Ten counselors were elected as follows: Larry McGee, president; Thorne Tibbitts, vice-president; Marlene Corrigan, secretary; Lynn Haakenson, Kathy Jo Hensen; Betty Anderson, Patty Hanna, Carolyn Deek, Jack Sewit and Victor Becker.

Many interesting classes were held, such as bark carving, enameling on copper, safety driving, firearms and safety, news writing, photography, archery, swimming, baseball, and charm school, as well as a very interesting class in Judo taught to the girls by Officer Virgil Matson. The purpose of this class was for the girls to protect themselves in case of emergency. Ten of the outstanding girls were chosen to demonstrate their talent for a television recording. They were Shirley Conine, Genie Mladnick, Mary Alice LeMaster, Lynn Haakenson, Sharon Van Beek, Shirley Logan, Sharon Meyers, Joan Tuttle, Marlene Corrigan and Linda Lewis.

The evening programs were also very interesting, with a talent show Wednesday evening; square dancing and ballroom dancing, Thursday evening, and community singing and candle lighting ceremonies, Friday night. The campers were divided into 30 different "families" this year and had an international theme and used names from different countries. Wonderful meals were cooked by the two Mrs. Lee's and planned by Mrs. Florence Allen, home ec-

"Picnic" Due At Temple Theatre

Theatre Guild and Joshua Logan are presenting one of the most honored plays of our times, the multi-prizewinning "PICNIC", William Inge's comedy drama that cued an immediate and explosive reaction when it first burst upon New York audiences two seasons ago. Now on its nation-wide tour with Ralph Meeker who created the leading role on Broadway, "PICNIC" comes to the Temple theatre for Friday and Saturday, Aug. 5 and 6. Seats are now on sale at the Temple Stage

Attraction box office. A powerhouse play in every sense of the word, "PICNIC" is a searing 24-hour cross-section of life in a small Kansas town. The arrival of an animalistic vagrant sparks an emotional upheaval in the lives of two sex-starved females, one young and impressionable, the other a frustrated school teacher. By the time the virile vagrant flees, with the police at his heels, the girl follows him passion-possessed, the teacher grabs her reluctant Babbit on the rebound.

Meeker, of "Mister Roberts" and "A Streetcar Named Desire" fame, is the devastating but primitive Hal Carter. Sandra Church is the infatuated girl. Louise Larabee, remembered for her forceful Mrs. Mullins in "Carousel" is the embittered teacher, and John C. Becher, known for his colorful Mr. Lundie in "Brigadoon", is her protesting better-half-to-be.

Attraction box office.

Other County Extension agents responsible for this wonderful camp were George Purcell, Ernie Hopp and Morrill Delano and a lot of work was done by leaders and parents under the leadership of Art Smith. All in all, everyone had a grand time.

Mrs. Blackstone Named Musician

Schroeder, Seattle, department president, to serve as musician for the 34th annual convention of the Department of Washington, American Legion Auxiliary, to be held at Aberdeen, August 4 to 7. Mrs. Blackstone is an accomplished organist and performed this service when the convention was in Tacoma two years ago. She is also fourth district publicity chairman.

Also attending from this vicinity will be Mrs. J. M. Lindner, Rt. 7, Box 60, fourth district president. She will attend the pre-convention department executive board meeting August 4 and head the district delegation throughout the convention. Both women are members of the auxiliary of Parkland post No. 228.
