PARKLAND LIGHT and Water membership debated, then voted down an amendment proposing a mandatory veto of controversial and non-partisan resolutions presented to the Trustees. The action came during a special meeting held at Parkland School Tuesday evening. Speaker is Mr Raybell of Parkland.

Veto Amendment Vetoed By PL&W Membership

In a somewhat over-heated atmosphere the members of the Parkland Light and Water Company voted against the proposed change in the veto power of the Board of Trustees Tuesday night.

With final tallies standing at 105 for the change and 97 against, the required two-thirds of the vote was not received and the by-law remains the same.

The proposed change of Article VIII of the Articles of Incorporation sponsored by Leo Wilson and A.H. Bottiger of the Pierce County Improvement Association, would have read:

"The Board of Trustees shall have power to veto any resolution adopted by the members of the Corporation present and voting at any meeting; Mandatory veto must also be applied to all resolutions adopted which are of a strong controversial nature. Likewise, veto must apply to all resolutions of a partisan political nature; but the resolution so vetoed may be again submitted at a special meeting called for that purpose; and if then passed by two-thirds of the members present and voting, it shall be mandatory upon the Trustees to carry out the provisions of said resolution; however, it is incumbent upon the Board of Trustees to veto any resolution of endorsement of objects not contained in Article II of the Articles of Incorporation of the Park- land Light and Water Company." (the bold type indicates the changes from the standing law.)

Before the vote was taken, the for and against reasons were given from the floor.

According to one member, Rev. J. A. Schiller, it would be belittling the position of the Trustees to take away their power of discretion in such matters, it would not be fair to tie the hands of the board this way, he added.

"Keep the veto power in the Board where it has been and should be," stated Carl T. Lindgren, adding that if the board could not do the job they have been voted in to do "get rid of them."

One member present quipped that if the proposed amendment were adopted would it not then be vetoed because of its controversial nature. Part of the crowd yelled "Yes" in harmony.

Wilson and Bottiger contend that the proposed change would have prevented the company from losing sight of the objectives outlined in the By-laws, which they claim it did when the company annexed its land to the South Suburban Sewer District.

This was argued by the members-in-general, who said that if the sewage began to contaminate the water supply then it is indeed a matter for the Parkland Light and Water Company's consideration.

Stamp of Approval Given Sewer District

The eleven-member Boundary and Review Board were unanimous in deciding not to dissolve the South Suburban Sewer District Wednesday afternoon, it was announced by Board Chairman Howard S. Reed.

The board based its decision on several factors, including — 1. The South Suburban Sewer District is in the center of the Clover Creek drainage basin; 2. Testimony of State, County, and Sanitarians should that the sewer district is needed as a population protection; 3. The plan was conditionally approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Washington State Pollution Control Commission; 4. Testimony of engineers was that the 21" line may be inadequate to handle future growth of the area, but is so designed that it can be integrated into the overall lateral collection system without duplication.

Other points mentioned by the board when the decision was rendered were the danger to the accumulated increase in pollution and the time for sewers, they stated, is an increasing reality.

According to Reed the board was not unmindful of the fact that construction of sewers is expensive and such construction might cause great hardship on some citizens, but that their decision was made because they feel the health and welfare of the population is of greater importance.

Upon hearing the board findings Clayton Peterson, resident of the South Suburban Sewer District, said: "We are very pleased that there has been a full and impartial presentation of the facts about the need for sewers in Parkland and the methods being used to solve this complex community problem."

"The Boundary and Review Board is a "Blue Ribbon Jury" or citizens, carefully selected to evaluate problems of community welfare. The fact that they have voted against dissolution of the South Suburban Sewer District indicates the judgement of the many people who have worked so hard to try to find an equitable, economic and efficient means of solving our sewage problem."

"We hope that it will soon be possible to continue our work for providing sewers in this area — every day that we delay costs money because of the rising cost of living — it also increases the dangers to the health and welfare of our people."

Pointing out that he thought the 21" trunk line proposed by the district would be inadequate in the near future, Pierce County Improvement Association president Leo Wilson said that he thought the Review Board would be defeating their own purpose by advocating what they should be discouraging.

Some of the points considered by the Board, according to law, were the avoiding of unnecessary expense and formation of irregular boundary lines, Wilson told the Journal.

Plans for the South Suburban Sewer District now awaits the end of the court hearing, which was held in abeyance until the findings of the Boundary and Review Board were known.

The Times Journal
14620 Pacific Avenue
Tacoma, Washington 98444
To the Editor:

It was disheartening to a large number of the members to hear of the resignation of Alvin L. "Al" Raber, manager of our Parkland Light and Water Company.

For Alvin Raber has long been a worker for community betterment in the Parkland area. There are few public benefit programs which have come about since his settlement into the district which have not felt the strength of his support nor the warmth of his enthusiasm. And in his duties as management head of the company he has added to the luster of the image of the organization, both among the customers and the other utility groups in the region.

Although talk has not been inconsiderable, no definite charges relative to the rupture have been made. Both parties in public statements have discussed the issue with restraint and dignity. The Board of Trustees is composed of a group of five men, four of whom have had years of service behind them.

Raber, it is understood, felt that he could not conscientiously perform as manager within what he felt were restrictive guide lines laid down by a majority of the board. Being unable to work out a solution, he resigned.

Based upon the conviction that the Lord was liberal in spreading both imperfections and talents, indiscriminately, even sometimes in the same person, some folks had wondered what would happen were the board to authorize someone — not a Trustee — to negotiate the differences into a mutually acceptable arrangement.

Of the 5 trustees, 4 were poled (one member being too ill to be interviewed) — one was 100 per cent in favor of inviting the former manager to make a negotiated immediate return, another was willing, another felt the board should formally discuss the matter at a future meeting and would abide by the group's decision, and the fourth was opposed.

And there it rests. No man is indispensable, but as Johnnie remarked, "A good man is hard to find."

Sincerely,
Carl T. Lindgren

Franklin Pierce Summer School Set

Individualized instruction takes priority in Franklin Pierce's summer school as students in groups of three or four meet with teachers in basic subjects four days a week.

Conducted in cooperation with Pacific Lutheran University, reading, mathematics and social studies centers make use of teachers who attend PLU institutes in these subjects to teach small groups of children, Howard Motteler, summer school director, explained.

The teachers help the students learn during summer school in the morning and then attend their own college classes in the afternoon.

The social studies center will also be used to evaluate the teachers who instruct the classes, as it is being held in cooperation with a PLU class designed to work out modern evaluative techniques.

Registration in the reading, mathematics and social studies centers, though limited, is now being accepted from students in all grades, Motteler said. Last year only a reading center was offered in the program but more than 200 students took part in it, Motteler said.

Model Program Slated At PLU

Pacific Lutheran University has joined with 42 other Northwest institutions to develop specifications for a model education program to prepare elementary teachers.

The U.S. Office of Education has awarded the Northwest consortium a $163,000 contract for the project entitled ComField. It emphasizes development of a competency based, field centered, systems approach to teacher preparation.

The Northwest Regional Educational Laboratory, a non-profit organization with administrative offices in Portland, is coordinating the project.

During the next six months three task forces will develop instructional systems, management systems for operation of the program in colleges and the community, and evaluation and cost accounting systems. Dr. Kenneth A. Johnston, director of the PLU's school of education, represents the university in the project.

Vending Machines Receive Scrutinization

The Board of Directors of the Franklin Pierce School District are considering the use of a bank of vending machines to provide the lunches for the Washington High School students, according to officials of the board.

Now using the vending machine method, and the school which the board here has been studying, is the South Kitsap High School.

Two of the FP Board members, Mrs. Jo Anne Matson and Harold Sherry, accompanied by Thomas Stephens, assistant superintendent, travelled to the South Kitsap High School to view the students during the lunch period. They noticed that the machines were well used (according to school officials, the lunch participation went from 25 per cent to 60 per cent because of the machines) and little, if any, was discarded. Upon viewing the thrown away food materials it was discovered the only food thrown away was the sack lunches the students brought from home.

Parents in the South Kitsap area were opposed to the machines when they were first installed, but it was noted that since the students do now eat lunch the parents have been won-over.

The State Schools Food Superintendent is opposed to the vending method it was learned, because she did not consider the available hot dogs, hamburgers, Poor Boy sandwiches and soup as Class "A" lunches.

She stated that the school lunches now used are measured for their protein value, not so, she added, with the vending offerings.

The participating parents' reply to this was, that if the child discards half of the prepared lunch anyway, they then loose the protein value, and the so-named Class "A" lunch.

Arguments for the new approach to school lunches include the fact that the prepared food is still made in the school kitchens, with the exception of the canned soup. Also for the new method is the reduction in costs. Only two cooks are needed to man the Kitsap school kitchen, and no dishwashers are required.

The price of the dinner will not vary much from what is already charged, stated officials. A hot dog from the vender would cost 15 cents and the large Poor Boy sandwich, 40 cents.

A decision on whether the Franklin Pierce districts Washington High School will go to the venders is expected to be forthcoming.

FRANKLIN PIERCE School Directors Jo Anne Matson and Harold Sherry sample vending machine school lunches during a visitation to South Kitsap High School, Port Orchard, Tuesday. South Kitsap School officials said installation of the machines resulted in greater participation in the school lunch program by students. Directors are considering the possibility of using vending machines at Washington High School. Business Manager Tom Stephens accompanied the directors to the Port Orchard school.

25¢ AN HOUR MINIMUM WAGE

What kind of a spring day was it, 30 years ago this month? In Asia, the Japanese had been momentarily crushed by an army of over 800,000 Chinese in vital Shantung Province. In Rome, Il Duce was hosting Hitler, and here in the United States it appeared certain that Congress would pass the bill calling for a flat 25 cent an hour minimum wage.

Meanwhile, things were happening here in Puyallup as well. For instance, the Fraternal Order of Eagles had just opened their new Daffodil Aerie; the Puyallup cinder men had won the conference track title the week before, beating their nearest competitor Highline easily; Gene Autry was appearing in "Public Cowboy No. 1" at the Roxy; and spring suits were selling from $22.50 at Gerstmann Bros. Here at Citizens we were already past our first 40 years of service to our friends in and around Puyallup. And that same heritage of service, built over the past 70 years is still available to everyone. We've enjoyed being a part of the Puyallup area's past. Now we look forward to being a big part of it's tremendous future as well!

Field Trips Planned For FP Youngsters

Seven field trips to all parts of the State of Washington for one, two and three days each, is the main drawing card for fifth and sixth graders in the Franklin Pierce School District this year.

The field trips are part of a new summer school program called "Washington, My Home". The students will study and visit all kinds of industries and areas in the state as part of the program, according to James Scarce, Larry Paulsen and Dale Storaasli, instructors.

The class will be limited to 45 girls and boys, mostly on a first come, first served basis, Scarce said. Cost for the class is $50, he added.

Field trips included in the class will be to the capitol in Olympia, Grand Coulee Dam, Ginkgo petrified forest, Kanford Atomic works, Mt. Rainier National Park, Mt. St. Helens, Olympic peninsula and several industries.

During the two and three days trips, the students will sleep in state parks. The last trip of the course, which will run from June 17th to July 18th, will be a two-day pack trip in Mt. Rainier National Park. The girls will take a two-mile round trip and the boys will make a five-mile round trip.

It is estimated by the instructors that the students will spend some 250 hours in class learning during the 19 days of the summer program.

The Board of Trustees of Tacoma Community College will meet at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday (5/29) in the TCC Administration Building, it was announced by Frank E. Cooper, chairman.

Riding Club News

Firecrest Caballero's

Saturday May 25th, the Firecrest Caballero's trailered their horses to the Ft. Lewis Reservation for a club trail ride and fun day. Although the weather was gloomy it failed to dampen the spirits of this active group.

The Caballero's will be busy next week getting last minute details ready for their annual open playday June 9th at the EZ Bar arena on 38th and Tyler. Everyone is welcome to bring their horses and participate or just come and watch. Watch for a list of events in next weeks paper.

prize money won by the contestants at Roy will count toward points in the NRA championship standings. The top fifteen men in each event along with the top fifteen men in each event from the Idaho Rodeo Assn. at the end of the season will compete at a Finals Rodeo which is held in conjunction with the Portland International Livestock Exposition. Since the Roy Rodeo is one of the first of the NRA season a large turnout of contestants is expected, everybody wants to get the lead in the prize money. Top NRA contestants in each event along with some outstanding contestants from British Columbia and the Washington Rodeo Assn. will be on hand.

These cowboys are also competing for the sterling silver trophy buckles in each event. These buckles are made by Don Ellis of Seattle, well known silversmith and former rodeo hand and are very much coveted by all rodeo contestants. The buckles are sponsored by the Roy Rodeo Assn. and will be awarded at the Labor Day week-end rodeo, points from both rodeos count toward winning the buckles.

Roy Rodeo June 1-2

The Roy Pioneer Rodeo Assn. opens its 9th season with the first of their semi-annual rodeos, Saturday and Sunday, June 1 and 2 at 1:30 p.m. both days at the Roy Rodeo Arena in Roy, Wash.

Malcom Huston, rodeo chairman, has engaged the top rated bucking horses and bulls of Ralph McLean of Coulee City and roping and dogging livestock belonging to Jim Gibbs of Yelm.

Ralph McLean has many outstanding bucking horses, including Ole, a saddle bronc never yet qualified on; Camas Annie and Bad News who both assure a contestant a ride straight to the pay window if he can just stay aboard.

Ralph was one of the three Washington state rodeo contractors at the Washington Rodeo Assn. finals in 1967. Fourteen of his horses and ten bulls were in the draw at this Finals rodeo. Such bulls as No. 3, No. 66, and No. 99, each one "a good draw" for anybody's money.

Jim Gibbs not only provides the calves, cows and steers for most of the rodeos throughout the northwest, he also conducts jackpot ropings and practice sessions at various indoors arenas during the fall and winter seasons. Jim is also a very active contestant, competing in Team Roping and Wild Cow Milking.

This year both of the Roy Rodeos have been approved by the Northwest Rodeo Assn., which means that the

Longacres News

After a rousing opening weekend of thoroughbred racing at Longacres, the refurbished Green River plant moves into its second week of operation with the presentation of two stakes events.

The 10th running of the traditional $7,500-added Memorial Day Handicap is slated for Thursday, May 30th.

Sunday's headliner is the 21st running of the $7,500-added Fashion Handicap.

Both attendance and fiscal figures were of record proportions for Longacres smashing opening, a fact indicative of an outstanding season.

The Memorial Day Handicap matches three-year-old and older stakes campaigners at a sprint distance of five and one-half furlongs.

Tis Cricket, last year's victor in track record time of 1:02 4/5, is expected back to defend its laurels. The powerful five-year-old gelding is a California bred.

Other stars likely to go postward include Silver Duke, Strong Dolphin, Tres Quentos, Sir Gladiator, Melmitch, Kyreen, My First Trip, Prize Rebel, Mr. Q. D., Terrango Kid and Big John, Jr.

On Sunday the equine queen of Washington State will be measured in all particulars. Primary qualifications in this contest require the regal lady to step six furlongs in about 70 seconds in order to be crowned. In twenty runnings the Fashion 'Cap for homebred fillies and mares has become one of the favorites of Longacres crowds. History records that a mare named Dark Damsel raced to victory four times in this stake. No other queen carries such credentials.

Overwhelming pre-race favorite for this year's Fashion is Miss Redoubt. The dominating filly is owned by Drs. Ranniger, Irwin and Venema, same trio who sent the famed Smogy Dew to a Fashion Victory in 1965. Youthful Glen Williams, Smogy's conditioner, also handles Miss Redoubt. The brilliant four-year-old was flown in from Hollywood Park last Thursday. She arrives fresh for new conquests.

Mojo, winner opening day in near record five and one-half furlong time, is a likely. Phoney Fran, second finisher in the same encounter, is another hopeful. Others expected to go postward include Treasured, Copper Girl, Fair Lucy, Velvet Vicki and Winning Hostess.

Racing for the holiday weekend is scheduled for Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday is Newspaper Publisher's Day.

Thursday, Saturday and Sunday programs commence at 1:45 p.m.

Friday's program, a twilight affair, begins at 4:15 p.m.

Lino Burgos booted in seven winners in the first three days of the meeting to take an early lead in the Longacres jockey standings.

However, the two runners up, Lennie Knowles and Larry Pierce, came through with the "money" victories. Knowles, the track's leading rider in 1967, piloted Bonfire Baby home in Friday's $5,000-added Seafair Queen Stakes. Pierce followed up Sunday by riding Mr. Q. D. to an upset victory in the $7,500-added William E. Boeing Stakes.

Knowles and Pierce held second place in the opening weekend tabulations with four wins each. Tied for third with two firsts apiece were P. J. Bailey, Jack Leonard, Ronald Namba, Fred Sasai and Clell Sherwood.

Following are the standings through May 26, including every jockey with one or more winners:

Jockey	mts	1	2	3

SIX TRAINERS TIED

Six trainers have saddled two winners each after the first three days of racing at Longacres. They are: J. H. Boyce, Bob Meis, Luke Rakow, Leonard Roberts, Dan Russell and Roy Steele.

Meis sent Bonfire Baby to the post Friday in the Seafair Queen Stakes. He owns the filly in partnership with his brother, David, and sister, Rosemary. F. H. Jarnagin conditioned Mr. Q.D. for his upset in the William E. Boeing Stake.

Spanaway To Feature Demolition Derby

SPANAWAY - Spanaway Speedway promoters Dick Bennis and Al Reiten have planned a Memorial Day race program that should be a sure fire success for superstock fans, weather permitting.

In addition to the A.R.L. superstocks continuing their

"When you quit learning, you're on your way out."

This sage advice over an early morning cup of coffee in "The Village" (back stretch-barn area) last week in a conversation with two old heads who have been in the Thoroughbred business for over 50 years (collectively).

One of them said, "I learn something new every day, every week and every racing season." This goes to prove that the "know-it-alls" generally do not succeed in this sport of kings for "Kings of Sport". Progress is the watch word!

Automation has finally reached into Thoroughbred racing. It was a long time coming but it's here. We refer to barn activities and the care of "hots" that need walking and exercise after a race or a workout. An enterprising inventor from Phoenix and now based at Yakima has come up with an electric powered contraction with four arms that revolve. It looks like a helicopter in slow motion. Four "hots" (horses) are hooked to the device and around and around it goes. Two switches, one in the barn and one on the machine, give control as wanted and needed. Some trainers are even beginning to build their own slow merry-go-rounds. We'll soon see some that will walk eight horses at the same time.

It has its assets and some liabilities. One owner remarked, "It works fine except when you have to stop it to give some hot horse a sip or two of water as he cools out."

Another pointed out that it is dependable. On rainy days the boys hired at 50 cents per horse to do the walking often decide to stay in bed and not get to work. It takes about ten minutes to get all four horses going but it works. This is a real money saver for large stables with 30 or 40 horses.

Truly this is the machine age!

FOR YOUR VIEWING PLEASURE: June 2nd, Fashion Handicap for fillies and mares 3 years old and up bred in the State of Washington at six furlongs for $7,500 added.

annual point battle, spectators will be treated to the first demolition derby of the season, a sort of Russian Roulette on wheels. The idea in this event, is to put as many cars out of action as possible and be the only piece of equipment running. This is accomplished by ramming other contestants in order to put them completely out of action, and it amounts to a wild, slam-bang affair.

The superstocks will deviate from their regular Sunday afternoon program next week by slating a full racing program Saturday, June 1st, with time trials set for 7:00 p.m. Their Sunday slot will be filled by figure "8" competition, a situation similar to heavy traffic at 42nd and Broadway in New York with no stop lights. The intersection becomes somewhat of a disaster area before too many laps.

Bethel Sports Banquet

By Kevin Kelly

Bethel High School's annual spring sports awards banquet was held Monday, May 26 at Brad's Restaurant.

Those receiving special awards were Bill Thomas who received the Parkland Kiwanis Baseball Inspirational Award, Dick Hopkins who received the track inspirational award, and John Briehl and Mike Poorman, who were voted this year's track co-captains.

The mile-relay team credited with setting a new school record with a time of 3:33.8 at the district meet were presented a special trophy. Receiving the honor were Mike Poorman, Loran Wright, John Briehl, and Gary Grazzini.

A welcoming talk was given by Booster Club President Lloyd Hopkins, and the invocation was by Rev. John Briehl of Spanaway Lutheran Church. Honored guests were Dr. Fred Gramann, Rev. and Mrs. John Briehl, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Niehl, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hopkins, Mr. Phil Zurfluh, and Miss Lee Larson.

After dinner entertainment was by the Vagabond Four.

Little League Needs Sponsors

A cry for help has gone out for sponsors for the Parkland Youth Sports League.

According to officials of the Little Leaguers, only two have stepped forward to sponsor the 125 Parkland area boys who desire to play baseball.

Four more sponsors are needed if the league is to be a success, stated officials. Sponsorship fee is $50, which includes balls, bats, uniforms, trophies and league-end dinner.

The youngsters, ages 9 through 13, are planning to open their season on Monday, June 3rd. All the boys will be allowed to do practice, until the league is determined.

The two sponsors already acquired include Tony Corso's Enco Station and the 621 Organizational Maintenance Squadron at McChord AFB, who are in hopes of raising the necessary funds to sponsor yet another team.

Interested sponsors are asked to please contact Frank Renfro at LE 5-5116 after 8 p.m.

SPORTS

Swim Program Registration Underway

Registration for the first session of the Pierce County Park Department's swim instruction at the Pacific Lutheran University pool will continue this week at the PLU pool office and at Bethel High School.

Bethel-area residents may register at the high school Friday, May 31, from 4 to 8 p.m. and on Saturday, June 1, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Residents of the Franklin Pierce School District will register Saturday, June 1, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the PLU pool office.

Registration fees are $4 for children and $5 for housewives. Transportation will be provided from Franklin Pierce elementary schools for $2 per session and from Bethel schools for $3 per session.

Bethel Lettermen To Wash Cars

The Bethel High Lettermen will host their third annual fund-raising car wash from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 1st, according to Ed Tingstad.

The wash, to be at the Anderson Chevron Station, 176th and Pacific, will take care of cars, trucks, campers, trailers, Hondas, and any other motor vehicle.

"The fee is small enough that you wouldn't want to wash your car yourself," said Tingstad, "but, large enough to help us complete our objective. We urge everybody to support this project."

The first session will be given June 17 through July 5 from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the PLU pool.

PLU Receives Equipment Grant

The Research Corporation of New York has awarded Pacific Lutheran University $35,000 to purchase science equipment for a new program in the departments of biology and chemistry, announced President Robert Mortvedt.

Funds from the grant will enable the university to buy, among other things, a $10,000 recording spectrophotometer and a similar-priced liquid scintillation counter.

Dr. Jo Ann Jensen, associate professor of biology, and Dr. Burton Nessel, assistant professor of chemistry, will coordinate the program for their respective departments.

With the addition of the new equipment the two science departments will be able to expand their present course work in biochemistry and introduce a class in cellular physiology.

The two disciplines will share the funds because students in each field have a common interest in the operation and structure of living cells and tissues.

"The primary intent of this grant is to allow PLU to stimulate and broaden the scope of research opportunities for its faculty and students, and to bolster the course offerings in physiology, biochemistry and related courses," said Dr. Jensen.

The type of equipment made available by the award was once used strictly in graduate and research laboratories of large universities, said Dr. Nessel. "However," he added, "this sophisticated equipment is now essential in the undergraduate classroom at PLU where we think student research is an important aspect of their training."

Dr. Nessel and Dr. Jensen both accepted appointments at PLU last fall. Nessel, whose specialty is biochemistry, graduated from St. Olaf (Minn.) College and received his advanced degrees from Purdue University. Dr. Jensen is a PLU graduate. She earned her master's degree in zoology from the University of Southern California, and her doctorate in physiology from Iowa State University.

Reward Offered For 8 Yr. Old

A $5,000 reward is offered for information leading to the return of David Adams. Two new developments in the case of missing 8 year old David Adams of Issaquah, Washington, have widened the search for the boy, who was last seen near his home on May 3rd.

Recent clues lead searchers to believe the boy may have been seen at some distance from the rural Tigar Mountain area where the initial search took place.

Some one-thousand volunteers hunted the dense foliage near the Adams family's new home for five days following David's disappearance, aided by trained search dogs, mountaineer teams, helicopters and military search equipment. Authorities are now convinced that David, who was known to be a determined hiker, must have left the vicinity of Tigar Mountain, possibly in an attempt to find his way to the new family home which they had occupied only two weeks before.

Reliable witnesses have reported seeing a boy answering David's description near Buckley, Washington, early in the morning following his disappearance. A second report indicates David may have found his way to the Puyallup area some time later. Authorities now theorize that the boy may have been found and transported to another area of the state by person or persons unknown.

All Washington residents are asked to report the presence of any boy answering David's description, whose identity they cannot establish and who has been seen since May 3rd. Reports should be made to the King County Sheriff, Seattle, or to any local law-enforcement officer.

David Adams weighs 55 to 60 pounds, is about 51 inches tall, slender build, has dark brown hair and extremely blue eyes, two front teeth slightly crooked, and a dimple in his left cheek when he smiles.
