Help Sought For Parkland Park Project

Residents were urged this week to support Parkland park development on the property adjoining Trinity Lutheran Church by turning out on work nights or making cash donation

John Austin, co-chairman of the park committee of the sponsoring ParklandDevelopment Association made the request in a release issued last week.

Monday evenings, 6 p.m. until dark, have been desig-nated as work nights for the community effort, Austin stated. During the next two Mondays, volunteers will help spread sawdust donated by the Baskett Lumber Company, he said.

The new park is beginning to take shape as the first rhododendrons and azaleas re-cently planted by workers have started to bloom. With a little more effort, the park can soon be completed as a community accomplishment to helpbeati-fy Parkland, he stated. architects for property own-ers Dale Collison and Martin J. Boyle.

Construction of the 5200 square foot structure, to be known as the Collison-Boyle Building, is expected to com-mence by midsummer. Prospective tenants already have started to reserve office space, Collison disclosed. The split-level construction will, be unique in contemporary office design. Stair-step architecture has been incorporated into the plans to conform with the slope of Pacific Avenue. Materials to be used will be patterned shingles, wood siding and masonry. Seven offices averaging 600 square feet will be available with a strong emphasis on individual character. Featuring tenant parking beneath the building, the new structure will provide private front and rear entrances for occupants. Individual tenants will enjoy a private stairway to each office from the lower parking level, and their customers will find an easy access front parking lot large enough to accommodate 20 cars. "Those who apply for space now will have the advantage of planning the interior decor and arrangement of their office areas," Collison stated in re-viewing the plans. "It is pos-sible to make up larger spaces by combining two or three offices to suit a prospective tenant's needs," he said.

"The office building promises to be a very fine addi-tion to the Parkland area," designer K. Walter Johnson stated. "It is situated on one of the prettiest frontages in Parkland and is planned to present a nice appearance in both front and rear." He said tree plantings and special landscaping will be accomplished to compliment the well treed beauty of the property.

Opportunity Centers At Heart Of Youth Employment Services

The Youth Opportunity Center branch of the State Employment Service is at the heart of several programs designed to help young people find themselves in the economic world. b These programs go under the titles f JobCorps, Neighborhood Youth Corps and Community Action Training projects. But the hub of the effort lies in the Youth Opportunity Center.

The Center's purpose is to provide young people, 16 thru 21 years of age, with one clearly designated place to go for personalized service relating to vocational preparation and job placement said the Center's manager Mrs. Eudora Peters.

"The Center offers employment counseling, occupational testing, vocational planning, education opportunities and job placement for youths who are unable to compete for suitable employment because of educational, personal or social disadvantages," she explained,

One of the training programs of the Center is the lob Corps for young people who have dropped out of school and can't find a job. At the Job Corps Centers, Corpsmenare guided into programs that are suited to their abilities and interests. Specialized training is offered in automotive mechanics, electronics, selling, business machine repair and accounting.

An alumni of the Job Corps training program is 17-yearold William McLain of the Parkland area who is employed with Wayne Buck & Sons Tractor Company in Fife. Mc-Lain has been employed there for nearly six months following an electronics training program with the Job Corps. Family problems forced young McLain to quit school and help athome caring for his two sisters and two brothers. Later, through the Job Corps, he was able to receive his high school diploma and attend a trade school in San Francisco, California.

In San Francisco, Bill attended vocational classes from 8 a.m. to noon and high school classes for two hours in the afternoon. Sports, hobbies, movies and entertainment were also part of the curriculum.

He was given approximately $30 a month for spending money, plus a $75 clothing allotment for one year. When a Corpsman finishes his training and leaves the Center, he receives as a readjustment allowance, $50 for each month of satisfactory service in the Corps unless money has been sent home each month to help support his family. Mrs. Peters explained that $25 may be sent home each month by the Corpsman and that this amount is matched by the government.

Corpsmen are eligible for home leave with round-trip transportation paid by the government once a fiscal year. They qualify for this leave after six months of satisfactory service in the Corps continued the manager.

When McLain completed his training he returned to Washington and sought aid from the Employment Office in finding a job.

Help For The Retarded

THREE THOUSAND MOTHERS and others will go from door to door throughout Pierce County Sunday seeking contributions so that others like "Little Jimmie" can be helped. The slogan will be ''Retarded Children Can Be Helped''. Preparing kits for the house to house drive are (from left) Mrs. Floyd J. Voegele, Mrs. George Long and Mrs. Lorraine Smithson. The County Chapter has set $26,000 as its goal to provide local services for the community's 10,000 mentally retarded. These services include a day care center, afternoon and evening adult recreation programs, sheltered workshops for the mentally retarded and the summer program offered through the Metropolitan Park District.

Urbanization & Farm Wastes dors" To Be Discussed 19

"The Law vs. Farm Odors" will be described by Frank August Peters, Tacoma attorney, at an 8 p.m. public meeting Monday at Fruitland Grange Hall.

All dairymen, livestock and poultry producers and com-mercial horticulturists are urged to attend to learn what to expect in court should urban sprawl surround their farms with "sensitive" homeowners.

Peters, having recently defended a complaint against farm odors, is a student of this segment of law and will discuss what the law requires and what the farmer can do to avoid suit or defend himself against complaint.

The meeting is another public service of the Pierce County Cooperative Extension Service. County Extension Chairman Frank Jacksonexplained, "The greatest unsolved farm problem today is the disposal of animal wastes. Coupled with urbanization pressures such as high taxes and shrinking profits, it is difficult for farmers to hang on. Now comes a new frustration --the city dweller's nose, which seems not to notice the industrial stench but is violently nauseated by the smell of a cow."

Midgets Invade Spanaway Sat.

Rita Hunter Captures Mother's Day Feature

SPANAWAY - A full slate of midget racing, including trophy dash, heats and mains are on tap for speed enthusiasts next Saturday evening at Spanaway Speedway. Both full and three quarter buzz bombs will compete on the 3/8 mile asphalt oval, with somewhere around 20 cars expected to answer the green flag. Last Sunday's Mother's Day program drew an estimated crowd of close to 2,000 and treated them to an outstanding program. Rita Hunter came up with a superlative effort in guiding her number 9 car thru a maze of women drivers to capture the 15 lap Powderpuff feature.

In the other mains, rapid Robert Rollins made a most impressive debut by making a shambles of the 50 lap double A feature, lapping the entire field before taking the checkered flag. Rollins rolled to victory in last year's 7-11 car and apparently will continue with the same iron for the remainder of the racing season.

EVERYBODY DUCK. Bruce Beers (checkered top) caused a mild mixup after losing control in east turn of Spanawy Speedway last Sunday. Safely piloting around the misguided missile were Bob Ball (32), Ernie Sterliy (41) and Bob Rollins (7-11).

Little League Meeting Set At Collins

COLLINS - All parents, children and friends interested in Little League baseball are invited to attend a gathering at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Collins Grade School cafetorium.

Former Seattle Rainiers baseball player Frank Tobin will be guest speaker, relating some of the highlights of his baseball career.

Brave Nine Tie For 2nd

Bethel, Sumner, Curtis and Foster High Schools were tied for second place in the Seamount baseball league as the week's competition opened, b

The Braves took the measure of the Sparts early last week to move into the league lead, only to lose the advantage to North Thurston Wednesday in a 3-0 contest.

In action the balance of this week, Fife will visit Bethel and North Thurston will visit Sumner today, Sumner will visit White River Friday and Bethel will play a non-league double bill at Orting Saturday.

Bethel Summer Program Managers To Meet Thursday

The final pre-season meeting of team managers in the Bethel area summer athletic program for boys and girls will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Bethel High School.

Area Director Ed Niehl has announced that this will be the final meeting before the start of summer league competition. Team managers will be asked to submit entry and insurance fees and team rosters at the Thursday meeting.

Joining Rollins, but finding more problems in hemispherical navigation, was stable-mate Ed Looney in a bright yellow 99 car. Looney did manage a 3rd in the fast "AA" heat race.

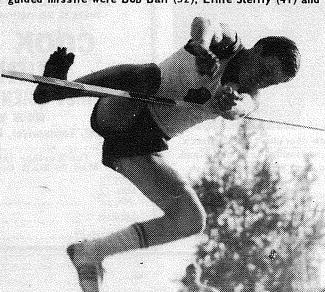

Ken Longley drove one of the best races of his career in the 50 lap A main, snaking through the pack for five laps, then breaking into the clear and winning by half a lap over Steve Kiser. Longley never looked better as he lapped many of the slower cars three times over the 50 lap distance.

A brand new track record was established by Portland invader Ernie Steirly, the hot iron jockey burning Span-away's oval in 16.45 seconds in time trials. The new mark erased the existing 16.50 effort held by Ed Looney.

Auburn's Jim Bond c a me through with a consistant ef-fort, grabbing a 3rd place fin-ish in both the heat and double A main. The blue and white 31 car flashed a lot of speed in the shutes, but couldn't seem to come off the corners with a full head of steam. Next Sunday's ARI slate will include a full schedule of racing for jalopies, A and double A cars. Time trials are set for 1;30 with action starting at 3:00 p.m. Complete results of last

Highline will again host the affair, withelimination heats this Friday and

The season race was knotted up when Puyallup's Tom Horne came up with one of his many fine mound performances and paced the Vikings to a 3-1 win over Franklin Pierce last Thursday. Both the Cards and Vikings share top spot with identical 5-3 marks, but Lakes and Federal Way are just one game back with 4-4 records.

Pierce and Lakes clashed head on on the Warrior's diamond yesterday, then the Cards take on Auburn tomorrow in their own ballpark. Two victories would assure the Redbirds of at least a tie for division honors. Puyallup has to get over the tough Federal Way Eagles in a home contest at Memorial Field played yesterday, then gird for an invasion by the Lancers in tomorrow's curtain closer at home. Coach Andy Helling indicated he will go with Doug Theriault in the
