JOHN SCHLARB

Offers Fine Record As Pierce County Commissioner.

Pointing to a record of "County funds out of the red", reduced taxes and higher salaries, John Schlarb, Democratic County Commissioner in the third district, opened his campaign for re-election with a series of public addresses given throughout Pierce County during this past week.

"The whole of my administration centers around the wiser administration of county affairs," said Commissioner Schlarb in his talks. "A few years ago, the interest cost of the county debt consumed a great part of the county revenues. Most of this interest was paid outside of the County and little benefit resulted from it locally. Careful and business-like management has resulted in the elimination of much interest, and at present there is no INTEREST bearing warrants out standing and the county debt has been cut over 2,000,000.00."

"It is sometime claimed that rather than reduce interest waste it would be better to spend these funds directly upon relief. This opinion does not show a real understanding of the facts, for under the present law, the money used to reduce the county debt cannot be used for relief. On the other hand, as the County's burden of debt is decreased, its financial ability to meet its emergency problems is actually increased."

"A good illustration of the importance of keeping the County in sound financial condition is the Narrows Bridge. Had the County not been able to take a leading part in the surveys for the bridge it would have been impossible to secure the necessary Federal aid to build it. The money used for this purpose came from highway funds which could not be legally used for general welfare purposes. Thus it was possible by the expenditure of a small sum by the county to secure a 6,000,000.00 project, providing employment at good wages for thousands; but this small sum was only available because condition had been protected."

"During my administration, I have helped to secure for Pierce County, a full-time health department, and increased personnel to provide a much needed service for those unable to pay for such a service. Another new agency of great value to the county is our new real estate department which now sells county property at a fair price and puts this property back on the tax rolls."

"I am also proud of the improved condition of county roads. I have initiated the placement of 130 miles of oil mats for county roads. This fact has not only improved road conditions but is also responsible for eliminating the destructive action of dust that comes from traffic on roads not oiled. Fourteen new concrete bridges have also been constructed during my administration to make County roads better and safer."

"Aid for the unemployed has been a constant problem during my administration. To assist the men and women without jobs, I have co-operated to the fullest extent with all state and federal laws and departments to secure the greatest possible number of worthy work relief projects. These projects have provided thousands of jobs and at the same time resulted in the construction within our county of many lasting and worth while improvements."

RE-ELECT Fred H. Smith YOUR County Assessor

He has won a place as a tax authority, supplied our tax news and been recognized by The National Association of Tax Assessing officers, being appointed their state chairman.

The success of Mr. Smiths administration in the assessors office and the public satisfaction with his work was manifest when the last session of the Board of Equalization found only fifteen complaints where there were two to three hundred in previous years. The tax commission also has recognized our effort and our state ratio, on which properties valued by the commission are based is raised to 47 (the highest in the state in 48) The increase nets Pierce county about $60,000 per year.

And little personal attention to the legislature and the profitless household furniture tax was wiped out. Another session of the legislature and the automobile tax has been cut in half and simplified, with increased total collections and less cost to the individual.

"The rising necessity for more equal distribution of economic wealth gives us an opportunity equal to, if not of greater importance than, that which our forefathers had when they laid the foundation of the religious and political freedom we now enjoy"

JUDGMENT OF POLITICAL OPPONENTS

March 1, 1937, the State Senate composed of 41 Democrats and 5 Republicans, unanimously, by standing vote, enacted this resolution offered by Senator Duggan, Chairman Judiciary Committee:

Whereas, Hon. Ralph Metcalf, 26th District, has now completed 30 years of continuous and honorable service as a member of this body, a period far outranking all others in the Legislature of this State; and

Whereas, his services to the State have been marked by much constructive work and fidelity to American ideals, and he has earned and enjoyed a reputation for faultless honor, fearless conduct and stainless reputation, and has through the years contributed his time and effort untringly to the improvement of the laws and the welfare of the State;

Be it resolved, that the Senate of the State of Washington now assembled in its forty-sixth session, does hereby extend its felicitations to Senator Metcalf, and expresses its appreciation of his unusual services.

"It is not by what he promises but by his record that you must judge a candidate."
