Business Women Meet

Members of Puyallup's Business and Professional Women were entertained at a no-host dinner Monday evening at the home of Miss Grace Tunard. Plans are being perfected by the group for a rummage sale to be held during the berry-picking season at the library park. An invitation was extended by Mrs. Lloyd Grant to the Club to hold the next meeting at her home on American Lake and the date was set for July 24.

Will Sponsor Play

At a meeting of the Days of Home or Miss Grace Tunard. Eza Meeker Committee recently plans were being made to sponsor a Home Talent Play in the latter part of October. The play would be selected from some comedy of an old fashioned nature, proceeds to be added to the War Memorial Community Center. Other business taken up bought forth the decision to plan a celebration and spectacle, and other events in the year 1952, tying in with Seattle's Centennial Celebration. This meeting was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Dennis. Mrs. Irene Mankertz is president of the organization.

Summer Recreation Program

The Puyallup Summer recreation program will begin Monday, June 19, with the opening of all four playgrounds. First day activities will include registration at each of the playgrounds. The following schedule will be in effect:

- Grayland Park — 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Saturday.
- Spinning School — 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. Monday through Friday.
- 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday.
- Meeker and Viking — 1 p. m.

INSIDE SCENE

From The Capitol

State Republican party chairman J. M. Dawley has unlimbered his single piece of ordinance in the local political war and has fired another resounding blank round.

AS always, the blast was aimed at alleged "over-spending" by Democratic officials who hold all the elective offices except that of Governor.

The recurrent rumble of the Dawley artillery seems to indicate that a major strategy of the state Republican high command will be an attempt to blame the seven elective officials for the sad financial condition of the commonwealth.

This strategy would be effective, perhaps, except for one thing. Anyone glib enough to take any stock in Dawley's propaganda would be unable to read, and so would miss the chairman's press releases.

The budgets of all seven Democratic elective officials are infinitesimal when compared to over-all state spending, which is controlled by Republican appointive officials under the governor's control.

Apparently realizing this fact, Dawley has attempted to make the Democratic officials responsible for increased spending by such bodies in the state capitol commission and land board.

The full ridiculousness of such charges becomes evident when it is realized that in most cases the elective official is either the only Democrat on the board, or is a member of a minority group. The boards and commissions, in most cases, have the governor as chairman and are largely made up of gubernatorial appointees.

While the costs of state government, even discounting relief, school and highway costs, have increased by millions of dollars under Republican control, the average increase in the cost of operating the seven elective offices increased an average of less than $3,000 per office.

Several of the offices are operating on less money than in the past biennium, and those whose operating costs have risen are counter balanced by increased revenue in the state treasury.

An example is the office of land commissioner Jack Taylor, often criticized by Dawley. While his costs of operation have increased slightly, the revenues of his office have increased at a much higher rate. Thus the state is making, not losing, money on the land office.

This is in marked contrast to several Republican controlled offices, such as the state tax commission, which has a tremendously increased payroll, but can show no such increase in collections.

The fact is that the Republican politicians who control state government are making frantic attempts to place the blame for the state's bankruptcy on the old age pensioners, the voters, the Democrats, and any other scapegoats they can think of.

This approach, similar to that of a naughty little boy who has eaten up all the jam and then tries to blame it on the cat, elves, or pixies, will not be taken seriously by informed and intelligent people.

The CVA issue is far from dead, although many Republican sources have issued hopeful obituaries. The New York Times, certainly not a Communist publication, has reaffirmed its editorial stand in favor of the Valley Authority.

The Christian Science Monitor and Wall Street Journal, along with Collier's Magazine, have also backed the CVA idea, and none of them can be classed with the Daily Worker.

Washington's Governor, however, still insists the idea is either communistic or fascist. Possibly both. At the same time, he announces that new major industries are prevented from coming to the state because of insufficient electrical power to supply their needs.

The CVA would supply that power, but the Governor seems to feel that it would also bring with it either the OGPU or Gestapo to replace the Washington State Patrol.

We also learn from the governor that the state attorney general, Smith Troy, is really to blame for the unpremeditated mess in which the Puget Sound ferry situation has become enmeshed.

When Troy pounced on the Governor's weird and wonderful ferry "program" and shredded it horribly in a Southwest Washington speech, the Governor issued a fighting counter statement. An assistant attorney general works for the department of public service, he said.

Assistant attorneys general are assigned to ALL major state departments. This, however, is the first time the attorney general has been held responsible for any part of the unworkable schemes hatched within those departments. * * *

All in all, we suggest that the theme music of the Republican state convention which will be held AFTER the primary election, be that fine old tune, "They're All Out Of Step But Me."

Some people think we're prejudiced when we keep saying you see only part of the news in the state's Republican daily press... the part the management wants you to see. As a case in point we reprint the following from a national magazine:

"During his recent tour of the country, President Truman visited Gonzaga University, in Spokane, Wash., on May 11 and there received from the Rev. Francis E. Corkery, S. J., president of the university, a citation of merit. The citation was given to Mr. Truman "because he has with courage and foresight repeatedly proclaimed in public discourse these basic truths: that the law of nations is derived from the law of God; that the moral law is the only basis of sound government; that a state without morals will inevitably terminate in a power state; that the brotherhood of man has no inalienable rights save in the fatherhood of God." Did you read about that in your daily paper?"

One of the most beautiful drives in this part of the country that isn't too far for a Sunday jaunt is from Enumclaw to Summit over the old Naches Trail or Highway as it is now called. The road is in splendid condition. About one mile above Enumclaw you will see a fine swimming pool in a King County Recreational Park. Everything in this park is free including swimming and bath houses. Plenty of picnic tables and stoves if you feel it is time to get out the picnic basket.

Next you come to the White River Lumber Mill one of the oldest in the state. A few miles farther on, a road to the right takes you to Mud Mountain Dam by just a few minutes drive. Going on up the Naches Highway, the tumbling White River, hills and mountains and tall, tall trees make you think you are in a different world. Some 30 miles up there are several roadside resorts and eating places that feature fresh trout dinners. Or if you haven't unpacked your picnic basket yet watch to the right just beyond Silver Springs Lodge where the Forestry Service maintains the Silver Springs Park. All free for the enjoying are the slabs of great fir trees made into tables and the rock fireplace. It is a good idea to take along a bundle of kindling and hatchet because the wood is very wet. Also be sure to take along a good warm sweater, as you will be up high and the sun doesn't penetrate much down in this park. CLOVER CREEK PUPILS ENJOY SWIM PARTY

The Booster Club, the third, fourth and fifth graders of Clover Creek School, had a most enjoyable swimming party in the yard of their teacher, Mrs. Henry Berntsen, in Parkland, Thursday, June 8th from 1 to 4 p. m.

The able president, Barbara Cope, the vice president, Evelyn Cope, and the secretary and treasurer, Jene LeMarr, together with the committees helped with the games of croquet and badminton, and the refreshments which consisted of weiners and buns, cookies and cool-aid. In spite of the "not too summery" day the pale green pool attracted the most attention.

During the pause for refreshments in the "Koffee Hus" on the patio the class presented the teacher with tokens of remembrance, one of which was a miniature covered wagon and ox team like that of Ezra Meeker as a pleasant reminder of the history lessons and field trip the class took to the Historical Museum in April.

ON VACATION TRIP

Ronald Kibbler and family are motoring to Kansas on a 3 week vacation trip. Kibbler is associated with Mason & Burks, well known Puyallup store.

A kettle of chilie and a hearty salad like potatoe, and a good pie with hot drinks. You will need more than a sandwich in the crisp, cold air.

Past Silver Springs you will enjoy the scenery and places to stop and get fresh water. The many falls are especially lovely just now. For several weeks yet the children will be able to play in the snow at Summit about 12 miles above Silver Springs.

L. K. Gordon, Minister

Our Gospel Meeting is scheduled to close Sunday night, June 18th. Good interest has been manifested, and for the good that has been done, we give God the praise. If you have not been attending you have missed something, we speak where the Bible speaks and remain silent where it is silent. THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 BOWMAN SITE;
34.37 acres heavily covered with second growth scrub timber; a 15 to 20 foot rocky shelf type ridge extends diagonally through the property, necessitating clearing and extensive bulldozing and other preparatory work. The original sale price for this site prior to the last vote was $7500. A conservative estimate for preparing this site for school purposes has been set at $10,000 that added to the understood purchase price of $7500 will amount to $17,500 or a cost per acre of approximately $500. THEREFORE:

We suggest you vote YES for the CASTLE SITE and NO for the BOWMAN SITE, because of the fact the voters have already signified on two occasions a rejection of the BOWMAN SITE (UNION HIGH and last vote). Not centrally located and the exorbitant price to prepare it for building construction. Disadvantage of this site being located as it is on main travelled highway with insufficient acreage to allow the necessary maneuverability of buses and other school traffic without exposing them to the extreme hazards of the highway traffic. THE BOWMAN SITE HAS BEEN REPEATEDLY SUBMITTED AND OPPOSED AND ONCE AGAIN IT MUST BE REJECTED.

VOTE YES FOR THE CASTLE SITE and vote NO for the BOWMAN SITE. Mrs. John Harvey chairman Elk Plain Boosters Club.

Editor-The Mid County Journal

The following facts we feel will be of interest to you and your readers.

The following analysis is herewith submitted for your information. your next vote on a high school site in the Bethel district is now scheduled for Saturday, July 1, 1950. Polling to take place in all regular precincts. Previous to this we were led to believe that only one site could be put on the ballot, however that situation is now reversed necessitating a selection by the voters from two sites to assist you in making your selection; PROPOSITION NO. 1 CASTLE SITE;

60 acres, all cleared, level, well drained, bounded by two roads, Brown Road and the hard surfaced Muck-Kapowsin Road situated three-fourth mile East of the Mt. Highway, a beautiful panoramic mountain view. The established price of this 60 acres is $7500 or $125 per acre; if further expansion is necessary adjoining property of identical terrain can be had at a similar price per acre. This site ideally suited for immediate development of athletic program, due to ideal terrain and drainage plus the additional safety factor of the Brown Road extending along the full length of the West side of the property and the Hard surfaced Muck-Kapowsin Road to the South. Property at the present time sowed in oats.

ALONG THE MERIDIAN . . .

"Let's Have a Picnic." Seems as though every family in Puyallup has heard this refrain at least once this year with everybody planning to do it just as soon as "warm weather" hits. In preparation for that great day, The Stoner Hardware Co. has stocked a number of out-door charcoal grills, some portable, all ideal for the preparation of tangy, zesty foods. Stoner's also supply charcoal required in 10 and 25 pound heavy paper sacks. Inspect these outfits if you want to add to the fun of picnics and outdoor living.

For the hunter, Stoner's have stocked a complete line of re-load equipment for both rifle and pistol ammunition. Crack shots have learned the hard way that ammunition bought off the shelf can have the powder charge vary as much as one third. That means the difference between a bullseye and a miss any day in the week.

Comes our next war, heaven forbid, and we're going to recommend Clothier of Lepley's Lumber Co. for 1st Sergeant of Marines. Just visit the guy when he's busy and see how fast you land out in the street. Tough, he makes James Cagney look and sound like a sissy.

Puyallup's horsey crowd is warming up the bride paths these days. For real, honest to goodness pleasure, a good horse and the valley rides are hard to beat.

Congratulations to the businessmen of Puyallup on their drive to encourage the shop at home idea. The lucky Puyallup shopper who wins the 1950 Ford will most certainly know it pays to buy at home; but smart shoppers who compare prices and values will also gain if they "Buy Puyallup."

Roving Reporter, on the Mid-County Journal has been officially invited to attend Puyallup City Council sessions. These will be reported in the Journal accurately and with sympathetic understanding. Puyallup is faced with several unusual problems resulting from the earthquake and a sewer problem unique in its complexity. As your elected public officials make progress in solving these tasks the Journal will report the actions taken.

The Valley Lumber Co. out on River Road has accumulated a large stock of screen doors and windows that are pleasing customers. Screen doors for $1.00 and window screens, framed, for 25c, remind us of pre-war prices. The offer is good while the big pile lasts.

The way to man's heart—and to a woman's for that matter—is still via the stomach. One of our advertisers in this issue believes that philosophy is not only good sense but also good business. The Saunders Health Service of Tacoma is inviting out-of-town visitors for lunch. The meal, as well as free parking space, is "on the house."

During the war there was not much to be gained by reading advertisements. But now that stiff competition for business is the order of the day, the advertised offerings of merchants make valuable reading for thrifty people. For instance, the prevailing price of a console cabinet sewing machine is around $160.00. The Ziegler Electric Co. has one advertised here this week for $109.95. It really pays to read Journal advertising.

We have just heard that Doug Morris has been appointed by the County Commissioners to complete Les Hudson's unexpired term as County Commissioner from the 1st District. Doug Morris was the unanimous choice of the Democratic Central Committee. He also had strong support from business men and labor. We wish him well.

BURGlar CAPTURED IN ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

The Bargain Basket of Spanaway was the scene of action when Leon Harrison, partner in the concern, surprised and captured Alfred Strangle as he was attempting to rob the store. The burglar was well equipped with professional tools and entered with the use of bolt cutters and a bar.

He was seen entering by Th-an Nelson, owner, who immediately called the state patrol and sheriff. Leon Harrison arrived at the scene with his hand in his overcoat pocket. The burglar thinking he had a gun, raised his hands and was told to walk forward. When close enough Harisan stunned him with a right hook and searched him for weapons. The burglar was taken into custody by the state patrol.

SQUARE DANCE NEWS

The Summer Square Dance to hold its next dance on Friday, June 16, at 8:30 in the Collins Grange Hall.

Square dancing will be the feature of the evening with couples dancing and lively mixers. Mr. Don Whisler will do the calling, assisted by Mrs. Whisler on the couple dances.

Mid-County Journal, Thursday, June 15, 1950—5

LES HUDSON . . .

"He was my friend, faithful and just to me". Written so many years ago by Shakespeare, that sentence seems to fit Les Hudson, a public servant who died on the job, a Pierce County Commissioner we'll long remember.

Public service is often referred to, by many, as easy work. Actually, for the conscientious public servant, it is the hardest and least rewarding of all service.

Les Hudson was a good public official, a fine commissioner. His day ended when his work was done and many times each week midnight and after found him still on the job.

The public is a demanding task master and the people of Pierce County employed "Les" for over twenty years. Perhaps the final strain that broke the heart of a "wonderful Guy" was the storm of January 13th. For days after that disaster, all three County Commissioners worked day and night with their road crews to solve the problems that developed. Every bump, rut and slide was the personal fault of the County Commissioner in his respective district in the minds of some of the people who were merciless in their demands for immediate service.

Les gave beyond his strength as usual. His action was typical of his willingness to accept responsibility. It should make us proud of "Les" and a bit ashamed of our own impatience. But we know that Les died happy, for he died on the job.....in harness serving you and I, conscientiously as he had for over twenty years.

Les was a friend, faithful and just to us. He was Pierce County Commissioner from the 1st District.....a wonderful Guy.

Goin' Fishin'? Expert Gives Helpful Hints

By Jack E. Allen

When it comes to practicing that age-old art of angling, the Puget Sound country has long been recognized as an area unsurpassed for diversified fishing. Mighty king salmon, tackle-busting bass and other members of the spiny ray family, ply the waters of costal streams, lakes and bay to offer up year-around fishing to the rod and reel enthusiasts.

Salmon fishing perhaps, holds a lead over all types of fishing since its attraction sweeps the length and breadth of the land, and has long carried the label of the "sportiest fishing" in the world. Whether or not this is true depends entirely on the angler and the field he has chosen to work. Therefore, in fairness to all, let the decision be decided by the individual himself.

Since salt water chucking demands no license from the sports fisherman, these waters will naturally draw the out-of-staters as well as the thousands who make it a daily or weekly practice to frequent the area.

In going after these salt water pupfishes there are three principle methods employed—mooching, stripping and trolling, and the use of any one of them might well prove productive.

Mooching is best in slow waters away from the rip tides and undertows, and there is a thrill-a-minute in themaking when the hooks set in a finney toredo, especially when light tackle is your weapon in battle. A light fly rod, say of setthead proportions, with plenty of backbone, 10 to 12 pound test nylon line and 6 or 8 pound test leader, is the kind of equipment that brings out every bit of fight in the big fellow, and offers a challenge to the angler's skill. Plugged herring or herring strip with a couple of ounces of weight will complete the hook-up.

Trolling can be done either light or heavy tackle, depending on the area to be fished. Where tides are fast and the rips are running at an equally fast pace it takes a good wire line with plenty of weight attached to get down where the big fish are travelling. Plugs and herring, and herring dodger have been well established as productive lures. Herring being a natural food for salmon, is perhaps the most practical lure. However, in recent years plugs have been designed as an equal substitute for live bait. But it still remains to be said, "a scarcity of herring means a scarcity of salmon," and experienced fishermen maintain that nothing can ever replace or bring about a substitute for a herring run.

Stripping, sometimes called spinning, requires about the same kind of tackle as used in mooching, and can best be done by anchoring down, casting out your lure, allowing it to settle, then make a retrieve. Stripping methods are varied to taste and practice. Experience counts.

Turning to fresh water fishing we enter a field of purists. Some anglers refuse to fish anything but flies, while others remain faithful to salmon eggs, worms, spinners and various other artificial lures being offered on today's market. It would be a wise move and a money saver, especially to the novice, to invest in lures and other tackle as recommended by the dealer. Much of the tackle manufacturer by "wild cat" firms has only sales appeal and wouldn't produce in a fish hatchery. Buy the kind of tackle most suitable for your selected area. Anything that fails to catch fish is a dead investment and only clutters up the tackle box.

In all of the lowland lakes, high altitude pools and streams, use a good light line of medium test, and depending on the waters it is well to use a leader of not more than 2 pounds test. In most cases, especially in the trout field where the fish are running not over the pound and a half weight, a 3/4 pound nylon leader is of sufficient strength to bring your fish to net.

Bass fishing commands still another skill. The bass, known as a cagey master among the lily pads, has a habit of sneering at artificial lure, and often drives an angler into a fit of rage by his playful tactics.

However, a good rod and reel in the hands of a basserman get results, and sooner or later the cagey fighter is brought to net. Crappies, perch, catfish and many other species known collectively as "pan fish," can be found in abundance in Washington lakes and anglers owe their first experiences and happiest hours with rod and reel to these smaller game fish.

Steelhead has a following of what is more commonly referred to, as "the hardies of the stream," for during the winter months, when the runs are taking over the major costal streams, the anglers are there to get them regardless of weather.

Equipment Needed

A good rod with plenty of backbone is necessary to take the steelie, and the best reel you can afford to buy should be firmly attached in the seat. Good line and leader of course, is essential, and the lure might be spinners, flatfish, flies, or "goof" (salmon cluster eggs, in steelheaders' lingo).

Volumes have been written on the fine art of fishing, but it remains for the individual rodman to make his choosing. Try the waters of Puget Sound for Silver, Humpback, King Salmon; ling cod, rock cod, black bass, red snapper and other bottom fish like halibut and sole are tasty morsels for the taking.

That's how it is when it comes to fishing the western slopes of the Cascade range. Pick your spot among the scenic grandeur of the lofty eaks, or follow your sport on the tides that

A pioneer member of the Canyon Road Community, Mr. Reinrich Fisher, died last week in a local hospital at the age of 76. Mr. Fisher's home was on 80th between Canyon and White Roads.

Periodic paper drives are being planned by the seven Canyon Road Boy Scouts under the direction of Lewis Bradley and Cliff Djarf. Pat Bacon, Jim Carlisle, Chris Hauge, David Mathis, Gary Rodgers, Robert Van Wagner will collect and prepare the papers for selling at a drive date to be announced later. Canyon Road residents are asked to save all magazines and newspapers for the boys.

Guests included Misses Alice and Marjorie Bergman, Mesdames Don Peters, E. P. Munsey, J. M. Blair, Marshall Thompson, aunt of the groom, and Louise Bergman.

MIDLAND GUILD MAKES PLANS

Midland Orthopedic Guild met Monday, June 12, at the Midland Hall for the last luncheon meeting of the season. At the meeting it was decided instead of meeting the first Monday in September as usual, to hold the meeting Sept. 12 because of Labor Day holiday. The group discussed the Orthopedic's next card party to be held Sept. 8 at the Midland Hall at 8 p. m. Co-chairmen for the affair are: Mrs. Dave McPherson and Mrs. Clarence Brezkebell. Canasta, 500 and pinocle will be played and coffee will be served to players during the game. There will be a door prize.

STRAWBERRY HARVEST NOW IN PROGRESS

W. C. Harington, manager, Employment Security Department, states that the demand for strawberry pickers will increase daily. Those interested in strawberry picking should contact their closest Farm Labor Office. Transportation is furnished to and from the fields.

Groups with transportation and family groups wishing to live on the farm during the harvest should register with the labor offices, either 1510 Pacific Avenue, Tacoma, or the Puyallup office in the City Park, Puyallup.
