

Editor Announces Saga Staff; Work to Begin Immediately

Faculty and Student Committee Names Myron Leque Business Manager; Staffs To Be Completed Next Fall

By Margaret Wesson
As the editorial staff for the 1933-1934 Saga has now been chosen, work will begin immediately on the division of the annual to be prepared this year, according to Margaret Wesson, editor-in-chief.

Myron Leque is to be business manager, the only position on that staff now chosen. Associate editors will be Victor Knutzen and Clifford Ophelm. Norman Westling will write the personals for this year's graduates. Jesse Pflueger, as editor for organizations in 1933, will turn over his position next year to Marion Peterson. Stanley Score and Alice Roe are to take care of the sports section of the annual. Carrie Hvidding will write religion and Arts Aarhus music.

Dickie Leland, chosen artist for this year, will be assisted by Janice Peterson, who will in turn take up the duties in the fall. Mounting will be in charge of Ray Hinderlie, and Arnold Grimlund will collect snap shots for the feature page this year. Leonard Wesson will see to having the group pictures taken. Copy readers are to be Hazel Monsen, William Zier and John Van Leuven. Jean-Marie Fowler of the Freshmen Class and Norma Preus of the High School department will work under Nordis Arneson as class editors.

A number of positions are left vacant for the next year's students through the graduation of some of the staff members listed above, as well as the class editors which will serve for this year only. Since little work will be done this season on the business staff, all members of that group will be chosen next fall.

The committee which selected the staff from the numerous applications included Mr. Hong, Mr. Stuen, Mr. Larson, Mrs. Kreidler, Ed Tingstad, and Mr. Reid of the faculty, and Margaret Wesson, Stan Score, Hazel Monsen and Nordis Arneson of the student body.

Pflueger's Entertain Debate Teams at Season's Close

To mark the close of the 1933 debate season, Prof. and Mrs. J. P. Pflueger entertained members of the debate teams at their home last Friday evening. Games and music were enjoyed, after which refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present and the teams to which they belonged were: Margaret Wesson, debate manager, and Salfre Torresdal, women's negative; Jean-Marie Fowler and Hazel Monsen, women's affirmative; Clarence Ophelm and Clarence Lemming, men's negative; and John Van Leuven and Walter Young, men's affirmative.

'Silvus' Performs Tonight

This evening at 7:30 p. m., Silvus, a magician, will perform feats of magic, sleight of hand and mystery in the Pacific Lutheran College gymnasium. This program is being sponsored by the Wesley League of the Parkland M. E. Church. Admissions are set at 10 cents

Senior Class Play Practices Started; Set for May 6 or 7

6 Boys and 6 Girls Cast in 'Passing of the Third Floor Back,' a Drama By Jerome K. Jerome

After tryouts held last week, the cast for the graduating class play, "Passing of the Third Floor Back," has been announced, and practices are already well under way, according to Mrs. Louise Taylor, who is coaching the play. The cast includes:

|--------------------|------------------|
| Miss Sharpe | Olga Overlie |
| Miss Kite | Kathleen Forasth |
| Mrs. Bechooley | Shirley Hecht |
| Major Tomkins | Ellen Soley |
| Mrs. Tomkins | Trygve Runsvold |
| Vivian | Kathlyn Patten |
| Mr. Samuels | Nellie Olson |
| Christopher Penney | William Pflueger |
| Joe Wright | Norman Westling |
| Harry Larkcom | Walter Young |
| Stranger | Arthur Sivertson |
| | Gilbert Sydow |

The date for the presentation, though not finally decided, will be either May 6 or 7. The "Passing of the Third Floor Back" is a drama, written by Jerome K. Jerome. Practices are already under way, and a regular schedule for part rehearsals has been posted on the bulletin boards. With the new equipment and improvements, which have been installed on the stage in the gymnasium under auspices of the Drama Club, available, the presentation of this year's graduating class play will be made much easier and much more likely to be successful, according to Mrs. Taylor.

Meet With Jaysees Ends Debate Season

Forensics Close With Debate Against Centralia Junior College; University of Washington Frosh Debate Girls' Teams

Ending the Pacific Lutheran College forensic season for this year, Centralia Junior College debate team engaged the boys' negative team, Clarence Lemming and Clarence Ophelm, in a non-decision debate here last Monday night.

Thursday evening, March 8, the freshmen men's team of the University of Washington debated women's teams from Pacific Lutheran College, discussing Inter-Allied War Debt. From the Seattle school Lawrence Lew Kay and Kenyon Bush presented the affirmative against Margaret Wesson and Salfre Torresdal, who upheld the negative for P.L.C. At the same time Jean-Marie Fowler and Hazel Monsen debated for P.L.C. on the affirmative, against Bertl Granberg and William Penhock of the University.

Although the negative men's team, composed of Clarence Lemming and Clarence Ophelm, did not go to Spokane, as had been planned, several opportunities for debating were given to each team during the season, and those on the teams, as well as their coach, feel that the season has been a profitable one.

Last Friday evening Professor and Mrs. Pflueger entertained the squad at their home with a party.

Campus Day Festivities Will Be Monday; Baseball, Tug-o-War, Eats on Schedule

By Hazel Monsen
As a fitting climax to a week of worrying and cramming, Campus Day festivities will be held here next Monday. Events on the calendar for the annual cleanup will begin at 8:10 Monday morning, when roll call will be taken on the front steps, where students will gather for last minute instructions.

The campus will be divided into ten different parts, each section to be cleaned up by one special group, under a captain appointed by the student Board of Control. At noon, all the hard laborers, faculty members included, will be served lunch in the college dining hall, under auspices of a committee of Alice Roe (chairman), Charlotte Spencer and Carrie and Esther Hvidding.

Work will be resumed immediately after noon, and will continue until 3:00 p. m., when coffee and doughnuts will be served by the dutiful refreshment committee. All work being done, the students will be given the treat of seeing the annual tug-o-war between the Freshman and Sophomore classes, across Clover Creek. And believe it or not some of the faculty members still have the notion that they can run, for they have challenged the Student Body to a baseball game, the first to be played on the baseball diamond, after it is fixed for usage.

At 7:30 in the evening, the climax to the day's activities will come in the huge bonfire to be lit on the campus. Here all the rubbish taken from the grounds will be burned; and the harder the students work during the day, the more rubbish there will be to pile on.

L. D. R. Silver Tea Is Well Attended

With More than 100 present, the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation held their first mothers-daughters silver tea in the college dining hall last Friday afternoon. Many members of the Women's dormitory Auxiliary, pastor's wives from Tacoma, and faculty wives attended. Because the large number of girls' mothers who came to the event.

Festivities began early in the afternoon with the service of refreshments in the dining hall. Mrs. P. E. Hauge and Mrs. Paul Preus poured. The dining hall was attractive in decorations in a St. Patrick's Day motif, with guests seated at small tables about the room.

The program afterwards consisted of solo by Anna Mikkelsen and a girls' sextette a violin selection by Alice Peterson, and readings by Virginia Davis and Salfre Torresdal. Kathryn Johnson, president of the L. D. R. group, welcomed the guests, and Mrs. L. Wesson responded on the part of the mothers present, instead of Mrs. Paul Preus as was erroneously published in the last issue of the Mooring Mast.

After the program downstairs, guests were shown around the building by their hostesses. Many mothers came from out of town to visit their daughters in the dormitory, the mothers of Lila Rudd and Dorothy Peterson coming clear from Portland for the affair.

Prof. Ramstad Talks

Professor Ramstad, of the chemistry department, gave a talk on German chemists before members of the German club on Tuesday, March 14. Previous to Professor Ramstad's talk, the members sang German songs.

the fire; and the more the rubbish, the bigger the fire; and the bigger the fire, the longer the evening will last. Moral—work hard during the day, a program will be arranged for presentation around the fire that evening.

Rules of behavior and conduct have been posted on the bulletin boards, but those in charge wish it to be especially emphasized that old clothes are to be worn, because good ones might get dirty. Also there is that added warning, that shirkers of their duties will be severely chastised by a bath-in Clover Creek. It is rumored that the Student prexy, though he has worked harder than anyone on this Campus Day, is to have his ideas dampened in this same way.

Improvements to be accomplished during the day include the fixing of the tennis courts, fixing the baseball diamond, cleaning Chataqua grounds, and generally cleaning up the whole campus grounds. Committees have been appointed to be in charge of the affair as follows: rules—Nellie Olson. Norman Westling, Clarence Roen and Clarence Lemming; tools—Ray Leback, Leif Klippen, Clifford Mestford, and Bill Whalen; collection and hauling—Harold Anderson, Harold Holmberg, Oscar Anderson and Clarence Roen.

Crew captains for the event have been named to be Jesse Pflueger, Trygve Runsvold, Clarence Lemming, Norman Jensen, Clarence Monsen, Norman Westling, Walter Young, John Zackrisson, Carl Martin and Ervin Dammel.

Drama Club Gives Plays Next Friday

"Elmer, 'Don't,' and 'Romantic Melisande,' a Romance, Will Be Presented in College Gymnasium

As announced by Clarence Lemming, club president, three one-act plays will be presented by the Drama Club next Friday at 8 P. M. in the college gymnasium.

"Elmer," a comedy, will be given by the "Footlight Revelers," under the leadership of Ray Leback. The cast will include Virginia Roen, Helen Garbell, Agnes Langness, Irene Ludahl.

"Don't," a comedy-drama, will be offered by the "Stage Steppers," whose leader is Nellie Olson. The cast will consist of Irwin Dammel, Shirley Hecht, Carl Martin, William Pflueger, Dillie Quale, Alberta Schmitz, and Gilbert Sydow.

"Romantic Melisande," a romance, will be presented by the "Drama-Tics," under the leadership of Nordis Arneson, with a cast including Harold Anderson, Virginia Davis, Jennie Lee, Hazel Monsen, and Bruce Thayer.

P. L. C. Choir Plans Concert, Tour to Oregon in April

2 Week Itinerary Calls for Appearances in Coast Cities on Trip South; Return to Be by Inland Route

That the Pacific Lutheran College "Choir of the West" will take its annual trip after Easter was the announcement of Paul A. Preus, head field agent, after investigating possibilities for concerts in Oregon. Plans for the tour include concerts to extend over a period of from ten days to two weeks.

Because the efforts of Mr. Preus to arrange for concerts in California were unsuccessful on account of financial difficulties, the itinerary will include only places in Washington and Oregon. As tentatively planned, the choir will journey along the coast as far as Toledo, Oregon, and back by the inland route. Concerts have been arranged for in Olympia, Aberdeen, and Raymond, Washington, and Astoria, Fugate Island, Tillamook, Portland, Toledo, and Silverton, Oregon, as well as in other cities in which Mr. Preus is making arrangements at the present time.

In order to help defray the expenses of the trip, each member of the choir is required to pay five dollars.

The proposed tour this year was in California and the southern part of the Pacific District. Possibilities of such an extended tour were ended, however, by the nation-wide bank holiday declared by President Roosevelt when Mr. Preus, with his daughter Mary Louise, were in California making preliminary investigations three weeks ago. Prospects were entirely abandoned when the earthquake spread much ruin in many of the southern California cities.

Freshmen to Entertain Grads at Skating Party

Following the custom for the college freshmen to entertain the graduating classes each year at a party, the undergraduates voted at a meeting held Wednesday, March 8, to give a skating party as their send-off for this year's classes.

The party will be held at King's Roller Rink, 27 and Pacific, Friday, April 21, from 10 to 12 o'clock with only those who are graduating and college freshmen present. As is the tradition, Mrs. Kreidler, dean of women, and Prof. A. J. Beck, freshman class advisor, will chaperon the affair. Refreshments will be served at the rink.

At this meeting the freshmen also passed a motion to paint their stone again.

Next Delta Rho Luncheon Set for Tuesday, April 4

On Tuesday noon, April 4, the Delta Rho Gamma's will hold their regular monthly luncheon in the Chapel basement. A special Easter motif will be worked out, according to Kathryn Patten, chairman of the committee which is making the arrangements for the affair. Nellie Olson is the chairman of the menu committee, and Alberta Schmitz chairman of the decoration committee.

On Chapel Behavior

Chapel exercises which are an established part of college life at P. L. C. have been made more interesting this year by the innovation of bi-weekly programs under the provision of the new Student Body constitution which has gone into effect this year. These programs, which are both educational and entertaining, have been generally well received by students and faculty alike. It is too bad that a few fail to show appreciation and courtesy to those who appear and to their fellow-students. Even if these misbehaving youngsters do not appreciate what is being presented, they might have enough sense of decency to let others listen to it without being disturbed.

Campus Day Comes Again

Campus Day has been "gala day" on the P. L. C. campus for many years, and it will continue to be so if the students show that they wish it. The girls dress in their brothers' old clothes or any other attire suitable for hard labor, the boys come in overalls and old "cords" and carry big red bandanas, if they own them; the faculty also turn out in working clothes; everyone looks the part, even though they only lean heavily on their hoes and tell others how it should be done. Those who shirk too obviously receive their punishment in the form of a cold bath in the waters of Clover Creek. The day is counted as a regular school day, so all are expected to be present and devote their energies to cleaning up the campus instead of poring over their books. The result will be a new and tidy appearance of the school grounds befitting the coming of spring. The pleasures and privileges of this festive day are many; but let us not abuse them, for surely we see that by so doing, we have nothing to gain and everything to lose.

When It's Spring

Once again the season has arrived at which students acquire a peculiar disinterestedness in class work, and a fondness for nature. Already we notice gentlemen strolling with new lady friends in the direction of the kicking post. Lessons seem just a bit harder to get than they did when all outside was cold and stormy.

Spring. That's the bad disease which affects students' minds so peculiarly. But though the symptoms are most noticeable now, the disease seems to stay with us until the end of the year. Let's enjoy life while we are young, but also, let's get all we can out of school while we have the chance, by attending every class and getting all our lessons. Having done this, by the end of the school year we will have acquired that one great help in life—will power.

HAVE YOU MET?

"Just one of those brown he-men." But this one has something else besides just physique—personality, brains, and capability (quarter for that one). He has blue eyes, a friendly smile, and sort of reddish blond hair. "Wha-cham-ma-call-him" is in (the thick of things here at college, though his unassuming manner makes him appear to be rather quiet. He played football—and how he played—last season, and also caged a few hoops in the recent season of basketball. He represents his class on the Board of Control, but he always has time to be friendly to students and faculty members. The nicest thing about him is that he is always interested in the same things you are, and carries on a perfectly marvelous conversation as soon as the shyness has worn off a little—More about his personal appearance—"he has beautiful white teeth" as a co-ed said, and "a very intelligent smile"—from the mouth of one of the professors. He is of a rather stocky build and (here's a secret) he hates to have his picture taken. Betcha don't know 'im!

"Dimples, a good sport and a perfect lady" describes one of the girls at P. L. C. She has lovely curly hair, sort of a light brown in color, and a beautiful smile and blue-grey eyes. Rather tall and athletic in build, she is an excellent guard on the basketball team, which position she has held for two years. She is also a member of the W. A. A. and the Drama club, having taken part in one of the recent presentations of that group. Although she is active in extra-curricular activities she puts much time on her lessons, being very much interested in preparing herself to teach next year. Her work is not in vain for she has been on the honor roll several times, too. She is another one of those people who is everybody's pal, and would be glad to have you for one, too, if you aren't already.

Society

Mr. A. Martin, of Arlington, visited his son, Carl, last Wednesday. Thursday Carl went to Olympia with his father and on Friday accompanied him home. Frances Nelson, of Silverton, has been visiting at school the last few days as guest of Alice Aivness.

Among the mothers at the tea the other afternoon was Lila Rydd's from Portland.

Kathleen Porath's mother, father, sister, and two brothers visited her at the dorm last Sunday.

At the home of her parents, Charabelle Roberts entertained several P. L. C. students last Saturday evening. Among the guests were Norman Jensen, Bruce Thayer, Frank Elliot, Dorothy Peterson, Mildred Monson, Mary Nash, Irene Luidahl, and Pearl Homme. Dorothy Peterson's mother and father have been in Tacoma on business this past week. While in town they made several visits at school. Shirley Hight and Helen Collins were the weekend guests of Florence Post.

Keeper of the Mast

We're glad to have Mr. Preus and Mary Lou back but would have preferred to have them wait until the big earthquake stunt was pulled off. We wanted to hear the particulars first hand and from eye witnesses. And just think, Mr. Reid's operation gospel would be a mere nothing when it comes to earthquakes. Look at the popularity you missed, Mr. Preus.

A ditch digging team has been organized at P. L. C. No, you're wrong, not to dig ditches, ut to remove the stones and deepen the ducking pond in Clover Creek to preclude the risk of tossing shirkers on the rocks on Campus Day.

Ed Lund ought to be glad he didn't get dunked clear in Thursday. You kids should have warned him so he could at least have taken off his shoes and stockings and prepared for the wade.

We're all saving our pennies to go to San Francisco to hear Lily Ponds next year. Mary Nash has given up hope of success (Mrs. Davis said Lily weighed less than 100 pounds). Don't worry, Mary—you're P. L. C.'s leading lady now, anyway.

Some people complain cause the Mooring Mast doesn't come out on time. Well, here's a cordial invitation to all the kickers to come down and try to put out a paper during exam week, with a staff that neither knows or does its business. Welcome home!

Have you missed our "Prexy's Corner" in the last two issues? Our prexy is a busy man and has been away while we have prepared these two papers, but we hope to have him with us again next time.

It's nice to hear that the choir will be able to take its southern trip after all. Now we wonder who'll sit by whom on the bus, and what city will offer the best time to our singers.

Funny, but some people just can't behave in chapel, even when there's "company." Here's hoping some of the offenders get their noisy ideas dampened by a good ducking in the creek on Campus Day.

What's happened to our International Relations Club? Can't you stir up something to call a meeting about, Klippen?

Now that the class play cast has been chosen, there's just that much more to do for these in it. But we're all looking forward to the big presentation in May, and we know it will be good.

P. L. C. Choir Sings In Tacoma Sunday

Young Peoples' Society of Rev. Edwards' Church Present Singing Group in Program as Benefit for College

Under the auspices of the Young Peoples' Society of the First Norwegian Lutheran Church of Tacoma, the Pacific Lutheran College choir will present a sacred concert in that church next Sunday evening at 7:30. There will be no admission charge for the concert, but an offering will be taken as a benefit for the college. Besides the concert numbers, Dean P. E. Hauge will give a short address.

The church in which the concert will be given is the charge of the Rev. O. J. Edwards, father of Prof. Edwards, director of the P. L. C. "Choir of the West." Prof. Edwards was formerly the choir director and organist in the Tacoma congregation.

On the evening of March 12, the P. L. C. choir gave a similar concert at the Luther Memorial church in Tacoma. After the program, which was presented to a packed house, refreshments were served in the church basement. The repertoire for next Sunday evening's concert will be the same as that given in Tacoma two weeks ago. The complete program follows:

- Choir
 - O Sacred Head Christiansen
 - In Heaven Above Christiansen
 - Solo—Walter Ustad
 - Beautiful Saviour Christiansen
 - Solo—Mildred Monson
- Violin
 - The Swan Saint-Saens
 - Lament in F Minor Edwards
 - Lewis G. Hunter
- Soprano
 - He Shall Feed His Flock Handel
 - Anna Mikkelson
- Piano
 - Scherzo in E Flat Minor Brahms
 - Sarabande Rameau-MacDowell
 - Romance Schumann
 - J. O. Edwards
- Choir

 - Three Kings Romeu
 - Solo—Anna Mikkelson
 - Snow Mountain Christiansen
 - Short Address Ph. E. Hauge
- Choir
 - He is Blessed Soderman
 - Lard Our God Have Mercy Lvovsky
 - Hosanna in the Highest Soderman

Physical Ed Leaders Arranging for Tennis And Golf Tournaments

The Pacific Lutheran College physical educational department is arranging for golf and tennis tournaments for both boys and girls. A list has been posted on the bulletin board so that those wishing to participate could sign up. Winners and runners up in these contests will compose the athletic teams which will defend P. L. C. in spring sports. Last year's boys' golf team was undefeated, and Coach Olson hopes that his boys will be a le to duplicate the feat this year.

Returning Sun

Maudhavn, Jan. 1, 1920. Today we saw the sun for the first time after its absence. The array of beautiful colors which the heavens don at this great festival, the return of the sun, is utterly indescribable.

How I wish that I were able to some measure to depict this transporting vision! A flaming red color in the southeast prepared for its coming, and the rest of the heavenly vault did its best and donned its most august garments on this occasion. From a deep blackish blue along the northern horizon the colors became brighter and brighter as the sun rose, until they assumed a perfect wedgewood hue at the zenith. On this marvellously blue background, from the darkest to the brightest tone, were scattered some clouds that were so intensely purple red as to make the phenomenon perfectly blinding. In boundless rejoicing one might throw himself down on his knees and thank God for being permitted to behold such a beautiful vision. The night-blue horizon is pressed down, down, until it disappears altogether when the Solar Queen (the sun is "she" in Norwegian) reveals herself in all her glory. What a moment to one who for such a long time had been deprived of her warmth and splendor! I can easily understand those people who bend their heads to the ground before the rising sun.

Mrs. Miyazaki is Hostess
Takaki Miyazaki, teacher at the Japanese language school, Fifteenth, Washington, and student at P. L. C., will be hostess to a convention of home economics teachers at a banquet at Fifteenth School, Saturday, March 25. The menu will consist entirely of Japanese dishes cooked by 18 of Mrs. Miyazaki's pupils. She will explain the methods of making the food in the Japanese language and will have as an interpreter a University student. The guests will be further entertained by native music and dancing.

Mrs. C. W. Mason Relates Opera House Opening

In a talk on the opening of the new War Memorial Opera House at San Francisco, Mrs. C. W. Mason of Tacoma presented a vivid portrayal of the colorful ceremonies which were given last October. She summarized several of the operas and pictured the various scenes. Several vocal solos were rendered during the pictorializations of the operas. Mrs. Mohrre sang selections from the operas "Tosca," "Rigoletto" and "Elsa's Traum." (Elsa's Dream) and Miss Paulson sang two selections which were also from operas pictured by the speaker. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Schlarb. Last Wednesday in chapel, the Rev. E. M. Butenshon of the Trinity Lutheran Church of Tacoma gave a talk.

Rainbling Around

We've notice that:
Somebody scared Knutzen by putting a dummy in her bed;
Charabel has lots of parties and some of them just for two;
Certain girls seem to like everybody else's clothes but their own;
Edgar Lund took his untimely dipping like a good sport;
Bud's wrist watch doesn't quite fit Wilm;
Rolf Preus uses the cutest color combinations when it comes to matching shirts and ties;
Jean-Marie Fowler is reducing;
People still walk to the kicking post, even if it is exam week;
Kenny Roach has been sporting a girl friend;
In the spring a certain young man's (Mesford's) fancy turns to thoughts of love.

Student Opinion On P. L. C. Library

One of the most remarkable features of P. L. C. is its library; something the students should take a genuine pride in and use to their greatest advantage. Our library, it can readily be said, is indeed well supplied—and offers much to the student; practically anything he desires. In addition to the many shelves of books, we subscribe to some 20 magazines and no less than a dozen different newspapers. Also Prof. J. V. Xavier recently had bound for circulation 33 volumes of The National Geographic Magazine and 17 volumes of The Literary Digest. Then, too, we now have "The Handbook of Child Psychology" and five copies of "The Spirit and Substance of Art" for use of the Fine Arts course.

Because of the limited number of students frequenting the fiction department, the library holds no definite hours for the fiction room this semester. Whenever such a book is desired the student need only see Prof. Xavier, who will immediately see that he is taken care of. Of the 894 books that were checked out for the month of January, only 23 were fiction. And because our shelves are amply stocked with the choice novels as well as the most popular novels and short stories, this is a surprising number.

Kapowsin Bows to Glad Co-eds 20-28

Playing an extraordinary brand of ball, the Pacific Lutheran College girls' basketball team avenged their previous defeat of this season by turning back the Kapowsin sextette February 27, 28 to 20, on the home floor.

The visitors started out as if they were going to repeat their previous performance, but were soon checked by the Gladiator girls. Nevertheless the Kapowsin team managed to keep a lead during the first period, by close checking and clever passing. At the half they led by a 20-18 score.

In the second half, the visitors appeared to be helpless before the Luthers' attack and soon dropped behind.

Sport Slants

By C. Menden

Will baseball come back as the great American sport that used to reign supreme among the sport followers of our country? This question seems to be the main issue in the minds of the old-timers who lived in the day when baseball was glorified instead of commercialized.

Well known sports writers are devoting much space to baseball in an attempt to renew the interest and enthusiasm that has ebbed so noticeably in the last few years. Whether they will be able to direct the public mind toward such a step, is a question, and it appears that their efforts will be in vain if the public is going to consider the sport in dollars and cents instead of the wholesome pleasure derived from it.

Today, we no longer see rival towns, clubs, and schools, get together for the express purpose of playing baseball, without that element of professionalism entering in. Whenever they get together nowadays you can bet your dad's snuff box, that their enthusiasm is centered along that nice, fat contract, lodged so securely in their hip pockets.

It is evident by the spirit at our school, that baseball has sprouted new wings. Practically everyone of the fellows have expressed their desire to renew the game again this year, but due to the lack of finances in our athletic fund, we will have to limit ourself to inter-mural baseball.

During the last three years little attention has been paid to our golfers. Their record during these years deserves a little attention, because of the fact that they have dropped only two inter-school matches during this time.

A most remarkable feature about our last year's team was that, with one exception, every member was enrolled in the high school department. This is exceptional, especially after the team had turned in wins over rival colleges.

Practically each golf team member is back this year and since the sun has intoxicated mother earth, they have been seen on the course quite often—a very good sign.

Campus day is not far off, which calls for a reminder to the faculty to organize a baseball nine. The students want to show their superiority over their elders, at least in one thing.

What would be funnier than to see Olson behind the bat, High by doing the chucking, Ramstad sleeping on third base, Reid throwing rocks at the ants on second base, Xavier having his afternoon coffee on first, and Hong, Hauge and Stuen, chasing butterflies in the outfield? Then, of course, Coach Paul Preus Sr. would direct his team from the sidelines. What would be nicer?

Rev. Edwards of Tacoma Tells of 'Social Gospel' in Chapel Talk Mar. 7

On Tuesday, March 7, Rev. O. J. Edwards of Tacoma addressed students in chapel on "Social Gospel." Rev. Edwards, the father of Prof. Edwards, told how there is but one true gospel—the gospel of salvation of Jesus Christ.

He said, "We have heard a good deal about a social gospel of late, but there is no other gospel but the gospel of salvation of Jesus Christ. We admit society sins or society crimes, but God deals with the individual."

"When God acts upon a large scale, we are often meddling with details, and when we are busy to transform society and nation, God is patiently dealing with the individual. God's social gospel centers on the root of all social evil—the heart of the individual."

Dr. Tingelstad Returns

Pres. O. A. Tingelstad returned last Sunday night from a short trip to the Middle West. While he was there Dr. Tingelstad attended two educational conferences, visited St. Olaf and Luther Colleges.

Lutheran Co-eds Lose To Tacoma Poultry and Egg Aggregation: 19-53

In their last contest March 15, the Pacific Lutheran College co-ed cagers lost to the Tacoma Poultry and Egg representatives, 19 to 53. The visitors appeared to have a stronger aggregation than the one that barely held over the Gladiator girls earlier in the season.

The visitors displayed a fast breaking offense and an air-tight defense, making it almost impossible for the Lutheran forwards to break through for a shot. At the half, the score stood 10 to 20, in favor of the Poultry and Egg team.

In the last half, the invaders again took the lead and by fast play began to out-distance the Luthers.

International Club Is Formed; Klippen Leads

With a large crowd in attendance, an International Relations Club was formed at Pacific Lutheran College two weeks ago. Mr. Beck presided at the first meeting, at which officers were elected as follows: Left Klippen, president; Oscar Anderson, vice president; Norman Westling, corresponding secretary; Shirley Hecht, recording secretary.

The purpose of the group, as outlined at the meeting by Prof. Beck, was the furtherance of the knowledge of international affairs among American students. Groups similar to the one recently organized by P. L. C. are in more than 400 colleges and universities of the United States. Literature for study is sent to the clubs from the headquarters in the East.

Hoskin's Girls Swamp P. L. C. Sextette, 42-4

Suffering one of the worst defeats in the history of the school, the College girls' team lost to the Hoskins' Grill sextette on the local floor March 10, 42 to 4.

The Tacoma city champions presented the meet and smoothest working aggregation that has ever performed on the college maps and had little trouble in winning from the Gladiator girls. At half time, the visitors held the Luthers scoreless and in the final period limited them to only two field goals.

Although the college girls worked exceptionally well, they could not cope with the experience and ability of the visitors.

Ping Pong Tournament In Full Swing; Dickie Leland Wins Girls' Meet

Dickie Leland was the winner of the girls' division, old time (pingee pongee) tourney in a hotly contested match with Jeannette Knutzen. The boys' division has not yet reached the finals because of greater numbers of entrants in that contest. The expense for balls was defrayed by a ten-cent entry fee.

Throngs of enthusiastic students may be seen at any hour of the day except study hours, of course, impatiently awaiting their turns to bat the evasive white pellet to and fro.

It is rumored that prizes will be presented to the winner on Campus Day, provided that the tournament has been run to the finish by that time.

The contest has been under the direction of Burton Kreidler, assistant dean of men.

EXCHANGE

How about it girls? At St. Olaf College girls have declared a leap year day, on which girls have the privilege of asking for dates. In spring a young man's fancy turns lightly—yes, ever so lightly—why not a young lady's? Do they appreciate spring less?
