This paper has noted with growing concern the ever-increasing number of auto accidents in this area. Only last week there was another auto accident at the all-important junction of Park Avenue and Airport Road.

This was not the first accident which has occurred at this junction. In fact, it is only the last of many which have happened the past year. Nearly always it is because some autoist fails to negotiate a stop on the Park Avenue side or tries to cut out in front of oncoming traffic on Airport Road.

Garfield & Pacific Bad, Too

This junction is a busy one. The accidents which occur are always bad ones due to the fact that considerable speed on the part of Airport Road traffic is usually involved.

Another bad junction in this area is the one at the corner of Garfield Street and Pacific Avenue. At certain times during the day it is virtually impossible to get across the highway from Garfield Street because of the steady flow of traffic on Pacific Ave.

Another bad feature of this particular crossing is the fact that the hill just south of Garfield Street prevents a good view of oncoming traffic from that direction. Also, vision is impaired because of parked cars and taxicabs on the corner too close to the highway.

Traffic Controls Needed

The point we are eventually getting at is the fact that proper traffic controls are necessary at certain vital intersections as the two mentioned above in order to help hold traffic accidents and traffic deaths to a minimum.

We are fully aware of the fact that traffic lights cannot be installed at every junction. We consider it highly unnecessary to have as many traffic lights as we have at different places, but it is perhaps the best possible of traffic control. It is impossible to appeal to the better sense of an individual driver without putting some sort of visual control in front of him to remind him of the necessity of operating a motor vehicle in a safe and sane manner together with the obligations of the same driver to the public.

Inasmuch as we have no control over the powers which have the say on the installation of traffic controls at the two points mentioned, our only recourse is to appeal to you, the driver, and your sense of responsibility when behind the wheel.

Parkland CD Seeks Funds for Med. Sup.

Feeling the need for going ahead with purchases of medical supplies, Parkland's civil defense board is now toying with the possibilities of conducting some sort of fund raising campaign.

"Eventually funds may be made available from state or national funds for these necessities," said Mrs. Al Seaman, coordinator, "but it seems advisable to the board to have these supplies on hand as soon as possible."

STEWART HEADS SPANAWAY'S CD

Spanaway's CD program "officially" got underway with the selection of Hayden Stewart as coordinator for that area. Bill Righetti was appointed to assist Stewart.

In taking over the top job, Stewart asked for cooperation from the residents. He deplored what he called the "let a few do the work" type of cooperation.

On Jan. 22 the board will meet with Gus Partridge, Pierce county coordinator, to talk over principles and procedures.

Those chosen to serve on the board included: Emerson Tarpenning, auxiliary police; Bill Herbert, auxiliary fire; Merle Prettyman, first aid; Bob Stiedel, warden, and Dick Fraser, schools. As yet, no one has been named for medical.

The area follows the old Spanaway school district boundaries of Pole Line and Rademaker roads (east), Roy Y (South), Fort Lewis and McChord field (west) and 138th St. (north).

Stewart also announced that first aid stations for the area will be at Marymount Military Academy, the Spanaway school and the Metropolitan park's clubhouse. Headquarters for the operation is the fire hall.

Seattle Considers Dog Tag for People

An interesting note in a Seattle paper was the reported consideration by that city's defense board that all residents be given identification tags. Certainly this won't be anything new to present and former servicemen—and particularly dogs.

A-Bomb Defense Film Is Available

Service clubs, schools, churches, civil defense units and other interested groups are reminded that the 20-minute film, "Pattern for Survival," is available for showings by contacting the Tacoma civil defense office at Broadway 0556. Groups must furnish their own projectors.

BLOOD BANK AND CD TOPICS AIRED BY KIWANIS

"The Blood Bank and 'Civil Defense'" will be the timely topic of discussion by Dr. M. J. Wicks of the Tacoma blood bank at the next meeting of the Parkland Area Kiwanis club. This meeting will take place at 6:15 at the parlors of the Trinity Lutheran church in Parkland. This is a subject of considerable discussion and importance at the moment throughout the entire area.

Induction of four new members will be a feature of the meeting which will be of interest to the members. New members to be initiated are A. W. Ramstad, John Curtis, Trav Dryer and Norman Swindland.

Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it.

Floyd Hicks to Head Comm. Club in '51

Floyd Hicks, attorney, was elected president of the Parkland Community club at the group's election meeting held last Thursday in the Parkland grade school.

Other officers for 1951 include: E. M. Krumm, vice-president; Jimmy St. John, secretary; Mrs. Mike Wutz, treasurer, and Mrs. John Skwirut, publicity.

BUSINESS CLUB GETS READY FOR 1951 ACTIVITIES

Nearly 80 business men and women attended last night's dinner meeting of the Parkland Business club, with "business" as the main topic for discussion. There was no guest speaker.

Under the new leadership of Jack Brown, merchants from 96th Street to Orchard hill met to organize and to plan their activities for the coming year.

Committee Chosen

Among other things, the various committees were to have been chosen. According to Brown, committees already selected at the time of this writing were: attendance, under chairman Trav Dryer; membership, chaired by Howard Snowden, and area hospital outlook, Mrs. H. B. Erickson.

The president was to have appointed a board to approve solicitors. This screening of all solicitors in the Parkland area is designed to protect merchants from "deals" sold by canvassers who "work" the area.

Permanent Xmas Tree

An election of a corresponding secretary also was to have taken place. This officer was not elected at the annual election meeting.

Also included under business were two motions, one for the purchase of a filing cabinet for the secretaries and the planting of a permanent Christmas tree for the area.

On the subject of Christmas, a letter of thanks from the Indian hospital was read. Thanks were for the candy sent to the hospital last Christmas.

Also chosen was a committee on Christmas decoration with directions to lay plans and figure ways and means for the 1951 Christmas. 1950's Christmas activities were placed on record with Forrest Leonard giving the report.

After the regular business meeting, pledges to the "Jackpot Days" sales promotion venture were to have met with representatives of Community Business Enterprise, Inc., a Seattle promotion outfit.

Mrs. Byron Brolin was hostess for the dinner and Mrs. Ken Jacobs was in charge of dinner finances.

As an added feature, Mr. Duane Smith, well-known local pianist, will play several selections.

A short business meeting will follow with Mrs. Neil Gaiser, president, presiding.

After the meeting, a social hour is planned with the following fourth grade teachers in charge of decorations: Mrs. Helen Turner, Mrs. Ruth Hendrickson and Miss June Walter. The following room mothers are in charge of the refreshments: the Mesdames Arne Pederson, Rufus Parker and William Allison.

A Dissertation on Business

Business competition, they say, is stimulating. Competition weeds businesses and often reduces prices for the consumers. Business is cold and hard. Only the fittest can survive in our present-day economy. Businesses survive so long as they can fill the needs of enough consumers.

In the last two issues of The Parkland Times were advertised two more closing out sales—two more Garfield Street businesses announced that they will close their shops. Several more are reported to be on the verge of calling it quits.

What is the matter? What is the matter with Parkland? What is the matter with Garfield Street?

CAN MEET COMPETITION

From what we have heard, seen, read and learned, it seems to boil down to the individual merchant, his operation and his dealings with customers. For, generally speaking, it is said that the outstanding disadvantage of the independent store is its poor management.

Where the independent retailer is progressive and willing to learn by experience; by consulting bankers, realty people, trade associations, business and government bureaus, and by studying the operations of the successful others, he can meet competition.

While the independents are, and will continue to be, the dominant kind of retail institution, yet they will be constantly subject to a high failure rate unless there is substantial improvement in the general caliber of their management, it is said.

RETAILING BIG AND INVOLVED

Still speaking generally, successful retailing demands some efforts at accounting, the maintenance of records and the use of these records as a basis for determining operation. True, many retailers have tried to avoid the performance of this function, at least have minimized it; but it is from this group that comes a large part of our failure in retailing.

Retailing, however, involves more. It includes: (1) buying, (2) selling, (3) transportation, (4) maintaining operating plant and equipment, (5) merchandise handling and storage, (6) financing, (7) assumption of risks, (8) market information, (9) personnel management, (10) records, accounting and control, and (11) policy determination, coordination and evaluation of results.

Retailing is now so big and involved that a successful merchant must read, write, talk and think it. Yet his attitude should not be one of self-distrust. Rather, self-confidence is a valuable asset.

WANTED: RIGHT, WANTED MERCHANDISE

In the final analysis, a store must carry "wanted" merchandise—the right goods, at the right price, at the right time, in the right place and in the right quantity.

Transfer of title to consumers involves more than just selling. There is too much emphasis in selling and not enough on the other functions necessary for successful retail operation. The time to holler is after the right, wanted merchandise is obtained. When they are on the shelves, then, holler long and loud to the potential customers in the trading area.

Thus, to borrow the first principle in public relations—"Get your house in order"—seems to be the first thing to do.

SURVEY CONSUMER BUYING HABITS

Then, either as a group or individually, conducting some sort of market research appears next in order . . . to survey the consumer buying habits. This is to change the merchant's perspective to the one person who really can tell them why area residents do not patronize them. That person is the consumer (merchants included). The consumer has the final say, he has the information and he can supply the answers to all this dissertation.

Timmy and Peggy North, children of Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. North, 1117 So. 120th, were honorably mentioned in Rhodes Bros. 16th children's national photograph contest. Sponsored by the National Association of Department Store Photographers, the contest covered over 200 cities. This year's judges were Bob Hope, Al Capp, Gladys Burch and Joe DiMaggio.

Something From Nothing . . . UNFORGIVABLE WASTES IN HOMES

By the Staff of the SCHOOL OF HOME ECONOMICS University of Washington

There are many unforgivable wastes in American homes. Materials of decided value are discarded or thrown away without considering further possibilities in use for the owners or for others.

Take men's shirts for example. The fabric is usually superior and the back and tail are often nearly as good as new. There is ample material for little boys' pants, or little girls' dresses, aprons or sun suits.

Mothers of little children will be most grateful if relatives and friends will give them shirts. Fathers of small children would be wise to buy two identical shirts so as to have enough for any style or perhaps a brother and sister suit.

Men's trousers make amazingly good looking skirts for teen agers or even small wives. They are turned upside down and worn spots thus removed. Such garments must be ripped carefully. To pick off loose threads after ripping use a flat rubber sponge. If the garment is to be washed after ripping, it is well to stitch the pieces around the edges to prevent stretching and raveling. Wools shrink and stiffen if strong soap is used.

MR. AND MRS. R. R. WILLIAMS, owners of the Puget Sound Nursery and Garden Shop, left Jan. 4 on an extended trip to California. They will be away for "at least a month" vacationing and buying in the Southland.

Thank You . . .
Parkland Times:
By unanimous resolution of the congregation of Trinity Lutheran church in Parkland, our church wishes to thank your newspaper for valuable publicity and notices given during the past year.

Respectfully yours,
ARNE K. PEDERSON,
Secretary to the Congregation

Spring Term Is Last Chance for Training For Most Veterans

July 25, 1951, is the cut-off date for beginning courses under the G.I. Bill for most World War II veterans, the Veterans Administration reminded in this week's announcement.

The deadline affects those who were discharged before July 25, 1947. Those discharged after that date have four years from their discharge date to begin courses.

The spring term is the final term in which most veterans may begin courses. Veterans must have begun training by July 25 and must be in training on that date unless they have interrupted their studies for summer vacation or for reasons beyond their control.

Miss Georgina King Of Spanaway Weds Gonyeau of Tacoma

One of the season's loveliest brides was Miss Georgina Iva King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. King of Spanaway, who was married last Friday evening to Mr. Hugh Edwin Gonyeau, son of Mr. G. M. Gonyeau of Tacoma.

The Rev. Conrad Gaard read the service in the Hope Lutheran church, and later a reception for nearly 300 guests was held in the church parlors.

Given in marriage by her father, a popular Spanaway pioneer, the bride wore a white crepe gown with long veil and carried a bouquet of white calla lilies.

Miss Margie Carlson of Tacoma was maid of honor and Miss Kathleen Norris, also of Tacoma, was the bridesmaid. They were both gowned alike in pink and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Roy Hatch of Tacoma was the best man. The ushers were the Messrs. Robert Bourgaize, Donald Bourgaize and Burrell Breseman, all of Tacoma.

The bride's mother wore a gown of blue crepe with white gardenias.

Pouring at the reception were the Mesdames Roy Hatch and A. J. Jared, both of Tacoma. Assisting were the Mesdames P. W. Shaw and Wayne Bell and the Misses Marjorie White and Florence Hauge.

The bride attended Lincoln high school, Pacific Lutheran college and was graduated from the Tacoma General hospital's school of nursing. Her husband, an architect, attended Stadium high school and is a College of Puget Sound graduate.

When the couple left Jan. 13 on their Vancouver, B. C., wedding trip the bride wore a navy blue suit with blue-gray coat and hat. They will make their home on Fourth St. at Spanaway lake.

Christmas Seals are sold in 28 countries to support anti-tuberculosis campaigns.

Elk Plain News

By Amy Brown
Elk Plain Reporter
Mary Phelps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. King Phelps, has been quite seriously ill.

Many of the children at Elk Plain school have been ill during the past week. There are several cases of measles, and several of chickenpox.

The Elk Plain Community church board held its regular meeting January 17 at the home of John Ockfen, Sr. The new officers for the year took their posts.

The teachers of the Bethel District held a meeting Monday, Jan. 15, at Spanaway school. A discussion of the civil defense program was held. Dick Fraser of Spanaway is in charge of the program. A movie on the atom bomb, "Pattern for Survival," was shown. Schools were dismissed at 1:30 for the meeting.

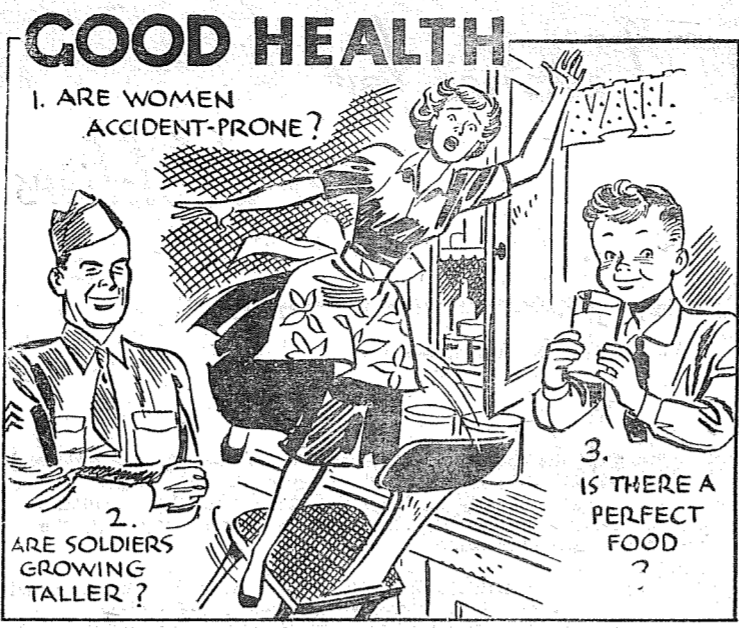

At the Gleaners' meeting, Jan. 9, officers for this year were elected. Vice-president is Mrs. Jupiter, secretary is Mrs. Wetzel, treasurer is Mrs. Ockfen Sr., Sunshine chairman is Mrs. McSwain, president is Mrs. Betty Smith. The meeting was held at the home of the Dorfners.

The Elk Plain P-TA meeting was held Jan. 1. Mr. Frank Kellogg told of his trip to the White House Conference on children and youth. Music was provided by Thorne Tibbetts on his accordion.

Elk Plain Community Church held its annual meeting of the congregation Jan. 7, and elected officers for 1951. Holding the post of chairman will be Mr. E. W. Fire Totally Destroys Clover Creek Home
Defective wiring caused last Tuesday's fire that totally destroyed the Clover Creek home of Mrs. E. L. Ayers, the Spanaway fire department reported this week.
It was also reported that the department answered another alarm Dec. 14 at the same home when a chimney fire had to be quenched.
Also listed was a chimney fire on Jan. 11 at the Iverson residence in Spanaway.

Answer to Question No. 1:
1. More women die because of accidents each year than from any other cause except heart disease and cancer. It's just carelessness that prompts women to use kitchen chairs for ladders and matches near cleaning fluid. Last year 30,000 women died in accidents. Seven out of eight deaths of women over 65 were result of accidents.
Answer to Question No. 2:
2. Yes, and physically superior to what they have been in the past. American soldiers in World War II were on an average 4 1/2 inches taller than those in World War I. American-born children of certain immigrants tend to be several inches taller than their parents unless they retain their own national food habits. This would indicate that increased knowledge of nutrition is paying off to the American public.
Answer to Question No. 3:
3. There is no one perfect food but milk comes closest to the ideal, especially for babies. Of the 11 healthful elements present in milk, the more important are calcium, phosphorus, and other minerals, proteins and Vitamins A and B. Adults should include milk in their diet.

Help Parkland Youngsters . . . COUNTY AGENT SEEKING ADULT AID

Four-H activities have increased since the lull during the holidays, according to George Purcell, Pierce county extension agent, but he states that "it is necessary to have some adult volunteers to lead" Parkland's youngsters who have indicated a need for a club to promote development of "Health, Head, Hands and Heart."
"P-TA mothers' clubs and other organizations can render service by providing these leaders. The main requirement for new leaders is that they have an attitude of helpfulness toward all youngsters, not just their own boys and girls," Purcell said.
Call Market 7121

Anyone interested and willing to lead Parkland's boys and girls is asked to write the county extension office in the Court House in Tacoma or phone Market 7121 for further information.
Purcell said that Bill Guinn of Parkland recently showed him some records concerning his three pigs he fed last year. Guinn's record of expenses and income showed that he netted $29.10 per pig, Purcell related.
Four-H is the largest farm youth organization in the world. Purcell added that benefits include learning to work with people and to become better citizens; friends outside the immediate community; training and skill in projects of one's choice; recreation at clubs and summer camps; and a chance at scholarships, prizes, trophies, ribbons, trips and cash awards.

Troop 84 Hike
Scout Troop 84 left Saturday at 10:30 a.m. for its first winter overnight hike. The original plan was to include a trip over the Narrows bridge and to make camp on the other side near the water, but due to the weather conditions the troop took a 12-mile tour of the south and east side of Midland and then returned to Dawson field where each patrol cooked supper.

Games were played and bike races run after supper. The troop made overnight camp in the fieldhouse. Each patrol cooked their own breakfast Sunday morning and then were dismissed for home and church.
Boys taking part were: Greenbar patrol—Scoutmaster Bob Irving, Roger Sharpe and Jerry Wilson; Black Panther patrol—Leader Hill Hiller, Pat Gerhi, Bobby Irving and Dale Lipke; lying Eagle patrol—Leader Wally Mann, Harold Hatcher and Milo Spooner; New patrol—Leader Ronnie Morud, Ray Sharpe, Mike Gerhi, Wayne Malray, David Hammer and Jerome Rowe.

LaFleur Get-together
Members of La Fleur Garden club met Wednesday, Jan. 10, at the home of Mrs. R. T. Clinton. Following a dessert lunch, Mrs. Arthur Rolfe conducted a short business session during which Mrs. Eugene Brittain was elected treasurer to replace Mrs. W. R. Mercer, who resigned the office.
In response to roll call, each member named a winter bird, following which Mrs. Robert Lovelace gave an interesting demonstration on how to make feather corsages. Each member spent the rest of the afternoon choosing and putting together various materials required to make herself a lovely corsage. The hostess then took a flash picture of the group wearing the creations.

Improvement Doings
Floyd Ayers was installing officer last week when the new officers took their oath of service in the Midland Improvement club. New officers of the club are Robert Clinton, president; James Hartley, vice-president; Nonie Hartley, secretary; Lewis McArtor, treasurer, and Al Bombardier, trustee.
New committee members appointed were: building, George Turner; revisiting and watching television, the Bernice Turner; park, Nadine Sharpe; school, Jim Hartley and Floyd Ayers; membership, Clyde Spangler; program, Charlotte Taylor; and hospitality and publicity, Lois Johann.
The curtailed bus service of the Woodland Bus Company was brought before the group for further discussion and it was decided to notify the owners of the company that the club feels that their silence in the matter for the past two months should have given the bus company ample opportunity to adjust their affairs and endeavor to supply more adequate service to their patrons.
To this end the following were appointed to an investigating committee: Al Bombardier, Floyd Ayers, Spalt Wartenbe, Clay Roley and Carl Taylor.

Clay Roley reported on the zoning plan which has been discussed in the community, and Bob Sharpe and Jim Hartley were appointed to bring additional information to the February meeting.
Frank Johnson, Al Bombardier and Jim Hartley were appointed to gather a group to work over the old tennis court site at Dawson field, so if we have a freeze it could be flooded for skating. Dave McPherson showed a film on atomic energy and Ruth Eshpeter and Ethel Ayers served refreshments.

Patch Tests for Children TESTS GIVEN FR. PIERCE SCHOOLS

An opportunity to have tuberculosis patch test is being offered to every child in the Franklin Pierce school district through the cooperation of the Pierce County Tuberculosis association and the Franklin Pierce schools' health service.

Patch tests will be given to any child whose parents request it. There is no charge. The tests will begin at Parkland school on Monday, January 22.

BETHEL SCHOOLS READY CHILDREN FOR AIR RAIDS

Children in the Bethel school district will be taught and trained to take proper precautions in school, parents were this week notified.

In the memorandum distributed to all parents, the Bethel district told them: (1) not to rush to school in case of an emergency, (2) not to phone the school, and (3) that they must be brave and calm.

Parents rushing to the school would increase the crowded conditions, would tend to bring on panic, cause traffic hazards and endanger parents by being out in the open, the memo said.

"If war comes . . . we must have a plan worked out beforehand," it went on to say. "You must know just what you are going to do, just how you are going to act, in case of danger."

Also listed were "five keys to safety. They are: (1) strive for fireproof housekeeping, (2) know your own home, (3) have emergency equipment and supplies handy, (4) close all windows and doors and draw the blinds, and (5) use the telephone for true emergencies only.

At last Monday's meeting of all Bethel school teachers the war situation and the problems of civil defense were taken up. The film, "Pattern for Survival," was shown. Coordinator for the district is Dick Fraser, principal at the Spanaway school.

According to Fraser, each school in the district has a plan whereby children are drilled on moving from classrooms to air raid positions. Children are repeatedly drilled on the need for covering their faces and putting their heads between their knees.

If children are on the playground during an alarm, they are taught to walk rapidly into the building to the position they take during class time.

If alarm comes while riding the bus, the driver is instructed to pull to the side of the road while students are told to pull coats over their heads and put heads between knees.

DEPOSIT DIMES AT LOCAL STORES

According to Mrs. C. P. Lund, Parkland chairman for the March of Dimes, containers for contributions are now distributed in many of the Parkland business houses.

Johnson's Drug, Parkland Donut Bar, Parkland Grill, Parkland XXX, Fletcher's Market, Smith's Market, Haven's Tavern, Shamrock Tavern, Tipperary, and the Bungalow Cafe and Tavern have cans.

Everyone giving to Pierce County March of Dimes this year is asked to remember that the National Foundation today faces its greatest patient load, at a time when the value of the dollar has decreased. More money than ever is needed to pay for hospital care, professional help, iron lungs, hot pack machines and braces.

John W. Fishburne, Pierce county campaign director, pointed out that the Parkland area, like every other in the nation, has been asked to raise a quota 50 per cent higher than last year in order that the present program may be continued, and that the United States will be prepared adequately to cope with any and every outbreak of polio.

Friday Is A Big Day For Parkland Jr. Hi

Mrs. Geo. Boerner is chairman for the dinner. Mrs. William Gregory's room will be hostesses. Grace Hawkins and Don Kramer will be room representatives.

Here's Another Story Of a Vicious Triangle: Dog - Car - Youngster

The cold wind was blowing hard on the hill at 116th and Pacific. But he did not feel the cold. He did not move, for he was dead.

His name might be Pal or even Rover, this brown and white pup. Apparently struck by a car, he managed to hobble to the side of the road, there to die.

While busy as they may be clearing the wind-blown debris from the highways, the highway department was notified. Their maintenance department was "too busy" Monday, the lady said over the phone, and didn't know when the pup could be picked up.

Meanwhile, cars whizzed by on Pacific, their drivers too busy living . . . There was no identification collar on him, but surely some youngster must be wondering today what happened to his pal.

A prayer for our Soldiers

BY MAJOR GENERAL ROY H. PARKER Chief of Chaplains, United States Army

Almighty God, the Creator and Preserver of all mankind, we commend to Thy special care and keeping those serving in our Army. Though they be in the midst of dangers, do Thou send Thy guardian angels for their protection. Walk beside them as they go through the valley of the shadow of death.

Knowing that all good things come from Thee, grant them courage and loyalty, through a firm faith in freedom's cause, in the present conflict. When sacrifices are called for, let them be made in the knowledge that Thou art the rewarder of Thy servants. Enable them to live valiantly and serve nobly, in the full realization that no man liveth unto himself. Grant them clear minds, strong bodies, resolute wills, and pure hearts free from hatred and bitterness, renewing them each and every day with strength, like strong men of old, who against enthroned wrong stood with confidence and courage.

Awaken in them a lively faith that will keep them close to Thee. Enable them to rest their cause upon Thy Word that though the foe be strong, yet knowing the cause as they battle for the right, they can never fail. Fill their hearts with the assurance that with Thee nothing is impossible and that all things work together for good to them that love Thee.

If it be Thy will that injuries be sustained, let them experience the touch of Thy healing hand and do Thou bless the means and the ministries employed for the restoration of their health.

In these difficult times, when the forces of evil are running rampant and many hopes seem about to be crushed, fill their hearts with an abiding sense of Thy reality and the certainty of Thy continual presence. Enable them to look to Thee when loneliness and longing overtake them; fulfill their yearnings by granting them Thine own companionship and fellowship. Enable them to realize the full meaning of Thy promise, "Lo, I am with you always."

Thou who art the Protector and Helper as well as the Giver of victory, grant unto them every good gift of body and soul and unite us with them in faith and love unceasing. Amen.

A hilarious time developed when the Spanaway P-TA turned the meeting over to the dads. Mr. Sam ReGen, acting president, was costumed in a lovely black dress and daring chapeau. The rest of his board members were similarly dressed in ladies' outfits. Mr. Don McLellan, dressed in a red ensemble with large tan hat, sang a song amidst much laughter. No doubt his light clothing caused his recent illness. Glad to hear he will be back at his barber shop Wednesday.

Mr. Nylander, a teacher at Spanaway school, impersonating a Scandinavian character, sang and tap danced. He was so good the group called him back for an encore. The clever card tricks shown by Harold Snow were enjoyed. Others in the board attending were John Newell and Kenneth Reeves, who are treasurer and secretary. Their minutes and reports were very much out of this world.

Presents Tonight at Eight PLC BAND, ORCHESTRA IN CONCERT

Tonight at 8 p.m. the PLC department of music will present the band and orchestra in a joint concert in the Student Union building.

The band, under the direction of Prof. Harley I. Christopherson, will open the program with "Mexican Hat Dance," by Bennett, followed by "Ariane Overture," by Boyer.

The orchestra will perform next in "Legend," by Isaac, and "Jazz Legato," by Anderson.

While "Legend" does not attempt to tell an exact story, it does suggest a tale of love and adventure. The slow introduction in contrapuntal style sets the time as long ago. The middle section suggests dreams of a future made bright by love and comradeship, closing with the allegro, triumphant, jubilant.

"The Red Mill Overture," by Victor Herbert, and "Canadian Capers," by Chandler, White and Cohen, will follow. The band is featured in these two.

Following the intermission, the orchestra will render "The Secret Mar-

PARKLANDERS CAUTIONED ON OIL DRUM VENTS

Stressing definitely that any 52-gallon oil drum is required by law to have a three-quarter inch vent, Roy O'Neil, state fire deputy marshal, was the featured speaker at last Monday's meeting of the Parkland volunteer fire department.

"This is a very important law," said Chief Jim Lewis, "and Parkland residents should check to see that the three-quarter inch vent is there."

Further, O'Neil told the firemen what to look for in the department's "tour" of public buildings which is being planned.

While the firemen have no authority to make critical checks on public buildings, Chief Lewis said that they want to get the layout and facilities of these popular gathering places in mind. They will "recommend" corrections where facilities are in bad shape.

Chief Lewis also reported two fires both on windy Monday. One was a chimney fire at 126th and Park which caused no damage. The other was a overfueled chair fire at 1205 So. 110th St., believed started by a lit cigarette. No one was at home in the later call answered and before the fire was extinguished, the damage totalled $125, Lewis said.

Emphasis on Child Care and Protection

In an opinion expressed by the Puget Sound Association for Nursery Education, civil defense programs must give more consideration to the care and protection of children.

The chairman of the association's committee on wartime standards said: "There must be adequate facilities for the children of parents who are in the armed services or in war work. We also must be able to protect our youngsters in the event of a bombing attack."

A Proclamation by the Governor:

The national emergency brings into focus the magnitude of providing medical services for the people of the state in event of attack or other disaster. One of the greatest factors in this problem is the necessity to provide an adequate nursing service. Standards of nursing service must be maintained at a time when military needs may deplete civilian nursing resources.

Far greater numbers of nursing personnel will be needed than are now known to be active in the state. It is a vital necessity to locate all persons who have had any training or experience in caring for the sick, including professional registered nurses, practical nurses, licensed or unlicensed, and nurses aides for inclusion in a roster under the sponsorship of the Washington State Nurses Association, the Washington State League of Nursing Education and the Practical Nurses Association of Washington State.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Arthur B. Langlie, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of authority in me vested, do hereby proclaim the week of January 14 through 20, as in the State of Washington, and call upon all nursing personnel to submit their names and addresses to the State Department of Health, Smith Tower, Seattle, to be included in the roster; and for the benefit and welfare of the entire state, I call upon all citizens of the state, and all newspapers, radio stations, and other instruments of public information, to assist in locating all such nursing personnel and to urge them to submit their names as designated.

(Signed)

ARTHUR B. LANGLIE, Governor of Washington.

EARL COE, Secretary of State
