

Eleven Student Nurses Receive Caps at Hospital

Eleven Pacific Lutheran College students were capped in a service at Emanuel Hospital School of Nursing, Portland, Oregon, Friday evening, Dec. 5. Altogether 21 women participated in the service, the other being from Lewis and Clark College in Portland.

Rev. H. George Randolph, Emanuel Hospital chaplain, opened the service with prayer. Following a hymn, Rev. Leonard Odiorne, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Portland, Oregon, delivered the address. Dean Philip E. Hauge presented the students from PLC and Dean Charles W. Howard introduced the Lewis and Clark students. Miss R. Kraabel, R.N., presented the students with their caps. A candle lighting service followed, closing with prayer.

PLC students receiving their caps were: Marjorie Bevan, Mineral, Washington; Kathryn Eide, Stanwood, Washington; Marion Gabrielsen, Seattle, Washington; Karen Hille, Ritzville, Washington; Mary Holmquist, Astoria, Oregon; Barbara Johansen, Seattle, Washington; Anne Lee, Fern Ridge, Washington; Edith Olusd, Manchester, Washington; Helen Simonson, Tacoma, Washington; Constance Stay, Tacoma, Washington; and Gail Taylor, Tacoma, Washington.

The girls, though thrilled upon being capped, said that the thing they are looking forward to most was coming back to PLC in a year, for their senior year. Next year about 20 girls from PLC will begin their training at Emanuel Nurses School.

CAMPUS DEVOTIONS

Campus Devotions met Thursday in the tower chapel with Dickrud leading in hymn singing. The meeting featured a Bible study and social music was presented.

Lettermen Set For The "Worst Show on Earth"

The Worst Show on Earth, and absolutely, positively guaranteed to be the worst show on earth, will be presented by the Lettermen's Club in the upper SUB at 8 p.m. Friday, for the small admission fee of 35 cents.

Under the co-chairmanship of Bob Nielsen and Glenn Werner, the members have planned to give such a show that people will get up and leave, it will be so awful. They warn you, however, to wear your absolutely worst clothes, as they wouldn't want anything to happen to your good clothes. It is also suggested that you get there early so you don't get the worst seats in the house and have a chance for the box seat section which will be down in front. If anything should happen, you don't need to worry, as there will be a doctor and nurse in attendance with plenty of cots for the injured to rest on—you're liable to get shot. Instructions are given to please obey the ushers.

Glenn Werner is the M.C. and he says that all the talent is from abroad. Slated to be on the program is a Swami from the mysterious east, who answers all, see all, knows all. A marvelously worst team of tumblers will be introduced, as well as a team of legitimate wrestlers and a sideshow of the worst freaks on earth.

It is also requested that Stoics don't come.

Blue Key Sponsors "Keys of the Kingdom"

Tomorrow evening, December 13, at 7:30 in the SUB, Blue Key will present the movie, "Keys to the Kingdom," a story of a missionary in China, starring Gregory Peck. A Tom and Jerry cartoon will also be shown.

Students Hear Plans For Second Festival

The first announcement of the 1953 Music-Drama Festival was given in Chapel, Wednesday, December 10, by Mr. Karl E. Weiss, one of the co-directors.

This festival, the second annual such an event, is scheduled for Friday 7, 8, 9 and 10, 1953, and will follow much the same pattern as that of last year. It will open on Thursday evening with an artist of note in the music world presenting a concert. Last year featured Miss Ira Petina, mezzo soprano, of the Metropolitan Opera. Friday is devoted to the drama segment, and it too, will be like last year, with the afternoon given to interpretive reading and the evening play with a well-known actor or actress in the leading role supported by PLC thespians. The Seattle Symphony, with Mr. Byard Fritts as soloist in the afternoon, and the PLC choir and chorus in the evening was featured on Saturday.

Main this year, Saturday will be symphonic, supported by soloists. Sunday scheduled an all-college worship service in the Chapel, with the formal dedication of the CMS in the afternoon and a concert by the Choir and West in the evening. The worship service is planned for the CMS on Sunday.

Following last year's festival Mr. Weiss and Mr. Karl received many letters of commendation for the program. A questionnaire that was on the back of the last program showed active interest in such an event, and a promise of support for future festivals. One such questionnaire stated:

It is also planned to have the art show in the upper SUB much like was held last year. Mr. George Roskos, with the Henry Art Gallery on the campus of the University of Washington, in Seattle, presented the showing.

Financially, the festival will be the same as last year, with the student tickets for all five programs at $5. The other tickets may have to be higher, however. Later this year, you will be given a chance to reserve your tickets. You had better do so as soon as you are able to, there are only 400 student tickets available.

Music Department to Present Annual Christmas Concert

Sunday, December 14, in the CMS, will be the setting for the climax of the Christmas season—the Christmas concert by the music department.

Two performances will be given, one at 3:30 p.m., which will be taped for broadcast, and at 8:00 p.m.

The program will begin with Mr. Byard Fritts playing the organ prelude. Following, the band, conducted by Mr. Harley Christopherson, will play a selection of three well-known Christmas songs, "Adeste Fideles" (Concert Paraphrases), "Cantique de Noel," and "The Messiah Overture". The congregation will then join together in "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing", by Felix Mendelssohn.

The next number is "And the Glory of the Lord" by George F. Handel sung by the Festival Chorus. The Choir of the West will then present four selections, "As I Walked in Bethlehem", W. N. Anderson; "Ding Dong! Merrily on High", Charles Wood; "Lullay my Liking", W. H. Anderson; "Today is Born Emmanuel", Praetorius. Mr. Frederick L. Newnham will conduct all choral numbers.

The Festival Chorus will appear again for "Glory to God in the Highest" by George F. Handel. Following another organ solo by Mr. Byard Fritts, the congregation will again join in the singing of carols, "The First Nowell" by Hesley Willan and "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" by Richard Willis.

The Festival Chorus will then sing "There Shall a Star From Jacob" by

Lutes Give 182 Pints to Drive

Yesterday ended the three-day PLC blood drive sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega. A total of 182 pints of blood were collected in the Upper SUB.

Upon the arrival of the donors, the blood count, sample, and pressure, along with temperatures were taken. After the blood was collected, cookies, coffee, and juice were served.

Results of the inter-college competition have not been revealed but in the club competition LSA came out ahead, Greek Club second, and Viking Club third. Many clubs were close behind and all showed a good percentage.

Both faculty and students participated. Each donor should receive special thanks for their cooperation.

Mr. Frederick Newnham

Three Student Events Will Be Feb. 26, 27, 28

A series of programs, not to be confused with the May Drama-Music festival, will be presented on February 26, 27, and 28, 1953, under student direction and production.

This presentation will be similarly patterned after the May festival, but is entirely under student direction and production, with student participation. The idea of the three-night presentation stemmed from a meeting of the executive committee of the Festival who felt that it would be a good thing to have a program similar to the Music-Drama Festival that the students could be full participants.

Alpha Psi Omega, the Choir, and the Band have each selected one representative to serve with Judd Doughty as coordinator. These representatives will be in charge of their respective group's evening. Subordinating committees will be selected from the student body at large. Mr. Edward Jacobson, PLC business manager, will be in charge of all finances, and Dr. Vernon Utzinger will advise on the publicity and ticket sales. The student directors are: Herb Neve, choir; Percy Asper, band; and Edith Engel, Alpha Psi Omega.

On the formal opening night, the choir will present a concert, probably one similar to that which they will be giving while on tour. Friday evening, under the direction of Morris Hendrickson, sponsored by Alpha Psi, "Job" will be staged. Tryouts for a part in the all-male cast will begin right after Christmas, there are eight parts, and Dr. J. P. Pflueger is the technical advisor. Under the direction of Mr. Harley Christopherson, the band will be heard in a concert Saturday evening. There will also be a show of student art.

The primary object of such an event is to give the students a chance to put into practice the theory that they have learned in classes; to present a series of programs that are up to college, or better caliber; and to give the students a formal function.

Tickets for the three evenings will be 75 cents, with single tickets selling at 50 cents each. The advisers of the event are Mr. Karl Weiss and Mr. Theodore Karl.

Dr. Eastvold has offered a complimentary book of student tickets for the May Festival to the student who thinks of and turns in a good name for this February series, that does not have the word "festival" in it.

Boy Scouts Honor Dr. Robert Olsen

Last Saturday night Dr. Robert C. Olsen was presented the highest award given in the Mt. Rainier Council of the Boy Scouts of America. The award known as the Silver Beaver was given for voluntary service in the community and in scouting.

Each year the Mt. Rainier Council, which covers scouting in Pierce County, gives the Silver Beavers to outstanding men. The Silver Beaver in scouting is comparable to the Oscar in the movies. This council service award was given at the annual dinner. Four Silver Beavers were given this year.

"Educator, scientist, church leader, and youth leader characterizes this scout leader," were the beginning words of Dr. Olsen's citation. He has been in scouting since 1945 where he acted as a Cub scout leader.

He has served in district and council capacities as well as in his local organization. He is leadership training chairman for the Mt. Rainier Council and teaches a course here in Boy Scout leadership. (P. E. 114). In his community he is serving as a Sunday school teacher and as the director of Junior Service in his local congregation.

Probably most of you recognize him as your chemistry teacher and know that he has well deserved this honor.

Christmas Means Tradition; Tradition Means Christmas

Commemoration of the Birth of Christ has been surrounded by many customs and enhanced by many legends. These have become symbolic, expressing the people's sentiment for Christmas and enriching their observance of it. To each of us, the wreaths, mistletoe, Christmas trees, bells, candles, and swags all have a meaning. Our meanings are from a past experience, personal to each of us; where as in other countries each is symbolic of the manner in which Christmas is celebrated there.

The traditional Christmas tree, is not American, it, rather, was first in Saxony, where it was begun by Martin Luther. One Christmas Eve, it is said, he became entranced with the beauty of the starry sky. He brought into his home a tree for his children. Illuminated with numerous candles, it represented the gracious heavens that had sent forth the Christ Child. In nearby Bavaria, they always used a pine tree. Only a pine was thought worthy of being decorated at Christmas. It received this honor, so legend has it, because the branches of a pine tree concealed Joseph, Mary, and Jesus from the soldiers of Herod.

It was in Italy that the presepio or crib had its origin. In that country the nativity scene is as characteristic of Christmas as the tree in America. The Christ Child, however, is not placed in the crib until after the family prayers are finished on Christmas Eve.

As is the custom in Austria, lights are used in the church to symbolize the eternal God gave man in the Christ Child. One of the favorite ways to get the Yuletide spirit is by carols. It was in Czechoslovakia during the fifteenth century that Christmas carols became an important part of the Yule festivities. Although they were not a part of the more formal hymnody of the Church services, carols were fostered and kept alive by the people, especially the children, in villages all over Europe. The common people's reverence for the Christmas Gospel found expression in simple carols.

Look around you, and listen too, as you make your way to and from classes on campus or as you go for a walk. Bells peal out the tidings of the Gospel story; carols are this story set to familiar melodies; everything in some way reminds us of God's great gift to mankind on the first Christmas, almost 2000 years ago.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!
 The MOORING MAST staff.

Caught In THE WEB

Since the Lettermen's Club is sponsoring the Worst Show On Earth tonight we feel the Web should go along with the theme and write nothing but the WORST in our column this week (again).

Woel Nebster and his wife Birtha Brittanica (pronounced Joe) defines WORST as "fill in the highest degree". We don't hold this as a truism because we ain't sick and don't believe none of youse will git sick if you come to da show.

If any of you people are lucky enough to win the door prize, we hope it will not cool your affections for Shultz (pronounced Joe).

Its rumored that Marv Harshman (pronounced Joe) is in for the biggest shock of his life when the WORST's . . . (Oh well wou'll have to see for yourself).

Our deft-nition of Christmas vacation—the home town girl friend's last chance at the college freshman.

Advice to dorm girls—if you don't wear lip-stick when you go out it won't be so noticeable when you come in.

We heard that the blood drive separated two corpusles who loved in vein.

Orchids go to the lettermen for their presentation of the WORST SHOF ON EARTH, anyone can see the Greatest Show on Earth, but give us the worst. Onions go to all those wo do not attend the WORST.

Freshman coming into class late: Professor, looking out the window remarked, "my it's raining cats and dogs", Fresh: "Yea I know, I just stepped in a pooodle."

NOW AIN'T THAT THE WORST
 In fact this is so bad that our only consolation is that this isn't as WORSE AS THE WORST.

Christmas Greetings

It is with a deep sense of gratitude that I extend Christmas greetings to the entire College family. Not least of all, do I greet the students who will, during these days, be leaving the campus to go back home or to visit with choice friends during the holidays.

My first and most profound desire is that you may have a Christmas with Christ in it. Every Christmas festivity is a celebration of the anniversary of the day when the Father gave His Only Begotten Son as the "unspeakable gift" of divinity to humanity. Oh, that every nation, every home and every heart might open their doors that the Christ might be at the feast!

Can it be that some will have a Christmas without the Christ? As well have a cross without a Saviour, a manger-cradle without a Babe, a hope without a heaven, a soul without salvation!

"Oh, Christ of God, I would enthrone
 Thee as my Lord and Thee alone;
 Unto Thy servant now impart
 A willing mind, a loyal heart!"

 President, P.L.C.

Dear Santa,

Since it's just 13 days until Christmas, all the letters to Santa Claus have been written. Just to see what some of those letters had in them, the MAST decided to ask a few of the Lutes this question: "What did you ask Santa to bring you for Christmas?"

Bob Sorenson: Rights to the second floor of Old Main.

Darlene Hall: Contact lenses.

Janet Franklin: Lots of fun.

Dave Roe: A Pogo funny book — autographed.

Jeanne Frieske: A new roommate because Karen embarrassed me in Chapel.

Ted Carlstrom: Half a front tooth.

Chuck Forsland: Reports for my education classes.

Bob Ross: No worries.

Phil Wigen: Bubble gum will keep me happy.

Clay Oldaker: A 5' 7" package wrapped in celophane.

Sig Tollefson: Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy.

Gloria Kvinge: A navy blue cashmere sweater.

Ron Storaasli: A girl.

Al Kegeles: Gerry.

Don Krejei: A kewpie doll.

Connie Jacobson: New batteries so my eyes can light up.

Mike Myklebust: I ordered two front teeth but they came early.

Radio Studio Can Broadcast Direct With KMO Line

With the installation of telephone lines in the CMS by radio station KMO, it will now be possible to broadcast directly from the school studio or from the stage. It will also be possible to first record here and later broadcast from the school through KMO, or to do a show here, have it recorded in KMO's studios and played later. This Sunday afternoon's Christmas program will be recorded both here at KMO. The recording made will be sent to Minnesota where it will be played over the St. Olaf radio station in Minneapolis.

Lutes Bow to Cats In 76-66 Game Sat.

An inexperienced Lute team went down to defeat against the Central Washington Wildcats, 76 to 66, Saturday evening, December 6. This was the Lutes second defeat in as many starts, losing to Seattle U the night before, 75-52.

Harshman started out four Frosh along with Captain Glen Huffman, the only Senior on the squad. They held the Wildcats to a 11-15 lead at the first quarter.

Four upper classmen went in at the quarter and the Lutes were outscored 22-11 leaving the score at 38-26 when the half was over.

In the second half the Lutes outscored the Wildcats, but could not overcome the big margin set by the Wildcats in the first half.

Control of the defensive backboards was dominated by Big Bob Dun of the Wildcats and Gray of the same team.

Heacox of Central led the scoring with 17 and Dunn and Myer followed with 11 each. Billings with 11 was high for the Lutes, followed by Nordquist and Forseth with 9 each.

Curtain Call To Present "Carol"

Dickens' "Christmas Carol" will be presented by Curtain Call next Wednesday at 7:30 in the CMS Auditorium following the Delta Pi Kappa Christmas Banquet. The admission will be 25 cents; all proceeds go to charity.

In the program before the presentation of the "Carol", the Choir will sing Christmas music and will provide the background for a reading by Judd Doughty. Joanne Schief will also take part in the program.

The parts in the "Carol" are permanent; once a student takes a part he plays that part as long as he is in school. This will be the third year for John Rydgren "Scrooge", and also Bob Johnson, "Collector". Students playing their second year are Glen Johnson, John Osburn, Ken Anderson, Nancy Turman, LaWanna Huber, and Marian Leonard. The Olsen boys have also appeared in previous years.

Intramural Season Now in Full Swing

Intramural basketball officially started this week with eight games being played Monday and Tuesday evenings. There were large turnouts at each game, and players showed lots of enthusiasm.

In the games below, the letter "A" after a district's team means University team, while the letter "B" means college team.

Monday evening Central A defeated Western B, 59-20 with Roland Tobiasson, and Paul Labes sharing high point honors for Central with 11 each. Eastern A defeated Ivy Hall B, 37-19; Tacoma A swept over Central B, 54-22; and Eastern B squeezed past Western A, 30-27. In Eastern B's triumph Wally Rogelstad was high with 14, while in Tacoma A win, Al Ahrens and Len Nelson had 18 and 12 respectively.

Eastern B piled up the highest score Tuesday evening as they dumped the Western B team, 40-30 with John Fritz scoring 14 for Eastern. Other games saw Ivy Hall A defeat Eastern A, 31-27; Ivy Hall succumb to Central B, 29-37; and Clover Creek A dump the Central B's C, 35-19. Dick Krussow piled up 16 points in Ivy Hall's victory, and Iver Eliason made good with 14 in the Clover Creek A game.

Next week's schedule is being revised because of the conflict with the Central-PLC varsity game on Monday, December 15. Afternoon games will be played this coming week on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, starting at 4 p.m.

Inspiration Trophy Goes to Swanson at Football Banquet

Most inspirational honors go to Art Swanson for the 1952 football season. He was elected and presented with the inspirational trophy at the football banquet at Bethlehem Lutheran Church last night.

Co-captain honors for the coming year are to be shared by Jim Ball and Doug McGrath. They are both from Puyallup and have played together for six years.

Mr. Harley Christofferson acted as toastmaster, Rev. A. W. Ramstad gave the invocation, and guest speaker was Mr. Cliff Olson, a former PLC coach.

Loggers on Top In Battle; 51-47

Trying to get into the win column was denied again to the Gladiators when they went down to defeat against CPS, 51-47, a game in which no one was sure until the final gun sounded.

Both teams worked the ball in slowly throughout the game, neither employing the much heralded fast break.

First quarter action was quite even with Glen Huffman and Paul Forseth both hitting the basket well for PLC.

Action picked up in the second quarter with CPS pulling away to a five point lead at half time, 28 to 23.

The third quarter saw the Lutes come back strongly with Bob Ross hitting with a couple of baskets from the outside, but CPS again pulled into a substantial lead as the quarter ended.

In the finale PLC tied the score at 37 all, but couldn't go ahead. The main reason for this was the sharp shooting by Jake Mayberry of CPS from the foul lane. He put six through in the last two minutes of play.

Outstanding board play of the evening was by Lund and Nordquist who covered the boards well on both defense and offense.

Top men for the Lutes were Nordquist dropping in 10 and Mayberry paced the Loggers with 26.

Conference Rules Have New Changes

At a recent meeting of the Evergreen Conference board, several changes in conference rules were made.

The rule prohibiting junior college transfer students from playing in inter-collegiate sports was lifted, but those who have attended a four-year college and a junior college must still wait out one year before participating.

Conference president, Theodore Karl, appointed two committees; one to deal with playing eligibility and the other with eligibility for certificates.

Also eliminated were the bans on scouting and taking moving pictures of games. The squad limits were increased from 25 to 30 for football and from 10 to 12 for basketball.

Chieftans Victors In Opening Game To Tune of 75-52

Out-scoring the PLC squad 75-52, Seattle U's Chieftans had a field day Friday night in the Civic Auditorium. They did this through more experience and accuracy. Their tall man Joe Pehanick (6' 8") controlled the rebounds and the O'Brien twins the floor play.

For the Gladiators, Ron Billings was the spark and Glen Huffman the backbone with the rest of the players supporting them.

Main cause for the one-sided score could be blamed on the fact that the Gladiators have had only two weeks practice, while Seattle U has been turning out since the beginning of October.

At the half, the score stood at 42-34, only an eight point difference with PLC beginning to find the basket after a slow start. From that point, Seattle U pulled slowly to the 23 point margin. Coach Harshman used almost everyone on the bench, especially during the last half.

Last year PLC lost to the Chieftans twice, but the second game was a heart-breaker for PLC to lose. The Lutes had led all the way, only to have Seattle U squeeze by them in the final seconds, 67-65.

Johnny O'Brien was held to 18 points where in the Central game a few night before, he scored 28. Huffman was high for PLC with 10.

JV's Take Game From Eatonville

Tuesday evening, December 9, PLC's Junior Varsity team travelled to Eatonville where they battled the Eatonville High School quintet, last year's second place state class "B" champions.

In a closely played game, J.V.'s eked out a 60-55 win with Larry Eggan for PLC taking high point honors for the evening with 19 points. Eatonville made 20 out of 32 free throws, and the Junior Varsity had a score of 14 to 22.

Eatonville this year has virtually the same team as last year, losing one man by graduation, Ernie Jones, now a student at PLC and turning out for basketball.

Lute J. V.'s will play Eatonville for the second time when they meet them in the preliminary to the PLC-Central game, Monday evening, December 15. Game time is 6:15.

Question of the Week

To test whether or not the Lutes ever look at their dictionaries, The MAST conducted a scientific study. The question of this poll was: "If someone called you a xanthochroid, what would you do?" This is what the Lutes say:

- Carol Edlund: I'd run and hide.
- Susie Skubinna: I would quote from my friend from Okefenokee and say, "Impossibobble."
- Mrs. Nicholson: Have mercy!
- Florric Magnusson: I can't be, I'm real good around Christmas.
- Salim Mitri: I love you.
- Don Ogard: Get down on my hands and knees and act like one.
- Nancy Shinkoethie: Sell him a bruch.
- Jim Jaeger: I'd cringe.
- Bob Bratty: I'd run like the dickens, boy.
- Doris Hansen: Stand there and laugh.
- Ernie Phil: I'd tell him he was nuts.
- Janet Moe: I'd poke him in the nose.
- Bob McAdams: I'd look for a female xanthochroid and go out.
- Roger Madsen: I'd crawl up a tree.
- Bob Sorenson: I'd call him a gynandromorph right back!
- JP Carlstrom: They should be ashamed of themselves.
- Don Chesterfield: Ask him what it was.
- Judd Doughty: I don't do those things on a blind date.

Now for all those who are wondering what an xanthochroid is, here is what Noah Webster says: "Having light colored hair and a fair complexion."

Zoological Society

The Tacoma Zoological Society will meet tonight at 8:00 in room 108 of the Science Hall.

Mr. Ford Wilke, Seattle, a member of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, will discuss and illustrate with slides, the topic, "Marine Mammals." His particular emphasis will be on the whales and dolphins of the Puget Sound region. Mr. Wilke has recently returned from Japan where he studied pelagic fur sealing by the Japanese.

Dr. Burton Ostenson, head of the PLC Biology Department invites all interested students to attend the meet-

News at a Glance

Viking Club Party

Viking club held its annual smorgasbord Christmas party last night, November 11, at 8 p.m. in the upper SUB.

Turrid Tandberg read the Christmas Gospel in Norwegian, Onella Lee played a piano solo, a Scandinavian story was read by Topper Niclson, and Dick Myking played several numbers on his accordion.

The program was closed with group singing in Norwegian, led by Professor Tandberg, accompanied by Myrna Shelver.

Everyone enjoyed the refreshments served smorgasbord style. Among the foods served were flat brod, lefse, Scandinavian cheeses, sandwiches and Norwegian cookies.

Co-chairmen Mary Ensberg and Mary Lou Biery planned the smorgasbord. Program arrangements were made by Thelma Nygaard and Jeanette Rusteen.

Mission Crusaders

Dr. S. C. Eastvold was the featured speaker at the Mission Crusaders meeting Tuesday evening. He described conditions in the Orient as he found them on his trip last summer. He also discussed the possibility of a Missionary Emphasis Week, similar to Spiritual Emphasis Week.

Missionary Emphasis Week, if it materialises, will be sometime in March or April. Herb Neve, president, appointed a committee headed by Kenneth Oscarson to investigate the problems and advantages of such a week.

Dr. Eastvold described conditions in Iraq as he saw them on his recent tour of the Near East, stressing the country's low standard of living. The program also featured a reading, "Our Jungle Night" by Anne Brune and a duet, "O Holy Night" by Mary and Dave Ensberg.

French Club

French club members will be entertained at a Christmas social hour from 3:00 o'clock to 5:00 o'clock, Tuesday, December 16, in the lower SUB lounge.

Musical entertainment will be furnished, and refreshments will be served.

"In the past, meetings of the Society have been held, in the main, at the College of Puget Sound. If we have a good student showing, possibly more meetings can be held at this end of town."

Linne Society

In keeping with the PLC tradition that all clubs hold parties during the holiday season, Linne Society will hold a get-together Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 7:00 in Dr. Harold Leraas' home.

About this time each year the members have been invited to the home of one of the faculty advisors. Although a basic attraction is the food offered as refreshments the main drawing card for members and friends has been the friendly "good times" had by faculty and students at this seasonal function.

The usual games, bobbing for eyeballs, pass the cardrum, et cetera, will be played. As a special feature, Dr. Leraas will show his slides of the Mt. Rainier outing.

Student Directories

Under the sponsorship of the Associated Women Students, student directories are now on sale in Old Main Hall during the noon and dinner hours.

This is the first time that a student directory has been on sale at PLC and credit goes to Ellen Hessen and a committee of AWS members who compiled the information.

DPK Banquet

Delta Phi Kappa (dorm girls) will sponsor the annual Christmas banquet for the Boarding Club Wednesday, December 17, at 6 p.m.

The banquet will be served cafeteria style and there will be no program because the dining room facilities are not large enough to handle the increased number of Boarding Club members this year in one group.

Dressy clothes are to be worn as was done at the Thanksgiving dinner.

LSA Adopts Church; Has Other Projects To Begin New Year

Although LSA will not have its regular meeting this week because of the Annual Christmas concert, its members have been busy tackling a new project and preparing for future meetings.

The new project is the recent "adopting" of the Elk Plain Lutheran Church a struggling congregation located three miles southeast of Parkland. Under the "adoption plan", LSA'ers will help plant shrubbery, paint the building, and teach Sunday school. At present it is being served by a pastor on a part time basis, but the preaching end of the church will probably come under LSA's jurisdiction next year—to relieve the overburdened pastor.

Anyone interested in helping this project should contact Hal Ruddick, who is presently acting Sunday School superintendent.

The Church will be the theme of the three January meetings, it was decided at the council meeting this week. January 11 will be the first meeting of 1953. A Bible study has been slated for January 18 under the aforementioned theme. "Group study leaders for this meeting are still needed. Any one interested should come to L-114 at 1 p.m. tomorrow," Everett Savage, Study and Witness secretary said yesterday.

Two other LSA service projects are also being emphasized with the advent of the Yuletide season. Students are requested to contact their pastors during the Christmas recess, about deputations from PLC. LSA will put on an inspirational program in any church within a 60-mile radius upon request.

The other project pertains to corresponding with servicemen. Gloria Kvinge, chairman of this division, asked this week, "Anyone interested in writing a serviceman or who has an address of one, please contact me."

Campus capers call for Coke

There's fun-fille' confusion when the campus empties into cars, trains and planes as Christmas holidays begin. Heading for good times? Pause for a Coke and go refreshed.
