EFFORTS OF OVER 40 FIREMEN PREVENT GREATER FIRE LOSS

VOL 2, NO. 28

Less than two blocks from the cene of the disastrous fire which destroyed the La Pergola Inn two months ago, a new calamity struck.

The Stewart Hay and Grain Company, Spanaway, owned by W. A. and D. B. Stewart, was consumed by flames in the early hours of March 18. The owners estimated a $15,000 loss, including the building and stored merchandise. Partial coverage by insurance was carried on the business. Nothing was saved from the contents of the building.

Forty Firemen

The initial report was called in at 12:30 a.m. by Delbert Garrett of Roy, who saw the flames as he way. The fire company from Parkland reached the scene first. Soon departments arrived. An aggregation of some 40 fire-fighters were given credit for saving a service station and living quarters situated almost adjacent to the south end of the burning structure. Fire bailed hay on into the day, necessitating a watch by Spanaway firemen.

NEW LIBRARY CUSTODIAN

Mrs. Earl Melbrath at Parkland Station of County Library

The Pierce County Public Liorary station at Parkland recently underwent a change in custodian. Mrs. Earl Melbrath is now capably filling the position formerly held by Mrs. Ray Renwick. Mrs. Renwick is now, in a sense, first ady of Parkland, being the wife of the Community club president. She has been forced, due to lack of time, to leave the job which she has carried out in such a fine manner. Mrs. Renwick was with the library ever since its conception.

Open Additional Day

Mrs. Melbrath stated that the library will continue to be open on Tuesday afternoon and Thursday night of each week. In addition to these times it will soon be open on one other day. When arrangements are complete the lefinite time will be announced.

The officials again wish to inform the public that the library is open to everyone. There are books on hand to suit every reader's taste and age. Tax money supports the library, therefore everyone is entitled to and should take advantage of the the service.

GOOD TIMBER

DISAPPEARING Pointing out that "you can't grow trees of saw-timber size overnight," Lyle F. Watts, chief of the U.S. forest service, said the nation is now feeling the scarcity of good timber. He predicts that consumer demand cannot likely be met in full for many years, or until the nation has new growths of

96% in West

He said that 96 per cent of the nation's remaining virgin timber is located in the western states. But even in this region, he said, some localities "are feeling the pinch' and loggers are being forced to Health Department said recently reach farther into the more remote stands in the search of new

> Industrial forest owners, Watts said in his annual report to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, were good cutting practices, but declared this alone will not solve the problem of the future national timber supply, since corporate and other large holdings constitute only 15 per cent of the total commercial forest acreage and since for all private forest land 64 per cent of the cutting practice is currently classed as poor and destruc tive and only 7 per cent as good. Need Program

The chief forester stressed the need of a nation-wide program to keep our forest lands productive and build up our growing stocks. He outlined a four-point program (1) Bring organized fire protection to the 136 million acres of forest land still without it, and build up the forces now fighting forest pests and parasites so as to put the full Cultivate natural relaxation, have effectiveness of science and research findings against these evils; (2) step up our planting program so as to bring into productiveness A unique feature of the new millions of non-productive forest acres now being carried as dead provides a sliding scale, depending weight; (3) reduce waste through more complete utilization of trees For instance, the tax on labor in- harvested; (4) stop destructive

SPECIAL ELECTION SET FOR APRIL 26. ALL URGED TO REGISTER

The date for the Fire Protection District No. 6 special election has been set for April 26, 1947. The question before the voters will be whether or not to establish a 20 mill levy for the year 1948. According to Fire Commissioners E. W. Beitz, E. R. Marsh and Fred Danielson there is a great need for the proposed levy.

"The Parkland Fire Department has worked wonders with the existing tax support, but it is now very necessary to obtain new equipment. If the residents of Parkland want to maintain effective fire protection they must register now and vote on April 26,' stated Beitz.

Check Carelessness And Save Textiles

Careless family habits may account for much damage to household textiles. Small breaks in bathroom towels may be traced to the man who wipes his razor on them. Bath towels used as a rest for curling irons are likely to live short lives as are kitchen towels that pinch-hit for pot-holders. Even slight cuts or scorches weaken fabrics, although the damage may not show up at once, says Marjorie Lusk, extension specialist in clothing, the State College of Washington.

Let's Fill This Need

Agitation for banking facilities in the South End is becoming stronger and a concerted effort to bring this about has been started. The Parkland Community Club and the Parkland Business Club have each appointed committees to press for a bank out this way. It now behooves the Midland Business Club and some Spanaway organization to join in the

The Pointer doesn't pretend to know anything about the banking business and no doubt there are many technicalities to be considered in establishing such an institution in the South End. However, if towns the size of Eatonville can support a bank, certainly there are enough money transactions in our large area to bring profit to a branch bank of one of the Tacoma

Surely there is no other business so sorely needed and we would have an institution that would mean a lot to the future development of the South End.

Let us hope that every possible means of securing banking facilities will be pushed to the utmost.

Daffodil Parade

Recently Parkland and the entire South End came in for some good publicity via the airport deal. As a followup, an entry in the coming daffodil parade in Tacoma would not be amiss. Parkland, Spanaway and Midland could well afford to have a float from each community in the line-up. A movement is already started to have the Parkland Community Club sponsor a float with the assistance of Parkland garden clubs and other talent. Not too much expense need be involved if the community cooperates in the project.

Indications are that this year's Daffodil Festival is going to be a lavish affair which will attract thousands of people. The fast growing communities of the South End should grasp this opportunity to publicize themselves in no uncertain way. A small amount of money and a lot of community spirit can produce wonders, so let's go-with enthusiasm!

Highway mobile telephone serv ice will be available in Washing ton soon. This service is similar to the system in use in Seattle, except that the transmitting and receiving stations are located at appropriate sites along the intercity highways to be served. Telephone engineers are now at work surveying for the location of proposed transmitting and receiving stations in Eastern Washington Spokane and towns in the Columbia basin area will be able to us mobile service not only within their urban limits, but also along major connecting highways. This initial installation of highway mobile telephone service is expected to be completed about the end of Work should be completed on the installation of other transmit ting and receiving stations along other Washington highways by early 1948. Present plans call for mobile telephone service to be available along U.S. Highway 99 from Portland to Canada, and along Highway 10 over the Cascades from Seattle. Cities along the route of the highway installations will be served from the nearest transmitters and receivers.

Home Gardeners Getting Up Steam

It's time to start planning your 1947 garden. This fact was called Wash. Funeral services were held to the attention of home gardeners throughout the nation.

"This year," said Clinton P. An derson, secretary of agriculture, 'many gardeners, relieved of the pressure of war and other emergencies, can go at their job for the pleasure of it, producing more for quality than quantity. They also will want to put more effort on improvement in home surroundings-more effort on lawns, ornamentals and trees.'

"Gardening can play an impor tant role in rural and urban living," continued Anderson. "Gardening teaches something every Saturday. day, and saves money . . . it enables many a family to achieve the ling was overnight guest of Bevdesired nutritional standard of four to seven servings of fruits and vegetables daily. Other advantages include benefits to health, and improvement of lawns, flowers, trees and grounds.

"The home garden's contribuion in healthful foods and happy home living was well demonstrated during the war. It also will be good for America in time of peace," the secretary said.

Why freight rates are going up...

Since 1939, railroad employes have had three general pay raises totaling 52%, and the prices of fuel, materials and supplies have risen 61%.

But when the war ended in 1945, the railroads were still hauling freight at rates no higher, and in some cases lower, than when the war began.

Without increased revenues, railroads could not meet these costs and also provide improvements in equipment and facilities—improvements that are essential for the low-cost freight and passenger services which are necessary to America's high standard of living.

Under these circumstances—and almost a year after the last major wage increase — the Interstate Commerce Commission recently approved an average increase in freight rates of 17%10%.

Of all the price increases in America today, few have been so little and so late as that in the price of railroad transportation.

How important are healthy railroads to a prosperous country?

Only when the railroads are financially healthy can they provide the new equipment, improved road beds, and better terminal facilities needed for still better service to you.

The defense of the nation depends upon the continuance of the efficient transportation which served the nation so well in the last war.

The railroads are among the largest employers of labor. They buy over 100,000 different products. They pay big taxes - taxes which are spent not only for public schools, public health, and police and fire protection, but even for highways, airways, airports and inland waterways.

Railroads are America's lifelinekeeping goods flowing among the 48 states day and night in all weather.

They can continue to do this only if there is a reasonable balance between income and outgo. Like yourself, the railroads must make ends meet!

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

EXTENSIVE PROGRAM OF FAIRS ANNOUNCED BY 4-H CLUB AGENT

Washington residents will see an expanded program of fairs durng the coming summer and fall according to Charles T. Meenach, extension 4-H club agent, and secretary of the Washington State Fairs association.

Meenach announces the official dates of 29 fairs and shows, as well as naming 11 other fairs for which definite dates have not yet been established.

He reported that all fairs enjoyed a successful season last year and were looking forward to similar success in 1947. Many fairs in the state are at the present time making improvements to buildings and equipment and virtually all are planning enlarged programs of participation, exhibits and enterainment.

State Aid

Fairs in the state of Washington are supported jointly by local arrangements and by state funds under the state's Fair law. The is for the purpose of advancing the welfare of farm youth, largely through the 4-H club and Future Farmers programs. Every fair in the state, receiving state funds, has a major part of its programs exhibition and competition for 4-H and FFA members. The 1947 fair circuit in the state shows the following scheduled shows, with dates in cases where these have been established:

Class A Central Washington Fair, Yak ima, September 24-28; Junior Livestock Show, Spokane, May 6, 7 8 and 9; North Central Washington Fair, Waterville, September 19-21; Northwest Washington, Lynden, August 14, 15 and 16; Southeastern Washington Fair Walla Walla, August 29, 30, 31 and September 1; Southwest Washington Fair, Chehalis, Aug. 21, 22, 23 and 24; State 4-H Club Fair, Yakima, September 24-28; Western Washington, Fair, Puvallup, September 13-21; Pacific National Exhibit, Vancouver, August 25-September 1; Multnomah County Fair, September 1924; Auburn
