Founders Honored Wild Game Top Scout Fifteenth Annual Pierce County Junior Fair

HONOR NIGHT FETES FOUNDERS — Friday, August 2nd the members of the Summit Teen Club honored their founders. ### Summit Teens Sgt. Weathers Take Time To In Germany Thank Founders For Six Months

(AHTNC) — Army Sgt. Coy T. Weathers, whose wife, Mary, lives at 2009 S. 106th St., departed from Fort Riley, Kan., in mid-July, with other members of the 1st Division's 2d Battle Group, 8th Infantry, for duty in Germany as part of Exercise LONG THRUST VIII. The six-month tour is designed to test the capabilities for reinforcing NATO defenses in Europe. The 37-year old soldier, son of Mrs. Bessie L. Stephens, Rt. 1, Fuquay Springs, N.C., entered the Army in July 1944 and was last stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Signs throughout the park will point to the barbecue location in area six, near the ball diamond. Explorer Scouts of Troop 29 will be on hand to direct traffic, parking, and clean-up operations.

Charge for the wild meat feed will be $1.75 for adults and $1.00 for children — which covers all you can eat including salads, rolls, vegetables, and beverages. Dave Stokesberry is general chairman for the Scout Committee and John Wartenbe heads the assisting businessmen's group.

Bill Rave, president of the Youth Center Association and the man for whom the Y. C. was named, finds that working with the teenagers keeps him young. Rave, who spends much of his time at the Youth Center, is proud of the Summit community for their enthusiasm in the Center and when he sees large crowds on the Center grounds replies, "This must be a YOUTH Center."

To "two great guys—Mike and Bill"—the members of the Teen Club would like to publicly thank you for your hard work and continuing co-operation in the Summit community.

Clover Creek Scout Troop Earns Merits Playground Season Is Almost Over

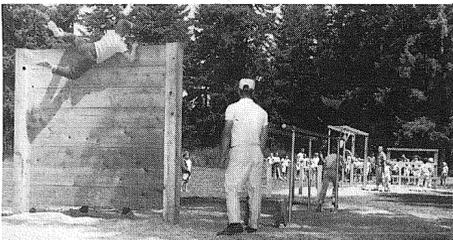

At a recent camping at Camp Hahobas, attended by eleven Boy Scouts of Clover Creek Troop 79 and two adults, there were eight merit badges earned and six boys made their second class swimmers mark. One boy completed his second class requirements.

For their total point accumulation in both on the water and camp activities the troop gets its name on The Broken Paddle. The merit badges earned will be presented at a court of honor in the near future.

Adults attending with the boys were Fred Kistenmacher and Ben Wade, Scout Master. Boys attending were Mike Schueller, Mike Matter, Mike Kalahan, Fred Kistenmacher Jr., Danny Darrett, Chuck Hiller, Garry Wade, Albert Alvarez, Ronnie Orchard, Kerry Berry, and Steve Loper.

Bay has a very pungent flavor. Use it sparingly or it will predominate over other flavors. When a little is required, it's wise to use cracked bay leaves.

Up And Over

Road Work Will Begin Here Soon

The contract awarded by the Washington State Hiway Commission to drain, grade, surface, pave, construct fencing and install a traffic signal system in the Spanaway Loop and Military Road area was awarded to Woodworth and Co., Inc., of Tacoma who submitted the low bid of $28,910. Work is expected to begin within three weeks and completion is set for within 45 working days.

Junior Leaders will have a picnic in their honor next week. Most of the play-

Wild Game Eaters Have Open Season

Deer Me! The good news is hard to bear! It almost sounds Fishy! However, it ain't. A wild meat barbecue in Spanaway Park this weekend will feature not hamburgers and hotdogs, but venison, bear meat, and salmon—with pork and beef thrown in for the not so gamey tastes.

Sponsored by the Scout Committee and underwritten by the S. 84th Street businessmen, the two-day feed will begin at 11 a.m. on Saturday, August 9, and last until 7 p.m. Sunday's session commences at 1 p.m. and will last until 7 p.m.

Proceeds from the barbecue will be used to help defray expenses of sending Boy Scouts to the National Jamboree next summer at Valley Forge, New York. Cost per scout for these trips is $450, of which each scout must provide at least $150. The committee, backed by the 84th Street businessmen, hopes to raise the remainder.

Spanaway Boy Will Attend National Meet

Dennis Magnuson, Explorer Scout, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Magnuson, Spanaway, will represent the Mount Rainier Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the 48th anniversary National Conference of the Order of the Arrow to be held August 20-23 at the University of Illinois.

Over 3,000 delegates from across the country are expected at the conference which will have the theme "Catch the Higher Vision." The Order of the Arrow is the honor camping society of the Boy Scouts of America dedicated to promoting Scout camping and the ideals of Scouting.

The local delegate will represent the 225 members of the Tahoma Lodge of the Order of the Arrow. Dennis Magnuson, 18, lives in Spanaway and belongs to the Southeast Chapter of the Lodge.

The conference program, which was completely planned by the young members of the Order of the Arrow, will include many discussion groups on the subjects of interest to today's youth, huge displays and demonstrations of physical fitness techniques, camping setups and equipment, and Indian dancing and crafts. There will also be recreational activities and a talent show as well as nationally-known speakers.

Terry Murphy, Lodge Chief of the Tahoma Lodge, said, "At a time when young people around the world seem to be searching for ideals, we believe this conference can be especially important in the inspiration it can give our delegates to bring home. Through this conference we can find how we can best help the new Scouting there, 'Strengthen America — Scouting Can Make The Difference.'"

One Theme For All At Bible School

Those wishing to buy at the sale may specify which slaughterhouse they wish their animals to go to and fair officials will see to it that the lamb is delivered there for later pickup.

Ted Mezen, Superintendent of the sheep department, states that the purchase at the fair means provision by the fair of the delivery service and the meat may be picked up, cut and wrapped ready for the locker or freezer.

The hour of 5 o'clock Saturday has been set, so that husbands and wives may come together to the sale. It is planned also to be over before the evening show starts, Mezen added.

Old Time Fair Features Something For Everyone

The biggest event for the youth of the county, the Pierce County Junior Fair, opened its gates this morning for three jam packed days. This 15th annual Youth show is the culmination of a year's work for the 4-H and Future Farmers of America exhibitors.

The 20 acre Spartan Field in Sumner is filled to overflowing with exhibits of every shape and form. It's a regular old county fair with something for every member of the family to enjoy.

The youngsters started the day off with a pancake breakfast sponsored by the Puyallup Rotary Club and the Junior Fair Board. From then on the day is scheduled to the brim with such things as the judging of rabbits, horses and forestry exhibits; a dog show; the opening of the State Dahlia show and the Capitol District of Federated Garden Clubs Flower Show, and in the afternoon there will be a tractor driving contest.

The fairway is lined with organizational and commercial booths and displays which offer the fair-goers food, games of chance and the latest in building products. And of course, there are lots of rides for the tiny tots.

Inside Spartan Hall, the large gymnasium, you will find Grange booths and the two big flower shows, plus displays by the Air Force, Coast Guard, Navy and Army. Organ music will be played throughout the day, and seating will be provided, giving a chance for visitors to stop, rest and enjoy the exhibits.

Friday morning at 7:30 the Sumner Chamber of Commerce will hold their meeting at the fairgrounds and members of the Puyallup and other Chambers of Commerce are invited to attend.

On Saturday noon the Granges of Pierce County will enjoy lunch at noon and will then adjourn to the gymnasium for an afternoon program, presented by Queen Jade Perryman and her court.

Beginning at 6 p.m. each evening the Puyallup Aero Modelers group will be flying model airplanes from the infield in front of the large grandstand. This exhibition, under the direction of Bruce Gale and Allen Foreman, members of the Puyallup Club, will have airplanes that fly by remote control as well as some on strings.

The evening program will begin at 7:15 with an organ prelude by Miss Robin McCabe. At 7:30 p.m. Master of Ceremonies and President of the Jr. Fair Board, Dr. Vilt Ferrucci, will take center stage, signaling the beginning of one and one-half hours of continuous entertainment.

Thursday evening the spotlight will shine on beautiful Jade Perryman of Parkland as she is crowned Queen and ruling monarch of the festivities. Surrounding Queen Jade will be her court of four lovely 4-H princesses, Miss Jean Carson of Thrift, Miss Mary Tenuis of Puyallup, Miss Julianne Borgert of Gig Harbor, and Miss Shari Bernsten of Parkland, in their gay pastel gowns.

Included on the programs all three evenings will be such outstanding talents as Coffel's Olympians, three people doing precision work on the trampoline; the Garfield Russian Knights, three young cossack dancers from Garfield High School in Seattle who do authentic Russian dances dressed in colorful outfits; the Ivy Three, a singing group; Ivar and Ching, a trained horse that does fantastic feats of skill; and the Nordic Trio, three young men from Pacific Lutheran University. All three evening programs will be different.

There will also be other events. Domino the Clown will be there to entertain the youngsters. Admission to the fairgrounds is free.

Buttons Will Admit Public To P.M. Shows

The Junior Fair patron, adult and children's buttons will serve to admit their owners to the evening grandstand shows all three nights of the Junior Fair which opens today in Sumner. Admission to the 20 acre fairgrounds is free as always. The evening show is the only cost.

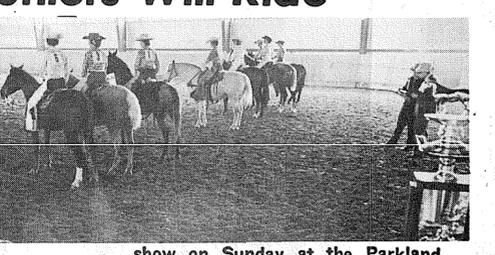

Those who are not wearing a booster button will have to pay an admission charge which will be 50c for adults and 25c for children, for each evening. Thus you can see three shows for the price of two, if you buy a button.

The booster buttons, selling for $1.00 for adults, 50c for children, and $5.00 for patrons, have been selling rapidly across Pierce County. Queen Jade Perryman and her court of four princesses have been visiting service clubs and organizations for several months to tell the story of the Junior Fair and to sell buttons. All county 4-H clubs are also salesmen and are competing for three prizes going to the top three button selling clubs.

Also on sale to aid in financing the fair are handsome participating member ship plaques which sell at $15.00 to be hung in offices, establishments or homes. Three patron buttons also go with the plaques which makes it an excellent bargain.

Come to the Pierce County Junior Fair in Sumner this week-end. Buy a booster button and see all three evening grandstand shows featuring professional acts. All three are different.

Letter To The Editor

Mr. Jack Brown, Publisher, Times Journal
Dear Sir:
Just a line or two to thank you, the Optimist Clubs and the many other people responsible for bringing the National Air Show to Thun Field.

Being the first air show my family or myself has ever seen, it was quite exciting. Seeing the many people flying in before the show and leaving afterwards brought to mind your many flying experiences you have written about in your "A-Wondering and A-Wandering" column. Flying must be wonderful!

I'm quite sure there wasn't a person there, who, like myself, didn't relax in the solitude of his living room, stare at the ceiling and imagine himself at the control stick of those wonderful planes, especially Harold Krier's Great Lakes Special.

My hand and heart go out to you, Jack Brown, and the many other pilots who took part in the air show to make flying so enjoyable to grounded folks such as myself.

Thank you very much.
Sincerely,

Entries for the show may be made between 7 and 10 p.m. Wednesday, August 7, or between 7 and 10 a.m. on the opening morning of the fair. There are three divisions, Youth, Novice and Open Class. Participation in the show is welcomed and invited. Exhibitors need not be residents of Pierce County.

Another gorgeous display of color will be seen at the Capitol district of Washington State Federated Garden Clubs exhibit. This is also open to the public for entries, and juniors are welcome to exhibit. Mrs. B. H. Englund, District Director, and Mrs. P. H. Allie of Tacoma are show chairmen.

Beauteous Junior Fair Queen Jade Perryman of Parkland will open the flower shows to the public on Thursday morning.

Successful Fish Story
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith journeyed to Westport on July 31 and after spending the night and getting up bright and early they boarded the Mar Lynn with skipper Larry Lake to catch some salmon. They were fairly lucky and brought home three silver salmon, one cod, two sea bass and one dog fish. It was Mrs. Smith's first fishing trip and probably not the last as she really enjoyed it.

Smoked oysters make a delicious (if expensive) hors d'oeuvre by themselves. Help 'stretch' them by mixing with softened cream cheese to which a dash of meat sauce and some Beau Monde seasoning have been added.

Queen Visits Prison To Exchange Improvement Ideas

by Jade Perryman
Pierce County Jr. Fair Queen that offers a challenge and leaves a lasting impression. From the outward appearance McNeil Island Penitentiary looks little different than many buildings of the outside world. It is what the visitor experiences inside

Hickey, Purchasing Agent for the Puyallup Schools; Mr. Ray Kingston, Secretary-Treasurer of Western Washington Fair; Mr. William Bower, Manager of Good Samaritan Hospital; Mr. Norbert Grove, Manager of the State Savings & Loan Assn. in Puyallup; and Mrs. Robert Elliott, my Junior Fair Queen Mother, we visited this group and spoke to the men on the subject "Overcoming Obstacles" by relating it to our own fields of interest. Mrs. Elliott and I appeared on behalf of the Pierce County Junior Fair.

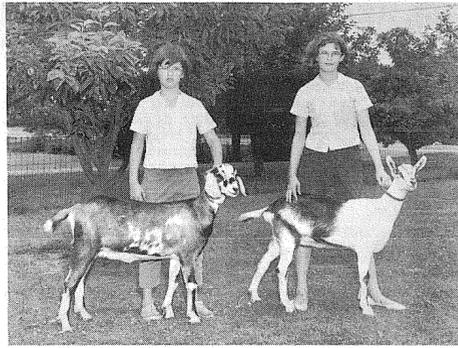

We were followed on the program by Father Franke and Father Joyce of the institution, and by one of the inmates who was called upon for an unscheduled talk. This off-the-cuff speech by a man on the inside clearly and sincerely expressed the obstacles overcome and the values achieved through S.I.G.

During the program we had a short break giving an opportunity for discussion and questions with the men, through which it was found that many S.I.G. members participate in such varied classes as lapidary, public speaking, metal and leather craft, horticulture.

Dads Who Don't Support Families Are Tracked By State Locate Office

To compel errant fathers to support the families they abandoned, the Department of Public Assistance has located parents as far away as Lebanon and Viet Nam and as close as three blocks from the former wife.

Finding from 125 to 150 individuals a month, the Department's Central Locate Office has tracked down the whereabouts of 2,261 absent parents in the two years in which it has been operating.

"Through the activities of this office, parents who desert their families find it extremely difficult to hide out for any length of time to avoid supporting and caring for their children," said L. L. Hegland, Director of the Department.

The locate office does not give up easily. It took two years to locate an airlines pilot who fled to Alaska. He was brought back to Washington for trial and is now paying $150 each month for the support of his children.

Even though they might have scrambled far away and have been gone long periods of time, many fathers commence paying support voluntarily once they learn the department is trying to locate them, Hegland said.

About one-half of those who are found turn up in other states. There they are hailed into court to face non-support charges prepared in Washington and mailed to the state having jurisdiction.

During June, for instance, 219 support payments amounting to $7,875.72 came from out of the state to families living in Washington as a result of this Department of Public Assistance activity, Hegland said. This is in addition to the normal collections from other sources within the state.

Encouraged by the success of the program, the 1963 legislature strengthened provisions for finding and cracking down on errant parents and changed the reciprocal enforcement of support act to gain even more cooperation from other states.

The program most affected is that of Aid to Dependent Children, in which mothers are awarded grants to care for their youngsters who are deprived of support by death, incapacity or continued absence of the father.

The ADC program was extended July 1 to include families deprived because of unemployment of the father and "this will tend to discourage fathers from deserting their families in order that they might go on assistance," Hegland said.

The central locate office is a function of the Department's Support Enforcement and Collections Unit which must find absent parents before it can enforce legal support obligations.

"The county office in which application for ADC is filed makes every effort to locate the absent breadwinner," Hegland said, "but if the county office cannot succeed, the case is referred to the locate office in the state office."

Using all available information regarding the missing parent, the office immediately contacts individuals, organizations and governmental agencies most likely to offer clues. Queries are sent wherever the absent parent was believed headed at last report, including near and far-away states. Persons found in Washington are contacted by a claims officer from one of nine Support Enforcement and Collections offices in the state to gain voluntary payment of support.

"If the parent refuses to comply with his legal responsibility, he is referred to a prosecuting attorney or a member of the Attorney General's staff for court action," Hegland said.

"As support funds gained from this activity are increased, there is a corresponding reduction in the amount of assistance grants going to ADC families," Hegland pointed out.

"With sufficient support coming from absent parents to meet needs, some families manage to get off the ADC rolls," he added.

The welfare leader said that when more states set up central bureaus for locating absent parents, the task of finding errant fathers will be speeded throughout the country.

Pig Raising More Than Meets Nose

SPECIAL - There is never a dull moment for 4-H boys and girls enrolled in a swine project. There's lot to learn and plenty of action with the pigs.

As a matter of fact, sometimes the animals come in for as much attention and recognition as their owners. One 4-H junior championship pig, Tip Top Topper by name, appeared on a Chicago television show during the National 4-H Club Congress last year.

It's owner, Bruce Brown, 20, was state and national 4-H swine program award winner from Indiana, who with his father raises purebred Chester White hogs on their 420-acre farm in Tippecanoe county. The success of their hog business, according to young Brown, is due to scientific know-how and the up-to-date methods used.

Through 4-H, Brown has learned about proper feeding, breeding and marketing. He reports that his Chester Whites have brought record high prices.

Brown, like hundreds of other older 4-H members, is a junior leader. He says, he finds it very rewarding to inspire and help younger boys.

While Brown enjoys being a winner himself, he is a good loser. He told of the time he sold one of his pigs to a neighbor boy at a very cheap price to get the lad started in a much needed money-making project. The boy showed the pig in competition with one of Brown's own Chester Whites at the county fair. The neighbor's pig walked off with the championship barrow ribbon.

Said Brown, "I felt good about losing to this young fellow."

Sales of National Forest timber felled by the Columbus Day storm now exceed one billion board feet, according to J. Herbert Stone, Regional Forester, U. S. Forest Service.

In the National Forests of Oregon and Washington, 958 sales have been made with a total volume of 1,345,469,000 board feet, of which approximately 25 percent was intermingled green timber that had to be logged with the blowdown timber.

Most recent estimate on a regionwide basis indicates there is approximately 390 million feet yet to sell, much of which is advertised at this time. In the past three months, 425 sales were made involving 861,322,000 board feet.

Total volume of blowdown timber actually harvested to June 30 is estimated at 403,332,000 board feet. The current woods industry strike has slowed removal of damaged timber in certain areas, Stone said.
