Story Inside Prep Gridsters Prepare For Opener

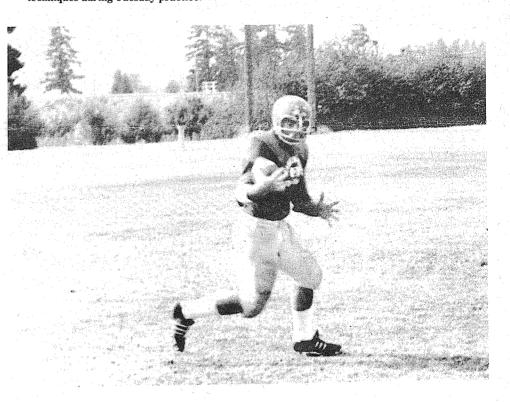

Bethel Assistant Football Coach John Ostrander supervises while shoulder and neck muscles are put back into shape for the bone-jarring contact that is the lineman's stock in trade.

LINE CLASH. Franklin Pierce linemen sharpened their blocking and rushing techniques during Tuesday practice.

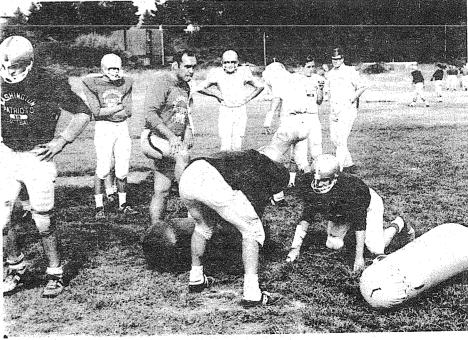

RETURNING BETHEL TACKLE Bury dumps returning back Failey as both toughen up for the coming season. The bruising contact of the opening days of turnout was repeated over and over as bodies met at full force at a dead run during the summer's heat for the last weeks.

MARTIN ROGERS makes a finger tip grab of a Harris pass during a recent practice session. The Cardinals staff of receivers includes returning letterman Rick Tripp.

SPEEDSTER STEVE BUTT takes a handoff from Quarterback Hans Woldseth during a last minute polishing session before the Patriots invade the Lakewood area September 12 for a contest with the Lakes Lancers.

Patrol Seeks Seat Belt Data

Have you ever been involved in a serious accident while riding in an automobile? Were you wearing a seat belt at the time?

The Washington State Patrol is interested in hearing about your personal experiences with seat belts and how they worked for you.

Sometimes it takes much more than just facts to convince people of the value of the seat belt habit. For that reason, it is felt that the personal experiences of the those who have used them to good advantage will be of Chief Will Bachofner of the Washington State Patrol is asking for letters from persons who have had Personal experiences with seat belts when by wearing them they perhaps saved a life or at least prevented serious injury to the wearer.

There are still "holdouts" who do not realize the importance of these safety devices, and consequently do not wear them. Perhaps you can help us to make these people realize how wrong they are.

If a seat belt has protected you or a member of your family, please write and tell Chief Bachofner about it. Address your letter to:

Dr. Gramann Opens Open Letter To Office Doors To District Residents Loveland Members Open office hours have been announced by Dr. Fred Published Gramann, Superintendent, of the Bethel School District. The hours will begin each Wednesday at 11:00 a.m. "Any resident of the Bethel District who wishes to ask questions or discuss problems with me may do so at 11:00 on any Wednesday morning," stated Dr. Gramann. He emphases that people should feel free to come at this time without calling ahead for an appointment. "Residents who not have children in the Bethel schools are also wel-come," continued Dr. Gramann.

Bethel Board

Enrollment increased 424 over last year to an all-time high of 4,888 students. The high school, bulging at the seams, housed 1,200 students. Students at the new Spanaway Elementary School were partially housed in the new building, but 7 classrooms of the condemned building had to be put into use for the next month while the remaining section is completed.

Kapowsin, up 11 per cent, led the elementary schools in growth for the same attendance area, and had 55 additional students for a total of

The Board studied the issues that may be placed on the ballot in November. A $950,000.00 bond issue has been recommended to continue the building program, and would include another elementary school, acquisi-tion of additional sites, and purchase of equipment for the new buildings. A decision on what to place on the ballot must be reached at the next board meeting on September

A report on the status of a 3-year research study to determine the effect of the perceptual motor program on reading was presented by school psychologist, Dave Sanford. Spanaway, Clover Creek, Kapowsin, and the Chester H. Thompson Elementary Schools will be involved in the study.

The board adopted a new schedule for board meetings and will meet on the 1st and 3rd Tuesdays of the month. The board will conduct offibusiness at both meetings, but after the first hour of the second meeting of the month, they will utilize the remaining time for study sessions.

The mechanics in the transportation department of the district were commended by the board on learning that in the past two years, every bus has passed the rigorous equipment test conducted by the State Patrol.

attempt to reach all Loveland Mutual members, to try and present to you some of the facts concerning our compa-First, the Committee for the Preservation of Loveland Mutual is composed of longtime members, not "strange and powerful opposition!" It was formed simply to attempt to save our company as an independent Mutual and to force from the management a meeting for the entire membership of Loveland Mutual

There would have been no meeting for the members on August 19, 1969, or any other time if the committee had not been formed and if an attorney had not been retained by the committee.

If you attended the August 19th meeting you know that you received very little information from Mr. Crate or any other member of the Board of Trustees. We feel that officials of other mutual companies should have been allowed to attend that meeting. You know that there was no appraisal made of our company by a disinterested firm. The only appraisal made was by Tacoma City Light who has a definite interest in the purchase of our company and by their own appraisal valued our company in excess of $2,000,000.00.

The Loveland management says they considered alternatives to the dissolution. What alternatives did they consider? Did the management consider the alternative of actually abiding by the rules of our by-laws? The rules state clearly that "laterals to the primary lines shall be installed and erected at the individual cost to the members who take service from such laterals." These installation charges have in many cases not been made! Free installation, free underground cable and free labor have naturally resulted in a financial drain on the company.

Did the management consider the alternative of updating our by-laws? The By-Laws were written many years ago and there is, in fact, a $10,000.00 limit on the amount of debt the company can incur without approval of two-thirds majority of the members. This $10,000.00 limit of indebtedness is one thing that has kept Loveland Mutual financially strong through all these years. However, with the changing times, the increaseing costs of labor, equipment and service the Loveland Mutual By-Laws should have been up-dated, the debt limit should have been increased, if it was nessary. Every other company, private or public, has up-dated By-Laws, policies and methods of operation to keep pace with the needs of our times.

Did the management consider the alternative of borrowing money from the Rural Electrification Administration? The Federal government created the REA many years ago for the express purpose of loaning money to establish electrical cooperatives and/or provide financial assistance to mutuals in rural areas. The REA loans money necessary for building and expansion to mutuals and cooperatives allowing 35 years for repayment of the loan and the interest rate is 2 per cent!

If Loveland management had been interested in preserving Loveland Mutual Co., if their prime concern was for the increasing needs and services which our members are entitled to, if they had our best interests in mind, they most certainly would have considered the REA lending program as an alternative rather than the short term, high interest rate offered by a commercial bank!

We are assured that dissolution and sale of our company is best for us. Is it really?

Tacoma City Light is a municipal corporation. In recent years municipals have secured tremendous powers. They now have the right to condemn private property for so-called re-development, they have the right to con-demn existing house wiring, to bring that wiring in accord with municipal codes & they have the right to levy assessments on consumers for expansion, maintenance or major line revisions.

A Mutual company does not and should not possess these powers! The major difference between the Municipal and Mutual is this: If we are served by a municipal corporation we are only consumers. If we are members of a mutual company we own that company! We have a direct say in the operation and management of the company. If we do not like the policy set by the Board of Trustees we can change that policy. We have no say in the policy, management or operation of a city owned municipal.

We are told it will cost approximately $200,000.00 to build and equip an office, to build a warehouse and purchase land for the buildings. Will it really cost that amount? Loveland Mutual already owns one acre of land on Muck Kapowsin Highway. right beside the new Elk Plain church. A portable building unit which could be used for office space and necessary warehousing could be purchased for a maximum price of $19,000.00. Office equipment, far more modern and efficient that we are renting; can be purchased for $300.00? Our office at the Crate home contains one desk, one chair, a typewriter and some filing cabinets. Most of our electrical supplies are "warehoused" on the ground — along the driveway to the Crate's barn. A part of the barn and a small shed contain some of the supplies. The line equipment, trruck, hole digger, etc. are owned by Mr. Crate. Most of this equipment is in very poor condition. Still, we pay rent in the amount of $840.00 per month to Mr. Crate for the use of his line equipment and for the use of Loveland Mutual's office.

Wouldn't it have been more reasonable for the Loveland Trustees to consider the alternatives of using the land we own, purchasing out own office and equipment and using the rental money to buy our own line equipment?

We have been told that Tacoma City Light will have to spend $1,000,000.00 to $1,500,000.00 to up-grade our lines, equipment, etc. How many years will it take to spend that money? How will it be spent? Won't City Light be required to spend a large part of that money anyway, for new substations and equipment which they are obligated to furnish under Loveland Mutual's existing contract with Tacoma City Light?

Loveland Mutual Co. covers a huge franchised area. An area actually larger than Tacoma and Parkland combined. In many areas we own franchises on both sides of the highway. That means, for practical purposes, that we have a monopoly in those places. No other company can build lines or give service in our franchised area. Further, the company has already completed the installation of most of our primary lines. The biggest expense is already done and paid for! Those persons wishing service from the primary lines must pay for the installation of laterals running off the pri-mary lines. This would mean money going into our company. Tacoma City Light or any other light company would would you want the brain of another to be transplanted into your body?

Perhaps somebody would, especially if his own brain were diseased or injured to the extent that death was imminent. But there would undoubtedly be a complete change in the personality of a man with a brain which had belonged to somebody else — with different heredity, different education, and different experiences.

Startling changes in personality, however, have come about in some instances — without any external physical change what-

Great Physician Who walked with men on this earth many years ago performed radical surgery on the personalities of many who submitted themselves to Him.

Supernatural Change

The spiritual surgery was so effective that the foul-mouthed lustful fisherman Simon became the Apostle Peter.

Saul of Tarsus, who himself said that he was "exceedingly mad" against the Christians and "persecuted them even unto strange cities," was transformed by the Master Surgeon into Paul the Apostle.

How odd it is that we can all believe the miracles of science but many of us do not believe the miracles worked by the God Who created the worlds and established the laws of science!

Have you tested the truth of the Scripture: "If any man be in Christ he is a new creation. Old things are passed away behold, all things are become announced last week.

Second Forty by Margaret Brookfield 🛮 A FORUM ABOUT MATURE WOMEN 🕮

Drinking Spouse Dear Miss Brookfield:

I am now 43 but I was married at an early age and have raised four children, all of whom are now married. I work but I am a very lonely woman. My husband has become an alcoholic and thinks only of himself. I have thought of leaving him but I know he would then run through everything we have worked so hard to acquire. Don't advise me to get help for his drinking problem. I have tried but was told that he is the one who must seek help if this problem is to be solved. Is this true?

C.C., Chicago, Ill. Dear C.C.:

You can get help that, in turn, can help your husband through an organization called A1-Anon. If you cannot find it listed in the telephone directory, check listings under "Alcoholism" or "Alcoholics Anonymous: Information for Families." AA can direct you to one of the Al-Anon offices in your city.

A1-Anon was established to help spouses and family members understand and effectively cope with the problems leading to alcoholism. Many members are eventually able to motivate the alcoholic himself into seeking help. Although the organization is especially active in metropolities help in metropolities tan cities, help is available to residents of rural and isolated areas, too. Contact Al-Anon, P.O. Box 182, Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y. 10010 for further information. In some rural areas, an A1-Anon member living nearby contacts the inquirer and together they form the nucleus of a new A1-Anon group with a common goal.

Menopausal Dizziness Dear Miss Brookfield:

How long does it take after the menopause for a woman to feel normal again? Mine occurred over a year ago. Friends tell me it will be three to five years before the biological adjustments are completed. Is this true? Among other problems, if I try to walk any distance I feel as if I am drunk. I don't know myself anymore.

AMBULANCE SERVICE

Dear A D:

The best advice we can offer is: ask your physician. The complaint you mention may be due to a deficiency of the hormone estrogen. If so many medical authorities recommend estrogen supplements to relieve the uncomfortable symptoms of this period.

How long does the meno-pause last? Actually, the word "menopause" only refers to a single event: the cessation of the menses. The so-called "change of life," however, covers a period of time before, during and after the menopause. The average premenopausal period begins somewhere between the ages of 40 and 49, and the postmenopausal stage begins at the average age of 53. Each of these periods is characterized by different symptoms and hormone patterns. Some women complain of nervousness, irritability or anxiety; others of hot flushes, night sweats, joint pains, itching of the skin and dizziness. The duration of the "change" varies with each individual. It may be less than a year; it may last two or three years or, in some cases, somewhat longer.

A Short Question Dear Miss Brookfield:

Would you believe a husband who says he was "working late" and then comes home with lipstick on his

Limit Your Own Family

News Service Cambridge, Mass. (WMNS) Caught between profound alarm over the population explosion and a longing for a large family, many thoughtful young couples feel they have found a neat solution: to limit their own children to two and to adopt the rest. "We haven't taken a vow or anything," said soft-spoken Ann Peabody, 29, whose hus-band Gerald, also 29, is on the verge of getting his doctorate in physics. The Peabodys, originally from California, are house residents (read: mature married couple available for comfort and advice) at one of the Radcliffe College dormitories.

Of friends and acquaintances who have decided to mix adopted and biological children in their families, Mrs. Peabody added, "We've each made our individual decisions. It's not something you just jump into.

"But it may be a trend. We know many people who are terribly concerned about overpopulation. We know there are so many kids around who would make splendid citizens if only they had loving parents. Who am I to say my genes are superior? Once you've changed a baby's diapers for a few months, he's yours.

Motherhood

So far, Mrs. Peabody has only changed the diapers of her biological children, Karen, 4, and Nathan, 1. But in a few years she and her husband expect to adopt a third child, probably one of interracial parentage because they feel that "little blond blueeyed children will get adopted in any case."

Another pair of Radcliffe house residents have already acquired their adopted child. Christopher Manuel, not quite CULOTTES — Floralprinted cotton knit shapes up into nifty sleep culottes with lace-edged ruffled trimming. In pink and orange or blue green combinations. are by Carter's a year old, of Mexican-German parentage.

James and Catherine Austin, both 26 and originally from Flint, Michigan, became agonizingly aware of population problems in South America where they served in the Peace Corps. Mr. Austin is now working for his Ph. D. in business administration. "When we got married five years ago," Mrs. Austin explained, "we decided that determining the size of our family was very much a moral question. We knew we would eventually be able to afford a large family. But someone has to take personal responsibility for what is hap-pening in the world. It doesn't make any difference whether you adopt first, or you have a biological child first.'

Grad Students All Other resident couples at Radcliffe who have taken the decision to mix giving birth and adopting include a graduate student in Far Eastern studies and another doing postgraduate work in education. A former resident, now teaching at Notre Dame University, is in the process of adopting a Vietnamese child. (This couple is noteworthy because, unlike most of the others, they rely on "a highly sophisticated rhythm system" to limit their biological family rather than the virtually foolproof birth control pill). Mrs. Austin's doctor, who has three children and wants more, is now considering adoption.

At the New England Home for Little Wanderers, which placed the Austin child, Casework Supervisor Robert Wise said that interracial adoptions seem to be growing and that most of the adopting parents have two motives: helping a child who needs a home and taking a personal stand against the population explosion. Almost all already have children of their own, he added.

High School Grid Wars Open Sept. 12

With the 1969 high school football season opening September 12, coaches of area prep teams spent the early part of the week polishing their attack.

Bethel coach Ed Tingstad will take the Braves to Fife for a battle with the Trojans. Franklin Pierce, coached by Joe Mancuso, will take on the Clover Park Warriors at Cardinal Field, while their cross district rivals, the Washington Patriots will undergo their baptism of South Puget Sound League fire at Lakes. The Patriots are coached by Tom Gilmer.

The Cardinals boast 17 returning lettermen, and have been picked as one of the teams in the conference to beat. With a front wall that averages 195 pounds, the speed of Martin Rogers and Mark Conrad, and the arm of Woody Harris, Franklin Pierce should offer the Warriors some stout competition.

Although untested in Puget Sound League varsity play, the Washington Patriots are rated as the best expansion team in the league. Last year, the Patriots were undefeated in sophomore competition, and are full of team spirit and drive. The Washington attack will be lead by quarterback Hans Woldseth and backs Steve Butt and Randy Hestor.

Bethel promises to be one of the stronger contenders in the Seamount League. The Braves have 14 returning lettermen, and a well-balanced offense backed with a scrappy, experienced defense. Handling the quarterback chores will be Skip Thiel and Dale Falley, who will work with running backs Jody Miller, Chuck Bullion, Tom Bullion, and Gary Grazzini.

Adult tickets for the games are available at the gate through the High School offices. Bethel fans can purchase a special adult ticket good for any of the home athletic contests during the coming year. They are now on sale at the Bethel High School office for $12, a savings

At Spanaway

The Metropolitan Park District and Pierce County Park Department boys football teams will compete in a joint amboree Sept. 21 at the Harry Sprinker Recreation Center in Spanaway. Five football fields have been laid out on the Sprinker Center grounds for use in the jamboree and for all County boys football competition during the regular season.

Youngsters in the Small Fry (10-under), Rookie (11-under), Pee Wee (12-under) and Bantam (13-under) leagues in the city and county will compete in the day-long jamboree to open the football season.

League play is scheduled to start Sept. 28 for all Pierce County leagues. Teams in the Pierce County boys football program are expected to represent McChord Air Force Base, Fort Lewis and the Franklin Pierce, Bethel, Lakewood, Firerest and University Place areas.

In those places where our lines are too small to supply sufficient voltage it is possible to make use of a portable sub-station to assure electricity to the effected area while the changeover is being made. Most of our older, smaller lines are made of copper. Copper is being sold at premium prices and the sale of the old copper wire would pay for the new larger aluminum wire needed for higher voltage.

Qualified linemen, electrical engineers and officials from other power companies have carefully inspected our lines. Their considered opinion is that our lines are in very good condition and that the only way $1,000,000.00 could be spent on our lines is for ten (10) men, working 40 hours a week, for a period of ten (10) years to literally bury our equipment as hard and fast as they could.

Tacoma City Light is required by contract to furnish and maintain adequate substations and equipment to assure good service and proper voltage to members of Loveland Mutual Co. We believe that City Light has not been meeting the terms of our contract. They have, just now, the week of Sept. 1st, appropriated money to purchase a site for building a new sub-station. This new sub-station has been desperately needed to give better service to our Loveland members and will correct a large part of our low voltage problem. Why did Tacoma City Light delay the building of this sub-station until members at the August 19th meeting forced Mr. Erdahl, of Tacoma City Light, to admit their responsibility and promise to build the sub-station before

Our members should consider carefully these facts:

1. A Mutual company, owned by the members, properly managed and operated, is more efficient, provides better service and more benefits to its members because it is answerable directly to the members.

2. If we sell to City Light we lose our voice in the policy, operation, rates, levies and-tions and service concerning us. Remember, we are County Residents, not City. County residents have no control over city affairs.

3. You are being asked to accept $425.00 in exchange for your independence and your ownership of a very valuable power company. Remember too, if your house wiring is condemned you will pay for the rewiring. How far will your $425.00 go towards that

4. Remember! The records of our company are, under law, required to be open to any Loveland member at any reasonable time. Ask yourselves why it took a court order to enable us to attempt to get the list of names of Loveland Mutual Members so that we could present these facts to you.

Ask yourselves why the names and addresses of our members were so confused in the card index file, i.e., members with no addresses, members with many addresses, members with no memberships, memberships still in effect to persons who have been dead ten (10) and twenty (20) years, and transfers of memberships never completed to new owners of property.

Mr. Crate and members of the Board of Trustees stated in Court there was no list of members. Yet, Mr. and Mrs. Crate were able to send out still another letter to the members under date of August 26th.

Eight (8) of us worked for five (5) hours attempting to obtain a list of members and still were unable to get an accurate list from the card index file.

The letter of August 26th, signed by Mr. Crate, "speaking for the Board of Trustees" came as a surprise to at least two of the trustees. There had been no board meeting called, the trustees did not help draft the letter and in fact knew nothing of this letter that "spoke for them" until they were questioned about the letter by various Loveland

5. Ask yourselves whether we need to sell our company or whether we need a new manager and a new Board of Trustees.

members.

By Bill Hallman With the propsects of their best season in the last ten the Bethel Braves grid squad will take to the road tomorrow night to battle Fife in their season opener.

"We are very excited about the coming season, because we feel we have an excellent opportunity to finish on tope,' stated the Braves' head mentor, Ed Tingstad.

Coach Tingstad feels there will be a great deal of competition in the league this year with Enumclaw, Sumner, Curtis, Fife, Peninsula, White River, and North Thurston all returning just as good, if not better, than last year. Bethel will be sporting nine returning lettermen, eight of whom saw starting action on last year's squad. The Braves have two-year lettermen Jody Miller and Chuck Bullion in their returning backfield of four backs. Miller finished in the top ten in scoring in the Seamount League last year with 56 points.

Other returning lettermen are backs Dale Failey and Gary Grazzini, and linemen Steve Dawson, Steve Bury, Doug Bury, James Dunham and Bill Robinson.

500,000 Expected For Puyallup Fair

The Western Washington Fair in Puyallup opens its gates this Saturday, September 13, for the 66th time since

Before the nine big days and nights are over, Fair officials expect more than 500,000 persons to enter the 46 acres of fun, exhibits and excitement.

And the Fair is just about ready. A small army of workers are putting the finishing touches on the buildings and grounds. Buildings are gleam-ing in their new coats of white paint, exhibitors are setting up their booths and stalls, the midway rides are being bolted place and the beautiful new flag plaza, housing all of the Women's and Hobby Displays, is ready for the final artistic touches. Everywhere, workmen and exhibitors are scurrying under, ov-er, around and through the grandstand, buildings and rides carrying paint, tools, brooms, and lumber. The trucks are arriving with hay for the barns, food for the restaurants and everything else from fruits and vegetables to big beef cattle. The exhibitors, the concessionairs, the department supervisors, they've all been here before and they know what to do.

They'll all be ready for the first visitor to pass through the gate shortly after 7:00 am on Saturday, Soon after that, the biggest fairgrounds in the Pacific Northwest will be packed with people.

For many people, the fair is an old time institution, a family adventure that out funs anything since Christmas. They go, year after year happily anticipating. But for the first timer, the Fair is a pleasantly surprising and new experience.

About GI Home Loans Slow Pitch Finals

The Veterans Administration reminded returning veterans today they are eligible for home loans for 12 to 20 years after they get out of John B. Kirsch, Manager of the Seattle VA Regional Of-fice, explained that eligible veterans who served after January 31, 1955, will have a maximum of 20 years from the date of their discharge or until March 3, 1976, whichever is later, to take advantage of their G.I. home loan benefit.

To determine the expiration date of his own eligibility, each veteran who served after January 31, 1955, can assume that he has 10 years after his discharge from active duty plus one year for each three months of military service, Kirsch explained.

Thus, he said a Viet-Nam era veteran with two years service, for example, would have 18 years after discharge to use his G.I. Bill loan guaranty entitlement.

New PLU Prof.

Former Pierce County curriculum director Donald W. Petty, Puyallup, has been appointed to the Pacific Lutheran University faculty as an assistant professor of education, Dr. Eugene Weigman, university president, announced.

Petty, 41, will serve as a Teacher Corps advisor and an assistant professor in the department of education. The Teacher Corps is a federally-founded program designed to prepare students for teaching is disadvantaged or poverty areas.

Petty served as county curriculum director during 1967-68, after three years as associate professor of education at Western Montana College.

He earned a bachelor of science degree from the Oregon College of Education, majoring in elementary education. He received a master of science degree in administration from the same school in 1957 and obtained his doctorate at the University of Oregon in educational administration in 1964.

Petty is a member of Pi Kappa Delta, Washington Education Association and the National Education Association.

Indian Problems Heard

Legislative hearings to investigate the educational problems of Indian and migrant children will be held September 12 and 13 at The Center for the Study of Migrant and Indian Education in Toppenish, Washington. The meetings are scheduled to begin on both days at 9:00 a.m.

Plans for the hearings were announced today by Representative Dale E. Hoggins, Edmonds legislator, and Chairman of the Indian and Migrant Education Subcommittee of the Legislature's Joint Committee on Education.

Hoggins commented: "The major purpose of these hearings is to introduce the Subcommittee to the general problems of Indian and migrant education. In addition, we intend to look into the specific difficulties encountered when students from these minority subcultures enter the public schools."

"The dropout rates among

"The dropout rates among Indian and migrant students are extremely high and in some areas are close to 100 per cent! We want to see what the State can do to help schools and students overcome these very serious difficulties," Hoggins stated.

Sgt. Maj. Joseph A. Mc-Callister Jr., Spanaway, received the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service with the U.S. Army Advisory Group, Milwaukee, Wis., from August 1968-1969.

The medal was presented by Col. Keith F. DubBois, commander of the 4th Military Police Group (Criminal Investigation) at Headquarters Fourth U.S. Army, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex., for whom Sergeant Major McCallister is group sergeant major.

Sergeant Major McCallister entered the Army in December 1942 and was a chauffeur for six generals in Europe during World War II, including Generals Eisenhower and Patton.

Other overseas service includes Korea 1947-48 when he was first sergeant for a Military Police unit, 1965-66 when he held similar duty in the Dominican Republic, and Vietnam 1967-68, when he was a division operations sergeant for the Military Police.

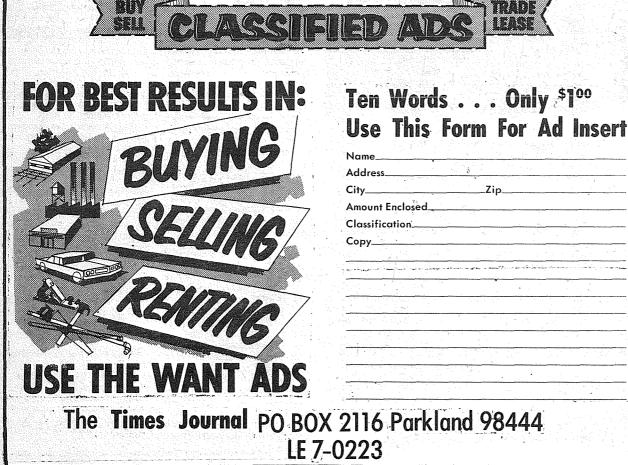

His other awards are the Silver Star, two awards of the Bronze Star Medal, the Combat Infantryman Badge and the Vietnamese Technical Service Medal Second Class.

His wife, Margret, lives on a rural route at Spanaway, Wash.

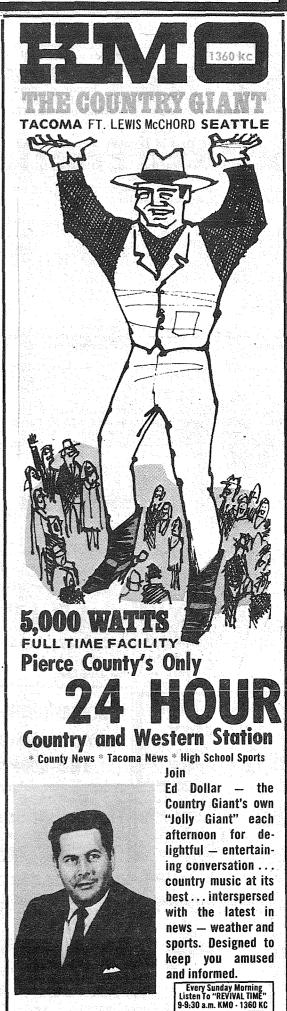

Mrs. Gayle Hogg, 773 S. 138th St., is congratulated by her niece, Kathryn James, Sacramento, Calif., center, and her mother, Mrs. Rose James, Tacoma, following summer graduation exercises at Pacific Lutheran University Friday. Tacoma Lariettes held their Zone approved game show last Sunday of the sixth. They totaled 409 entries. I would of had the results but in talking to Barbara Riiki they had already been mailed into the state. Barbara said the show went over real well.

Mrs. Vosburg was telling me of the honors received by Linda Ash, the daughter of Glen Ash of Spanaway. Linda had the honor of being able to go to the National Arabian Show last week and was able to bring home the honor of being GRAND CHAMPION WESTERN PLEASURE at the show. Congratulations to Linda on a beautiful performance.

Opening on first of October will be the new building of the Rodeo Custom Shop. With new facilities and eventually a larger line of products the Shop will be one of the nicest western shops around. We're all oking forward to the opening of the New Rodeo Custom Shop.

On September 14, the Horsemasters will be holding a show. This show consists of Jumping, hunt seat Equitation, Working hunter, English pleasure Road, Hack, and other classes. Judging the show will be Mr. Jim Garvision. For more in-formation contact Janet Waagmeester in Port-land, Ore. Phone 255-6767. Here is a good chance for English riders to see the Horsemasters per-

Sept. 20 and 21 will be the Tacoma Unit #1 Sponsored Tri-Challenge show. It will have a full schedule of AQHA halter and performance events with added events for the paints and appallossas. In the divisions of pleasure, reining and trail horse, all three breeds will compete for a beautiful trophy saddle. Also, there will be tro-phy saddle blankets, monogrammed horse coll-ers and other tack as well as trophies. The club has several new innovations planned and it should be an interesting, fast-paced show for exhibitor and spectator alike.

Washington Ranks Third

Washington now ranks third in the nation in the percentage of dairy cows bred artificially, according to Eddie Thomason, Pierce county Extension agent.

Last year Washington ranked 12th in the nation and, in moving to third, is lead only by Florida and Hawaii.

"It is not entirely coincidental," said Thomason, "that Washington also ranks third in production per cow. And, among those that are on the Dairy Herd Improvement Association plan, Washington cows are number one.

"It looks very much as if Washington could soon be first in both areas based on the increased use of artificial insemination and the genetic improvements this can be expected to foster," Thomason said.

During the past year, 73 per cent, or 135,600, of Washington's dairy cows were bred artificially as compared with 581/2 per cent the previous year

Thomason explained the percentage increase. An additional 24,000 cows were bred in that manner and, secondly, the total cow population de-clined by 10,000 cows. Although there was a significant increase in the use of A.I., statistics show a decline in crossbreeding dairy cows to A.I. beef sires. The figure was down by 3500 cows from the previous year.

"All of this points toward greater genetic improvement in our state's dairy population," Thomason said.

There are about 270 performance-tested dairy sires available to Washington diarymen through four A.I. outlets, thus giving a wide choice for sire selection and greatest genetic improvement.

Nationally, 50.5 per cent of all dairy cows were bred by A.I. This amounts to more than seven million cows and marks the first time the 50 per cent figure was reached. Twenty years ago only five per cent of the nation's dairy cows were A.I. bred, a method that was started in this county in 1938.

The average number of cows bred per A.I. sire in 1968 was 3,334, as compared to about 30 cows per sire for those used in herds under natural breeding service.

Fire Danger

Forest fire danger east of the Cascades is ranging from very high to extreme: Keep Washington Green reported today.

The statewide prevention agency called for extra cau-tion in range and forest areas because of the severe dry-

"Accumulated drying is now dangerously high throughout most of central and eastern Washington according to the State Department of Natural Resources, said Ed Loners, Keep Washington Green director.

'There has been no appreciable rainfall east of the Cascades since early July," Loners pointed out. "Low humidity and frequent winds are aggravating this situation."

Forest fuels are so dry that a fire would ignite easily and burn deeply and quickly into ground cover. Any fire started now would be difficult to put out," he said.

"Conditions will grow steadily worse until moisture falls. Obviously, everyone must be extremely careful to avoid starting a forest or range fire," Loners con-

Forestry News Becomes Essential

Rapid log price changes, new technology, and changing market out-lets for more forest products constantly put pres-sure on forest product managers to keep abreast of the times.

One method of accomplishing this, according to Pierce County Extension Forester Bob Bradley, is to read a periodic news-

A number of these are originated as part of the educational services of-fered by the Cooperative Extension Service of Washington State University.

Joe Buhaly, WSU Extension forester, who is a periodic contributor to such newsletters, says that keeping up with trends is vital to produc-

"Whether producing logs, pulpwood, or Christ-mas trees, the astute manager needs to know changes occurring in the industry. The recent industry. The recent shortage of logs in the Northwest emphasized the need to keep all forest lands producing at maximum levels," Buhaly said.

Extension Foresters or agents dealing with forest products put out newsletters serving most Wash-ington counties. In other locations, the Extension office can recommend the "Forest Products Price Report" distributed regu-larly statewide through the Statistical Crop Re-porting Service, Seattle.

Persons wishing to be placed on the mailing list to receive the Pierce County newsletter "Forest Facts" should contact the Cooperative Extension Service office located Tacoma or telephone FU 3-3311 Ext. 511.

Tax Group Meet Again Thursday

EDGEWOOD - The Edge wood Community Service Group Tax Committee, recently formed by an area citizens who are concerned about real estate taxes in Pierce County, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Edgemont Junior High School, announceed chairman Joe Troxa.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the results of the tax questionnaire distributed recently by the commit-tee and to go from a committee to an organization, said Troxa. The committee re-commends those who attend to bring their own tea bag for refreshments, he said.
The property tax questionnaire revealed a number of surprising answers, Troxa said. More than 67% of those who answered the said they were dissatisfied with the assessors evaluation of their property. Sixty-two percent said that the increase in taxes would represent a real hardship and more than 14% said they would be forced to sell their property.

More than 90% of the citizens who answered the questionsairs were interested in ionnaire were interested in more Town Hall tax meetings and asked for informed speakers and a question and answer period during the meetings. At least 92% said a better tax relief plan should be in force for the elderly and 86% wished the tax committee to work to get HJR 1, assessment based on actual use of the land as opposed to the market value now used, passed during the special January legislative session.

RETURN OF SALE

OF REAL PROPERTY

In the Matter of the Estate of

ceased.

COMES NOW the personal representative in the above referred estate, and respectfully shows the Court as follows:

That in compliance with the order of the Court heretofore order of the Court heretond entered, the subject hereinafter described real property was listed for sale with Tacoma Realty, Inc., a real estate broker licensed to do business in Pierce County. Several offers in the form of earnest money were received, the personal represent-ative having examined and rejected those offers not complying with statute. The highest and best offer was made by Michael J. and Betty R. Murphy, husband and wife, offering the sum of $8,675,00 as cash, less the amount of the outstanding mortgage, which the purchasers agree to assume and pay according to its terms and conditions. That said offer is 100% of the appraised value of the estate. The property is described as follows: Lots 20 and 21, Block 10, CASCADE PARK ADDITION TO

TACOMA:

Said bid was submitted through Tacoma Realty, who will be entitled to a commission of 6% upon closing sale.

The personal representative accepted said bid, sold the property subject to the approval of the Court, and recommends that this report be approved and that the sale be confirmed on or after September 22, 1969, and that the Court direct the execution of the necessary instruments of conveyance to consummate the sale.
