The tragedy of six people, five of them from this area, dead in one accident on our highways is very vivid to the people in the Franklin Pierce area.

Knowing the emotional impact of a tragedy such as this, this might be the time to make another plea to drivers of this state to stop killing themselves and each other.

The fault in the Sunday morning tragedy will not be placed in this column and no judgments will be passed. That will come when the investigations are all in and the courts have had their say.

HERE'S HELP: Below you'll see a gen-u-ine, artist-drawn, jim-dandy, authentic Clear Conscience Calendar for 1962, with inappropriate notes in the margins. Cut it out and paste it in your phone book. It'll keep you from forgetting to remember. (As your folks will tell you, a long distance call is still the best way to keep in touch. It's easier than a letter, more personal than a present.) Call them long distance—soon.

Valentine's Day. Candy is dandy, but long distance is quicker.

Ground Hog Day. Shadow or

April Fool's. No joke, happiness is catching. Surprise her with a guess-who call.

Easter. Have a family reunion by phone--you don't have to cook or clean-up afterwards.

King Kamahameha Day. Or maybe it's Mom's birthday. Call anyway--she'll love you for it. Aloha!

Father's Day. Betcha' he'd much rather talk to his grandchildren than unwrap another polka-dot necktie.

Bennington Battle Day. Very big in Vermont and about the only thing that happens in August anyway. Vacation by phone.

Halloween. Don't be the skeleton in your family closet. Call your Mother--you'll both get a thrill out of it.

Pre-Christmas. Call two or three days ahead -- they'll appreciate your thoughtfulness. (Send a present though -- they're human.)

Sure they love you. But children are busy nowadays. If they haven't been in touch lately, send 'em this Clear Conscience Calendar. Circle your birthday and a few other pertinent dates. They'll get the message. (If you have 10 children, call us and we'll send you 9 more calendars.)
