Mothers March On Tuesday

Tuesday, January 30, will be "MMDay" for this year's March of Dimes, with an estimated 4,000 Pierce County Mothers scheduled to march through their neighborhoods that evening in the traditional Mothers' March.

Progress reports on the drive are scheduled direct from headquarters over KTAC at 8 and 10 the evening of the march.

Letter To The Editor

The march is conducted each year on the anniversary of the birthday of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, for many years a leader in the fight against polio. The Mothers' March provides a major share of the fund collected yearly by the March of Dimes, which will end the following day, the last day of January.

The recent article which appeared in the Times Journal has caused some misunderstanding. I refer to an article concerning the Elmhurst Mutual and the present question of whether to buy power from City Light or the Bonneville Administration. The article was written by Mr. Elmer Haakenson and Mrs. Elmer Haakenson and Mrs. John Hartzell, 17002 Park Ave. So., urge all householders to be prepared for visits from their neighborhood mothers that evening or during daylight hours the following day.

Following the neighborhood marches, campaigners will report to area captains for a count of the results, after which reports will be made to area chairmen. They in turn will report to campaign headquarters, established in the County-City Build-

Many local people, noting our similarity of names, have concluded that I had written the article, since I am an employee of Elmhurst Mutual. This is not the case. The article by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haakenson is theirs alone, and I am in no way responsible. Mrs. Gerhard (Ruth) Haakenson.

Let Me Tell One:

Set High Goals

The other day I had the occasion to talk to a couple of young people who were interested in the type of work that I do.

I found myself mouthing the old platitudes about working hard and waiting for the breaks and learning everything they could about their chosen job.

Afterward, I thought my performance was pretty sad. I hadn't really given them anything they could use, except the "nose to the grindstone" routine, which, while true, says little to people just starting out.

So here goes. My apologies to those youngsters for failing at that time, but here's a product of some reading and a little thought on the matter.

First of all, set a goal for yourself. Set it high. Plan to make yourself the best person you ever lived in the United States of America. Plan to be the best person in your family, in your community and your state and it follows you'll life will soon be evident. do well for your country.

Second, take a look at family and your family those adults who have earned your respect. They are leading useful and successful lives by striving for goals they have set for respect that should be attached to it, then work to restore its honor.

Another thought, when you pick your goal and go beyond the selfish, and materialistic, then you'll be thought of as different. If you start by staying home nights to study, you'll be different. If you start thinking of someone besides yourself in your everyday relationships, you'll be different. At the same time you'll be developing your character and will get a good start down the road toward your goal.

It's easy to sit back and point down the road of the future and say, "This is how it should be done." The time has come when this is just what is needed. A lack of concerted effort, lack of the crusading spirit, a lack of zealous belief in our way of life will someday spell our doom. The Communists know this and would like nothing more than to sit back and watch us reap the harvest of our own laziness and selfishness---for them. Then it will be too late.

One last thought, this is not an indictment of all youth today, far from it. You CAN change the world by your own efforts, and I think that each generation needs only to be reminded of that fact.

Budget Listed

Adoption of a $26,150 budget for the 29th Puyallup Valley Daffodil Festival, to be held April 2-8 in Sumner, Puyallup, Orting and Tacoma, was affected at last week's festival board meeting in Sumner.

Newest members of the royalty committee, serving as Princess Mothers (chaperones), are Mrs. Carl Scheyer, of Puyallup and Mrs. Robert Mance of Sumner. "Queen Mother" will be Mrs. Robert J. Templeman of Sumner. Serving in Tacoma will be Mrs. Peter Pelegruti.

Director James Repp of Puyallup, who is in charge of the marine regatta on Commencement Bay April 8, announces that all participating yacht clubs and boating organizations will hold a planning session February 8 in Tacoma.

Waller Rd. Grangers To Aid Polio Fund

In keeping with the custom established by Granges throughout the nation to hold a "Pies for Polio" event, Waller Road Grange will participate. Proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.

Saturday, Jan. 27, the Grange Ladies will be selling home made pies at Husted's Star Value Store, 64th and Waller Road. Pick up a pie and have a special treat for the weekend and support the March of Dimes.

Waller Road Garden Club will meet Feb. 1st, 1962 at the Grange Hall 8 p.m. There will be a guest speaker on "Roses". Arrangements suitable for Valentine's Day will be on display. Hostesses will be Mrs. Verne Fogle and Mrs. Charles Sienkewich.

Miss Carol Ferch, Senior at P.H.S. showed slides of her two months stay in Germany, at the last Tuesday evening Waller Road P.T.A. meeting.

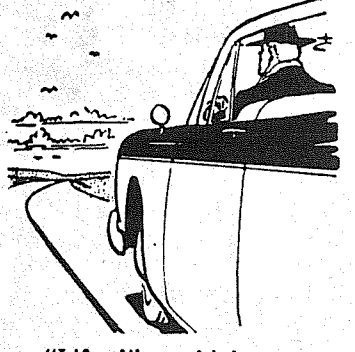

Living in Lomar, Germany with an adopted family was an experience Carol will long remember. Having beautiful slides in color is a perfect way of reliving every day of that wonderful time.

Carol told of her adventures and answered questions on living conditions and the school system. She told of her ocean trip over and back, as one of many students chosen to represent the U.S.A. under the American Field service program.

The teachers of Waller Road School took special pride in Carol's talk. To them, it seemed so short a time since she was one of the pupils at Waller Road.

Willis Savage received cuts and bruises when his bicycle and a truck driven by Charles Nelson, collided, on East 72nd Thursday evening. Both high school students at Puyallup were working at after-school jobs.

A SACRED TRUST

The progress made by the Funeral Profession during the last fifty years has been truly amazing. The days of the old time "undertaker" are gone forever. No longer is he looked upon with scorn and shunned by his fellow man.

The average funeral director of today has spent many years in schools and universities preparing himself for his chosen field.

Across the entire United States you will find that the funeral director of today is a civic-minded social individual, and many are prominent leaders of their community.

The public today has come to realize that the funeral director is not the hardened, calloused person he was once thought to be.

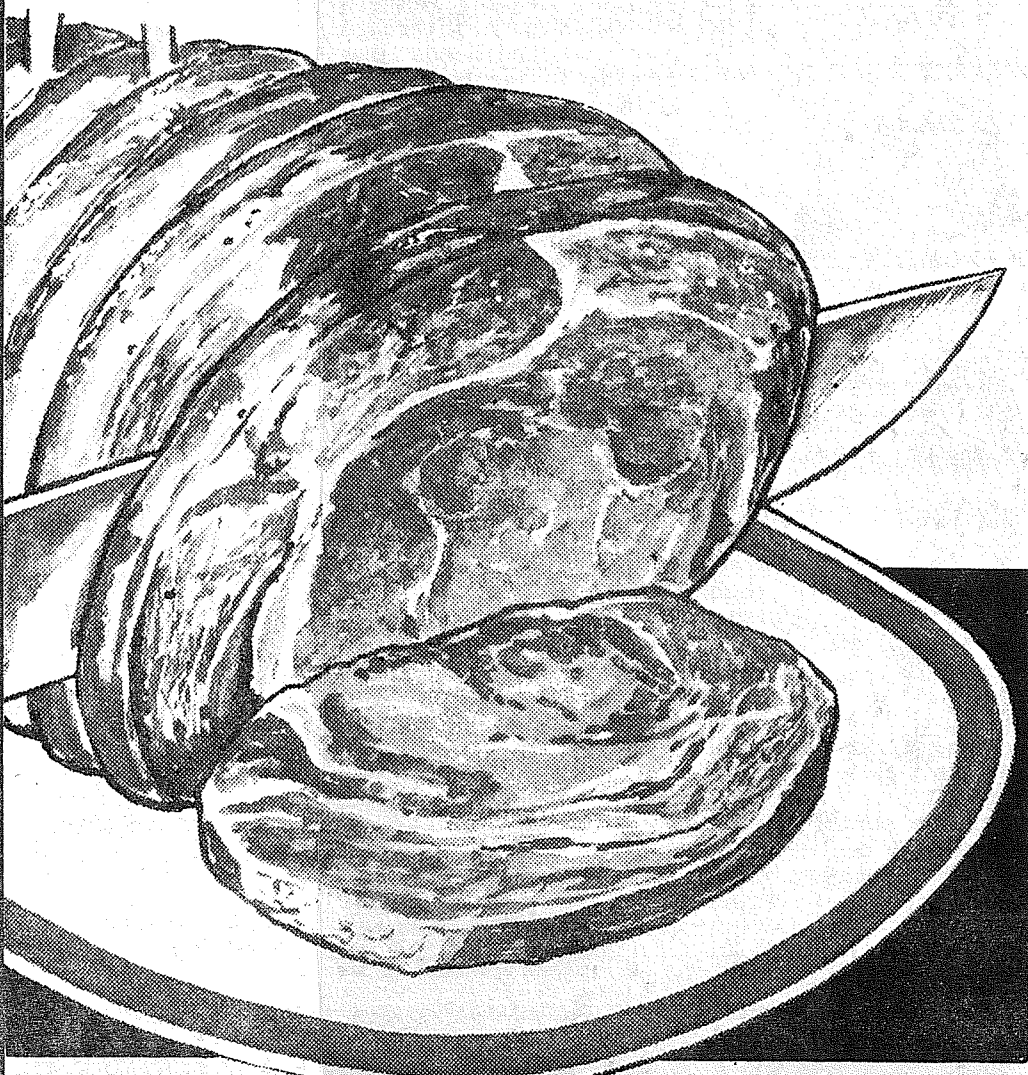

Serving you is the greatest honor you can bestow on us, for you entrust us with the care of your loved ones. Fulfilling this trust is our dedicated goal for we too have mothers, fathers, wives, children and loved ones, and strive to give the same dignity and care to those entrusted to us as we would desire at our own time of need.

Airman Robbins Returns To Germany

A2C Dennis W. Robbins, Scoutmaster, and Perry of the Dick Robbins of Summit, has arrived safely in Germany after spending a 30 day leave at home. He recently completed his missile Crew training at Orlando AFB in Florida and will now be a member of a TAC missile tour in western Germany. He's slated for a 30 month tour of duty, which seems like a long time to the Robbins family. He reports that travel is a little slower over there. It took a C-135 six hours and five minutes to fly from the east coast to Frankfurt, and the bus trip from there to his airbase took five and one half hours!

Boy Scout Troop 76, sponsored by the Central Avenue PTA will have the following leaders in the coming year: Perry Bartram, Sr., Scoutmaster; Barrackman, and Steve Fred Mackey, Assistant

On January 13 an overnight Green-bar camp-out was held by Troop 76 in the wooded area behind the Summit Youth Center. Assistant Scoutmaster Fred Mackey instructed Darrell Hart, Jim Bartram, Steve Moore, Rod Mackey, Henry Howard and Rick Robbins in camping, cooking and Morse Code. On Saturday, the Green-bar was joined by Scoutmaster Perry Bartram, Sr., Junior Assistant Perry Bartram, Jr., and scouts, Bob Adler, David Howard, Gary Skaar, Axel Struck, Ronald Maesner, Gerry Alexander, Bob Bartram, Ronald Stratton, Scott Craig, Kelly Hart and Wayne Barrackman for another night of camping. The weather was accommodating both nights and Troop 76 had a very enjoyable week-end. The scouts were pleasantly surprised on Saturday when several parents joined them at the campfire.

Canyon Road News

The regular meeting of the Canyon Road Ladies Auxiliary will be held Thursday, February 1 in the community hall at 12:30 p.m.

The Twilite Twirlers will dance Friday Jan. 26 starting at 8:30 p.m. in the Canyon Road Community Club, East 80th and Canyon Rd. Sid Lane will be calling and host and hostesses for the evening will be the Ed Touchettes and the John Bisig's. Coffee and tea will be served.

Don't forget! Sunday, the 28th at 5 p.m. the new class in square dancing with instructor Ralph and Elinor Rowland get underway. This class is being sponsored by the Canyon Road Community Club and the Hens and Chix Square Dance group. This first night will be party night with lesson and refreshment on the house.

I am sure everyone will be most happy to know that there is a Post Office in the community. It is located in the Summit Trading Post Hardware store. Mr. Carlson hopes that this meets with everyone's approval.

Society-sponsored programs at Camp Easter Seal on Lake Coeur d'Alene, Camp Illabebe near Ellensburg, Camp Bonneville in Clark County and Camp Moran on Orcas Island accommodate children with disabilities ranging from polio to blindness. Youngsters attending Easter Seal camps in 1962 included those with handicaps resulting from arthritis, cerebral palsy, polio, muscular dystrophy, defective eyesight, speech and hearing, and various orthopedic disorders. Many participated in camp activities from wheelchairs and most experienced their first try at outdoor living.

Washington's Easter Seal Society budgets $10,000 annually to finance the camp program. Additional funds required for camp operation, maintenance and supervision are provided by county Easter Seal organizations.

48,972 Acres Burned

Donald V. Redfern, President of the Keep Washington Green Association, announced today that during the year of 1961, fires burned over 48,972 acres of forest and range land in the State of Washington. Redfern stated that, "Our state had a total of 2,630 fires of which 56 per cent were man-caused. Careless smokers, debris burners, and campers led the list as being major causes of fire running wild. One smoker fire near Ellensburg burned several thousand acres of forested land in July. An unusually high percentage of fires was started by lightning this past year. This was due to a considerable increase in dry electric storms over the state. Lightning accounted for 44 per cent of all fires in 1961. One large lightning fire in eastern Washington burned 27,000 acres of range and forest land before it was controlled."

This 1961 fire summary includes all federal, state and private lands. Redfern stated that the economic loss to our state from these fires is valued at $14,500,000.

Comparing the 1961 fire summary with that of one decade ago, 1951, Redfern pointed out that the number of total fires has increased by 225, but the total acreage burned was reduced by over 21,000 acres. He also paid tribute to the fast action, and hard work of fire fighters. Redfern stated, "Fires caused by human carelessness cost you, the taxpayer, money. Fighting fires costs a great deal of money, but you also lose productive acres, which pay taxes to build schools and highways, as well as, income, jobs and fun for those who live, work and play in the evergreen state." Redfern concluded by saying, "Because of the 7 to 10 million visitors expected to visit the state and Seattle's World's Fair - Century 21, additional care by the public will be needed to guard our forest and range lands. We must show others that we are deadly serious about careless fire."

Leaders from homemakers clubs from Pierce county will be attending a meeting on Thursday, January 25th, at 10:00 a.m., in the County-City Building on "Oven Meals - Easy to prepare and Easy on Your Pocketbook." Each leader is asked to bring their own silver and service plate.

VA Pensioners Must Return Questionnaires

Seattle Veterans Administration Regional Office Manager, John B. Kirsch, had an important reminder today for the 12,000 Washington State veterans and dependents receiving pensions who have not yet returned their 1961 income questionnaires. If the questionnaires are not completed properly and returned to VA before January 31, they will receive no further checks and may also find themselves owing the government money. To date some 19,000 questionnaires have been returned.

Put SS Number On Tax Forms

District Director, Neal S. Warren, in Seattle today reminded taxpayers they should include their Social Security numbers, if they have them, on their income tax returns and Declarations of Estimated Tax, both due by April 16, 1962.

He pointed out that the questionnaire carries a printed warning which reads - "Important. Failure to return this card before January 31, 1962, will result in discontinuance of payment. You would also be required to pay back all pension you received last year."

Since the pension is paid only to those veterans, their widows, dependent parents or minor children whose incomes are below certain limits, the VA is required by law to receive an income report each year to justify the payments.

Savings Bond Sales Increase

December sales of U.S. Savings Bonds in Washington state increased again to $4,468,440 to bring the state's total for 1961 to $60,732,672. This is an increase of more than $1 million over the previous year, according to F. C. Osmer, Pierce County Savings Bonds Chairman.

County sales for December amounted to $486,471, to bring the year's total to $6,569,875.

"National sales also increased by 4% during this 20th year of the Savings Bonds program, and redemptions decreased by 10%," the chairman said, "to bring E and H Bond holdings to an all-time high of $44 billion."

During December the Treasury Department paid tribute to the legion of volunteers who have helped the bond program become a part of thrifty Americans' savings plans during the 20-year period.

Farmer's Record Book Has New Look

A revised farm record book and a new farm inventory and depreciation record are hot off the WSU Extension press with many new features, Ernest Hopp, county Extension agent, says.

The farm record book now has a summary for analyzing the farm business and making cost studies. Other summaries included are for making the income tax reports and calculating capital gain on sales of breeding stock, machinery and timber.

More pages have been added for recording expenses. Farm operating expenses are also separated from expenditures for capital items such as machinery, buildings and breeding stock.

The farm inventory and depreciation record now covers a ten-year period. This eliminates the tiresome job of recopying machinery and other individual items each year.

The ten-year inventory records, now in a separate book, are designed to accompany the regular yearly farm record book.

Several other changes will make the books easier to keep and simplify the preparation of income tax returns. The books are now available without charge.

In addition to providing information for income tax purposes, the records can be used to analyze farm business, to determine cost of various enterprises, and to record production information such as yield or milk sales.

Copies of the record books are available in the county Extension office on the 7th floor of the County-City building in Tacoma.

PLU Five Meet Bobcats

Pacific Lutheran University basketball team will take on the tough Montana State Bobcats tomorrow (Thursday) night in Bozeman. Coach Gene Lundgaard and his 12-man varsity squad were due to leave for Montana this afternoon on the Northern Pacific.

The Lutes will be meeting one of the top independents of the west when they meet Montana State in the 10,000-seat Bobcat fieldhouse. Coach Doby Lambert always comes up with a sharpshooting outfit, and he has a much larger club than the one which dumped the PLU, 73-70, here last winter. Last weekend the Luthers vaulted into first place in the Evergreen Conference chase by knocking off unbeaten University of Puget Sound (88-65) and Central Washington (80-72). Western dumped the UPS Loggers 62-48 Saturday night to give the Lutes clear title to first place with a 4-1 record. The Loggers now stand 3-2 along with Western in league play.

March of Dimes Helps Dry Youngster's Tears of Pain

Anthony Ryan wasn't normally a crybaby. But at 10 months he began crying almost incessantly, and at times even screamed.

His loving parents in Philadelphia were nearly out of their minds. With four other small children, the household was pandemonium. No one appeared to know precisely what was causing the infant's dreadful paroxysms of pain.

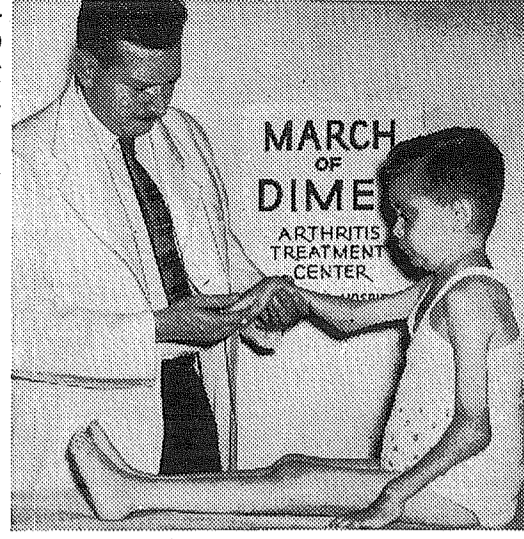

Eight months and countless tears later, the cause of Anthony's agony was at last diagnosed as rheumatoid arthritis, seemingly afflicting every area of his tiny body.

It's 11 years now since Anthony was stricken. He will limp the rest of his life; he cannot play baseball today with the other boys in the block, and he is still in a great deal of pain. As a matter of fact, until just a short time ago he couldn't even turn his head.

Science has not yet licked the problem of Anthony and of thousands of children like him. There is still no simple, accurate test for the early diagnosis of rheumatoid arthritis, although the outlook is hopeful. But many rheumatologists would agree today that had modern diagnostic tools been available to him, and had Anthony been examined immediately by a "team" of specialists in the medical and allied professions—the group of orthopedists, pediatricians, laboratory research scientists, physical therapists and others now available in March of Dimes-financed treatment centers in many parts of the nation—Anthony today might be skating with the other kids on the frozen pond at the bottom of Prince Circle where he lives.

Although much of the injury done to Anthony in past years is irreparable, doctors at a new arthritis treatment center at Philadelphia Children's Hospital, sponsored by five March of Dimes chapters in the area, check him regularly to ease his pain and avoid further damage.

This same "team approach" is also employed by the ever-growing number of National

ON EAST COAST, Dr. John D. Bridgers, director of March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center at Children's Hospital, Philadelphia, examines Anthony Ryan, 12 years.

ON WEST COAST, identical twins Cathy and Carol Gile, 7 years, are greeted at March of Dimes Congenital Defects Clinic in University of Washington Hospital, Seattle.

Foundation-March of Dimes chapter-sponsored clinics for treatment of birth defects, another area in which the health organization is concentrating. There are tens of hundreds of major birth defects are now examined by as many as 12 in the United States today. One handi-caps are receiving treatment from the specialist neonurologist, urologist, orthopedist and internist as well as others.

For instance, consider the perils from one birth defect that surrounded Cathy and Carol Gile, identical 8-year-old twins of Vancouver, Wash. From birth, the children have been seriously ill with a succession of maladies—pneumonia (each six times), ear infections (again, each six times) and other disorders which have meant prolonged hospitalization. Both were found to be afflicted with an inherited lack of antibodies, the substances in the blood which combat bacteria.

At the University of Washington Hospital, Seattle, where 86 March of Dimes chapters in Washington, Idaho and Alaska have financed a birth defects clinic, the attractive little girls twice monthly are given injections which literally keep rheumatoid arthritis affects 30,000 children and adolescents—the apart from the overall toll of 11 million American victims of rheumatic diseases.

An increasing number of sufferers from these two cruel handicaps are receiving treatment from the specialist "teams" at March of Dimes-financed chapter clinics. As many as 700 babies are more funds become available, additional centers will be established to provide medical care for even more victims of crippling chronic disease.
