Gonzaga To Honor Eastvold

Dr. Seth Eastvold, president of Pacific Lutheran University, is one of three University presidents from Washington named to receive honorary degrees at commencement exercises of Gonzaga University, Spokane.

In making the announcement, the Rev. John P. Leary, S. J., Gonzaga president, said, "Dr. Eastvold is finishing almost 20 years as the president of Pacific Lutheran. He is being honored not only because he is so much admired personally and because he embodies the qualities which all people who know him admire, but also because he typifies the most laudable contributions that our Protestant colleges and universities have made in the transmission of wisdom and commitment to the good life."

"Dr. Eastvold will be leaving Pacific Lutheran this year. He leaves his school in excellent condition. It is a credit both to his church and the country. He will no longer head the Independent Colleges Association which he has helped to shape. His leadership will be much missed."

Dr. Eastvold, a native of Chicago, graduated from Jewell College, Iowa, in 1913. He received a degree in Theology from Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., in 1920. He did graduate work at Augustana College and the Theological Seminary, Rock Island Ill., receiving degrees in Bachelor of Divinity in 1924, Master of Sacred Theology in 1926 and Doctor of Theology in 1931.

When the United States entered World War I, Dr. Eastvold enlisted as a private and served with the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe. He was appointed a chaplain in the Officers Reserve Corps in 1923 and served with the Reserve Corps until 1928. He is a member of the American Legion.

The retiring president of Pacific Lutheran University has served as president of the Tacoma University since 1943.

Phone Changes Must Be Made By April 20th

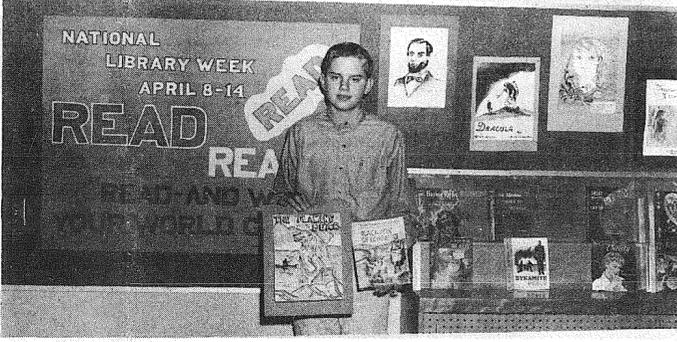

Pacific Northwest Bell's annual job of assembling all Tacoma customers in alphabetical order is about a week away.

According to telephone manager David L. Williams next Friday, April 20, is the last date that additions or changes may be made in the white alphabetical pages of the 1962 book. Persons who want separate listings for their children, for others living in their homes, or who want to change the way their names appear, should call the telephone business office.

The 1962 directory scheduled for delivery also includes listings for Ashford, Elbe, Graham and Roy.

Under the direction of Master Frank Osborn, men and women Grangers have worked Sunday afternoons and three nights a week painting and redecorating the building.

FP Teachers Win Grants For Summer

Richard Larson, Clifford McMillan and Russell Fulkerson, teachers at Franklin Pierce, have all been awarded National Science Foundation Grants, and will resume their courses of study this summer.

Receiving a grant for the third year in a row is Biology teacher Mr. Larson. Upon completion of an eight week course at Washington State University this summer, he will receive his Masters degree in biological science.

Pleased about receiving the grant, worth over $1,000, he stated, "I feel that this opportunity will enable me to keep abreast of my field."

Mr. McMillan is one of 48 in the nation awarded a grant in Princeton University to study physics. "We expect to offer a new type of physics course at FP next year; it will be a new approach that will give students a better understanding of the subject."

Mr. McMillan is particularly impressed with the fact that there will be many noted research physicists to lecture at Princeton during his course of study. Geometry, Algebra, and modern Algebra are the classes Mr. Fulkerson will be taking up this summer at Portland State.

"A committee formed of college and high school teachers, called the SMSG -- School Mathematics Study Group, has devised a new study method for mathematics which we are going to offer in geometry next year," explained Mr. Fulkerson.

"This approach puts a new emphasis on different parts of geometry, and we hope that this will make it easier for students to understand."

Let Me Tell One:

Librarians Important

Neil McLean

A particular heroine of mine as a boy in elementary school was the librarian at the Carnegie Library in Aberdeen. I guess she was the assistant in charge of the children's room. Her name was Miss Clubb and she led me by the hand through a great many tales of adventure, science and just plain fun.

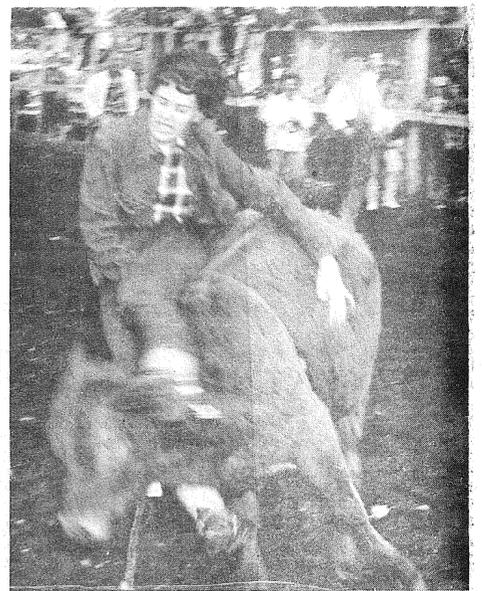

My first group of books were the series by Ralph Henry Barbour, sports stories which were entertaining and fast reading. Miss Clubb then introduced me to Joseph Altsheler, and his series of Civil War stories. A little painful history along with the adventure.

From those two first series of books, we exhausted the young people's shelves and went on to the adult section of the library. With encouragement from home, and the interested assistance of Miss Clubb, I read as many as four and five books a day for enjoyment. What I didn't realize at the time was the storehouse of knowledge that I was piling up which would help throughout my school career.

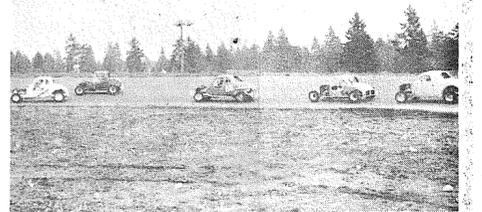

Aside from the adventure to be found in books, there is much of history and life (which, to be sure, young people should have help in interpreting) that makes an impression on the young mind.

A good librarian is probably the most important part of any library. I know I was fortunate in having my friends to help me with the selection of books which I read.

From the results of the plain statistics which are released each month by the Pierce County Lib-

BUNCHED ON THE TURN as one of the races started Sunday, these cars are some of those which competed Sunday at the Spanaway Speedway.

"HAWAIIAN HOLIDAY" is coming to the Waller Road P-TA when they hold their Carnival Friday, April 13 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Kathy Wassmuth and Marci Lovell provide readers with a preview of the type of entertainment that will prevail. There will be food, fun and prizes and everyone is welcome.

Letter to Editor

To the Editor:
 In March the voters of the Bethel School District will be voting on the funds for a proposed addition to the high school. This vote will be taken on the basis of a cost estimate by one particular architect.
 Before this vote is taken, some research should be done by these voters on how this architect was chosen and how he arrived at his figures. These figures average out to just over $16.00 per square foot, for construction only--no furnishings. Even the fanciest new school in Tacoma averaged only a very little over $11.00 per square foot. The State Matching funds for school construction come to only $14.75. How a school would have to be constructed, or of what, to cost this much exceeds my puny imagination.
 Before this school district votes itself further into debt, dragging others along with it, perhaps the people should know more about what they will get for their money--since no plans have apparently been submitted for inspection as yet. Maybe I am wrong, but I have never heard of not using whatever money is available when construction of this kind is undertaken. Since we furnish it, let's know where our money goes, and for what, before we buy this building, sight unseen. You wouldn't put a 10 or 20 year mortgage on a home, committing yourself to large monthly payments, unless you had seen the house and knew for sure that it was actually worth the cost.

 I'm sure we could get just as much building, just as well-built, for less money if there was some competition involved in picking a plan for a school in which to give the children an education--or have I completely lost sight of the purpose of the school? Has it become just another status - symbol--another way of keeping up with the Joneses?
 Mrs. Carl B. Essman

There are now more than 1,100,000 Americans alive today who have been cured of cancer. Twenty-five years ago there were only 160,000. The American Cancer Society says that early diagnosis and prompt treatment offer the best protection against death from cancer.

Cardinal Voice

FP's newly formed SUM Club took a field trip last week. "Visiting the Talley Register Company proved very interesting," stated Dean Huber, club president.

"The purpose of our club is to explore mathematics and find out more than what we do in the regular classroom situation."

Coach Norman Scott's varsity tennis squad suffered a close loss to Puyallup Thursday, March 29, as the Vikings downed the Cards 3-2.

The Cards mixed doubles won and the girls doubles won but the Vikings proved superior in the girls singles, the boys singles and the boys doubles.

Feeling that FP should have won, Larry Tommervik, varsity squad member stated, "I know we will do better next time."

The Cardinal netters are slated to meet Summer Tuesday, April 10 on the Spartan courts.

The Franklin Pierce Baseball squad will travel to Enumclaw this Thursday in their first league game. The Cardinals lost their starting game of the season to Stadium, 9-1 in a non-league clash.

Collins News

The Tots Club field trip was well attended, there being twenty-two ladies present. Lieut. George Amans, of the State Patrol acted as guide. After working up a good appetite by climbing to the Capitol dome, all enjoyed lunch together in the Olympia Oyster House.

At least fifteen boy scouts have begun working for bicycle merit badges. A minimum of six 25 mile rides and one 50 mile ride are required. Mr. Johnson, sixth grade teacher, is counselling the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Collins are the new parents of a baby daughter born March 27, weighing 8 lbs., 2 oz. She has been named Janice Carol.

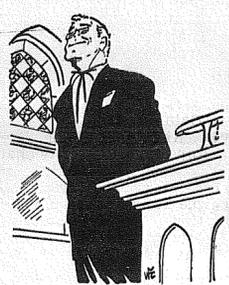

Local Choir Will Sing At C-21

Mrs. Buelah Plotts, Director of the Parkland Methodist Choir, has announced that several of its members will sing with the Choir Masters Guild of the Northwest when that 1,300-voice group performs in the Arena at the World's Fair May 6th.

Dr. J. Spencer Cornwall, of the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, will direct the Choir Masters for their performances in Seattle.

About 87,000 cancer patients will probably die in 1962 who might have been saved by earlier diagnosis and better treatment, according to the American Cancer Society.

Federal bureaus and regulatory agencies seek to short cut the relatively slow processes of the law; and, in effect, gain the power to enforce immediately their own decisions.

This is something we cannot allow to happen for far too often government employees, long on the job, lose sight of their true title of "Public Servant" and ordain themselves with the title of "Deputy God."

A proposal now before Congress, if approved, would grant the Federal Trade Commission the power to issue a "cease and desist" order at the outset of a complaint, compelling an individual or a corporation to discontinue any practice questioned by the Commission, until the matter could be brought before the courts and a decision reached.

But this could be a very long time indeed. A case in point involved one of the country's leading oil companies. Competition in the oil business is rough. During the 30's the company, in order to hold some of its better wholesale customers in the city of Detroit, lowered its prices to them to meet those offered by competing companies.

Then the FTC took the matter back to court seeking to prove the company had not acted in good faith "in meeting competitors' prices." The long climb up the legal ladder began all over, and the Supreme Court ruled in favor of the company again in 1958.

No matter how good its intentions, in this case, the FTC was proven wrong, and had it possessed the power to issue a "cease and desist" order, the oil company involved would have suffered a crippling competitive disadvantage in a major market for seventeen years, until the final verdict of not guilty was handed down by the courts.

Letter To Editor:

Having sold my interest in Herman's Food Store, I hereby wish to thank my many customers and friends for their patronage they have given me during the past 25 years that I have been in business in Spanaway.

I especially wish to thank those who have been 100% loyal the full 25 years, and who now have married sons and daughters who have chosen to do business with me.

It has also been a pleasure to have had the fine association and cooperation of other business firms and organizations of Spanaway. Needless to say I will miss all the friends I have made, and not to be overlooked is the Spanaway Volunteer Fire Department.

I wish the store's new owners a continuation of the success I enjoyed. Herman Fuchs

To the Editor:

Thank you so much for the splendid publicity your paper gave the Mavis McDonald Benefit Dance. The people who made the dance a success are so many in number it is impossible to thank each one individually, so we would like to take this opportunity to thank them at this time. Burning Permit Rules Outlined For All Areas

In answer to many requests for information, the Parkland Fire Department has again outlined the requirements for burning permits.

When a fire is confined in a suitable container in good condition, complete with screen and located in a safe location, a permit is not required.

However, in the event of extreme dry conditions all burning and permits may be suspended, the Fire Department explained.

All other outside burning such as trash, stumps, etc. will require a permit.

Permits can be obtained from the Parkland Fire Department at 130 South 114th or at the Fire Department nearest your home.

Residents are urged to use common sense in their outside burning. "If a trash barrel is overflowing and burning papers may be scattered by the wind a permit will be absolutely necessary," says the Fire Department.

The above information pertains to all areas, and residents are asked to contact the Fire Station in their area if more information is desired.

Waller Road News

A tropical paradise is the way the Jonathon O'Brien describe their surroundings in their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Weeks, Jr., by letter from them at American Samoa.

Mr. O'Brien is in charge of building a school, chapel and housing, during their two-year stay for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He is also teaching Arithmetic to a native class, while Mrs. O'Brien teaches reading.

The Island is mountainous and beautiful. The Natives all live in grass huts. The only housing has been built by the Church.

Bananas ripening outside the door are an ordinary sight. Swimming can be enjoyed all hours of the day. The moist hot climate is agreeing with both and they are enjoying their off hours.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Fogle during the past week were Mr. and Mrs. John McFarland, Miss Lorine McFarland and Mrs. Walter Waggoner of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Mrs. McFarland is Mr. Fogle's sister.

Bring your family to "Hawaiian Holidays", the Carnival sponsored by the Waller Road P.T.A. at the School Friday evening, April 13th. Fun for all!

Waller Road Grangers beamed with pride, as a record crowd of near 300 turned out for the first dance held in the new Hall. The old time music was enjoyed by all. "There will be more," says Mrs. Ray Looker, heading the Grange Ways and Means Committee.

Waller Road Garden Club members and friends will visit Canyon Road Garden Club April 18 at 7:30 p.m. to hear Mrs. Harry Uno of Seattle. She will demonstrate Japanese Flower arranging.

Some lunker trout season and cutthroat. Public access near Tillcum. BAY - Will be open after rehabilitation in 1961. Planted legal size rainbow this spring. Public access near Lakebay. BONNEY - Fly fishing. Good for rainbow and eastern brook. BOWMAN - planted with rainbow fingerlings. CARNEY - Rainbow to 13 inches. Fingerling plant

SILVER - Prospects good. Public access. SPANAWAY - Large-mouth bass and other spiny ray. Public access. SURPRISE - Bass, perch and catfish. Resort. TANWAX - Spiny ray prospects good. Public access. CHAMBERS - Good for spiny ray. (Thurston County). LONG - Good fishing for bass, perch. Public access. (Thurston County). KILLARNEY - Plants of bass and sunfish (King County).

As a part of Cancer Progress Year, the American Cancer Society is stressing the fact that about 700,000 cancer patients, diagnosed and treated in the last five years, will live to enter the ranks of those saved. This means that there are 1,800,000 Americans cured of cancer but 700,000 will not be formally listed as saved until they have been free of symptoms five years after treatment. Restlessness is discontent -- and discontent is the first necessity of progress.

Welcome . . .
TO OUR SCENIC STOREHOUSE OF POWER

. . . where power and recreation work together. Newest of Tacoma City Light's "scenic storehouses of power" will be Mayfield Lake, on the Cowlitz River. The 13-mile-long Mayfield Lake, to be formed this spring, normally will not vary more than two feet in elevation when the Cowlitz Dams are completed. This beautiful lake will provide a scenic setting for fishing, picnicking, camping, boating and swimming. It will help control floods and aid navigation. It will provide low-cost electricity that may be used in your home. Mayfield Lake, in Lewis County, soon will join Alder and Lake Cushman as another power and recreation development for a greater Washington State.

ALDER LAKE—Launch your own boat or rent one at Alder Lake, 30 miles south of Tacoma on the Mt. Rainier Highway. Called "the mirror of Mt. Rainier", Alder Lake is a rugged body of water 7 miles long. It is open for fishing and family fun all year 'round. Picnic tables and campfire facilities are available.

LAKE CUSHMAN—few Northwest lakes are blessed with the natural beauty surrounding Lake Cushman, just off the Olympic Highway north of Shelton. Cushman is rated as one of the best fishing lakes in the state. Lake Cushman Resort offers complete family accommodations, with modern all-electric cabins and a grand new lodge.

Circulation Record Plummer Tells Club

Special guests at the dinner meeting of the Parkland Kiwanis Club scheduled for Wednesday evening, April 11, were Mrs. Grace Plummer, Parkland Librarian and her assistant, Mrs. O'Malley.

They were invited in connection with the observance of National Library Week April 8-14. This year's theme is "Read -- and Watch Your World Grow". Mrs. Plummer was expected to give a short talk on Library Week, and to reveal that the Parkland Library, in achieving an increase of 7,500 books in circulation during 1961 over 1960, had set a record for Pierce County.

Other circulation increases of interest to Times Journal readers include the Midland Library with 2,400 and Orting Library with 1,500.

The Parkland Library also showed an increase of 1,000 books in circulation for January 1962 and 500 in February.

One of the projects of the Parkland Kiwanis Club for this year is to obtain new shelving for the library, and to add to the selection of adult reading material. All libraries will feature displays during the week, with emphasis on elementary school libraries.

Of the 15 school districts in Pierce County, only one meets state and national standards for school libraries.

Cardinal Wins Highest Award For HS Weeklies

Although the Franklin Pierce High School paper, the CARDINAL, had a staff of only seven last semester, it has received the highest honor bestowed on high school papers.

The National Scholastic Press Association has awarded the CARDINAL an "All American" rating for their first six issues.

Under the editorship of Judy McNickle, a total of 255 points over the 3500 needed to secure the rating was scored. The paper lost only 90 points throughout the judging, which covers every aspect of the paper.

An outstanding performance was given by sports editor Dana Rust. His coverage was, according to the judge, "extremely thorough and well done" and thus netted five bonus points.

Other members of the staff were Cheryl Layton, assistant editor; Lani Hansen, feature editor; Russell Nelson, business manager; Joyce Buss, ad sales manager; Lynette Creamer, reporter; and Mr. John Eyres, advisor.

This "All American" rating, received by only seven other papers in the United States, is the first such rating ever received by the Franklin Pierce paper.

Approximately 150 Brownie Scouts, Girl Scouts, leaders, assistant leaders, and committee members from Woodland and Firgrove schools and a guest troop from First Methodist Church in Puyallup attended a program presented by Brownie Scout Troop #484 at Firgrove School on April 3rd from 4-5 p.m. Group #1 presented the colors and Group #2 pantomimed the Brownie story. Scenery was painted by the Brownies. Patrol #1 gave two folk dance numbers and each girl made their apron costume. The audience was led in community singing by Mrs. Charles Burgmeier, who also presented Mesdames Watson, McWhartin, G. Olson and Conforth with lovely yellow corsages. These ladies have spent many hours in helping to prepare the program. Refreshments were served.

Girl Scout Troop #225 was honored on Tuesday, March 27 when Mrs. Earl Bradford of Collins Road demonstrated and served tea and cookies and candy to the girls in Japanese fashion.

Mrs. Robert Walterson of Rt. 2, Box 754 has recently organized a Jr. High Girl Scout Troop that meets each Thursday after school in the home of the leader. Members include Becky Albice, Valorie Beebe, Vickie Bjornstad, Sue Burmeier, Evelyn Fosdick, Renee Endsly, Elaine McWharten, Karen Otto, Renae Pearson and Judy Walterson.

It is possible today to insure against almost anything within reason. You can insure yourself against home accidents, theft, automobile injuries, life, fire, health, and business risks.

The law covering insurance is vast. Yet basically your protection rests on the same simple elements of any contract.

1. Offer and acceptance: You must offer to pay for the insurance, and the company must accept you as a proper risk.

2. A "consideration": The premium you pay in return for which the company gives you certain protection.

3. A lawful purpose: You cannot insure an unlawful activity. You may insure yourself against burglary, but a burglar cannot take out a policy to insure his success.

4. Competency: The parties to an insurance contract must be "competent" to enter it. And, as a rule, anyone who can enter any other contract can enter an insurance contract.

5. A special rule: You must have an "insurable interest." You cannot take out fire insurance on some old house down the street that you think will go up in smoke. That is, you cannot insure it unless you have some interest in it, such as a mortgage or an option or purchase. Nor can you insure the life of just anyone. You can only insure somebody whose life means something to you -- a close relative, a breadwinner, a partner, or the like.

You can insure your house against loss by fire, but you cannot take out several policies with different companies which total much more than the true value of your house and expect to collect the full amount on all of these policies in case of a fire.

The theory behind insurance is to protect you from loss, not to enable you to make a profit.

Tommy, an eleven year old newsboy, was delivering his Sunday papers. In delivering the paper to Mr. Jones, a new customer, he had been instructed to leave the paper inside the rear door rather than on the front steps.

When he came to Mr. Jones' house, Tommy walked around to the back yard. Just as he was about to step onto the back porch, the Jones' dog jumped on him, knocked him down, and bit him. Tommy kicked the dog, and it bit him again. Then, after he kicked it a second time, the dog ran away.

Tommy and his parents sued Mr. Jones for the injuries caused by the dog. Jones denied any responsibility. He said that it was Tommy's own fault for kicking the provoking dog. He also said that since Tommy was in Jones' back yard, he should have been on guard for the dog.

Can Mr. Jones be held responsible for the injuries caused by his dog's attack on the newsboy?

Yes, said the court. Tommy had every right to be in Mr. Jones' back yard. He had been instructed to leave the paper inside the rear door. Also, the dog's actions were without any apparent provocation since Tommy had not kicked it until after he had been knocked down and bitten.

The court ruled that Tommy's kicking of the dog did not provoke the dog, but was in self-defense to ward off the attack. The owner or keeper of any dog which causes injury to any person is liable to such injured person for all damages so done, even though the dog had never bitten anyone before. Mr. Jones was held liable.

Pigs Need Artificial Heat

A newborn pig has no hair nor the most control and needs special heat protection, George Purcell, county Extension agent, advises.

The pig's body temperature will follow that of the building unless supplemental heat is supplied. One of the oldest and easiest ways to supply heat at farrowing is to use infrared heat lamps, Purcell said.

He observed a few simple safety rules in the use of these lamps which will keep down costs and insure safety.

Infrared lamps should always be used with porcelain sockets. The bulb base gets too hot for rubber, bakelite or brass with paper insulation. In addition, brass sockets can cause severe shocks. The lamps should be well supported, preferably on a chain, for easy height adjustment and rugged suspension. They should never be closer to the pigs than 12 inches.

One can further supplement these safety precautions by planning the installation. An electric outlet can be installed at a uniform height over every point of use.

All lamp sets can then be the same length and the cords so short they can't be plugged in and lie in the litter at the same time.

Clean-Up Spray

Recently a blueberry grower asked that I come out and look over his planting in order to give him a spray recommendation to be applied at this time of year.

I found that some of the older wood had accumulated a greenish and gray growth covering and in some cases this extended on to the new wood or twigs. This growth was a combination of algae, lichens and moss. I suggested that he first go through the field pruning out the older wood that was not needed and which in most cases was affected with this growth. This pruning should be done immediately as the spray application to control and eradicate this moss and algae must be applied rather soon and before the buds expand.

A dormant spray still offers the cheapest and most effective control for this trouble and also it includes certain pests.

The lamps should be well supported, preferably on a chain, for easy height adjustment and rugged suspension. They should never be closer to the pigs than 12 inches.

One can further supplement these safety precautions by planning the installation. An electric outlet can be installed at a uniform height over every point of use.

All lamp sets can then be the same length and the cords so short they can't be plugged in and lie in the litter at the same time.

To top off the mint sale, the girls made a television appearance on Channel 13's "Penny and Her Pals".
