Bethel Teachers Lower Salary Requests

The Bethel Education Association, the negotiating body representing most District 403 teachers, passed a resolution last week recommending lower wages than previously requested to help continue quality education in Bethel Schools.

Richard L. Myking, Bethel Education Association president, announced Saturday that the teachers voted to reconsider a previously passed resolution recommending a starting salary of $6500 per year for the Bethel District. District 403 School Directors had not yet approved the $6500 recommendation.

All teachers' and administrators' salaries are based on starting teachers' wage schedules, and by passing the resolution the teachers agreed to accept less money in order to maintain education standards.

Of the move Myking said, "In this day and age it's hard to believe that people will vote for less income in order to provide better services." The move from reconsideration came after teachers learned that if school directors approved the $6500 base wage, then fewer new teachers would be hired than deemed necessary to maintain present class loads. The result would be less individual attention to students by the teacher, Myking stated.

The resolution was passed during the May 29 meeting, but only after considerable discussion. But once the alternatives were explained, it passed easily, he said.

The new resolution calls for a base salary of $6300 per year, a figure most teachers agree is not competitive when it comes to recruiting new members for the faculty.

Myking pointed out that the resolution leaves it open for the school board to determine whether the district can afford to pay more than $6300 base pay without jeopardizing services and if cuts in the quality of education are to be made, it will not be caused by teachers' salary demands.

The resolution was worded as follows:

"RESOLVED that the B.E.A. go on record to accept the base salary of $6300 for the 1969-70 school year.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if the Superintendent and Bethel School Board feel the base salary is too low, then it is their responsibility to cut out programs and budget items to raise the base salary above $6300.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Superintendent and Bethel School Board be responsible to the public for the curtailment of certain worthwhile programs of the district.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Superintendent and Bethel School Board should be thinking about the raising of the base salary at the same time they are discussing next year's millage.

Spanaway Lions Fill Trophy Case

Spanaway's Lions made a trip to Seattle recently and brought home money, marbles, and chalk.

Attending the Multiple District Lion's International Convention, the Spanaway Club was honored with six top awards. They were named to receive the Multiple District Inspirational Award, the Multiple District Induction Award, the District 19C Governor's Award.

Inspiration awards were judged on what the club has accomplished. Although only chartered two years ago, the Spanaway Club has programs going that compare with clubs that have been around for 20 to 30 years. The Induction Award was judged on induction ceremonies for new members as presented by Rev. John Briehl. Other honors were based on membership increases, the work of secretary Forrest King, and the Governor's Award on participation by members in club activities.

Republicans Change Meeting Date

The 29th District Republican Club's regular meeting date has been changed from June 4 to June 11, it was announced early this week.

Parkland Lady Centennial Queen Candidate

A pretty brown-eyed brunette from Parkland hopes to be Queen of Tacoma's Centennial, that is, if she sells enough tickets to the historical pageant before June 24.

Winner will be determined by which candidate sells the most tickets. And Elaine Burt is working hard for the title and accompanying all-expense paid trip to Mexico, one of the fringe benefits awarded the queen.

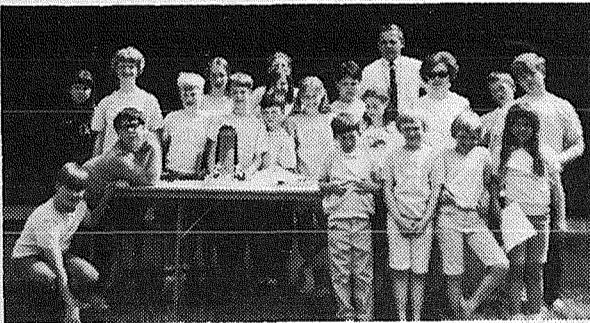

Mrs. Burt, wife of Barry Burt and mother of 2 boys, has been selling tickets all over the Tacoma area. He is an employee of St. Regis. The Burt family lives at 822 South 135th.

When asked what her boys thought of their mother competing for the Queen title, Mrs. Burt said her 5 year old isn't sure he likes all the traveling but the oldest is quite proud.

She is an employee of Shop Mart, and sells shoes when not keeping house or taking time out to sell the books of coupons provided by Centennial Headquarters.

Those purchasing a coupon from Mrs. Burt or one of the firms selling them on her behalf, will save one third on the price of admission tickets. "By These Waters" will be a professionally produced spectacular featuring a cast of 600 people to tell the story of Tacoma June 28 through July 5 at Lincoln Bowl.

Businesses selling coupons for Mrs. Burt include Shop Mart Department Store, Harmony Cafe, Tacoma Motorcycle Sales, Fife Lumber, Times Journal office, Nola's Beauty Salon, Pacific Auto Body, Jeri's Gems, and Parkland Thriftway.

F. P. Budget Ok'd By School Board

A 1969-70 preliminary budget of $6,412,324 was approved by the Franklin Pierce Board of Directors at their regular meeting Tuesday May 27th. The budget represents an increase of $668,382 over the final budget approved in 1968-69 with a percentage increase of 11.6 per cent. Dr. Hill indicated that 7.6 per cent of this increase was required to grant salary improvements, 3 per cent to provide additional staff and 1 per cent to pay for non-salary cost increases including the opening of Washington High School.

Also approved, was a building fund budget of $1,739,838 to finish Washington High School; to purchase three additional sites; to provide equipment for Washington High School; and to provide selected new equipment for the schools.

A bond interest and redemption fund budget of $260,100 was approved.

Dr. Hill told the Board that the total millage required to support the budget was 59.504 mills, an increase of 8 mills over the present figure. Most of this increase was due to a special millage to purchase sites approved by the Voters last November.

In a report to the Board, Dr. Hill stated that the District had been accepted into the "School-to-School" program and would be cooperating with the Tacoma Public Schools in selecting a suitable overseas school to be sponsored by the District. Effective date of establishing the relationship was set for June 1970.

In other action, the Board approved bids to purchase equipment and new bleachers for Washington High School and took care of routine financial business for June. Because three of the Board members will be on vacation, the Regular Board Meeting for June was cancelled.

Bethel Therapist To Teach Blind

Patrick McMurray, speech therapist for the Bethel School District, has been awarded a graduate fellowship to pursue a Masters Degree in Special Education at Boston College. He will train to be a teacher of the blind, living and teaching at the Perkins School for the Blind in Watertown, Massachusetts. Course work will be done on the Boston College campus.

Perkins is a long established residential school for blind and deaf-blind children. By residential we mean that the students actually live in the school. Perkins is probably best known to the general public as the institution which trained Ann Sullivan, Helen Keller's teacher.

Mr. McMurray is a 1968 graduate of Central Washington State College. He is formerly from Sacramento, California.

A FORUM ABOUT MATURE WOMEN

In-Law Troubles

Dear Miss Brookfield: You recently carried a complaint about a mother-in-law problem. You suggested the wife discuss the problem with her husband while he, in turn, should talk to his mother. But what if this has been tried without success? My husband will never stop visiting his mother. When I stopped going, he became angry. Tell me what to do.

M.M., Sherburn, Minn. Dear Mrs. M.M.:

You have not indicated the cause of the family friction. Is your mother-in-law meddling, hostile, or what? If you wish to restore family harmony, you will have to make some sacrifices — if no one else will. Start by remembering that your mother-in-law is the mother of the man you cared for enough to marry. Have a calm talk with him about the problem, but don't pin the solution on unreasonable demands; a son is entitled to visit his mother. If you can forget past wrongs and try to understand your mother-in-law, she may act differently.

Some mothers-in-law are in a difficult position. Their children are grown and so they feel unwanted. As a result, they push into situations and offer advice in an effort to help, and sometimes cause friction. In-laws are people, too, and like all others, can make mistakes.

Happy Housewife

Dear Miss Brookfield: I am a young and happy housewife. I read the letter from the woman who wants to work and would like to answer her. I have a child and a family ahead of me, to keep me perfectly happy inside the home. But when the children are grown I, too, will take my place in the working world. It is very important and even admirable to keep busy. I would like to remind the husband of the Texas woman that there's a whole world outside the door. Let your wife share it, too. I've seen too many women who are miserable because their husbands refused to grant them "equal opportunity" in the world of work. I hope the women in their second forties understand what I am trying to say.

Half-Forty, Arlington, Tex. Dear Half-Forty:

Congratulations! With the sensible head you have on your young shoulders, your second forty should be as happy and fulfilled as your first will be.

Out-of-Town Move

Dear Miss Brookfield: My problem is my mother, who is 50. My husband, who is in the insurance field, has been offered a great opportunity ity for advancement if he accepts a post at a Southern office. Ever since my mother heard the news, she hasn't been herself. When she isn't accusing us of deserting her, she is moody and silent. My father, by the way, has no objections to our moving, but if he opens his mouth, mother starts screaming at him, too. She has never been like this before. What do you think is wrong?

P.R., Los Angeles

Dear Mrs. P.R.:

That's hard to say, but why not arrange for your mother to have a medical checkup? It's quite possible at her age that she may be going through the menopause. If so, her reactions are more understandable. This is a particularly tough period for many women. Along with physical changes, they often face, as you mother does, a change in the family situation. At such a time, many women, feeling that their aspirations are at an end just as those of their grown children are beginning, become depressed or anxious. With the so-called change of life, there is a lessening in the glandular system's production of the hormone estrogen. Doctors find that if a deficiency of this hormone is causing a menopausal woman's physical or emotional complaints, they can treat it with estrogen replacement therapy.

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.

New Pony Club Adds To Roundup Parade

A recently formed pony club, the Tacoma Jim Conna Pony Club with 14 charter members, will be on hand for the Annual Parkland Roundup Parade, president and founder Henry Fawcett disclosed early this week.

One of the purposes of forming the organization will be to get the pony people together for shows, contests, parades, and other public events, Fawcett said. A project already undertaken by the club is a search for old stage coaches, buckboards, surries, and other horse drawn vehicles. Once found, the antiques will be preserved for display.

As many old vehicles as the club can locate and put into service will be driven in the Parkland parade, he stated. In addition, a number of ponies and riders will take part in the annual event.

Fawcett says the club is looking for new members, and those interested should contact him at 6463 East D. Street, GR 5-3113. Other new officers elected by charter members included Curly Watson, vice president; and Wayne Shornharst, secretary.

Parkland Roundup Parade officials are looking for entries of all kinds for the July 5 event.

Eatonville Senior Wins Scholarship

A scholarship to Fort Steilacoom Community College has been awarded to Beverly Anderson, an Eatonville High School senior.

Renton Handicap Six Furlongs

Longacres honors its home town next Sunday (June 8).

The Washington Jockey Club will present the 29th running of the $7,500-added Renton Handicap.

It was in 1933 that Longacres was built on the outskirts of Renton. Since that summer, Longacres has developed into one of the Nation's most modern and fashionable race tracks. And Renton has gained world fame as a progressive, dynamic "jet capital."

The distance for Sunday's headliner is six furlongs.

The race is for three year olds and upwards.

Tis Cricket looms as one of the pre-race favorites. The six-year-old gelding owned by Al Benton, Seattle realtor, and trained by Jim Penney, finished full of run behind Steel Blade and Silver Duke in the Memorial Day 'Cap. The additional yardage of Sunday's race should be to his liking.

Silver Duke, six-year-old Washington-bred gelding will command plenty of attention, too. The powerful runner stayed within striking distance of Steel Blade most of the way in the Memorial to finish second. Glen Williams, youthful conditioner, has the big runner honed to perfection.

Fleet Fair is another possibility for the Renton. Fleet Fair is a four-year-old gelded offspring of Fleet Nasrullah and appears to relish the sprint distance. The California-bred is trained by Bill McMeans.

Others likely to go postward include Melmitch, Big John Jr., Tizza Ruller, Sir Gladiator, and Determined Lad.

Longacres track standard for the six furlongs is 1:08 3/5 first set by Cold Steel in 1958. The record has been equalled four times but never surpassed. Lak Nak, now retired from racing, is the only repeat victor of the Renton Cap, having won it three times.

Racing will be conducted Wednesday and Friday at 4:15 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday at 1:45 p.m. this week.

His Business Is Picking Up!

For drivers like Eugene Murate, a Pierce County Refuse route is more than just picking up. Eugene has logged 45,360 safe, accident-free hours during the past 17 years as he traveled from house to house, from neighborhood to neighborhood. Eugene Murate knows what safe driving means to a community. He and his wife Doris are Spanaway residents and the parents of three children, Mike, Paula, and Allen. His eldest son Mike is completing basic training at Camp Pendleton, California, in the U.S. Marine Corps. A skilled driver, Eugene Murate has compiled an envious record in safe driving for himself, his family, his employer, and his community.
