Formula For Buying Choice Home

Buying a new home? Decide first the price you can afford to pay in keeping with your present financial situation. Many present day buyers, are either wishful thinkers or ultraconservative and both mental attitudes can lead to unhappiness. Buying too much house and hoping that income will increase or other expenses will remain at a minimum makes one a financial slave to the monthly mortgage payments. Buying too small a house might make the family unhappy with its lack of space.

There is a pretty fair formula which can safely determine your price bracket. Decide first how much money you have available for both the down payment and immediate expenses.

Down payment is extremely important. The larger it is and the smaller the monthly payments the more house you can afford. Don't, however, skimp on or overlook such initial costs as landscaping a new lawn or re-siding an older home with insulating siding to buy such items as appliances and storm wind-owns. Consider such outlays as closing costs and moving expenses.

After you have the down payment established you must then determine how much of your income you can budget for the monthly principal, interest, taxes and insurance payments. Don't use your gross income as a basis or even your net take home pay. Although 25% of your gross income for housing payment is a fair rule-of-thumb, you can figure it much closer.

Add all anticipated household expenses, food, clothing, medical, entertainment, fuel, transportation, savings, etc. Subtract these from your take home pay. This becomes the amount you can afford for monthly mortgage payments.

A word of caution, base these computations on your own and immediate income. Don't include the raise you've been promised or such temporary income as the money other members of the household are making, or short term dividends.

Don't slip and fall on a rainy street; Because you failed to watch your feet.

If you are planning to buy a new home, you should find out as much as possible about the materials and equipment included in the home. Discuss these details with the builder and compare operating costs of various fuels to make certain that the house heating and other appliances offer the best value in economy of operation. Your local gas company will be happy to assist you in making a comparison of costs. Before the war, most homes in the United States were custom built. A family, needing a new home, contacted a builder, and arranged to have the house built.

Today, however, the picture has changed radically. Builders now erect homes, ranging anywhere from 25 to several thousand, on a tract of land and then advertise for buyers. This requires a great deal of money. Builders, like families, must borrow the money from banks and lending institutions. According to the American Gas Association which sponsors a Blue Star Home program, this new approach to home building has brought added protection to the family that eventually buys the house. Because, says A.G.A., both the homebuyer and the lender want security of their investment. Of some 25,000 lending institutions in the U.S., about 7,000 account for 80% of the mortgage and construction loans. The influence of government agencies such as F.H.A. (the Federal Housing Authority) and the V.A. (Veteran's Administration) also has a far-reaching effect on home building since their opinions set the standards for the rest of the lenders. Last year, the F.H.A. Administrator sent a directive to all F.H.A. field offices directing them to lower income requirements on more expensive homes provided the builder can demonstrate that the materials and equipment in his homes require less monthly maintenance and upkeep.

Go Together Color Styles
Latest Word In Kitchens

The high fashion note in kitchens this spring calls for coordinated color styling. This includes all of the small details as well as the overall room area. When doing over your kitchen this season, however, you won't have to be a "pro" to accomplish a smart sprucing-up job. And you can do it for about $5.

The first rule is to decide on a fresh color scheme. If your kitchen has basically good colors in flooring and on walls, build your new decorative colors around them. It may be that you'll need little more than some contrasting or blending touches in the drawer and shelf linings, and a few fresh accessories. These are the pretty, practical accessories every homeowner can incorporate.

For example, covering materials will help redecorate essential storage areas. One line of adhesive-backed plastic-coated material - Marvalon coverings - features a series of workable colors and compatible patterns just for these purposes. The material can be used to recover worn canisters, planters and splash areas behind a sink or range, too. Carefully selected solid colors and textures and patterns permit free rein in choosing a lively, new color scheme.

You might, for instance, want to give your cutlery drawers a spring accent by lining them with a drawer lining in fresh Willow Green. Then cover china cupboard shelves with the green Starglow pattern that complements the drawer lining. For bright accent, cheery Cherry Red could be applied to canisters.

Applying these washable color-styled materials is simple, whether you're using the shelf or drawer lining or the adhesive covering. To reline a drawer, all you need do is measure its length and width and cut the drawer lining to fit exactly. Then lay the material in place. It won't shrink or ripple. For shelves or drawers where you store and slide heavier items, the adhesive-backed type may be more suitable. With adhesive coverings, merely cut the material to size, remove the protection backing to expose the adhesive and press into place, smoothing with your hands. It will adhere firmly, but can be removed for replacement without damage to the surface.

An easy kitchen redecorating job such as this is a remarkably simple way to add a high fashion note to any kitchen.

Temper Tough Panel Name

Hardboard panels are designated as "standard" or "tempered". Because of the many varieties of applications, special processes have been developed to produce hardboard with special properties. By the addition of chemicals into standard hardboard and a heat-treating process, the product takes on added stiffness and hardness, better finishing to properties, greater resistance to abrasion, and particularly to moisture. This is tempered hardboard.

4-H's Judge
Dairy Herds

A recent Dairy judging tour was taken by the Waller Road 4-H Boys Club. The boys judged herds at the Hatt and Mobius Farms in Graham. This is a judging practice prior to the Pierce County Junior Fair. Around 75 4-H members were in attendance. Waller Road boys were: Ronnie and David Playford, Ricky and Ronnie Larson, Harlan McCord and Larry Geise.

Showing at the Spring Dairy Show in Enumclaw recently in competition with 4-H and FFA members from various counties, Ronnie Larson received Grand Champion in Ayreshire Division in type and Reserve Champion and in fitting and showing. Ricky Larson received a red ribbon on type in the Ayreshire Division and white on fitting and showing.

In the Jersey Division Ronnie and David Playford and Larry Geise each received the same—a red ribbon for type and a red ribbon for fitting and showing.

The Waller Road Woods Chucks 4-H Forestry Group with Gilbert Carlson as their leader, met May 26 at the Carlson home.

During the business session Mel Carlson reported to the group information he gathered at a leaders session with Joe Buhaley, State Extension Forester and 4-H Co-Forestry Agent, Loren Curry.

The group took a tour of the timber on the Carlson place. They did pacing and trimming of future Christmas trees and tree identification.

These tests were in preparation for the County Junior Fair in August.

World's Fair visitors and visiting with relatives here were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Neher of El Cerro, California last week. They were guests at the Rudolph Geise home and visited with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Neher.

The Waller Road Grange Auxiliary is planning a rummage sale to be held at their hall June 21st and 22nd.

Anyone having good clean used clothes to donate to the Grange ladies for this sale may call LE7-5180 and they will be picked up, or the items may be left at Nelson's residence on East 64th St. Household items also, will be welcomed.

Pierce County International Farm Youth Exchange Committee is accepting applications from boys and girls interested in becoming an I.F.Y.E. Screening of final applications will be held in September. Call County Agt. George Purcell, County-City Bldg., FU3-3311 for information.

The delegates, who are young Americans, will live and work for six months with rural families of different foreign countries. In return an equal number of exchangees from the same foreign countries, will live with American families.

I.F.Y.E. is a privately financed people to people program to promote international understanding. It is conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation on behalf of the federal and State Agricultural Extension Services. The State I. F. Y. E. Advisory Council will be meeting at the Washington State University June 13, during 4-H Conference week.

Mrs. Fred Rousseau and Mrs. Gilbert Carlson are members of the Nominating Committee of the Council. Mrs. Carlson will be attending the Conference.

Mrs. Carlson states, "There is a real need for host Families in the I.F.Y.E. program." Anyone wishing information in regards to being host for an International Farm Youth Exchange may call George Purcell. This is a very worthwhile and rewarding experience.

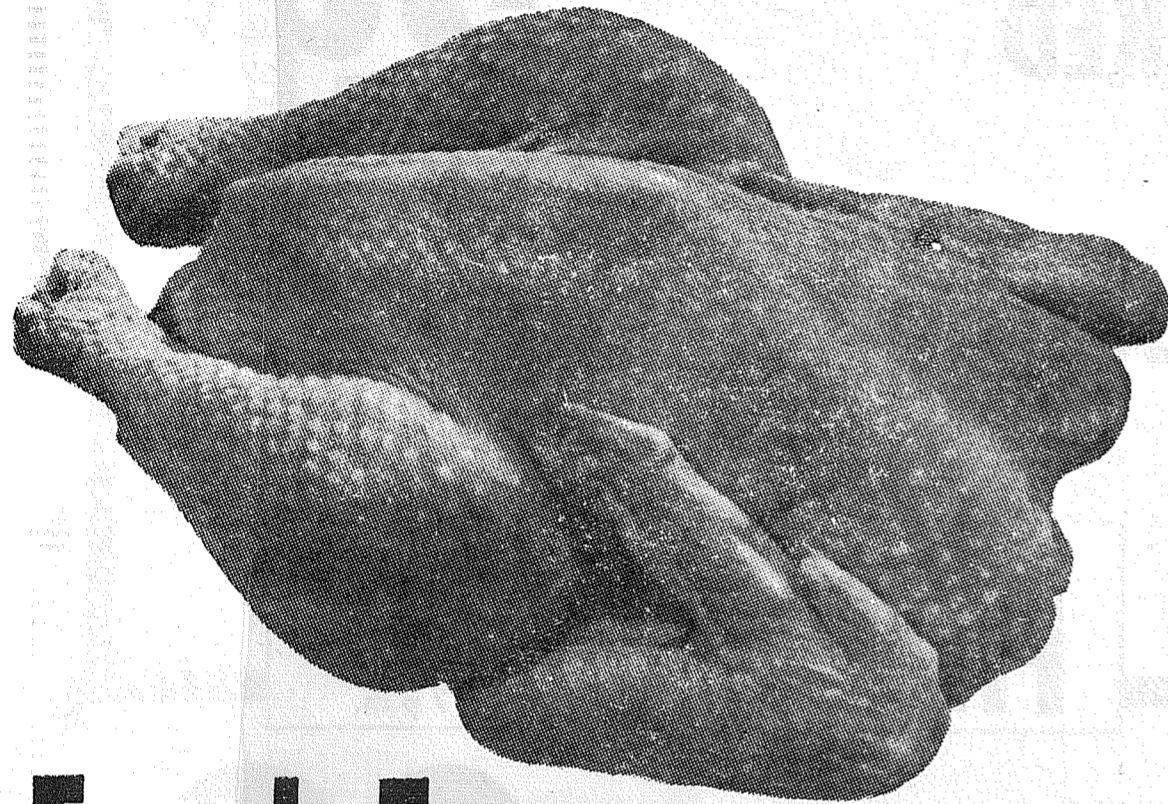

Chairman of the Pierce County I.F.Y.E. Committee is Mrs. James BLODGETT, SK9-1621.

The $600 basic exemption figure used on Federal income tax returns started during the Civil War.

Roy News
James Golko's name was inadvertently omitted from the list of graduating seniors at Bethel High School. James, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Golko, has attended Roy and Bethel schools all of his school days.

Even with the bad weather the Roy Pioneer Rodeo, an event of June 3, was classed a great success, with stands crowded and local people greeting old friends from other years.

Training Finished For Local Marine
Western Pacific--Alvin T. Peter, parachute rigger airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Peter of Rt. 1, Eatonville, Washington, is serving with Heavy Attack Squadron Two aboard the aircraft carrier USS Coral Sea, operating as a unit of our Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.
The squadron, shore-based at the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, Oak Harbor, Washington, is a member of Carrier Air Group 15 and boarded the carrier in December before she sailed for duty in the Far East.

It's The Law
When Mr. A paid his rent for June he gave Mr. Landlord a check for the $70 rent, knowing he did not have that much money in his account.

Mr. Landlord deposited the check but it was returned to him marked "not sufficient funds." Later Mr. A filed a petition in bankruptcy and listed the June rent as one of his debts.

Later when Mr. Landlord attempted to collect the NSF check, Mr. A said he didn't have to pay it because the debt for rent had been discharged by the bankruptcy.

Can Mr. Landlord collect the NSF check from Mr. A after the bankruptcy? The statutes of the State of Washington provide that any person who shall, with intent to defraud, utter or deliver to another person any check for the payment of money, knowing at the time of such delivery that he has not sufficient funds in the bank upon which it is drawn to meet the check, shall be guilty of larceny. The Bankruptcy Act provides "a discharge in bankruptcy shall release a bankrupt from all his provable debts, except such as are liabilities for obtaining property by false pretenses or false representations." The debt evidenced by the NSF check is not dischargeable in bankruptcy and Mr. Landlord can collect on the NSF check even after the bankruptcy.
