To Probe Legality Of School District

Was Bethel School District, the consolidation of Spanaway, Elk Plain, Roy, Rocky Ridge, and Kapowsin districts, formed by a legal ballot?

A handful of Kapowsin residents have suddenly come up with the claim that the election procedure was illegal, and as a result, there will be an important hearing in superior court Dec. 5.

The Kapowsinites are contesting the validity of the election which formed the consolidated school district April 30. Representing these dissenters is Attorney Hardyn Soule of Tacoma, who obtained from Superior Judge Hugh J. Rosellini an alternative writ of mandate. The order directs Prosecutor Patrick M. Steele to defend the legality of the district's formation.

In the election last April, there were two alternative propositions on the ballot. The first included Clover Creek district in the proposed consolidation, but was voted down. The other ballot proposition, excluding Clover Creek, was passed.

According to Attorney Soule and the Kapowsin folks who brought up the question, no authority in law exists for submission of alternative propositions in a school election. Chief Deputy Civil Prosecutor Valen Honeywell said the ballot had not been prepared by his office, but had been approved by both the attorney general's office and the state superintendent of schools. Honeywell said that any ruling on the matter would affect a number of other school districts throughout the state formed under a similar ballot. One of these is the Franklin Pierce district, which was formed in March, 1948, by a ballot with two alternative propositions, one including Central Avenue, and one excluding Central Avenue.

In the election which formed the Bethel district, the directors of the various school boards within the proposed consolidation realized that the voters in the Clover Creek area were none too enthusiastic about joining the proposed district. So, rather than risking the possibility of Clover Creek's vetoing the proposed consolidation, the alternative proposal to leave Clover Creek out was submitted, and this is the one that was passed.

All the other districts voted heavily for consolidation. In Spanaway, it was 132 to 31; in Rocky Ridge, 29 to 12; Elk Plain, 76 to 9; Roy, 43 to 3; and Kapowsin, 293 for, 188 against.

Even despite the fact that the formation of the district may be declared illegal, the state department of education has gone right ahead with surveys of the area to determine building needs, gather data for deciding on a school site, and assist in planning a financial program. Three men from the department began the initial survey two weeks ago to secure information on population trends, roads, and present building facilities and conditions.

Shoe Store to Mark First Anniversary

Parkland Shoe Store, on Garfield Street, marks the first anniversary of its opening, Nov. 5. The B. H. Broilins and W. F. Arnolds told the Times that they appreciate the patronage of the people of Parkland and surrounding communities.

They are constantly attempting to build up the stock to meet the needs of the entire family. Brands handled are Rand, Trim Tread, Polly-Debs, and Poll-Parrot.

The store is equipped with the most modern fitting devices to measure both the toe length and the ball of a foot, and a new Primex X-ray to show where the foot fits in the shoe.

It was a baby boy for Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hopkins of Spanaway at St. Joseph's Hospital Oct. 21.

Dawson Fielders Re-elect Huston; Teen-agers Caper

By LOIS JOHANN

Mrs. Olive Huston was re-elected president of the Dawson Field Recreation Club last week with Mrs. Raymond Ellison taking the post of vice-president; Mrs. Robert Sharpe, secretary; and Mrs. Ervin Smith, treasurer.

It was decided by the group that the newly purchased juke-box will be made available to community groups at a nominal rental fee to aid in paying for it and to secure new records. Mrs. Ellison reported that Doris Beardsley, teen-age instructor, would be glad to start a class of square dancing instructions for an adult group if enough are interested. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Ervin Smith and Mrs. Raymond Ellison.

Tickets for the Dawson Field spaghetti dinner and movie benefit at Midland Hall, Nov. 11 are now available. Prizes of $2, $1.50 and $1 will be awarded the three persons selling the most tickets. Anyone wishing to sell may obtain them from Mrs. Robert Sharpe at GRanite 5903.

Because of the large number of youngsters turning out for the teenage club parties at Dawson Fieldhouse, Directors Bill Ellington and Doris Beardsley, together with the Dawson Recreation Club, have made plans to divide the teen-agers into two groups. The senior high groups, 15 to 17 years old, will meet at 7 p.m. every Monday, and the junior high group, 12 to 14 years old, will meet at 7 p.m. every Thursday. Ninety-five turned out for the hard-times party last Thursday and enjoyed all the old and new Halloween games. The party was planned by Carol Fredericksen, Dick Rohde, Del Keane, Bob Snyder and Claude Johann.

Various civic groups have been re-shuffling their meeting dates in order to clear a night for the senior high teen-ager parties. Scout Troop 84 will meet each Tuesday hereafter. The Dawson Field Recreation Club will discuss a new meeting night, Nov. 9, and so will the Harvard Improvement Club, which will convene at the fieldhouse this Friday night at 8 o'clock.

OPTOMETRY OFFICE TO LOCATE IN PARKLAND

Parkland will have a new optometric office Nov. 12. Dr. D. M. Clise, optometrist, whose offices are in South Tacoma, announces that a complete optical service will be available, with the office to be located in the Parkland Center building.

In charge will be Dr. Morry A. Tweit, who is associated with Dr. Clise. Dr. Tweit lives with his wife and two children on 112th Street in Parkland.

A representative of H. A. Briggs 20th Century Homes told the Times Tuesday that all but six of the 38 homes his company had built in Parkland had been sold, and he said he expected that these would be all sold by the end of this week. The company has now used up all of its building sites in this area.

The Sunshine Community Club will meet this Friday night at 6:30 for a potluck supper.

Spanaway Will Fete Mrs. Bethel

Mrs. Ruth Bethel, county superintendent of schools, was the administrative personnel of the new Bethel School District, will be honored with an elaborate reception next Wednesday at Spanaway school. Sponsors of the affair are the Pre-school and P-TA groups of Spanaway, Elk Plain, Roy, and Kapowsin.

The reception will get underway at 8 p.m. Parents will have the opportunity of meeting the administrators and teachers of the newly-formed district. Other honored guests besides Mrs. Bethel will be District Superintendent Homer T. Anderson, Francis Olson, E. Hubner, and Dick Fraser.

In charge of refreshments will be the second grade room mothers of Spanaway school. Musical numbers from each district will provide the evening's entertainment.

The committee members from the various groups met at Spanaway school last Thursday evening to make arrangements for the reception. Mrs. Louis Symmons has been appointed general chairman. In attendance were Mrs. Emmet Rich and Mrs. Gregg of Elk Plain, Mrs. Everett Rich of Kapowsin, Mrs. Antonie of Graham, and Mrs. Symmons, Mrs. Oscar Borill and Mrs. Henry Kallanger of Spanaway.

MUSICAL PROGRAM SET FOR KIWANIS CLUB

Parkland Kiwanis Club members will be entertained at their regular weekly meeting this Thursday noon by a musical program put on by students from PLC. Included will be a men's quartet, and other vocal and instrumental numbers. Prof. G. J. Malmin, head of the college music department, is in charge.

Speaker at last Thursday's Kiwanis session was Byron Johnson.

Chest Drive Goes Over Top

"Parkland went over the top in the 1949 Community Chest drive."

That was the good news Mrs. Inga St. Clair had for the Times late Tuesday evening right after she had collected enough money to bring Parkland's total to $1,003, three dollars more than the quota. Mrs. St. Clair was co-colonel of the drive in this area with Mrs. J. U. Xavier.

Thus the entire South End raised more than its quota. Earlier, Midland-Harvard-Summit and Spanaway had gone over the top, and Mrs. Robert Clinton and Miss Alice Randall had been the first two colonels in the entire county to receive the "Red Feather Oscars." These two districts each had a quota of $200.

In commenting about the success of the 1949 campaign in this area, Mrs. St. Clair had nothing but praise for her workers. She commented that she had a wonderful group of women to work with. And even though Parkland has reached its goal of $1,000, Mrs. St. Clair declared that the local drive wouldn't end until everyone in the community had been contacted and given a chance to contribute to the Community Chest.

EVERGREEN STUDIO OPENS UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Evergreen Studio in the Parkland Shopping Center has re-opened under the management of Richard Holm, who recently completed a thorough refresher course at a photo school in New Haven, Conn., where he learned all the latest techniques of lighting, film, etc.

Before that, Holm had his own studio in Idaho for four years. He has one daughter, Caryl, and is now living in the South End. Although specializing in portrait work, he also photographs special events on the scene.

Mary Schriver Is Queen of Elk Plain Carnival; Club Nets $700

Crowned queen of the annual school carnival last Friday night at Elk Plain Grange hall was Mary Schriver. Interest in the election ran high until the announcement, with people buying tickets to help their favorite candidates. Miss Schriver's attendants were Joyce Loveland, Shirley Beeman, and Leah Averill, who, along with the queen, were presented with beautiful corsages.

Gaily decorated booths lined the hall, and the stage was bedecked for the coronation. There were many prizes donated by merchants of Tacoma, Puyallup, and the South End, which did much to heighten the interest in the fish pond, wheel-of-chance, bingo, turkey give-away, and the "mouse race." A hamper full of linens and fancy work was also given away.

Over $700 was added to the fund of the School Club from the proceeds. Credit goes to Messrs. and Mesdames Gordon Johnson, Emmet Rich, Ross Plumb and Mesdames Nick Kanton, Ferdie Kanton, Ed Castle Sr., Thorne Tibbits, Charlie McFadden, Gene Smalley, Cal Sartain, Rod Gregg, Frank Reardon, Mrs. Schriver, Mrs. Solley, and Mrs. DeNune, Eutrophia Keough, Mary McFadden, Mary Jones, David Parker, and Lawrence Summer.

Highlight of last night's monthly meeting of the Parents' Club in the Elk Plain dining hall was a musical program and demonstration of band instruments by the Tacoma Music Company. It will be possible for students to participate in the school orchestra and programs throughout the year, and to take lessons at a nominal cost.

At the weekly Bible study meeting of the Elk Plain Community Church, a constitution will be presented for approval. This has been undertaken by the trustees and deacons of the newly-formed church after much discussion and study of similar documents. The Rev. Ray Hutchinson, pastor of the church, welcomes everyone to these meetings, as well as the Sunday school and church services.

"To incorporate or not to incorporate"—that is the question that Parkland citizens will discuss Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Parkland school auditorium. Under the auspices of the Parkland Business Club, issues on both sides of the incorporation fence will be thoroughly aired in an old-fashioned town meeting debate, to be followed by a question period.

Four very competent local residents have consented to participate in the debate and to bring out the pros and cons of the much-discussed issue. Speaking for incorporation will be Walt Young and Donald Eastvold, while Carl Ostlund and Floyd V. Hicks will speak against incorporation. This does not necessarily indicate which side of the issue these gentlemen personally favor.

An interesting feature of the debate will be that the two members of the law firm, Eastvold and Hicks, will be speaking on opposite sides of the fence.

Donald Eastvold is just entering private practice in the National Bank of Washington building in Parkland after spending the summer as deputy prosecutor of Pierce county. Son of Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Eastvold, he graduated in 1948 from the University of Washington, where he placed first in the mock appellate court competition. Before that, he took honors in national collegiate debate contests. After the war, he edited the Prairie Pointer for several months. He has just completed a new home at 121st and Park.

His law partner and opponent in the debate, Floyd Hicks, is also a graduate of the 1948 class of the U. of W. law school. Before coming to Parkland to open the new law offices, he was an attorney in Auburn. He graduated from high school in Prosser, and from 1935 to 1942, was a junior high school teacher and coach at several high schools of this state. His St. John high school quint missed by one point winning the state prep casaba championship.

Teaming with Hicks on the negative side will be Carl Ostlund, long-time resident of Allison Road. From 1929 to 1933 he was a county commissioner, and for many years, he was also a member of the Parkland School board. Ostlund was active in obtaining a junior high for Parkland in the mid-1930's. He has done engineering work for Ruston, one of Tacoma's incorporated suburbs.

On the affirmative side with Eastvold is Walt Young, owner of Young's Gift Shop on Garfield Street. Young was the first president of the Parkland Business Club, and is also a past president of the Pacific Lutheran Col-

List Wartenbe For President

Three of the present incumbents were nominated for another term in the executive board of the Midland Improvement Club, which convened Monday night. Voting will take place at the December session.

President Spalt Wartenbe was the only candidate nominated for president during 1950, and Secretary Ruth Eshpeter and Treasurer Lewis McArthur were also renominated. A new name appeared on the slate for vice-president, Clyde Spangler being the unopposed candidate for that office.

Besides Mrs. Eshpeter, other candidates for secretary are Mary Lind, Charlotte McClatchey, Nonie Hartley and Lois Johann. Floyd Ayers and James Hartley were named to oppose McArthur for the treasurer's post. Nominated for trustee for a three-year term were Frank Baskett, Victor Eshpeter and George Lind.

The club went on record as favoring the sponsorship every year of Halloween parties such as the one held Monday night as a worthwhile substitute for juvenile vandalism. The club is also working to have "slow" signs posted on roads adjacent to Dawson Field.

SPECIAL DEPUTY STARTS NEW MERCHANT PATROL

A new merchant patrol for Parkland was instituted recently by S. Williamson, a special deputy who lives on Sales Road. Mr. Williamson, who was formerly involved in similar work in Seattle, is patrolling business establishments between Sales Road and Garfield Street every night. He makes the rounds by foot.

Mr. Williamson hopes to have a large percentage of the merchants on Sales, Pacific Avenue, and Garfield Street signed up for the protection, so that it can be as efficient as possible. His mailing address is Box 351, Parkland.

Precincts To Be Split Up

If you are a resident of Parkland, Spanaway, Midland, Harvard, or of Brookdale, you probably won't have to travel so far to vote in the next election. All the voting precincts in these communities are in the process of being sub-divided by Secretary of State Earl Coe.

All the overcrowded precincts in the state are being sub-divided. State law requires sub-division of all precincts in which more than 300 votes are cast in a general election. There are over a thousand such precincts throughout the state, of which 159 are in Pierce county.

Most overcrowded precincts in the fast-growing South End are Parkland No. 2 and Spanaway, in which 1,058 and 1,010 votes were cast in the 1948 election. Each of these large districts will be subdivided into three or four precincts under the new alignment.

North Parkland will be sliced into at least three precincts, because 942 people voted at Sunshine Hall last November. Midland, with 723 voters participating in the last election, is due to be cut into two or three precincts, while Harvard, with 583 voters, is to be sliced into two precincts.

Secretary of State Coe has already finished subdivision in Thurston county, and will be working in Pierce county soon.

Legion Post 118 Names Hart Pres.

Last Friday saw the induction of new officers of Post No. 118, American Legion, under the direction of Wendell Brickert and Severn Kittelson, commander and vice-commander of the fourth district.

Much satisfaction is felt by all members of the post that Arthur Hart has accepted the leadership of Clover Creek post. His officers are Tom Bailey, senior vice-commander; Warren Stinson, adjutant; Walter Hunt, finance officer; William Lee Bailey, chaplain; Frank McCabe, historian; Leo Hardie and Walter Dean, color bearers; Joe Armijo, sergeant-at-arms; and George King, trustee.

"I couldn't have a better roster of officers if I had hand-picked them myself," commented the new commander. "With their able assistance we are assured of a year of accomplishment."

Considerable jocularity was expressed in subtle innuendoes as the comrades "ribbed" the new commander as to whether the auxiliary under the presidency of Mrs. Hart would co-operate with the post. Said Commander Hart: "Assuredly yes! Both organizations will extend 'Harty' support to each other."

At the same time as the Legionnaires were meeting, the auxiliary was also holding its regular session in a setting of corn stalks, pumpkins, scarecrows, witches, and ghosts.

Following the routine business presided over by Mrs. Mable Hart, the honor guest of the evening, Mrs. Marie Brickert, fourth district, gave a short talk on liberty.

Then the ladies were joined by the Legionnaires for a joint social hour at the home of Mrs. Long, featuring Halloween stunts and refreshments.

Did you know that J. U. Xavier of 118th St., Parkland, is the only name listed under X in the entire Tacoma telephone directory?

Troop 33 to Hold Court of Honor Tonight; Scout Officials to Attend

Most of the Boy Scout "brass" from the Tacoma area will be on hand this Thursday evening for the court of honor program of Troop 33 in the basement of Trinity Lutheran Church. The event is slated to get underway at 8:15 with a candlelight ceremony.

A feature will be the presentation of the Scout charter to the Trinity Brotherhood by Dudley Stair, president of the Mount Rainier district council. Other dignitaries present will be Byron Johnson, assistant Scout executive, and District Commissioner L. L. Ames and members of his staff.

Ordinarily these Scout executives don't attend anything less than district courts of honor, but all agreed to be on hand for this troop court of honor. Neighborhood Commissioner Hward L. Willard will present an award to Troop 33 for their winning in the recent inspection. Presiding over the whole session will be Dr. Robert Olsen.

Merit badges will be presented to Kenneth Willard for dog care and surveying, David Steen for bird study, athletics and scholarship; Tommy Swindland for angling, home repairs and pathfinding; and John Richards and David Bertsen for home repairs. Second class scouts to be presented are Russell Tucker, Ronnie Colton, Meriwether Lewis and Larry Easterday.

Afterwards, the senior Scouts will serve refreshments, with the mothers furnishing the cake.

The Explorer unit of Troop 33 held its initial meeting Monday night at the home of Kenneth Willard. Newly-chosen officers are Philip Sunset, explorer guide; Tommy Swindland, explorer-treasurer; Dale Storaasli, quartermaster; David Steen, chairman of indoor and outdoor committees; and Kenneth Willard, chairman of service and social committees. Plans were discussed for winter activities and the securing of complete senior Scout uniforms.

At the recent committee meeting of Troop 30, sponsored by James Sales Grange, plans were discussed for the charter presentation party to be staged Tuesday, Nov. 22. Mr. C. A. Georgia was selected as new scoutmaster, to replace Oz Olson, who had to retire because of pressing business.

The Explorer unit of Troop 30 held an organizational session last night and elected officers. Francis Reding was appointed Explorer adviser.

Nov. 26 is the date chosen by the Explorers for a benefit dance at the Grange hall. Proceeds will help buy new uniforms and equipment for members of the unit. Tickets are already being sold.

Two Midlanders Win 4-H Offices

Two Midland 4-Hers won posts when the Pierce County Senior 4-H Club held elections last Wednesday evening, the first meeting of the new year. Larry Christensen was named president and Mary Clinton, treasurer. Other victors were from Fife, Kelly Lake, and Woodland. After the business meeting, Don Whisler led the group in square dancing.

Elections were also held last Wednesday by the Midland Junior 4-H Club. Diane Schrag won the presidency; Janet Wagaman, vice-president; Anne Teasley, secretary; Anne Clinton, treasurer; and Janice Johnson, reporter. Mrs. Robert Clinton and Mrs. Elmer Morud spoke, giving a general outline of the 4-H organization.

All past leaders of Midland 4-H will be honored guests when the senior 4-H girls hold their regular meeting this Thursday evening at Midland Hall, starting at 7:30. Also present will be members of the Flett 4-H Girls' Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Samuel Yost.

HM&L Fire Auxiliary Has Funfest; Midland Ortho Guild to Nominate

The annual Halloween party of the Harvard, Midland and Larchmont Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary was held Oct. 29 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kemp. The evening was spent at hilarious games led by the committee in charge. On this committee were Joyce Peterson, Bernice Turner and Helen Robinson. Attending the party were the Messrs. and Mesdames David McPherson, George Turner, Sol Christel, James Hartley, Steve Baskett Sr., Frank Baskett, Don Peterson, Al Bombardier, Victor Eshpeter, Harold Weeks, Chet Robinson, William Shanahan, Donald Kemp, Frank Johnson, Mesdames Jack Absten, Joyce Vance, Alma Gemmill and Messrs. Earl Weeks and Bob Burston.

Election of a nominating committee will be the main issue before the Midland Orthopedic Guild when it meets Monday at the Midland Improvement club for a 12:30 luncheon. Mrs. Donald Kemp will bring the meeting to order right after lunch. Hostesses will be the Mesdames Harold Cook, Floyd Cook, Vincent Dreis, Lewis McArthur, Olga Ervin, Henry Rambaldini, E. W. Schumacher and Ike Young.

Thirty-five Pre-school mothers turned out last Wednesday evening to hear the straight-forward talk of Mrs. Erma Blethn on "Training the Pre-school Child Socially." Mrs. Blethn stressed the point of "getting along" with a child rather than using discipline and ironed out for the mothers some of the young child's sex problems. During the business session under direction of President Betty Webb, the attendance trophy, won by the group at the last County Parent-Teachers Convention, was displayed. Refreshments were served by Bess Gamper, Charlotte Bottiger and Mary Markley.

Midland Junior High ended its magazine drive with an ice cream feast last Thursday. All those who brought in ten dollars or more the first day were rewarded by having all the ice cream they could eat.

Those in on the feast were Paul Craig, David Welsh, Tommy Hansler, June Cannon, Karyn Thornton, Gerald Mout, Wallace Mann, Glenn Alstead, Bill Hiller, Sharron Eshpeter, Grace Hansler, Keith Vaughan, Susan Ellerton, Don Hall, Jerry Boone, Carol Frederiksen and Maxine McKenney. It is rumored that one boy in the seventh grade ate fifteen ice cream bars.

The Flower Box Garden Club held its first meeting of the season recently at the home of Mrs. Orville Bombardier. Installation of officers for the coming year was conducted by Mrs. Bombardier. New officers are Mrs. Roy Christensen, president; Mrs. Vince Lucich, vice-president; Mrs. Francis Hushek, secretary; Mrs. Norman Nelson, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Thornton, publicity and historian,

443 Enroll In P-TA Classes

Total enrollment in the evening recreation program sponsored by the Parkland P-TA now stands at 443 persons, the Times learned today. Since Oct. 4, when the program was opened, the classes have had a total attendance of 816.

Next folk dancing class is set for next Wednesday from 8 to 10 p.m. in the school gym. Calling will be Don Whisler. This class is proving very popular, although there is still room for more "squares" on the floor. The P-TA executive board will assemble Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Haner at 113th and A Street. Since this is an important session, all members are urged to be present.

Mrs. John Richards will open her home alongside Clover Creek for the meeting of the junior high room mothers next Thursday at 1 p.m.

First party for elementary grade pupils will be staged next Thursday by the elementary room mothers. Games will be played and refreshments served. General chairman is Mrs. Neil Gaiser. Room mothers serving as hostesses are Mesdames James Turner, W. W. Cline, James Slater, Richard Simpson, Floyd Corbin, Clarence Berger, E. J. Perrault, William Gorman, Bert Streng, Rufus Parker, Walter Perkuhn, Edward Flatness, Morton Anderson, Ben Bassett, Galen Crall, Irigil Bergh, Joe N. Anderson, Harold Leraas, Leslie Hawkins, Roy H. Hartman and Eugene Crain.

Resuscitator Is Given By Club

Highlight of the November meeting of the Spanaway Community Club Tuesday night was the formal presentation of the resuscitator by President Harry W. Smith to Martin Gibbons, chairman of the resuscitator committee of the Spanaway-Elk Plain Fire Department.

The resuscitator was paid for largely from the proceeds of dances and other projects sponsored by the Community Club and other organizations. It will be kept at Engine House No. 1 of Fire District No. 7.

The club voted to join other organizations up and down Highway 5 in asking that the highway from Tacoma to Tenino via Spanaway and Roy be posted as Highway 99-E.

Members of the club are looking forward to Nov. 19, when they are throwing a hard-time dance at the recreation building at Spanaway Park. Tickets are selling for 50 cents.

INCORPORATION

legis Alumni Association. Moderator of the debate will be Theodore Karl, head of the PLC speech department, who is well-known as a highly-successful forensics coach. Last year the PLC debate squad was one of the best of any college in the Northwest, and traveled as far as Peoria, Ill., to compete in speech tournaments. Karl taught at PLC from 1940 to 1942, and returned in 1948 to resume his work in the speech department.

In charge of arrangements is Mrs. Jennie Grodgvig, local realtor. She emphasizes that this meeting is for purely informative purposes, and that each side of the question will be accorded equal treatment. She commented that the club was fortunate in obtaining such good speakers to lead the discussion.

Most Parklanders realize that their fast-growing community is faced with three alternatives: to remain as a rural district under county administration, to annex itself to Tacoma, or to retain its identity under a town government. Each of these poses advantages and disadvantages, and it is up to the 5,000 or more residents of the area to decide which road to follow.

The debate Monday night will help to clarify many of the questions people have been wondering about the merits of each of the three alternatives. They should come prepared to ask questions, and if the debate doesn't answer them, they may bring them up during the open forum period.

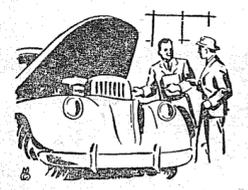

An extra feature on the evening's program will be the drawing for the award of the Crosley television set, also sponsored by the Business Club.

Mrs. Alberta Preus, Parkland librarian, would like to remind all residents of the community that books for all ages are available. She also pointed out that if a book you wish is not on hand, it is possible to order it. Hours of the Parkland branch library are 1 to 5 p.m. on Tuesdays and 1 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. on Wednesdays.

November 11, which is Armistice Day and the 60th anniversary of Washington statehood, will be observed by the Parkland Post 28, American Legion, and the auxiliary unit, with a potluck dinner and program at Sunshine Hall. All veterans in the community, whether Legionnaires or not, are invited.

Members of Parkland Evangelical Lutheran Church at 123rd and Pacific will mark the Festival of Missions this Sunday with services in the morning and afternoon. Pastor W. Zell of Faith Lutheran will speak at the 3 o'clock service, and refreshments will be served at 5 p.m. by the Ladies Aid and Women's Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Morgan and three daughters, Shirley, Mary, and Linda, of Gig Harbor, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dahl of 127th Street.

Cindy Patterson was guest of honor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Les Patterson of 119th Street, celebrating her fourth birthday.

Alex Erwin was the honored guest at a surprise dinner party Sunday in celebration of his birthday. Singing "Happy Birthday" to Mr. Erwin were his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roldstad, and Mrs. W. J. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beimbom, who have lived at Wilson and A Street for many years, have moved into Tacoma. Before leaving, they had the surprise of their lives when their son Gary Beimbom appeared with six teeth on the day he was six months old.

Spanaway P-TA To Present Dance Revue

This Friday evening, Rietha Gehri Studio will present a dance revue at the Spanaway school. This is being presented by the P-TA as a money-raising project to raise funds for the annual Christmas party.

A clothing pool has been arranged by the association, in which each member is asked to bring out-grown clothing to each P-TA meeting. This clothing is left in Dick Fraser's charge for emergency use. Anyone wishing to contribute clothing, even if it is patched, may have it picked up by calling GR. 6466.

Winning prizes at last Friday evening's Spanaway P-TA card party were Mrs. Elliot, Mary Henriksen, Dan Smith, Velma Rhone and Arne Adams. Splitting the door prize, a slab of bacon, were Victor Fox and Mr. Elliott.

Next meeting of Spanaway-Elk Plain Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at Elk Plain school.

The auxiliary board convened last week at the home of Mrs. Althea Flannery. Plans were made for the bazaar to be staged in December. Dinner was served by the hostess to Mesdames Marion White, Velma Rhone, Laura McLellan, Matilda Symmons, Olive Tarpenning, Lucille Steidel, Evelyn McAtce, Mary Henriksen, Beulah Ballard, and Doris Omat.

Nearly 40 firemen and their wives attended the gala annual Halloween party at the Parkland Fire hall Friday night. The evening started out with a smorgasbord supper, and ended with games and tricks.

Robert Haner, Robert Binkly and Arne Sunset returned last Friday from a week's hunting trip in eastern Washington. The trip proved successful, with Haner shooting a two-pointer near Twisp.

Suburban Study Club will meet Tuesday, Nov. 8, at 2 p.m. at home of Mrs. John Richards, with Mrs. G. J. Malmin as co-hostess. Miss Anne Knudson, PLC teacher, who has spent a summer in Europe, will talk about her experiences. Audrey Carell will sing, accompanied by Mrs. Malmin.

Methodists' Ham Dinner on Sunday

Members and friends of Parkland Methodist Church will feast on ham this Sunday afternoon. Serving will begin immediately after the morning worship service under the sponsorship of the Couples Club.

The women of the club will do the cooking, and the men, the serving. Part of the food is being furnished by the Ladies Aid and the Y.L.A. Besides baked ham, the menu will include fruit cocktail, scalloped potatoes, string beans, tomatoes, rolls, coffee, and home-made cookies.

The dinner will last from approximately 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., with music to be furnished upstairs for the entertainment of people who cannot be served immediately.

Preparing for the event are Mrs. Charles Zittel, general chairman; Mrs. Harris Victor, tickets; Mrs. Byron Logan and Mrs. Neil Thomas, publicity; Mrs. Sam Brown, Mrs. F. J. Traill, and Mrs. Van Beck, food; and Mrs. Clinton Williams and Mrs. Richard Simpson, tables and service. Ticket sales closed yesterday.

Collins Father-Son Banquet Coming Up

Saturday, Nov. 12, has been set as the date for the Father and Sons' banquet to be held at Collins school gym. Serving will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Men who don't have a son should "adopt" one, and boys who don't have a dad should "adopt" one. Featured on the menu will be turkey with all the trimmings. Entertainment and movies will follow.

The affair is being sponsored by the Cubs, Boy Scouts, and Explorers of Collins. General chairman is Ed Purdue, who is assisted by Henry Larson and Emery Newton of the Cubs, Van Munson and John Gorow of the Scouts, and Don Gilmore and Norman Nelson of the Explorer unit.

Purdue told the Times that the general object of the banquet is just a friendly, informal get-together. And he added, "you'll get the most turkey for six bits you've ever seen in your life."

300 Enjoy Spook Party At Midland

The Halloween party co-sponsored by the Harvard-Midland P-TA and the Midland Improvement Club at Midland Hall Monday night was acclaimed a big success by all of the more than 300 grade school children attending.

Nine of the youngsters received prizes for their costumes. In the first and second grades, Albert Mickelson was judged the most original; Pat Morgan, the most gruesome; and Harold Knutson, funniest. In the third and fourth grades, the winners were Patty Adler, most original; Joyce Benson, most gruesome; and Terry Lindstrom, funniest. Among the fifth and sixth graders, the judges picked George Loh Kamp as the most original; Wayne Shilling, most gruesome; and Gerald Wilson, funniest.

Judges of the costume contest were Spalt Wartenbe, president of the Improvement Club, John Bussanich, William Shanahan, Mrs. George Turner, and Mrs. Clarence Johann. When the 300 gaily-garbed juveniles paraded around the block, it was a sight such as few Midlanders had ever seen.
