Mailboxes, Rural Landmark, Outnumbering Farms, Farmers

One of the most rapidly multiplying items on the American scene is the Rural Mail Box.

Time was when these receptacles flourished only in barbed wire and corn-crib country. It was common practice to anchor them to the roadside milk stand and their contents ran heavily to seed catalogues and farmer's journals.

Today, there are fewer farms and farmers, but more rural mail boxes than ever. About 25,000 of them are served by the Tacoma Post Office, according to Postmaster John P. McMonagle.

A good country style mail box made of aluminum or galvanized iron will outlive its owner with proper care and maintenance, the Postmaster said. His office still serves many boxes originally erected in the 1920's, McMonagle reported.

This hardy species of 'Suburbanus Americanus' is not without its enemies, however. Five of them listed by postal officials are:

1. Vandals largely of the juvenile variety to whom every night is Halloween. Mail boxes are
2. Street improvements. When roads are widened or drainage ditches installed, the mail-box is a frequent casualty. Most contractors try to replace them when the job is done, but a few always escape attention.
3. Hunters. Despite all efforts to educate the red-hat brigade, there is always the miscreant who must test his marksmanship on a ready target -- the mail box.
4. The highly mobile suburbanite. This fellow never stays at one address long enough to properly designate his mail box. He just scratches his name on it with a pencil or chalk right below that of the previous tenants.
5. The householder who is allergic to paintbrushes, shovels, hammers and all other instruments of labor. His mail box will identify him.

To combat these enemies which threaten the natural life expectancy of the rural mail box, Rural Mail Box Improvement Week is proclaimed during May of each year.

In many communities, 4H Clubs and Future Farmers go all out to support this effort. Mr. McMonagle will appreciate any support they give the local campaign, but feels the greatest effort is needed in such suburbs as Lakewood, University Place and Parkland.

He asks every householder who receives his mail in a curb-side box to take a good look at his receptacle during Mail Box Improvement Week. The Postmaster sees no reason why a mail box should detract from the appearance of a home. A well-anchored freshly-painted mail box with the owner's name and address proudly inscribed on its side can do much to add to the attractiveness of a home and to express country style hospitality.

1200 Boy Scouts Attend Week End Camporees

The weatherman was quite cooperative for the Boy Scout camporees held this past weekend involving some 1200 boys from the surrounding areas.

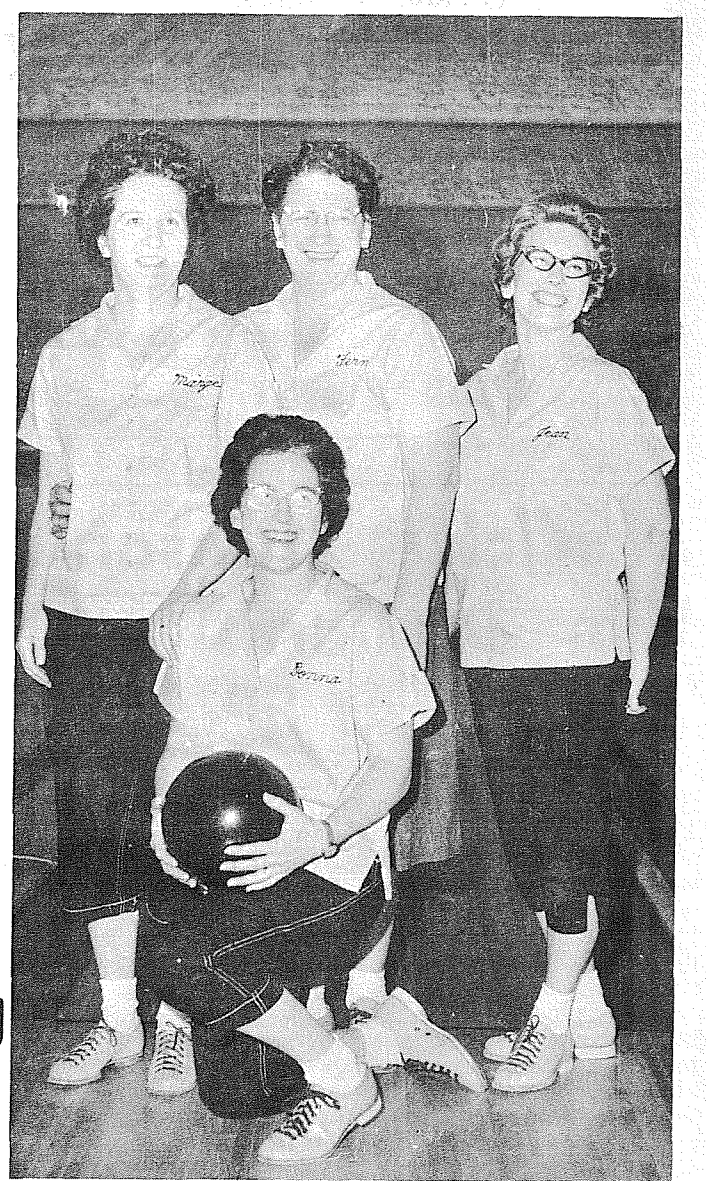

Troop 92, of Collins, won the high score award in the Southeast Camporee at Ft. Lewis, competing with 21 troops for the honor.

A total of 302 boys attended the Fort Lewis event, with William J. Holmes as the Camp Director. He was aided by 40 scoutmasters and committeemen.

At nearby McChord in the Holiday Park picnic ground the Lincoln Lakes District camporee attracted 23 troops and 478 boys.

Part of their scoring included a 1-1/4 mile hike with full pack. Troop 29 won the Scout Participation Spirit Award, and Troop 59 won the President's ribbon.

Twenty explorer scouts attended the meet, as well as 79 adults, including the staff.

TROPHY TRUNDLERS—Bowling for the Striker's League at Pacific Lanes, this quartet won the championship for 1961-62 season and received the first place trophy. The girls are sponsored by Joe and Harry's Meat Market. Standing, from left: Marge Molby, Fern Seaman, Jean Hillstead. Kneeling is Donna Baskett.

Do you think the adoption did cancel the father's obligation to pay support money ordered in the divorce? The court held the decree of adoption did cancel the father's obligation to pay support money decreed in the divorce.

In the absence of a specific agreement by the natural parent to continue to contribute to the child's support after adoption, the parent's obligation to contribute to the child's support ends when the order of adoption is entered.

Laurence J. Evoy, manager of the Pierce County Medical Bureau, reported the bureau will take applications for the protective plan between June 1 and July 15, with coverage to become effective August 1.

In the case of married couples, Evoy explained, it is not necessary for both man and wife to have reached 65 for both to be covered by the program. If either spouse is 65 or over, both are eligible for coverage, he said.

a - Wondering and a - Wandering

Well, I see that the personal little note I scribbled on the bottom of my column last week for the crew made the scene in the paper.

I boarded a Delta Astrojet at San Francisco and was assigned a window seat. Once unwrapped from my cotton-picking camera, typewriter an assorted jazz that can't be checked, I sat down to watch other passengers board the plane.

The object of the big send off turned out to be a two star general that seemed to have mentally placed another three stars on his shoulders.

He held a brief case either on his lap or lay it at his feet throughout the trip. It had an overly big, official looking, lock on it and I surmised that within lay the key to all JFK's problems of state, however, when the general opened it once to peek furtively therein I managed to focus in on the contents likewise and all I could see was a nice assortment of girlie books.

Having spent my stint in the service at a grade somewhere in the yardbird class the General was beginning to get under my hide, but good, by the time we landed at Dallas and I was about ready to shake hands with myself for what I considered superb self-control in keeping my yap shut and my hands off.

As the passengers started filing off the plane the general kept his seat apparently waiting for some sort of special invitation to get his rear in gear.

He held us both up while he adjusted his tie, and slicked back his hair. I managed to slip by him and stopped just past the bottom of the stairs to watch the general march triumphantly down the stairs, grinning like a jackass eating thistles, and waiting for the camera to start grinding.

I have never witnessed such a deflation of obvious ego in my entire life. Perhaps the experience will make a man out of the general or at least awaken him to the fact that he is not one of God's chosen children.

I can't help but wonder what he thought the next day when the picture of the little Chinese girl walking off the plane was spread on the front page of the Dallas dailies and all you could see of the general in the picture was the brim of his hat.

It turned out that the object of their attention was the little Chinese girl, who was making the trek to Dallas for a heart operation, with her trip being sponsored by a local civic group.

3,000 Grangers Expected To Attend 73rd Annual Session At Bellingham

Nearly 3,000 Grange delegates and visitors will attend the 73rd annual session of the Washington State Grange at Bellingham June 11 to 15, State Master A. Lars Nelson predicted today.

Guest speakers will include U.S. Senator Warren G. Magnuson, Governor Albert D. Rosellini, Speaker John L. O'Brien, Washington State Legislature, and Director of Agriculture Joe Dwyer. W. Ballantine Henley of Los Angeles, mem-

JUDGED THE BEST at growing the 'chin spinach' at the Round-Up Dance Saturday night, Al LeBlanc proudly shows off his trophy and the check which is part of the top prize. He will take a trip to Westport salmon fishing as the top prize in this year's contest.

Summit Lad Tops In Bat-Boy Contest

Allan Cail has been chosen as one of the top ten boys that qualified for the Shop - Rite Tacoma Giants Bat-boy contest.

The boys were each asked to compose an essay on the subject of why they would enjoy being a Giants bat-boy and from the essay and a personal interview by three professional men of the Tacoma area the top ten boys were selected.

The honors were given to the boys at the Saturday game with Hawaii at Cheney Stadium.

Allan received a bat and ball signed by all of the Tacoma players and a toy doll, a replica of one of the Giant men.

Congratulations on a fine job, Allan!

The Little League of the Summit Area has already come into full swing with the organization of two additional teams. A total of eight teams are awaiting the opening of the season. They are as follows: The Summit Rebels coached by Dick Smith, The Summit Youth Center Yankees coached by John Greco, The C. A. Colts coached by Mr. Spencer, The C. A. Thunderbirds coached by Frank Almont, The Summit View Merchants coached by Mike Cail, The Cope's Giants coached by Eugene Burk, The C. A. Termites coached by Francis Luhtala and The Twisters coached by Dave Hammar.

The seasons games will begin the last week of school and continue through most of the summer.

A new team to the League this year is the Cope's Giants, being sponsored by Cope's Auto Wrecking Co. in the area.

Bob Ward is also to be thanked for his past two years as a team coach with the League, and is this year giving all of his team's uniforms and equipment to the Summit Youth Center Yankees.

A new back stop is being built on the school grounds for the League's use and the following men are to be thanked for their contributing work on it; Serle Hart, Mike Cail and Toby Torbet.

The League wishes to thank the people of the area for their wonderful support in the past years and would encourage all interested in contributing this year to do so. Because of the addition of the two new teams the League has found itself shy of the needed amount of money to equip their teams. Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Dick Smith at TH 5-4563

Charles Wright Announces Dates For Entry Tests

The Charles Wright Academy announced that new students will be tested for admission on the following dates: June 9th, July 14th and August 18th.

The testing is conducted in the Upper School building at the Academy. Tests for admission to Grades IV - XI begin at 9:30 a.m. and require approximately three hours.

Edgar L. Sanford, headmaster, advises parents who are interested in entering new students to make arrangements with the school as soon as possible since several classes are at near capacity and the school is committed to a policy of limiting the number of students in each group. Entrance to the Academy is based on a student's academic potential and character. Arrangements for entering students can be made by calling the academy at SKYline 2-3571.

Fire Warning Systems Now At Low Cost

Low cost, simply operated complete home fire alarm warning systems are now available at the Northwest Signal Company, 9900 Lexington Ave., S. W. Tacoma.

Multiple horns and systems may be installed with complete freedom in the location of components so that both controls and signals may be placed where they will be most effective and efficient.

Completely adaptable, inherently simple, the economy of Standard systems are arrived at by working from basic standard components which may be used in many combinations.

Standard Automatic Fire Detectors are listed by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., U.S.A. and by Underwriters' Laboratories of Canada, Inc., and both authorities permit up to 1,500 feet of tubing in one system.

The Northwest Signal Company are the distributors for these systems in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Alaska, and British Columbia.

office is located at Jenkintown, Pennsylvania.

A new illustrated bulletin, EM-66, describes system components and explains various system setups. Copies may be obtained by contacting the distributor who also invites inquiries regarding specific signaling requirements.

Northwest Signal Company's phone is JU. 8-0535.

Salk Research Fund Drive To Start Friday

Pierce County's part of the drive to raise funds to build the Salk Research Institute at San Diego will get underway Friday and continue for two weeks, according to Charles Randall, chairman of the county chapter of the National Foundation (March of Dimes) sponsor of the campaign.

Randall has appointed Matthew Clapp campaign chairman. Most of the drive is being conducted through the mail, Clapp has announced, although those wishing to contribute in person are invited to visit the chapter's office on the fifth floor of the Security Building, 915 Pacific Avenue.

The Salk Research Institute is being built on land donated by the city of San Diego. It will become, when completed next year, a center of research for a staff of medical men directed by Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of the famed Salk vaccine which has made polio little more than a memory in the United States.

The national campaign is being aimed at raising $15,000,000 for the Salk institute. No goal has been established for Pierce County but, in Randall's words, "residents of the county have always contributed generously to the March of Dimes and we are confident that with this cause in mind they will do so again."
