DAWSON FIELD REPAIRS BEGIN

Baseball Diamond Being
Put in Good Shape; Park
Board Hauls Dirt

The first evidence of improvement on Dawson Field appeared last week. The Metropolitan Park Board had top soil hauled to the field, which was spread on the baseball diamond. The diamond was then marked off.

On May 3 three Midland baseball enthusiasts, Mickey Ames, Bud Bittner and Gene Boisture, prepared the hard ball diamond for a Valley League game May 12 between the Midland team and Yelm.

A grader and driver donated by Pierce county cleared the field of rocks.

Next Friday more work will be applied to the field by these men. Anyone in Midland interested in good ball grounds is invited to pitch in and help with the cleanup job.

Arnold Olson Brings Bride from England

The charming English bride of Arnold Olson has just arrived with her husband from New York where the young couple met after a separation of several months. Mrs. Olson sailed from England on the Queen Mary and in four days arrived in New York where she was met by her husband.

Enroute to Parkland, the couple visited with many friends and relatives in New York, Indiana, Minnesota and at Yellowstone Park. While in Minnesota, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rasmussen, newly-married cousins of Mr. Olson, joined them and accompanied them to Parkland.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Olson was Miss Jessie Tirrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Tirrell of Wilbarstow, Leicestershire, England. She was associated with the Red Cross Nursing unit before leaving her home.

The climate here seems much the same as that of her former home, says Mrs. Olson, who, with her husband, plans to establish residence in Parkland. When asked what seemed most different to her here, she said that the way of preparing food in America was quite different from the English way.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Olson, who were married in Leicestershire, England, last July 25, while Mr. Olson was with the 346th Engineers.

Mother's Day

The second Sunday in May has been set apart for special observance in honor of the home and motherhood. The idea of Mother's Day originated with Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, and it was celebrated by a number of cities in the United States in 1910. On May 10, 1913, a resolution passed both houses of Congress commending the observance of the day by Congress and the executive departments of the government; and in the same year Nebraska made it a state flag day in honor of the patriotism of Nebraska's homes. In 1914, Congress authorized the President of the United States to designate, by annual proclamation, the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day, and to request the display of the American flag on government buildings and private homes. The first national proclamation was issued by President Wilson on May 9, 1914.

It is indeed fitting that our nation should adhere to this honorable custom. On this day men, women and children recall memories of the mothers who have gone and try to brighten the lives of those who remain. Another important object of Mother's Day which is often times forgotten is to encourage all people to honor the sanctity of the home.

Custom dictates that Mother's Day is to be observed by some special act of kindness to mother and father; by services in churches of all creeds, and by wearing a red or white carnation which is the emblem of the purity, beauty, fidelity and peace of mother love.

Education

A group of Oxford students who were touring the United States before the war were asked to comment on some of the differences between England and America. Without hesitation they observed that one of the greatest differences was the large number of young men and women in this country that attended colleges and universities as compared to their homeland.

Even before the war money and family background was not the measure of educational pursuits on the secondary level as it was in England. Our colleges and universities were filled with many a poor man's son who was fired with the ambition to earn a degree even if it entailed considerable outside work to earn the necessary dollars.

This trend has been materially augmented by the benefits offered the discharged serviceman through the G.I. Bill of Rights. It is now estimated that 1,500,000 veterans will be attending college next fall. Many of these young men would never have enjoyed the benefits of advanced education without the assistance that is now being offered.

The present program may well begin a new era in the American educational system. If our government can spend billions for waging war it can certainly afford to spend millions to ensure the proper education of its youth. Our representatives should consider a continuation of educational subsidies and grants to deserving high school graduates who cannot afford to continue their educational pursuits without financial assistance. If such a program were adopted it might well become one of the few benefits to emerge from World War II.

Let's Civilize America

By JACQUELINE GUNNS
Parkland Eighth Grade English Student

This is supposed to be a civilized world and a modern up-to-date country. Yet we might just as well have lived in the cave man's time. Though the cave man may have stolen or killed people, he didn't know any better. For the most part he lived by himself and let the rest of the world alone.

If the cave man was uncivilized, what word would describe the modern man? One certainly couldn't say we don't know any better. Yet there are people who cheat, steal and even murder for their own selfish wants. Every day we hear that crime does not pay and that criminals always get caught but of the crimes committed, few of the persons responsible have been punished.

I think the people of America should do something about this so-called "civilized" world.

Trinity Lutheran to Make Local Survey
A religious survey of the territory served by Trinity Lutheran Church will be conducted by the membership during the month of May. This house to house visitation program will be carried out in order to learn the religious affiliation or preference of the people in the community. The population of this area has grown rapidly and the survey will prove helpful for all the churches of the community, as the religious affiliation or preference cards will be turned in to the various churches. The Rev. C. P. Rasmussen of Seattle, who is the director of the Division of American Missions under the National Lutheran Council in the Pacific area, will meet with the Church Council and workers, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Trinity Church.

EXCITING TRIP FOR JUANITA WONZOR
Miss Juanita Wonzor, who left with her aunt on April 9, returned Thursday, May 2, and has much to tell of her trip. At Oceanside, Calif., they visited Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Rice, who drove them down to Tia Juana, Mexico. Later they visited the Mt. Palomar observatory and coming down the car they were in was sideswiped and they ploughed into a bank. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rice were injured rather severely, and Miss Wonzor and her aunt rode the fifty miles to the hospital in the ambulance with them. After visiting a few days with Mrs. Hahn in Oakland and shopping in San Francisco, Miss Wonzor's aunt returned to Oceanside and Miss Wonzor returned home.

Sladek Announces Candidacy for Sheriff

The following statement is issued by Joe Sladek, democratic candidate for sheriff of Pierce county. "Believing that I am fully qualified for the position of sheriff of Pierce county and at the insistence of many friends, businessmen and veterans of both wars, I have decided to file for the office of sheriff. "Having over twenty years of law enforcement experience, my work placed me in close contact with federal, state and local law enforcement officials. I served with the state highway patrol 19 years, in which time I worked in close cooperation with the FBI and treasury departments on two major kidnaping cases and war defense investigations, among other matters. "I was born in Spanaway, 1895, of Irish and Bohemian parents, and educated in the Tacoma schools. I am married, have two children, own my own home and served as a machine gunner in the 91st division in World War I. I have worked as a logger at Tidewater Logging Company at Kapowsin, at the old Birchfield Boiler Works on Dock street and as a boilermaker with the Northern Pacific. My headquarters will be at 519, Provident Bldg.; my home phone is Puyallup 3991."

ARLENE DAHL VISITS PARKLAND RELATIVES
The inside story of what an actress is like can be told by the H. L. J. Dahl family of Parkland, for Mr. Dahl's niece, Arlene Dahl, recently visited their home. According to the Dahls, Arlene, whose picture and story recently front-paged the Tacoma papers, is unspoiled by her success; her manners are unaffected and unassuming; she neither drinks nor smokes and seems oblivious to the stares and admiration provoked by her breath-taking beauty.

Stella Jacobs Opens Retail Floral Service
Stella Jacobs, whose artistic effects in flower arrangements and decorating have long been admired in Parkland, is venturing forth commercially with the opening of "Stella's Flowers," this week. Mrs. Jacobs, wife of Kenneth Jacobs, has given talks on flower arranging and for many years has demonstrated her technique at social and community affairs. The P.L.C. Alumni Reunion recollections, of which she was chairman, were outstanding and brought much favorable comment. She was also in charge of the exquisite decorations for the Dormitory Auxiliary No. 2 Christmas tea at the Davis home, which included hand-carved soap figures depicting the manger scene. Floral decorations for weddings has been another specialty. Headquarters for the business will be the Jacobs home, four blocks east of the grade school on Allison Road. Mrs. Jacobs will be available for floral decorations for weddings, both church and home and complete with bridal and bridesmaid bouquets and corsages, centerpiece for dinner parties, corsages for any occasion, and funeral sprays. She will either furnish the flowers or arrange garden flowers, if desired.
