That slight haze hovering over Garfield street, Parkland, last weekend wasn't smog. It was the fragrant smoke of the cigars being passed out on both sides of the street by two proud papas. Del Totten (Totten Realty) was the birth of a new daughter, born Thursday, Dec. 11, at Tacoma General hospital. The little stranger is welcomed by a brother and a sister. On the north side of the street Harold Frye (Frye's Furniture) was quite calm in announcing the birth of a son Friday, Dec. 12, also at Tacoma General. Nothing at all to be excited about-it was the eighth child in his family!

It is suggested by the Waller Road Grangers that the children's exchange gifts at the Christmas party be toys. Don't forget, folks-all Grange families will meet at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 19; for a potluck supper.

Make It a Real Christmas! Mrs. J. M. Heath of 62nd and Waller Road is one person who would certainly like to retain her faith in humanity, but an incident that hapvened to her recently has given her While awaiting the regular bus for Tacoma, she was offered a ride by a couple, who, while enroute to town, stated that they had recently moved from the Collins district and appeared very friendly. As Mrs. Heath had with her a package to be mailed to England, the man kindly stopped the car at the 11th street entrance to the post office. She quickly alighted, so as not to detain him in the heavy traffic, and only when she saw them drive on did she realize that she had left her purse on the back seat.

She had no way of knowing who these folks were, only the faith that they would return the purse to her, as it contained many sources of identification, along with her glasses, her driver's license, house keys and a reasonably large sum of money which to be used to pay a doctor's bill and

We sincerely hope that these folks vill read this and return the purse to

8c14 YULETIDE PARTY FOR

> The special matinee, starting promptly at 1:00 o'clock, is sure to please the young guests. The feature picture is "Carson City," in color, with John Wayne as the star. A good comic cartoon will complete the show, limited to 11/2 hours in length so the children will not be kept too

> When the youngsters come out of the theatre, Santa Claus will be waiting for them in one of Parkland's bright red fire trucks. He'll have plenty of goodies for all his young friends and a group of Girl Scouts will be on hand to help in distributing the treats. Even though the day is stormy the children won't get wet as the theatre has a large canopy for shelter.

> Wes McKewen is general chairman for the party. He is an excellent choice for the job as he is a member of all the three sponsoring groups. James Linder, commander of the Legion post, will have an important part in the affair and Joe Anderson is chosen as driver of the fire truck. If everything goes off as scheduled, the party will be over by 3:30 at the latest and the children will be home well before dark.

Patrol Chief Warns Motorists To Avoid Season's 'Holi-daze'

This was the advice given Washington motorists and pedestrians Thursday by Chief James A Pryde of the Washington State

"Holi-daze," Chief Pryde said, "is made up of last minute shopping, office parties, home celebrations, distracting holiday sights and sounds, crowded streets and hurrying pedestrians and motorists. No one of these items by itself can be called a holiday hazard," he said, "but put them all together and they result in heedlessness that makes both motorists and pedestrians iore careless than usual."

Worst of all, holi-daze operates Trees Increase when winter driving hazards are at their height.

Pavements are slippery either from rain or ice, windshields are obscured with steam, frost or show, pedestrians frequently are snow, pedestrians frequently are blinded by umbrellas and armfuls of packages, and darkness falls earlier than your falls earlier than usual. National Board of Fire Under-
