Rural Route Occupant or Boxholder Postmaster: If unable to deliver, return postage is guaranteed on addressed papers.

JOHN F. STAHL, internationally known hiker, is given the hospitality of the Spanaway Justice of the Peace Delbert Bresemann, as Spanaway Post Office staff looks on. From Stahl's right are Miss Helen Young, Postmistress; Mrs. Walter Feddersen and Mrs. Don McLellan. Stahl stayed overnight in Spanaway enroute to the Seattle World's Fair. He had hiked from San Francisco. A retired postal employee, he looks on hiking as a wonderful health builder. He has hiked more than 18,000 miles since being retired for a disability. He will reach Seattle on his 80th birthday.

PARKLAND FAMILY GOING TO EUROPE — The Walter C. Schnackenberg, 1210 So. Wheeler, will leave August 21 on a one year study and travel trip to Europe. Dr. Schnackenberg, who is professor of history at Pacific Lutheran University, has received grants and scholarships to do study and research. Pictured at their home, the family includes: left to right, Dr. Schnackenberg, Mrs. Schnackenberg, Dikka, Ann and Mary. The family dog, Shep, is a center of attention. Ann and Mary will be students at the University of Paris during the school year. —Photo by Richards Studio

Football Meet At Gonyea Park Need Bantams

There will be an open meeting August 11, Saturday at Gonyea Park at 10 a.m. for boys interested in playing football or basketball this fall. Boys interested in the football Bantam League, 13 year-olds and under, 120 pounds or less, and 14-year-olds weighing 110 lbs. or less (10 lb. waiver) are especially invited to be at this meeting. Sponsored by the Parkland Babe Ruth Boosters, Inc. the teams will have their approved equipment furnished --- helmet, shoulder pads and padded pants. All boys will be required to furnish their own shoes and pay an insurance fee of $2.50 annually.

Schnackenberg Family To Begin European Tour

One year of study and travel in Europe lies ahead for the Walter C. Schnackenberg family of Parkland. Dr. Schnackenberg, who is professor of history at Pacific Lutheran University, his wife, and four daughters will leave Tacoma August 21. They will drive to New York and then sail for Southampton, England, Sept. 1 on the S. S. America. The PLU professor, who will be on a sabbatical leave from the university, has received grants from the Media Foundation and the Board of College Education of the American Lutheran Church for post June. He will study the doctrinal research in Europe. He will study the Evangelical Academy movement which is prominent in West Germany, the low countries and Scotland. After travel in England, the family will go to Stuttgart, Germany, which will be their headquarters during the year. The two youngest daughters -- Gjertrud, 8, and Dikka, 11 will attend school there. A most interesting year is in store for the two oldest daughters -- Ann, 20, who has just finished her sophomore year at PLU; and Mary, 18, who was graduated from Franklin Pierce High School last June. They will live in Mont Reuil, a suburb of Paris, and will attend the University of Paris. They received notification of acceptance as students there just recently. They will be living in an apartment near Prof. and Mrs. Charles Haydon, PLU language teacher who is working on his doctorate at the U. of Paris and his wife. The Schnackenbergs expect to return to their Parkland home next August.

Juniors Plan Horse Show For Sunday

The Parkland Junior Riding Club will hold its annual zone approved horse show Sunday, August 12, at the Parkland Rodeo Grounds, 138th and South J Streets, with classes starting at 8:30 a.m. The opening class will be a trail horse class, followed by Equitation in three age groups for both English and Western riders. There will be drill competition with teams trying for high state points. During the afternoon show, which opens at 12:30 with a grand entry, the following classes will be held: novice jumping, western pairs, western pleasure horse, both junior and senior, English pleasure, stock horse reining, scurry by pairs, pole bending, individual, barrel reining and bareback relay. The junior committee for this show consists of Linda Sparkman, Val Clarkston and Ed Hauser. The performance judge is Bob Evans of Bremerton, while the games judge is Burdette Sterling of Tacoma. The well known Worthy Hecht will do the honors as announcer.

NMA In Tacoma For First Time; Compete At PLU

The 1962 version of the National Music Association competitive events in guitar and accordion bands will have an above average share of Northwest entries for its initial appearance in Tacoma, and the largest group of total entries in years. Many of the entries are from California, Utah, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington. The event, which opened yesterday (Wednesday) and concludes on Saturday, is being held at Pacific Lutheran University, with the big bands performing August 11 in East veld Auditorium. The Queen's Ball is a event of Friday night, when the current queen, Donna Marie Schroeder will step down for the new monarch. Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schroeder of Tacoma. Saturday night there will be a banquet and awarding of trophies at the Winthrop Hotel. Hats In The Ring Tony Roesli, a Republican candidate for Pierce County Assessor, advises that he is not affiliated with any group that expects benefits at the expense of other segments of society. He states he is not sponsored by any board, committee, or association and has made no commitments to anyone; is not a member of any subversive organization; has personally paid his filing fee; and also is conducting his campaign at his own expense without a campaign manager and is accepting no donations or contributions. Tony Roesli also states that he is under no one's domination, is absolutely independent of any tieups, and will be one who can administer the office of Pierce County Assessor impartially and to the best interests of all the people. In office, Tony Roesli proposes to pursue a policy in which properties of equal value shall be assessed equally. He affirms that he also believes the greatest detriment to a sound fiscal policy and stable economy is inflation, and the time has come for a roll-back in expenditures from the top -- down. In accordance with this policy, he promises that when he takes office he will return 25% of his salary, voluntarily, to the Pierce County Treasurer, as proof he believes in reducing the cost of County government, and hopes others elected will do likewise.

NEW EQUIPMENT is demonstrated at the Parkland Cooperative Nursery School by the teacher, Mrs. Charles Eccles. Watching with interest are Jill Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Nelson; David Thorpe, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Thorpe, and Gordon Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cooper. Some of the folding shelves, as well as a portion of the playschool kitchen items, such as hutch, refrigerator, stove and sink can be seen. The items, all remarkably life like, and including real knobs, doors that open and faucets, were constructed by some of the fathers whose children will be enrolled in the nursery school. Applications are still being taken for classes, and further information can be had by calling Mrs. Richard Marcelle at LE 1-2593.

Pioneers' Picnic Set August 16th

The Sons and Daughters of the Pioneers of Parkland will hold their second annual reunion at Little Spanaway Lake, just south of the Military Road entrance, on Thursday, August 16th, 2 p.m. They hope especially to have representatives of the Mahon, Smith, Wilson, Sales and Rigney families; the real first pioneers of these parts. The dinner will be pot luck. Bring your favorite food, cup, plate and silver. Coffee, cream and sugar will be furnished. For further information call Oliver Harstad, GR 2-5457 or Stanley Rosso, LE 1-0748

Playgrounds Plan For Season's End

Farewells and goodbyes are being heard on local playgrounds as the summer season draws to a close. James Sales has already ceased operation because of the construction and re-seeding that is being done on and about the school grounds. However, the other play areas still have another week and one half to go, and numerous exciting and interesting events have been scheduled to make the last days as full of fun as the first. A Pirate Day and Treasure Hunt is to be held. Pirate costumes will brighten the playgrounds and the day's highlight is to be a treasure hunt (the treasure to remain a secret until its discovered). Prize certificates are to be awarded the most spectacular and realistic costumes. The playground Junior Leaders are to go on a special picnic. These youngsters fulfilled requirements to join this rather select group of playground helpers by assisting in the operation of the program through leading games, checking equipment, cleaning the grounds, and general good conduct. Another scheduled event is a Surprise Contest Day during which a new contest will be held each hour.

Ruby, Sebo Close Store

Carroll Ruby and Robert Sebo, proprietors of the Parkland Big Value store, announced this week that the store will be closed permanently as of the close of business on Saturday of this week. The partners, in closing out the store which they have operated for more than two years, expressed their thanks to all their loyal customers. Future plans for the two are indefinite as yet, they said, but they will continue to operate their store at North 25th and Alder streets in Tacoma. The partners had taken over the lease on the former Kitchen's Store a little more than two years ago.

Lacamas Dance

Lacamas Community Fair Dance will be held this Saturday night, August 11 at 9 until 2 a.m. Music will be furnished by Bitner's. There will be a door prize, outdoor lawn table with attached bench. Refreshments will be served. Donations of $1 will be accepted with the proceeds going toward the Lacamas Fair

Bargain Basket Air Lift Draws 37 Passengers

Little League

Neil McLean

Opinions voiced on Little League Baseball and other sports recently by Tom Cross, of the Metropolitan Park Board, echo my sentiments regarding the scope of the program. It is my feeling that state, regional and national titles for these boys puts too much emphasis on winning in a program which would be tremendous for these boys if kept to a county or area scope. Organized baseball, football, basketball and the other sports promoted in these programs is good for the youngsters. It gives them activity they need. It focusses their attention in a good direction, it gives them a goal to aim for (not necessarily to win but to come up with a good team effort) and it teaches them that the individual cannot stand alone all the time. I can recall our neighborhood gang organizing a team, with no umpires, no uniforms, borrowed equipment (and some of the borrowing would be frowned on today). Our schedule consisted of challenges to the 'B' street gang or the Southsiders, or the West-there should be the interest of the adults involved. Locally, there is a lot of interest. Apparently in every quarter except one. Some of the officiating has been questioned by parents, coaches and other team leaders, not on the basis of the normal complaint against umpires, but because they have little or no interest in the very game they are supposed to be running. Most of the officials assigned to the various meagurs in this area are competent, interested men, who give their time and get little more than gas mileage to follow the teams and umpire the games. One or two umpires recently have taken much of the flavor out of the game for the boys, not because of 'bad' calls, but because they didn't know the rules and apparently weren't interested in learning enough about the game to give the boys a fair chance to win or lose. If we are going to have these programs, on a local or a national basis, then it is up to us to give the boys the best that we can. Our interest in them is proved by our attitude.

A Sale with a Reason...and Not Just an Excuse...

IT'S A BITTER PILL TO SWALLOW! But Here's the Low-Down. It nearly breaks our hearts to see our huge stocks of Quality Merchandise GO ON SALE at the ridiculously low prices you see advertised here!... But there's not much we can do about it for we have a serious inventory problem. WE'RE OVERSTOCKED with far too much merchandise for a store our size. We're NOT having financial difficulties—NOT TRYING TO RAISE cash—NOR are we in distress. We simply must dump HUGE Surplus Stocks at any cost to adjust our inventory. We have altogether too much of everything with a serious overstocked condition that is not healthy for any business. We're an aggressive firm, maintaining an enviable reputation and selling only the top brand name lines. But—like all well-rated firms there comes a time when mistakes occur and adjustments are in order. That's why profit is not the object of this sale. DUMPING STOCKS—REDUCING INVENTORY and stimulating business is OUR ONLY REASON for this sudden and drastic move. We consider it good business to take our losses now—swallow our pride and admit our mistakes. Nothing wrong in that—is there? That's why we have ripped, cut and slashed prices in every department—why you can save 20%, 30%—yes, even 50%. So—come shed a tear with us while we bury our mistakes and take our losses.

a - Wondering and a - Wandering

It's a funny thing how many times during life you will meet a person or group of people who can't seem to resist cutting off their nose to spite their face. Last week I spent a couple of days in an Oregon vacation spot and found this to be the case on a mass basis. I'll not name the town because the head of the CC there is aware of the problem and I was treated royally by all and certainly do not wish to add to their problem however I'll see that this gets to them with the thought that perhaps it can help.

This entire community which we shall call Xville is lagging about fifty percent behind this year in gross tourist business. There are those in town who vehemently blame the World's Fair while others tend to place the blame equally between the fair and the weather.

This town should be heeding the old advice to advertise when business is bad but each merchant retreats into his shell waiting for things to improve and in the meantime cutting advertising to the bone to conserve. This philosophy is the same as starving the horse so he'll pull a bigger load.

The association in Xville further is adamant in holding to their peak seasonal prices. Many motel operators openly express the desire to let their units remain empty rather than lower the rates.

All readily admit that each day they turn away enough families to fill all units merely because the people seeking lodging openly admit that they can't afford the high rates.

Food prices in Xville's restaurants are the highest I have encountered anywhere. Once again operators have refused to lower prices to a reasonable figure to entice trade. Consequently there is no trouble at all in finding a booth or a table at any of the many restaurants.

Forest Service Improving Picnic Areas

Expenditure of $1,141,200 for campground and picnic area improvement and construction is scheduled on the National Forests of the Pacific Northwest Region of the U.S. Forest Service this summer, according to J. Herbert Stone, Regional Forester.

The improvement and construction work continues the work begun under the "Operation Outdoors" program which started in 1958 and ended this year. The work is designed to provide more and better recreation facilities in the National Forests to meet the growing demand for outdoor recreation, Stone said.

The $1,141,200 in construction and improvement funds projected for use this year is about $100,000 more than the amount spent in 1961, and is more than three times the amount available five years ago.

Recreation visits to the National Forests of the region last year totaled 11.3 million. This represents a three-fold increase in 10 years. "Studies indicate that the growing population and increasing demand for outdoor recreation in the next decade will result in an even greater use of and need for facilities," Stone emphasized.

An intensive, region-wide survey and study has been completed to provide information about recreation sites and opportunities for outdoor recreation developments on the National Forests. From this information the Forest Service is developing long-range recreation management plans, which include anticipation of future needs for developing facilities to meet the varied needs of the greatest number of persons.

The Pacific Northwest Region comprises all the National Forest lands in Oregon, most of those in Washington, and a small portion of those in northern California. Last summer 886 camp and picnic grounds, with a total of 10,412 family units, were maintained in the 20 National Forests of the region.

By states the figures were: Oregon 551 areas with 6,314 units; Washington 332 areas with 4,800 units; California 6 areas with 16 units.

The $1,141,200, for improvements and construction this year does not represent the total recreation program budget for the region.

Roy News

About 80 percent of the total needed for the support for special police supervision of the fire reservoir adjacent to the Roy park has been underwritten. Mr. Charles Dodge has been deputized to maintain order and has handled several incidents efficiently. Attention is again called to the fact that no life guard services are provided at this swimming facility, which is open to the public through the courtesy of the Roy Fire Department.

Night Shade Menace Looms
 Lurking in the summer flowers brought on by April showers is a menace of vital concern to the people of Tacoma and Pierce County. Wood Nightshade (Salanum Dulcicomana) or as it is often called, Deadly Nightshade has caused more concern in this area than any other wild plant.

The berries ripen at the same time as blackberries and may be picked by mistake with blackberries. Although Nightshade is most common in the eastern and north central states the plant grows everywhere in this area. As it cannot be destroyed altogether from this area, the Tacoma -Pierce County Health Department Sanitation Division suggests:
 1. Learn what the plant looks like - take a sample of the suspected plant, if in doubt, to the Sanitation Division.
 2. Destroy the plant from your property, especially in the areas where small children may play or wander. This must be done often through the summer as the plant can grow back. Deadly Nightshade may be handled safely to discard the remains of the plant out of the reach of children.
 3. Caution small children about the hazard of eating unknown wild plants and berries.
 4. Get the child to a doctor if you suspect Deadly Nightshade berries have been eaten.

The health department reports cases where older children have eaten the berries on a bet or on a dare. If the berries are swallowed, the chemical reaction which follows usually causes illness, vomiting, and elimination of the poison. The patient usually recovers. However if anyone swallows the berries, call the family doctor at once or check with the Poison Information Center.
