Armed Robbery, Burglary Head County Crime Reports

A man, first thought to be a tourist, proved otherwise late last week when he walked into Parkland Cleaners with a revolver and demanded "all the money in the till" from the counter girl, Mrs. Loreen Babbitt, according to Pierce County Sheriff's reports.

Described as 35-40 years old and wearing square sunglasses the robber of saven with approximately $50 in glasses, the robber got away with approximately $50 in cash. He was about 5 feet 8 inches tall, and drove off in a green and white 1955 or 1956 Buick, witnesses told deputies.

Mrs. Babbitt first saw the man outside the shop "looking lost," and explained that about a dozen people a day come into the cleaners for directions to the freeway. He then entered and demanded: "I want all of the money

Mrs. Babbitt told him he must be kidding to which he replied, "I am serious." He revealed a revolver.

As she started to remove the cash from the till, he told her not to bother with the checks or change. Mrs. Babbitt gave him one $20 bill, one $10 bill, one $5 and fifteen dollar bills. The bandit argued there must be more money, but she assured him he had the contents of

The thief started to push Mrs. Babbitt to the rear of the store. Mrs. Evelyn Kramer, owner, not realizing her establishment was being robbed, approached the man and ordered him from the premises. He then revealed a portion of the weapon and stated: "I don't want to have to Another worker at the cleaners, Mrs. Ann Upton, came out of the restroom. According to Mrs. Kramer, this appeared to have startled the robber as he may have feared more people were in the store.

Warning the three women to "stay put for at least 5 minutes," he left and drove into heavy southbound traf-

Burglars forced the front door of D & J Sporting Goods, 12816 Pacific Avenue late last week to steal 16 guns valued at $1800, according to Paul Wilson, store

The thieves made their daring entry despite mer-cury vapor parking lot lights and every light in the store left on, Wilson stated. "I can't understand how they broke in without being detected by passing motorists, he told the Journal.

Sheriff's deputies checked the premises and found everything in order about 3 a.m., he said. When they drove by at 3:50 a.m. the deputies noticed the store had been burglarized, Wilson stated.

When the burglars found they couldn't make entry through the back door, they concentrated on the front door. Wilson discovered numerous pry marks around the

Wilson said the loss included a surplus army carbine, a Browning 16 gauge shotgun SN A 8779, a Remington 12 gauge shotgun SN 1054858, a .303 British army rifle, .765 Argentine rifle, a Hi Standard 12 gauge shotgun, a 30-30 Winchester rifle, a 7 mm Winchester magnum SN 796412, a Remington Model 760 30:06, a Remington Model 742 30:06 SN 282181, a Winchester 12 gauge shotgun SN A 842670, a Winchester Centennial 30-30, a Winchester 270 caliber SN 70849642, a Winchester 300 magnum, a Remington Model 870, and a Hi Standard 12 gauge shotgun

This is the second time the store has lost firearms due to burglary.

Job Corpsmen Landscape Project

Parkland's beautification program will take a giant's stride forward next week when Neighborhood Job Corpsmen put the finishing touches on Parkland Park at 121st Street South and "C"

The park has been enthusiastically supported by members of the Parkland Development Association, and was designed by Parkland architect John Austin. Land for the project was made available by Trinity Lutheran Church.

The park, approximately one block wide by one half block deep, will boast night lighting, benches, picnic tables, over 125 shrubs and assorted greenery, with plenty of shade trees.

Fifteen Job Corpsmen have been dividing their work days between installing a retaining wall in Spanaway Park and completing the Parkland project, J.D. Miller told the Journal. Miller is Supervisor of the Neighborhood Job Corp, an agency under the Economic Opportunity Act to provide jobs for boys 16-21 years

The Job Corp is financed from Federal (90 per cent) and Local (10 per cent) funds, Miller stated. Metropolitan and Pierce County Parks have merged to supervise the program, Shrubbery, including a generous assortment of rhododendrons, has been donated. Much of the initial work to get the project started was volunteered by Development Association members and residents of the community.

The Job Corpsmen are expected to complete their work in about a week, Miller said.

Grass Roots Politics Lacks Voter Attention

by John VanDevanter

Politicians, observers and voters themselves are fond of talking about the "grass roots", yet the closer the political activity gets to these "roots" the less the voter is aware of what is going on.

No Madison Avenue techniques or Wall Street budgets are behind the building of an image in the city hall . . . at least not in Sumner or Bonney Lake. So the voter, since he is not drowned in tears or cheers for the office seekers, is apt to attach less importance to their selection.

A week from next Tuesday, for instance, every precinct in the county will vote in a primary election — but not one voter in 10 probably knows why or for whom.

But ten men are seeking the three positions on the Port Commission, and every registered voter in Pierce County has the opportunity and responsibility of helping narrow the field to six in the primary and three in the general election.

The cities of Tacoma, Sumner, and Bonney Lake also have primary elections in their council races. Puyallup would have, too, except that no more than two are seeking any one position.

But September 19 will be a comparatively short ballot compared to the general election November 7. Every city and town, every school, fire, sewer and water district, the Port of Tacoma, the Metropolitan Park District and the Intermediate District Board of Education (County Board) will be selecting commissioners and directors.

While a national or even statewide election usually carries enough ballyhoo so that the voter at least THINKS he knows what he's doing, the "Igrass roots" election is another matter. It's doubtful if the averate voter even knows the names of Port Commissioners, much less what they believe, seek, promise or signify to him.

The League of Women Voters, chambers of commerce, political parties and other agencies try to offer the voter a choice by informing him, but the effort is more satisfying for its own sake than for the voter's. Pow-wows, question-naires, interviews — whatever the method of developing the portrait of the candidate, it is useless without the attention of the voter. The Herald will try to provide information about this fall's elections. About some things, there will be points to be made. About the rest, the voter who cares at all will have to rely on personality, appearance, the ring of a name or some catchy little phrase the candidate uses. It's a depressing way to select an office holder, but at that it's better than not going to the polls at all.

Drawing on information provided by the League of Women Voters and candidates themselves, we'll try to keep up a running account. Any reader who wishes to contribute a point of view about the elections or candidates is invited to do so.

Extension Agent Explains

Drought Hurt Lawns, But Steps Can Be Taken

Western Washington's prolonged drought and heat have hurt most lawns to one extent or another, but with fall approaching there are first-aid steps that can be taken.

County Extension Agent

Frank Johanson gives the following recommended procedures from Dr. RoyGoss, Extension turfgrass specialist at the Western Washington Research & Extension Center, Puyallup.

Cool season turfgrasses in Western Washington are slow to green up again once they have turned brown and this is true even though water is applied. Most often it takes the cool, moist conditions occurring at the end of summer or in early fall before good color returns. In most cases, lawn that has turned brown is in a state of summer dormancy rather than dead and generally it will survive.

On the other hand, there are some treatments that can be followed, to speed and assure its return to a healthy green color. Dr. Goss recommends power raking the burned out grass to remove a good portion of the mat and This debris, of course, should be removed from the dry weather is more than minor, Dr. Goss says a good suggestion is to overseed with a mixture of 60 percent red fescue and 40 percent Highland or Astoria bentgrass at the rate of two to three pounds per 1,000 square feet. The period October 10-15 is con-sidered ideal by Dr. Goss.

Because this damage from

Keep the area thoroughly moist either through sprink-ling or from rainfall to speed up germination.

To help rejuvenate these injured lawns, a good fertilization when the weather cools down will help make lawns beautiful this fall. Use a 3-1-2 ratio of fertilizer for best results and try to apply about a pound and a half of available nitrogen per 1,000 square feet in a single application. Keep adequate water on the lawn.

Although grass may be brown, some of the weeds are staying green because they have deeper taproots and can bring moisture up from areas not available to the grass. False and common dandelion and plantain are among the biggest offenders, but September and October are ext-remely good months for spraying these weeds. They should stay down for the count.

Midgets, Stocks At Spanaway

Powderpuff, Rollover Also On Tap

SPANAWAY - A highly spiced variety of racing equipment is on tap for Spanaway Speedway fans this weekend, with the roaring midgets slated to move in Saturday evening for a full card, then Auto Racing Inc. will be back at the same old stand Sunday with super stocks, a Powder Puff main and top it all off with a jalopy destruction rollover event

In last Sunday's double header, Steve Kiser nabbed the brass ring Sunday with a solid victory in the double points, 100 lap "A!" main feature. Jackie Kuper grabbed a win in the "AA" 50 lap race.

Two spectacular rollovers added thrills to an already exciting program, Dick Scott doing a double roll in Sunday's heat race, then Rick Swain topping that with a triple roll in Monday's feature. Both were driving cars carrying number 41. (Superstitious persons please note.)

place in the "AA" hundred lapper, only to lose a wheel during a minor skirmish in the back shute.

Longley literally "drove the wheels" right off the car, giving some of the top drivers fits in the process. Leon DeLapp, an invader from Longview, took the checkered flag after collaring Don Hall in the final 10 laps.

Many of the favorites bowed out in the feature as their equipment couldn't match the pace they set. Among those pulling into gasoline alley were Bob Rollins, Bob Short, Jackie Kuper and Ken Longley.

Point Leaders

Season point leaders following the Labor Day doubleheader are as follows;

Double "A" cars; Don Hall (5) 940, Jackie Kuper (1) 923 and Bob Short (17) 818

"A" cars; Steve Kiser (63) 1180, Ken Longley (92) 1140 and Bernie Bond (61) 673.

Entries

The Saturday night midget slate should prove to be a humdinger, with no less than six of the fire belching bombers hailing from the Tacoma, Puyallup area. The Puyallup contingent include Denny Long (30), Eric Gibson (20) and Dick Morrison (77), Tacoma will be represented by Tom Ford (50), Harland Zentner (44) and Jim Broushof (43). Broushof will be running his first race after installing a brand new Chevy II engine worth $4,000. That's a lot of engine.

The three top point getters for the midgets include Kenny Peterson, Palmer Crowell and Joe Webby.

Syd Carr, president of the Washington Midget Racing Association, is still hospitalized after suffering serious injuries last August 26th at Umatilla, Oregon. Carr was hit by one of the hard charging midgets while attempting to cross the track during time trials. He will be out for the remainder of the season.

In case of rain Saturday, rain checks will be passed out for the following week.

ÉARKLANDCalendar of events

Parkland Barracks and Auxiliary, Veterans World War I, will meet at James Sales Grange Hall 6:30 p.m. September 12 for a pot luck dinner. Bring your own table service. The dinner will be followed by a business meeting at 7:30 p.m.

KALICO KICKERS will square dance Saturday night at Canyon Road Community Hall. Ed and Clara Kimball will teach the dance of the month - "Charlie's Shoes." A potluck supper will be served at 11:30. Dessert, tea and coffee will be furnished by the club. All square dancers are invited.

Heave-Ho Bowler

A WIDE VARIETY of bowling styles and techniques was demonstrated by keglers around the county warming up for league play, scheduled to start at most alleys September 5. The two-handed push form used by four-year-old Joey Wells proved to be most unusual. Joey, pictured giving the ball a hefty shove with the help of Bob Unkrur, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne A. Wells, 12012 28th Avenue East. Unkrur is an employee of Paradise Lanes.
