69th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated by Couple

LONG TIME WED—A marriage which has endured longer than the average life span of humans rounded out its 69th year last week at Spanaway. Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming of 175th and A streets shared the happy anniversary with their family at their home on Monday, Sept. 14, in a quiet gathering. With them for the event were three granddaughters: Mrs. Glen (Darlene) Pero and Mrs. Ed (Barbara) Pero of Spanaway (sisters who married brothers) and Mrs. John (Barbara) Sharp of Spokane; also a grandson, Donald Shindle of Kent. There are six great-grandchildren. On Thursday evening, Sept. 17, neighbors and friends converged on their pleasant home for a surprise party, bringing gifts, cards and refreshments. Married in Beaver City, Nebraska, Sept. 14, 1890, the Flemings came to Washington in 1933 and have lived at Spanaway most of the time since then. —Photo by McKewen

Flying

Out of Thun Field last weekend we had Gene Moyer and his family in their Stinson on a trip to Spokane. They flew over Coulee Dam and other points of interest. Bob Zinn, of Lewiston, Idaho, flew in to Thun Field in his Cessna 180. Rev. Ken Bryant, of Puyallup, is basing his J-3 Cub at Thun Field.

Delbert Smith, employed by the Western Electric Company, made his first solo flight Saturday. On Sunday, Charles Robertson, of Fort Lewis, high-lighted his day by making his first solo flight. Both students soloed in Tahoma Flying Service Tri-Travelers under the supervision of Slim Lawson.

A short solo cross-country trip was made by Angie Zampardo. Bob Martin flew from Spanaway to Hillsboro and Astoria and return. Ben McKay made his solo trip to Salem, Oregon and return. Both Bob and Ben are now ready for their Private Pilot licenses.

Home on leave at the present time are the following young fellows: Just finished with basic training in the Navy at San Diego, California, are Airman Apprentice Allen Zook, who will be going to Aviation Security School in Kansas; Seaman Apprentice Bud LaPlante, who will be going aboard the carrier, "The Ranger"; and Fireman Apprentice, Paul Stavig, going to school in Great Lakes, Illinois. Also home on leave is Steve McVittie, who graduated from jet fighter school in Texas and will be going overseas to France.

The honored couple were presented a matching pink and copper tone bread box, canister set, and garbage pail. The evening closed with the group gathering around the piano, played by Mrs. Marge Reed, and all singing old time tunes.

NEW SON

Clover Creek ... Grangers Hear Account of Trip

An interesting feature of the program at the Sept. 18 meeting of Clover Creek Grange was the informal account by Mr. and Mrs. William Mathiasen of their recent five-week visit to Denmark. Grange members were also glad to see Mr. Nelson back. The next Grange meeting will be Oct. 4 at 8 p.m. in the hall.

THANKS A MILLION —

The generous and enthusiastic response of the public to the weekend formal opening of the office housing the new heating department of Parkland Electric Co. was most gratifying to the company staff.

The event provided an ideal opportunity for us to meet scores of local home owners and discuss with them their problems, not alone along the lines of modern electric and gas domestic heating but also regarding the almost unlimited facilities provided by today's merchandising to add new beauty, health and happiness in everyday living.

We are deeply appreciative of the beautiful flowers and cordial messages sent by friends, also for the congratulatory advertising space in the Times Journal ordered by our business neighbors for our formal opening.

By Ron Frank

Franklin Pierce faces its sternest football test of the young season this Friday night at Thompson Field in Lakewood when the Cards tackle the Clover Park Warriors. Kickoff time is eight o'clock.

There are plenty of reasons for Coach Eldon Kylo's forces hoping for victory Friday night against the Warriors:

1. The Warriors defeated Renton 13-7 and grabbed the favorites role in the league race last Friday.
2. The Cards have never beaten their arch-rivals although tying once in five years of competition.
3. A win would put the Pierce eleven in good position to a run on the title. A Seattle Thanksgiving Day berth will be extended to the PSL champs.

Kylo was satisfied with his team's 13-0 win over Enumclaw, particularly the play of backfield stars Rick Smidt and Ken Southall and of the line on defense. But he said that the Cards will have to be 100 per cent better if they expect to come close to dumping the Warriors. The Warriors have another fleet-footed backfield and a heavier than usual line.

In the shutout against Enumclaw, Southall passed for one six-pointer to Smidt and scored one himself. He also averaged more than 20 yards on kickoff and punt returns and punted two times for a 44-yard average. Expecting a great deal of emphasis on the stopping of Southall, the Pierce coaches are working on other members of the backfield in order to take some of the work off Southall's shoulders.

Jim Mancuso, who boots the extra points, will start at right half while Cal Goings will be at fullback. The line will probably see no changes with Jay Kinsey and Joe Mancuso at the ends, Ed Brannfors and Don Myhre at the tackles, Bob Fenimore and Terry Gilmore at the guards and Bob Maxfield at center.

Larry Gehrmann will undoubtedly see action in the middle of the line since he was a standout on defense against Enumclaw.

* Games Involving Major Teams

Football Highlights

Despite the fact that Saturday, September 26th, is full of some very vital and interesting games throughout the country, national interest this week will focus for the most part on one mighty big one. The nationally televised game between the perennial champion of the big eight—Oklahoma—was Harmon's number 2 team in the nation last year — the Wildcats rated 18th. Until the oats from Evanston prove otherwise, the powerful sooners are 9-point favorites.

Army, last year's No. 3 team, swings into action against Boston College. The Cadets are a strong three-touchdown favorite.

And in Columbus, Ohio, one of the big favorites for the big ten title—the Ohio State Buckeyes—will be 11-point favorites over the Duke Blue Devils. Ohio State tied with Auburn for the number 9 position in the final Harmon ratings in 1958.

In the South, Ole Miss, after gathering steam against Houston and whipping them by almost the predicted point spread, picks on Kentucky this Saturday. The Wildcats, just barely skinned by Georgia Tech last week, are 2-touchdown underdogs to Mississippi.

A real battle—on the basis of past performance ratings—shapes up in Austin, Texas, between the Texas Longhorns and the Terrapins of Maryland. Texas beat Nebraska last Saturday while Maryland clobbered a good West Virginia team. The point spread is barely noticeable—it just "leans" in the direction of Texas.

Another pre-season favorite — Southern Methodist in the South-west conference—opens its 1959 schedule this week. They take on a strong Georgia Tech eleven that rates only a touchdown below the Mustangs.

On the heels of Harmon's predicted upset of Villanova at the hands of little West Chester State Teachers College last week, another "little" will knock off another "big" this week. Small—but powerful—Connecticut will lash the Yale Bulldog with two touchdowns.

Canyon Road... Square Dance Club Invites Members

Square dancing, under the sponsorship of the Canyon Road Community club, was again a huge success. Despite the enlarging of the hall, it was filled with enthusiastic dancers both young and old. It is still not too late to join this group—See you Monday night!

BACKWOOD 4-H
The regular meeting of the Backwood 4-H club was held at the home of Buzzy Delane. Plans were made to give the money in the treasury to charity. Mr. Delane and Buzzy described their trip to the County Agent Convention held in Kansas City, Kansas. The Puyallup Fair was discussed. Refreshments were enjoyed after the meeting adjourned.

SECOND TRY WINS
John and Lou Sauriel, after reading the account in the paper last week about their fishing trip, decided not to wait until next year. So they rented a trailer, left daughter Jackie and the three dachshunds Trina, Heidi and Tiny Tim home and went back to Sequi. This time they came back with FISH! Johnny had one and Lou had four, and they weren't from the fish market either.

And what will give at Laramie, Wyoming, this Saturday is anybody's guess. The Wyoming cowboys, just fresh from pouring a 58 to 0 coat of shellack on Montana, run head-on into the Air Force Academy. The Falcons, with one undefeated season under their belts, would like to initiate a second one; The Air Force by a scant three points over Wyoming.

Wait a minute, Dad. How can you forget so quickly? You're not that old. Remember your first date? Remember the first time you fell in love? How you suffered!
Sure, Junior ties up the phone. His conversation doesn't make sense to you. But he isn't talking to you. Don't drive him into secrecy by humiliating him.
And Junior: Have some consideration for your father. He might want to use the phone himself. Show him the same respect you expect to receive from him. Life is not a one-sided affair.

a-Wondering . . .
and a-Wandering . . .
With JACK BROWN

Times have changed and so have people. It used to be that, "Love thy neighbor" and "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" were Biblical quotations that held an accepted meaning. Today people come closer to abiding by the rules of "To hell with thy neighbor," and "Do others out of anything you can before they do you." Daily the papers are full of lawsuits with the majority of claims being fictitious or nearly so. Liability insurance on a home is a must today if you are to safeguard against your invited guests suing you for falling over your dog or child's toy.

I recall one day more years ago than I care to admit, when I was a Western Union messenger delivering a route of telegrams. Being a suburban messenger, I used a car in lieu of the once familiar bicycle. My first stop was near the business section of Seattle and without too much difficulty I found an open parking space near the building I was to deliver the telegram to. I pulled up forward of the open spot and with what I considered real flourish I tooted my model A back into the parking spot with one fell swoop. Stepping from the car as an actor would to take a bow I found I was the center of attraction but not as I had pictured in my teenage mind. People were giving me the eye and definitely not for my driving ability. I was aghast to find that I had backed into a woman, knocked her to the street and then proceeded to back up over her. She had apparently stepped off the curb looking the other direction just as I had made my grandstand play of backing up. With a lot of help I managed to extract the lady, stand her up on her feet, brush her off and since she didn't collapse I gave a sigh of relief with the realization that she wasn't hurt anywhere except her dignity. Once she got her breath she tied into me like an angry lion and gave me a verbal dressing down I have never forgotten and strode off down the street, haughty, limping and ruffled.

That was that. Today the story would be entirely different, were the same thing to happen. You wouldn't dare touch her for fear of causing additional injuries. Some one would call the police, the fire department, and an ambulance. Well meaning passersby would be telling her, "Lie still". This is a good one. Western Union. You've got it made. Ought to collect at least $10,000. Sue! Sue! Sue!, and that's exactly what would happen. The lady would get an ambulance chaser and the grasping, digging, gouging and lying would be on. I wonder where it will all stop. There is some merit to the Phrase, "The Good Old Days". At least we were more honest in our dealings with neighbors or strangers in those days.

One of the boys here in the office says his wife has never spoken a cross word to him; she always talks for at least an hour when angry.

As Mark Twain said about the weather, we talk a lot about it but nobody does anything. That same attitude has prevailed in regard to taxes—so far even the taxpayers have done little about being bled whiter and whiter.

But now, Oregon may have set a precedent on tax questions after the last session of its legislature failed to do anything about taxes, except raise the personal income tax to the highest in the nation. That caused overburdened taxpayers to circulate referendum petitions against the tax hikes, which met with overwhelming response. As a result, the patch-work tax boosts will be held up for the entire 1959-61 biennium. And it is felt certain that the voters will reject them at the polls.

The Portland, Oregon, Journal says: "Oregon taxpayers . . . resent high-handed legislators who ignore the facts of life, the advice of the experts and pour it onto already overburdened groups of taxpayers."

Taxes for all kinds of frills and fancies have become a "must" with most lawmakers, instead of efforts to eliminate unnecessarily high taxes.

For example, a fiscal policy maker in Washington, D. C. recently said: "Sure we will try to economize whenever we can—but Congress just isn't buying our plans in that line."

Our Federal law-makers need a dose like the voters gave the Oregon law-makers. The people will never get any relief from wasteful and unnecessary public spending until they demand it in no uncertain terms.

It's the LAW

WHAT'S A "STOLEN" CAR?
The National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, more commonly known as the Dyer Act, was enacted in 1919 because of congressional concern with widespread automobile thefts and the problem of state power ending at state lines. This federal law makes it a crime for a person to transport a stolen automobile in interstate commerce, knowing it to be stolen.

A problem of interpretation was soon presented to the courts. What was meant by the word "stolen"? Automobile thieves may obtain cars in many ways. An unattended car may be taken from the street or from a garage. In those cases there is a trespass in the taking and the thief would be guilty of larceny. But a thief could give a dealer a worthless check for the certificate of title, an employee in lawful possession of a company car could drive off and sell the car, or a person to whom a car was loaned or rented could keep it. These latter situations might be embezzlement, but not larceny, and yet the evil is the same.

As a result of the various ways in which persons came into possession of a car the courts varied in their interpretation of the word "stolen" as used in the Dyer act. This conflict was recently reconciled by the United States Supreme Court when it held that "stolen" does not have an accepted common law meaning, and is not limited by the common law definition of larceny. It should be given a meaning consistent with the context in which it appears. The court concluded that congress intended to meet the challenge of automobile thefts by effective legislation, and therefore intended the word "stolen" to have its generally accepted meaning.

"Stolen", as used in the Dyer Act, means any taking of an automobile with intent to deprive the owner of the rights and benefits of ownership, regardless of how the thief came into possession of it.

Occasionally you hear about one friend suing another for injuries suffered while visiting in the latter's home. Perhaps the party suing tripped on the stairs, or some similar accident.

You may ask yourself, "could this happen to me?" What duty do I owe to my guests?

The first consideration is the type of person who is there to see you. A social guest is termed a gratuitous licensee and includes members of your household, except boarders or paying guests or servants. The duty owed by you to licensees is not to willfully or wantonly injure them. This does not exclude liability on your part for extraordinary concealed perils against which the licensee cannot protect himself.

Your friend is not entitled to recover damages merely because there has been an accident, but must prove that you were guilty of a reckless disregard for the safety of the person injured, and that the reckless disregard for his safety was the proximate cause of his injuries.

In a recent supreme court decision a mother was denied damages for an injury from a fall at the home of her daughter, where she slipped on the floor and broke her hip. The daughter was ill and her mother came over to help fix the Sunday dinner. During the preparation of the dinner, the accident occurred. The court found the mother was a licensee and not a business invitee. Therefore, the daughter's only duty was not to willfully or wantonly injure her mother.

Since there was no evidence that the mother was hurt because of any wanton or willful conduct on the part of the daughter, the mother could not recover any damages.

Management tips for hog producers—One afternoon last week Rudy Setzler, our Washington State College Extension Livestock Specialist, accompanied me to visit some hog and sheep producers in the Lakebay, Key center and Rosedale areas, where I picked up some new (to me) ideas from Setzler that seem quite logical and practical.

At the Gordon DeTienne hog farm at Rosedale and at the Robert Gordon hog farm at Lakebay, Setzler mentioned:

1. The importance of getting two or three day old pigs to drink water. But how? By making very small, low drinking troughs, and using sweetened water. Saccharine pills are one of the best things to use because they are cheap. If for a day or two the pigs are picked up three or four times a day, then stick their noses in the water, then into their small feed troughs, this practice will get them to drinking and then eating much earlier than usual and will often mean the difference between unprofitable 25 lb. weaning age pigs and profitable 50 lb. weaned pigs. The use of some type of "smelly" fish oil mixed on the starter pellets will also help get the pigs to eating.

2. One of the cheapest and most practical mineral mixtures for hogs and of course, hogs do especially need minerals, consists of equal parts of iodized salt, lime (any kind except quicklime) and wood ashes (preferably hard wood) fed free choice.

3. One of the most practical protein feed supplements being used in eastern Washington for sow rations is fish solubles which are now available.

4. Use of antibiotics, mainly on-ly for treatment, not for low level feeding.

5. Widely accepted recommendations now to crossbreed hogs for hybrid vigor to make more money on market hogs. This same idea applies to crossbreeding of sheep for market lambs.

6. Not new, but repeated by Setzler, was the need for sanitation of hog pens using a can of lye in a 10 gallon stone or non-metal container and swabbing the mixture all over the pens to kill pests and disease germs. Let the mixture dry on the pens.

7. Use of copperize on a small piece of heavy soil type sod each day to provide extra needed iron to baby pigs.

Not about agriculture, but of general interest it seems, is this:

It is about eight or nine people riding in a fast moving station wagon, perhaps intent on suicide for themselves and murder for about eight other motorists. Driving west down from Chinook pass with my family on a recent Sunday afternoon, I noticed I was in a close line-up of 10 or 15 cars proceeding at a leisurely pace. All of us were going around a long turn to the right with a high hill on the right side of the road when Whoosh! past all of us the dark green colored station wagon shot past us on this outside curve completely forcing off the road the No. 1 and No. 2 cars up ahead of me in our line-up in order to avoid hitting head on a string of on-coming cars. Less than five minutes later I noticed the same car far up ahead forced off another car at the crest of a hill again because of oncoming traffic. You have probably noticed similar cases. I wonder if your reaction to such things is always calm? Philosophical or fatalistic, concerned or unconcerned?

If you are interested and still reading this, you might be interested to know a State Patrolman about 10 minutes later had stopped the station wagon.

The second annual Washington State University Poultrymen's Institute on October 22-23, at Pullman, promises to be a very interesting session. The Institute is for poultry servicemen, county agents, commercial poultrymen and others associated with the poultry industry.

The two day program is crammed full of interesting poultry information. Here are some of the topics to be discussed: "How is the Poultry Industry in the Pacific Northwest going to compete?" "Environmental Factors in Poultry Production." "Management Program for Custom Rearing Pullets." "Restricted Feeding Program for Pullets." "Disease control is a part of the Management Program." "Coccidiosis Control." "The use of Power Equipment on the Poultry Farm," and demonstrations of de-beaking, dubbing, dewatting and detoeing.

Speakers will come from Idaho, California, Iowa, Indiana, Wisconsin and Washington. Henry Hansen, Puyallup poultryman, Edmund Cook, Tacoma feed representative, Dr. C. M. Hamilton, Gordon Bearse, Dr. L. R. Berg, Dr. A. C. Jerstad and R. S. Hansen from the Western Washington Experiment Station will appear on the program. Registrations should be sent to the poultry department, Washington State University, at Pullman, Washington.

Mrs. Lila Dickerson, Extension Home Management Specialist, and Homer Fletcher, Extension Farm Management Specialist from Washington State University, will be in Pierce County Tuesday, September 8th. These specialists work with agents on the Farm and Home Planning program for families. The use of the management process and complete planning put many families where they want to be—on a sound financial basis.

What do foreign born visitors to America think of Americans? Here are answers from two young fellows who recently lived with American farm families. They are part of the U. S. Extension Service and 4-H International Farm Youth Exchange program.

Here are quotes from two of them who spent the past three months living and working with various 4-H American families.

the farmers they are not working with their own hand in their farms... I appreciate this sort of work, if our big farmers are persuaded to work in their farms. The other thing I noticed that is in United States government and people are too much alert of their children. They spend much time and money in this connection. I become astonished with the thing that children here enjoy too much freedom, and sometime they oppose their parents, yet when they become grown up men, they become obedient, responsible, and good citizens."

Hear Rojio Pateri from Finland. "Before I left Finland they told me that the people here they are too busy, and they have no time with you, and they have no time to look at your books, and they have no time talking about Finland. But I have found here that there are many people who are interested in Finland and they have time, but usually they are more busy in their clubs, because they have too many clubs where they are members. In Finland we have no so many. Now what about this busy in working—I think that in Finland the farmers, we must work much more than here in order our living. I have also found that people here they are very helpful and kind and here when I came to my first family, I found that the same day I felt just like at home, but in Finland, I think that almost every time takes much longer than here before they can feel just like I here."

One letter from an American 4-H'er, who was also an IFYE this past summer, indicated at least some of the people of Switzerland believe in work. He stated that, of course, he was interested in being accepted by the Swiss families he lived with, so along with them he got up every morning at 5:00 a.m. to do the early milking chores and was busy quite steadily in the various farm work till 9:00 p.m. every night.

PLEASANT OUTING
The weekend of September 5th was spent very profitably by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dillman and daughter Jackie of Alderton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dillman of North street and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Todd of Puyallup. The couples were on a hunting trip in the high country above Lake Wenatchee. They bagged a bear that dressed out at about 250 pounds. In putting the animal on the pack horse it slipped and pinned Jim Dillman between the bear and the horse but other than some bruises he wasn't hurt. The same couples went back up this past weekend to try their luck in getting their deer during the early season open in that country.

This Friday evening, Sept. 18, will be the first meeting of the Woodland School P-T-A. Vice President Mrs. Robert Vorak will open the meeting at 8 p.m. in the absence of President Vic Gaway. This will be the teachers' reception and the executive board will serve. Officers and committee chairmen for the coming year are: President, Vic Gaway; 1st vice president, Mrs. Robert Vorak; 2nd vice president, Mrs. George Hopkins; secretary, Mrs. Tom Bailey Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Stuart Scott. The committee chairmen are: Ways and Means, Kenneth Brown; hospitality, Mrs. Leslie Baker; room mothers, Mrs. Gordon Olson; year book and magazine, Mrs. Gordon David and Mrs. Delbert Runkel; school insurance, Mrs. Walter West; program, Mrs. George Hopkins; sunshine, Mrs. Norman Ward; record book and publicity, Mrs. Robert Vorak.

David Salyer and DuWayne David of Grebe road had an overnight camping trip to Mt. Rainier. David's dad, George Salyer, and his friend Dick Foulkner of Tacoma took the boys on the trip. Was a new experience for the two boys and they enjoyed it, altho the suggestion of a walk up to a lake sounded good till the trail got a little steep and then the boys decided it was too much work to make the climb so gave it up. Maybe next time they will be more ready for that sort of thing. Was good experience tho and I'm sure the boys will be ready for another such outing some other time.
