Lane Construction Over 6-Year Period

The State Highway Department has appropriated $55,000 in this biennium and $278,000 over a 6-year period to put in the two-way-left-hand-turn-lane on Pacific Avenue from the city limits to Spanaway, it was announced Tuesday by Harry Sprinker, Pierce County Commissioner and R. Ted Bottiger, D-29th District Representative.

According to Bottiger the $55,000 is for the engineering study, to include planning and estimated costs. The bulk of the money would be appropriated over a 6-year period for the construction.

Sprinker, Bottiger and Sen. John T. McCutcheon have been battling to get the addition for over a year, and at last it seems reality.

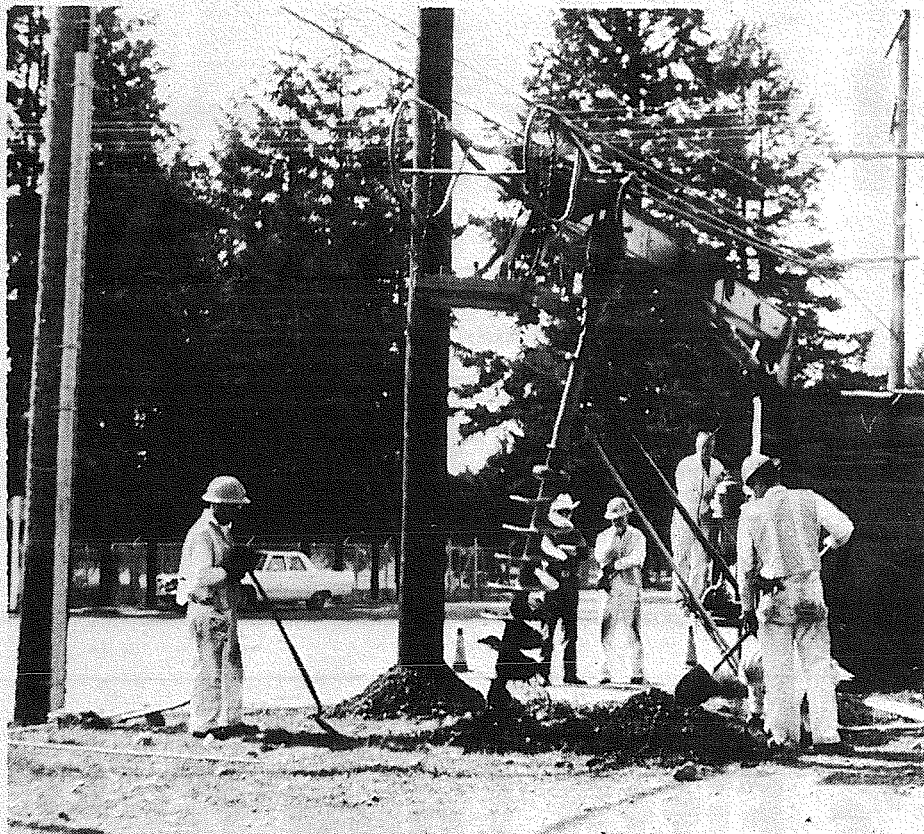

The extra lane, or fifth lane, will allow cars to pull into the center lane to make left turns without obstructing traffic and allowing residents to turn into a place of business without having to take a detour because of the double yellow line restrictions.

Another considered use for the fifth lane is for emergency vehicles during rush hour traffic.

Specific details on the fifth lane will be forthcoming according to Bottiger, at a meeting with the State Highway Department.

Also tied into the announcement, according to Sprinker, is the temporary traffic lights at Military Road and Pacific Avenue.

The light, he said, is temporary only until the planning for the fifth lane is complete and we find out what kind of channelization will be utilized, but, he added, the lights will ease the problem until that time.

The dump will accept large articles, for which there usually is a charge.

Port of Tacoma

Fredrickson Reasoning Aired

By Sandy Ingram

In recent weeks, the Port of Tacoma’s request for re-zoning of the Fredrickson area has caused mixed emotions from nearby residents.

Some residents believe that any industry going into the area would be objectionable to surrounding landowners because the re-zoning request is to change the area from general use and suburban agriculture to heavy manufacturing.

Officials of the Port have been asked on several occasions exactly what kind of heavy industry would move into the 650-acre tract, and have replied each time that they do not know, and have been accused of bad planning for their apparent lack of knowledge, but in an interview with Roy Perry, Port general manager and Marc Anderson, Port Industrial Development executive, this writer was convinced that the contrary is fact.

The Port does not know what type of industry will locate here, the main reason being that until the area is re-zoned they have nothing concrete to offer any prospective user.

Why then the Fredrickson area?

The Port’s reasoning for the need of the land is best explained in a letter dated March 6th, 1968, from the Port to the Pierce County Commissioners. In part it states:

“The present Industrial Development District of the Port is now in the final stage of development, and it is expected that within five years all land adjacent to this waterway will also be occupied, and buildings and pier facilities completed. Certain small industrial sites not immediately adjacent to the waterways remain unoccupied, but are being reserved for use by industries which will be engaged primarily in import-export trade, requiring proximity to pier facilities. Consequently, there will soon be no further sites available in the Commencement Bay Area for large industries.”

In short this means that the Port is planning ahead to keep land available, with which they can draw more industry into Pierce County.

The Fredrickson area was chosen because of the availability of ample electrical power, natural gas and petroleum pipelines, rail facilities, good roads with favorable connections to Port piers and a good labor supply.

I was assured by the Port authorities that any industry going into the area would be screened and would have to abide by any and all regulations and conditions as called for. According to Perry and Anderson, “The Port Commissioner would obviously not do anything intentionally to hurt any part of Pierce County, after all they are elected officials to better the area and not to do anything to harm it.”

In another letter to the commissioners the Port president, Richard Dale Smith, stated: “The Port of Tacoma respectfully requests the County Commissioners to issue an M-2 zoning permit. The Port Commissioners recognize the concern of the Pierce County Commissioners in protecting the interests of resident owners in the area.”

“The Port Commission pledges its support to the County Commission to conduct its solicitation program for prospective industries and to review applications from all industries requesting purchase of property in the area in order to hold possible nuisance factors to an absolute minimum.

“The Port will also require industries locating in the area to observe a minimum 100-ft. buffer zone consisting of natural vegetation or office-type buildings. In the event this requirement is impractical, a 150-ft. parking lot or open space buffer zone will be required between any plant and built-up residential area.”

Perry also specified that one of the factors deciding their choice of industry would be the employment density. “We want a company that employs plenty of people” he said.

Breakfast Date Set

The annual Fisherman’s Breakfast will be held this year in the McKenna School cafeteria, starting with the opening day of the season.

Parkland Lions Plan Fund-Raising Teen-Dance Here

Parkland Lions will sponsor a teen dance from 9 p.m. to midnight Friday, April 19th at the Sportsman’s Chateau, 160th and Canyon.

Editorial

By Em Matson

In a few short months, a portion of our population will select leaders who will be charged with charting the course our country will take during the next four years.

Each citizen will be involved whether he wants to be or not, for he is the one that will be asked to finance the programs being proposed by political parties and candidates.

As the various government agencies and programs mushroom in size, it becomes increasingly difficult for the average citizen to appraise how his money is being spent, and how it will benefit his nation, state, and local community. It seems that with each passing year, the government tends to become a little more distant from the people it serves.

Adding to the confusion is the widespread divergence of opinion within both political parties. It is becoming a difficult task for a voter to decide exactly what political doctrine a candidate represents by the party label he wears.

In order to bring the Presidential election a little closer to the voters, several election reforms might be considered. The Electoral College system denies citizens from voting directly for the man to fill the highest office in this land. We feel the President of the United States should be elected by popular vote.

We also propose that every voter be given a voice in the nomination of President, and strongly support the Presidential Primary system whereby delegates to national political conventions are bound by the primary vote of their state.

Jehovah Witnesses Return From Meet

Jehovah's Witnesses climaxed their three-day convention in Yakima, Washington, Sunday, April 7, with 1,950 persons in attendance, including 70 from the Spanaway Congregation, according to Daryl Schinnel, presiding minister.

The highlight of the convention was the Sunday 3 p.m. talk by District Minister A. L. Franck: "Why Does God Permit Wickedness?" Franck asked, "Why has God permitted man's inhumanity to man? Why has He tolerated the suffering of the innocent? Why are these questions continually asked? Is there no answer?"

"Man needs an answer to these questions since lawlessness has now reached the point in the United States where there are some 420,000 law-enforcement people in about 40,000 separate agencies spending more than $2,500,000,000.00 each year of the public's tax money to cope with lawlessness."

"The Creator of man and angels has set a time limit for his creation to run its course by choice and with all evidence submitted will show all creation once and for all time that, 'It does not belong to man who is walking even to direct his steps'" Franck quoted from the Bible at Jeremiah 10:23.

"What Adam by choice forfeited, his posterity by choice can gain by manifesting faith in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, who brings the promise to reality," concluded Franck.

Regular meetings at the Spanaway Congregation will resume this week. Daryl Schinnel said, "Plans are being made for the special annual event, to celebrate the Memorial of Christ Jesus' death. We expect an attendance of 160 for this event, Friday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m.

All are invited to attend the Memorial celebration with the Spanaway Congregation April 12.

Spanaway Moves To California

Spanaway has a famous namesake whose popularity will soon span the Pacific Ocean from New Zealand to Hollywood Park.

The namesake, a 6 year old Standardbred pacer, has a distinguished 2 year record at New Zealand tracks winning the top events in that country.

She has claimed the Wyndham, Southlane, and Gore Cup among many other top purse races so far this year, and has been hailed as one of the foremost newcomers in the harness racing world by New Zealand and Canadian track columnists.

Owner-trainer John Seaman brought the New Zealand born mare to this country earlier this month, and is preparing her for racing in the California circuit. She will see plenty of action at Hollywood Park in competition with outstanding U.S. pacers.

Seaman, who calls Spanaway home and lives with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seaman when visiting the Spanaway area, named the horse after his hometown community. He has been living in New Zealand the past 6 years having married a girl from that country.

"Sulky racing is one of the few outdoor sports we in America can claim as originating," Seaman told the Journal adding, "It dates back to colonial days."

The sport is being rediscovered in this country. New tracks are being planned including a park in North Seattle, to be ready for the 1969 season. It will feature the only Sunday afternoon racing program in the state, he pointed out.

Seaman hopes to retire from the tracks in a few years to settle down in the area as a SPANAWAY, a harness racing horse, was posed for Times Journal camera man by owner John Seaman. The horse has enjoyed a distinguished racing career in New Zealand and will soon be making a debut at top California tracks. This is the mare's first visit to the U.S. and she was initially pastured in the Elk Plain area.

trainer of harness racers. Pierce County has great potential as a center for track horses with an already built-in horse enthusiasm, he stated. Seaman is attempting to generate interest in such a project.

Since other New Zealand horses have enjoyed a history of successes at U.S. tracks, Seaman has high hopes for Spanaway in California. One New Zealand import, Cardigan Bay, will race his last season this year after winning more than one million dollars during his career. In previous competition, Spanaway has beaten many of the New Zealand pacers who are now favorites at California tracks.

During her two year career, the mare has taken eight firsts including two qualifiers. In nine starts this past season, she never has finished later than fourth in a twenty horse field, and was in the winner's circle three times. Two of her wins were registered the same day with the last race run under a 36 yard handicap.

Spanaway boasts some of the all time greats of harness racing in her family tree. She was sired by Aksarben and her dame was Banbury, and has Volomite and Light Brigade in her lineage.

With an ambitious schedule ahead and a little luck, Spanaway could earn a cool $100,000 this season. For a horse, that's a lot of hay.

4-H News

Four Hoofs Each of Parkland

By DENISE ATLEE

At a recent area Demonstration Contest members of the Four Hoofs Each 4-H Club receiving blue ribbons and qualifying to compete on the county level were Jessie Haire, Sally Steiner, Denise Atlee, Rod Marecle, and Rod Anderson. Bonnie Hayes and Chuck Earle also demonstrated. The County Demonstration Contest will be held at Sumner High School May 4.

Plans are being made and committees named to prepare for the club's community project. As they did last year, the club will provide a 4-H Farm Zoo for the children of the Head Start Program of Tacoma and the local nursery schools. April 17 is scheduled for the first workday. The zoo will again be held during the first two weeks in May.

The members also plan to have a booth at the annual 4-H Fun Night to be held 7 o'clock p.m. April 27 at the Fruitland Grange Hall. Money earned at this event will be donated to the Pierce County Leaders' Council to further the 4-H program in Pierce County. The public is invited.

Recently several members of the Four Hoofs Each along with their rakes, wheelbarrows, and energy attended a work session in which 4-H members from all the county were present. Their purpose was to help clean up and clear out Frontier Park at Graham. This will be the new site of the Pierce County Fair which in the past was held at the Sumner High School grounds. The fair will still be held as usual in August.

April 23, 7:30 p.m. at the Waller Grange Hall is the time and place for this year's annual 4-H Queen Ceremony. Each year a queen and a royal court of four princesses are chosen to help promote and publicize 4-H and the Pierce County Fair. Last year Molly Stuen of our club was on the court and will always have many enjoyable memories. This year Sally Steiner will be competing for the title. Win or lose it will be a memorable experience for all the girls. The public is welcome to this event.

Weekend Accidents

EARLY Sunday morning proved tragic for Nick Schanz of 8021 East 58th, Puyallup who was injured and pinned into his 1967 automobile following a collision at the intersection of the Mountain Highway and the Muck Kapowsin Road. According to Washington State Patrolman Jim Gain, the accident occurred when Schanz attempted to make a left turn onto Muck-Kapowsin. His vehicle was struck by that driven by Herman Hardtke of 2009 So. 8th, Tacoma, and rolled twice ending up up-side-down in a ditch. Schanz was transported to Lakewood General Hospital for treatment of severe lacerations and internal injuries.

THREE persons were injured early Saturday evening when a 1962 automobile, driven by Darlene M. Chrenshaw of 14209 Pacific Avenue and a 1962 automobile, driven by Charles H. a concentrated effort to prevent a majority decision on the sewers, this was achieved in the November election. I am really concerned at the light manner in which the commissioner treats the serious matter of equality. To justify himself he makes this statement, "When all voters have an equal voice, those who own little or no property can impose heavy burdens on those who have large holdings." These words from the Gettysburg Address, "of the people, by the people, for the people," accurately described the place of government in the lives of all Americans, both large and small landowners.

The chief purposes of government in the United States are safeguarding personal freedom and civil rights for all the people, and seeing that one class or group does not benefit at the expense of others. The term "general welfare", as used in the Preamble of the Constitution, means the "common good of all people". "Popular Sovereignty" means the authority to govern comes from the people themselves and not from kings, presidents or even legislative bodies. The idea that some people should be deprived of their right to vote to benefit others is un-American and discriminatory.

There is no question of the legality of the School Director's action in committing the school property to support the Sewer District, but again the question of what is right and what is not right arises. The commissioner states that it will cost $250,000 for a disposal plant for the new high school if no immediate sewer is provided. The School Directors, however, on September 28, 1967, stated that a sewage system would cost $100,000, or a septic tank system would cost but $20,000. The septic tank system could be successfully operated for the period of time until the county system is available. There is a real difference here of $250,000 against $20,000.

The law, H.B. 139, plainly gives to the county the power to provide sewer service with or without the S.S.S.D. I, for one, after what has occurred in this community, would feel more secure with a county plan. I am sure it is for the best interests of Parkland to join in the Clover Creek Basin Sewer System that will be built by the county to provide for the needs of the basin for years into the future.

After careful consideration of the commissioner's statements, the only thought that comes to me is that "Me-thinks he doth protest too much." Why?

Yours truly,
A. Thayer

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

April 15, 1968

Pierce County Herald
14620 Pacific Avenue
Tacoma, Washington 98444

Sirs:
The Pierce County Improvement Association has asked the State Highway Department to give consideration to the dangerous crossing at 121st Street and Pacific Avenue. We are enclosing a copy of our letter to them.

We believe that a concentrated effort on the part of all who should be concerned will produce results and we feel certain such action should be taken without delay.

We earnestly solicit your support and will appreciate whatever steps you may deem appropriate in conveying to the State Highway Department the importance of their immediate attention to this matter.

Sincerely
Leo Wilson, President

April 15, 1968

Pierce County Herald & Times Journal
14620 Pacific Avenue
Tacoma, Washington 98444

Dear Editor:

Note was taken of Dr. Mortvedt's feeble attempt to give a shot in the arm to the dying South Suburban Sewer District. The District is no longer recognized by the Pierce County Improvement Association, which has turned its interests to other matters; and it appears some of the District's most ardent supporters have opened their eyes and are no longer recognizing its existence. There is no denying the legalities were strictly adhered to in its operations, and there is no denying confessed murderers have been turned loose to kill again through legal channels, proving the established laws are not always fair in their enforcement.

A recent investigation by the P.C.I.A. shows the ratings of the S.S.S.D. at the State Pollution Control Administration, based on a ten-point system of rating, are: Financial needs, 8.4; Pollution, 6.0; Engineering, zero.

Letters formerly published in this paper amply proved that no approval has come from the Control Administration, and we believe the County needs to confirm or deny their approval. Information gathered by the P.C.I.A. clearly indicates the S.S.S.D. has been dead in the water for almost a year and has lost the race in its plans to install a main line sewer to Steilacoom. The only thing remaining to be done is for them to admit it.

Dr. Mortvedt, in his listing of various sewer laws, neglected to mention an amendment to the sewer laws recently passed in the late session of the Legislature, in which the words "tax or assessment" are included, but "revenue" is not. Lack of the word revenue could relieve certain parties of a large portion of the debt claimed of the District were maintained. Could this be the reason the S.S.S.D. is contesting the will of the majority?

Leo G. Wilson, President
Pierce County Improvement Ass'n.

To The Editor:

I read in last week's Letter Box that a commissioner of the South Suburban Sewer District is concerned about the issue of the methods used by the District in its annexations, and well he should be. There are two great factors in every dispute. These are right and wrong. There is little use trying to shift one to the other by use of a permissive law, or laws, designed for one purpose.

His statement that all of the plans of the S.S.S.D. have the approval of various departments and County Commissioners is, in the least, questionable. Careful studies have shown that these bodies have laid down specific requirements. However, the S.S.S.D.

Horse Show, Judging School Slated At WSU

An avid group of students as well as spectators are reserving space at an annual May spectacular: the Washington State Open Horse Show and WSU Judging School, Eddie Thomason, County Extension Agent, said today. The twin events will be held at Yakima Meadows on the Central Washington Fairgrounds again this year. The Horse Show will be held May 30 to June 2 and the judging school May 30 and 31. Signup for the WSU horse judging school is already under way Thomason said. He explained that the judging school is offered in three divisions - junior, adult, and apprentice. Joe B. Johnson, WSU Extension Livestock Specialist, says the junior division was developed to enrich and promote judging skills and knowledge of light horses for youth, especially 4-H and FFA members. Participants will judge at least 6 halter and 2 performance classes and attend at least 2½ hours of formal instruction. Adults will get more advanced instruction and will judge at least 8 halter and 4 performance classes, and participate in at least 3 hours of instruction by professional staff members. Apprentice judges will work individually with the judges in the ring and discuss special problems with the official judging panel in seminar sessions. This group will judge at least 10 halter and 5 performance classes and receive at least 5 hours of formal instruction. The instruction and seminar sessions will cover fundamentals of light horse judging, relation of form to function, inherited weaknesses, judging hunters, jumpers and pleasure classes, and duties of the steward and ring master.

Thousands Of Anglers Expected At Lakes

This state has nearly 8,000 lakes, and only a small portion are listed in the prospects that follow. Those listed, by region and county, include nearly all of the popular, easy-access waters. The prospects have been prepared by the Regional Fishery Biologists of the Game Department. Predictions are based on pre-season surveys such as gill-net sampling on all major waters, as well as upon their experience and familiarity with local waters and observations of last year's harvests. The information is provided at this time to give you ample opportunity to make the most of it before the April 2 opener.

It should be noted that the list of popular waters changes little from year to year; as major producers continue to provide a year-in, year-out fishery. The key to this intensive management is, of course, the lake rehabilitation program and hatchery origin of the majority of trout taken.

Fishing success should be slightly improved over last year despite reduced trout survival in several lakes. Bay and Clear lakes rehabilitated last fall, will provide good fishing for 8-10 inch trout but will not be in full production until next spring. Lawrence lake should have another excellent trout season but will not be as good as last year due to spinyray competition. McIntosh and Mineral lakes trout production will be severely reduced due to spinyray populations.

Spinyray lakes in the Region will not provide the excellent angling that they did last year, but they still should be very good.

Stream fishing should be excellent this spring. Eastern Lewis county streams should provide excellent rainbow fishing throughout the summer. The sea-run cutthroat program is slightly expanded this year and should produce the same gratifying results as last summer.

Local Golfer Awarded College Scholarship

Douglas J. Campbell, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, 7224 50th Ave., E., Tacoma, has been awarded Chick Evans college scholarships by the Pacific Northwest Golf Association. Campbell is part of the 15 winners from the Pacific Northwest area announced today by Don G. Ross, president of the PNGA.

All award winners receive their scholarship to a major university, where they hold a four-year grant, covering full tuition and housing. The average value of each scholarship is in excess of $3,500.

Financial support for the program comes from more than 12,000 PNGA club members.

The 15 new award winners were selected at a recent interview meeting of the PNGA Scholarship Committee in Seattle. The candidates were considered on the basis of financial need, caddie record and academic potential. Scholarships were awarded on a competitive basis using these factors.

Campbell, a graduate of Puyallup high school will enroll this fall at Washington. He caddied at Fircrest G&CC.

Derby Washes Out

SPANAWAY - O'Jup Pluvius proved he was the only one who could stop the Spanaway Speedway Queens as he washed out their '68 Powder-puff debut at Spanaway last Sunday with an abundant amount of get stuff.

The postponement will be made up on the weekend of Sunday, April 28, delayed because of the opening of fishing season. This Sunday's slate will revert back to the full card of A.R.I. sponsored superstock races including trophy dashes, heats and mains. Most of the regular rod jockeys have ironed out the bugs and added a few pounds of bailing wire to get their cars in mid-season form. Steve Kiser is still the man to catch in the "A" division, with Bob Short, Dpn Hall and Jackie Kuper off to a good start in the "AA" bracket.

Showing consistently better as the weeks go by, is Dave Rogers in his lowered 13 car. Rogers, always fast through the corners, has added a few horses to help him in the shutes. This could be his week to upset the favorites.

PLU To Present 'Mass in B Minor'

The three major musical organizations at Pacific Lutheran University will join forces on May 11 and 12 for the presentation of J. S. Bach's immortal "Mass in B Minor."

Featured soloists for what will be the university's largest musical venture in school history will include Charlotte Garretson, soprano; Karen Marra, mezzo soprano; Yona Urness, contralto; Wilbur Elliott, tenor; and Frederick Newnham, bass.

David Urness of PLU's music faculty will direct the combined voices of the Choir of the West and the University Chorale, plus the University Symphony.

Reserved seats for the 8:15 p.m. Saturday and Sunday performances may be obtained by contacting PLU's ticket office.

Bach's B Minor Mass is generally recognized as the most monumental piece of music conceived by man. It is four separate works that Bach bound together, although some music historians claim he never meant to have it played in its entirety.

PLU To Present Radio Orchestra Of Canada

Pacific Lutheran University, hosting its final Artist Series presentation of the current academic year, will present the Radio Orchestra of Canada in concert Friday, April 19.

Tickets for the 8:15 p.m. performance in Eastvold Auditorium may be reserved by calling PLU's ticket office.

In an age when live-radio broadcasts of symphonic music are virtually extinct, the Radio Orchestra of Canada enjoys an enviable position among the performing arts.

Each week for the past 21 years the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's Vancouver-based radio orchestra has been heard in an hour-long broadcast. John Avison, one of Canada's few native conductors, has been directing the symphony since its formation in 1939.

The 30-piece orchestra is small in size to allow it to fill the gap in orchestral scope between the virtuoso-string group and the full-symphony orchestra. Its specialty is 17th and 18th century music, but it is also a perfect instrumental group for contemporary performances.

The Vancouver Radio Orchestra, which uses the name Radio Orchestra of Canada while touring, has many outstanding musicians in its ranks and all of its principal players are well-known soloists. Included among the performers are concert-master Campbell Trowsdale; Robert Mayer, formerly with the London Symphony Orchestra and George Zukerman, formerly with the Israel Philharmonic.

The Vancouver-born director attended the University of British Columbia and the University of Washington. He later attended Julliard School of Music and studied composition with Hindemith at Yale University.

Since his appointment as director of the orchestra, Avison has been associate conductor with William Steinberg at the Aspen Festival; guest conductor for the London Philharmonic; and frequent guest conductor with the Toronto, Montreal and Quebec CBC Orchestras.

At its PLU concert the orchestra will perform Franz Schubert's "Overture in C Major 'In Italian Style,' Opus 170" and Charles Ives' "The Unanswered Question."

'Blue Belt' At Lutheran Elementary

Fairies, gnomes, and witches will vie for interest when the children of Parkland Lutheran Elementary School present the operetta, "The Blue Belt," by George Murray Brown and Dorothy Gaynor Blake, at 7:30 p.m. April 19, in the school auditorium under the direction of Mrs. Iver Johnson. Mrs. Richard Daniels will accompany the children on the piano.

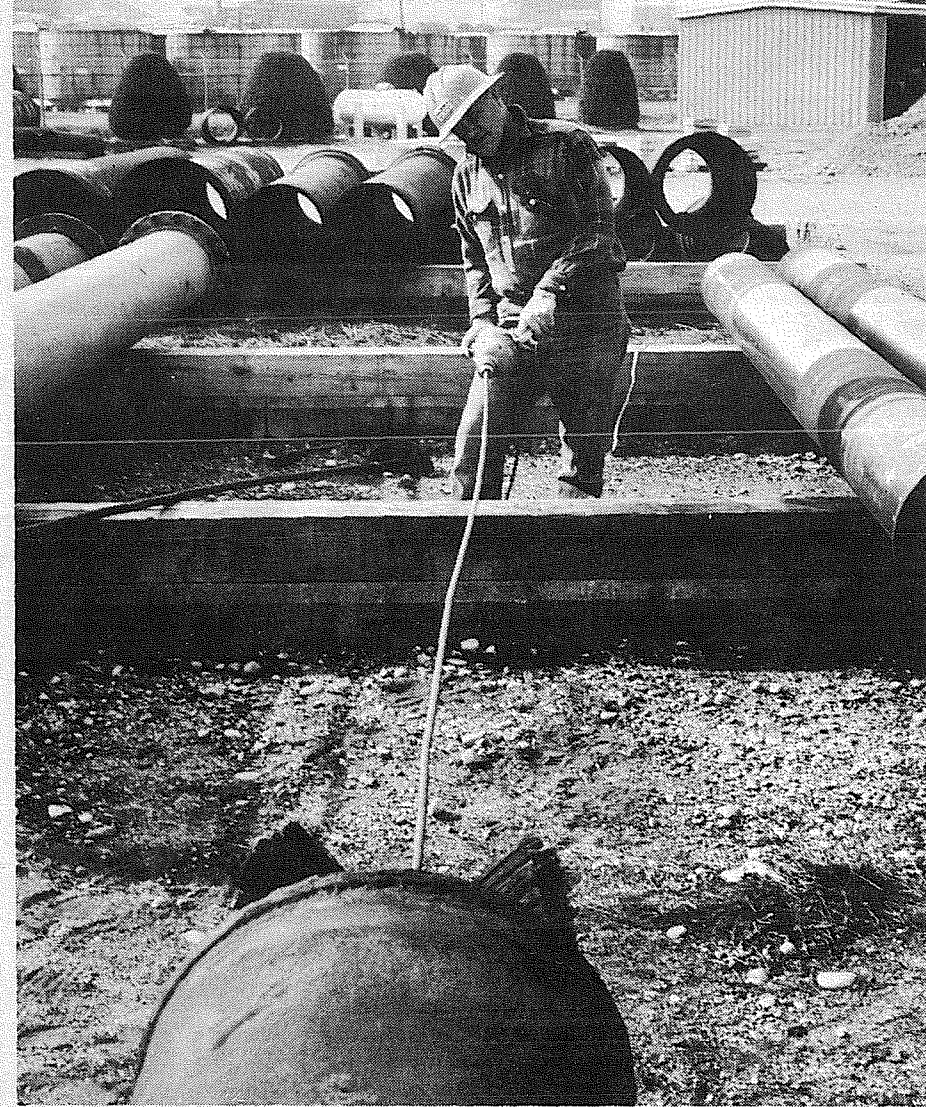

The setting for this fairy tale is Norway. The stage represents a haunted dell ruled by the fairy queen. Here the drama unfolds.

The children who take the leading parts in the operetta are, Arthur Mong, Beth Johnson, Darlene Mears, Dennis Nixon, Diane Daniels, Dorene Mears, Eric Hansen, Falinda Doan, Gail Kelly, Greg O'Neil, Jay Voss, Karl Larson, Kevin Nixon, Kristina Larson, Lee Voss, Lissa Johnson, Maureen Kelly, Michael Wallace, Phyllis Farren, Robin Merriman, Susan Bengelsdorf and Warren Merriman.

The Lutheran School is located in Parkland at 123 and Pacific Avenue. Everyone is welcome. No admission charge is asked. A free-will offering will be taken after the performance.

ALBERT SHAFFER, a Tacoma City Water Plant Operator, of 507-131st Street East, was presented a $25 check and a certificate of merit by Public Utility Board Chairman Jay A. Grenley under the city's suggestion award program. Shaffer's device will clean the inside of water mains well column pipes ranging from six to 30 inches in diameter. After scouring, the brushes are modified to apply an even layer of protective paint to the inside surface of the pipe, extending their life expectancy. City Water Supt. A. J. Benedetti said Shaffer's idea will reduce normal pipe cleaning time about 60 percent and will contribute some $250 in savings annually.

Officers' Wives Host Fashion Show

MCCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, WASH. - "Up, up and away" in spring fashions for women on the go was the theme of the Officers' Wives Club fashion show recently held at the McChord Air Force Base Officers Open Mess.

Wives of the 325th Combat Support Group hosted the luncheon.

Traveling clothes, go-clothes and clothes that are in style at a coffee, on a trip or to a dinner party, were made and modeled by club members.

Styles ranged from quilted house robes to pants suit in a psychedelic print to a long brocade formal with matching coat. Teen and little girl fashions and home-sewn were modeled at the show.

Mrs. Vergil Nestor and Mrs. Ford Sexton were co-chairmen for the fete with Mrs. Sexton narrating. Dean Talmadge provided Organ music.

Art Exhibit Slated At PLU

The paintings of John Bashor are on display in the University Gallery of the Robert Mortvedt Library at Pacific Lutheran University through the end of April.

Bashor, director of the school of art at Montana State University, has 14 oil paintings hanging in the gallery. The artist will be on campus later this month to review the show and renew acquaintances with President Robert Mortvedt, a personal friend.

A native of Kansas, Bashor graduated from Washburn University in Topeka. He received his master of fine art's degree from the State University of Iowa in 1951.

An experienced exhibitor, Bashor has had 12 one-man shows in the Midwest, and he has won several awards at open competitions and invitations.

Bashor is past president of the Kansas Federation of Art and he was on the board of directors of the Kansas Cultural Arts Commission.
