Well, here I am in the land of sugar, pineapple, shape women and knobby kneed men. I have put off writing this column as long as possible, hoping that inspiration would strike, but no such luck, so will make this article one of those letters from me to you affairs.

I am here in Hawaii to do a story on Hawaiian aviation for the Northwest Flyer. I came over on the "Fly now--Pay later or be sued plan", and since this is supposed to be "The Most", I brought along my ever lovin' frau to soak up some of the sun that is going to waste around here. She sure did, too. Tonight she looks like a Maine lobster with a sun stroke.

So far I have just toured the island picking up a little local gossip and atmosphere to go along with the story I am to write. Tomorrow I get down to work, or rather up to work, as I will be flying around the island chain seeking what makes things tick.

Since I was only here for one day during the war, I have enjoyed myself so far, as it is all new to me. I have come to the conclusion that Hawaii is the melting pot of the world's humanity. I pity the southern segregationist that ever makes a trip down here. Color matters not an iota to the residents of Hawaii. I think one of the most striking examples of that brought to mind so far was on the way in from the airport tonight. I looked down the road and saw four young teenage girls walking along the side of the road. As I caught up with them it was obvious that each was of a different nationality. Locked arm in arm they walked along, each enjoying the friendship of their companions oblivious to the fact that one girl was blonde and fair as any Norse lass, another of the yellow race, another an olive skinned Hawaiian or Tahitian, and the fourth girl was an ebony-colored beauty. On these islands friendship is all that matters, and the children are brought up to believe that. It will take a lot of talking to convince me that they

I can't say that I feel like getting on a soap box to ballyhoo the attractions of Hawaii. Like any other tropic isle, the sun and surf is the greatest come-on; and with it go all the usual carnival type things. A large part of the island's income is from tourists, and consequently they have gone to extremes to capture each and every silver dollar they can, and justly so. If you are a sun worshipper and like to lay on the beach, swim a little and bend your elbow to your heart's desire, this is the place. If sunning it and night clubbing it are not for you, then neither is Hawaii. To give you a rough idea, I have been here three days now and I dare say I could act as your guide and show you all the points of interest on this island in an equal length of time. Beyond that . . . sun, eat and drink. I for one am grateful that I have a job to do here and am not faced with countless hours to while away doing nothing.

To give Hawaii its full due, I must say that the flowers, trees and foliage here surpass any I've seen. Regardless as to whether a person is a nature lover or not, he will be taken in by the beauty of the

If you ever plan on visiting Hawaii, here are a few tips that wouldn't win me any plaque from the C of C; but as I see it, it's the best way to see the mostest, eat the mostest and pay the leastest. Get your hotel reservations made in advance. If you write to enough places over here you will find accommodations to fit your budget. Once here, rent a Jeep for transportation on the weekly rate of $9.00 per day and forget about the guided tours. With the Jeep you can see all. Sate your yearning for knowledge of the islands by asking anyone what's foremost in your mind. People here are more than willing to give you any information you ask for. When you're hungry, crank up and get off the "strip". You'll find excellent food in the regular shopping centers at equal or less than you're used to paying at home. If you are going out to some of the well ballyhooed places call first and ask them to give you a run down on the menu. That way you won't have to embarrass your pocket-

As a clincher on the above, let me say it can happen to the unwary. Last night Dolores and I went out to dinner with another Parkland couple. We walked into a fancy looking place and sat down. By the time we had gone through the preliminaries and were too well established to leave, we discovered we had hit one of the tourist traps and were about to be relieved of a few more of Uncle's silvers than we had expected. When the waiter handed me the menu I can't say that I was overcome with joy to find that the cheapest item on it was $6.00 per person. After they had revived me I proceeded to eat a lobster thermodore that I saw duplicated today in another part of the island for $1.85.

All I can say is that before you hock your soul to visit Hawaii, think it over and don't give too much thought to what others who have been here say. There are more miserable, disappointed, sunburned people per square block here at Wakikii beach tonight than in any other place in the country, yet many of them will spend hours telling others what a wonderful time they have had, once home.

It's true, many people come here and enjoy every minute of it, but after talking to countless visitors these past few days, I feel sure they are in the

You might be interested in hearing what are some of the ideas of the Pierce County Rur-Suburban Council Youth Study Committee. This group has studied and recommended a youth residential school be established near here where wayward boys might be placed where they would go to school including, perhaps, vocational training) and also taught how to work and do assigned work. Study is continuing on various other subjects before written recommendations are made to the ural-Suburban Council. Some of these subjects include: Should obscene literature be banned with more laws and/or more law enforcement? The "for opinions" — "The reasons should be obvious" and "Some people are only in favor of laws "if the law applies to the other guy." The "vs opinions" -"Why shouldn't a publisher have the right to publish what he wants to publish," "More laws would infringe on people's rights to read what they wish." more laws you have, the less 'liberty you have.''

Still other subjects involve education - particularly these random opinions: - "We need youth camps like the old Civilian Conservation Corp. This would give boys jobs, improve their education, expedite conservation practices and would pay its own way to a great extent.

ARE YOU TAKING ADVANTAGE OF NBW'S DAILY INTEREST ON SAVINGS?

Here's what you get under National Bank of Washington's liberal new method of paying interest on your savings:

Every deposit earns daily interest. Your money begins to earn interest the day you deposit it, and keeps earning right up to the day you withdraw it. Bank interest now compounded and paid quarterly.

Every three months—twice as often as before—interest will be credited to your account, and it, too, will begin earning interest right away.

Highest bank rate the law allows.

Your money works harder, earns more than ever before. Start saving today. Stop in at your nearest Branch of National Bank of Washington, and ask for full information.

By George Purcell Recent reports or roaming dogs killing sheep should remind dog owners that local laws make these owenrs liable for damages done. The law plainly states those dogs may be killed if they are either molesting sheep or killing them.

Several nights ago a band of free roaming dogs killed several sheep owned by a 4-H boy in the sheep's regular pasture in the woodland area. Other similar events have happened recently in the Spanaway, Elgewood, and Sumner areas. If the dog owners suddenly find themselves confronted with a court order to pay $50 to $100 in damages, they may decide to keep their dogs closer to home.

By Jack T. Crawford Pat Barton of the Buckley 4-H Cattlers copped top honors at the 4-H dairy judging tour held this last Thursday, June 22. Pat's score was 499.2 out of a possible 600 points.

Forty-four Pierce County 4-Hers judged six classes of dairy animals on the tour.

Other 4-H'ers in the top ten were: Mary Temus, Pam Vollcrecht, Allan Moulden, Judy Graves, Colleen Barton, Dennis Schweikl, Bill Hammar, Terry Dieringer, and Beryl Haugen.

Firemen Attend State Convo

The annual conference of the Washington State Firemen's Association and the Washington State Association of Fire Chiefs was held last week in the Tri-Cities, Richland, Pasco and Kennewick. Attending from Midland were Mr. and Mrs. David McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Roley, Mr. and Mrs. Wiliam Shanahan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wiersma, and Fred McPherson.

The firemen attended fire schools consisting of radio procedure, sprinkler operations, portable pumping, drafting, pumper tanker operations, and hydrant operations. There were 431 firemen taking part in the various drills. Especially interesting was an address given by Louis B. Bruno, Superintendent of Public Instruction in the State of Washington.

Our district is especially honored by having our Fire Chief, David McPherson, elected as Vice President of the Washington State Firemen's Association for the coming year. He has been a board member for several years.

The firemen's wives enjoyed a boat trip down the river to McNary Dam, and also a lunchcon and style show. The hospitality shown the
