

Rose Brooks and Theodore Nelsson Married Yesterday by Tingelstad

Ceremony Performed During Chapel Hour at President's Residence; Couple on Brief Honeymoon to Victoria

Coming as a complete surprise is the announcement of the marriage yesterday of Miss Rose Brooks and Mr. Franz Edward Theodore "Ted" Nelsson. The ceremony was performed during chapel hour by Dr. O. A. Tingelstad at his residence, with Mr. and Mrs. H. McMillan, of Puyallup, as the only attendants. The couple left immediately following the ceremony for Victoria, British Columbia, where they will spend a short honeymoon, returning Thursday.

Mrs. Nelsson, who is of Polish descent, was born in Baltimore, Maryland, and has made her home in Tacoma where she is associated with the Publix Garage as cashier.

Mr. Nelsson, who is Dean of Men at P. L. C. is a native of Tacoma. Last year he acted as manager for the "Choir of the West," and as a field agent for the College. In his school days, he attended P. L. C., the University of Washington, and is a graduate of the College of Puget Sound.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelsson plan to establish a residence in Parkland in the near future.

The Mooring Mast staff joins with the administration and student body of Pacific Lutheran College in extending congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Nelsson.

Willie Pflueger Is Delegate to L. S. U.

Elected by Student Body From Faculty Submitted List

William Pflueger, son of Prof. J. P. Pflueger, was elected by the Associated Students of P. L. C., as their delegate to the Annual Convention of the Lutheran Students Union, which is to be held at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota, this coming week end.

The nominees, who were selected by the faculty members, and subject to the vote by the students, were Rhoda Hokenstad, Valborg Norby, Esther Jahr, Roland Swanson, Bert Myhre, Eldon Anderson, Milton Nesvig, and William Pflueger.

William is a Sophomore in the Liberal Arts course and has served as president of the Mission Society, treasurer of the Luther League, and is now secretary of the Lutheran Brotherhood. William left last night at 8:45 P. M. on the Northern Pacific Railway, and is scheduled to arrive there Thursday night. He will return immediately following the convention.

Mission Society Meets Tonight

Rev. Svare will address the Mission Society at seven o'clock this evening in the College Recreation Room. Other numbers planned for the program include piano selections by Bena Toblason and a tenor solo by Emmett Thompson.

Mr. "Ted" Nelsson

Sperati Impressed By Alumni Reunion

Musical Director of Luther College Visits Scenes of His Early Life

"It was a wonderful reunion—a reunion that we could learn much from in the East. It was a large gathering and would give no impression that one was in a small community. Also, it was a pleasant surprise to see how Parkland and surroundings have grown. Where forty years ago I found merely woods, I now found fertile farms, beautiful houses, and above all, beautiful scenery, and the never-to-be-forgotten Mount Rainier in the background. That majestic, kindly shed its cloak of clouds and appeared in all its glory to me."

The above statements were made by Dr. Carlo A. Sperati, honor guest and principal speaker at the annual alumni reunion. Dr. Sperati, who is now director of music at Luther College, Decatur, Iowa, is leader of the great concert band which toured Europe in 1914 and will do so again in 1936. Receiving his first training in his father's orchestra in Norway, he has become famous for his selections on the drum. He has appeared as drummer on concert tours before royalty of Sweden, Norway, and Denmark.

As a young man, Dr. Sperati went to sea and received navigation and pilot papers. He came to New York in 1882, and after a stay of two years went to Luther College. Through his music, he was able to work his way through seven years of schooling—four at Luther College and three at the Lutheran Seminary in Robinsdale, Minnesota, near St. Paul. He came to Bellingham as a missionary pastor and in 1894 was called to Parkland as the first musical director at P. L. C. A year later he was called to Our Savior's Lutheran Church, although he continued his services at the College. Then in 1905 he was called back to Luther College as music director and has continued in that position until the present time.

Parkland P. T. A. Giving Play in Gym Friday Eve

With Virginia Davis playing the leading role, the Parkland P. T. A. will present the four-act comedy "Bab," directed by Mrs. J. O. Edwards, this Friday evening, March 1, in the College Gymnasium at eight o'clock. An admission price of twenty-five cents will be charged.

Others in the cast are Alice Grelbrook, Dorena Felton, Lyle Kreidler, Myron Kreidler, Harold Anderson, Mr. W. C. Gregory, Mrs. Helen Turner, Isabelle Svare, Mr. Hagerness, and Edgar Larson.

Big Crowd Attends Annual Gathering Of P. L. C. Alumni

Dr. Sperati, Guest of Honor, Speaks Three Times; College Choir Closes Festivities With Concert

With Dr. Carlo A. Sperati of Luther College as the guest speaker, the Alumni of P. L. C. held their annual reunion here last week end. Ojal Hagenes, 31, president of the organization, reports that one of the largest crowds in history attended the gathering.

Opening the festivities, the Drama Club presented three one-act plays Friday night in the gym.

Activities were continued on Saturday afternoon when a team of alumni girls defeated an all-star aggregation of P. L. C. girls, 18-17. Following this game the P. L. C. Preps met the Kapowsin High team, defeating them, 36-15.

The highlight of the celebration was the banquet held Saturday evening in the College dining hall. Dr. Sperati gave the main address, giving reminiscences of the days when he was the first musical director at "P. L. U." He also presented selections on the drum.

Ojal Hagenes gave the opening address and welcomed the class of 1935, after which Roland Swanson, graduating class president, responded.

A trumpet quartet composed of Lewis G. Hunter, Harold O'Connor, Rolph Eolstad, and Joseph Hansen played two selections. Greetings were given by Burton Kreidler, representing the Class of 25, L. J. Haug, Class of 15, and Mrs. L. G. Nyhus, Class of '05. Also included on the program was a skit by Bob Svare and Clifford Haugen.

Sunday morning, Dr. Sperati delivered the reunion sermon in the College chapel. Dr. O. A. Tingelstad conducted the liturgical service and the choir of Trinity Church, under the direction of Mrs. Clifford O. Olson, sang.

Closing the reunion for 1935, the "Choir of the West" gave a concert in the chapel Sunday afternoon. During the intermission Dr. Tingelstad introduced (Continued on Page 4)

Drama Club Gives Plays for Reunion

Judges Give 'Ambitious Guest' First Place; Club Plans New System of Judging

As a result of the judging of the plays last Friday night, "The Ambitious Guest," under the leadership of Thelma Daniels, won first place. "Sauce for The Gossling," directed by Ellen Bergstrom, took second place, and "Now Don't Laugh," with Eldon Anderson directing, came third.

From now on the president will choose three members of the faculty who have had experience in dramatics to judge the plays. These judges are to come to the next meeting of the Drama Club and tell the reasons for their decisions.

According to Arnold Anderson, president of the club, the purpose of this plan is to encourage improvement in acting, sound effects, and make up, rather than competition among the groups.

At a meeting held Feb. 9, Bob Monson was elected as the new advertising manager.

Annual Saga Carnival Will Be Held Friday, March 8th, in College Gym

Mr. Victor Elvestrom

Elvestrom Gives Choir Trip Plans

Ten Day Trip With Silverton As "Focal Point" Planned for Near Future

With Silverton as the "focal point," the Pacific Lutheran College "Choir of the West" will leave on a ten day spring tour the latter part of March or the first part of April, according to Mr. Victor Elvestrom, business manager of the chorus. The date of departure depends on the dates which the Lutheran Brotherhood of Oregon holds its convention at Silverton, as the choir is to be one of the features of the conclave.

Most of the tour will be spent in Oregon with the possibility of a few concerts in Southwestern Washington.

Permission has been given by the faculty and tentative plans are in progress for a four or five day trip to Eastern Washington during Easter vacation.

Definite dates and a complete itinerary of the trip will be announced in the next issue of the Mooring Mast.

Prof. J. O. Edwards announces that pictures of the choir are to be taken today, both in vestments and in sweaters.

Debaters To Meet 2 U. W. Frosh Teams Here Friday

Opening the spring intercollegiate debate season, the Pacific Lutheran College squad will meet two University of Washington freshman teams here Friday afternoon. The debates will be held in rooms 214 and 201 at three o'clock on the question "Resolved that the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions."

On Thursday, March 7, one team will entertain a team from Whitworth College of Spokane. J. P. Pflueger, forensic coach, is arranging a schedule at present which will be announced in the next issue of the Mooring Mast.

Rev. Lewis To Speak At League Sunday Evening

Rev. Alvin G. Lewis, pastor of Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Tacoma, will speak at the Luther League meeting to be held Sunday evening at seven-thirty. The program, as announced by Berdine Knutsen, will include hymn singing, led by Milton Nesvig; devotion, led by Carl Colton; a vocal solo, by Keith Reid; and a piano solo, by Rhoda Hokenstad.

Following the program, Isabelle Svare will direct games, and refreshments will be served by Berdine Knutsen and Esther Davis, hostesses.

Vodvil, Booths, Sideshows, Features of Big Show; Clifford Mesford, General Chairman Announces Committees

Novelty booths, the newly organized "Saga Orchestra," side-shows, boxing, wrestling, and a surprise program featuring "Princess Alla Votav and her 1950 ballet" complete the main attractions of this year's Saga Carnival to be held March 8, beginning at 7:30 p. m. in the college gymnasium. Admission will be fifteen cents per person.

"It is hoped that this year's carnival attendance will break all existing records because everyone is assured a hilarious time," states Clifford Mesford, advertising manager of the Saga and general chairman of the Carnival.

To complete arrangements for the event, Mr. Mesford called a meeting this noon of the following committees which he has appointed to assist him:

Committee on Committees: Evelyn Irwin, Louise Jackson, Mary Nash, Eleanor Raudebaugh, John Van Leuven; Decorating: Elaine Benson, Mabel Heggen, Irene Odell, Tone Madson, Judy Benson, Milton Nesvig, Roland Swanson, Herb Norgaard, Helen Holtcamp, Emmett Thompson, Chester Solc; Advertising: Rachel Flint, Lloyd Rod, Jim Gilliam, Bob Monson; Concessionery: Hanzl Hagerup, Margaret Craft, Thelma Ness, Mabel Heggen; Portune Telling: Ramola Ruet, Jonna Maronous, Edna Kelsey; Nigger Baby: Eldon Anderson, Herb Norgaard, Osten Eliassen; Beauty Salon: Alice Barnum, Aids Johnson, Pauline Kuhn; Moving Pictures: Al Rogen; Fish Pond: Bertrice Haug, Dorothy Anderson, Olga Hugo, Sena Swanson, Dille Quale; Handwriting: Norma Preus, Virginia Davis, Alice Boe, Frederica Schlanbusch; House Housey: Harold Johansen; House of Horrors: Arnold Anderson, Lloyd Rod, John Van Leuven; Gary Pflueger: Phrenology: Milton Nesvig, Thelma Daniels; Slide Shows: Gladys Hughes, Ferdinand Bondy, William Pflueger; Stage: Ray Reid, Ted Herried; Costumes: Novell Neel, Pauline Watts, Laura Hauge, Virginia Boen; Cleanup: Harold Dempster; Makeup: Gertrude Stenberg, Enid Hulton, Thelma Ness; Ticket Selling: Euseon Hauke; Sawdust Art: Raavik, Arnold Tommervik, Stanley Ford, Rolph Bostad.

Mrs. Pflueger Will Speak at Club Meet

French Organization Will Hear Story of 'Mardi Gras' Friday Noon

At a meeting of the French Club Friday, March 1st, Mrs. J. P. Pflueger will speak on the "Mardi Gras."

Having spent her childhood in New Orleans, the only American city in which the "Mardi Gras" is celebrated, Mrs. Pflueger has had an opportunity to witness a number of these French festivities.

The club will also be favored with piano solos by Dorothy Anderson.

Meeting yesterday, the German Club commemorated the two hundred and fiftieth birthday anniversaries of Johann Sebastian Bach and George Frederick Handel.

Thelma Daniels read short biographical sketches of the two composers, and musical selections from the works of Bach and Handel were presented.

Are We Patriotic

People are watching young people more than ever during these times of stress. What is their attitude toward their nation? Will there be any genuine loyalty in the future? It was noted by local citizens when the Flag was returned to its place on our campus.

Let us consider the meaning of this word, patriotism. It comes from the Latin word, patria, a combination of pater (father) or patrius (fatherly), and terra (land). If we just keep in mind the kindred feeling signified by this word our national spirit can not be dulled. Is there enough national patriotism in this school to keep the colors of the best fatherland in the world flying overhead?

Can We Accept the Challenge?

A challenging thought left with us by the recent reunion is that one expressed by Dr. Carlo Sperati of Luther College concerning the possible influence for good which one consecrated Christian can be. If Pacific Lutheran College produced only one Christian worker in this year's graduating class there would be quite a little accomplished. Inestimable would be the good results if the whole class were to enlist in the service of Christ. No field of endeavor today is so in need of workers as that of carrying on the work of Christian missions both in our own country and in heathen lands.

Pictures in Lettermen's Room Reveal Old Style In Basketball Attire, Bring Back Pleasant Memories

Who would have ever thought that any good would come out of room 113—and especially any good laughs or humorous looking faces coming from that door, but such was the case last week end when the room was made into a Rogue's Gallery just for the sake of reminiscence to the alumni lettermen who returned for the reunion this year. Not only the lettermen enjoyed it but also those who were interested in the games played.

Let's look over some of those pictures again. The styles have changed a great deal haven't they? Imagine seeing Professor Stuen with his sideburns plus a mustache, and that suit of his. Yes he played basketball and from what I hear he was quite a guard (?). At least I heard few ever got by him—maybe the other fellows weren't so hot.

We glance a little further on and find that there were also girls basketball teams. What regalia, all dressed up for a circus parade. The girls gymn suit consisted of 4 pieces, made from black serge. The shirt, to be in style, was adorned with the jowliest collar pinned high in the neck plus the "duckiest" puffed sleeves you ever saw. The pants must hit the knees and what a combination would have been raised had a girl forgotten her long black cotton stockings. She just wasn't permitted to play.

As years went on the styles began to change (something more to be thankful for). Maybe that accounts for the more outstanding teams today, because playing with five lbs. of clothes on seems no easy task.

Professor Ramstad, who by the way, also wore a mustache, was coach a number of years ago, and what a panned look he held on his face when the camera clicked on him and his champs.

Special care is given to the pictures, as they are taken each year, just for such purposes as this, and as years go on the old pictures are more and more appreciated.

LIGHTER THAN AIR

By Bob Monson

The hoisting of the flag every day reminds us that we are in the United States, even though we do live in Parkland—We like the way Miss Rehau pronounced Bill Sulser's name (Bell-sueher)—Hagerup was stumbled over for awhile—MISS ARMOUR went nut-ski yelling for the St. Martins' lads—must have four or five boy friends on the team—at least quite a few looked at her—which is something—MISS DALE blushes the most delightful pansy pink—yoo hoo!—BOUQUET: to RAY REID who has been doing a good job as stage manager this year.

L. A.

Several dorm students have been putting on considerable averdippos since school started—no figures mentioned, but EMMETT, HUGHES, and HOLT-CAMP are names—not figures—ONIONS: to the two or three dorm gals who continually harp on the good times they are having, when it is practically impossible.

L. A.

We will pit OLE ORDALS pearly smile against BARNEY JANSSEN'S haircut anyway—Get the article "Women Reduced to Formula" (W O) that was read in Econ class—good for guys who like to analyze things—Del Breesman takes his debate technique into class and keeps everything under control—A Lincoln Hi Miss has MESS-FORD going around chop-fallen—he should be happy, but isn't—it's that hard, poor guy!

SUGGESTION: A light could easily be put at the rear corner of the gym and save the players from stumbling over anything before reaching the back stairs.

L. A.

PROF. PFLUEGER is actually afraid of a microphone—he hid his so—VERGINIA MAHNCKE to PROF. BAR-DON'S "yes man" in American History—she okeks everything he says—To find a lady-killer in the boys dorm is like looking for a needle in a needle factory—ROSIE had plenty of vermilion on her hps while playing in one of the skits Drama Night—we could taste it way back where we were sitting—With athletes and singers wearing sweaters around school, we won't be able to tell an alto from a fullback.

L. A.

PROF. HIGHBY is getting to be typical—he yells "come in" every time he knocks the ashes out of his pipe—He's really fresh as a daisy, but CHET SOLIE takes on the appearance of a week end jag when the final whistle blows—a limpsy transubstantiation as it were (ahem).

Quite a few of the alumni enjoyed themselves in Parkland by copying off the cloak, which they must wear while teaching school—and some didn't.

Both Father and Savior Of U. S. Born This Month

Two names stand out boldly in American history—Washington and Lincoln. Washington, "First in war, first in peace. First in the hearts of his countrymen," came at the critical time when the nation was on the brink, and in danger of losing its independence to the British. As Commander in Chief of the American forces, he valiantly fought the British and won. This achievement alone contributed much to the future welfare of the country; He, however, did not let it rest with this. To crown this glory, he became instrumental in establishing a firm form of government under the Constitution, which proved practicable, and gained prestige at home and abroad. One might say he fostered the nation in its infancy, and gave it a good start in the world, the same as a father rears his child. Therefore he bears worthily the name, "Father of his country."

When this Union, that Washington had established, was in danger, Lincoln came to its rescue. The nation was in the midst of turmoil over the attempt of a number of states to secede from the Union. It was against this attempt that Lincoln gallantly fought the Civil War, and finally won. This victory meant the preservation of the National Union, which otherwise would have been destroyed. Thus Lincoln, a common man of humble origin and much loved by the majority of people, came to be known as the "Savior of his country." This month we have observed the anniversaries of these two great men with a spirit of reverence and acknowledgement of their great achievements.

HAVE YOU MET?

The Oregonian from the graduating class—One certainly labels her a scribe here, because she's spent three whole years conscientiously working so that some day she may run "a little red school house of her own." She is remembered by her ever smiling countenance and her grace and demure individualism. She holds an office in her class as vice president this year, and last year held that of secretary. The Drama Club, of which she was a group leader last year, finds her interested in all types of dramas. ALTHOUGH her home is not in Parkland she stays "over yonder" and hikes to school every morning, accounting, I suppose for those red cheeks. Although her P. L. C. days are almost over, she shall never be forgotten by those who have met her. Meet her now!

One of the P.K.'s from the class about to graduate? He's "the big noise" on the school paper this year and was just "the noise" last year. His "chiefly" look was only added to at the purchasing of a pair of "specs" a few weeks ago. Vice president of the dorm union last year and vice president of the Luther League this term, mark his offices in the various school activities, although he has been a member of the Drama club, and the choir for two years. Sports are a favorite pastime of his and much time has been given over to them. Last year he was elected captain of the dorm union baseball team. He is well known among his fellow students and we want you to know him, too.

Dr. Burntvedt Speaks

Dr. Burntvedt of Minneapolis, President of the Lutheran Free Church, spoke at chapel exercises on Monday, Feb. 18.

Following are excerpts from his talk: "Everything in life has a purpose. The purpose of Christianity is to get rid of sin. There are three ways used by men to get rid of sin: By denial—but we are by nature sinful and unclean, and have sinned—there is no way out of this; by ceasing from sin; by confession—this is the only way."

Among Alumni

Iida Hinderlie, '31, resumed her duties as teacher at Woodland school Monday after a two-weeks' vacation due to a chicken pox epidemic in the community.

Eugenia Crosby, '30, is teaching at the Oak Harbor school on Whidby Island.

Margaret Solne, '31, is working in a sorority house at the University of Washington.

Eric Hauke, '32, is employed by the Astoria Abstract Company.

Ruth Norgaard, '31, is teaching in the Everett school system.

Marie Wrang, '34, is engaged to Oscar Olson of Bellingham.

Takai Miyasaki, '34, visited school last week. She is now attending the College of Puget Sound.

Cora Vista, '30, is teaching in Bremerton.

Waite Christenson, '28, is principal of the John Jacob Astor Junior High school in Astoria.

Mrs. Marian Euen, formerly Lillian Johnson, who attended P. L. C. in 1929-30, spent the week-end here visiting friends.

Hilud Johanson, '32, who worked two years in California, following graduation, is this year teaching in her home town, Lawrence, Washington.

SONNET ON THE FOG

The fog comes down and softly steals around
And people scarcely knew the night from day;

Enveloping the world with misty gray,
And people scarcely knew the night from day;

The world is changed without a single sound,
The sun has ceased to show its shining face.

The valleys, mountains, lakes are lost to sight;
The sky is dark and gloomy as the night.

And people walk with slow and faltering pace,
The mist comes down with feathery wisps unfurled

To spread across the land, and cover up the world;
To veil from God the sorrows of mankind—

The grasping after wealth, the search for ill-found gain,
The sin, the crime, the misery and pain—

To hide man's shame her misty clouds behind.

Pflueger To Broadcast Again Wed., March 6

Continuing his series of bi-weekly radio talks over station KVI sponsored by the Lutheran Welfare Society, Prof. P. J. Pflueger will speak next Wednesday, March 6, at 8:45 P. M., on the practical aspects of last week's topic, "The Christian and War," and other questions related to the subject.

In his last lecture Prof. Pflueger stated that we are dealing with a real world and not a world as it should be. Therefore, it is the duty of other nations to punish erring nations—Christians are subject to their governments and should therefore serve as soldiers when the need arises. His address was followed by answers to inquiries from the "question box" on religious affairs. The College men's quartet, accompanied by Rhoda Hokenstad, assists in these broadcasts.

L. D. R. Meets

At a meeting held Feb. 21, at the home of Mrs. Xayler, the L. D. R. girls decided to solicit members for the Pacific Lutheran College Development Association. A plan for this cause was made by Victor Elvestrom who addressed the meeting. Other numbers on the program were a piano solo by Berniece Haug; talk, "Missions in Alaska" by Ellen Bergstrom; and a vocal solo by Mildred Monson.

Vikings Take Glads In Wild Hoop Game

Normalites Eke Out 27-24 Win in Close Contest Before Capacity Crowd

In a wild battle before a capacity crowd of Alumni, a fighting squad of Gladiators bowed to the powerful Bellingham Normal quintet 27 to 24 on the Parkland maples Saturday night.

Scoring immediately after the opening tip off the Normalites maintained a small lead until midway in the first half when a flurry of counters by Tommervik and Jack tied the score at 9 all. From that point the two teams battled evenly until the rest period when the score stood 15 to 14 for Bellingham.

The Normalites started out strong in the second half to increase their lead to five points. The closing gun cut short a final desperate rally on the part of the Glads.

Carver, Normal center, led the way with 9 points while Sanderson, was high for the Lutherans with 6 markers.

The lineups:

P. L. C. (24)	(27) Bellingham Normal
Sanderson (8)	F	(4) Fitzer
Nilsen (2)	F	Vanderlend
Jack (6)	G	(9) Carver
Tommervik (7)	G	(4) Stutz
Sole (1)	G	(8) Zambas

Faculty To Battle Prep Seconds in Benefit Game

As a means of raising funds for permanent awards to the Junior College Conference Championship team, Coach Olson has announced two benefit basketball games to be held March 6 in the P. L. C. gym.

Those old rivals, the day students and dorm students will battle for supremacy in the preliminary to the "game of games," Faculty versus High School Reserves. The high school issued a public challenge and Coach Olson tells us confidentially that the Faculty will be out in full force and are "out to bak' down their (high school's) ears." So if you want to see your faculty members as they really are come out on March 6. You'll see 'em.

Our basketball team winds up its schedule this week end with games at Bellingham and U. B. C. Although the loss of "Dutch" Moe and John Fiddess has been felt, the team didn't crack when the going got tough, and Coach Olson doesn't expect them to now.

S. S.
Comparative scores show that there is little difference in the strength of these teams. Bellingham beat Yakima 53 to 27 while we beat the same outfit 46 to 32. U. B. C. beat Yakima 27 to 20, and we beat U. B. C. 14 to 13. Then U. B. C. beat Bellingham twice. Figure it out for yourself—it looks like a circle to us.

S. S.
Gene Jack will be playing his last game for P. L. C. Saturday night. Gene has been a mainstay of the defense and a constant threat on the offense during his three years of basketball on the P. L. C. courts, and will be a hard man to replace.

S. S.
All the new lettermen were initiated into the Lettermen's Club Tuesday afternoon with a great and not novel ceremony. Some of the new members wish they had remembered their manners last week.

S. S.
That Faculty-High School game is going to be something to see. Some of us have been waiting a long time for just such an opportunity. At the same time we will find out whether the basketball talent shown around here comes from dorms or the day students.

S. S.
Tonight at 6:30, three squads of girl basketballers will tangle with C. P. S. girls. The girls feel sure that they will play better before a crowd, the more the merrier. Here's a chance to see basketball as it should be played. Don't miss it.

S. S.
Preliminary arrangements are under way for forming a P. L. C. Golf Association. The Parkland Golf Club has offered a special rate for 20 or more members. A committee has been appointed to make arrangements, and those interested should watch the bulletin boards for further information.

S. S.
The Lettermen's Club, which is bent on taking its rightful place as one of the most active organizations at P. L. C., made special arrangements to welcome back the lettermen among the returning alumni. A room full of pictures and records of teams from former years helped them all feel at home on their old stamping-grounds.

Lu heran Hoopsters Drop Rangers, 37-16

Jack and Solie Lead Overwhelming Attack; Bremerton M. E.'s Take Preps, 24-16

With Gene Jack and Chet Solie leading the way, the P. L. C. hoopsters scored under the visiting St. Martin's quintet with a barrage of baskets by the score of 37-16 at the home maples Friday night, Feb. 15.

The Gladiators fast-breaking offense and some defense began clicking with the opening gun and did not let up until the score stood 25-5 in the second quarter when Coach Olson began sending in replacements. The game was one sided in comparison to the torrid battle staged a few weeks ago on the Ranger floor when the issue was not decided until the final seconds.

Jack was high man with 12 points all scored in the first half.

In the opener Coach Ramstad's prep found the superior height of the Bremerton M. E. team too much of a handicap and went down to a 24-16 defeat. Krossen and Messner of Bremerton and Thompson of P. L. C. shared scoring honors with 8 points apiece.

Girl Teams Playing At C. P. S. Tonight

Three Games Slated: First to Start at 6:30

Three girls basketball teams have been selected by Mrs. Dapper to meet the College of Puget Sound teams this evening in the C. P. S. gymnasium starting at six-thirty. The lineup is as follows: First year, centers, Ness, J. Benson; Forwards, Hauke, Oelli; Guards, Tobiasson, Hagerup. Second year, Centers, Norby, Hutson; Forwards, M. Johnson, Froyen; Guards, Kelsey, Manogoss. Third year, Centers, Hokenstad, Williams; Forwards, Barnum, Mahlake; Guards, Daniels, Ruff.

Continuing league play, the High School Girls defeated the Second year normalites with a 10-3 score on Wednesday, Feb. 20. The third year normal team was defeated 44-12 on Feb. 15 by the First year team, and on Feb. 15 they lost to the High School girls 30-4. The final game in the league series will be played March 4, when the High School and First year Normal teams will clash.

P. L. C. To Travel North For Last Games of Season

With only two games remaining, the P. L. C. hoopsters leave north to wind up their schedule. On Friday March 1, the Gladiators meet Bellingham Normal squad on the Normalites home floor. Stung from their three point defeat the Lutherans are out to take the vikings and another exciting contest may be expected. The following day, March 2, the Gladiators tangle with the U. B. C. cagers. The Lutherans squeezed out a 14 to 13 win in the first game of this series, and another hard-fought encounter is indicated.

Falcons Take Glads In Upset Win, 34-33

Scoring an upset victory, Seattle Pacific College took the P. L. C. basketballers by the close score of 34-33, February 16 at Seattle.

Marked by thirty personal fouls, the game was hotly contested throughout, with the Seattle squad holding a 20-15 margin at the half. A desperate Gladiator rally fell short when Jack, Nilsen, and Tommervik were forced out on fouls.

Solie was high scorer with 13 points followed by Lockard and Axelson of Seattle Pacific with 10 counters each.

The lineups:
P. L. C. (33) (34) S. P. C.
Sanderson (2) F (10) Lockard
Nilsen (4) F (9) Lewis
Jack (6) C (10) Axelson
Solie (12) G (2) Randal
Tommervik (3) G (2) Trepus
Subs: P. L. C.—Votaw (5), Frye, Ford; S. P. C.—Highze, Brown (1), Marston, Wallace (2), Edwards.

Glad Hoopmen Take Grays Harbor, 22-17

End J. C. Conference Season With Eighth Straight Victory

Resigning their early season form, the P. L. C. hoopsters defeated the Grays Harbor J. C. Cagers on the Harborites floor on Wednesday, February 20, by a 22 to 17 count.

Paced by Jack, the Gladiators took an early lead and were never headed. The Harborites found difficulty in penetrating the Lutheran's defense, and scored many of their counters from mid-court. In the closing minutes of the game, Aberdeen rallied to come within three points of knotting the score, but Nilsen "iced" the game with a setup, giving the Gladiators a five point margin with seconds to go. The Lutherans led 14 to 4 at half time. Jack led the scoring with 12 counters, while Jeffery scored 9 points for the joes. P. L. C. (22) (17) Grays Harbor J. C. Nilsen (6) F (2) Peterson
Sanderson (5) F (9) Jeffery
Jack (12) G (4) Reasoner
Tommervik (2) G (4) Carnocki
Solie (2) G (2) Bednaric
Subs: P. L. C.—Votaw, G. H. J. C.—Ove.

Gladiators Defeat Seattle Team, 39-32

Come From Behind in Thrilling Finish To Take Final Home Game

Playing their last home game of the season the Pacific Lutheran College Gladiators came from behind in a whirlwind finish to score twelve points in the last three minutes of play and defeat Seattle College, 39-32, last night. A wild throng of enthusiastic rooters was kept on edge throughout the contest and almost tore the gym down under that last barrage of baskets.

Coach Olson experimented with his lineup, having two new men in the starting five.

The Glads started off with a bang and scored nine points before the Seattleites rallied. However, the Seattle boys gradually crept up and by half time the score was knotted at 17 all.

Seattle College grabbed the lead in the second half and held it until, with three minutes remaining and leading 32-27, their defense crumbled and they were snowed under.

The Glads missed nine out of thirteen foul shots, and Nilsen stretched his record to seventeen straight misses in foul shots.

In the preliminary game, the P. L. C. Reserves took the local preps in a rough battle, 20-13.

The lineups:
P. L. C. (39) (32) Seattle College
Votaw (5) F (4) Tobin
Nilsen (10) F (8) Finn
Jack (4) C (6) Olmer
Tommervik (7) G (1) Hurley
Ford (2) G (6) Conyne
Subs: Frye (1), Sanderson, Solie (10), Rothstein, Carmody (9).

Referee: Bob Levinson.

Referee: Bob Monson.

GIRLS' FROLIC, MARCH 15
On Friday evening, March 15, the girls' gym classes will combine in an all-girls gym frolic to be held in the college gymnasium at eight o'clock. The exhibition will feature drills, folk-dances and tumbling, and as a climax of the evening, a basketball game between the day and the dorm girls.

First Alumni Reunion Held Fourteen Years Ago When 200 Grads Visited; Record Kept Annually

Reunions such as were held last week are nothing new to the colleges. For fourteen years ago the first alumni reunion as far as records show, was held for the students from the Pacific Lutheran Academy which was the name of what we now call Pacific Lutheran College. Although there were but 50 students in the entire student body at the time, approximately 200 guests were served at the alumni banquet. What a festival that must have been. It is interesting to note that few who attended the banquet were from out of the state, due to travelling facilities perhaps. Records show that one alumnus came from China. There were several from Alaska and a few from the eastern states, but most were from right around Parkland. Professor Xavier was toastmaster at this banquet and speakers included Professor Hong and Professor Bardou.

From 1921 through 1935 a register book has been kept of those attending the reunion, that is, for those who remembered, to sign their names in the register book. However, this record is not any too accurate, because as it is glanced through, such "phony" names as "Rudolph Valentino" and "James Dunn" are recorded. Some one has signed their names as such for a practical joke. That just goes to show you that tricks still remain in the alumni even though they have grown up somewhat.

Each year as the students return their school day memories are renewed. Memories that shall never be forgotten. What a time they must have reminding each other of pranks which they did, and what a laugh they get. It seems that the water bag trick is just an old tradition, but in the year 1923, as told by an alumnus, it was thought there would be the end of all water bag throwing when a professor was mistaken for a student, accidently or not is untold, and quite a commotion was raised. However the following year the old trick was once again revised; and what fun—for those throwing the sack. At least the one at the receiving end has one thing to be thankful for—that the bag, contains water and not rocks.

Groups are gathered about in various parts of the hall telling their former classmates about their doings since they left college. The teaching profession outdoes any other profession, and perhaps matrimony comes next, (if one could call that a profession). Many return with their families and recall the days when they first met their "better half" probably on some certain spot on the campus. Thrills run up the spines of many as they again walk out toward the much more beaten path to the "kicking post." The days of romance are renewed and longed for once again. Cupid has linked many hearts who have walked that path. Still to many only memories remain.

Class rooms are visited. Each alumnus years for his school days once more. All his sorrows and hard luck memories are cast from his mind, and only those memories that, shine out and remind him of his good times at school are remembered.

The last afternoon is everything but regretted, for a "so long, see you next year" is shouted and all are off to resume their various duties again. Memories from one reunion to another are retained by the alumni, and give them determination to return next year.

It did our hearts good to see all the smiling faces of the alumni, because if they can finish college, teach school for years, and still return with the spirit that prevailed in the dorm last week end, we all have something to look forward to.

Lila Rudd and Milton Nevig are described in Have You Met.

High School Notes

By Melba Fenney

The motto of the Senior class is "We have crossed the foothills, the mountains are in view." Why not make it the motto of the whole high school?

H. S.

The Senior Dinner Party, given Feb. 16, is one long to be remembered by all its members. No one can forget the delicious duck dinner, served by the girls themselves. The talks given by Mr. Reid, Harry Gribbbsou, and Verner Bitter were very inspiring, and will lead us all to greater efforts in behalf of our class. The following Valentine party proved so enjoyable that it was with great difficulty that the guests were persuaded to leave.

H. S.

Miss Martha Schlermer visited with many of her old classmates and companions over the week end. Martha was a former student from Spokane, and attended the high school department for two years.

H. S.

DO YOU KNOW?

The blonde Romeo of the senior class is the subject for discussion. When he passes one by in the hall without speaking, it is not that he is proud, but he is so tall he can't see you. Poultry men from far and near have great respect for this young man, for at the county fair his banty chicks take all prizes. He does likewise with the young ladies of this school. His motto is "Love 'em and leave 'em." In closing let a word of warning be given: watch out girls, he will get you sooner or later.

H. S.

It is not necessary to announce that we have just received some new students in our group, but let us remember to get acquainted with them and be their friends.

H. S.

Orwall Dahl was described in Do You Know?

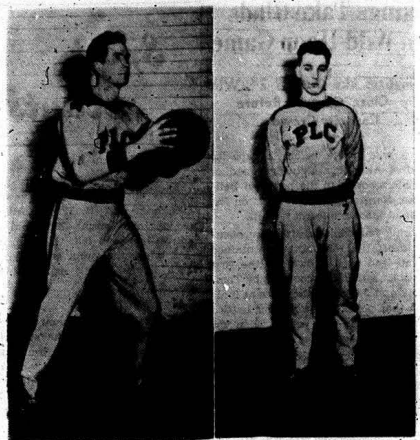

H. S.

With Virginia Davis, Orlando Asper, and Melba Fenney as general committee, plans are being made for a party to be given March 9. Arrangements have not yet been completed, and will be announced at a later date. All prep students will be interested in making their first party a success.

H. S.

You have probably all heard of the work the Home Relations class has been doing. We have prepared a list of safety rules which we think the whole student body should observe. They are as follows:

1. Have outdoor exercise each day, being sure you are warmly dressed.
2. Be sure to cough and sneeze in a handkerchief.
3. Keep hands and finger nails clean.
4. In any science laboratory follow instructions explicitly.
5. Do not walk in the middle of the highway, walk to the left.
6. Do not run on oily floors.
7. Never throw matches or cigarette stubs into the wastepaper basket.
8. Do not share bits of any kind of food.
9. Drink plenty of fresh water.
10. Relax a part of each day.

duced Dr. Sperati to the assemblage to which he responded with a short greeting. Following this Prof. J. O. Edwards, director of the choir, gave a piano solo.

To close the concert, Dr. Sperati directed the choir, augmented by former members present, in the singing of "Beautiful Savior."

As a result of the election held at the banquet Walter French, '32, Carl Colton, '30, Rudy Sanderson, '29, Ida Hindler, '31, and Kathryn Johnson, '34, are new members of the alumni board. Those who will remain on the board for another year are Helen Thrane, '32, Fred Scheel, '31, Ruth Fadness, '28, Birger Nelson, and J. P. Pflueger, faculty representative. Those whose terms expired this year are George Cronquist, '30, Ed Tingelstad, Wilbert Nyman, '31, Gladys Knutzen, and Olaf Hageness, '31. The voting on the place for next year's banquet favored downtown Tacoma. At a business session held Sunday afternoon it was decided that the new officers should take office immediately following commencement each year. The board was also given power to select an executive secretary to be chosen from the school administration, to be the school's representative to the alumni.
