Well Site Purchased For Spanaway Water Consumers

The Board of Directors of the Spanaway Water Co. this week announced they have contracted to purchase an additional well site to help serve the increasing demand for water in the Spanaway area. The 1-1/2 acre site is located west of 175th and Yakima. An increased amount of new homes are being built in Spanaway with more than four contractors building within six blocks of the new well site. One contractor, Don Loete, has started on a 20 house development near the well site, after his initial success with the sale of five houses built nearby. The good drainage for septic tanks plus public water has enabled builders to obtain F. H. A. approval on their sites. This, coupled with reasonable land prices, has created an interest among builders, reported Loren Buck, President of the Water Company. Last summer a major disaster struck the water company as the large pump failed during the height of the summer. The smaller pump carried the load for some days but failed before final repairs could be made. To prevent a recurrence, the entire pumping mechanism was overloaded. Test indicated that the well could produce more water so larger impellers were placed at a lower level.

The Directors have been desirous of extending a line under the Mountain Highway to serve the area East of Pacific Avenue, but there has not been sufficient number of share sales in this area to pay for this extension. "The only funds available to a non-profit co-op company as the large pump failed during the height of the summer," reported George King, Board member. The state requires the before final repairs could be made inside a steel sleeve jacked under the highway, which makes the cost considerable. Twelve concentrated customers east would make the crossing possible.

Mail 60,000 Easter Seals

Sixty thousand Pierce County homes are receiving Easter Seals in the mail this week as the Pierce County Society for Crippled Children and Adults prepares to open its 1962 campaign for funds Sunday. Mrs. Robert Myers of Tacoma, chairman for this year's drive, said volunteer workers had almost completed preparations for the mailing last week. Proceeds of the drive are used to aid crippled children and adults--5,022 in the State of Washington last year--by providing crutches, corrective shoes, braces, wheelchairs, artificial limbs, walkers, therapeutic pools and a speech and hearing school outdoor camping facilities, and many other services. In Washington last year, the chairman said, 89.7 per cent of the funds collected were used to assist the handicapped directly. The remaining 10.3 per cent helped finance the national society's research into the causes of crippling conditions and the improvement of rehabilitation programs.

The group is standing near the site of the powerhouse and in the far right

Let Me Tell One: The Sour Science

I'm tempted to jump with both feet this week into the controversy which has developed over the Saturday night fight for the World Welterweight Championship. My feelings in the matter are mixed. My first reaction was one of shock as I watched the doctor attending Benny Paret while the world looked over his shoulder. Having been on the receiving end (and the delivery) of a few blows in the "squared circle" I could feel for both participants during the course of the fight. When the referee stepped in to stop the fight, I was still of the opinion that Paret was on his feet. I felt that he had been beaten but it was not apparent just how severely until a few minutes later. The biggest reaction I got was later however, when the 'bleeding hearts' of my own profession began to beat their breasts and tell the world just how brutal the boxing profession really is. The second thoughts which have been brought up include censorship for the referee, for the handlers and for the manager of Paret, and on and on to the boxing promoter and commission responsible for the fight. Boxing is essentially a profession. Two men, usually in top condition, climb into a ring for the express purpose of fighting. Their methods may vary, but their main purpose is the same. They go into the game to make money. Beatings such as the one administered on Saturday night should never occur but are aware of what may happen. The part of the story which gets my dander up is the second thoughts and wailings of columnists throughout the country after the fact. Most of them welcome the events scheduled in the prize ring with long dissertations on the relative merits of the participants. They quote odds for betting purposes. They analyze boxing styles and give their opinions as to which of the participants will "emerge victorious". Then when injury happens, as sometimes happens, they turn around to tell their public how horrible the whole farce really is. Boxing should be recognized as a sport of mayhem, which pits individuals against each other in combat. If this is wrong, it is wrong in all phases. If it is proper to hold boxing matches then men are going to fight for money and the "championships" which are offered. It is of course no defense of the 'sport' to call it a business. But this is a fact, and the participants are aware of their chances. After taking an objective look at the situation, my feelings are still with the defeated boxer in the hospital bed, regardless of the circumstances surrounding his collapse.

Daffodil Activities

Ski enthusiasts will have an opportunity to once again play a big role in the week-long calendar of festivities of the Puyallup Valley Daffodil Festival, April 2-8, with the scheduling of the giant slalom at Paradise, Mt. Rainier.
Events of the four-community festival, which is one of the nation's outstanding shows, run the gamut from "sea level to ski level."
Prominent skiers from throughout the Northwest will take to the race course Sunday, April 8, the race being sanctioned by the Pacific Northwest Ski association and promoted by both the Totem Skiers, Inc. of Tacoma and the Puyallup Valley Daffodil Festival association.
Competition is scheduled for a mile-long, mile drop course above Masuma ridge and finishing at the bottom of Edith Creek basin. The run, according to course setter Bob Hentze, will include the shute, well-known to Daffodil Slalom racers as an icy no-turn drop through Edith Creek gorge.

There will be both A and B classes for men and women. Trophies will be presented for the first three places.
The race has a colorful history, dating back to 1948. Originally sponsored by the Tacoma Ski Club. After a lapse of several years, the event was resumed in 1956. Names of top skiers from all over the Northwest appear on the men's perpetual trophy, a silver punch bowl donated by the Tacoma Lumbermen's club. Included as such stars as Kalle Nergaard, Norway; Bob Brambach, Seattle; Don Gasaway, Tacoma; Otto Coucheron, Norway; Robin Miller, Don Brooks and Ron Funk, all of Portland.
Donors of the women's perpetual trophy was the Tacoma Athletic Commission, given in the name of Gretchen Kunitz Fraser, Olympic champion. The class A winners include such names as Jannette Burr, Dorothy Campbell, and Isa Giese, Seattle; Tammy Dix of Spokane; Mae Elbrant, Aspen, Colorado; and Shirley Fopp, Tacoma.
Race Chairman Rene Nelson asks all racers to register at the bottom of the course April 8 at 11:30 a.m. Race time is 1 p.m. Entry fees of $2.00 are for skiers belonging to any club affiliated with the PNSA, and $4.00 for unattached skiers. Applications may be obtained by writing Rene Nelson, 3412 Grandview Drive, Tacoma.

Wood Earnings Top Farm
Eighteen woodland owners made $4.06 for every hour spent on woodland work v.s. $1.01 per hour spent on total farm work. These facts were obtained over a ten-year period from 1948 to 1959 in a research study of eighteen woodland owners residing in northeastern Washington.
The study was made by Milton M. Mosher, Professor of Forestry at Washington State University.
County Extension Agent Loren Curry advises that persons wishing a copy of Mosher's study should ask at his office for bulletin No. 362, "The Economic Value of Eighteen Northeastern Washington Farm Forests."
The eighteen woodland owners making up this study has 63 per cent of their land in woodland. The farmers spent only 8 per cent of their "on the farm" work time in forest work, but net income from the woodland represented 36 per cent of total farm income.
The only thing we have to fear is fear itself.

"Blithe Spirit" Opens Friday

"Blithe Spirit", Noel Coward's London and Broadway hit, will open at the Tacoma Little Theatre March 30th.

This is a most unusual and entertaining show. One stage ghost was usually a little more than even Shakespeare could handle -- Noel Coward did handsomely with two. The play starts off with a frivolous seance that backfires by conjuring up a man's beautiful, mischievous late wife, who floats spectrally through his household, splashing delicate poison on his second marriage. Since the daffy medium, who contrived the lady's visit, lacks the power to terminate it, in no time things are at six and sevens, though artistically neat as a pin.

Adult Theatre Director, Olan K. Carson, plays the role of the suave "Charles", who seems to be a bigamist with two wives either in the ethereal world or in his house. Marion Bridges romps amusingly as the twitting first wife, Doris Busby, Junior Theatre Director, huffs expertly as the twitted second one; and Grace Garland plays the medium--who, in her trances, is as wild-eyed as a witch on a broomstick, and in her waking moments, hearty and chin-up. Other members of the cast are Byron Stensen, Julie Marshall and Dorothy Clark.

More information on this event can be obtained by calling Mrs. Diamond at LE 7-4419.

The marriage of Miss Luella Willard and Jan Weston was solemnized recently in West Lynn, Oregon.

Miss Willard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Willard of Dayton, Washington, and Mr. Weston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weston of Waller Road.

The groom's parents and family motored to West Lynn to attend the wedding, the first to be held in the new Presbyterian Church there.

The young couple will establish residence in Oregon City, near Portland.

a-Wondering . . .
and a-Wandering . . .

with Jack Brown

Did you ever give any real thought to the future of our country? Which way is it headed? How will our children fare in the years to come? The future of America rests on two elements and two elements alone. These elements, FAITH and FREEDOM, have been primarily responsible for the growth of our country from the beginning. Every great achievement in the final analysis has been made possible by the voluntary action of private citizens with faith in what they are doing and the freedom to do it. Keep these elements accessible to the populace and America will remain strong.

The leaders of this country will do well to strive above all else to hold the faith of U. S. citizens by representing them as they, the citizens, would have them do. They must not fail to listen to the voice of the people so that faith in our country will ever be renewed. Our leaders will do well to carefully consider every bit of legislation passed that adds to the burden of the taxpayer; adds to the never ending red tape of government; and adds another link to our shackles.

Faith and Freedom. . . We must retain that above all else.

I have noted with interest the increased practice of organizing useful work programs to employ applicants for relief under our national welfare system. More and more of those on relief are being put to work. It's

Mentally Retarded Topic Of Pierce Co. PTA Council

The final meeting of the year of the Pierce County Council of P.T.A. will convene Thursday, April 5 at the new high school in Buckley. It will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude at 2 p.m.

Mr. Ted Smith, Director of Special Education at the Rainier State School, will be in charge of the program, and will act as panel moderator for a discussion on "Are we meeting the needs of the mentally retarded?"

Officers for the coming year will also be elected. The nominating committee, elected at the February Council meeting, will present a slate of candidates that included two from the Parkland - Spanaway area.

Nominees include: for President, Mrs. Albert Weaver (incumbent), of Curtis Junior-Senior High PTA; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Cecil Brosseau, of Rushton PTA; Vice-President for the Junior-Senior High Section, Mrs. D. R. Michels, of Peninsula High PTA; Vice-President for the Elementary Section, Mrs. Waldon Johnson, of Peninsula Elementary PTA Vice-President for the Pre-School Section, Mrs. John Hartsell, of Spanaway PTA; Secretary, Mrs. Don Chesley (incumbent) of Buckley PTA, and Treasurer, Mrs. Robert Leonard, of Clover Creek PTA. Further nominations may be made from the floor.

The local PTA units will display their Record Books and History Books for judging, which will be performed at the spring luncheon May 10.

Members of the Buckley PTA who will serve on the hospitality committee at the April 5 meeting are Mrs. J. H. Bolton, Mrs. Norman Hunt, Mrs. Ed Johnson and Mrs. Woodrow Henry.

The group is invited to visit the Rainier School after the meeting.

Aid Withholding Woes In Future

Are you faced with large additional Federal income tax payments when you file your return? Is it because of withholding? If so, District Director, Neal S. Warren of the Seattle office of Internal Revenue says you have a way out in future years.

If you find yourself owing Uncle Sam an additional $100 or more, you can reduce the number of exemptions, or dependents claimed, by one or more, for withholding purposes.

If you owe a lesser amount, arrange with your payroll section to increase your withholding $2 or $3 each pay period or whatever approximate sum may be required to even out the tax owed.

There are some who hail the demands for unreasonably short work hours and higher wages as the road to ever better living for America. I see it as the incentive necessary to start the wheels rolling for the invention and production of even more labor saving devices.

Then what? will the next step be to pay some people for not working at all in order to reduce a labor surplus the same as we now pay some farmers to set on their fanny's and not plant in order to prevent over production?

Our economy can stand the strain of inflation up to a point just like a balloon. . . then boom. . . and we start all over again.

I note that one of the leading minds of America has predicted to the hour and minute the exact time that the U.S. government will go broke. If you follow his theory you'll find that it certainly does not seem to be mere fancy such as the date projected occasionally by those who think the world will end.

As I have said before in this article, with faith and freedom we'll come out of it, only so long as our citizens use their faith and freedom to gain an end and keep off their end.

Non-letter winners and newcomers include Dave Lee (880), Curt Gammell (high jump), Arv Meyer (hurdles), Paul Soderholm (javalin), and Dave Mann (discus).

The Fruitland Grange will have another party on Sunday, March 25 at 1 o'clock p.m. Work will be continued on the development of the Community Picnic Area and the playground. The chairmen of the various committees working on the project will hold meetings at that time, at the Grange Hall. The Community Service Committee; Mrs. Harold Hanson, Mrs. Clifford Hurst and Mrs. William Geddes and the Building and Grounds committee; Mr. Delbert Runkl, Mr. Ed Swalander and Mr. John Harber will be in charge, and a large turnout of Grange members and interested neighbors is expected.
