

ALONG THE STREET

Airport Situation
R. E. Breon, publisher of the South Tacoma Star, in his column "Along South Tacoma Way" last week gave a clear and logical picture of the Pierce-Tacoma airport situation which we believe merits reprinting here:

"Tacoma probably does need a larger airport. City and county officials are in agreement on that point. The questions remaining are where to build it, how much will it cost and who will pay for it."

"A site on the west side of the city between South 12th and South 19th Streets has been vigorously promoted by a half dozen men who opponents say, will profit financially from unloading a "white elephant" on the taxpayers."

"They and the organizations they control have blandly ignored several obvious disadvantages to the site."

"In the first place the cost is too high. The present lessees of the small commercial field on the site ask $125,000 for their lease."

"In addition, the necessary land would cost $533,000 to purchase and an estimated $200,000 more to clear. All this before a single building is erected!"

"Then again, anyone who attempts to build a major airport in the midst of what has become a valuable residential district will have to fight a series of law suits instituted by indignant neighbors who think the value of their homes will be diminished."

"City and county officials are beginning to realize there are other places the proposed airport could be constructed."

"One is the South Tacoma swamp, which could be filled by pushing dirt off the hill above Tyler street. This shares one disadvantage with the Sixth Avenue site: the impossibility of providing the field with a cross runway. The N. P. shops smokestack also is a hazard."

"Another is the old Lakeview airport, now occupied by the navy. But Lakes District residents would not welcome the return of planes over their homes, and only limited expansion is possible. In addition, the field is covered with expensive buildings."

"This leaves the Forest Grove Airport at Spanaway strongly in the running. The present runway is 3,200 feet long and could be lengthened almost indefinitely. The region is sparsely settled and land is cheap. Also, being a prairie, clearing and leveling would be comparatively inexpensive."

"Airport builders at Spanaway, instead of facing opposition and law suits, would be welcomed enthusiastically by prairie residents, who think the project would help business and put them 'on the map.'"

"The city and county officials would do well to 'make haste slowly' in this important matter and to study carefully every proposal."

Breakfast Flight

Last Sunday a.m. a group of nine planes and seventeen air-minded folks made a breakfast flight to Paine Field, Everett. Among these was Ray Renwick, Parkland Community Club president, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beard, somewhat known in the South End. Beard has to fly alone until enough hours are built up for a license, therefore Renwick invited Mrs. Beard to ride in his Ercope. Now Beard's beginning to suspect some fine salesmanship by Mr. Renwick, who handles Ercope sales for Mueller-Harkins. The combination of an exceedingly beautiful day and a smooth-riding airplane has Mrs. Beard an Ercope enthusiast.

A Rap on the Chin

In reading your front page editorial on our former mayor of Tacoma, elected by the people of Tacoma, I was thoroughly disgusted by your narrow minded opinion on the issue.

You evidently think that corrupt politics should not be exposed to the people. Is that not what Mr. Cain did? Of course he exposed your hero Mr. Coffee. Can't you take it Mr. Editor.

It appears to me that now that Mr. Cain is our Senator we should all co-operate to make him a success, not hinder him by making such biased statements as you did in your odious editorial.

Earring Found

Back in December, 1946, the Parkland firemen staged a ball in Sunshine Hall. Next day after the shindig a woman came to the home of Mrs. Emma Gillispie, caretaker of the building, to inquire if she had found the trinket. At that time she hadn't, but this week when Mr. and Mrs. Gillispie were working about the hall they moved a heavy wood box and uncovered the earring. So now if the loser will identify herself she can claim the jewelry.

County Airport Deal Is Beginning To Sizzle

SUPPORT FOR AIRPORT GIVEN

PARKLAND COMMUNITY CLUB VOTES TO AID IN GETTING PROJECT

Parkland Community Club added its voice to that of the Parkland Business Club in asking the city-county airport be built in the South End. This was done at the meeting held last Thursday night in Parkland school auditorium when by unanimous vote a committee was formed to work with the Parkland Business Club committee. President Ray Renwick appointed Byron Bryson, Prof. A. W. Ramstad and Otto Damkier as the committee, and they have already met with the business club group in a session held Saturday night at the home of Walter E. Young.

A very fine turn-out greeted the new officers with approximately 300 in attendance. From the keen interest shown and the many activities discussed, Parkland is in for a lot of community development. President, Ray Renwick presided and announced the standing committees for the year and reports were heard from the chairmen of these groups.

Morris E. Ford, chairman of the War Memorial committee showed large scale drawing for the tennis courts and memorial fountain to be erected shortly. The contract will be let in early March.

Firemen Seek Aid It was announced at this meeting by E. W. Beitz, fire district commissioner that it appears likely that a twenty mill levy will have to be voted to keep the fire department up to par. A special election is being planned and the Community Club members voiced a whole hearted support to the firemen. It was pointed out that insurance premium savings will be double the amount added to individual taxes.

Junior Community Club Upon the request of a groupe of Parkland young people it was voted to sponsor an organization known as the Parkland Junior Community Club. A permanent organization is expected to be set up shortly.

Rev. George Cooper brought before the meeting a proposal that some emergency relief organization be set up. He explained that this would be merely for quick relief to persons such as when a home burns, and would not conflict with any welfare or other relief groups. The matter was referred to a special committee for a complete report at the next meeting. Rev. Cooper will act as chairman of the committee and be aided by Orville Torgerson and M. E. Ford.

An inspiring talk given by Vernon D. Paterson of Tacoma on the value of enthusiasm in one's every day work was enthusiastically received. Mrs. Byron Foreman delighted the crowd with several piano selections and the Girls Ninette of Parkland Junior High school sang a group of songs.

Elk Plain Boys 4-H Elects Set of Officers The boys group of the Elk Plain 4-H Club held its first meeting Feb. 15 at the regular meeting place, the Kirby School.

Mrs. Ross Plumb, their leader, appointed a temporary chairman to conduct the meeting and the following officers were elected: President, Don Jupiter; vice president, Terry Plumb; secretary, Sammy Jenkin; treasurer, Billy Flannery; reporter, Wilfred Burslem, and guide, Loucks Allen.

With Leonard Cook acting as installing officer and Raymond O'Neil, Bobbie Kuper, Terry Plumb and Thorny Tibbitts as assistants, the officers will be installed at the card party to be given on February 26.

BOY SCOUTS TO BE GUESTS OF BROTHERHOOD Trinity Brotherhood, at its meeting next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, will feature boys' work. "Barney" Carlson, executive in the Tacoma office of the Boy Scouts of America, will speak and show a sound movie. Troop No. 33 will be special guests of the Brotherhood.

Elmer Morud, Leif Klippen and C. W. Olson will serve as president, vice president and secretary-treasurer during 1947.

Lunch and a social hour will follow the program. All men are cordially invited to attend.

To Mark Fiftieth P.T.A. Anniversary

Marking the fiftieth anniversary of the P. T. A., Mrs. L. C. Klippen will preside at a Founder's Day tea at the Parkland school on Friday, February 21, at 2:00 p.m. An interesting program has been planned by Mrs. Virgil Bergh, Founder's Day chairman.

Mrs. A. W. Millard, county president, will be present and speak on "State and National Founder's Day." Mrs. Lora Kreidler will speak on "Early Days of the Parkland P.T.A." The past presidents of the association will be introduced and be honor guests of the day. Mrs. Clifford Olson will sing and be accompanied by Mrs. Stanley Willis. Cub Scouts Douglas Smidt, Larry Russell and Dove Berntsen will present the flag.

A short business meeting will follow the program. At the tea hour following adjournment Mrs. Lora Kreidler and Mrs. Ray Renwick will pour. Room mother hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Norris Cameron and Mrs. Otto Si-burg. They will be assisted by mothers of the third and fifth grades. Mrs. Bernice Acton's sewing class will present a fashion review during the tea hour.

All members and friends of the P.T.A. are extended a cordial welcome to the meeting. A nursery for pre-school children will be available.

Alaska Movies for Cub Pack Meeting

Movies of wild life and scenes from the Mt. McKinley region of Alaska will be a feature of the February Cub Scout Pack meeting which will be held at the Parkland school Monday, February 24, at 7:30 p.m.

Walter Young, Cubmaster, has announced that the Korsmo brothers have promised to be at the Pack meeting to show their pictures. Those who have seen these pictures say they are very fine and that both the Cubs and their parents should enjoy them. For the parents there will be a nominal admission charge to help defray incidental expenses.

Another feature of this Pack meeting will be hobby and craft tables for each Den where the Cubs will display some of their handiwork. Quincy Carroll will be on hand with his banjo to accompany the community singing. The new Den mothers of Den 4, Mrs. Allen Hampton and Mrs. Quincy Carroll will be introduced.

Mrs. W. H. Chambers and Mrs. L. E. Abbott will be in charge of refreshments.

Navy Recruiting At Parkland P. O.

Lavar S. Pulley, Mo. M.M. 1/c, local naval recruiter, will be in the lobby of the Parkland post office all next week to answer any questions of those veterans interested. Non-veterans 17 to 18 1/2 are also eligible.

The Naval Reserve has 24,000 members in five northwestern states—23,000 more members are needed. Veterans owe it to themselves to investigate the opportunities and advantages of the new Navy Reserve. A few of these are: Keep your rating, extend longevity pay, vacation with pay. It is not compulsory to attend drills or take summer cruises.

Lavar S. Pulley is a local boy, coming from Collins community and having attended both Stewart and Lincoln high schools. He will be glad to see any ex-service men and explain any questions they may have in regard to Naval Reserve.

Pierce County Needs An Airport, Too!

(Published with approval of all citizens of this county who want airport where it belongs)

"THE PRAIRIE POINTER is to be commended for asking that consideration by both county and city commissioners be given to a county-city airport in the South End—far enough away to eliminate a hazard in thickly populated residential sections and yet close enough to adequately serve the City of Tacoma," thus have spoken a whole host of Pierce county residents, the Tacoma Times notwithstanding.

Let's be done with this trying to push over on the people something they do not want. This is one of the saddest cases of a misguided press ever to come into the open. Representatives of the Tacoma Times sat in a mass meeting and heard 400 people who reside adjacent to the proposed Sixth Avenue airport emphatically say "No" to the project. Yet they continue in their efforts to push the thing down their throats.

According to persons who should know, some very misleading statements have been put out regarding the Sixth Avenue site. We want more public hearings where all the facts can be presented before a location is definitely chosen.

The proponents of the South End airport site want a fair hearing and let the bright light of day shine upon all the facts. Then it is certain to be shown that every person in Pierce County, including Tacoma, will be better served by putting the airport where it belongs—adjacent to the south city limits.

CHOIR CONCERT SUNDAY AT 3

PARKLAND BUSINESS CLUB EXPECTING 1,000 TO ATTEND EVENT

When a great singing group makes a tour of the Pacific Coast that brings fame to the home town then they deserve a reward. And, friends, they're going to get it.

One thousand South End residents are turning out this Sunday afternoon to hear Pacific Lutheran College's Choir of the West give its homecoming concert, under the baton of Prof. G. J. Malmin. This event is being sponsored by the Parkland Business Club and will be held in the Parkland Junior high school auditorium. An advance ticket sale has been so successful that Myron Kreidler, chairman of the event for the club, said Wednesday it was safe to predict a capacity audience.

Newspaper comment in the large California cities placed the Choir of the West on the same plane with all the great a cappella choirs of the United States, and in Los Angeles over 3,000 persons turned out for the concert. Mrs. Walter Young, manager of the choir, estimated that some fifty thousand people heard the choir during its tour.

The group returned to Parkland Monday night and all the singers said the enthusiasm with which their appearances were greeted had been a great inspiration to them. They are looking forward to Sunday's homecoming appearance as the climax of the three-week tour and it is certain that those who attend are in for an unexcelled musical treat.

Press notices received in Parkland from California towns where concerts were held are glowing. The Lodi (Calif.) News-Sentinel devoted a half column to a report of the concert and among other things said: "... music rarely heard outside of great cathedrals was presented by Pacific Lutheran College Choir, whose work in perpetuating liturgical music has made it one of the most distinguished a cappella groups in the country. ... It was too bad that a lot of people who consider sacred music dull couldn't have heard the choir sing the brief and sparkling "Bells at Speyer" ... And it's too bad Lodi doesn't have an auditorium which will let more than 1,300 persons attend when concerts of this quality are presented."

In one of the San Diego, Calif., saillies an article stated in part, "The choral singing heard in last night's concert was notable for musical quality and tone, fine finish and excellent ensemble spirit. The director has high standards in program material."

This concert marks the first time in the many years that The Choir of the West has been making annual tours that the home town people have honored the group by requesting sponsorship of this concert.

PROJECT NOW WITHIN REACH

SOUTH END UNITING SOLIDLY TO SECURE LOCATION OUT HERE

That the Pierce County-Tacoma airport is within reach of the South End has become more apparent during the past week and the Parkland Business Club has determined to fight harder than ever to bring this great development to this locality. A determined opposition to the Sixth Avenue site has come to the front in Tacoma and public opinion is fast crystallizing in favor of a site remote from thickly populated residential areas.

A combined committee of representatives of both the Parkland Community Club and the Parkland Business Club has been holding meetings to map a course of strategy and to gather detailed data on the necessary amount of work to develop the airport which is proposed at the location of the present Forest Grove Airport, 1 1/2 miles east of Spanaway. This group met again Wednesday night along with a representation from Spanaway.

Monday night a delegation from Parkland attended the protest meeting held in the Towers restaurant in the Sixth Avenue district. Walter E. Young, president of the Business Club, and Niel Thomas, chairman of the airport committee, were accorded a fine reception when given an opportunity to speak.

When the Parkland Business Club voted to seek the airport the follow-up action when announced in a Tacoma newspaper stirred up such a tempest that it is certain some definite action will be taken in the near future.

The joint committee of the two Parkland clubs is composed of Niel Thomas as chairman, Byron Bryson, Prof. A. W. Ramstad, Otto Damkier, E. W. Beitz, Mel Pedersen and Elmer Beard. President Walter E. Young of the Business Club and Ray Renwick, president of the Community Club, are also active. It is expected that a committee of Spanaway representatives will be added.

Junior Community Club Is Planned

The youths of Parkland get their chance to have a hand in community affairs for the Parkland Community Club will sponsor a Junior Community Club. Morris E. Ford brought a request from a group of young people before the club meeting last Thursday night and not only did the members vote unanimously to sponsor the group but also gave the proposition a loud round of applause.

It is expected that the Junior club will be organized under the direction of the executive board in the near future. As a starter five girls were at the meeting and acted as ushers. They were: Yvonne Tische, Caroline Peterson, Doris Moores, Marion Bangert, and Myrtle Clemons.

RIVALRY BREAKS INTO FLAMES; PLC AND CPS STUDES DO BATTLE

By Ruth Johnson Conflagrations burned figuratively and literally last night at about 9:15, at an impromptu "rally" of PLC and CPS students, the result of events which began Monday evening of this week when PLC students decorated the front lawn of CPS with PLC initials. The same night CPSites retaliated with the painting of CPS initials in the step and walk of the cross-town rivals.

Last night Tacoma papers mentioned the CPS plans for a student procession which was to end in a bonfire-centered pep rally which featured speeches by President Thompson and Coach Heinrich and the burning in effigy of a PLC Gladiator.

The Johnny-on-the-spot Lutes, however, hid themselves to CPS while the latter was having supper, burned down the bonfire structure and hung a dead cat in place of the PLC effigy. CPS was unable to save the bonfire from burning before the scheduled rally so it is to be imagined that the speeches had a rather hollow ring. Frustrated Loggers saw fit to retaliate the same evening by turning the caravan of some thirty-old cars toward the Parkland college where they tried to burn three CPS's in the Lutheran lawn. They were frustrated in each attempt.

At one time during the evening it was estimated that a hodge-podge of approximately three hundred PLC and CPS students occupied an area of about fifty feet by one hundred feet.

Fortunately nothing occurred to set off a holocaust of flying fists, although several CPS boys wound for up in the PLC health center for such ills as tooth straightening. The singing of Logger yells and songs was also attempted by the die-hard CPS students but they were out-volumed by the lustier voiced PLCites.

One state patrol car and one sheriff's car, as well as news photographers were visitors on the PLC campus at the same time. Eggs were thrown at the side doors of PLC's Old Main building and the remains were still to be seen congealed and streaked by the morning classes.

At last CPS students decided to go home—only to find not only the air in their lungs pretty well used but the air in their tires gone as well. The rest of the night was peaceful except for one fire which was started after midnight and put out immediately. Later rumors reported that the South Enders went over in the wee small hours of the morning and splashed the North Enders' territory with red paint.

Past Due Recognition

This Sunday afternoon the Parkland Business Club is sponsoring "The Choir of the West" in concert in Parkland. This is a recognition worthy of note for it is the first time that such has been taken by persons so close to Pacific Lutheran College. It has often been said that we "cannot see the town for the buildings" and that is somewhat true of this fine singing organization which originates in Parkland and has gained a national reputation over a long period of years while being overlooked at home.

Once each year The Choir of the West takes a tour of some sort. During the war years these were necessarily limited to a short distance, but prior to that some extended trips were made through the Middle West and this year a three-weeks tour of Washington, Oregon and California has just been completed.

Newspapers in every town which they visited were high in praise of the excellent ability of the cappella group. In San Diego, Bruno David Ussher, a music critic with the national reputation of being hard to please, said in part, "Voice material is fine. Members are evidently chosen for musical as much as tonal abilities. It is a well balanced group following the ensemble traditions of such famous choirs as those of St. Olaf's and Princeton (Westminster) musical colleges."

This fine publicity means a lot to Parkland, the South End, and even Tacoma. The group deserves recognition and support and the best way for all of us to prove this is to jam-pack the Parkland School auditorium at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Why Is It Harder to Say "We Did It"

Partnerships frequently split up because people cannot work together. The partners often feel that sharing the credit for a job means a personal loss for them. But there is something wrong with our way of thinking if we believe that we lose glory if we work with others.

What we must do is think of the final result we hope to achieve. If you work with another person on a job, the two of you usually produce a better result, or at least a satisfactory one in half the time. The credit due is then twice what it would have been for one person working alone, and is enough for both.

It is foolish to refuse to work with others because you feel that your need or desire for personal advancement is threatened. Even a concert soloist must depend on the co-operation of others: the audience, music critics, press agents, stagehands. The real threat to success is refusal or inability to work well with others.

Most of us feel that working together pays, or we wouldn't get married, form associations, start partnerships. But we need to learn more about co-operating with others.

You can "compete as a co-operator" by fitting your special talents in with those of others; successful managers do this. And you can arrange co-operative projects in such a way that each person realizes the benefits to him. The greatest benefits—including personal prestige and achievement—generally come from working closely with others.

60 cables now wire the Sound for sound

A few weeks ago, Cable Barge Telephone II laid our 60th cable in Puget Sound . . . a 21,300 foot, 90-ton telephone link between Seattle and Vashon Island. This cable will be used to provide additional telephone circuits, as well as to serve Seattle and Tacoma radio broadcasting stations soon to be located on the Island.

Nowhere else in the U. S. are there so many underwater telephone cables as there are in the Puget Sound area. At crossings shown here and many others, fully 82 miles of cable are now in operation . . . the longest—43,987 feet—between downtown Seattle and Bainbridge Island. The deepest cable lies 900 feet below the surface between Bellingham and Victoria.

Splicing the new cable to its land outlets is a painstaking job, but now it's completed, and another step has been taken in the big task of bringing Washington the finest possible telephone service . . . a service that's expanding more rapidly than ever in history, to keep pace with the Pacific Northwest's tremendous growth.

An ever-improving telephone service at the least cost consistent with good wages and working conditions for our employees and a reasonable return to the thousands of people who have invested in the business.
