CLOVER CREEK POST NO. 118
AMERICAN LEGION
Meetings every second and fourth Friday at 8 p.m., in Scout Hall, Spanaway

AUXILIARY NEWS

Ladies of the Auxiliary of Unit 118, Clover Creek American Legion post, are meeting informally today (July 1) at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mabel Hart. For further particulars call either GR. 8172 or GR. 8313. We hope as many will turn out as possible—for work camouflaged with play and eats.

After visiting the hospital at American lake last Sunday, our chaplain-elect, Blanche Rideske, noted namely: Combs, pencils, cribbage voards, toothpaste, soap. Of course, these articles must be new.

If any readers of this invitation wish to do so, they may make up a little package of these needed articles and call up the aforesaid phone numbers. Some Legion lady will be "oh, so happy," to collect for you. This is a very worthwhile project.

Don't forget: Collect your rummage, too; anything, everything, large or small—just so it is rummage all, for the auxiliary's fall rummage sale. What's it for? You guessed it. To raise money for our community service projects. Cal the same phone numbers, if you wish to help with the drive for rummage.

PARKLAND POST NO. 228
AMERICAN LEGION
Meetings every second and fourth Friday at 8:00 p.m. in the Sunshine Hall

Last week's announcement of the Parkland Legion Junior baseball team's winning the fourth district title was evidently a bit premature. A technicality, which existed but did not come to light until after last week's issue, has forced the Parkland team into a playoff game with Tacoma post 138. The deciding game was to be played at American Lake hospital field last evening (July 20).

In explaining the situation, team Manager Frank Berry stated: "Due to the fact that the Shelton team was improperly certified their games were forfeited. Inasmuch as Post 138's third loss was to Shelton, this action automatically put that club into a tie with out team and the playoff is necessary."

RODGER LUNDE POST NO. 5052
Veterans of Foreign Wars
Meets First and Third Tuesdays, 8 p.m., in Parkland School

AUXILIARY NEWS

Grand Scratch of the Cootiettes was held in Spokane, Wash., June 29, after the Cootie parade.

Those attending from Tacoma Toddlers Cootiette club No. 227 were: Mrs. Al Loomis, Mrs. Fred Brining, Mrs. Robert O'Bryant, Mrs. Eddie Nau, Mrs. M. Morton, Mrs. Hazel Vernon and Mrs. W. C. Dusell. Mrs. Brining was elected S. V. president; Mrs. Morton, treasurer; Mrs. Loomis and Mrs. Nau to appointive offices. Pretty good for the Tacoma club.

Greetings were taken to the VFW Aukiliary convention in Spokane by the grand officer, with a check for $45.00 for the Hospital fund.

Next meeting of Tacoma Toddlers Cootiettes will be July 25 at Odd Fellows hall, 6th and Tacoma ave., with Mrs. Al Loomis presiding. Reports from the Grand Scratch will be given.

PLANNING WEDDING

Miss Elouise May Cruver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Cruver of Tacoma, is busy planning for a home wedding on August 23. Her fiance is Hubert O. De Bolt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver I. De Bolt of Parkland.

WEEK END GUESTS

Guests over last week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cline were his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Cline and their two daughters, Jean Marie and Mary Lou, of Portland, Ore.

OVER 2,000 ACCEPT INVITATION TO VIEW NEW INSTITUTION HERE

Over 2,000 people thronged through the doors of the Parkland branch of National Bank of Washington, Saturday evening, to inspect the flower-decked banking quarters located at Pacific avenue and Airport road.

The building, designed by Lea, Pearson & Richards and built by the Warter Construction company, is one of the most modern banking offices in the Pacific Northwest. In addition to the hundreds of people from Tacoma, Parkland and the surrounding territory who visited the bank, there were many out-of-town bankers from Seattle and other parts of the state. Guests were served ice cream and cake, coffee and punch.

Visitors were greeted by head office officers of the bank, together with Arthur G. Swindland, manager, and R. H. Snowden, assistant manager. Distinctive features of the banking quarters and equipment were explained. Official greetings to the bank and congratulations to is officers were extended by Jack Quill, postmaster and president of the Parkland Area Kiwanis club, and W. W. Cline, president of the Parkland Community club. Stanley Erdahl, president of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce complimented the bank on the progressive step taken in extending banking facilities to the south end communities and also greeted his old friends, the officers of the branch.

The bank opened for business Monday, July 18, and nearly 200 accounts were opened the first day. A friendly contest developed among the early depositors as to who would open the first account. The first commercial account was opened by Midland Orthopedic guild, of which Mrs. Donald Kemp is president and Mrs. Michael Hansler, treasurer. The first savings account was opened by Joseph Beitz, pioneer of Parkland. The four little Cline girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cline of Parkland, were also among the first savings depositors.

"The first day of business at our new Parkland Branch was highly gratifying," Manager Swindland stated, "and we are looking forward to giving fine banking service to the people of this community and to assisting in its growth."

JUNIOR TEAM HAS TO EARN TITLE TWICE

Winning the district championship over the regular season of play is not enough for the Parkland American Legion Junior baseball team. Because the trailing Shelton post team failed to certify its players, the local lads had to put their crown back in jeopardy.

All Shelton games were forfeited, putting Tacoma post 138, which lost one game to Shelton, in a tie for first place with Parkland. Parkland won its games over Shelton the hard way, on the field.

Playoff game to decide the district title and berth in the state playoffs for a second time, was to be played last evening (July 20) at American Lake hospital field, with Parkland going up against Post 138, the only team to beat the local lads during the regular season.

Recreation Program Tourneys Progress

Donald May has emerged champion of 25 boys entered in a ping pong tournament recently completed as part of Parkland's summer recreation program, Director Paul Larson has announced. May won from Garnet Lund in the final elimination match, 24-22 and 21-14.

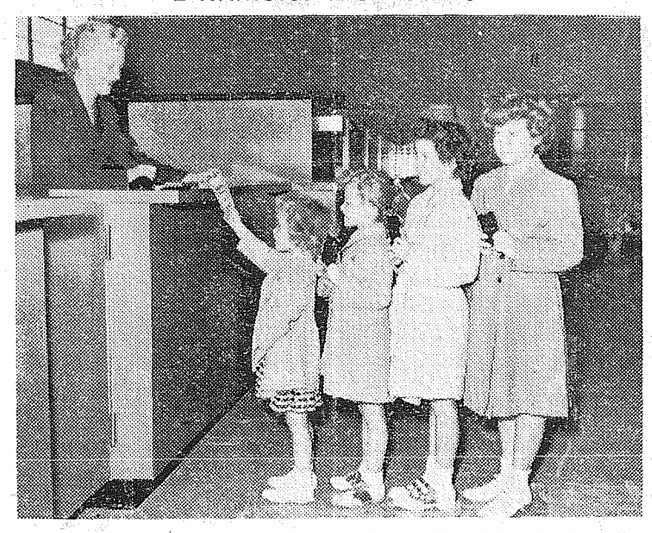
Joan Kittelson is champion of 22 girl ping pongers, winning from Barbara Pepper, 21-12 and 21-10.

Twenty boys and girls are entered in the tennis tournament for the AMVETS cup, with quarter-final matches being played this week. Losers of two rounds go into a losers tourney.

Over 100 youngsters are entered in the swimming classes, Mrs. W. W. Cline, instructor, reports, with good progress being made by those regularly attending.

Parkland branch of National Bank of Washington donated cake to the swimming group this Monday, for which thanks are expressed by the young folks.

Financier Foursome



FOUR DAUGHTERS of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cline of Parkland are first children in line to open savings accounts in new Parkland branch of National Bank of Washington, Monday morning. Miss Joan Bachman of Parkland, bank aide, has pleasant task of opening accounts for Carol, Kay, Marveene and Marcia Cline.

Rites at Trinity Lutheran for Lola Davis, Don Pitzler

Miss Lola Pearl Davis, daughter of Mrs. William E. Clark, became the bride of Mr. Don Walter Pitzler, June 24, at Trinity Lutheran church in Parkland. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pitzler.

Conclusions Differ

Commenting editorially on the report issued last week by the Pierce County Planning commission (which showed the Parkland area the biggest center of residential construction in the county), the Tacoma News-Tribune Sunday outlined Tacoma's stake in the more than four million dollars of suburban construction this year.

The editorial concluded by pointing problems that arise coincident with growth of a rural area. The solution of these problems indicated by the editorial is inclusion of the growing areas within the city of Tacoma. (This is the same newspaper that recently headlined a story: "Tacoma Doesn't Want Parkland).

Your local editor takes issue with the Tacoma editor on his conclusion that "some areas must seek inclusion within the city so they may obtain the services available to Tacoma taxpayers, or provide their own utilities, probably at a much greater cost."

It is difficult to conceive a greater cost, in both taxes and local independence, to be paid for urban services than would come with annexation to Tacoma. Taking the case of taxes:

Tacoma residents this year are billed at the rate of 20.27 mills for support of their city government, as part of a total millage for all purposes of 60.20 mills. The 20.27 mills levy distinctly for city use is 5.27 mills in excess of the statutory maximum for current expense levy and is only .73 mills short of the overall maximum levy permitted by law in cities of the third or fourth class. Cities of lower classification are permitted to levy no more than 15 mills for going expenses, with an added six mills for retirement of indebtedness. Therefor, a resident of a third or fourth class town which not only spends the limit of currently available income but also is bonded to the legal limit would be called upon to pay only .73 mills more taxes to his town than the Tacoma resident is paying this year to keep that city going. Actually, few of the smaller Washington cities are forced to dig deeply into that extra six mills for debt retirement.

Most of Washington's smaller cities are able to live comfortably within their 15 mills, maintaining all facilities and even carrying on improvement programs out of regular taxes. Of course, special Local Improvement District levies occasionally have to be voted in the smaller cities to put through major improvements, but Tacoma has its LIDs, too—with taxpayers often getting a quick brush-off by the Tacoma council. The small town councilman is a neighbor of everybody in his community and does not force through LID projects unless his neighbors really want them.

Even if, as is most unlikely, the small town man had to pay that .73 mills more than Tacoma residents are paying this year, it would be well worth it.

The independent Stoughton, Mass. Chronicle has this comment on economy in the federal government:

. . . In the past, one difficulty in the way of economy was that no one knew how to go about it. No one had ever made a complete analytical study of the sprawling central government. That lack has now been made up through the Hoover Commission survey. This tremendous work has examined every nook and cranny of the government. It has pointed out hundreds of instances of waste, duplication, overlapping, and proposed means of eliminating them. If it is followed, billions can be saved.

The driver of one of these cars was in the act of passing another motorist just as he neared the crest of a hill. He collided head-on with a driver coming over the brow of the hill, and with the terrific impact the lighter car was crushed under the heavy one. The law-breaker in this accident was killed—so was the other driver, and a passenger was seriously injured. Passing on blind curves and on hills is simply gambling with death. Improper passing accounted for more than 35,000 highway deaths and injuries in 1946, according to the National Conservation Bureau.

Former Brookdale Miss Recent Bride

Details of the wedding of the daughter of a former Brookdale family were told recently. Miss Eleanor Ann Luce became the bride of Staff Sergeant Harold W. Roane the afternoon of June 19 in a double-ring ceremony performed at the Little Church on the Prairie, Lakewood, by the Rev. William Perry McCormick.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Luce, now of 12017 Nyanza road S. W., Tacoma. She was given in marriage by her father.

Sgt. Roane is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer S. Roane of Pineville, La.

The wedding costume chosen by the bride was a gown of white marquisette over white taffeta with sleeves edged with lace, fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and full skirt with wide lace inserts, accented with Venetian lace and falling into a long graceful train. Her fingertip veil of illusion with imported lace was caught to a sweetheart headdress of orange blossoms. Mitts covered her hands. She wore a string of pearls that were a gift of the groom and carried a handkerchief that had been worn by the honored guest at her wedding 65 years before.

The honored guest was Mrs. Henry W. Drum. She wore a black lace dress with corsage of Vanda orchids.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Norma Law, in fuschia taffeta with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses, sweet peas and gypsophelia.

The Misses Ann Ashby and Maxine Quinn, bridesmaids, wore gowns fashioned similarly to that of the matron of honor, in aqua and pink, with matching mitts and headdresses with rose blooms. They carried Colonial bouquets of yellow and pink roses, sweet peas and gypsophelia.

Flower girl Kareen Hall was in a princess style dress of yellow organdy with yellow rose headdress. She scattered rose petals along the aisle. Ring-bearer was Kenyon Luce.

Mr. Kenneth Law was best man. Kendye S. Luce and Vernon Wheeldon were ushers and candlelighters. The organist, Mrs. Karl Kaiser, played "I Love You Truly" before the entrance of the bride. Mr. Ernest Bates sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a pale green marquisette dinner dress with long white gloves, white accessories and cyntedrum orchid corsage. Parents of the bridegroom were unable to attend.

For the ceremony, the church sanctuary was flanked by white candelabra and was centered with white Esther Reed daisies at the altar. Large baskets of white gladiolus, white roses and white peonies adorned the church.

A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lyman followed the ceremony. Decorations throughout the rooms were baskets of white gladiolus, roses and peonies. The white lace covered collation table was centered with the bride's cake, decorated with white roses. On each side were silver candelabra. The bride's mother presided at the table, assisted by Mrs. Victor Hall and Mrs. Carl Cedergreen. Mrs. Harold Lyman cut the bride's cake. The groom's cake was passed by Mrs. Symour Standish, Jr.

Miss Elaine Hall was in charge of the guest book. She wore a pale blue marquisette dress with fitted bodice and full skirt, with corsage of Van Fleet roses.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Willoughby and Miss Shirley Wymore of Spanaway and Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Standish of Seattle were out-of-town guests.

The bride attended Clover Park high school. The bridegroom is stationed at Ft. Lewis.

For going away, the bride wore a navy blue suit with white accessories, red topcoat and orchid corsage. Following a motor trip, Sgt and Mrs. Roane are now at home in the Manitou Park district of Tacoma.

CLOVER CREEK

Mrs. John Susan, reporter
Rt. 7, Box 400 GRanite 7002

Clover Creek school has purchased an extra acre of ground. Monday, July 18, work was started to move the hill behind the school onto the acre and level it off. Frank Reardon and Fred Suitter have the job. They are going to put up a new kitchen and lunch room, also a large storeroom and play shed. Later, they are to put up swings and teeter-totters and improve the play field. The old lunch room will be used for a home economics room.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Gammon were Mr. and Mrs. J. Freitas and Jerrie Lee of Olympia and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Freitas Jr. and Mrs. Fowler of Temple City, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lightbody and Homer Lightbody left by car for a two-week trip to Hazen, N. D. Mrs. Wetheral is at the Lightbody home while they are gone.

Mrs. and Mrs. LeRoy Gammon are entertaining her cousins from San Jose, Calif. They are Mr. and Mrs. H. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boness have purchased a new home on Mirrow lake.

Richard Boness was injured while working Tuesday night at Boeing. He was brought home in a car and may need an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boness have received word from their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boness Jr. and Lois Marie, who have all been sick with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Heller spent Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Carlson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Heller and Nancy and Shirley motored to Seattle, Sunday, to visit their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Morrow. They also stopped in at Redondo beach.

Mr. and Mrs. McGhan spent Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Heller.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Turner are enjoying the visit of their six-year-old nephew, Claude Fligg of San Diego, Calif. He made the trip north by air.

Mrs. John Susan opened her home Friday evening for a plastic party. Present were the Mesdames H. L. White, C. E. O'Neill, Ivan Collier, Wm. Keene, Bill Barton of Parkland, Virgil Rodius, Ted O'Neill, demonstrator Gretchen Van Demeer and Mrs. Van De meer Sr.

Mrs. C. Greenlaw had, as visitors, Mrs. Lester Cruts of Graham and Mrs. Howard.

Maxine Susan, Joan Schaffner, and Kay Mann motored to Mount Rainier with Kay's aunt, Mrs. Charles Smith. They took Mr. Smith back to Sunrise park.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Southwell entertained a group of teen-agers at a wiener roast at their home Friday evening. Present were: Kay Mann, Elsie and Luella Keene, Maxine and Richard Susan, Joan Schaffner, Myla Janes of Seattle, Paul Smithlin, Dorothy Bolieu, Harris Cox, Ruth Failey, Alfred and Lois Joan Southwell, Clarence Cruzan, Laura Waring.

James Franklin's newspaper, the New England Courant, aroused the wrath of the Massachusetts authorities, who forbade him from being editor in 1722 after one year of publication. Benjamin Franklin then became editor at the age of 16.

Recipe of the Week

In summer when appetites wilt as do collars, the food for entertaining should be especially pleasing to the eye. But it should not be so elaborate that it makes a wreck out of the cook. The secret lies in planning attractive dishes which can be prepared well ahead of serving time. A jellied meat mold is such a dish. Its cool atractiveness is hard to beat on the summer buffet table, yet it's hearty enough to serve as a main dish.

JELLIED HAM MOLD

3½	cups ground cooked ham	2	teaspoons prepared mustard
2	tablespoons gelatine	1	tablespoon minced onion
*3	cups consomme		Dash of pepper
1	tablespoon horseradish

Soak gelatine in a little cold water, if necessary (see package label). Heat consomme and add gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Let cool, then add seasonings. Place in refrigerator; when mixture begins to thicken, stir in ground ham (or ground luncheon meat or canned chopped ham). Pour into mold (loaf pan, ring mold, or decorative mold) which has been oiled with salad oil or rinsed with cold water. (Oiling makes unmolding easier.) Garnish with radish roses and watercress or parsley. (* Use canned consomme diluted with equal parts of water; or use bouillon cubes or meat extract dissolved in water, 1 teaspoon or 1 cube to a cup of hot water.)
