F.P. Board Banquet Speaker

A. Ludlow Kramer, Washington Secretary of State, will be principal speaker at a banquet to be held 6 p.m. February 10 honoring Franklin Pierce School Directors, Harry Sprinker, co-chairman for the event, announced late last week.

Franklin Pierce directors were named "The outstanding school board of the year for Washington State" in December by the Washington State School Directors Association. The Parkland Business Club, assisted by area service clubs and residents, are sponsoring the banquet to give district patrons an opportunity to personally congratulate their school board.

Dayle Collison, banquet co-chairman with Commissioner Sprinker, disclosed earlier that the event would be held at the Pacific Lutheran University and feature a menu of prime rib. Tickets will be available in the near future, he stated.

The Franklin Pierce board is made up of Wilbur Roberts, Herb Gelman, Harold Sherry, Jo Anne Matson, and Dr. Walter Schmackenber.

FP Graduate Rhodes Scholar

A young man who received his elementary and secondary education in the Franklin Pierce School District has been awarded a Rhodes Scholarship.

Hikaru Kerns, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kerns 1021 South 118, was named one of the 32 annual recipients of the coveted award last month in Portland, Oregon. He was nominated by Wilamette University, and was one of two nominees selected from Oregon to compete with finalists from 7 states.

The scholarship will allow him 2-3 years study at Oxford University in England. He plans to major in Oriental political science and eventually become a teacher. Basis for the award were scholastic ability, extra curricular experiences, character, leadership, and general superior ability.

While at Franklin Pierce High School he was elected student body president and received an Eagle Scout award.

Young Kerns is currently a student at Wilamette.

F.P. Board To Meet

The Board of Directors of Franklin Pierce School District will meet January 14 at 8:00 at the Franklin Pierce Administration Building. Coming to the attention of the board at that time will be the addition to the staff of a fourth grade teacher Steven Spinny. Spinny graduated from PLU with a BA

Fire District 7 Trucks on Road

Spanaway-Elk Plain Fire Chief John Farren will leave Wednesday, January 15, for Tripton, Indiana to pick up two new fire trucks for Fire District number 7. While in Indiana, Farren, accompanied by Fire Captain Ray Frerichs and Fireman Dan Kelly, will attend a two-day factory training session in the use of the new equipment which Chief Farren refers to as, "the latest design and most modern construction available in the fire control field."

The new trucks will greatly expand the fire-fighting capabilities of his department, according to the chief and improve protection to the voters who made the $58,000 purchase possible.

Bethel Board Seeks Webster Replacement

At the Monday night meeting of the Bethel Board the ground rules for filling the unexpired term from Bethel Director District three were established. The board expressed a wish to keep the filing procedure as brief as possible and established an uncomplicated system involving a single, simple step: "Eligible candidates are urged to indicate their willingness to serve by letter to the board through Dr. Gramann, Superintendent of the Bethel District."

To be eligible the candidates must live in Director District three, an area roughly bounded by Meridian on the east, the Reservation on the west, 208th street on the north and the Carlson road on the south. The letter, according to Supt. Gramann should also include the candidate's mailing address and telephone number. The board will advise each candidate of a time for an interview. The final appointment will be based on those interviews.

Superintendent Gramann, in the Bethel District office at Rt. 2 Box 2442, Spanaway, has indicated a willingness to familiarize prospective candidates of the duties of board members by making available booklet published by the Washington School Directors Association.

Interested parties who desire further information may call Dr. Gramann at VI 7-2233 or contact the Bethel District office at Rt. 2 Box 2442, Spanaway.

degree in 1968 as a major in education.

Also to be considered at the meeting will be items: a relocatable office building, employment of minority personnel, Education Council Bylaws, payment for consulting services and the investment of school district funds.

PHIL ZURFLUH, ACTING CHAIRMAN of the Bethel School Board who took over after E. W. "Doc" Webster's death hands the newly elected Board Chairman Elsie Berggren a briefcase filled with upcoming board business.

Last Call For Bethel Voters

Voter registration books will close January 11, thirty days prior to the coming Bethel School election.

Spanaway area voters can register January 9-10 at South End Hardware, South 185th and Pacific Avenue.

Spanaway Lions

Spanaway Lions President Roger Lincoln announced plans to start 1969 as a banner year in the history of that infant service organization. According to Lincoln, plans range from an expanded blood bank available to members of the community to programs for providing glasses and even new eyes for needy citizens.

Conservations with Blood Bank Director, "Skip" Reeves covered the history of the bank and methods for drawing from its contents. As the bank is depleted, members of the Spanaway Lions contribute fresh supplies which are credited to the Lions' credit. Any member of the community who needs blood in an emergency can call Skip at his home at LE 7-6148 or contact any member of the Spanaway Lions who will in turn relay the message to Skip. If the recipient is able to replenish the bank at some later date the Spanaway lions will appreciate the help, but the repayment is not a part of the availability of blood from the bank.

Another of the programs of the Lions furnishes sight to those without it. Called the Sight Conservation Committee, the group furnishes information about those who need glasses but are unable to afford the expense. The committee screens the information and aids in the purchase of glasses. Three Spanaway residents were the recipients of glasses this month. The group included one elderly lady and two small boys.

Another Spanaway resident who has been blind for years now is able to see as a result of a program in which the Spanaway Lions are a participant. In conjunction with the University of Washington Medical School, the Lions of Northern Idaho, Washington and British Columbia are establishing a system whereby one needy person per year will be able to draw from an eye bank similar to the blood bank on the local level.

At the Tuesday meeting, January 14, speaker O.R. "Bob" Pigford, Chairman of the Urban Coalition Task Force will discuss "Race Barriers - Black vs. White."

Berggren Bethel Board Chairman

At the regular meeting Monday, January 6, the Bethel School Board of Directors elected Mrs. Elsie Berggren to the position of Chairman of the Board. The position was vacant after the death of Mr. E. W. "Doc" Webster, who passed away recently.

Mrs. Berggren is a school director from district five in the Bethel system. She has served on the School Board for the past seven years, representing her director district.

Mrs. Berggren is the mother of a married daughter and two teenage sons. She taught at Elk Plain School for four years, after receiving her training at Pacific Lutheran College (now Pacific Lutheran University). Mrs. Berggren's mother, Mrs. Margaret Barrett, was a teacher for many years in schools which are now within the Bethel district. The school experience of Mrs. Berggren and her mother totals over 60 years of service to public education.

Honor Mooseheart

Governor Robert Kennedy of Parkland Moose Lodge 1814 announces a Special Dance and Social in honor of Mooseheart will be held at the Villa Bowl Banquet Room in the Villa Plaza on Saturday January 11 commencing at 9:30 p.m. All members and their guests are cordially invited. Musical interludes to be provided by Archie Gore and his Westerners.

Is College Best For Your Child?

Ever hear the term "school dropout"? If you thought it applied only to low-income families, you're wrong. If you push your child into college when he may not be cut out for a college career, you may be making the mistake of his life.

According to L. Allen Morris, Miami, Fla., chairman of the Realtors' ambitious Make America Better Program, "too often there is overemphasis on influencing all youngsters to go to college.

"Some children are not equipped to pursue a college career, and the end result is that we have many thousands of dropouts at the grade school as well as the high school level. The subsequent rejection feeling experienced by many of these students often turns their energies into vandalism and criminal activities," Morris says.

What's the solution? In many cases, these students may have a strong mechanical instinct to work with their hands or to learn some other saleable skill that is in great demand today. The Make America Better Program suggests to teachers and parents alike that they make more careful assessment of their children and students' interests and aptitudes and channel their energies productively.

One way to do this is to make available exploratory courses in occupational training at early ages. Such courses would determine if the youngster might be served better in vocational training than by a college prep curriculum.

ALL-GIRL ARGYLE

The niftiest knit in the classroom this term has a bit of a Scottish accent. Strictly in the feminine gender is this two-piece knit of Creslan acrylic fiber, with the neat geometrics of an argyle-patterned top. The lines are straight and true — lightly A-shaped skirt and crew-necked sweater top, with a little tie belt. This is the knit for the nine o'clock scholar — the young sophisticate who's never late, when it comes to the newest in fashion.

It's the LAW
PRESENTED AS A PUBLIC SERVICE BY THE WASHINGTON STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

IT'S THE LAW

Frank had been in an accident and felt that he should be able to recover damages from the driver of the other car. He went to see lawyer Jones.

Jones discovered while Frank was telling his story, that the driver of the other car was insured by a company represented by Jones.

As soon as Jones learned this fact, he stopped Frank from telling him any more about the accident.

"I can't represent you," Jones said, "since I represent the insurance company." He said he owed it to Frank not to hear anything from him which might be used against him if the case went to court.

This situation illustrates one of the basic principles in the ethics of the legal profession. A lawyer cannot represent conflicting interest. Basically, this is the legal profession's way of phrasing the old axiom that a man cannot serve two masters. A lawyer's duty is to do his best for his client. He cannot do that if there is a conflict between the interests of two of them. The reasoning behind this rule is that a lawyer should not appear in court representing both sides in a lawsuit.

If attorney Jones is practicing together with several partners, he must be careful not only of avoiding a conflict of interest between the clients he is serving, but between his clients and other clients of his partners as well.

As far as Jones is concerned, any client of his partners is his client.

Sometimes a lawyer may represent more than one of the parties to a transaction without violating the rule of professional conduct against serving interests which conflict. For instance, suppose two clients of the same lawyer were buying and selling a house. If both clients so desired and understood, the lawyer might, with complete propriety, represent both the buyer and the seller.

(This column is written to inform not advise. Facts may change the application of the law.)

"Unsatisfactory for use" is the way 56% of the nation's toothbrushes were classified in a report published by the Journal of the American Dental Association.

Boatswain's Mate Third Class John F. Christian, 21, son of Mrs. John R. Christian of 7309 E. 128th St. in Puyallup, is a .50 caliber machine gunner aboard Monitor 91-3, a heavily armed "battleship" of the Delta mini-fleet. The 60-foot gunboat — reminiscent of the ironclad Monitor of Civil War days — is a unit of River Assault Flotilla One, the Naval component of the unique Army-Navy Mobile Riverine Force.

Armed with 20 mm and 40 mm cannons, .50 caliber machine guns, grenade launchers and an 81 mm mortar, the Monitor provides gunfire support for troops of the U.S. Army's 9th Infantry Division as they conduct strike operations along the intricate patchwork of rivers, streams and canals of the Delta.

Frequently, the small boats that prowl the narrow channels in snake-like formation are ambushed from well-hidden enemy entrenchments on the riverbanks. "We only get involved in one or two big firefights a month," reflects Christian, "but those are enough to last a man for a lifetime."

Christian's gunboat and all the other flotilla assault craft are part of the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force homeported in San Diego, California.

The 21-year-old combat sailor was graduated from Puyallup High School before entering the Navy in February, 1966.

Sleepyheads Often Stroke Victims Says Cancer Society

By Elizabeth Stesart
Women's Medical News Service
EXCESS SLEEP MAY CAUSE STROKES

New York (WMNS) — Too much sleep may be a health warning signal. At least, that's what a report from the American Cancer Society indicates.

A six-year study of almost 800,000 men and women between the ages of 40 and 79 finds that people who sleep about seven hours a night are less likely to develop heart disease or suffer a stroke than are those who sleep nine or ten hours a night.

Statistics show that men in their fifties who sleep nine hours a night have a death rate from stroke almost twice that of men who sleep two hours less. Real sleepyheads who sleep 10 hours a night are almost four times as likely to die from stroke.

Another finding is that women in their forties who live under pressure had death rates from stroke two-thirds higher than women the same age who lived relatively tension-free lives.

Lack of exercise, obesity, and smoking were all implicated in higher heart disease death rates among both men and women.

FAMILY SIZE SWINGS WITH FASHION TREND

New York (WMNS) — The time for population control is not the year 2,000. The time is now.

This is the message anthropologist Margaret Mead brought to a recent meeting here of Planned Parenthood/World Population. She noted, "Today for the first time in the history of most societies it has become self-evident that the present rate of population growth endangers the quality of life in most affluent countries, and the very existence of millions in poorer countries."

Government coercion on such matters as family size is to be "feared and condemned," Professor Mead observed, "both in the name of individual religious freedom and in the name of civil rights."

Individual choice concerning family size, made in a climate of opinion which reinforces the advantages of small families, can go a long way to controlling the population explosion, Dr. Mead maintained.

Providing meaningful jobs for women, acceptance by society that some people will not want to have children, raising the marriage age — all of these factors, as well as education concerning population as it affects the individual, his society, and the world in which he lives can all affect decisions on family size, Dr. Mead said.

BROTHER GETS HIS SISTER'S TEETH

Ann Arbor, Mich. (WMNS) — Margy's bicuspid was impacted. Her 13-year-old brother's never developed. This being the age of transplants — the doctors at University Hospital here did what you might expect: They transplanted the 16-year-old girl's teeth into the boy's jaw.

The operation took place last February. A small portion of jawbone was transplanted along with the teeth. By the end of September, X-rays showed that the roots had started growing and new sockets had formed in the jaw.

The likelihood appears to be that the boy may have a set of workable bicuspid in his future.

Youths Ballot For Books

Young readers of the Pacific Northwest are going to the ballot box again to pick a winner, this time for the 1969 Young Readers' Choice Award.

Sixteen books have been nominated for the honors, and between now and April 15 school children of Grades 4 through 8 in the states of Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington and the province of British Columbia will ballot for their favorites. Voting may be done at their public or school libraries.

The author of the book polling the most votes will receive the Choice Award at the next annual conference of the Pacific Northwest Library Association, to be held in Seattle, September 3 to 5. The award is given by the Division of Work with Children and Young People of PNLA. Last year's winner was "Mouse and the Motorcycle," by Beverly Cleary.

The candidates for the 1969 award are: "Night-birds on Nantucket", by Joan Aiken; "Andy Buckram's Tin Men", by Carol Ryrie Brink; "Queenie Peavy", by Robert Burch; "Did You Carry the Flag Today, Charley?", by Rebecca Caudill; "Ghost of Five Owl Farm", by Wilson Gage; "Eddie the Dog Holder", by Carolyn Haywood; "Up a Road Slowly", by Irene Hunt; "Year of the Raccoon", by Lee Kingman; "The Crystal Tree", by Jennie D. Lindquist; "Spring Begins in March", by Jean Little; "Miss Pickereil Goes on a Dig", by Ellen MacGregor; "The Seventeenth Street Gang", by Emily Neville; "The King's Fifth", by Scott O'Dell; "Henry Reed's Baby-Sitting Service", by Keith Robertson; "Black and Blue Magic", by Zilpha Snyder; and "Edie on the Warpath", by E.C. Spykman.

Beginning February 3, election ballots will be available from community libraries and bookmobiles of Pierce County Public Library.

Fuller Handy Brush Has 50th Anniversary

The 50th anniversary of a household item used in virtually every home but never sold will be celebrated in the Tacoma area during January, according to Mike Price.

Price, who is manager of The Fuller Brush Co.'s Tacoma branch, said that Fullerettes, the modern female counterparts of the Fuller Brush Men, will be observing the half-century mark of the company's "Handy Brush" which has been given away to more than 500 million households in the past five decades.

Conceived by the company's founder, A. C. Fuller, as a means of achieving acceptance of the company's products at the front door, the Handy Brush today ranks as one of the most effective giveaways of all time, according to Price.

The Handy Brush has bristles held between two twisted wires which curve into a small handle. Except for the fact that the handle is now made of plastic instead of wood, it has remained essentially unchanged for 50 years.

Fuller originally thought of the Handy Brush as designed to clean vegetables but housewives, who found hundreds of other uses for it, kept asking for "one of those handy little brushes" and the name stuck.

Library Volunteers Sought

Training for new volunteers to assist with Pierce County Library's service to nursing homes will begin the last week in January. Carl Holland, the county library's supervisor for this service, has announced that January 24 is the deadline for volunteers to be accepted for this training.

According to Mr. Holland, volunteers receive three hours of training once a week before being assigned to a nursing home. First contacts with individuals in a nursing home are periods of visiting, during which the volunteer attempts to understand the interests or past interests of these persons. In trying to extend these interests through library materials the volunteer may read to individuals or to a group.

Mr. Holland stresses the importance of volunteer enjoyment of reading and desire to help others enjoy books and other library materials. "Also important," he said, "is the ability to enjoy listening to people, especially the elderly and those with prolonged illness."

Library service to thirteen licensed nursing homes in suburban and rural areas of Pierce County began in October, 1967, made possible by a three-year grant from the Older Americans Act. The service is administered by Pierce County Library, with Mr. Holland supervising from the headquarters staff but the activities in the homes are carried on mostly by volunteers.

A volunteer has commented on the service as follows: "I have been a nursing home volunteer for nearly a year and the longer I am with this work the more convinced I am of the need for it. Probably no segment of our society has more time on their hands than the residents of our nursing homes, and what better way to utilize this time than with the variety of materials available from the library?" These materials include books, films, phonograph records, reproductions of sculpture, and framed art prints. Large print versions of favorite books and some magazines are among specialized materials.

Persons wishing to volunteer for library service to nursing homes should phone or write Mr. Carl Holland at Pierce County Library headquarters, 201 St. Helens Avenue, Tacoma, 98402; BR 2-6214 or FU 3-4300.

G.I.s Dividends

A total of 84,023 Washington State World War I and World War II veterans holding G.I. insurance policies will receive $4,732,800 in dividends during 1969, John B. Kirsch, Manager of the Seattle Veterans Administration Regional Office, announced today.

Beginning January 1, dividends will be paid on the anniversary dates of the policies, Kirsch said.

Nationally, VA will pay out $236 million in dividends in 1969 to approximately 4,250,000 veterans holding National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) and United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI) policies.

This is $13 million more than the 1968 dividend payment of $223 million, Kirsch explained.

REO Board

To Meet

Immediately following luncheon at 11:45 A.M. the Board of Trustees of Rural Economic Opportunity, Inc. will hold its regular monthly meeting at Barlo's, 12221 Pacific Avenue, Wednesday, January 8th.

LUCKY SALES MONSTER wrecker drags the remains of an overturned Mack Log Truck back to the road after this bizarre accident on Ohop Bob's Hill on the Mountain Highway. Driver James W. Peters, 34, of 6007 So. Pacific Avenue escaped injury after his truck swerved into the embankment after a cow blocked the road. The cow was less fortunate, however, as it sustained severe injuries.

AMA Warns Snow Shovelers

CHICAGO — As snow piles up, so do related problems. Among these every year is the collapse of a number of snow-shovelers.

If you are sure that you're physically fit, go ahead with the snow-shoveling task, the American Medical Association says.

But if there is any doubt, AMA suggests: Get the job done some other way. Hire someone, or use power equipment.

It is much less expensive to employ these alternatives than to risk health impairment or death, AMA emphasizes.

Even if you are physically fit, AMA notes, it is safer to use a small shovel, filling it only partly. If possible, it also is better to push the snow rather than lift it.

By thus lightening the load, it's explained, it is not necessary to tense the diaphragm and abdominal muscles. There consequently is no significant increase in pressure within the chest cavity or increase in circulatory demand within the heart walls.

Frequently, AMA says, the problem with snow-shoveling is aggravation of an existing heart condition. When such a condition exists, breathing cold air while under physical strain may cause a spasm of small arteries serving the heart.

This usually can be avoided, AMA advises, by wearing a cold weather mask or covering the face with several layers of a knit scarf. This permits warming of inhaled air before it reaches the lungs.

Even for the physically fit, it's suggested, the motto should be: Easy does it. Especially when there is a lot of snow and a large area to be cleared, do the job in stages, resting periodically.

Finally, AMA cautions, falls also are a hazard for the snow-shoveler. Footwear that is not likely to slip on icy surfaces, and making sure of firm footing before moving snow are important.

Peace Corps Plans Placement Test

South Pierce County area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 P.M. on Saturday, January 18 room 407, Federal Bldg, Tacoma.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive; an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

Persons interested in serving with the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before the test. Application forms are available from post offices or from the Peace Corps in Washington, D.C. 20525.

Fifteen thousand Volunteers are currently serving in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Pacific Islands, working with the people of those nations in self-help projects ranging from food production to health to education. More Volunteers are needed for programs which will begin this spring and summer.

Census Survey Slated For Buying

Families and households in this area will be included in a nationwide survey of home repair and buying plans in January, according to John E. Tharaldson, Director of the Census Bureau's regional office in Seattle.

Census Bureau interviewers will ask householders about any plans to buy a house, a car, or major household appliances during the next year. Questions about home repairs and alterations will concern those made during the past three months and those planned to be made in the near future.

The Census Bureau conducts a survey of buying expectations and home repairs every three months to serve as a guide to economic growth. A mathematically selected group of households throughout the nation serves as a measure of what U.S. families own and what they expect to buy in the near future.

For example, a similar survey taken last July indicated that about 62 percent of all households owned their home, 27 percent owned two or more cars, and about 24 percent owned color TV. Ownership, however, varied according to family income: For households with incomes under $3,000, 50 percent owned their home, 6 percent owned color TV and 4 percent owned more than one car. For households with incomes ranging from $3,000 to $10,000, 60 percent owned their home, 23 percent owned color TV and 25 percent owned more than one car. For households making more than $10,000, 80 percent owned their home, 42 percent owned color TV and 54 percent owned more than one car.

Households included in the survey will not be identified. Their answers are confidential, and the information obtained will be used only for statistical purposes.

HORSEMEN'S NEWS

Over The Fence Rail

By PEGGY PLUMMER

A new member has just been added to the Jerry Buck family, a hinny foal, given by Dee Parham. Dee had bred a donkey to an appaloosa pony hoping to get a blanketed colt. But as it turned out the colt was born jet black.

The mare had died at the birth of the colt leaving a bigger problem, the finding of a nurse maid. So Jerry volunteered to take on the task. He is now hand feeding the newcomer. We wish Jerry all the luck with his new job.

Trails End Stables has been holding a horse show the first Sunday of every month. This includes equitation and gaited classes. They have a good turnout in both English and western classes. Trails End is located just out-side of Olympia.

Trails End Stables also has been holding team roping events every Sunday except for the first Sunday of each month. Roping begins about 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Sheriff's Posse held its annual banquet January 4. New members were accepted and election of officers was held. New captain is Jim Davis of Tacoma. Other officers included: Clyd Revord, First Lieutenant Secretary, Dick Cook, First Lieutenant Treasurer, Martin Berger, Second Lieutenant Mounts, and Loyd Alton, Second Lieutenant Membership.

A spring Appaloosa Horse Show has been planned by the Sheriff's Posse for the 8th and 9th of March. More information on the show will be available at a later date.

Farmers Overlook Deductions

By FRANK C. JACKSON

The men and/or machines that check income tax returns aren't born with the knowledge of a taxpayer's finances, family responsibilities and business operations.

It's up to the taxpayer, Frank C. Jackson, county Extension agent, reminds, to claim all possible credits, deductions, exemptions and depreciation if he is to pay only the amount of taxes the regulations require.

Farmers, in particular, Jackson notes, sometimes overpay because they overlook possible deductions.

Dr. Bruce Florea, Washington State University Extension farm management specialist, discusses some of the frequently overlooked items that could mean smaller tax payments.

The list includes investment credit, property depreciation, capital gains income, student dependents, and the farm's share of insurance and auto expenses.

Investment credit is not an option; it should be claimed. It must be claimed the same year the investment was made, however. Subtract investment credit from the tax due. If the credit is greater than the tax, apply it against taxes paid in prior years, or carry it ahead.

Claim depreciation on all eligible property. Be sure to use rates that actually represent the usable life of the property. Continue to claim depreciation for the established life as long as you own the item even though it is no longer in use.

Distinguish between capital sales and ordinary income. Report gains and losses from capital sales on schedule D. Long term gains are only 50 per cent taxable, and losses are fully deductible from gains.

Claim exemptions for children under 19 if you provide over one-half their support. Claim children over 19 if they are full-time students five months of the year or more and if you provide over one-half of their support.

If a child earns over $600, he must file a report and claim himself as a dependent. Parents, however, can also claim these children as dependents.

Include all expenses and income. If you sold real estate or are planning to sell, seek out good professional advice on how to handle the transaction, particularly if a large capital gain is involved.

Additional information on farm tax regulations is available in the Farmers Tax Guide. Copies are available at the county Extension office, Jackson said.

Hardware Disease Warning

By Eddie Thomason

One of the major winter-time hazards for cattle is hardware disease. Eddie Thomason, county Extension agent, reminded today.

He said cattle cannot separate bits of metal, nails, wire, fence staples and the like from their feed. This means it's up to stockmen and dairymen to be sure feed and feedlot are free of such hazards.

A great deal of trouble, expense, animal discomfort and even death losses can be prevented, he said, by cleaning out mangers, picking up scraps of wire and metal, tightening up loose screws, and driving protruding nails back into boards and planks.

Dr. Roy Hostetler, Washington State University's Extension veterinarian, advises that if animals do show signs of developing hardware disease, a veterinarian can usually remove the harmful metal objects surgically.

Symptoms of hardware disease include loss of appetite, a sharp drop in milk production, and variable fever. Many animals make grunting noises, walk with arched back, and have difficulty breathing.

Where hardware disease is causing abnormal losses in valuable animals, veterinarians sometimes give each animal a magnet. The magnet lies in the fore stomach and collects the particles before they have a chance to penetrate and do harm, Dr. Hostetler said.

New Edging Aids Gardens

NEW YORK (a) — If you're interested in protecting and beautifying your lawn or garden, a new aluminum edging will be of interest to you.

The edging comes in 16 foot lengths, is one-eighth inch wide and four inches high. The strips are pliable enough so that they can be used in circular beds or irregular contours. The edging is easy to install. The strip is inserted into a shallow trench dug into the earth with about a quarter inch of edging protruding above the ground. Aluminum stakes are used at three or four foot intervals to hold it in place.

The 16-foot length adds another size to corrugated "roll-up" styles now available in 40-foot lengths, four, six and eight inches high. In some areas, six and eight inch heights should be used to keep grass roots from encroaching under the edging. With modern new alloys, some of these corrugated types can be used as driveway curbing and, when properly installed, sustain the weight of an automobile without bending.

Crop Damage Not Known Until Spring

PUYALLUP — With the recent drop in temperatures in this area, commercial growers and home gardeners alike are wondering how much harm has been done to their crops according to horticulturist John Dodge of the Washington State Research and Extension Center here.

"The full story," he said "won't be known until growth starts and blossom buds expand in the spring." All most of us can do is wait and hope.

Chilly weather prior to the severe cold condition plants to withstand the most possible cold he said. There has been little of the alternate freezing and thawing that intensifies cold damage. Many low-growing plants such as ground covers, strawberries and primroses had at least a light snow cover which helped insulate them from the cold.

Most severe damage can be expected to plants exposed to wind and those on the south or west sides of buildings where temperatures climbed during mid-day and early afternoon, then dropped again at night reported Dodge.

There will likely be some damage to tender plants such as some of the blackberries, Northwest strawberries, some rhododendrons, azaleas and camelias — particularly where they were fully exposed to the worst of the cold. Wholesale damage to a wide variety of crops and ornamentals such as occurred in November, 1955 is not at all likely.

Toss Meat Balls With Salad!

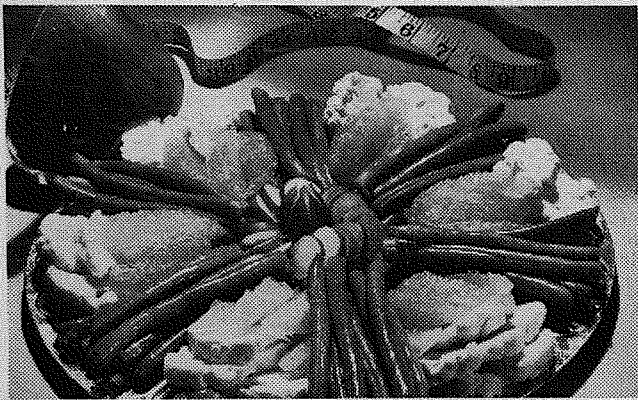

For this stick-to-the-ribs salad, meat balls are chilled with sliced zucchini in a garlic-touched marinade. Just before it's time to serve, you add coarsely chopped western iceberg lettuce and toss gently with the meat ball mixture, tomato wedges and onion rings. This party-size recipe may easily be cut in half for a family meal.

Meat Ball-Vegetable Salad

|---|---------------------------------|
| 1 head western iceberg lettuce | 1/4 cup cider vinegar |
| 3/4 lb. ground beef | 1 clove garlic, minced |
| 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt | 1 large tomato, cut into wedges |
| 1/2 teaspoon seasoned pepper | 3/4 cup onion rings |
| 1/4 cup corn oil | |
| 1/2 lb. thinly sliced zucchini or crookneck squash (about 1 1/2 cups) | |

Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in lettuce crisper or plastic bag. Combine beef, garlic salt and seasoned pepper; form into 24 small balls. Heat oil in skillet; add meat balls and cook until browned and done as you like them. Carefully transfer meat balls to bowl. Add zucchini, vinegar and garlic to skillet, mixing with drippings from bottom of pan; heat slightly, then pour over meat balls. Chill, turning occasionally to coat. Just before serving, coarsely chop enough lettuce to measure 6 cups; refrigerate remainder for use another time. Add chopped lettuce to meat ball mixture along with tomato and onion. Toss gently. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Low-Cal Salad Platter

It seems that everyone we know is trying to lose a few pounds—something to keep in mind when you're planning a party.

This beautiful vegetable salad will dress up a buffet table and make your calorie-conscious guests grateful to you for providing appetizing, filling fare that is easy on the calorie budget. It's a bright-hued combination of canned green beans, fresh cauliflower, orange sections and radishes.

Salads such as this are just one of countless ways calorie-low green beans of the Blue Lake variety can help waistline watchers. You should count only 60 calories to an entire can of these meaty-podded pole beans from Oregon and Washington.

For convenience as well as good flavor buy a bottle of tangy French dressing to serve with the salad.

Buffet Vegetable Salad

- | | |
|---|-------------------------------|
| 1 can (1 lb.) Blue Lake variety green beans | 1 cup fresh orange sections |
| 1 cup thinly sliced fresh cauliflower | 2 tablespoons sliced radishes |
| | 1/4 teaspoon seasoned salt |
| | Dash seasoned pepper |

Drain beans; arrange in bundles, spoke-fashion, on platter. Put cauliflower slices and orange sections between beans. Center with sliced radishes. Sprinkle with seasoned salt and pepper. Chill. Serve with bottled tangy French dressing on the side. Makes 6 servings.

Briefs

Eleven of the 33 Carnegie libraries which were built in the State of Washington in the early part of this century are still in use in their original form. Five others have been remodeled, and seventeen have been replaced by new buildings.

A rare book often loses much of its value when it is re-bound.

Three regional library systems have been established in the State of Washington following "demonstrations" sponsored by the State Library Commission.

Public libraries of Washington State are 39 per cent short on materials and 34 per cent on staff personnel, according to standards of the American Library Association.

Pacific Lutheran University's Doug Nixon (15) drives the baseline for a lay-in during the final minutes of Monday's court clash between PLU and University of Puget Sound. Following the play are UPS' Argie Rhymes (53) and Charles Lowery (23) and PLU's Ralph Whitman. Nixon was the Lutes' high scorer with 12 points. UPS won the game 99-60.

Braves Down Fife Trojans

By BILL HALLMAN

Winning their last two games by large margins the Bethel Braves are now displaying some of the play expected of them earlier in the season.

Picked to tie for the Seamount League Crown with Summer, the Braves got off to a slow start dropping their first two games by one point deficits. Then taking a sound beating against Belarmino the Braves outlook for the new season appeared a little dim.

The Braves then met the Fife Trojans in their home gym and showed many reasons why they were predicted to be at the top of the league. It was an outstanding team effort as four Bethel Hoopsters scored in double figures. The Braves were nearly 40 points ahead of the Trojans at one time.

Last week Bethel traveled to North Thurston and rolled to an easy 67-55 victory.

The Braves outrebounded the Rams 40-36 but missed nine more shots from the foul line than the Rams did. Bethel hit on 25 of 65 shots from the field compared to North Thurston's 20-65.

Bethel's scoring attack was headed by junior center Bob Niehl who dumped in 18 points. Niehl also tied for rebounding honors for the evening. Steve Jasmer and Mark Belvin were the next highest scorers for the Braves as they collected 14 points apiece.

Saturday evening the Braves will host the Tahoma Bears in a non-league contest. Game time will be 6:30 for the J.V.'s and 8:00 for the varsity.

Cards Top Rams

Franklin Pierce gained their spot in the finals with a paper thin victory over Wilson, holding on for a 64-63 victory. The run and gun Cardinals jumped off to an early lead, but the Rams came back to even the score at 35-35 at intermission.

Puyallup didn't give the Cards a chance to get untracked in the championship game, outgunning Franklin Pierce 20 to 9 in the 1st frame, then pouring on the coals for a big 43 to 22 halftime advantage.

Again, balanced scoring was the key to victory, with Mike Rose netting 19, Dick Dary 18, Scott Graham 16, Marc Hammer 10 and Bob Strelski 9. The Cards were led by Mark Korsmo, a talented scoring machine who pumped in 24

Coach Tom Whalen's Cardinal cagers will attempt to pick up the pieces Friday when they host new entry Jefferson in a home contest. Without a doubt they will be looking for revenge when they again face Puyallup January 24th at home in a SPLS contest.

IS YOUR BOAT IN THE WAY?

A well placed boat is just as important as an accurate cast, and the hand on the throttle may be as responsible for subduing a trophy fish as the trembling fingers locked around the rod.

Proper boat handling, say the fishing experts at Mercury outboards, plays a vital role in fishing. Unfortunately, they add, its true significance often becomes apparent too late . . . after a good fish has been lost.

Most anglers are reasonably adept at handling their rigs while trolling and casting. And hooking and netting ordinary size fish present no special problems.

However, things change quickly when the once-in-a-lifetime lunker comes along. Everyone focuses attention on the battle, and tends to forget that the boat can be a big aid to a happy outcome.

Some guides run their motors during the entire battle to help the fisherman hold the fish out in unobstructed water and to turn with the fish. When the fish shows signs of tiring and resistance slackens, the guide backs off steadily so that continual pressure can be exerted without letting the fish get a second wind up near the hull.

Large fish such as pike, salmon, trout and muskies have a peculiar affection for boat bottoms - particularly when about to be landed. They may slide docilely alongside, appearing completely whipped. Then, splash . . . down and under.

Unless the angler plunges his rod deep into the water and the helmsman swings the boat quickly, say the Mercury lads, something's going to get snagged and the escape made good.

Since you can't keep a big fish away from the boat, keep the boat away from the fish until he's definitely beaten.
