New officers elected at the group's October business meeting were introduced at this gala affair. The offices of secretary and treasurer, held by Kreebha B. Alkire and L. R. Isaacs respectively, are three-year terms and will be open for election in 1960.

The next event on this active group's busy calendar is a business meeting, 8:00 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 12 at Imported Motors, 7030 South Tacoma Way. The group will plan its third annual birthday party and register membership. All foreign car owners are invited to attend this meeting and learn of the club's activities and purpose. POW-WOW STARS—Pictured above are six Bethel Senior High students who will have an extremely important part in tonight's Sixth Annual Pigskin Pow-Wow, staged in the Bethel Senior High School gymnasium beginning at 7:30 o'clock. From left to right, seated, are: Sue Miller, Sophomore Royal Attendant for the Pow-Wow; Sharon Danahy, Pow-Wow Queen; and Marsha Selden, Junior Attendant. Standing from left to right, are the people who are in charge of the program: Yell Leader Gloria Hamblin; Yell Queen Susan Fager, general Pow-Wow chairman, and Yell Leader Sandy Matheny. The Pow-Wow, an annual event, is staged to provide both entertainment and help create school spirit. One of the outstanding features of the program is that all of the acts and numbers are student-directed, acted and some written by the students, themselves. Included in tonight's program will be over 150 students who will perform in pantomimes, skits, musical numbers, slap-stick comedy and dancing. Almost every club and organization at Bethel Senior High will be represented. Admission price for everyone has been set at 25 cents per person. — (Photo by C. J. Knaggs).

Big Tax Payment By Pac. Tel. & Tel.
Pierce County's treasury will be enriched by $238,610.75 Friday (Oct. 30) upon receipt of a check from Pacific Telephone. County Treasurer L. R. Johnson said the amount covers the second half payment of the company's 1959 real and personal property tax bill which totals $477,233.80 in Pierce County. Pacific Telephone Manager Ron Johnson pointed out that Friday's payment here will be one of 38 paid simultaneously in the state in all counties except Island. Smallest payment, of $310.31, was in Pend Oreille County while the largest, $896,550.61, was in King County. As the state's largest property taxpayer the company's combined bill covering all 38 counties amounts to nearly four million dollars in 1959. Checks issued this week add up to $1,996,397.37. Property taxes are only one of many of the company's operations in Washington, Johnson pointed out. Last year the company's total tax bill was more than $32,900,000. The average Pacific Telephone customer in Washington paid taxes amounting to $53.34 as part of his telephone bill during 1958. More than 27 cents out of every dollar he paid for telephone service went for taxes.

County Agent's Corner
By C. R. Doran
Pierce county farmers who are raising heifers for sale will be interested in a new regulation in California concerning the import of female dairy cattle. The regulation specifies that all female cattle of the dairy breeds brought into California on or after January 2, 1961, must bear evidence of official vaccination against Brucellosis between the ages of four and twelve months. An official health certificate, certifying such vaccination, will also be required. Calves under four months of age and cattle of dairy breeds, consigned direct for immediate slaughter in an establishment having federal, state or state approved meat inspection, are exempt from the requirement. Cattle consigned for exhibition or theatrical purposes are also exempt. Identification methods recommended by California officials includes: standard tattoo, and distinguishing ear tags. Officials say lack of legible and uniform identification of vaccinated animals has been a problem with imported stock. In the past dairy cattle have been admitted into the state of California by showing they are negative to the test for Brucellosis. Now it is different — they must be vaccinated against the disease itself. Since most local dairymen insist (Continued on Page 2)

Bethel HI Students In National Test

CONTESTANTS—Principal Earl Platt and Guidance Director Walter Sahli of Bethel Senior High School announced recently that Carla Lamka and Dave Cortesi, two Bethel Senior High seniors, have been named as semi-finalists in the 1959-1960 National Merit Scholarship competition. Pictured above are: Guidance Director Walter Sahli (seated) looking over the National Merit test results with Carla Lamka and Dave Cortesi.

The local students are among 10,000 of the highest scorers on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test, the nation-wide test of educational development given in 14,500 high schools last spring. The semi-finalists recently named outscored over 550,000 classmates throughout the United States and thus moved a step closer to the goal of all — winning one of the coveted Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the 1959-1960 program. The group of 10,000 semi-finalists is composed of the highest scorers in each state, prorated according to state population.

Cortesi and Miss Lamka now face another rigorous three-hour examination, the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, which will further confirm their high scores on the past test. This second test will be given in Tacoma on December 5 and those who come through this test with high marks will become finalists in the competition. Last year Richard McMullin, a Bethel Senior High graduate, went through all phases of the examination program and was awarded a $750 per year scholarship by the Shell Oil Company as one of the top scholars in the nation. McMullin is now enrolled at Seattle University where he is undertaking his first year studies.

Witness Paul Housel of Edgewood, a school teacher, who tells me he keeps detailed farm expenses and income records about his part-time farming sheep business. He asked me four years ago what would be the most practical farming enterprise for his 5 acre situation. Local Men Travel To Dad's Day Fete

Vince Rahier and Balis Burgess were joined at Elbe by Randy Stewart of Ashford and Dick White of Tacoma to travel to Pullman to celebrate Dad's Day with their children, students at Washington State College. They report a wonderful time. They attended the Washington State vs Idaho State football game, won by Washington, 27 to 5. Vince said that the dads were very well entertained and he was especially delighted over the bands and their maneuvers. Earthquake Fete Seattle's recent earthquake was felt in Elbe by at least four people, all quite frightened by the sharp quake. Lucky Hunters Roger and Frank Bloom were among the hunters who got their deer on a recent weekend. Lee Kolb was presented with a beautiful Army trophy for sharpshooting with a 22 calibre rifle; the competition was with 1200 men. We are proud and happy for him. The Congenial Sewing Circle met at Ida Gaut's Oct. 27 to tie quilts. They met with Pearl Hyslop earlier in the month. Recent guests in Elbe homes were: Mr. and Mrs. Art Kachenko and family of Tacoma visited the Al Lunds; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Naugle of Bremerton visited the Ray Fisks; Mr. and Mrs. John Orr, also of Bremerton, visited the Frank I. Lydays; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Sawyer of Tacoma visited the Jack Chappels; Norma Jean Fitzer, teaching in Shelton, spent a weekend at home. Also Mrs. Rita Bennett and children of Ketchikan, Alaska, visited the Art Bennetts; Mr. and Mrs. George Tagas, Ann and Harold Lamb and Mrs. Stewart Teedhope, all of Seattle, and Mrs. Will Schiller of Puyallup visited the William Dunns; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kast of Selma, Calif., Mrs. Don Bowerman and children of Tacoma and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jewell visited the Floyd Kasts; Charles Warner and Wayne Dunbar of Kent visited the Oran Goldbarys. Reporter — Mrs. Frank Jewell, Elbe.

a-Wondering . . . and a-Wandering . . .

With JACK BROWN Here it is, Monday night and deadline for this column and me with nothing in mind to write about. Instead of reading and thinking, I spent this last weekend hunting and wishing, so maybe you'll settle for some idle chatter this week.

Some business areas served by the Times Journal are indeed lucky to have no parking meters to run off trade. All this was brought to mind this morning as I was wandering back from Seattle. Being one of those characters that can't miss a meal, I decided I'd never make it home without stopping for breakfast so as I came to Puyallup I gave up the idea of fasting for another ten miles and pulled up in front of one of the T.J. advertisers who uses these columns weekly to tempt the hungry. As I parked I could see a parking meter sticking its red tongue out at me as if in utter contempt of the whole human race. Choosing to ignore this train of thought I finished parking and suddenly remembered a revolting development. I had no change. Only folding money. (Of the smallest of denominations, I assure you) Was it worth the trouble to get change and come back to feed that hungry mechanical monster or should I drive on? After thinking it over for a second I remembered the ads, smacking of good food, and decided to risk a dash into the restaurant for change and a mad dash back to deposit a coin before the stalwart arm of the law decorated my car with a greetings from their fair city. Just as I started to open the door of the car I caught sight of a cruising prowler car coming down the street. That's all brother, I thought as I pulled out to spend my breakfast money in Parkland where meters do not sprout up every few feet. I wonder how many customers cities like Tacoma and Puyallup lose each year under similar circumstances.

The Federal gasoline tax has gone up another cent from three to four cents per gallon in order to keep the Federal highway program going. But the increase is only for a 22-month period. After that the tax will drop back again to three cents. However, the odds are 10 to 1 that 22 months from now, and even 22 years from now, we'll still be paying that additional one cent tax. If you have any doubt about it just consider the fact that the Federal gas tax was first imposed during World War II strictly as a temporary war measure. But was it dropped after the conflict? No, indeed. Instead it was increased and now is being increased again. It all adds up to the fact that there is no such thing as a temporary tax — at least, not as far as the jokers in Washington, D.C. are concerned.

A year or so ago I took pen in hand and wrote of the marvels of flying. At that time it sounded to most folks like I was off on another tangent, I suppose. Anyhow I got quite a kick out of an article in the November Reader's Digest extolling the merits of flying and I must say I agree with them. It's a safe, fast and inexpensive way to travel. I, like the author of the story, feel safer in the air than on a highway. There's an ad in this issue of the T.J. that advises you go get into the air and live. That's my advice to you too.

The above article was not intended to be a plug for the Digest. In fact if I were going to hand out a free commercial it would probably be for some other magazine since one of their writers saw fit to ridicule me as an editor (which I have never claimed to be) and the Times Journal as a newspaper, because he failed to accept the fact that a newspaper could serve the best interests of a community without being paid for by its readers. To the writer for the Digest any newspaper delivered free to the homes in a community without charge was pure junk in his book. You get this paper. It's free. You be the judge.
