In discussing the county-city building further with various people after last week's article I was very pleased to find so many people of the same opinion that I have expressed.

One thing might be said in defense of the controversy regarding the final selection of a site for the county-city building in case it does pass the approval of the voters is that the county commissioners are the ones who have the say-so in regards to the selection of the site.

Perhaps all the smoke screen being raised in regards to the location has been all in vain as it will be the sole responsibility of the county commissioners to make the selection of the site . . . not the city council, not the voters . . . just the three commissioners. Whether or not they will be susceptible to the wishes of the majority of the county residents will be seen ... after the bond issue is passed. Franklin Pierce Asks Millage

Vote Yes If you haven't been out to see the new Franklin Pierce high school out at Portland avenue and Airport road do so before the election November 4th. Here is one of the finest high schools in the state of Washington. Of course it isn't quite finished yet, but it is coming along just fine, thanks to the fine leadership of a mighty fine superintendent and an equally fine board of directors who have nursed this project along since its inception in 1949 when Franklin Pierce school district was formed. It has been the dream and the ever-pressing perseverance of Morris Ford and his board of maintenance and improvements of directors-Chester Larson, chairman of the board (Central Avenue); Andrew Christiansen, clerk of the board (Midland; G. O. Stovner of Parkland, Olaf Jordahl, Parkland, and Matt Manley of the Collins district-who have been instrumental in the rapid growth of the district which only a few years ago employed 67 teachers

WCSF Says Vote No On Initiative 184

Voters today were urged to "remember, and vote against, Initiative No. 184, because it is the most risky and expensive piece of business on the November ballot."

The Washington Conference or State Finance said the initiative would add more than $81,000,000 to the pairs, from the general fund. We state's public welfare cost and boost the present outlay to 'the staggering figure of more than $255,000,000."

Don M. Follett, chairman of the conference, said the estimate on cost was based on official social security department studies. The increase, he said, would be "disastrous to the state's financial structure, already. overloaded." He said the only safe action would be to defeat the initiative and turn the responsibility for welfare legislation over to the state

In Pierce county, the added cost estimated $9,379,800, he stated. "The voter who does not want to eopardize the state's financial structure should make it a point to remember Initiative No. 184, and take action to defeat it,' Follett said. The conference chairman pointed to the fact that present state financial difficulties can be traced directly to Initiative 172, enacted in 1948. That initiative plunged the state into deficit day, Nov. 1, at 8:30 p.m. in the Ben- financing, and the trend was not reston Grange hall. Pinochle and 500 versed until Initiative 178 was passed

Pierce County one of the most beautiful neon signs of the Tacoma area has just been completed for the Park 'n' Shop Super Market at 98th and Pacific States

Editor's Note-The following article, submitted by the Pierce County Hospital in response to an inquiry by the Times-Journal, gives a vivid word picture of the average day's exciting routine at the hospital's emergency department. A wailing of sirens is heard as the County Sheriff's ambulance pulls to a screeching halt at the emergency room entrance with a distressed young woman in labor-a true emergency. A quick look at the patient determines that there is a complication involved, a complication whose handling determines whether or not this patient and her baby will survive. The house physician rapidly examines the patient, a laboratory technician is sumnoned, blood samples are drawn, and laboratory analysis follows. The patient's critical condition does not mean that birth of the baby will be mmediate and careful handling of the patient with intravenous fluids and other medications widely necessary, are started. This story begins and ends in the emergency room within a short space of 35 minutes. Ten minutes before this patient eaves the emergency room, a 78-yearold gentleman arrives by private vehicle. The nurse on duty quickly looks stretcher. He is breathing with relative comfort and states that he wants to be transferred immediately to the Marine hospital in Seattle. An emerg ency call establishes his eligibility, the lung disease is described over the telephone by the house doctor, and arrangements are made for an ambulance. Within about 45 minutes from the time the patient is admitted,

he is on his way.

By this time a Police ambulance has been waiting five minutes outside of the emergency room entrance and by the time the elderly gentleman has been discharged, we find this new patient being restrained on a chair by two police officers. A very strong odor of alcohol is evident and the patient's behavior indicates him to be on the verge of becoming mentally disturbed-he "has the snakes." He s taken into a dressing room back of the emergency room and requires the temporary attention of one of the police officers besides the nurse to prepare him for a complete examination. With some cajoling this patient who has been uncooperative from the beginning, finally is examined for blood pressure, pulse, a check on the heart, lungs, etc. This man doesn't seem to be too sick physically but he had too much alcohol for too long a nurse on duty and with considerable more cajoling and assistance the medicine is finally given. The patient relaxes and is covered up and left to rest for a short while. Another 45 minutes have elapsed. While the first house doctor was examining this patient, an emergency call is accepted by the Department and the other doctor goes upstairs to deliver a baby.

While this has been going on. an old auto is driven up to the front entrance of the hospital and the switchboard operator has notified the emergency room that another patient is coming in. An attendant brings out a wheelchair and a young man with rather blank expression is brought own to the hallway of the emergency (Continued on Page 6)

The initiative and referendum propositions are a test on the average voter and he should well understand the difficulty of the legislature when it must resolve itself on so many more and new questions affecting the state's business and welfare. It is an interesting job and yet a difficult one.

Lots of Changes

Three important changes are reported this week by a Parkland firm. Formerly known as the Garfield St. TV and Radio Service, located at 509 Garfield street and owned and operated by Bill Black, the business is now Jack's TV and Repair, with space in the same building with Parkland-Brookdale Electric at 13022 Pacific Ave., and owned and operated by Jack Neely. The finest in TV service is offered by the shop.

While there is no connection beween the two businesses, customers of both will benefit by having firms offering sales and servicing of TV sets under the same roof.

U.S.C. Stops Bears Jess Hill and his rugged USC Troans stopped the University of California Bears cold Saturday and in doing so almost cinched the Coast Conference title. The 10 to 0 Trojan victory was a mild upset, especially in the respect that this was the first game since 1947 in which the Cali ornia Bears have been unable to score points in a game. The USC defensive unit is by far the best team in the country. It is very seldom a school finds such a group of rough and tough big boys such as Hill has assembled in this unit. There are no great standouts among this defensive team, but every one of them are tough to go around, over or through. If the USC squad should represent the coast in the Rose Bowl, the Big Ten team will be in for a rugged afternoon of foot

Huskies Click for Win Husky quarterback Don Heinrich led his team to a brilliant upset victory over Stanford by a 27 to 14 score. Using good field strategy, Heinrich mixed his passing and running plays and kept the Indians completely baffled for the first three quarters of the game. In the fourth quarter the Stanford team took to the air and managed to score two touchdowns, but the Huskies had piled up an advantage and their victory was never in danger. Nugent, Kyllingstad and Lariza, the Huskies' running attack, ripped off 189 yards for one of the best showings on the ground by the U. of W. this year. George Black, the big end, was Heinrich's main target during the game and hit him repeat-

Rockets Start to Move As predicted earlier by Coach Muzz Patrick, the Tacoma Rockets have started to move up the ladder in the Western Hockey league standings. Proving Patrick's theory that he has a high scoring team, the Rockets peppered the Victoria net for 7 goals in their victory over the strong Canadian sextet. The steady, capable Wingy Johnston is playing brilliant hockey and is the key to the success of the Tacoma team. Several of the younge players are rounding into shape and will be a big help very soon.

Few Deer Taken The 1952 deer season has been one of the most disappointing for the local hunters in many years. Due to the dry weather, most of the areas where the hunters usually have good hunting were closed until the last few days of the season. Even after these areas were reopened, the deer were very scarce. Due to the few deer taken so far, Governor Langlie is considering an extension of the hunting season. An announcement from his office is expected early this week.

Vote Against the Puppet Candidate

Congressmen who renounce their own convictions to respond to every pull of the administration's strings don't make "great" senators. Congressman Jackson's record shows that he has consistently gone along with Truman and Secretary of State Acheson. All they have to do is pull the strings and the puppet Congressman does their bidding.

Let's vote to re-elect a fighting senator. Senator Harry Cain has always stood by his convictions and fought for what is right. Senator Cain is well qualified to represent the people of Washington.

Let's End the Mess in Washington By Voting for Ike, Nixon and Cain.

An Open Letter

Dear Friends and Voters:

I thank you, my many friends, for the privilege of serving you as one of your TWO State Representatives at Olympia. I pledged to you in the primaries that I would carry on a clean campaign for re-election and I have kept this faith with you. I have nothing but a good word to say for each and every one of the candidates for the legislature. If I am successful in my bid for re-election I will work for you with whomever you send to represent you. I know that most people would not tolerate a campaign based on personal prejudices, petty politics and character assassinations. I am trying to outline my idea of a constructive program to you, the same as each of the other candidates have. Will you read it, study it and if it meets with your approval, will you help me to further serve you by voting for me on November 4th.

Thanking you again, Your State Rep. Kenneth H. Simmons.

Do YOU

WANT NEW TAXES?

INITIATIVE No. 184

Requires New Taxes

There are many reasons why Initiative No. 184 should be voted down. The most urgent of these is that its enactment will require new taxes which most of us do not have the money to pay.

Increases Costs $80 Million

Initiative No. 184 proposes the spending of an additional $80 million for welfare, money the state does not have. The state cannot use any of its trust funds without impairing the reserves for schools or undermining the insurance funds set aside for injured workmen and the surviving widows and children of injured workmen. The state can get this money only by imposing on us new and higher taxes. These new taxes will amount to at least $50 per year for every wage earner. Under recent Supreme Court rulings about the only major revenue source left open to the state is an increase in the sales tax. It would require another cent of sales tax to raise the additional $80 million necessary to finance Initiative No. 184. After paying what is already the highest tax bill in the country how many-or how fewof us have anything left over to pay new taxes?

Initiative No. 184 Is Dangerous

Initiative No. 184 is a real danger. It is not just a political threat that can be dismissed lightly. We know this from experience because we faced the same issue only four years ago when Initiative No. 172 was pending.

Damages State Finances

In 1948 the state was in sound financial condition. It had a cash surplus of more than $32 million. But Initiative No. 172 was on the 1948 general election ballot, a measure which required the state to increase its welfare spending $75 million. Public warnings as to the dangers of this proposal went unheeded and it was enacted. By the end of 1950, despite desperate legislative efforts to close the flood gates, the $32 million balance had disappeared and the state general fund had a deficit of almost $50

Must Pay For Past Mistakes

By 1950 we had recognized the threat of Initiative No. 172 to our economy and had taken two steps to meet the danger. We had rejected Initiative No. 176, a measure designed to perpetuate the excesses of its predecessor, and approved Initiative No. 178, a measure restoring reasonable controls to the welfare program. This action, however, has not saved us from paying for our past mistakes. The 1951 legislature found it necessary to impose $20 million in new taxes to keep the state solvent and even these new taxes have not made possible any major reduction in our general fund debt. We have some $40 million of Initiative No. 172 costs yet to

Vote Against Initiative 184

Initiative No. 184 is more costly in many ways than Initiative No. 172. It proposes a $75 monthly floor under welfare payments as compared with $60 in the earlier measure. Department of Social Security estimates that Initiative 184 will increase welfare costs $80 million during the next biennium appear conservative. Only new taxes can supply such a sum. Unless you have plenty of money left over after meeting your present tax bill.

One of the most amazing things of this phenomenal growth and the end results of having such a fine high school is the small amount of money which the residents have actually put into this huge project. Consider this ... only about 4.3% of all the one and one-half million dollars of the project have been paid for by the taxpayers of the Franklin Pierce district. This has been possible because of state and federal funds obtained by your board and superintendent at great personal work on their part.

I don't want to scare you with lot of figures . . . I have a reason in giving you those that I have, however, occause I want you to think a bit pefore now and November 4th when you go to the polls to vote for many ssues, many office seekers and many equests for bond issues.

telephone calls, one from a mother with a sick baby, another from a diabetic patient who is worried about a change of urinalysis noticed on examining the evening specimen, another call from a nursing home for directions as to what to do with a disturbed patient, and at least one or two calls from newspaper reporters inquiring about the condition of the accident victim we were caring for.

In talking with Dr. Brady about the patient care in the emergency room at the County Hospital, I have begun to realize that perhaps the preparation of a patient for care and the coordinated team work might perhaps explain why at times it is hard for the layman to appreciate the fact that care is actually underway for the patients from the time of their arrival without any actual knowledge by those who brought the patient to the hospital, as to its relative import

Senator Cain . . . then ask him:

at the man . . . or the cute lady who smears

1. Does he want to destroy the last traces of decent Government???

2. Does he want more weary years of Government by a collusion of big

Eastern Labor Bosses, Big City Politicians, Grafters and Opportunists who have nothing to lose and everything to gain by keeping the Racket

3. Does he believe in A. D. A. and other "Front" Organizations ? ? ?

4. WHO told him to SMEAR CAIN??

The same forces who tried to run both political conventions: who tried to defeat Senator McCarthy and who swore they'd "get" Harry Cain are now working feverishly in Washington to defeat the man who defied them all, and risked his political future to block trickily worded Senate bills that looked nice on the surface but contained dynamite in the fine print.

The late H. L. Mencken said it was impossible for a man with high-type character to be re-elected under our present system of mud-slinging.

Let's prove it's possible for a man to stand on his convictions — win, lose or draw — AND SEND CAIN BACK TO THE SENATE!

Frank refused to let the physical disability sustained in military service interfere with his determination to become a useful citizen. Following his return to civilian life, Frank took a three year course in business administration, after which he was employed in office work for eight years. He then purchased a home and land in North Puyallup, where he still resides, and where he has engaged in the construction of residential and business buildings, and the management, rental and sale of properties. Today Frank is a successful business man, a public spirited leader in his community and a highly respected citizen of Pierce County.

Frank is a member of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Disabled American Veterans.

founded by the pioneers of our country. Today, hundreds of thousands of careful property owners enjoy all the advantages of Mutual insurance through the NORTHWESTERN and have received millions of dollars in dividends—a saving on their insurance costs.

In the past six years that Reuben has held public office, no one has ever questioned his honesty or sincerity. As our legislator his work in behalf of his fellow veterans has won him the highest award of the Veteran's of Foreign Wars—the VFW Citizenship Medal; as Chairman of the House Education Committee he has a statewide reputation for his efforts in behalf of our schools; for his favorable record in behalf of the members of organized labor he has the endorsement of all major labor groups in our state; as a farmer he is familiar with the problems of agriculture in this district. Whether Reuben is in his overalls at home on the farm, or in his suit and on the job in Olympia, he's never too busy to listen to our problems. Let's keep him on the job and promote him to our State Senate!

has done a Great Job for Our State HERE's a real fighter-a man who believes in getting things done!

Elected to Congress in 1940 at the age of 28. Henry Jackson has won the admiration of the entire state for 12 long years of hard work. He led the battle for the building of new dams, transmission lines, and reclamation projects. He brought new industries and > the REA's, the farm cooperatives, and stable prices for farm products. Jackson is honest, levelheaded, aggressive. He stands for government economy as proved by his > payrolls to our cities. He supported

"yes" vote on every recommenda. tion of the Hoover Commission to eliminate waste. He consistently fights for the farmer and small businessman.

Let's vote for a man we can all respect-Henry M. Jackson! He's earned the job.

HENRY JACKSON will make a GREAT U. S. SENATOR

Democrat

Pearl A. Wanamaker

At a recent unit meeting of the Washington Education Association, held at the Parkland School, the teachers of the Franklin Pierce School District voted unanimously to support Pearl A. Wanamaker for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Pearl A. Wanamaker, state super ntendent of public instruction since 1941, is secking reelection to this non-partisan office in the coming election on Nov. 4th.

During three terms in that posiion Mrs. Wanamaker has gained national and international recogni ion both for herself and the State of Washington by her aggressive leader-ship in the field of education. As president of the state board of edu cation, executive officer of the state poard for vocational education, and chairman of the state library com-mission, she has vigorously fought for better schools and has focused national attention on Washington's educational system.

In recognition for her work sho was elected president of the Nationa Education Association in 1946-47 president of the National Council of Chief State School Officers in 1950ol, and is currently vice-president of the American Association of School Administrators. She served on General MacArthur's commission for the democratization of Japan's educa-tional system following the war, is now on the joint Canada-United States committee on education and the United States national commis sion for UNESCO. In 1946 she was adviser to the United States delegaion at the first UNESCO conference

A graduate of the University of Washington, Mrs. Wanamaker taught both elementary and high school classes. In 1923 she was elected county superintendent of schools in Island county being, at the time of her election, the youngest county superintendent in the country. Later she served several terms as state representative and state senator where she spearheaded school legislation. The Showalter Bill, providing basic state support to school district on a per-pupil attendance basis, and the Yantis-Wanamaker Equalization Law, the greatest single step toward pro-viding equal educational opportunty for every child no matter where he might live, were two of her majo legislative accomplisments which since have become standard procedure for school support in many other
