It's the LAW

More and more Americans are experiencing the pride and convenience of home ownership. But along with the convenience expressed by saying, "A Man's Home is His Castle," comes added responsibility.

For example, what is your responsibility, if any, to a visitor who slips on a small rug placed on a regularly polished floor, suffers a broken leg, and is hospitalized?

Each such case must be determined upon its particular facts, of course. In this case you probably would not be liable, even though a polished floor is slippery and light rugs are likely to slide, because such rugs are in common use. This would not normally be called negligence, unless there were something unusual about the rug. The following case could result in liability for negligence. You know that an electric light switch in one of your rooms has been out of order and that anyone touching it receives an electric shock. If you ask your guest to go into that room, turn on the light and obtain something for you, and you fail to warn him about the defective switch, you could be held liable for any injuries that might result from the shock. It was your responsibility to warn the guest of the danger when asking him to perform the errand.

The general rules governing such instances are:

1. A guest in a home must accept the premises as he finds them.
2. The host's duty is merely to warn the guest of any hidden or lurking dangers.

Blondes Find Oil Shampoo Kind to Blond Hair

BY EDNA MILES

A fine head of silvery blond hair is lovely to see. But real effort goes into keeping it shining and ethereal, particularly in the winter months when the soot and grime of cities turn it drab.

The best insurance against grime, of course, is to shampoo your hair every five days during the winter rather than once a week. But while this is a solution, it raises other problems, in turn.

An extra shampoo in the winter can produce dry and brittle hair. This is particularly true in blondes.

The solution lies in a weekly hot oil treatment just before the shampoo.

Just part the hair in sections and apply very warm castor oil or olive oil.

To apply the oil, make use of cosmetic cotton from one of the new, pull-out dispensers. This enables you to pick a puff of the size you need.

When your scalp and hair are well-oiled, wrap your head in a to him, her failure to have a will made enabled Sam B to claim the house, even though it had been Mary's separate property until she died. A husband or wife may claim up to $6,000 worth of separate property of a deceased mate by making a claim in lieu of homestead, but only if the separate property is not disposed of by will of the one who owned the separate property.

Though Sam B could not have claimed Mary's house in lieu of homestead if Mary had left a will giving it to her son, her failure to make a will cost her son his interest in the house originally owned by his father.

Lakewood Players In 5-Day Run of 'Separate Tables'

Therence Rattigan's "Separate Tables" opened a five day run at the Lakewood Center Recreation Hall, February 10th. Curtain at 8:30 p.m.

"Separate Tables" is not a play but rather two playlets. The two plays have a great deal in common besides the set and cast of characters identical except for the two leading roles in each playlet. The demanding double roles are portrayed by Margaret Harris and Dr. Mal MacDonald.

The scene is the interior of a middle-class British residential hotel. The common denominator of the plots is the loneliness felt by a group of middle-aged guests who have seen better days and whose separate tables in the hotel dining room symbolize their plight. Rattigan expresses in brilliant theatrical terms his compassion for human error and frailty.

Span-A-Park 4-H

Ann Bluhm, president of the Span-a-park 4-H club, presided Saturday night at the first meeting of the new year. The spelling of the club name was discussed, and it was decided to spell it with two hyphens. A community service project of collecting and repairing used toys at a future meeting, and then giving them to Western State Hospital or Indian Hospital, was also passed. Judy Graves had the smooth cloth that she is raising for a future Guide Dog, at the meeting and the group were told about this new project. There are four of these dogs in the club now, Davis Graves has Taco, Leslie Betts has Taco's sister Cubee, and Sharon Reed has just received Sari. These are all from Dr. Ford's stock.

The Jr. Breakfast Meal prep group have had many meetings and are getting ready for the contest at Franklin Pierce the 21st. Sr. Baking girls reported on a meeting where they made and shaped fancy breads. Both the Sewing groups have been busy on their clothing projects, the Flower growers have studied bulb and seed starting, the Carpentry class has been meeting almost weekly and learning mostly about tools and woods. Bathing and caring for a baby and making suitable toys for the pre-schooler, have occupied the Child Care girls and the Photography bugs have studied various phases of picture making and camera know-how. Those interested in Shutter-fun from the Stitch and Stir club have been invited to join in our meetings.

All Pierce County 4-H'ers are going to sell tulips at $1.25 a dozen in white, yellow and rose. They will be delivered in time for Valentine's Day, so if a 4-H'er comes to your door, you can be sure that they will be lovely buds.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Keep a Weather Eye on Appetite

Doctors keep a weather eye on your appetite just as a fisherman watches his barometer. For doctors recognize the ups and downs of appetite as a barometric reading to predict health. When the appetite barometer falls, they are alerted for storm warnings of poor health. Through research, they know there exists an appetite reading for a climate of good health.

Researchers say that drastically restricting food to the point of near-starvation results in an almost complete loss of appetite. . . a serious fall in the appetite barometer. This warns dieters: Although appetite may cease to be a nagging nuisance, drastic reducing regimens cannot provide the nutrients they need. Even dieters on well balanced reducing diets often find that they do not lose as rapidly as they would like, because the body adjusts to less food and conserves its energy when calories are restricted.

Keeping a steady appetite reading on a safe, no-nonsense level is under your control: If you keep physically active, chances are that your appetite will match the food you eat. To be sure you get the essential nutrients you need, nutritionists advise that you eat minimum amounts of these foods daily:

- Four servings of enriched or whole grain bread and cereal
- Four servings of fruit or vegetable
- Four ounces of meat, fish, eggs, poultry, or dry beans or peas
- Two servings of milk or cheese

Due to that fact, the board also approved a 12 mill levy for the operation of the schools at Clover Creek and Elk Plain were also revealed by the board. He is a recent graduate of CPS and did his student teaching at the junior high last semester, according to Principal Robert Minniti.

Following the board meeting, the school board toured the new Bethel Junior high and inspected the facilities. The board expressed keen interest in the structure and stated their approval of the building. At the special meeting a tentative date for the dedica- tion of the junior high was set for March 23 when it is hoped that State Superintendent Lloyd An- drews will be present to speak.

Telephones Show Community Growth

If telephones are a good barome- ter of a community's growth, the needle pointed upward for Tacoma during 1958, according to figures released today by Pacific Tele- phone.

Manager Bill McLeod said total telephones in Tacoma as of Jan- uary 1st, 1959 amounted to 102,877, an increase of 5,042 over the same date a year ago.

Use of telephones showed a change also. The average number of calls placed through telephone facilities here on a normal busi- ness day changed from 476,323 calls per day in 1957 to 501,740 in 1958, an increase of 5 per cent. This included both local and long distance calls.

Long distance messages alone per average business day handled through the Tacoma long distance office at year's end increased from 15,664 to 16,408, a change of 5 per cent.

A complete new dial switching center will go into service later this year to serve Tacoma's Lake- wood District. The newly com- pleted Juniper building will house dial switching equipment to serve an additional 2,000 telephones. Other equipment was added in the old building last year to care for growth until the center is ready.

A new Waverly 7 telephone building went into service in November to serve about one thousand subscribers in the Brown's Point and northeast Ta- coma districts. It replaced the old building at Brown's Point.

Residential and business growth in South Tacoma necessitated the addition of a new building and dial switching equipment at the Greenfield building. The new center has a capacity of about 2,000 telephones, and also houses a new plant service center for faster re- pair and maintenance service.

A major expansion program was completed in the Skyline 2 switch- ing center at 3911 North 27th. Equipment was installed to provide dial facilities for an additional 950 telephones in the fast growing residential district.

Work was completed in 1958 on equipment additions in the Market office, and installation crews now are at work in the LEnox office adding equipment to provide more service in that area.

In other projects, completed dur- ing the past year, local and long distance cable facilities were in- creased to meet growing calling demands.

a-Wondering . . . and a-Wandering . . .

With JACK BROWN

Last December a deliverers' strike forced New York City's newspapers to suspend publication. Nothing has done more to point up the importance of the press to the nation.

As Editor & Publisher puts it, life in New York "did not grind to a halt." But almost everyone in the city was affected one way or another.

Thousands of non-strikers were thrown out of work. Some 10,000 of the city's 16,000 newsstands closed. The city government went into low gear because of the diffi- culty of getting information to the public. Even educa- tion was hit—as a majority of the students in the city's schools use newspapers in their curricula.

Businesses of many kinds — stores, amusement houses, automobile and real estate dealers and so on—slumped so badly that the city's Board of Trade said the strike produced "irretrievable" damage.

Editor & Publisher sums up: "The importance of newspapers in the life of a community is rarely known or appreciated until suddenly they fail to publish."

Personally I don't care what they do with fashions just so long as the gals who wear 'em don't go out of style.

Al Capp created Joe Phffftzki, the guy that brings trouble and havoc wherever he goes and a few days ago I had reason to wonder if I could be related to him. Wandering around, I pulled into an airfield in Vancouver. I had barely started to navigate under my own power when someone yelled "fire" and for the next few min- utes I stood by while smoke poured from a hangar. People rushed around wildly with fire extinguishers and 3 fire trucks came roaring onto the field. Soon after, people along the nearby river were screaming that a boatload of Sea Scouts had overturned. The Coast Guard and Air Force raced to the scene and managed to rescue all but one. As I stood by during these tense moments I wondered what on earth ever possessed me to leave my camera behind. While wandering back to the field I kept thinking unkind thoughts of myself and soon had my attention drawn to a plane coming in for a landing. Its motor seemed to quit cold and the pilot veered off to the right. Moments later as it fell from sight behind buildings I heard the cry that it had crashed into the river. Both occupants were saved, although a new plane was lost. By this time I had forgotten what I was doing there in the first place and decided to get going before I got a crew cut from a propeller. That's life for you. I can run around Pierce County for weeks armed to the teeth with note books, pencil and camera and nothing ever happens, but just as soon as I leave it all behind and get over 100 miles from home, look what happens! Wonder how much those distant cities will pay me to stay home?

Benson Grange

Benson Grange No. 282 met Jan. 27 for a regular business session. Resignations were received from Overseer John Reichel and Executive Committeeman Earl Peck whose occupations will prevent them from attending regularly. Elected to fill the stations for the rest of the term were Harold Johnson and George Rose, respectively.

Plans for drill team practices were announced and dates set for Feb. 10 and March 5 in preparation for degree work to be pre- sented March 10 at Benston.

A salute to our state was made by way of color slides shown by Bryan Dalin, who served in the U. S. coast Guard aboard the ice breaker Northwind and was able to take some breathtaking pictures of Alaska and the Northwest Pas- sage during his frequent trips.

A plan to represent each month with articles from foreign countries was introduced by Lecturer Bea Selle. To represent January, she brought an unusual vase from Japan. Members were asked to bring articles from countries be- ginning with the letter "B" to the second meeting in February.
