst Parker. She will have a full program, including handicraft, sports and games and creative dramatics. All children of the community are urged to come and enjoy this summer program.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johann and children, Doris and Claude, that they have arrived safely in Warren, Ariz. They are visiting Mrs. Johann's father, whom she had not seen for over 14 years. They plan to be gone five weeks. They report that it has been very hot where they are.

Mrs. Maud Taylor arrived home from St. Joseph's hospital, where she underwent an operation. She is feeling fine now and hopes she will continue so.

Midland Improvement club will have its regular meeting at Midland hall July 5, 8 p.m.

Mrs. R. U. Simpson had a housewarming at her home on 72nd and Wilkeson road, following the marriage of her brother, Donald Peterson, Saturday evening. All who attended the wedding were at her place and everyone had a good time until wee hours of the morning.

BROILED CLUB STEAKS

For the special occasions coming up this summer—the small wedding party, or guests at the summer cottage—steaks are the perfect choice. Club steaks are a popular buy for entertaining because they are conveniently purchased one to a person. Club steaks served with French fried potatoes or French fried onion rings will rate you as a clever hostess. For best results in broiling, purchase club steaks which are at least one inch thick. Gash the fat edges so that the steaks will lie flat during broiling. For one-inch thick steaks placed two inches below the heat, broil 6 minutes on each side for rare, 7 minutes for medium.

COTTON CHAMELEON

Here's a versatile, new season dress which can change its effect at the drop of a piece of scenery. With a skyscraper backdrop, it's the crisp and appropriate affair shown in the picture. The dress is of Raycrest cotton, available in oxford, blue, brown or green, and sells for about $18. It's one of the new cotton fashions shown in the May issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

DISASTER!

The continuing scourge of forest fires in the United States is nothing short of disaster. Look what forest fires do EACH YEAR!

Each year they burn 30 million acres of land—an area the size of the State of New York!

They destroy enough trees of saw-timber size to build 86,000 five-room homes!

They burn enough pulp-size trees to make 3 million tons of newsprint, 90 million railroad ties!

They cause soil erosion, tremendous loss of recreational areas, wildlife, electrical power!

Forest fires bring destruction, shortages and higher prices that no one can escape! And do you know what causes most forest fires? It isn't lightning and other natural causes. In truth, 9 out of 10 forest fires are man-caused, and most of them are the result of pure and simple CARELESSNESS!

FOREST FIRES CAN BE PREVENTED IF YOU WILL FOLLOW—FAITHFULLY—THESE FOUR SIMPLE RULES

1. Hold your match 'til it's cold — then pinch it to make sure.
2. Crush out your cigarette, cigar, pipe ashes. Use an ash tray!
3. Drown your campfire, then stir and drown again.
4. Ask about the law before burning grass, brush, fence rows, or trash.
