son, President of the Parkland Business Club, and four Loveland Light Company employees. "We are extremely happy to cooperate in getting these wires underground", Mr. Crate stated, adding, "this will be a great step towards flying safety from this new community runway." The runway is about 90% completed at the field which is located just north of Bethel High School.
