McChord's Det. 5 'Copters And Crews Act As Lifesavers In Rescue Attempts

McChord AFB, Washington—Like a giant flying bug, flitting in and out among the tree-tops, a Detachment 5, Western Air Rescue Center helicopter descended slowly above the swift current of the Stuck River.

A hoist was lowered into the water to a cold, numbed fisherman, Elmer Jarvis of Auburn, Wash., who had just suffered a nine-hour ordeal in the freezing water after his boat had overturned.

Capt. Edwin Henningson, Detachment 5 commander, had maneuvered his H-43B "Huskie" as close to Jarvis as possible. The proximity of the tree-tops made a direct rescue impossible, so Captain Henningson's crew chief, SSgt. Howard Lord, lowered the hoist from the maximum hoist altitude of 100 feet.

The length of the hoist wasn't the only problem. At 100 feet, maximum power is needed to keep the helicopter steady. And the hoist must be maneuvered within reach of the victim.

"The 'Huskie' is the only helicopter that could do this trick," Captain Henningson explained. "It has enough power to remain steady and operate the hoist, even at 100 feet."

This rescue, heroic in the eyes of the victim or an observer, is a frequent occurrence for Detachment 5 rescue experts. This particular rescue did require more skill than usual, but some missions are even more daring.

Just recently, Detachment 5 pilot Capt. Harold Solberg piloted a "Huskie" between fir trees near the summit of Mount Ladd to rescue injured Civil Air Patrol Pilot 1st Lt. Leslie Mercer, 63 the flying missionary, who had never turned down a search mission himself, crashed his small plane while searching for a missing California aircraft. His observer was killed in the crash.

Captain Solberg maneuvered his craft through the trees with only inches to spare on each side of the plane to rescue the injured CAP pilot. Mercer was then flown to Madigan General Hospital for treatment.

In another daring rescue, Detachment 5 rescuers landed in an almost inaccessible crevasse near Wilmon Peak, and rescued a woman who had fallen 40 feet from a ledge and broken her leg.

On another occasion, an emergency call came for a rescue of an injured youth on Mount Garfield. The pilot was given erroneous information as to the location, but he searched until he spotted a tiny wisp of smoke from a fire built by a rescue party at the scene.

The injured youth was in a forest where trees prevented the helicopter from reaching the ground party. The pilot dropped his craft into a narrow gorge carved by a stream running through the forest. There the rescue team delivered the injured and he was rushed to the nearest hospital.

Another dramatic rescue involved a hiker who suffered an insulin shock and fell unconscious on a Cascade mountain wilderness trail. Detachment 5 was summoned.

The pilot finally found a landing area about three miles from the injured man. The crew hiked across the dangerous range to the shock victim where a medic administered first aid. The unconscious man was carried to the "Huskie" and was whisked to the nearest hospital.

To these daring Detachment 5 rescuers, called upon day or night in all kinds of weather, mercy flying is simply their job. These men "scramble" their Huskies approximately 20 times a month, most of the time on ordinary alert missions, to stand by in case of need.

"Only two or three times a month are we involved in actual rescue attempts," Captain Henningson, said.

But two or three such missions a month can mean two or three lives saved. A local newspaper aviation writer, summed up Detachment 5's contribution to the local community in this way:

"It is safe to say that there is a considerable number of people in this area alive today who would be dead if it were not for the men of Detachment 5, McChord Air Force Base."

Register For Baby Clinic

The Spanaway Well Baby Clinic will be held July 8 in the Assembly of God Church located across from the Spanaway Elementary School. Registration will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 10 a.m. For further information, you are asked to call LE 7-8625.

The FOURTH OF JULY, INDEPENDENCE DAY, will be here in a matter of hours. Most of us are apt to forget that this is not just a day off from work, a day for kiddies fireworks and fun. This is THE DAY to show that you are glad you are an AMERICAN, that you live in a land that is run democratically. The best way to show this is by flying our FLAG. Over the years many of us have had family members or friends who have fallen in combat in the successful attempt to keep our FLAG and NATION free from the evils which have tried to destroy it. In their memory, as well as in the memory of our wonderful history of the past, fly your FLAG on the FOURTH OF JULY and show that you are proud to stand up and be counted as an AMERICAN.

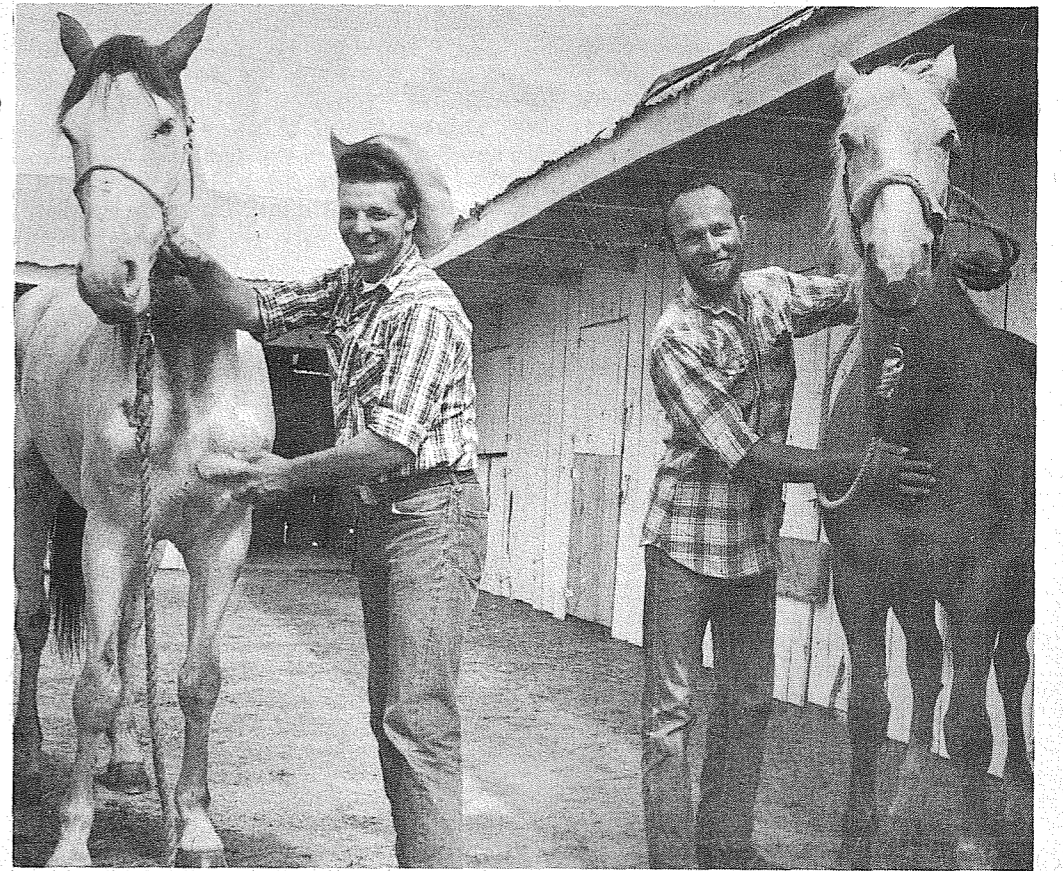

Boise Behind As Ted And Len Alter Course Towards NY Fair

Safe And Sane Fireworks On Sale

Again this year families in this area can celebrate the Fourth of July with "safe and sane" fireworks. The local option of the 1961 Washington State safe and sane fireworks law has been adopted — permitting the public sale and use of this variety of fireworks.

"Safe and sane" fireworks are those items of pyrotechnic display which have been tested and approved by the State Fire Marshal, and which carry the State Seal of Approval. They must not, according to the state laws, explode, rise into the air, discharge balls of fire, or contain poisonous chemicals. In short, legal fireworks — as sold in the Zebra stands throughout the area — are really "safe and sane."

Safe and sane fireworks will be on sale through the Fourth of July. Many of the stands are sponsored by non-profit organizations and groups to help finance local projects. All Zebra stands are licensed and supervised. Retail outlets in this area are: Parkland Kiwanis at Lucky Store, 13320 Pacific; Parkland & S.E. Optimists at National Bank of Washington lot, 112th & Pacific; Parkland Library, Garfield & Pacific; Franklin Pierce High Boosters at Lapinski Fuel; Parkland Babe Ruth League at 112th & Canyon Road.

LEONARD OTT AND TED FRIESZ are shown here doing one of the many little chores that are required on their trip Eastward to the New York World's Fair. When you are on TV and in various newspapers along the way, it's necessary to groom your animal once in a while so at least half of the company looks photogenic. It's a good long way yet but we are all confident that our Parkland riders will make the journey successfully.

Originally planning to follow U. S. 30, our two Parkland horseback riders, after passing through Boise, have decided to alter their route to take in the northern U.S. Accordingly they will leave Idaho by way of Idaho Falls, Stanley and Salmon.

In their possession are two letters from Washington Gov. Albert Rosellini and Seattle Mayor J. D. Braman to New York state and city counterparts, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Mayor Robert Wagner.

From a recent letter received from them, Ted and Len seem to be finding some remarkable scenery along the way. For example, they hoped to be able to see the Miss Idaho Pageant while in Boise on June 26 and 27. That's a long, hard way to go to watch Miss Idaho be crowned!

Grange Plans Picnic July 12

The Pomona Grange Picnic will be held on Sunday, July 12th at Spanaway Park — Kitchen No. 2. All Grange families and their friends are invited to attend. A pot luck dinner will be served at 1 p.m. Coffee, tea, and drinks for the kiddies will be furnished as will be the ice cream.

Parkland Has Own Summer Stock

Under the "learning leadership" of Mrs. Robert Malone, the youngsters in her neighborhood are doing the summer stock bit.

With a group of children ranging in age from 4 to 13, Mrs. Malone's job of directing and keeping the peace isn't always easy, but she is to be admired for doing her part in helping to keep the imaginative minds of these children in constructive paths through the summer months.

Created as a "something to do" activity for the neighborhood children, the curtain went up on the first play of the season, "King's Cream", complete with refreshments last Saturday evening. More plays are planned for the weeks to come with Mrs. Malone again doing the honors of re-writing a story chosen by the children into script form.

Roy Rodeo Assn. To Hold July 4th Dance

The Roy Rodeo Association is sponsoring a 4th of July Dance to be held in the newly acquired Roy Community Hall.

The dance will be held Saturday, July 4th from 9:30 till 2 a.m. to the music of the Rhythm Rangers.

All proceeds will go toward the payment of the building and further remodeling needs.

According to Ted, this may be the last cross-country trip to be made by horse back. "I feel this is due to the many complications such as barber wire fences and free-ways. The closest call we had was with a diesel truck."

One of the most interesting of the little notes from our riders was about the water situation. "Most of us take water for granted but since we have been on this trip, we certainly have learned the value of it. It is one of the cheapest things on earth and when in need of it, it's priceless."

Upsy-Daisy! AF Rescue Team

ANOTHER DRAMATIC RESCUE — A H43B Huskie of McChord's Rescue Detachment rescues a downed flyer. This is just one of the many types of rescue missions flown each month by the copters and crews of the McChord based Detachment No. 5.

Local Farms To Hosts Teachers

Pierce county is serving as a classroom for 30 teachers who are enrolled in a summer conservation education workshop at PLL. Participants are learning the importance of wise land use planning and conservation. Field trips to farms and natural areas within the county are a part of the learning workshop.

The Harold Knutson bulb farm, Kenneth Scholz certified berry farm, Les Goelzer Christmas tree plantation, and the Otto Moebius dairy-forestry operation at Thrift were highlights of agricultural visits. Other tours included the Griggs Tomolla Tree farm near Orting, the Wilkerson - Carbonado coal mining area, Swan Creek recreation area, Paul Hanaway private park, the White River logging operation, and Mt. Rainier National Park.

Local resource people assisting with the workshop include County Extension Agents Ernest Hopp and David Klemperer, WSU Extension Forester Joe Buhaly, Soil Conservation Service Work Unit Conservationist, Herb Gaines, Soil Conservation Technician Al Scholz, and Steve Harvey, Farm Forester of the Dept. of Natural Resources. Ellen Herminghaus, from the Pierce County School office, is co-ordinator of the workshop.

PLU Teacher Headed For Lebanon

Wayne Aller, assistant professor of psychology at Pacific Lutheran University, has received a three-year appointment from the Board of Ecumenical Missions of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. as assistant professor of psychology at Beirut College for Women in Beirut, Lebanon.

Under the terms of the appointment, Aller who will be the only full-time staff member in that department, will establish a program so a major in psychology can be awarded.

The college, located on a hill overlooking the Mediterranean, has about 500 students, mostly of Eastern Orthodox and Islamic faiths.

"The extremely cosmopolitan city offers a real challenge to the Christian and to representatives of western democratic systems," Aller said.

Aller, who is completing work this summer on his dissertation at the University of Washington, and his wife, Sharon, who also will

ATTN: BETHEL New Meeting Date - July 6

Bethel directors will deviate from the regular first Tuesday meeting date in July only — changing to Monday, July 6th — to permit the directors to attend other scheduled meetings that conflicted with the first Tuesday date. Meeting starts at 8:00 p.m. — Bethel High School Library. Interested persons are always welcome.

Operation Policies review will be the main agenda item. Statistic reviews of the 3-64 school year will also be analyzed.

In recent action, the school board accepted the sale proposal of the County Park Department for 30 acres (with timber) of Spanaway Park Property, East of Pacific at 159th, for $35,000.00. Sales processes for the purchase are now underway.

Awarded a construction contract to H and C Construction Company, Tacoma - Low bidders at $8,912 for a one-room addition to Bethel Junior High School to house a Special Education Program.

Shut Out Pitched By Lois Horne

June 22 saw the Girls Senior High Softball League team, the Diamond-ettes from Summit winning a no-hitter over the Parkway Realty Marianettes. The no-hitter was pitched by right-handed Lois Horne. Only one walk was given up by Lois as she pitched her team to a 15-0 victory over her opponents.

So far, the Diamond-ettes have won the only two games they have played but this should come as no surprise to their followers as last year they were the Pierce County Champions in their league.

Coaches of the team are Toby Torbet and Vern Adams.

New Faculty Member At PLU

Wayne M. Gildseth of Ames, Iowa, has been appointed to the Pacific Lutheran University faculty as an assistant professor of chemistry, it was announced recently by Dr. Robert Mortvedt, PLU president.

A native of Sioux Falls, S.D., Gildseth has a bachelor of arts degree in chemistry and physics from Augustana College (S.D.). He was graduated summa cum laude (with highest honors).

He did graduate work at Georg August University in Göttingen, Germany as a Fulbright scholar during the 1957-58 school year. Since 1958 he has been doing graduate work at Iowa State University and is a candidate for the doctor of philosophy degree there this summer.

Gildseth is a member of the American Chemical Society, Blue Key and Phi Lambda Upsilon.

New Shop In Area

NEWCOMER to the Summit business area is the Paint N Shop located at 112th and Canyon Road and managed by Bud Allison. Bud and his wife and two youngsters, a daughter aged three and a young son seven months old now live in the Summit area. Both Bud and his wife are life long Tacoma residents, having graduated from Lincoln High School. The Paint N Shop carries all types of paint and equipment and accessories necessary to make every painting job a heap more fun and less work.

Friday Is Race Night At Graham

The Parkland Times Journal wishes to take this opportunity to welcome and to acquaint its readers with a new spectator sport in the area. Although in its second season at Graham, the Graham Speedway offers spectator thrills for the entire family.

Each Friday night at least 23 races are run with the number of competitors ranging from 65 to 80. Promoted by the Blue Barons Motorcycle Club of Tacoma, the races are all run on a quarter mile clay track. The land itself has been leased from the Tacoma Motorcycle Club which owns 80 acres in the Graham area.

The usual idea of a motorcycle driver, let alone a racer, is that he is a bum, a kook who lives for nothing but to get out and race on the highways without regard for the safety of others. No thing could be further from the truth where these Graham Speedway racers are concerned. The average age of the racer there is 25 and is married, holds a good job and has a family. For example, take the Number 1 Sportsman Rider at the track. He is Bob Malley, who lives at 105th and Pennsylvania right here in Parkland. Many of the drivers there are local products. All of the cyclists are professionals.

There are three types of drivers and three categories of cycles used at the Speedway. The 250 cc machine is ridden by novices and experts. The 500 cc machine is ridden by amateurs and experts and the over 500cc machines are also ridden by just amateurs and experts.

Many safety precautions are used at the Speedway. There are flagmen in each turn to warn the on-coming drivers of a spill or possible danger spot. The riders themselves are required to wear safety helmets, leather jackets and breeches and laced riding boots with a steel shoe on the left foot as the corners are taken on three points and a considerable amount of weight is placed on that foot. Altogether a rider spends around $200 on his outfit. The 250 cc machine costs about $800 including special tires, gearing and sprockets. The 500 cc and over cycles cost around $1400 for the machines and racing equipment.

Even the spectators are safe from any accidents that might happen. There is a wall outside of the track to protect the already many avid local fans from come what may. An ambulance is kept in the infield for emergencies which don't happen very often. The stands have room for 1600 fans and more stands are going to be built this summer. To keep every one happy (and not too dusty) there is a water truck which moistens the track and keeps the dust down to a bare minimum.

Tips on GOOD LANDSCAPE GROOMING

By Howard & Elaine Motteler

Now is a good time to thin apples, pears and peaches. The fruits are large enough so those that are not going to develop have either dropped or soon will. Unless the fruits are thinned back each year the tree tends to produce only on alternate years. In thinning, it helps to visualize the mature fruits and the necessary space between them of about four to six inches. This usually means cutting out about three-fourths of the developing fruits. The mal-formed or diseased fruits are also eliminated. The remaining fruits develop about twice as large as they would otherwise. The fruits may be broken off or cut with small pruning shears. Cut so as to leave the fruit as much exposed to sunlight as possible. Fruit which ripens in the sunlight has better flavor and color.

The only trees we do not thin are those which bear apples that are made into cider. The cider apples are more convenient in smaller sizes. By not thinning you get a heavier production. Also the smaller apples are easier to handle. The cider apples are shaken from the tree rather than picked, then washed and run through a cider press.

Now is also a good time to do some summer pruning of fruit trees. Limbs which have become weighted down with leaves or are an obstruction to walking around the yard may be cut off. It is preferable to cut as close as possible to where the limb branches, leaving no inflexible stalks which could cause eye injury if accidentally walked into.

Sprouts occurring on main branches may be cut or snapped off at this time to prevent the tree's growth energy from being used on limbs which would later have to be cut out anyway. Many of these watersprouts or suckers will grow three to six feet in a year. They tend to grow straight up and soon mishape a tree if not removed. Actually fruit trees in this area may be pruned at anytime without injuring the tree.

A Second Look At . . . THE BUSINESS CLIME

by LARRY ROE

Recent developments in Russia and in one of its satellites are steeped in irony. That's because Premier Khrushchev has been compelled to try to bolster his faltering industrial output by instituting principles of free enterprise—the very system that he vowed to “bury.”

Here are typical examples of the “copycat” trend:

A new cash bonus arrangement for factory managers and workers has been installed in six major industries in an effort to improve quality, as well as, quantity production. (This is a far cry from the not-too-distant time when plant managers were reportedly “liquidated” for failing to meet quotas.)

A textile mill in Bulgaria, which was allowed to function very much in the fashion of a private American style plant, proved to be a rip-roaring success. It completed its yearly production plan six weeks ahead of time, made a substantial profit, boosted workers' earnings by 10 per cent and greatly expanded employment in the community. (Actually, this operation was a back-lash because the Soviet planners initiated it to “show up” the free enterprise system and their faces rivaled the red in their flag when the project hit the jack-pot and the Bulgarian public demanded that many more factories be allowed to operate in the same manner.)

While these moves represent only surface-scratching shifts in Soviet economic policy it certainly must be mighty embarrassing for Khrushchev to have to tacitly acknowledge the superiority of our system by borrowing from it.

Letters To The Editor

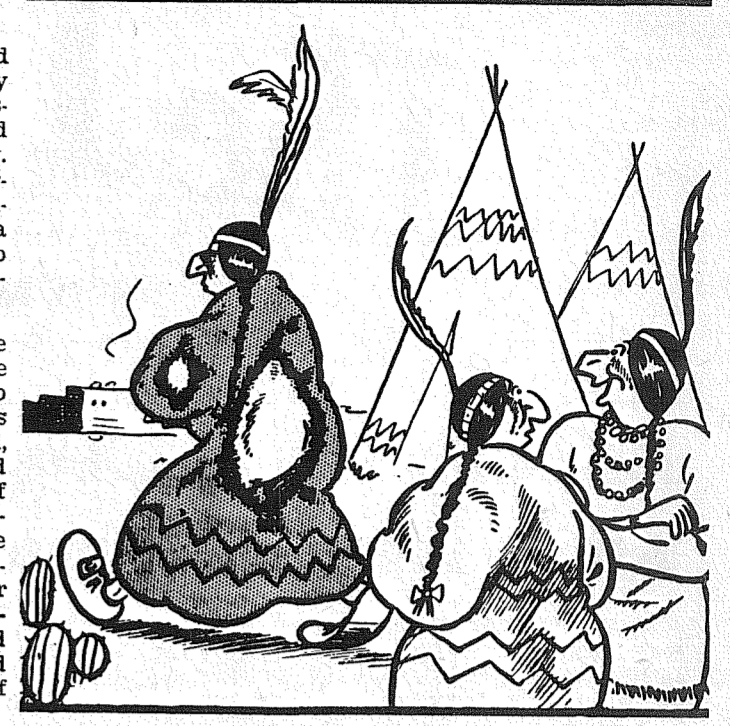

To The Editor:

I take my pen in hand and will try in my humble way to pay tribute to Larry Russell, the lad that was killed on his scooter recently. Larry was an average American Boy with three brothers to wrestle with, and a Mom and Dad trying hard to bring him up in the admonition of the Lord.

Larry was in my 9th grade Sunday School Class three years ago, he was trying so hard to be grown-up-so was well pleased when I said, “Mr. Russell, will you lead in prayer?” I found myself looking into a pair of laughing eyes and a boyish face as he shut his eyes and started to pray, “Our Father which art in Heaven . . . thy will be done . . .” I could see real zeal for the Lord and a definite quality of leadership in him.

Larry also “dared to be a Daniel for his country”— he spoke on the radio, warning young Americans of the facing dangers of communism and boldly told them to fight for God and Country. You see Larry was a born-again Christian - his definition of a Christian is “One who believes in Jesus Christ and puts God in everything he does.”

 —Thomas A. Edison

a - Wondering and a - Wandering . . .

Just walked into the joint after spending a full week at Pendleton during the International Air Races, only to find that I forgot my column, so here goes for a “quickie” at deadline.

Had a letter the other day that I gave the deep six, but with no one at my desk I have been able to retrieve it. Normally we never print an unsigned letter, but I am going to make an exception just to show you how some people here in your own neighborhood think.

But first let me say this to the sender. I feel sorry for you. To live with a marshmallow backbone all your life must be a hideous thing eating away at your insides. I'd hate to go thru life as you must, without the guts to sign my name to my convictions, once put to pen.

The letter follows and I quote verbatim:

“Mr. Jack Brown,

Well, well, well. Fall in some time. Ha ha? ha;; Your editorial about socialism and MUD brains is one of the most, silliest of the arts of an editor. We would be all animals of the worst degree, if it wasn't for social science. I am not for you or for him. I carried mail on a small route and handled tons of papers of all descriptions.

What are you talking about? Papers under a second class permit is handled through the post office for nothing, the carriers are paid partly by first class mail and other part by deficit. You are mailing thousands of your paper for free, but any one that believe in the p. o. is mud brains. Have you ever thought how much private enterprise would charge you to deliver your papers to the same as the p. o. does. Have you ever taken a mental test to see if you know who is buried in Grants tomb. Have you ever had theraison to believe that when you drive a car on the highway that you are a socialist driving on a socialist hiway. when your child goes to school, is the school a public school or a private pay school. Jack: byou do not know that many read your paper that wasn't born yesterday. Have you ever had your brains weighed to see if they are mud or just hot air?

Possibly a mixture of all most nothing and no thinking ability. dont be a fool, even if you think others have brains of mud. Ha? ha? ha:;”

Now doesn't that really grab you? I'm at a loss as to what point the writer was trying to make except to have me accept myself as a complete idiot for not being a dyed in the wool socialist.

At any rate, the letter is hardly worth an answer except as evidence of how some well meaning Americans can be led or bent to the thinking of those opposing our free enterprise system. Kind of scary, isn't it?

However, since printing this letter I must now point to one item wherein the writer professes to know all, that places me in a position of getting a free ride on you. First I cannot understand a man who has worked for the post office not knowing the difference between a second class newspaper and a third class newspaper, of which he accuses us of mailing thousands free. In order to become a second class newspaper we would have to charge each and every one of you a subscription charge, have it set up in order so that it could be checked at any time by postal officials and have proof that the largest percentage is paid. Have you paid for the Times Journal you are now reading? Of course not! You nor the writer of the letter have paid, nor has your neighbors, either. Thus we do not qualify for a second class permit. Consequently we spent over eleven thousand dollars last year to have the post office carry the Times Journal to your homes, and nearly a like amount paid to newsboys who deliver in some areas. That's for free?

The writer asks, “Have I ever thought how much private enterprise would charge me to deliver the papers the same as the post office does?” Man, have I ever. In fact I wrote a hot editorial on it not too long ago, mainly in the case of letters. The post office cries continuously about running in the red, but you just try starting a delivery service in competition to them. It's against the law and that, my fat headed friend of a writer, is the only reason yours truly is not presently operating a delivery service in this area for oil bills, bank statements, my own papers and what not. Not only could I deliver them for less than I am now paying, I can make a real nice profit from all other businesses in the area by delivering them at a substantial discount as compared with postal rates.

Now, if this ex postal wizard who knows all, can arrange clearance for me to start this service, I will gladly reward him handsomely for his efforts. There's just one heck of a lot of honest bucks in that little delivery deal that Uncle has that I'd like to cut myself in on. And just for the record, I once owned and operated a similar messenger business whereby I employed exactly 21 delivery boys and one cute little secretary . . . so experience I've had. (As I look back on this last sentence, I'm not sure it's worded right, but to heck with it.)

And another thing I'd like to make clear to the writer. I avoid your so-called socialist highway like a plague and do my traveling thru nice clear unsubsidized American air.

So much for that, but I think a Republican would have the courage to sign his letter. I think a Democrat would have the courage to sign his letter. How about you, joker? I'd like to know who you are so I can keep an eye on you, and I'm sure your're neighbors would too. Drop us a line. You know the address. And, by the way, if you and your buddies ever really come up with a plan to beat our free enterprise system, let me know, but right now I think you're way out on left base.

Mr. Wilmarth flew into Thun Field recently in his new Bonanza from Sacramento, Calif.

Ben Workula also flew into Thun Field in a new Bonanza from his own paved private strip on the lower Columbia River.

Wes LaMotta with his helicopter flew into Thun Field to help in the search for the downed flyers. Wes is from Portland, Oregon.

Jim Moss with his antique Cessna Airmaster flew to the Air Races in Pendleton last week. Jim is an acrobatic pilot.

Fun Had By All Comers At Area Playfields

About 40 young cowboys and Indians invaded Dawson Playfield for a frontier breakfast of pancakes and hot, steaming cocoa last week. Also included in the Frontier Fun Time schedule of events were a costume contest, target practice with beanbags, a Quick-Draw McGraw Contest and other attractions.

With the coming of the summer sun, the wading pool has become a leading attraction at Gonyea Playfield. An especially successful event held last week was the annual Bubble Gum Contest.

A campaign to keep the playground clean is underway at all county playfields. Children find all the litter and scrap materials they can, and, with the aid of a little glue and imagination, the conglomeration is transformed into a "Litter Bug". Each child has fun naming his "bug" and a contest is held to determine the funniest, biggest, smallest, etc.

Today all playgrounds are having their Fourth of July celebration and Noise Parade, Horns, bugles, drums, insula Junior Olympics at Peninsula High School, at 6:00 p.m., July 8. Also scheduled for the week is a Beatles Day. For this special event, youngsters come dressed as Beatles, make Beatle wigs, and enter contests on singing or pantomiming ability.

Events for the next week include the 3rd Annual Pen-

The Waller Road Word

Mrs. Vern Fogle
LE 7-5210

Lawrence Howard, of Lidford Road, enjoyed a fishing trip in the Mt. Adams area fishing the lakes and rivers. He stopped off for a short visit with Earle and Ellen Thompson and reports all is well with them. They send their regards to their friends on Waller Road. Mr. Howard stayed at the Tower Rock Park that has been developed in that area.

While his trip is past, another Waller Road youth is making plans to take off on an exciting journey. Tom will be bringing back a wonderful report of this you can be sure.

Geise's Return
Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Geise visited with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Blankenship and family of Buena, Washington. Mrs. Blankenship is a sister to Mr. Geise and has made her home in Missouri until recently. The Geise's were able to stop to see them when they were returning from the State Grange Convention.

Quotes On Canyon Road

Mrs. John Folk

An error was made in the name of the Canyon Road Garden Club's flower show to be held July 24th and 25th in the Community Club. It should have read "Ten Bloomin' Years." 'Scuse please.

Family Reunion
Mrs. Fleta Panchot, of E. 84th, is relaxing after being hostess to a family reunion held at her home last week; among the guests were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Panchot (Lillian Thun) and sons Ronnie and John. Their daughter, Linda, was unable to come as she is in the Air Force stationed in Benson, Arizona. Her son, Elmer, from Portland, her daughter Fleta from Seattle, and her grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Panchot, from Tigard, Oregon, also attended. Guests dropping in during the week were Mr. and Mrs. B. Stokesberry and daughter Lou Ann of Summit and Mrs. Margaret Thun, who was one of our long time residents.

Bacons Took Trip
Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bacon of E. 96th with Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bacon of Canyon Road, flew to Chicago and then in Pat and Carol's brand new car drove to North Dakota where they visited relatives and on the way home went sight seeing thru the Bad Lands, the Teton and Yellowstone National Park.

Waller Rd. Meeting Held
The annual meeting of the Waller Road Consumers' Water Company was held June 24th at the Grange Hall with between 150 and 200 members in attendance. The meeting was presided over by A.H. DeMeerleer, President. In the general order of business Mr. Stokes and Mr. Ebert were re-elected to the Board of Trustees for another year. The yearly report was given by the Auditing Committee composed of George May and Michael Vasicko. Elected as Auditors for the coming year were Rudolph Geise and John H. Nuchian. George W. Kutcher was the recipient of one year's free water, minimum rate, as a door prize. A majority of those in attendance were 2 to 1 in opposition to the City's proposal to take ownership and management of the Waller Road Consumers' Water Company. An offer was made to the proponents to organize a committee to work towards the carrying out of the proposal from the City of Tacoma, however no action was taken.
