

With the advent of the fall season, our thoughts and actions turn necessarily to membership for the coming year. This year should be a banner year as far as membership is concerned and our ranks should be swelled by the many eligible veterans in our midst.

Memberships in the American Legion brings with it not only comradeship with men who speak and act alike on problems facing the veteran and his community but also it brings to all an opportunity to aid in one of the biggest programs of its kind in the nation—that of aiding the less fortunate veteran in securing the benefits and aids due him.

Bridge Replacement Bond Issue Will Be On November Ballot

Pierce county's vital farm to market roads are threatened with strangulation during the next decade unless obsolete bridges are replaced, county commissioners and engineers have warned.

The commissioners outlined details for a $725,000 program designed to give the county up to date spans to carry heavy agricultural and industrial traffic. The $725,000 program will be voted on in a November 2 election bond issue.

There are 28 bridges and culverts throughout the county that must be reconstructed, replaced or closed, the engineer's office has estimated after a comprehensive survey.

PACIFIC OYSTER INDUSTRY WINS OPENING JOUST

Willapoint Oysters, Inc., of Seattle, has announced it will can oysters again this fall.

The announcement followed a decision by the Ninth United States Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco to grant a stay of a Federal Security Agency ruling requiring the Willapoint Corporation and other companies to alter canning and labeling practices which they have used during the history of the industry.

The court action strikes a prosperity note for the Pacific Northwest, as it will enable many hundreds of people to resume work.

Oyster packing, the Willapoint Company contended, is different from the canning of sardines. Oysters must be lain lightly in the can, not compressed.

Under the ruling, Pacific oyster men would be forced to pack nine ounces or more of oysters into a standard can whereas eastern packers could go on putting in only 6 1/2 ounces. The Atlantic and Gulf Coast oysters, different anatomically from those of this coast, do not exude moisture after being canned.

The western oysters exude about 2 1/2 ounces or more of fluid after being blanched and canned in a new and expensive process that retains freshness, delicacy of meat texture and natural flavor. This oyster fluid is rich in vitamins and goes into the nectar surrounding the oysters in the can.

To comply with the order, say the western packers, would result in discoloring, bruising, twisting and in many instances breaking up their oysters and rendering them unacceptable to the public.

The Pacific oyster men hope for a final trial of the case and a decision before the end of the year. Until then, most of them will not resume canning but will market only fresh oysters, which represents about half of their business.

COMMUNITY CHEST KICK OFF MONDAY

Parkland Drive Quota Is $1,300

Red Feather symbols of participation in the major charitable enterprise of the year, the Community Chest drive, will appear again next week when the annual campaign gets under way on October 11, to continue through October 22.

Preparations for the 1948 Community Chest kick-off were announced this week by Mrs. E. O. Totten, general chairman for Parkland. She posed a challenge to the community to better its record of last year, when the local quota was exceeded.

Topping the quota this year is not made easier by the fact that, in line with request made to the entire county, the 1948 quota locally is increased by approximately 5 percent over last year's. The Community Chest goal for Parkland this year is $1,300.

Seven additional agencies have been included among Chest beneficiaries this year, making a total of 35 welfare organizations dependent upon success of the coming campaign. Also pointed out is the fact that inclusion of these additional agencies eliminates that many independent fund-raising efforts at other times during the year.

Mrs. Totten has named eight Majors to assist her in blanketing this area, which extends from Tacoma city limits to Spanaway and from Golden Givan Road to South Tacoma Way. Named as Majors are: Mesdames C. H. Robinson, S. O. Storaasli, Leonard Halvorsen, L. B. Richardson, Olaf Jordahl, William Allison, J. U. Xavier and Miss Grace Blomquist.

The complete list of Captains is to be announced later.

SPANAWAY CUBS TO HAVE PACK MEETING

Pack No. 34, Cub Scouts, of Spanaway, will hold a pack meeting this Friday, October 8, at 8 p.m. Meeting place will be the Metropolitan Beach Pavilion.

Local Legion Post Asks Support for Handicapped Jobs

In accordance with a proclamation of the President of the United States, the week of October 3-9 has been designated as National Employ the Handicapped Week. The main objective of this week is to obtain jobs for as many physically handicapped persons as possible.

"It is with this thought in mind, that I am asking for the support of all business firms in this area," said Commander S. Kittelson of Parkland Post No. 228, The American Legion.

"The hiring of handicapped persons as a regular practice can benefit our community."

"There may be among the handicapped persons in our community men and women who, while not geniuses, can mean more production in your business. At a machine, a desk, in the laboratory and in thousands of jobs these persons can serve you."

Pastor's Service Set Forth in Film Coming Wednesday

Local showing of "Messenger of Peace," a Lutheran Laymen's League full-length sound film production, will be sponsored by the Walther League next Wednesday evening, October 13, at 8 o'clock, in the Parkland Evangelical Lutheran Church, 124th and Mountain Highway.

"Messenger of Peace" is heralded as a film offering not only Christian inspiration, but all the elements of good entertainment.

The picture was filmed in Hollywood, its Hollywood cast carefully supervised by Christian clergymen and laymen to assure a picture conforming to the highest standards of Christian entertainment. The central character, Pastor Armin Ritter, is portrayed by established cinema headliner John Beal.

In this story of men who give their lives to God, young Pastor Ritter, riding into churchless, Godless Norway, portrays the tireless, self-sacrificing service of the Christian pastor, everywhere. It is more than the story of an individual pastor.

There will be no admission charge for the local showing. A free will offering will be received.

War Memorial Dedication Is Now Set for Sunday, Oct. 17

Dedication of Parkland's new war memorial, which had tentatively been set for this coming Sunday, will be delayed one week, until Sunday afternoon, October 17, it was disclosed this week by the committee in charge.

GUILD SHOW HAS SPOTLIGHT THIS WEEKEND

Highlight of this weekend will be the Talent Show and Carnival at the Parkland school, Saturday evening, October 9, commencing at 7 o'clock. Parkland Orthopedic Guild is sponsor of the event.

Everyone is invited. The small admission charge—25 cents for adults, 10 cents for children—opens the door to the best entertainment available from the ranks of local artists, as well as to fun and frolic among the games, bazaars and prizes offered by the basement carnival.

Profits will go toward erection of an Orthopedic hospital for Tacoma and Southwest Washington—a dream of 27 years, now near realization.

X-RAY UNIT TO BE IN MIDLAND ON OCTOBER 14

Free chest X-ray service will be easily available to residents of Harvard, Midland and surrounding areas on Thursday, October 14, it was announced this week. A county mobile X-ray unit will be operated at the intersection of 98th street and Portland Avenue on that day.

Hours for getting the free chest X-rays will be: 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock p.m. and in the evening from 6 o'clock until 8:30 o'clock.

The service will not be restricted to residents of the immediate area. Anyone who desires may call there for a free chest X-ray during those hours. A full response is essential if the program of the mobile X-ray units is to be most effective in combatting tuberculosis.

Tooth Treatment Discussion Topic For Pre-School

"Fluorine Treatments for Children's Teeth" will be the subject discussed by Dr. E. C. Klopping at the next meeting of the Parkland Pre-School, Monday, October 11, at 8 p.m. Dr. Klopping has just completed a course of study on fluorine treatment at the University of Washington. Also on the program will be piano selections by Mary Ann Siler.

After the business meeting refreshments will be served in the lunch room with the following as hosts: Mesdames Robert Gaiser, H. Gill, E. Heidel, James Birch, Pearl Smith and Corbin. A cordial invitation is extended to all mothers of pre-school children in the Parkland area.

POSTAL ROUTE CHANGE SPURS BUSINESS CLUB

Concern expressed by members that Parkland may lose its identity as a separate community as a result of the projected changeover of surrounding rural postal routes to Zone 4, Tacoma city delivery, has led to a study of the matter by the Parkland Business Club.

A committee to study the mail change and report at the next meeting was named Tuesday evening, October 5, when the matter was first discussed. Members of the committee are Kenneth Jacobs, Iver Johnson and Walter Young.

Upon that committee's report may depend whether further consideration is given to incorporation of Parkland as a way to prevent its being swallowed by Tacoma.

A second committee was named to push the placing of road signs pointing highway routes to Parkland. Members are Hershel Mobley, Ray Pochell and Walter Young.

Local telephone rates also came up for discussion, but action was held over.

Mrs. Alice Pflueger appeared before the businessmen to thank them for their support of the Parkland Orthopedic Guild talent show and carnival this weekend.

Tuesday's dinner meeting at Indian Inn was well attended. Walter Young, past president, presided in the absence of both President Neil Thomas and V-P Mel Pedersen.

That Time Again Hunting season for most game animals and birds opens generally throughout the state this coming Sunday, October 10, and many of our local merchandisers have had their minds more on the days ahead than on the goods on their counters, this week.

Market Sale

Major transaction in local business circles this week past was the transfer of Clover Creek Market from Neil Thomas back to former operator and building owner Harris R. Victor. Victor, who opened the food center and ran it until Thomas took over three years ago, plans no changes in present staff or character of operation. He will operate on a strictly cash and carry basis. Victor has been in charge since the first of this month. Thomas is remaining at home with his recently-augmented family for the present, his future plans not disclosed.

Guild On Air

Mrs. Harold Peterson and Mrs. E. J. Perrault of the Parkland Orthopedic Guild will be heard during the Parkland Hour this Friday noon over station KTBI, as guests of program director Louise Lynd. They will ballyhoo the Guild's Talent Show and Carnival coming up this weekend and will explain the purposes of the Orthopedic guilds. Mrs. Peterson is general chairman of the Carnival and Mrs. Perrault heads the Talent Show division. Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Ginsberg will give their ideas—via Mrs. Perrault's adroit characterizations.

Give Courtesy, At Least

With the annual Community Chest campaign commencing next week, our residents may soon expect calls from Red Feather solicitors. On past records, few of them will be turned away empty-handed. But past records also show some instances where the Chest workers had been met with unpleasant rebuffs. That can and should be corrected in the coming drive. The Chest workers should be given courteous reception, at least. Remember, the Community Chest solicitor who calls upon you is your neighbor. She is the most worthwhile type of neighbor to have—one who is willing to devote her time and efforts to an unselfish cause.

Leaders Needed

There are but very few responsible citizens of this land who do not credit the Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts and their affiliated branches of scouting with doing a really fine job in assisting the development of our children.

These youth organizations are widely recognized as a most effective force against delinquency.

For that reason, it appears the result of oversight merely, that Girl Scouts and Brownies in Parkland are facing a very definite crisis. They are severely handicapped by lack of leaders. The very fine experience of scouting must be denied many of our children unless that lack is promptly overcome.

At present, there are 60 young misses in this area who would like to become Brownies. But, there is only one Brownie leader to shepherd them. Ideal organization to care for them would include three Brownie troops, with six leaders. Similarly, there are now only two Girl Scout leaders and 24 Girl Scouts. Four additional Girl Scout leaders are greatly needed.

Right now is not too late for women of this area to come to the rescue of the local scouting for girls movement. One lesson session for leaders has already been held this year, but the missed training can still be made up. Few women have ever repented time spent in scouting. Many have considered their connection with scouting among their very greatest experiences.

GRanite 7748 is the number to call to learn all about opportunities as Girl Scout leaders.

46 Head Up State Drive for County Home Rule Ballots

Forty-six Washington men and women, selected for their interest in good government, have been named on a statewide committee for County Home Rule.

The committee is urging passage of Senate Joint Resolution No. 5, better known as the County Home Rule amendment. It is one of the four amendments to the state constitution which will appear on the November 2 ballot.

"Senate Resolution 5 is a simple measure," the committee declared in a prepared statement. "It gives any county the right to adopt a Home Rule charter establishing its own form of government. They're frozen by obsolete restrictions written into the constitution back in 1889, and they're controlled by laws passed by the legislature in Olympia. County Home Rule would place control where it belongs—with the people of each county. They know their own problems better than anyone else."

The committee pointed out the amendment is "purely permissive." It permits any county to adopt a charter but does not require it. It provides that the people must vote to adopt a charter, they elect the citizens to write it, and they must approve the finished charter before it can go into effect.

Maurice Wippel of Ellensburg is chairman of the state committee.

Pneumonia Time Coming Around

Pneumonia, fifth leading cause of death in the United States, will be on the increase in October, Dr. J. L. Jones, chief of preventive medical services of the State Department of Health, said today.

The best way to keep ahead of this killer is by keeping body resistance at a high standard through obtaining plenty of sleep, fresh air and good food.

Pneumonia can occur any time during the year, Dr. Jones added, but it is most prevalent during the winter months when inclement weather lowers body resistance and crowded, poorly ventilated buildings and vehicles contribute to the spread of the disease.

Many times pneumonia follows an attack of influenza or a cold. To guard against this, the patient should stay home, get plenty of rest and keep warm. The doctor should be called immediately if a persistent cough develops with the cold.

The outlook for recovery depends on many factors which may complicate the disease, such as age, heart trouble, alcoholism, and length of time the patient is ill before the doctor is called. Although the fatality rate has been lowered in recent years through the use of new drugs and treatment, it still ranks as an extremely dangerous enemy.

Recruiting Booms During September

U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiters throughout the Pacific Northwest were enjoying a boom in enlistments during the month of September, according to an announcement from headquarters of the Washington Recruiting District in Seattle. 1,004 men joined the regular Army and Air Force during the month, against a quota of 609.

Leading the recruiting stations in percentage was Wenatchee, with 141% of its quota. Close behind were Yakima, Olympia, Everett, Spokane, Bremerton, Tacoma, Seattle and Brierleyton, all with better than 120%.

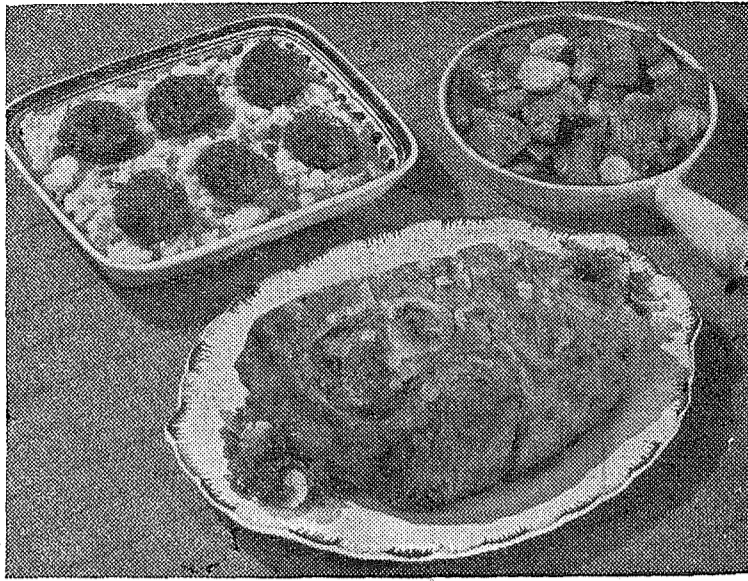

The Washington Recruiting District includes all of the state of Washington except the five counties nearest Portland, plus the ten northern counties of Idaho.

THREE-WAY POT ROAST

Latest news in thrifty meat buying and cooking is the three-way pot roast. When pot roast is featured by your meat man, buy a thicker than usual round bone roast and make it into three fresh-cooked meat meals. In this way you'll have beef served in three different ways to give variety to your menus.

A simple job of meat cutting in your own kitchen will convert the round bone pot roast into three meat meals—a beef stew; a small pot roast, and a ground beef dish or Swiss steak. To cut up the roast, use a sharp knife and proceed as follows:

1. From the round end of the roast, cut a boneless piece for stew. 2. From the center, cut a chunky pot roast with the round bone included. 3. Use the boneless piece left for grinding or for Swiss steak. (To cut the boneless piece into Swiss steaks, place an inverted saucer under your hand for safety and split into two thinner steaks.)

Now you have meat for three delicious beef dinners. You can prepare these on three consecutive nights or store one or two of the pieces for use after a short interval. (One or two days unless the piece is frozen. To store fresh meat, wrap loosely in waxed paper, leaving one end open to allow a little air to enter. Place in coldest part of refrigerator.)

Chunky Pot Roast

Prepare as you would a larger pot roast, but shorten the cooking time a little. Flour the meat and brown well in hot fat on all sides. Then season with salt, pepper, and a little garlic salt. Cover with chopped onions, add 1/4 cup water or tomato juice, cover tightly and cook in a heavy utensil (preferably a Dutch oven) on top of the stove or in a 325°F oven for two to three hours. Add more liquid as necessary. Adding liquid in small amounts insures a brown, flavorful roast (there may be leftovers from this meat meal; these may be used in sandwiches or in hash.)

Beef Stew with Vegetables

Cut the boneless piece from the round end of the pot roast into uniform cubes. Roll these in seasoned flour and brown slowly in hot lard or other fat. Add chopped onion, a piece of bay leaf, and a few herbs, if desired. Barely cover meat with water, bouillon, or tomato juice, add a little salt, and cook slowly in a covered utensil until beef cubes are tender—from one to two hours, depending on size. When meat is barely tender, add desired vegetables—carrots, potatoes, peas, green beans. Add more salt to season vegetables. Continue cooking until meat and vegetables are tender.

Meat Balls with Spanish Rice

Mix ground beef with salt and pepper, using 1 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper for each two cups of ground beef (1 pound). Also add some grated onion or finely chopped onion and about 1/8 teaspoon thyme. Shape into small balls. Brown in a little hot fat. Add a few tablespoons of water or tomato juice, cover, and cook until thoroughly done, about 15 minutes. Remove cover last five minutes to brown. Serve these on top of your favorite Spanish rice.

Other meat roasts also may be bought in the larger piece and cut up for several fresh cooked meat meals, as follows:

Fresh Pork Shoulder Butt: Buy a large pork shoulder butt, 5 to 7 pounds, cut into a roast, pork steaks, and meat for chop suey.

Leg of Lamb: Buy a full-cut leg of lamb. Ask your meat-man to cut off a few lamb steaks from the large end, also to cut off the shank, leaving about a pound of meat on the bone. In this way, you'll have lamb steaks to broil, a lamb roast, and lamb off the shank for stew or a casserole.

Hansler's movie camera is as much a part of his equipment as his guns and he has many marvelous shots of the animals in their native surroundings.  Clover Creek Post No. 118, American Legion.

You are invited to meet in Puyallup, October 8, 1948, to attend the Fall Conference of the Fourth District. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. at $1.75 per plate, at the Ingham Motel on Linden Drive. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Irma Long, GRanite 8313, or mail to Mrs. Marie Erickson, 310 Meridian, Puyallup.

The ladies of the Fourth District will hold their session at the Ingham Motel after the dinner, while the Legionnaires will convene elsewhere at 8 p.m.

This Conference lays plans for the year's work by all Posts and Units in this district. What the American Legion does accomplish is not measured by dollars and cents—for it is far above such fields of labor—yet it is only the lack of filthy lucre that limits our acts of civic betterment and the aid and joy to those who need our encouragement. So all men and women who long to serve their fellow men are invited to join with us in carrying out our year's plans.

President Hazelvern Funk and Commander Al Bragg are urging all interested to attend this Conference.

Due to the District meeting, the regular meetings of Clover Creek Post No. 118 and its Auxiliary will hold a postponed meeting Saturday, October 9, at 8 p.m. The members of the Post will meet in the Scout hall in Spanaway, while the ladies of the Auxiliary will hold their meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Irma Long.

On Sunday, October 10, the ladies of the Auxiliary are serving as hostesses at the American Lake Hospital. The comrades never tire of the refreshments nor of the friendly visits with the pleasant hostesses. If you are interested in aiding in that field of service, get in touch with Mrs. Mabel Hart, GR. 8271.

Developing plans are taking on an air of completion for the annual Jamboree to be held October 22 in the Spanaway school. General chairmen are Comrade Walter Hunt, GRanite 8204, and Mrs. Mabel Hart. If you don't want to help, you'd better get new zippers on your purses, for according to Commander Bailey, "it won't cost much to get in—but it will cost as much as your heart will allow to get out and that's a whale of a lot." All cash goes to the Building Fund.

Be seen' you at Puyallup on Friday or on Saturday night in Spanaway.

'Bye now.

D. C. DIGEST

(From the Office of Senator Warren G. Magnuson)
 FARM NEWS

The Department of Agriculture expects prices for milk and dairy products in 1949 to average about the same as this year, with "demand continuing near 1948 levels since consumer incomes per person are likely to be about as large as in 1948."

For the fifth successive year the number of cows has declined and farmers will have fewer in 1949 than at any time since the early 1930's. Supplies of feed per animal, however, will be at a record level with dairy product-feed relationships considerably more favorable to farmers than in 1948. Cash receipts from sale of milk and dairy products in 1949 probably will be little different from the $4½ billions this year. Declines in feed costs are expected to more than offset any increases in other items used in dairy products.

FARM ITEMS from Washington: Output of chicks by commercial hatcheries in August, 1948, was 31 percent larger than the same month last year. Prices received by producers for milk for fluid use and prices paid by consumers at retail in early September continued to set new record high levels; milk production on U. S. farms in August was nearly as great as the previous August. Weather conditions favor late European crops. A supplemental October-December 1948 export allocation of 225,000 long tons of protein feed was announced by the Dept. of Agriculture, and consisted of oil cake and meal. Eight new disease-resistant specialized Alfalfas have been released recently in the breeding program on which the Dept. of Agriculture is cooperating with state experiment stations.

A "partial answer" to the Pacific Northwest's problem of a dwindling sawtimber supply may have been found at last, the U. S. forest service advises Senator Warren G. Magnuson.

Experiments in production of faster growing timber by cross-pollination of various types of pine have been successful. A field laboratory at Placerville, Calif., has produced hybrid pines which are expected to mature 30 to 40 years ahead of regular sawtimber pines.

Tests since 1940 in hybridizing various pine species have given very promising results, "perhaps the most successful being the cross-pollination of white pines."

Western white pine, pollinated with eastern white pine, gave seed which produced hybrids that at four and one-half years are twice as tall and three times as heavy as either parent tree the same age. This, if growth continued at the same rate, would produce a sturdy pine good for sawing in 40 to 50 years, instead of the 80 to 100 years now required.

Community Club To Hear Politicos At Next Meeting

Bob Lynd, program chairman, is gathering in as many candidates for county office as he can commit to answer questions on their views before the next monthly meeting of the Parkland Community Club, at Parkland school, Thursday, October 14, 8 p.m.

Main business topic before the meeting is final dedication plans for the now nearly complete war memorial.

COMMITTEES FOR YLA ARE CHOSEN

Committees for the year's activities were named by Mrs. Wise, president, at the previous meeting, September 28. Committees are: Miss Gladys Carlson and Mrs. Albert Turner, programs; Mrs. William Traill, sunshine; Miss Frances Searce, publicity; Mrs. Gilbert Baker, Mrs. Ray Renwick, Mrs. Orville French and Mrs. Robert Hill, ways and means.

MOTHER-SINGERS IN OPENING REHEARSAL

Others present were: Mrs. A. Markham, Mrs. W. W. Cline, Mrs. L. Thorpe, Mrs. Engebretson and Miss Lorna Rogers.

Rehearsals will be held Monday of each week, at 3:30 p.m.

Mother: "I sent my little boy for two pounds of plums and you only sent a pound and a half."

Grocer: "My scales are all right, madam. Have you weighed your little boy?"

Information on these experiments will be available upon request to the Forest Service, Dept. of Agriculture, South Building, Washington, D. C. It is described in a document called Miscellaneous Publication No. 659, entitled, "Tree Breeding at the Institute of Forest Genetics."
