For Those We Don't See

(Contributed Editorial)

Now that the days are getting longer, you will hear children playing outside until long after dinner time. You can probably remember when you would play baseball late in the evening until darkness or your mother's voice called you in.

But did you ever stop to think of the children in your neighborhood who aren't playing outside . . . not ever? Those who sit by the window or watch the time go by on a clock in a dark bedroom . . . and are never quite like "the other kids"?

Because there are children in your own neighborhood who can't walk . . . because there are adults confined to their beds with crippling illnesses or accidents . . . the Pierce County chapter of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults was organized.

Each year funds are raised by selling Easter Seals. This year the goal is higher than ever, for the need is greater. Close to 50,000 letters have been sent out in the county, each containing seals and an appeal letter. This year's drive lasts from March 17 to April 17.

It is fast becoming a custom during the Easter season for people to fasten an Easter Seal to each card or message sent out.

One of the crippling illnesses suffered by children is cerebral palsy. The child often seems to be developing normally for the first year or two. Then gradually the parents suspect something is wrong. When their fears are realized, they find out that the care and help their child will need is not a matter of weeks or months . . . but of years. The cost of treatment is beyond the reach of all but the wealthy.

That is where the program of the Washington Chapter of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults can help. But the society must be supported by the people of the state and of Pierce county. This support is asked once a year . . . when Pierce county residents are asked to buy Easter Seals.

The money thus collected is used (more than 90% staying in the State of Washington to aid our own handicapped) to finance such work among crippled children and adults as medical centers, speech clinics, occupational therapy, rehabilitation and education.

This program is based on the belief that handicapped persons are a normal and ever-present part of society and are entitled to every opportunity to become useful citizens.

Pierce county contributions are being sent to Joseph E. Hawthorne, Honorary Treasurer, Easter Seals, Puget Sound National Bank, Tacoma, Washington.

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of informative articles dealing with procedures and effects of municipal incorporation, for consideration with regard to possible incorporation of the community of Parkland. It is evident that problems of discharging such civic functions as are cited below become more acute as population becomes more dense. Therefore, at some stage of its development a community must consider whether to change to a municipal government.)

POPULATION IMPORTANT

A determining factor in consideration of any proposal for city incorporation is the population density of the area to be incorporated, as city revenues are dependent to a large degree upon population. State-collected revenues are shared with cities upon per capita basis and these funds are the major revenue source for many cities. Some towns operate entirely upon them. In any case, they are second only to direct millage for city support.

Density of population is important because city expenditures are directly proportional to the extent of the area which must be served. A compact area with relatively dense population and high property valuation is the most advantageous for incorporation.

Population of an area considered for incorporation may be quite accurately estimated in a number of ways—where actual census figures do not break down in a manner applicable to the proposed city area or are not recent enough for use. Some of these bases for estimating population are:

- 1—Number of homes by actual count (to be multiplied by the established ratio of persons per home for the area);
- 2—Number of water meters (multiplied by ratio of number of water users to meter);
- 3—Number of electric services (multiplied by ratio of persons to service);
- 4—Number of registered voters (multiplied by ratio of persons to voter);
- 5—Number of telephones (multiplied by ratio of people per telephone).

An average of the results obtained by use of all the above bases may be expected to yield a usable estimate of population for consideration of effects of incorporation.

REVENUE EXPERIENCE OF SOME THIRD CLASS CITIES, FOR COMPARISON

After a population estimate has been obtained, it may be valuable to examine the annual revenues of cities of comparable class, currently operating successfully. An average of incomes for 18 third class cities of Washington (taken from the state auditor's report for 1946) shows the following results:

Average population—2,526; average assessed valuation—$954,900; average license receipts—$3,562; average permit sales receipts—$358; average occupation tax receipts—$1,260; average receipts from fines—$2,740; total—$7,920.

Average receipts from state-shared taxes, etc.—$21,875.16. Property tax (maximum 15 mills) if levied in full on average assessed valuation—$14,323.50; grand total—$44,118.66, per year.

The cities (with individual populations) used in the above computations are: Sedro Woolley, 3,300; Omak, 2,918; Colfax, 3,000; Snohomish, 3,050; Enumclaw, 3,000; Kent, 3,000; Colville, 2,650; Montesano, 2,242; Cle Elum, 2,230; Sumner, 2,400; Medical Lake, 2,250; South Bend, 1,800; Marysville, 1,907; Cheney, 1,938; Chelan, 2,000; Prosser, 2,500; Burlington, 1,900; Port Orchard, 3,400.

Pudding, pies, and candied yams are familiar ones, but have you ever thought of putting them into cake. You can and will again once you've tried Golden Cake Squares—your family will see to that.

Veterans News

Continued from Page One material looks good but just a little bit stiff from the winter's inactivity. Next Sunday will see another joint-loosening session at the same place and at the same time. We were just a little bit short on equipment last Sunday, so if any of you fellows have gloves and other equipment applicable to the game of softball, or can get your hands on any from someone else, bring them along as they are sorely needed.

Many Difficulties for Europe's Poultrymen

"Northwest poultrymen may think they have had feed supply trouble in the past, but it was nothing to what European poultrymen are facing now," states Eric Stromquist, Triangle Milling company extension field man recently returned from Europe. One of the few Northwest delegates to the recent 8th Annual World's Poultry congress held at Copenhagen, Denmark, Stromquist was the only representative from a western milling company.

U. S. poultrymen are especially fortunate in the assistance they receive from the government, state agricultural colleges and feed manufacturers. Assistance in foreign countries is very limited, Stromquist reports. Although American commercial poultrymen are by far the most efficient in the world, they can still improve their operations by applying the latest scientific and practical information made available by the USDA, college experiment stations and research departments of feed manufacturers.

Denmark leads the European countries in poultry production, according to Stromquist. Their poultry methods and marketing systems are very well developed, with a large egg export to other European countries.

Refreshments will be served in the luncheon after the program. Hostesses will be Mesdames B. Dickenson, A. J. Stern, G. Rolstadt, S. Reynolds, E. Perryman, J. Turner, R. VanOrman, R. Thomas and W. Shearer.

Costumes have been made by Pre-school members with Mrs. E. Dammell in charge, assisted by Mrs. J. Sales and Mrs. S. Brown.

Mrs. L. E. Smith is in charge of G. Rolstadt, M. Parker, L. Duffey, J. Hitch, L. Johnson, and B. Payne assisting.

DON'T BE A GOOSE!

Asa Gudjohnson, Washington's Lucia Bride and now campaign queen of the annual April Cancer Drive, is shown above with a goose and a placard as a means of reminding everyone that now is the time to "strike back at Cancer" by contributing to the fund-raising campaign of the American Cancer Society. The drive is being conducted jointly in this state by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Washington Division of the Cancer Society. Contributions may be made by addressing a letter to "Cancer" in care of your local postmaster.

Turning Point for Cattle Is Sighted

Indications are that the turning point in the cattle cycle has been reached, R. J. Eggert, associate director of American Meat Institute's department of marketing, said at Albuquerque, N. M., this week in a talk given at the 35th annual convention of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' association.

"This suggests decreased supplies of beef, throughout this year, especially in the lower grades," Eggert said, "and a continued relatively strong demand for replacement cattle."

"Steers on farms throughout the country on January 1 were up 10 per cent over a year ago, indicating a large supply of fed cattle throughout the spring period. However, a seasonal dip in marketings of fed cattle now seems probable during the summer and early fall period.

"The large carryover of corn, which probably will establish a record, plus the prospects for a large corn acreage this year, is expected to mean a continued strong demand for stockers and feeders throughout 1949, barring unfavorable weather conditions. Providing feed and range conditions are good, it seems likely that cattle values will remain favorable in relation to the cost of feed, as well as in relation to prices farmers will receive for most other agricultural commodities."

With regard to hogs, Eggert pointed out that last fall's pig crop was up 8 per cent over the previous year and the 1949 spring pig crop is expected to be at least 15 per cent larger than a year ago. This suggests, he said, that marketings of hogs during the spring and summer will continue substantially above a year ago, and that there will be a very sharp increase in pork supplies during the late summer, fall and winter period.

"Total meat production in 1949 is now expected to be about 22 billion pounds," the speaker estimated, "compared with 21 1/4 billion in 1948. Considering the increased population, per capita meat consumption is expected to approximate 146 pounds, about the same as last year. There will be less beef, veal and lamb, but more pork."

"Meat supplies available for consumption will be around 10 per cent less next summer than during the first quarter of the year. However, a 16 per cent increase can be expected from the summer quarter to the fall quarter of the year. Some moderate recovery from the recent slump in the demand for meat seems probable by summer, but demand is not expected to equal that of a year ago."
