QUEEN KATHY FRYE and the Pierce County Fair royal court are preparing for the Fair Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in Graham's Frontier Park, 11 miles south of Puyallup on Meridian. Fair site was switched to Graham after 17 years in Sumner, and officials hope to make the move permanent. Negotiations are under way with the County to add another 20 acres adjacent to Frontier Park to allow for future Fair expansion. Queen and princesses were selected to represent the Fair on the basis of knowledge gained in 4-H work, personality, poise, and appearance.

Editorial . . . Challenge Issued To Commissioner Candidates

By Em Matson

A crucial period loaded with knotty problems faces the next Board of Pierce County Commissioners, and we hope candidates vying for the nod of the voters will offer meaningful solutions as their campaigns develop.

Unfortunately, in Presidential election years, vital local issues are too often ignored in favor of the latest national polls, detailed reports of national-level political activities, or overshadowed by hotly contested statewide races.

Lack of public concern for local problems, and a general indication that candidates campaigning for those offices failed to move voters, is verified by the usual heavy fall-off of ballots cast for what some consider "lesser offices."

But whether there is citizen concern or not, local problems have continued to compound themselves with population growth, and the day has arrived that positive steps must be taken to initiate solutions.

Saddled with the responsibility of spreading limited funds to adequately finance services provided by county government, the job of a jet-age county commissioner is riddled with complexities. No matter how efficient the heads of the various branches of county government may be, their ability to properly function is completely dependent upon how the commissioners act upon their fiscal requirements.

One area of county government in dire need of immediate budgetary attention is that of law enforcement. Although the Sheriff repeatedly has pointed out the need for law enforcement's keeping pace with county growth, in the past commissioners have denied his office the necessary up-dating because of a lack of money. For example, only three juvenile officers serve a population the size of the City of Tacoma, and spread out over a far greater land area.

No one debates the fact that the shocking increase in youth crime, including illegal drug traffic and usage, needs to be checked. But little has been done to offer noticeable relief in this and other areas of law enforcement. With an understaffed patrol, and a handful of detectives, the sheriff still must find men to maintain the county jail, serve warrants, and fulfill his functions as required by law. All this takes money.

Demands placed on County Assessors' offices by state legislation attempting to bring evaluations up to a standard has resulted in an immediate need for additional personnel in the Pierce County Assessor's Office. The constant task of keeping up with new evaluations in this rapidly expanding community, while at the same time updating the old to meet state requirements, has upped the budget requirements for this office.

Other branches face similar growing pains, each with an individual problem requiring careful fiscal evaluation by the commissioners.

But handling the county's purse strings is only a part of the responsibility that will be placed on the shoulders of newly elected commissioners.

Charting the present and future development of the county, legislating ordinances, maintaining and building roads, setting county policies, and keeping citizens aware of county programs, are a few of the other crucial aspects of the job.

Candidates seeking a seat on the Board of Commissioners undoubtedly have policy improvements in mind as well as suggested programs to meet growth.

One improvement that might be desirable would be a change in the procedure of making the meeting agenda public. Too often vital items scheduled for consideration are acted upon before the press has the opportunity to publish them, and the citizens to react. Agendas for board meetings are mailed a few days before a meeting date, and sometimes arrive after the meeting has taken place.

Certainly the future holds a difficult challenge for county government. We feel the voters deserve to know how each candidate proposes to meet that challenge. The importance of this office demands that the voter decision be based on more than name-familiarization campaigns, or whose name happens to appear first on the ballot.

We therefore ask that candidates seeking this office respond to this editorial by defining their stands on the issues. We will publish such declarations as submitted by candidates.

Bookmobile Set At County Fair

Since the middle of June, the Pierce County Library Children's Bookmobile has carried storytellers and library materials to children on county playgrounds four days every week. During the first six weeks of this service, more than 1200 children attended these story hours. The Pierce County Fair will be the last stop this summer for the bookmobile.

The Children's Bookmobile is stocked with 2500 books, along with phonograph records and magazines, and following each story hour there is a chance for young readers to select material to borrow. Several first library cards were issued, sometimes to young readers barely tall enough to reach the desk on which they made their application.

Old Timers' Picnic Slated At Spanaway

The eighth annual Old Timer's Picnic will be the order of the day at Spanaway Park at noon on Thursday, August 15.

Attending the picnic will be sons and daughters of the original settlers of the Puget Sound region. The old timers, most between 70 and 90, travel from as far as California just to attend this event. Ninety old timers attended last year's picnic, but less are expected on the 15th because of the passing of some of the members.

The potluck picnic will be centered at kitchen No. 7, near the South entrance of the park on 160th Street. Tea and Coffee will be provided.

For further information call Mrs. Carl Lindgren at LE 7-0234.

Winner Named

After two weeks without a winner, Mrs. George Cashman, 805 South 116th, identified her home as pictured in the Journal "Your House" ad to claim a jackpot that had grown to $27.

The Cashman's have lived in their Parkland home the past 25 years. Their sons, Kenneth and Robert, are graduates of Franklin Pierce High School. Cashman is employed in industrial electronics at Mann Russell Electronics.

With a winner declared, the amount of jackpot reverts to $9. A new sponsor, The Little Park Cafe, joins the "Your House" contest this week.

DAVID MOFFETT AND PAMELA FAUSKE
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fauske, of 1020 S. 124th St., have announced the engagement of their daughter Pamela to David Moffett. Moffett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Moffett of Kansas City. Miss Fauske, an Airline Hostess of TWA, is a graduate of Franklin Pierce High School. The future groom is also with TWA. The couple are planning a September wedding.

Bethel

By E. W. (Doc) Webster
Chairman
Bethel Board of Directors
August 5th

Before the regular board meeting all members met at the three room addition at Spanaway Elementary. It's a real nice job. Later by board action we accepted the classrooms. These rooms are greatly needed.

Dr. Gramann reported on the Thompson School which is coming along fine.

One of the big problems we have is acquisition of school sites. We have several prospects, but the prices are becoming a problem.

According to latest reports the middle school at 159th is also well on the way. We seem to have a high priority as well as need as far as state monetary assistance goes.

We also approved eight new teacher contracts which I believe is all we need.

So long until 8 p.m., Monday, August 19th, at the administration building.

Eatonville GOP Delegate Reports

Rain followed by sweltering heat, political hoopla, and pressure from presidential candidates was the impression Republican National Delegate Anita Jones had of the opening of the GOP Convention in Florida.

Her impressions were told in a letter to 29th District Republicans and passed on to the Journal by Col. R. H. Ziehm.

As of early this week, Mrs. Jones said that supporters of Candidates Richard Nixon and Nelson Rockefeller were working hardest to persuade delegates on the floor. A strong undercurrent was developing to place California's Governor Ronald Reagan into nomination for vice president, she said.

Her letter also contained a congratulatory note on opening a District Republican Headquarters at 8408 Pacific Avenue, and stated she was anxious to return to start campaigning for a legislative seat with Ernest Harmon. Both have filed for 29th District legislative seats.

This does not include three major stakes for two-year-olds, (The Sub Deb, Drumheller Memorial, Washington Futurity), the Hilltop Handicap for three-year-old Wash. breds, and the Washington Championship for Wash. bred three-year-olds and older horses.

These combined stakes will gross approximately $150,000 for the final 21 days of the meeting.

King's Favor, last year's Mile winner and early favorite for a repeat in this year's Mile renewal, is expected to make his 1968 northwest debut in the Governor's 'Cap. At 6½ furlongs, the race is designed as a logical tightener for the Mile two weeks hence and the climax races at longer distances.

Kings Favor, which earned $69,025 for his owner, Elt-taes Farm, in 1967, has been drilling with regularity on his home grounds. Kings Favor's most recent victory was the $40,000 San Pasqual Handicap at Santa Anita in February of this year. The King fairly "blew a hole in the wind" last Sunday morning drilling six furlongs in 1:10 1/5. Kings Favor is ready.

The Governor's lineup should include some of the other leading Derby and Mile nominees in the area. Derby contenders have stepped out of their age division to win this race.

Waller Road

By Mrs. Verne W. Fogle

Visiting the large tracts of land homesteaded by pioneers of the Matanuska Valley and inspecting deserted miners cabins along the Yukon were part of the fun provided by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Foss and family of Anchorage Alaska for her parents Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Geise, when they spent a two week vacation in Alaska. The Geises grand daughter Linda returned with them. The Geises' now appreciate the many vegetables they grow in their garden after checking prices at the vegetable stands there.

The Waller Road Grange men will be Barbecuing Chicken at the Pierce County Fair at Frontier Park, August 8, 9, 10. Be sure to attend and eat at the Pomona Grange tent. They will be serving complete meals as well as short orders.

The hot weather, offered no problem to the fair-goers at Waller Road July 28th. Almost 1500 turned out to enjoy the activities. About 450 were served barbecued chicken dinner with many taking chicken home.

The entries for the vegetable and canning show were down in number, as were the entries in the Floral Division. However the baking entries were larger. The exhibitors numbered over 100 in the inside displays. Mrs. R. W. Gordon Captured the trophy in the Flower Show, with 16 blue ribbons: — Mrs. Verne Fogle, for Canning with 11 blues. Others will be announced at a later date.

The award winning display of handicrafts of the Jr. Grange was a big attraction to the Fair goers. The many 4-H project displays were viewed.

4-H youngsters had 138 entries in the livestock show. Trophies from the Grange were presented by Pierce County Fair Queen Miss Kathy Frye to the following: For Fitting and Showing: Beef: — Junior Showman; Connie Frye, Senior showman; Andy McCown, Dairy; Junior Showman; Janice Schneider, Intermediate Showman; Paul Ulrich, Senior Showman; Patti Evans, Jeff Stowe, Sheep; Tom Wood, Goats; Dennis Baird, Rabbits; received a rosette in type, as did Teresa Gregory for Poultry and Pat Gregory for Geese.
